LISTEN FRIENDS!!

In the weekly newspaper field editors are constantly being forced to make decisions with regard to what shall and shall not be left out of the paper because of space limitations. The same situation is true on the big dailies, but there if you omit a story today you generally can't run it tomorrow with an up-to-date lead... when newspapers are a full week apart, however, the story generally is too old to appear in print... all this leads to a situation we ran into last Friday afternoon when a member of the Legion Auxiliary appeared at this office and complained because a photograph on the poppy drive did not make an appearance... we did run a complete story and proclamation on the poppy drive but space requirements forced us to eliminate the picture... we did not "kill" the photograph "for spite," as the complainer sought to inject into her conversation.

While on the subject of space limitations in a weekly newspaper, we call your attention to the fact that everyone who submits anything for publication always wants the story to appear on Page One... If Mrs. Murphy has a new baby and The Sun uses the squib inside we're in for a rough time until the infant has a first birthday party and Mrs. Murphy wants another story in the paper... we cannot blame the public but we ask you to bear with us and realize the rough position we find ourselves in week after week... we're the editors and we suggest that we be allowed to determine the importance of the news and where it shall appear.

Regional Board of Education members certainly must have found something to argue about last week... they went into executive session at 8:19 p.m. after starting their meeting at 8 o'clock... three hours and twenty minutes later they emerged from their conference room... the board meeting broke up about midnight... board members indicated that it wasn't the school expansion project, which took their time, but a discussion of salary raises... If such was the case the conservatives apparently triumphed for the raises voted administration personnel were pretty small, considered in the light of current living conditions... we wonder if the board members would be willing to do the same type of work for such small salaries?

Persons who complain about speeding on Henshaw avenue should stand in front of the Post Office for about an hour... line out of ten motorists traveling from the Summit to the Mountain Avenue along the highway give a well intentioned "thumbs up" to the Indianapolis Speedway looked on Memorial Day... because this straightaway is not broken by a traffic light every driver and his brother decide there's no cutting on speed—even if it is in an urban area... we suggest some of these 50-mile-an-hour boys caught in a 20-mile zone be fined $50... or aren't the lives of Springfield pedestrians worth that much?

It took three elections and a couple of changes in the complexion of the Board of Education before Springfield's voting public finally approved a new school... before the whole matter is forgotten we feel it important to mention at this time that the individual most deserving of a pat on the back for making sure the township's new school building would be located on the Pleasant site is Clifford D. Walker, ex-president of the Board of Education... it was Walker who insisted after the first and second defeats for the proposed new school that the board obtain an option on the Pleasant land... it's a sure bet that without the option the land would not have been available for so long a period.

For years this newspaper has been advocating bringing suitable light industry to Springfield in an effort to relieve individual home owners and others of the burden of a heavy tax rate... thanks to Walter Baldwin, a couple of other members (Continued on Page 7)

Town July 4th Program Plans Being Mapped

Joseph Focht Says Group Is Hard at Work

Plans for Springfield's 1951 Independence Day Celebration, an event which attracts thousands of residents and outsiders each year, already are under way, according to an announcement yesterday by Joseph L. Focht, general chairman. First meeting of the group was held last week at which fourteen members were in attendance. Fireworks and a baby parade again will feature a full day of activities. It is expected that the program for this year's event will be completed at the next meeting slated for June 4 at 8 p.m. at the Town Hall. Local civic and service groups have been invited to send representatives to the session. A minimum of time is being left this year, a spokesman for the group explains, as the present committee was organized at a general meeting held last September. Mrs. L. Andrews Jr., of 450 Meisel avenue, is serving as secretary. This year's committee, headed by Focht as chairman, also includes Harry E. Monroe, co-chairman; Timothy Sheehan, fund chairman; Mrs. Andrews, secretary; Max Sherman, legal advisor; Edward Kiesel, grounds; Bill Jensen, baby parade; Eugene Huggerty, sound; A. Johnson, fireworks; David Rost, athletic; and Edward Wronsky, printing. Louis Pignolet is publicity chairman.

