FRIENDS!!

Now that election is over and the victors are preparing for the job ahead and the vanquished are figuring how to leave town gracefully (we don't blame 'em), Springfield once again is settling down to many more immediate and pressing problems . . . the school situation, parking and traffic congestion and rezoning will push candidates for political office from Page One.

But before we draw the curtain on the 1950 General Election let's review some of the highlights for a moment . . . first of all this newspaper commends the voting population of Springfield for the splendid turnout at the polls . . . this community's campaign was held until the very last minute and it's very unusual in a non-presidential year to stir up any great amount of interest in a local election unless the issues are outstanding . . . results were exactly as this column predicted and we believe the outcome will be in Springfield's interests.

Last ditch . . . of the unsuccessful Democratic candidates, George Turk and H. Stanley Glenn, to garner votes by following mouths of jumbled tripe over a mobile loud speaker throughout town is said to have lost them many more votes than they could have hoped to gain . . . In Colfax Manner they screamed "no spot zoning," in front of Frank Spadina's house Turk mused up, but good, by asking votes for himself and "Glenn" . . . the tried to correct the error, but only confused himself more . . . in front of The Sun office he failed to get a rise even after labeling this newspaper "unfair, vicious and untruthful" . . . by this time Turk should know the people of Springfield cannot be fooled more than once!

Turk bragged in the week-end issue of his annual "Spotlight" that he did a great job for Springfield as finance chairman, but anyone who took the trouble to check his alleged payroll increase figures on Page 2 would have found an error in addition of $400 . . . and there were only a dozen figures in all to add!!!

Despite the heavy turnout, trouble was non-existent at the polling places . . . there was some fancy vote challenging done here and there by Turk and Glenn, but that was hoped for and expected by the GOP . . . in some instances they were said to have questioned the integrity of some people who were ready to vote Democratic, causing them to swing neatly in the opposite direction.

A couple of weeks ago during that busy public hearing on the proposed Colfax zone change it appeared as though Turk and his running mate would garner a considerable number of votes by playing up to the crowd . . . but it didn't work . . . Eugene Becker, president of the Colfax Civic Association and manager of Turk's campaign the first and last time he was elected, saw to that.

While Turk did score some 200 votes more than he did last year, indications are that this number was only 20 per cent of the independent vote given Herb Kavin and Tim Sheehy at that time . . . it's plain to see that the rest of those independent ballots were swung to the GOP.

According to information now here on hand, parking meters appear to be definitely slated for the Morris avenue business area and several other intersecting streets . . . police authorities, Township Engineer Lennox and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce will get together soon to discuss tentations and submit formal plans to the Township Committee for its approval.

CHIEF RUNYON RESIGNS

Mayor, Binder Reelected; Tenure for Tax Collector

An all-Republican Township Committee for 1951 became a reality Tuesday as more than 2,500 township voters went to the polls to give Mayor Robert W. Marshall and Police Commissioner Albert G. Binder decisive victories over their Democratic opponents, former Township-Committeeman George M. Turk and H. Stanley Glenn. Tax Collector Huff also was reelected by a margin of two to one.

Despite the fact that the election had been preceded by virtually no campaigning, the big turnout here surprised local election officials. As 8 p.m. the closing hour for balloting approached, there were lines at the polling places. Along with Binder and Marshall, other county GOP candidates received substantial majorities here.

Mayor Marshall and his running mate carried every district. Marshall's best district was the second where he polled 476 votes. Binder had 428 in this district. Turk had 220 and Glenn 195. The best showing by the Democrats was in the third district where Turk had 217 votes and Glenn 270. However, Marshall had 437 and Binder 401 in the district.

A surprising development of the election was the failure of more than half of the voters to ballot on the referendum which had set tenure for Tax Collector Huff. The final tabulation on this measure found 1,000 persons in favor and 513 opposed.

Marshall and Binder triumphed by margins of approximately two to one. The mayor's total was 1,694 and Binder's 1,532. Turk received 851 votes and Glenn 766. Another surprise feature of the contest was the failure of Turk to cut down Binder's victory margin. Many persons, while not predicting victory for the former committee member expected him to give Binder a terrific battle at the polls. But apparently most voters balloted along straight party lines. Binder finished only 122 votes behind Marshall and Turk was only 85 votes ahead of Glenn. Turk had 572 votes in last year's six man contest, in which he finished last.

