FRIENDS!!

When Bob Marshall was named to the Township Committee some three years ago and found himself elected chairman—the moment he took office he was like a lost sheep . . . but he has come a long way since that time and now he handles the duties of the Township Committee in a masterful manner . . . take last Wednesday night's 1951 budget hearing as a shining example.

Town Clerk Treat had just finished the full length of the budget as required by law when the mayor asked anyone in the audience whether they had anything to say . . . sitting by, armed with the answers, was Fred J. Stefany, town auditor, and Treasurer Merlette . . . Marshall asked the same question a second time . . . but folks in the hall, particularly the politicians, seemed to be glued to their seats . . . many arms were loaded with papers and various paraphernalia pertaining to the budget . . . Bob didn't give anyone a third opportunity . . . he called for a motion to close the hearing and it went through unanimously.

History was established in Springfield that night, according to Committee Chairman Fred A. Brown . . . never in his long term on the governing body has any budget hearing gone by without someone somewhere in the audience raising the devil . . . this year should have been no exception because the local tax rate will be the highest in history and the highest in the county . . . but it was an exception . . . opponents were asleep at the switch!

Applicants for the police department are sorely needed in Springfield . . . you barely exist on the wages, but, oh boy, what security . . . you have to do is stay sober.

As indicated by this newspaper in the past couple of issues, Freeholder Lee S. Rigby will have the opposition for the first time in a long while at the primary . . . first statement of his opponents yesterday says, "We believe Mr. Rigby does not have the backing of the Republicans in the county as testified to by his showing in the 1948 campaign when he finished far below Freeholder Charles L. Bauer and barely edged out the highest of the several independent candidates . . . we believe that his poor showing stems from the fact that he does not truly represent either the people of the county or the active workers of the regular Republican organization" . . . in another section of their statement, Rigby's opponents claim he and some others on the Board of Freeholders "have no interest except to perpetuate themselves in office."

Ex-Democratic official George Turk—both clipped into Town Clerk Bob Treat last week with regard to Springfield's rather district changes . . . he said things were messed up locally and would prove very confusing to voters . . . Treat, in turn called Turk's accusations "untrue," stating county authorities looked upon his work in connection with the district changes as a masterpiece of perfection . . . Turk said Treat was exaggerating, but, according to a story out of Elizabeth Sunday in a metropolitan daily, "Springfield has done a major job of realignment."

Last week-end's inclement weather put the damper on the Red Cross drive . . . by this time the campaign is usually over and the local quota has been met . . . but workers are still soliciting contributions and we again urge your whole-hearted support.

According to the latest news release from the Country Oaks Association, all is peaceful and quiet again in that section of town.

FRATERNITY SECRETARY BETHLEHEM, Pa.—Clifford D. Walker, Jr., of Severn Ave., Springfield, has been elected secretary of Theta Chi, national secret fraternity at Lehigh University.

Ticket Files Against Rigby For Freeholder

Local Man Faces Rough Battle in Coming Primary

Formidable primary opposition for the slate of incumbent freeholders which includes Lee S. Rigby of this municipality, was assured today with the filing of a two-candidate ticket composed of Former Elizabeth City Councilman Nelson L. Carr and Mrs. Effie L. Scheideler, of Roselle. The ticket is being supported by a group headed by Freeholder Albert J. Benninger of Mountainside, and other prominent Republicans.

Announcement of the slate indicated that adherents of the ticket will support Freeholder Charles L. Bauer, Jr., of Elizabeth, for re-election. In other words they (Continued on Page 4)

Binder May Resign . . . But 'Not for Month or Year'

Warn out with what he claims are the excessive duties of being a township committee member as well as holding down a post in private industry, Police Commissioner Albert G. Binder today conceded he may tender his resignation, but before anyone tosses his hat in the ring as a candidate for the potential vacancy let it be said that he has added—"It may be next month or it may be next year."

Binder who currently is confined to his home with an attack of grippe, pointed out that he has been around the township political scene for a long time. "It takes a lot of time working in an office and then coming home to do the job of a committee member," he said. "The pressure on both jobs is terrific."