Sign Ordinance Being Studied

Township officials still are studying phases of the ordinance which would regulate and establish annual licensing of signs in the township. The Township Committee has postponed a hearing on the measure until June 27. It is the second time a hearing on the ordinance has been delayed. A preliminary hearing was held May 9. The United Advertising Corporation, which maintains eighteen billboards in the township, has protested the ordinance. John S. Foster, Newark attorney, is its representative. Foster has questioned a clause in the ordinance which provides for licensing of billboards. His contention has been that the State derives annual revenue from advertising signs and that a municipality cannot do so legally. Township Attorney Robert E. Darby has indicated this portion of the ordinance is still under study. The governing board last week adopted an ordinance establishing the township with other Union County municipalities in formation of the Highway Valley Sewerage Authority. To date the various municipalities have been known as the Joint Sewer but because of the greater advantages, recently made plans to establish the organization as a sewerage authority. Mayor Robert W. Marshall is the Springfield representative of the organization.

High School Expansion Plan Underway

Despite indications that there may be trouble in the acquisition of property, members of the Regional Board of Education are making plans for their reported one million dollar school expansion program. The board at its monthly meeting last week appointed the New York firm of Hawkins, Delafield and Wood as bonding attorneys to handle all bonding in connection with the school addition. The firm of Fred J. Stefany and Company, Irvington, was retained to handle the accounting work. The firm is the board's auditor. A closed meeting for June 5 was set for discussion of building expansion plans. "Salary increases were announced following an executive session that lasted more than three hours. Supervising Principal Warren W. Halsey headed the list with a $300 increase. He will receive $7,800. Mrs. Helen Smith, district clerk, was given a $150 raise. Her annual salary will be $3,600. Increases also were voted the secretary to the supervising principal, the assistant to the district clerk and to office staff members. Three teachers were hired. They are Leonard Fane, of Plainfield, science teacher and assistant basketball coach, $3,100; Howard P. Skarbnik, Newark history teacher, $3,100 and Mrs. Irene Konrad, Springfield, business, $3,250. Fane succeeds Thomas Langum, Skarbnik replaces Mrs. Clara Mason. Mrs. Konrad is an additional teacher. Halsey reported that Regional has received a rating of "very good" from the Middle States Association which recently evaluated the school. The board approved a recommendation from the supervising principal that a voluntary club program be adopted. However, it was referred to the education committee with power to place it into effect if transportation problems can be ironed out. Contract for interior and exterior painting was awarded to the Cranford Decorators, Cranford. The firm's low bid was $5,300. The contract for fuel oil was awarded to the Esso Standard Oil Company, Elizabeth, which submitted the low bid of $2,295 per 42-gallon drum.

Palsy Campaign Headed By Layng

Wilbert W. Layng, of 25 Lyon Place, Springfield, has accepted the chairmanship of his community's current fund raising appeal in behalf of the Cerebral Palsy League of Union County. It was announced this week.

High School Expansion Plan Underway

He is a past commander of Continental Post 228, American Legion, and is county vice-commander of the legion. A World War I veteran, he is a member of the 40 and 8 Vulture 227 of Union County. Layng is a construction equipment engineer with the R. E. Brooks Company in Newark. The campaign chairman pointed out that the palsy league is seeking funds to maintain its clinic at Alexian Brother Hospital, Elizabeth, and the recreation center operated at Christopher Columbus School, 15 Elizabeth, for the training of children handicapped by cerebral palsy. Impressed by the large number of persons in Union County with cerebral palsy, Layng declared, "Aside from the untold physical suffering of those affected and the anguish of parents and other relatives, the tremendous economic waste involved is a factor which demands immediate action, especially since with proper treatment, care and education, a majority of the cerebral palsied can become self-sustaining productive citizens."

Miss Nora Vora, a teacher with the Summit school system, led the discussion which followed. Written annual reports of committee chairmen were distributed. With the money raised through the card party, the P. T. A. voted to add $100 to the instrument library fund, which the organization started last year. Spotlights for both schools and membership in the Union County Film Library were also contributed. Refreshments were served after the meeting. Brown in the November election the Democratic Municipal Committee in a reorganization session held recently elected Norman Scriba, of 28 Morrison road, Democratic municipal chairman. ## Work On Building Details Started By School Heads