Approximately the same number of voters went to the polls last year. Of the 800 voters garnered by former Township Attorney Herbert A. Kavin and Timothy J. Sheehan, running as independents, the Republicans yesterday.

Workmen today were busy engaged in construction work which will culminate in completion of the first apartment units of General Greene Village, giant garden apartment residential project at Springfield Center. Nicholas A. Angleton of South Orange is owner and developer.

Indications are that with a combination of good weather people will be occupying the first of the twenty-four apartments by early spring. It is expected that by the end of the summer all of the 182 apartment units will be completed. They will range in size from three-room efficiency units to 5 1/2 room suits. The rent schedule is expected to range from $75 to $110.

The first phase of the giant multiple housing development was the ground-breaking which took place recently with Mayor Robert W. Marshall and other civic officials participating in the ceremonies. At that time plans were outlined which graphically demonstrated the magnitude of the project.

Contractors now are working on the full layout of the General Greene Village. Township officials have pointed out the completion of the apartment units means that scores of persons who have sought residential quarters here and dis-appointed now will be able to move to Springfield.

Plans also are being developed for the commercial phase of the project. It is expected that contracts for several of the stores will be signed shortly. It is understood that the management of a nationally operated good-better-basement store is talking with a view to locating some of the outlets. Other well known firms also have been reported to be seeking rentals.

All Smiles After Another GOP Victory

Less than 20 minutes after the polls closed Tuesday night the results were known. This picture, taken at Republican headquarters, shows a group of jubilant party workers and the successful candidates. Seated, left to right, are Tax Collector Charles Huff, who won tenure of office; Mayor Robert W. Marshall and Committeeman Albert G. Binder, re-elected by a two to one majority. Standing are Committeeman Walter W. Baldwin, Wilbert W. Layng, campaign manager; the mayor's wife, Edward Smith, Arthur L. Marshall, the mayor's father; John Hopping, and Jay Levin, president of the Springfield Republican Club. (Photo by Bob Smith.)

GOP Banner Error Didn't Stop Votes

Township Republicans scored a decisive victory at the polls here yesterday but not with the help of the banner they had strung across Morris avenue.

The red-lettered steamer urged support of Mayor Robert W. Marshall and Police Commissioner Albert G. Binder, telling them to pull down levers 3-A and 4-A.

If the voters bothered to inspect the ballot for the identity of 3-A and 4-A they would have found they were George Herlihy and Donald Pearson, Republican freholder candidates. Marshall and Binder were 3-A and 4-A.

Women's Club Celebrates First Birthday

The Springfield Woman's Club celebrated its first birthday last Wednesday evening at its meeting at the Raymond Chisholm School. SCHOOL NEWS

Raymond Chisholm
 Grades 1
 Mrs. May Busch
 Mrs. Mildred Thurber
 All the children in Mrs. Busch's class had a wonderful time at our Halloween party. Mrs. Montanari, our class mother, took charge of the refreshments. Mrs. Stiso came at 1:45 to help serve. We had cookies, cake, ice cream and candy. Mrs. Montanari has a daughter Edythe in the class. Mrs. Stiso has a son, Mikey. The children visited other classrooms, sang Halloween songs and played games.

Delja Sperling, who is in Mrs. Thurber's class, brought in a folder of beautiful colored pictures of the "Blackfeet" Indians of Glacier National Park. We enjoyed seeing the dress of the warriors and chief, and hearing their funny names.

Andy Shepard and Josephine Cuenca brought in candy for our Halloween costume party.

Grades 2
 Mrs. Helen Hegy
 Mrs. Alice Rieg
 Miss Rieg's class had a fine Halloween party. Most of us were dressed up and some of us fooled each other. We had ice cream, candy and cake. The cakes were sent in by Mrs. Morlette, Mrs. Rux, Mrs. Berner, Mrs. Pettinello, and Mrs. DeSantis.

We have four children who have not missed a word in the weekly spelling test this fall. They are Herbert Ezold, Karin Buckley, Helen Buzek, and Bernice Mason. On a test of all the words, seven girls and five boys had 100 per cent.