Binder said he finds difficulty finding time for all the detail work. He points out that his duties as a member of the governing board include not only attendance at regular sessions but also conferences.

"After all the job only pays $500," he told a Sun representative. "It merely throws me into a higher tax bracket and as a result I'm no better off financially but I spend a lot more time in earning that amount."

Binder—last November was elected to a three-year term. He previously was chosen for a two-year term in 1948 to fill the vacancy created by the famous tie vote of 1947. Former Mayor Wilbur M. Sealand was named to the vacancy for a one-year appointment. For the past two years Binder has served as first chairman.

Parent Ed. Group Hears Speaker

"Even if you use perfect methods in raising your children these methods will never be 100 per cent successful," stated Mrs. N. H. McGiffin of the Ellwood Piny School in Summit, at a recent meeting of the Parent Education Group of the Springfield Parent-Teacher Association.

During her talk on some of the problems of pre-school children such as eating, speech, over-aggression, thumb sucking and discipline, she said, "In all dealings with children try to relax and enjoy them, keep your relationships good and let the child feel that he is loved." She added, "Instead of dwelling constantly on the things they do wrong, emphasize the things they do right. Never compare children with others—only with themselves and help them learn to adjust themselves to the other people in the world."

Mrs. A. Russell Hillyer, Chairman of the Group, presided at the meeting after which a general discussion period was held and refreshments were served.

Brown Minus Opposition At Primary

Democrats Still To File Before Midnite Deadline

With the deadline for filing petitions less than twelve hours away indications today were that Township Committeeman Fred A. Brown will be unopposed in his bid for re-nomination by the Republican party. The identity of his Democratic opponent still remained in doubt with no announcement being received from the Springfield Democratic Club as to who will make the run.

During the past month there have been reports that Brown again would find opposition among representatives of the Springfield Republican organization. However, the struggle into which Freeholder Lee S. Rigby has found himself projected in his bid for re-nomination is believed to have eliminated any possibility that the Republicans will risk a primary campaign against Brown.

Any attempt to defeat the bid of the incumbent committee member for re-nomination would unquestionably work to Rigby's disadvantage. The Freeholder, faced with the possible opposition of veterans' groups throughout the county, cannot afford to oppose a vote getter of Brown's ability in his home municipality.

Brown's candidacy won't be greeted by the party here—with any degree of enthusiasm. Many party leaders in the off record conversations have expressed belief that Brown is not a candidate of the ballot that the GOP should be presenting. However, they concede that he is a strong vote getter and admit that an all-out primary battle would be required to defeat him.

Even with such a struggle there would be no guarantee the veteran governing board member could be beaten, they say.

Brown is a retired Standard Oil employe. He had been street committee chairman for many years and his service as such is to a considerable extent, on a personal basis. He has built a strong personal organization as a result and has used it to excellent advantage in the past. As one observer here described it, "he keeps the roads in good shape and his political fence in excellent repair."

Since he is elderly he also gets a considerable number of votes on a sympathy basis, it has been pointed out.

On the Democratic side the picture is not too clear. It generally is expected that the nominee will be either former Township Committeeman George M. Turk or H. Stanley Glenn. Both were unsuccessful candidates for the two governing board vacancies last November.

Under normal circumstances Turk would be the nominee. However, appointment of a new postmaster is scheduled for this year and Turk is expected to be the leading candidate for the post. Under the Hatch Act he would henceforth be barred from all political activities. So it appears possible that he may not be a candidate. In this event it is believed likely Glenn will be the organizational choice.

Feb. Tax Figure Under Last Year

Despite the fact that tax collections for February were less than the figure for the same month last year, the total to date is higher than for the same period in 1950, Tax Collector Charles H. Huff points out today in his monthly report.

Collections for the month totaled $63,726 as compared with $64,477 in February of last year. This is the first time in many months that the current figure has been under the total for the month of the preceding year.