Ground-breaking for the $650,000 school which was approved last week by township voters tentatively has been set for September, it was revealed today. A spokesman for the Board of Education said that work on preparation for the sixteen-room, one-story, upper grades elementary building is proceeding as rapidly as possible. The board in anticipation of a "favorable" action on the referendum, previously had designated a special building committee to handle problems which might arise in connection with the project. Currently Fred A. Elsas, school architect, is working on plans and specifications for the building. It has been indicated that this work cannot be completed for at least thirty days. It was pointed out that these details could not be started until the voters in the referendum authorized construction of the school. The board of education, cognizant that it has taken all measures available currently to advance its program, has not scheduled any special meeting. "Those matters which had to be handled already have been disposed of," a board representative said, "and indications are there will be no reason to hold any session before the next regularly scheduled meeting which is Tuesday, June 10." As soon as the architect has completed his plans and specifications, he will present them to the board for approval, it was said. This will be followed by authorization for the advertising of bids. Following their reception and study, the contracts for the various construction jobs will be awarded. The new school is scheduled to be ready for occupancy by September, 1952. However, it is generally conceded that the availability of materials as well as the labor situation and weather factors will have an important bearing on the date the building will be completed. Meanwhile Supervising Principal Benjamin Newswanger is seeking methods of operating the James Caldwell and Raymond Chisholm Schools to the best advantage in the face of congested conditions which never have been matched here in the history of the school system.

Ban On Salter St. Await Sign Posts

Parking on the east side of Salter street for 100 feet from Morris avenue and on the west side for seventy feet, now is banned under provision of an ordinance which has been adopted by the Township Committee. The measure was passed as a safety factor, it was pointed out. Plans provide for establishment of a traffic light at the intersection. Another ordinance introduced prohibits parking in several areas from 4:30 P.M. to 6:30 P.M., weekdays except Saturday and from 2-P.M. to 9 P.M. on Sundays. The following streets are affected: both sides of Main street between Morris avenue and Academy green; the east side of Flomer avenue between Morris and Wabeno avenues and the west side of Flomer avenue between Morris avenue and Henshaw street. Township Attorney Robert F. Darby is preparing an ordinance prohibiting parking the following distances from the Meisel avenue-Milltown road intersection where traffic signs are to be installed: in Meisel avenue, east of the intersection, 200 feet on both sides, and west of the intersection, 100 feet on the north side and 200 feet on the south side; in Milltown road, both north and south of the intersection, 200 feet on the east side and 100 feet on the west side. Purchase of two 1951 Pords for police radio patrol work has been authorized. The lot bid of the P. F. Day Company, Elizabeth, was $1,445. This includes turn-ins on two used ones.

Regional's Land Request Studied

Negotiations are proceeding between representatives of the Regional Board of Education and residents of Clinton avenue relative to purchase of the Tatter's property by the board in its program to acquire land for its expansion project. The board plans construction of an addition reportedly to cost $1,000,000. Indications today were that the board may increase its offer somewhat beyond the reported appraisal figure of $5 per running foot. Former Township Attorney Herbert A. Kuvlin has been representing the Board of Education. Prominent among the property owners in the area is Mrs. Walter Albrecht of Iselin, who owns a house and a garage-bungalow at 41 Clinton avenue. Indignant at what she said is a "ridiculous" figure offered by the school board, Mrs. Albrecht made plans to have her own appraisal made. Mrs. Norbert Kuffner, of 35 Clinton avenue, is another who has indicated dissatisfaction with the board plans. She pointed out that she and her husband purchased their home for security and resent the school virtually moving into their rear yard. She has planned to oppose any move of the board in her direction. Along the street a wave of resentment has been swelling among residents. Although the school board has condemnation powers there are indications it may not resort to them. However, whether it will make an offer suitable to the various owners did not seem likely. Kuvlin has indicated the price will depend on the circumstances involved in each case.

Barricade Plan Called Illegal

There will be no barricades on Henshaw avenue or any other to township thoroughfare which motorists travel, despite the demands of some Springfield residents. Police Commissioner Albert G. Binder announced this procedure as department policy at last week's meeting of the Township Committee. A petition complaining that motorists are speeding on Henshaw avenue and urging establishment of wooden barricades "so that motorists will be prevented from driving in a straight line" was presented to the governing board last week. It had thirty-five signatures. Commissioner Binder observed that the plan for barricades as proposed in the petition not only is illegal under State laws but also is impractical. Township Attorney Robert F. Darby supported his contention. "Residents of that street are getting just as much protection from the police department as is possible with the current manpower situation being what it is," the police commissioner asserted. He suggested that if parents in the area cannot restrain their children from playing in the street, they watch them while playing. Fire Commissioner Walter Baldwin, a resident of the street, suggested that the committee consider a 15-mile-an-hour speed limit. However, Commissioner Binder said a speed limit of this type would be contrary to State motor vehicle laws for a smooth traffic flow and would be too strict. The police commissioner said that spot checks are being made in Henshaw avenue. They will continue for an hour or two each day, he reported.

