Most of the vote cast in the balloting which found the various budgetary items approved by margins of better than six to one came from Springfield. Country Oaks Meeting Ends in Confusion As Members Fail to Agree on Firehouse

In the Country Oaks Association in favor of the proposed $125,000 firehouse? Well, the Sun doesn't know what happened and apparently neither do the members.

Some say such a motion was proposed, put to a vote and carried. Others, including the secretary, Mrs. Lee Andrews, claim otherwise. In the midst of conflicting stories there emerges a situation rivaled only by the hectic vote of the 1948 New Year's Day session of the Township Committee and the sensational Springfield Woman's Club.

Distinct Political Tinge Is Evidenced In Campaign

Township voters will put the finale on what has developed into a hot school election battle Tuesday night when they choose three members of the Board of Education. Balloting will take place at the James Caldwell and Raymond Chisholm Schools from 5 to 9 P.M. Eight candidates, including three incumbents, are contesting for the commissionerships.

Incumbents Frequently Have an Edge In School Contests

With one contestant a former president of the Springfield Republican Club and another a 1950 unsuccessful Democratic candidate for the Township Committee, the pre-election campaigning has taken on a distinct political tinge. Herbert J. Lovins was the former G.O.P. club president who resigned his political post to make a bid for the school board. The Democrat is H. Stanley Glenn.

Although the Citizens' League Balloting by the Citizens' League. All of the candidates with the exception of Glenn were present. All spoke briefly.

Incumbents Frequently Have an Edge In School Contests

The incumbents frequently have an edge in school contests but observers here do not believe they are likely to have much of a margin in the pre-election maneuvering. They point out that the backgrounds of some of the other candidates are fully as good as those of the incumbents. However, because of their activity on the board, the three commissionerships.

Candidate Points To Local Problem

Citing Springfield's tax rate jump, most of which is attributed to school expenses, as typical, Health Commissioner Arthur E. Lloyd of Union Township, Republican candidate for the Assembly today urged strengthening of the Armstrong Act. He said the action would prevent school districts in Union County and the rest of the state from being deprived of millions of dollars originally appropriated for them.

"Obviously the most important obligation before the current session of the legislature is reinforcement of the Armstrong measure so that all funds collected from the eligible tax go to the schools," Mr. Lloyd asserted. "The State has used more than half of the eighteen million dollars for purposes other than school aid. It was able to do this legally because there are loopholes in the Act. It certainly is the duty of every lawmaker to lessen the staggering school tax load now being carried by the average taxpayer."

Citing the tremendous potential of school registrations for the next several years, the Assembly candidate pointed out that the post-war years produced the largest number of babies in the history of New Jersey. "There were 95,000 born in 1946; more than 106,000 in 1947 and 97,000 in 1948. This means that there will be a spectacular increase of pupils in the kindergartens of the State commencing in September and lasting through the next eight or ten years. Translated into actual educational facilities it represents more teachers, additional school housing for many districts and mounting school expenses all along the line."

Reviewing the problems faced by school boards throughout New Jersey, Commissioner Lloyd observed that State aid through the Armstrong Act is a "must" with the alternative being procedure which taxpayers already have shown they will not accept. "New Jersey residents indicated several years ago that they do not want a sales tax," he pointed out and it's fully as obvious that they will not permit a personal income tax to be imposed on them. The federal levy from the source is already heavy and will be increased, according to reports. That means that property tax is the answer and that facility is already being overworked."

Boston Symphony Coming to Mosque

Charles Munch will direct the Boston Symphony Orchestra in its second concert of the Griffith-Munch Foundation at the Mosque Theater, Newark, on next Thursday evening (Feb. 15). The orchestra's appearance in a memorable first concert of this series in December was led by its distinguished conductor emeritus, Dr. Serge Koussevitzky, in an all-Brahms program. Munch, who succeeded Koussevitzky as leader of the orchestra in 1949 and who has seen positive results in his re-publication of the orchestra, will conduct it in a typically Munch program of a Gallic flavor.

The program will feature Hector Berlioz's romantic symphonic Fantasia, one of the greatest works of the celebrated French composer. Written in 1829, and subtitled "An Episode in the Life of an Artist," this is regarded as one of the epoch-making symphonic works. The recurrent theme, which is used to tie its five movements into a unified whole, is said to have foreshadowed the Wagnerian leitmotif. It also brought the advance of instrumentation to new stages of development and is said to have deeply influenced the program music of such composers as Liszt and Richard Strauss.