However, the figure for the year to date is $182,297 as compared with $141,253. The 1951 tax collections during the month totaled $60,904. Taxes collected for 1950 were $2,153 and for 1949, $173. The total delinquent taxes collected was $2,328. The auto bus receipts were $275 and the interest and costs on taxes was $85. The search fees were $45.

Maria S. Hedy Mary Ann Sedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Sedy of 438 Morris avenue, entertained several friends last Friday in honor of her ninth birthday.

Township Voters To Ballot In 6 Districts At Primary

Anticipated Development Considered in Changes

Township voters on Primary Election Day will ballot in six voting districts instead of in four as in the past. The township accounts for half of the four new voting districts in Union county. The others are in Winfield and Plainfield.

Last week's session of the township committee featured an acrimonious debate between former Township Committeeman George M. Turk and Township Clerk Robert D. Treat relative to the merits of the township's redistricting program.

Turk claimed that the job had been done without Democratic cooperation. He charged that employees at the Union County Board of Elections insisted that they could not tell what arrangements had been completed and did not know "what people were distributed where."

Treat indignantly declared that the amendment had been approved by the county board and claimed that "they said it was the finest draft, concerning redistricting of election districts that had ever been received from a Union County municipality."

Turk replied that Treat "was stretching it a bit—quite a bit." In a report from Elizabeth it was stated that the redistricting of the township had resulted in keeping the number of voters in the six districts low to provide for anticipated home development. The smallest district, with 536 registered voters, provides for an expected expansion of 40 voters with development of the General Greene Village at Springfield Center.

Voters in the first and fourth districts will cast their ballots at the American Legion Home; those of the second and fifth districts will vote in the James Caldwell School and the third and sixth districts' polling place will be the Raymond Chisholm School.

It has been only eight years since Mr. Shaul first went to Colombia but into that short time he has packed a living. A gifted linguist, he quickly mastered the Spanish language, the tool of his work. He then turned his attention to the development of young people's work in Barranquilla where he was first stationed.

The comparatively new enthusiasm for adult education in Colombia is due in no small measure to the efforts of Mr. Shaul who has become deeply interested in Dr.
Frank Laubach's methods. Mr.
Shaul won the confidence and cooperation of the Colombian officials and travelled all over the country setting up literacy committees and pioneering in literacy instruction.

WIPE THE SLATE

As Congress takes up the problem of financing a $2 1/2 billion dollar peace-war budget, drastic measures are being urged to reduce the distance between the proposed spending total and income of 55 billion dollars.

Many of the nation's outstanding fiscal authorities point to possibilities of reducing the budget. The Committee on Federal Tax Policy calls it a "fat man's budget" at a time when the country's spending program should more resemble that of "an athlete with tough contacts ahead."

The top authorities in finance and taxation on the Committee put a finger on the soft spots in the budget and also possible savings of 10 billion dollars. These could be made without harm to the nation's welfare—and war effort. The first step, says the Committee, is to "wipe the slate" of a host of spending laws enacted by previous congresses. These annually "freeze" some 35 billion dollars of spending into the appropriations program.

The drastic demands of the present situation require drastic action, says the Committee. "Budget paying is essential. But no one believes that paying will do the whole job. . . . The need is to start with a clean slate, so that only expenditures that can be proved necessary under today's conditions will be authorized. With teamwork between the Executive and Legislative branches of the government and the understanding and alert support of the public, this can be done. . . .

In its discussion of "reducible areas" of Federal spending, the Committee touches upon an area long viewed as subject to curtailment and revision—Federal appropriations for aid, grants, subsidies and special services to state and local governments and individuals. Here three billion dollars can be saved, according to Committee estimate. In recent months legislation New Jersey officials and organizations, including the New Jersey Taxpayers Association, have assailed the practice under which the Federal Government takes money from the pockets of taxpayers on the one hand and does it out to state and local governments along with heavy implications of Federal control over their programs.

"The area of Federal grants and subsidies is another example of an activity in which the Federal government should not be engaged," asserts the Committee. ". . . The government has nothing of its own to give away. All that it gives or grants to states, cities, or individuals it must first obtain from the citizens in taxes or loans. An insidious consequence is the degree to which the grant system has resulted in an extension of Federal control over, and interference with, the management by the states of their own affairs. This is a logical outgrowth of the fiscal dependency that the grant system creates and promotes."