Security Advice For H. S. Grads

High school seniors who expect to go into employment should be certain that they have social security cards before they graduate. It was stated this week by Leonard P. Sawvel, Manager of the Elizabeth office of the Social Security Administration. "High school graduates will find it will be much easier to obtain jobs if they are able to show that social security cards to their prospective employers," Sawvel said. "Since the requirements to the Social Security Act passed last year added many more types of work to that covered by the Act, it is almost certain that any position subject to the taxes on employment." Many seniors will already have numbers which they obtained while they were doing part-time work while attending school. Sawvel continued. They should not get new cards, he said, but should use the same number they had earlier. If a high school graduate has lost his card, it is not necessary to get another number. Sawvel went on. Any person who has lost his card may obtain a duplicate without any difficulty by application at the Social Security office, he emphasized, and should do so rather than asking for a new card. Seniors, or other students, who need social security numbers may obtain them through the Social Security Administration. Sawvel pointed out. Application forms for the numbers can be secured at the local post office, in addition to the Social Security office. Many of the guidance officers in high schools also have application blanks, he said. For further information about Social Security, inquiry may be made at the Social Security office, 1143 East Jersey Street, Elizabeth, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Representatives are also available at the Plainfield Post Office, Tuesdays only, 10:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., and at the Somerville Post Office, Thursdays only, between the same hours.

To Be Dedicated at Sunday Program
Formal ceremonies for the dedication of the Summit Tennis Club's new house have been planned for Sunday at 3 p.m. Festivities will be started by a flag-raising in which the club members will participate. Parker King will follow with a history of the forty years of the club. Edward A. Pizel will describe planning, work and factors which resulted in a new club house. President Gustav R. Graf will give a short address. Mayor Percy M. Blund will cut the ribbon which will officially open the new building. Guests will be introduced. Exhibition doubles by the club's own players will complete the program. Last year's women's finalists, Virginia Parkie, Betty May, Madeline Relyon and Eliza Wheeler will vie. After this performance a men's doubles will be staged by four sons of former members, Fletcher Thornton, Jr., Tom Thornton, Ollie Van-Gis and Bill Gilson. A Civil War cannon will be lodged in a column of the club courthouse in Lexington, Md.

Family Life Today

SLOPPY JOE
"Joe's room always looks like the wreckage after a cyclone. I can't understand why he's so sloppy now at fourteen when he used to take care of his belongings." Mrs. Z's concern is familiar to most parents whose adolescent youngsters have developed the habit of throwing clothes on chairs and leaving them there until wanted again—perhaps days later. Parents have several problems here. The good housekeepers are frantic because of the untidiness of their homes. They complain of frequent battles or constant nagging to get the rooms cleaned up. As often happens, it is the parent who actually does the straightening up most of the time. Habits and training for adulthood enter this picture too. Parents feel responsible for training their child to be reasonably tidy and to care for his belongings. Expense is an item. Clothes cost a considerable amount of money these days and parents want their youngsters to keep their clothes in good condition and to make them last. It is the combination of all these problems which makes parents clean up after their teenager, then worry and wonder what to do to correct the situation. They see the problem as a vicious circle. When the parent does pick up "Sloppy Joe's" clothes, he is not learning good habits. When parents don't, his clothes are messy, his appearance causes parents considerable anguish, and their home is untidy. One mother solved this problem ingeniously. Wary of nagging and hiding up her youngster's bedroom, she just opened the window on a clear day and dropped everything she found draped over the furniture. Sticking all his possessions spread out under the window was such a shock to that teenager that from then on he hung up and put away his belongings. Most parents aren't courageous enough to take such drastic measures. Do they realize that battles and nagging do not really help the situation, but just cause resentment? The good habits built in childhood will return unless the youngster has built up a strong feeling of resentment. Teenagers will never be as tidy as their parents would wish them to be. A firm parental hand helps—on the parent as well as on the youngster. When mother can refrain from picking up after her child, does not press mused clothing and is not too insistent upon perfection, the young person will be much more likely to take on his responsibilities.