Mrs. Hegy's class dressed up for the Halloween parade. Everyone's costume looked very nice. All the First and Second Grades joined in a parade.

 Mrs. Ruth Arey
 Miss Claire Hoopmann
 Miss Marietta Parkhurst

On October 31st, the boys and girls in Miss Parkhurst's class came in costume. They sat in different seats until their classmates guessed who they were. Then they returned to their own desks and worked hard until the last hour of the day when their Halloween party took place. They paraded in the upper hall and into the Third and Fourth Grade classrooms. The high scorers in the bean bag game were Lillian Kent, Drab, Dorothy Fuhrer and Peter Miller. Cake, cookies, candy, and popples were then distributed. They are grateful to the following parents for the refreshments: Mrs. H. Bliss, Mrs. Davie, Mrs. W. Franklin, Mrs. E. Fuffer, Mrs. G. Ginnattassie, Mrs. S. Griffith, Mrs. K. Haupt, Mrs. J. Moran, and Mrs. C. E. Miller.

Last week Miss Hoopmann's class spent much time on some new arithmetic facts. We worked out several problems at the board before practicing in our workbooks and many of us did well. Star spellers for the week were: Patty Bani, Charlotte Bodner, Caryl Cantelmo, Donald Dalibuty, Teddy Karlin, Marilyn Muller, Dick Neldormer, Lorle Roettger, Barry Smith, Richard Spickler, Judy Wendland and Billy Yeager. Mrs. Arey's Third Grade had fun Halloween. They were dressed in many pretty, funny, and original costumes. They joined the Fourth and Fifth Grades of the morning session in a party in the gymnasium. There was a march parade, then Mrs. McGarrath taught them the first steps of a waltz. They all worked with great interest and they looked very pretty dancing to the music. They enjoyed the ice cream and cookies. Mrs. Meade, class mother, was thanked for her cooperation.

Grade 4
 Mrs. Lucy Forsyth
 Miss Skousen took the class for a review lesson on Iceland. Everyone enjoyed the period. Chip knows a great deal about social studies. He asked some very interesting questions.

We had a fine time at our Halloween party. Mrs. Bouchard, our class mother, arranged for the refreshments and came in to serve them. Mrs. Stevens and Mrs. Skousen sent delicious cookies. We also wrote to Mrs. Meade, Paul's mother, who was at the party helping serve the Third Grade. Mrs. Meade also served our class. We thanked these ladies for helping to make our party such a happy one.

Grade 4
 Miss Sheila Garfinkle

We are all very proud of our display tables. They were made from wooden crates and decorated with crepe paper. We can keep interesting things on them which we bring in to show the class. At present we have a log cabin, flat boat, covered wagon, hay wagon, and quilt. These articles depict life in the West when people began pioneering and settling the land. We use this interesting display in connection with our reading about "Young Citizens of Early Days."

We all had loads of fun at our Halloween party. We wish to thank all the pupils who brought in the things that made our party so successful.

Grade 5
 Mrs. Margaret McGarrath

The Fifth Grade joined Mrs. Arey's Third Grade and Mrs. Forsyth's Fourth Grade at a Halloween party held in the gymnasium. They dressed in costumes and marched in a great circle to show their costumes. Records were played while refreshments were served. The cookies were supplied by class mothers.

Many children have spent extra time in the morning and after school to get more help in arithmetic. As a result most of the class has passed tests in their fundamental facts.

Grades 6, 7 and 8
 Mrs. Isabel Nelson
 Miss Helena Kosloski
 Miss Patricia Guerin

The Eighth Grade Science class visited Ciba Pharmaceutical House and went through their production department. They witnessed the packaging of capsules, tubes and solutions. A heart serum was placed into ampules and sealed with a hot flame.

The Newspaper Club has published the first issue of the Raymond Chisholm News. They are now busily engaged working on the Christmas issue. Several new ideas and suggestions were brought out at the last meeting.

On Thursday, the upper grades saw a film on the works of Charles Dickens. Most of his novels were discussed and the scenes shown. The Christmas Carol and Pickwick Papers were shown.