Your Library

Library Hours: Daily 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mon. & Fri. Even. 7:30 to 9 p.m. New seasons announce their arrival in definite and obvious ways—in temperature variations, in changing landscapes, etc. But even without these natural indicators a librarian can easily recognize each season's approach. Even if one were to remain indoors, oblivious of the rising temperature and budding leaves, the approach of spring would soon make itself known: for the choice of books is as seasonal as the climate.

The real garden enthusiast started weeks ago and is now ready with plans and plants for the change of the moon or whatever he uses as a horticultural indicator. The amateur is wisely consulting the experts by glancing the information he needs from the many books they have written. There is a right way and a wrong way to do everything; but in no other activity is the right way so immediately and pleasantly rewarding as in gardening, hence the busy traffic in the library's garden books and pamphlets. There are too many of these to enumerate but they contain all the information any Green-Thumber needs, whether he be floral minded or prosaically vegetable.

New books this week include such interesting titles as—"A Little Night of Music" by Mary Jane Ward; "Caroline Hicks" by Walter Karig; "My Six Convicts" by Donald Powell Wilson; "Morning Journey" by James Hilton; "The Eyes of Reason" by Stefan Hogen; "Americans in Glass Houses" by Leslie James and "Magda" by Maurice Hindia.

ACCEPTED Miss Kathryn Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Green of Mount Pleasant, has been accepted for admission next fall to Cazenovia Junior College at Cazenovia, New York, following her graduation in June from Regional High School.

Lloyd Urges Review Of Milk Pricing

Arthur E. Lloyd, candidate for the Republican nomination for the Assembly, yesterday urged legislative review of the retail milk pricing situation. Pointing out that the price of milk has been rising steadily over a period of years with current rumors of another increase, he urged that action be taken to protect county residents from future rises, and if possible to lower the present price.

"During my years as a health commissioner I have closely watched the milk situation," Commissioner Lloyd said in his statement. "It is obvious that it appears to have reached a point where it needs effective legislative control. In many areas in the county people are paying more than twenty-five cents for a quart of milk. This is a high figure particularly in an era of frozen wages."

"If luxuries are increased in price, it is of little concern to the average family. But a food item such as milk is a necessity to virtually all people. Growing children need it and when its price is increased it makes itself felt among people whose purchasing power is limited. The milk bill for a family of four children can easily amount to more than $30 a month, which certainly is a substantial item."

In the past State officials have investigated the pricing of milk and it is known that dairy interests from outside the State could bring in milk which would cost the people less. The trouble is at the top rather than in the retail milk dealer. Yet the legislature has done virtually nothing to afford relief. The price of milk is much higher in Northern New Jersey than in many other sections of the country," Mr. Lloyd pointed out.

"It is no secret to health authorities," the commissioner declared, "that many persons not only in this area but in other parts of New Jersey are not drinking as much milk as is considered by health standards as sufficient. Milk prices being what they are they have no choice. This situation should not be permitted to continue. There is no doubt we soon will be hearing reports that milk prices are again on their way up. The legislature should take cognizance of such developments."

Urging that all consumers keep a close watch on milk prices and demand action from Trenton in event of further increases, Commissioner Lloyd said that if nominated and elected he will urge a legislative investigation of the entire milk pricing situation from producer to consumer.

What does this man do for you?

George M. Sheing, Exchange Assigner, at Plainfield, served in the Navy Seabees in World War II—is one of 22,000 telephone men and women doing their best to provide you with good telephone service.