FORLENZA OPENS LAW OFFICE HERE

Felix P. Forlenza, son of Felix Forlenza, former assistant prosecutor and juvenile court judge in Essex County, has announced the opening of law offices in the Lynn building at 290 Morris avenue, Springfield. Forlenza, a resident of Bloomfield, is a graduate of Seton Hall University and Rutgers School of Law. The elder Forlenza now will spend business hours at the new local offices.

The Right Way To Handle Fabrics

The difference between a "professional" and a "home-made" look in a garment may lie in the way you handle your fabric, says Miss Inez LaBosier, extension clothing specialist for Rutgers University. Before laying on your pattern, check the fabric for flaws—Study the design to see whether it has an up-and-down and a left-and-right. If the fabric has an up-and-down, the pattern pieces must all be laid in the same direction. If it has a left-and-right, match the blouse and skirt pieces so that the design travels in the same direction. After the garment is cut, leave each pattern piece pinned to the fabric until you are ready to work on it. Make the markings and mark the center front and back with a colored thread. An easy way to assemble a skirt is to lay each gore out on the table, matching the notches. Remove the pattern and pin the gores together at top and bottom. Shake gently to ease the fabric, then place and pin the frequent intervals, being sure that the seams come out even at top and bottom. Using a long stitch, baste all seams except the side seams—these can be pinned for the first fitting. If the skirt has pleats, mark the lines carefully and baste the pleats into place all the way down to the bottom of the skirt. Leave these basteings in through all fittings to guard against over-fitting.

Fire Once Before Razed Building On Lyric Site

The Lyric theater fire was the second serious blaze to take place on the same site. Back in 1893 the land at Beechwood road between Springfield avenue and Bank street was occupied by Calvary Episcopal Church and on a Sunday morning following New Year's Day fire cut off the entire structure within thirty minutes when dried Christmas greens used to decorate the church for the season burst into flames on the sexton lighted a star-shaped gas ornament over the chancel arch. The fire completely destroyed the building and that summer the present church property on Woodland avenue was purchased. The parish house was built by Easter of the following year and on Easter Sunday, 1898, the first services in the new church were held. The present church structure contains a considerable amount of the stone work salvaged from the building destroyed by the fire. Services were held at the YMCA while the new church was under construction.

After the church was destroyed and razed the property for many years was a vacant lot and used chiefly for ball games and also for fire tests by the Summit volunteer department. 1898 Fire Was Worst
The city's most destructive and largest fire occurred about 1898 when an entire block of buildings on Union place from Summit avenue to Beechwood road were destroyed. All the structures facing Union place as well as barns in the rear were lost. The fire was finally stopped at the corner and the building now housing Balducci's liquor store was the only one saved. Another large fire took place about 1880 when practically an entire block of buildings located along Maple street and Springfield avenue was wiped out. The corner now occupied by Roof's Men's Store was destroyed. Flames jumped two or three buildings and consumed others located farther down Springfield avenue.

One out of very 13 persons applying for a government job has a police record, according to the FBI.

Another March hazard is visibility. Days are increasingly long, but visibility can be impaired during a rain or sleet storm. Sometimes the windshield and headlight lenses become coated with a dirty layer after splashing in a daytime thaw. When the sun sets, temperatures drop and sometimes freezing weather sets in. When the coating of dirty water freezes on the windshield and headlight lenses, the result is a serious reduction in visibility. After all, you're only safe as far as you can see.

A motorist who travels with dirty windshield and headlight lenses is really asking for trouble. You can't really imagine what might occur if this driver is blinded by the headlights of another car or if he suddenly applies his brakes just as his vehicle is passing over a patch of ice.

Accident Prevention — At Home

The National Safety Council reports that 90,000 persons were killed and 8,900,000 injured as the result of all types of accidents in 1950. This is a staggering total when one considers that many of these accidents were preventable and unnecessary, especially those occurring in the home. Approximately a third of all fatal accidents occur in the home. Accidents in and out of the home kill more children between the ages of one and fourteen than all diseases combined, including polio, scarlet fever, diphtheria, meningitis, measles, pneumonia and whooping cough.

Medicine plays an important part in accident prevention but cannot do it all. Many accidents, particularly those in the home, are the result of pure carelessness and thoughtlessness. Old people are particularly subject to accidents, because with age come degenerative diseases. Body degeneration produces faulty coordination, bone and muscular debilities, disturbances in the reflexes, emotional changes, faulty vision and hearing, thus increasing the likelihood of accidents. Medicine can help by treating many of these disorders.