Many parents visited the school during Education Week. They observed science, arithmetic, English and social studies classes in action.

On Tuesday, a Halloween party and dance was held in the gymnasium for the upper grades. Prizes for the prettiest, most original and funniest costumes were awarded. Typical Halloween refreshments, cider and doughnuts

Grade Two—Miss Smith
 Our mothers helped us to have a nice Halloween party. We all came to school in costume and Miss Smith guessed who we were. Mr. Post helped us to draw pictures of a costume worn by someone in the class. One mother sent us candy, pumpkins, chicken corn and paper napkins. Another mother made decorated cup cakes and cookies for us. Our mothers also supplied ice cream for us. One mother brought a dog named "Lucky." He said "hello," "bye," and sang for us. We had a very good time.

This Friday every child was present. When we had our spelling test, one child missed one word. We'll reach that 100 per cent perfect some day we feel sure.

Mrs. Tomasko

This week we are studying about the bakery. We learned how bread is made and wrapped. We also learned how it is delivered to stores, restaurants and homes. We draw pictures about what we learned and have them hung up in our room. We are also going to see a movie called "The Bakery."

Grade Three—Mrs. Cross

Halloween Day we had a party. We played "Pin the nose on the Pumpkin." While we played Mrs. Soss and Mrs. Flenner served the refreshments. We had a lighted Jack o' Lantern in the room. Everyone was dressed up. We had a very good time.

Our teacher has been reading the story "Mr. Poppers Penguins." Have you ever read it? We enjoy hearing all the different adventures of the "Popper" family and their twelve penguins.

Mrs. Dum

We had a very nice Halloween party. Mrs. Cross judged us for funniest—Andy Byam; most original—Cathie Silence and prezzie—Carol Kuehn. We played two games and put a nose in the pumpkin; later won by Eugene Becker. Herbert Rupp won the fruit basket. We had delicious refreshments, dice cups, cookies and candy. Before going home we marched around the room, sang some songs and listened to a Halloween story.

Grade Three and Four—
 Miss Van Arsdale

If you find anyone pounding corn on your doorstep it is because the members of our class are living the life of the Indians we study and draw. The maps drawn by us about New Jersey show the Leni Lenape Indians on them instead of present day people.

Grade Four—Miss Derivan

We had several film strips this week with Mrs. Ryder's class. We saw a lot about the early pioneers in America. After reading the stories of Pioneer children in America from Spain, England, Holland and France it was very interesting to see actual pictures of a real pioneer home, school, store and village.

Bob Martini from the eighth grade worked the slide machine

James Caldwell
 Kindergarten—Mrs. Towne
 and Mrs. Wronsky

This has been a busy week in Kindergarten. Tuesday, of course, being Halloween most of us came in costume and we had lots of fun guessing who were behind those funny masks. We sang Halloween songs, had a parade and listened to a story about a pumpkin and a black kitty who each found a home. Then we had an ovely party furnished with refreshments, dice cups, cookies and candy. Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning we made trips to the fire house. We were very interested in all the things we saw and heard over there—how the siren and whistle are blown; what the fire extinguishers are for and how they work—and many other things. We especially liked the big red hook and ladder truck and the little trailer that carries lots of big search lights. We are very grateful to the firemen for taking time to explain the trucks and equipment to us and for telling us about the ways in which they help everyone in the community. On the way to and from the fire house we saw two other community helpers—the policeman who helped us across the busy streets and the mailman who was delivering mail.

Grade One—Miss Anderson

Have you heard the story of Flick, the fire engine? Susan French brought the records of Flick for our first grade to hear. We enjoyed the story very much. Bob Keana, Cynthia Funglam, Holly Hoffman, Faith McMahon, Susan Hals, Johnny Richards, Cathy Cain and Marjane Muxdock all brought records to school. We now have quite a collection of records and we will spend many entertaining hours listening, dancing and singing.

Mrs. Snider

The two first grade classes had their Halloween parade of costumes at the Methodist Church. All costumes were cute. Kathy Hopping, Robert Olechnie, Clifford Murphy, Jimmy Haggitt, and Joan Ryder were disguised so well that Mrs. Snider did not guess who they were.