Besides the Symphonic Fantasia, Munch will conduct the orchestra in the overture to Robert Schumann's opera, "Genoveva," and again, in Schumann's "Spring" Symphony No. 1 in B flat major. The spring embodied in the latter famous symphony has been described as not a season but as "the music of a man going with love with love and in love with life."

Highway Safety

By MARTIN J. PERLETTI, Director

N. J. Division of Motor Vehicles

Although we don't like to think about danger at Christmas time, it's better to think about it now and we won't have to worry so much about it later on. The danger to which I'm referring is that of traffic accidents.

If you think the hazards of traffic accidents at Christmas time have been exaggerated, just consider the various factors that enter after this season so deadly. First, there is the unusually heavy traffic. City streets are jammed with motor vehicles, and the sidewalks are filled with hurrying pedestrians, many carrying bundles.

The next factor is the weather. Streets are often covered with ice or light snow. This spells insecure footing for the pedestrian and increased stopping distances for automobiles.

Third is visibility. December 21 is the shortest day of the year, but days have been short all of December and the short days will continue far into January. From a traffic safety standpoint, reduced visibility means increased accidents.

Fourth factor is the let-down in precautions. Holiday celebrations are planned to attract attention. Drivers and pedestrians sometimes forget safety; accidents result when motorists or those on foot try to "window shop" in the midst of traffic or forget safety.

Another factor is the overindulgence of alcoholic beverages by both drivers and pedestrians, during this season.

We cannot reduce the shopping traffic nor alter the problems of slippery roads and visibility but we can do something about the let-down in precautions during the Christmas holiday period. Most of the month has already passed, but the dangerous part is still ahead. It is still possible to prevent a repetition of last December's unfortunately high toll of 83 deaths in New Jersey. During that month there were 7,278 accidents. Anyone of them might have been a fatality.

Here are some suggestions for Christmas time safety:

Motorists should reduce speed on slippery and crowded streets. Shopping should be done early to avoid last-minute rushes and worry, all of which affect safety. One's attention should be directed entirely at traffic, not shopping displays.

Pedestrians should cross at es-

Boy Scouts Mark 41st Anniversary

Both motorists and pedestrians should pay particular attention to traffic signs in this season of safety and danger.

If the dangers of Christmas traffic are kept in mind at all times, this month's toll can be reduced. The best presents you can give your family is your presence on Christmas morning!

Veterans' Queries

Q. I intend to take GI Bill flight training, and I need affidavits from two "competent, disinterested persons" stating the training will be put to bona fide use in connection with my job. May my employer submit one of the affidavits, even though he isn't necessarily a "disinterested person"?

A. Yes, so long as he can testify, by reason of personal knowledge and facts, that the flight training will be used in connection with your earning a livelihood.

Q. As a disabled veteran training under Public Law 16, I've been able to get along nicely on my subsistence allowance and disability compensation pay until last month, when my wife had to have an operation. Is there any way I can get a small loan to help pay hospital expenses?

A. VA maintains a Vocational Rehabilitation Revolving Fund, from which you may borrow up to $100. No interest is charged on the loans. You may apply for such a loan at your VA regional office.

Q. My uncle, a World War II veteran, died in 1947, leaving my aunt a $10,000 GI insurance policy paid in a lump sum. The policy also listed two contingent beneficiaries. My aunt died in 1949, before receiving the special NSLI dividend. To whom will the dividend be paid?

A. The dividend will be paid to your aunt's estate, and not to the contingent beneficiaries. When your uncle died, your aunt was vested with the right to all benefits of the policy, including the dividend—thus precluding the possibility of the dividend going to the contingent beneficiaries.

Q. I am an ex-WAVE, in need of hospitalization for a non-service-connected ailment. There are no beds available for me at the VA hospital near my home, and my physician says I am in no condition to travel long distances to another VA hospital. What can I do?

A. Contact your VA regional office. VA may authorize treatment for women war veter-

Your Library

Library Hours:
Daily 10:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.
Mon. & Fri. Even. 7:30 to 9:00 p.m.
In busy days, like these it is better to find the easiest and most efficient way to accomplish your work, rather than to use the expensive trial and error method. Whether it is work inside or outside the house or a business or psychological problem, some expert in that particular field has found the right way to handle it and you will be wise to take advantage of his knowledge and experience.

Each year many books are published which offer proof that new and better ways are always being found to simplify modern living. Since they cover such a wide range of subjects they may contain just the information you can use to advantage. Your library keeps up-to-date lists of such books for your convenience, why not ask for the one you need?

Particular interest to home makers will be the five week course on "Work Simplification for the Household" which will begin Wednesday, Feb. 14, at the Springfield Library. These meetings are offered by the Rutgers Extension Service and will be held each Wednesday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. under the direction of Mrs. Mary Armstrong.