But home hazards, in many cases easy to eliminate, are the cause of many catastrophes. Recently the Greater New York Safety Council reported that the old-fashioned can opener which leaves sharp, jagged edges is the number one hazard in the average New York home. Other major home hazards were listed by the Council in this order: objects piled carelessly on closet shelves; flower boxes and other objects on window ledges; skidding small rugs; scissors, knives and other sharp instruments stored carelessly within reach of small children; smoking in bed; damaged wiring and other electrical equipment; unsafe substitute for ladders; unprotected open windows, and cleaning fluids that are dangerously flammable. Other typical causes of home accidents include stumbling over objects on steps, slipping in bath tubs and bumping into and falling over furniture in dark passageways.

There is no question that many of these hazards are removable and preventable. Look over the above list again. How many hazards can you discover in your home that can be removed?

Garden Topics

The cutworm is a night prowler. He doesn't even need moonlight to find your best flower or vegetable seedlings. Cutworms eat young seedling plants off not far above the ground level. They like it best during the cool weeks of Spring. If the soil stays wet, as in wet weather, they linger much longer in our gardens before they leave their larvae stage to go into the pupal or resting part of their life cycle. Cutworms are capable of laying low a large number of plants. They generally are more numerous in crops following a sod crop. They like newly planted tomato, cabbage, broccoli, cauliflower, eggplants and melon plants very much but they also attack a variety of flower seedlings. The plant tops can usually be found lying on the ground the next morning, whereas rabbits would

WIDENED MEMORIAL DAY HORIZONS

Your Library

"Local history is the ultimate substance of national history. The history of a nation is only the history of its villages written large."

It is both pleasing and surprising to see how interested children are in local history. Whatever they may think of the contents of their history books in school, when they find references to Springfield and other familiar near-by towns in library reference books, they never fail to react in no uncertain fashion. The lying-in of recorded fact with what had seemed and endless list of names and dates, always brings renewed interest and a host of questions.

The current library exhibit displays articles in use during the Revolution and includes a rifle, pistol, powder horn, shot and cannon ball used in the Battle of Springfield. We wonder if Springfield residents, in general, realize the value of the historical collection their library houses? Though it is a small one, as yet, it is fortunate to include the articles mentioned above and three outstanding ones that any Washington Collection would be proud to own. We refer, of course, to the silver-plated cup used by Washington and now the property of the library through the generosity of Mr. Claud Beter and the two pin-cushions given by Martha Washington to an ancestor of the donor, Miss Abund Berners of Summit. These may be seen at any time but there are many other valuable gifts of this kind that have been offered by friends of the library. But there is no room to display. Church records and histories and genealogical records of all kinds are being added to the historical room from time to time and it is to be hoped that someday someone with the time, the ability and the inclination, will write a history of Springfield.

Fall Pupil Enrollment Will Hit All Time High

September will pose a major problem to many New Jersey schools including Springfield. They expect more pupils, of course. This year's enrollment increase, however, is expected to set the record for the whole period of rising enrollments. Data supporting this prediction was released this week by Lawrence B. Johnson, secretary of the Educational Planning Commission of New Jersey.

"Enrollments will continue to rise for many years yet," Johnson said, "but in no single year will the actual increase be as great as we expect next September. Schools can look forward to approximately 45,000 more pupils first year than they enrolled this year."

Actual enrollments, according to the report, are running considerably ahead of predictions made a few years ago by the State Department of Education. The Department now appears to have been conservative in its estimates of future enrollment. For 1948-49 actual enrollments ran 17,825 over the predictions; for 1949-50, 23,826. The actual enrollment of 672,408 for 1948-50 was nearly as great as the predicted enrollment for the following year.

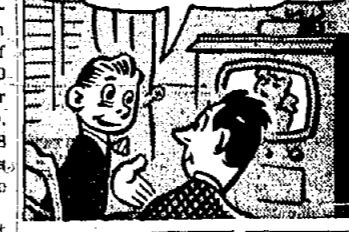

"Every enrollment study that has been made, however, and the birth statistics themselves," says Johnson, "indicates that the biggest jump in enrollments will come next year. The State Department's figures forecast an increase of 46,000 pupils in our schools next year and the State Chamber of Commerce predicted a 40,000 pupil rise."