Mrs. Corby

Our principal, Mr. Newschwager, visited us last week. We talked about four number stories. They were stories of three. Bob Baker showed him the story of two girls and one girl. Nancy Woodring showed him the story of two boys and one boy. Lee Doerries and Barry Becker wrote the stories at the blackboard.

Regional Gains Sixth Win In Beating Rockaway 53-26

By DONALD ROSSELET

A crack Bulldog eleven met a determined Rockaway squad Tuesday and emerged victorious by the overwhelming score of 53-26. The game, viewed by about 2,000, was a well-played contest featuring the passing attack of Rockaway and Regional's ever pressing ground attack.

Rockaway fumbled, but Matoyla intercepted a pass before George set up Rockaway's initial score on a pass to Ryan. Dachsen took one of George's many touchdown tosses in the end zone. George failed to connect on a pass for the extra point.

The half ended before Rockaway could kick off. Regional was on the long end of a 27-6 score.

Rockaway opened the second half action when a pass, George to Copensky, went for a first down. Scheffler recovered a fumble and Vicendese threw a pass to Haskell and the latter went over from the 7. Haskell dropped a pass from Scheffler for the extra point.

A sixty-three yard pass by George made Regional's defense look sick. Copensky caught the ball and went the remaining 12 yards for another Rockaway tally. George flipped a pass to Derevitz for the extra point.

Sherry came back to his 46 on the kickoff. He then made a first down before McCusker went 35 yards on a touchdown punt. Scheffler converted. After Regional's kickoff, a jump pass by Rockaway a first down. The final drive opened with a 45 yard touchdown drive by Rockaway. George chucked this drive, going over from the 4, but his pass for the extra point was knocked down. Bob Coles put the damper on another Maroon and White drive with a pass interception on his own one. Vicendese bulled his way to a first down on the 24. Rockaway intercepted a pass. Haskell took an attempted Rockaway handoff and went 51 yards for a TD. Scheffler again kicked the extra point. Bob Rittweger recovered Cliff Smith's kickoff deep in Rockaway territory. Smith took a pass from Vicendese for another Bulldog score.

On the kickoff, George ran into a host Regional tacklers latered to Copensky who scored. The play covered a total distance of 71 yards. The extra point was good. Jim Gwathmey ended the game on the Rockaway 13 with a first down.

Jobs

Bob Coles, Bob McCusker, Dick Scheffler, Frank Vicendese, and Bob Rittweger all played an outstanding game for Regional, but well-remembered along with Vicendese as "Star of the Week".

Received a letter from a Garwood man this week. The letter read in part: I have read your sports stories with a great deal of interest. I think the squad has another Dock Blanchard in the making. He is a workhorse, but seldom mentioned. He may be the dark horse of the Bulldog team. If he goes on to say that this boy never gets a chance to punt during the game, but gets off some punts before game time. He has set up many TD's with his driving power. I have named him PILE DRIVER 34. As you probably have guessed he is referring to the Regional Ace Dick Sherry. Regional faces Linden Saturday in the final home game this season.

St. Rose of Lima Plans for Bazaar

The Holy Name Society of St. Rose of Lima Church, Millburn, will have Vice-Admiral Harold G. Bowen, the noted orator, historian and World Traveler as its guest speaker on Tuesday evening, November 14, at 8:30, after a short business meeting in the St. Rose of Lima School.

During a colorful and energetic naval career of over forty years, from Commander-Ensign of the U. S. Navy in 1907, through grades to Captain in 1927, Rear Admiral in 1935 and Vice-Admiral in 1946, he served as Assistant Chief in the Bureau of Engineering, Engineer-in-Chief of the Navy, Director of the Naval Research Laboratory, Technical Aide and Special Assistant to the Secretary of the Navy, Director of the Office of Patents and Inventions, Chief of the Office of Research and Inventions, and Warlike Chief of Naval Research.

He is the recipient of the Distinguished Service Medal, nine letters of commendation from the Secretary of the Navy, and the Newcomer Medal from the Franklin Institute.

The years he spent in Europe and Asia on the most interesting and historic events which occurred during his sojourn there, make his talk highly interesting, particularly so in view of the present-day unrest and unsettled conditions which prevail in many of the European and Asiatic countries.