New books recently received are "Foxfire" by Anya Seton; "Danger from Deer" by Vicki Baum; "A Breath of Air" by Rumer Godden; "Harem Scarem" by Rosemary Taylor; "The Disappearance" by Philip Wylie and for the non-fiction shelves: "Food for Little People" by Hazel Kepler and Elizabeth Hesser; "Pittsylvania County" by George Swetnam and "Scott's Standard Postage Stamp Catalogue" for 1951.

GUEST SPEAKER
"Beautifying Your Home" will be explained to the members of the American Home department of the Springfield Woman's Club at its meeting tomorrow, Friday, at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Henry George, 184 Milltown road, at 8:30 p.m. E. G. Whittleman of Mood Interiors in Maplewood, will talk to the group on interior decoration.

God, infinite Spirit, of whom the true man is the spiritual expression, will be the subject of next Sunday's services in all Christian Science churches. Title of the Lesson-Sermon is "SPIRIT."

The words of God to the prophet Ezekiel constitute the Golden Text: "I have poured out my spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord God" (Ezekiel-39:26).

Selections from the Bible include a portion of Paul's letter to the Corinthians (I Cor. 2:12): "Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God."

Among the correlative readings from the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy are the following: "There is but one Spirit. Man is never God, but spiritual man, made in God's likeness, reflects God (p. 70)." The spiritual man's consciousness and individuality are reflections of God" (p. 43).

Wins Over Linden, Union, Recorded As Locals Enter Final Week Of Campaign

Regional High crowned an early season defeat by announcing the Linden Juniors, 37-33. The Baby Bulldogs dropped a return engagement to the Union JayVees by a 50-33 count.

The JayVees, led by Joe Pepr (15), Dick Schottler (7), and John Keith (8), won a tight contest from the Linden Juniors, 37-33. The Baby Bulldogs dropped a return engagement to the Union JayVees by a 50-33 count.

The score showed Regional's superiority. As usual, Murray put on his spectacular dribbling exhibition. Murray's 17 points kept him at the top of the County high scorers' list.

In the Linden encounter, which Regional won 59-41, play was rough especially under the backboards. Al Zimmer did a good job on defense, stealing many a Linden pass which might have changed the outcome of the contest.

A Report to New Jersey Telephone Users

Once again, America is arming in self-defense. One sign of the times is greater use of the telephone. Industry and the armed forces need—and are getting—more and more telephone service. We think the people of New Jersey are entitled to know how we are prepared to meet these greater demands, now and in the months ahead.

THE SITUATION NOW
New Jersey Bell today serves 1,621,000 telephones—629,000 more than five years ago. Our $241,000,000 construction program since the end of World War II has added more cable, more switchboards, and much new and better equipment. We have converted about 282,000 telephones to dial.

Telephone service in New Jersey is efficient and dependable. The things we have done in the last five years have made the telephone a more valuable and useful tool, both to you and to industry. And particularly in terms of defense needs, it's a good thing we've grown.

THERE IS MORE TO BE DONE
New Jersey's telephone system has doubled in size since Pearl Harbor, but there is still more to be done. More switchboards, more equipment, more circuits—all are needed. We have placed orders for the materials and equipment needed to keep building at about the same pace as in the last five years. Of course, completion of these plans depends upon the availability of materials and the needs of the defense program.

IN THE MONTHS AHEAD
The number one job is to make sure that all defense needs are met. We are confident this will be done, quickly and efficiently.

The telephone organization today is twice as large as in 1940. It is well trained and better equipped. These things strengthen our confidence that we shall be able to do our part in the Nation's defense and, at the same time, keep your telephone service good and ever improving.

That will be our constant aim.

Retired in 1949

INSURED FUTURES
Grand Union was the first major food chain to offer a formal Retirement Plan to all employees. The Plan contributes to financial security upon retirement. A few major points of the Plan:

- All full-time employees are eligible, regardless of position or salary.
- Short waiting period required for employees to join Plan.
- Company pays all "prior service" benefits.
- Both the company and the employee share the cost. (To date the Company has contributed 70% and employees 30%.)
- Funds paid into Plan are "traced", guaranteeing liberal retirement benefits.
- Normal retirement age 65. Eligible employees may retire 5 years prior to normal retirement age.
- $100 per month minimum benefit for persons with 25 or more years of covered service.
- As in most modern plans, benefits are combined with primary social security.
- Provision is made for employees to vest their rights as they need not remain with Grand Union until they retire in order to receive benefits.

The Plan is concrete evidence of Grand Union's interest in the future of all of the men and women of the Company.