"The big jump this year is the direct result of the tremendous increase in births between 1945 and 1946. The year after the war ended births in New Jersey totaled 68,644, a substantial rise over the 70,595 children born in 1945. There is a fairly constant relationship between the number of births and the number of pupils entering kindergarten five years later. This fact may cause a considerable revision in predicted school enrollments for the latter part of this decade. Through 1949 and 1950 the birth rate remained high, despite predictions that it would fall; for example, school enrollments for 1955 and later years were based on the anticipation of 85,000 babies being born in 1950—actually 97,820, nearly 12,000 more, children were born in 1950.

"This increase in enrollment will substantially reduce the amount of state aid for each pupil that school districts receive from the State as long as the State keeps a ceiling on the total amount of state aid. The Educational Planning Commission is strongly urging that the total amount of state school aid be substantially increased, even though this means a revision of the State's tax system."

Know Your Government

By N. J. Taxpayers Association

Good Municipal Housekeeping
Municipalities seeking a share of New Jersey's booming industrial development will do well to check their governmental housekeeping practices and see that a clear financial picture hangs neatly for all to see before they place the welcome mat on the front porch.

Probably at no previous time in history has New Jersey experienced the burst of industrial development now under way and in prospect. Many municipalities are looking toward the possibilities of jobs and other advantages which new industry can bring to a community.

Location of a new industry is a highly specialized undertaking. It involves much more than merely finding an area large enough to accommodate the necessary buildings. Industry also wants the factors on transportation facilities, labor supply, housing and many other subjects.

Uppermost are questions concerning the government of the prospective "home town"—Is it well managed? Is it financially healthy? Is its tax-pollay sound? Is it in debt? If so, is its debt well planned? What is its municipal budget problem?

A new location is quite likely to insist that the financial housekeeping of the municipality be in order before moving in.

This desirable condition, points out the New Jersey Taxpayers Association, is most likely to be met when the taxpayers themselves take an active, intelligent interest in their municipality's affairs.

The Adirondacks are estimated to be older peaks than the Alps, the Rockies, the Himalayas or the Andes.

American railroads spent nearly $510 million for iron and steel products in 1950, an increase of approximately 55% million over similar expenditures in 1949.

Next Job Dietlmeier—Merlin veteran of the Pacific Theatre. Since leaving the service 3 1/2 years ago, he's been working, along with 22,000 other New Jersey telephone people, to provide more telephone service and make everyone's service better!
John Dietlmeier is placing a new telephone cable. At the same time, with the help of a device designed by Bell Telephone Laboratories, he's stretching your telephone dollar.
In the old days, when new telephone cable was placed, it was supported by rings placed by hand. Now, using the ingenious Cable Inserter, a lineman binds the cable and supporting strand together. Result: more dependable service.
How do such developments affect you? They mean trouble free service and long-range economy. And every penny, both in construction and maintenance expense, counts these days with material costs up so much—for example, lead 228% and copper 112%. Even more important, these developments mean better service, more valuable service to you.

More Power for North Jersey

The new 84,000 horsepower extension to our South Amboy Power Station, together with other new installations, made since World War II, means adequate electric service for the greatly expanded population of this area. In fact, with this new addition, power production will have doubled since V-I Day.

This new construction is but a part of J.C.P. & L.'s continuing program of service expansion. From 1940 through 1953, the Company is spending $50,000,000, to increase production and distribution facilities.

We are going ahead with the difficult job of catching up from the last war as fast as the limited supply of skilled labor and the shortage of materials brought about by the national emergency permit.

Working against time — our crews are on the job six days a week instead of the usual five. Everything that can be done is being done to give you the best possible service at the lowest possible cost.

Kindergarten
James Caldwell and Raymond Chisholm
Mrs. Chandler
Mrs. Towner
Mrs. Wronsky

The Kindergarten enjoyed the trip to Traillside Museum in spite of the uncertain weather. We saw a grey fox, raccoon, an opossum and some turtles. We heard true stories about a red and a grey squirrel and a muskrat and an Indian story about a chipmunk. We sang a song about a rainy day. We ate our lunch and went home.

Grade 1

Mrs. Suller

Two of our reading groups have finished the basic first reader called "Our New Friends." Some of our favorite stories were in the very last unit called "Story Book Friends." It was fun to imagine the animals talked just like we do. We are re-reading the stories for better expression, fluency, and phrasing of thought units. We will take our workbooks home very soon now.