He does plenty! As an Exchange Assigner, George Sheing—and others in the same position throughout the State—knows the exact capacity of all the telephone facilities in his area. He can tell where telephones can be added—and where they can't. He helps make it possible to provide the most service to the most people. That's mighty important these days. Although New Jersey's telephone system has doubled in size during the past 10 years, it still isn't large enough to meet all needs. To provide telephone service for the Armed Forces and defense plants—and at the same time continue to give you fast, dependable service, requires the best use of all existing facilities, while we're going ahead with our enlargement program. R. W. Briggs, Bride On Wedding Trip

Richard W. Briggs and his bride, the former Marian E. Cowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Cowell of Pine avenue, Garwood, are honeymooning in Florida following their wedding Saturday in the Presbyterian Church, Garwood. The Rev. Eric S. Tougher officiated. A reception was held at the Park Hotel, Plainfield. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Briggs of Morris avenue.

Miss Barbara Juquith was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were the Misses Erma and Barbara Brink, cousins of the bride. Ruth Briggs, niece of the bridegroom, was a junior bridesmaid, and Lois Briggs, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Edward Petz was best man, and ushers were Wesley Pette, James Estelle and Robert Harvey Briggs, brother of the bridegroom. Robert Brink was ring bearer.

The bride's gown had an imported chantilly lace bodice with an illusion neckline and a full net skirt with lace inserts. Her veil of illusion was attached to a crown of imported rhinestones and she carried a satin muff covered with gardenias and freesia.

Both are graduates of Regional High School. Mrs. Briggs is also a graduate of the Washington School for Secretaries, Newark, and is with the Thatcher Furnace Co. Mr. Briggs is employed by his brother, Robert, of the Springfield Garage, Inc.

Turk Still Looms

for the vacant postmaster's job. However, the choice of Democratic leaders was Mrs. Julie A. Dougan, who had been secretary of the Union Democratic Club. She was named acting postmaster and although she rated under Schmitt in the listing by post office officials she ultimately was named Postmaster.

Although he has aroused opposition within the party it is generally conceded that Turk is given recognition by county Democratic leaders as the focal figure in the Springfield Democratic organization.

However, Republicans are closely watching the situation. With the Democrats in control of the Senate in Washington and with a Democrat in the White House they realize they have no chance to secure the post. However, they will keep a close watch on Turk, once he becomes postmaster, and in the event of any political participation on his part they undoubtedly will charge him with violation of the Hatch Act. However, it is not likely they would make much progress unless the violation was flagrant. At least not while the Democrats control the Post Office Department. Most observers believe that the best bet of the local G.O.P. would be to urge Senators H. Alexander Smith and Robert C. Hendrickson to oppose the permanent appointment until 1953 when there might be a Republican president in the White House. But that would mean delaying the designation for eighteen months and that would be a formidable assignment for the party out of power.

Summit Posts 52-48 Upset As Regional Loses State Crown, Murray Held to 16

By DONALD ROSSETT
John Murray, stellar Bulldog playmaker and All-State prospect, lost his chance to break the 1949 point mark when Regional was eliminated from the Group III Championship race by Summit.

The loss climaxed one of the most dismal finishes to a basketball campaign since Walt Hohn took over the coaching reins back in 1944.

Murray had 953 markers going into last Friday night's contest. Murray wound up the season with 279 points, all of which he gained over a three-year span at the local school.

The Bulldogs got off to a bad start and never regained their lead. Summit rolled up a 15-0 first period advantage, all was leading 24-14 at the half. Regional outscored Elwood Corbett's men in the final two quarters. At the half, Hohn's machine was in bad shape, as Murray and Cliff Smith each had collected four personal fouls apiece. Murray kept a two-year record of never having fouled out intact.

The Hilltoppers held a 37-33 third period lead, but Sunday Gonzalez tossed in eight straight points to boost the Bulldog cause. With but a minute and one-half left in the game and Regional down, 48-45, Murray drew a foul.

The Seton Hall University gym lights failed at this moment and this cooled off the Bulldogs who played good ball in the last few minutes of the final period. After a twenty-minute pause, the teams resumed action. Murray sank the charity toss, but moments later blew an easy pop shot. Summit scored twice, both on all-around layups which left the fatigued Bulldogs behind by 52-46. Smith tossed in a deuce before the buzzer sounded.

The loss was the third in three tries to bring a cage championship to Regional. Rehway took the Big Five Conference Crown in a thriller, 66-65 and Linden scored