Grade 1

Miss Anderson

Our first two reading groups have finished "Our New Friends." Next we will finish "Peter's Family" and "Good Times." We have been working very hard with our reading. It is fun to be able to read well.

We have been working very hard with our numbers too. We can count by 1, 5, and 10 to 100. Also by 2 to 10.

Grade 1

Mrs. Corby

Cynthia Woodring went to the circus. We were very interested to hear Nancy's story about the fat lady.

We had a visitor on Friday. We sang our visitor's song to her. Everyone was so happy that we had a visitor.

Grade 2

Miss Smith

Marianne Karole has only been with us one half day this week.

We are sorry she is ill and hope to see her next week.

We had many nice writing papers, posted on our bulletin board. Our writing has greatly improved.

On Friday, Marianne was absent. We had our weekly spelling test. Everyone of us had an A paper. We think that is very good work.

Grade 2

Mrs. Hill

Today we are taking a trip to Traillside Museum for our nature day. We expect to learn a lot about birds today.

During the week we have had some stories and poems about animals. We have also drawn pictures of animals. Some of us are making an animal mural.

Grade 2

Mrs. Setevange

The second grade have finished their Science Stories. Text and are now in a Social Studies book called Susan's Neighborhood.

So far we have been working on the unit—Workers who protect us—and have enjoyed it considerably.

Grade 3

Mrs. Cross

We have finished our social studies book "New Centerville." Everyone liked the surprise at the end.

Group I has finished their read book and work - books, "More Streets and Roads." They are now finishing "Tale Tales" and "Adventure Trails."

Judy Wilson brought in a very good book "Mr. Dawson Had A Farm." We look forward to recess time each day when we can hear of another adventure of Mr. Dawson.

Grade 3

Mrs. Dunn

Mrs. Dunn's class had a Spelling Bee on Wednesday. Douglas Cubbins was the winner.

Grade 4

Mrs. Ames

We are enjoying the school newspaper. There is a boy's and a girl's poem in the school news. We are learning how to do fractions and reviewing our Spelling book. Mrs. Ames is absent. Our substitute is Mrs. Christensen.

THURSDAY

FRIDAY

Tomato juice, cheese rabbit en crax, buttered peas, cake, peanut butter sandwich and milk.

Grade 4

Mrs. Ryder

One of the biggest art jobs to tackle in a busy classroom of thirty active children, is the making of a mural. We humbly take a bow on the completion of, not one, but two murals. The boys have finished a History of Ships, and the girls Our State Birds. They brighten our classrooms so.

Grade 4

Miss Van Arsdale

We had two visitors recently. Jack rabbit and Douglas turtle. At present our rock collection is the main interest in Science. Fish and seaweed painted with finger-paints looked very natural. Mrs. Lundahl's delicious huge home made cake was appreciated by all.

Grade 5

Mrs. Wahl-Miss Pursell

The Fifth Graders are planning an exhibit of the construction work that we have done during the school year. The boys have constructed and painted many old fashioned trains, wagons, cars, boats, and airplanes. The girls have sewed, embroidered and done some work in textile painting. All these things will be on display in our class room June 5th through 8th. Our friends will be invited to see them.

Grade 6

Mrs. Dingogio-Mr. Navarro

Our reading class completed a story about animals and birds of South America. We found this such an interesting study that in Art Class Mr. Fost helped us draw a pet shop. Our posters are really colorful and very real looking.

We are all looking forward to the return of Carol Lorenz from Germany. She writes us that she is having a wonderful time. She will have so many nice experiences to share with us.

Grade 7 & 8

Mrs. Sluender-Mrs. Jakobsen

Mrs. Sluender-Mrs. Schneider in Boys' literary class we had an interesting discussion of some of our ideas of authors. We found out that we have some ideas about authors and that kind of people they are and what need of people they are that need correcting. In addition, Mr. Nies told us of his book collection. He collects old books, first editions and favorite works.

Special Class

Mrs. Lushear

Robert Omski made the most progress in arithmetic this last week. Tony Colaruglio and Alfred Niedermaier are almost ready for "Good Teeth" certificates. Then our class will have 100%.

The pupils of Miss King's class had all the facts in addition and subtraction through 10. Now we are working with rapid drills so we know facts quickly.

All but eleven of the children have dental cards for good teeth. We hope by June 21 each child will have received a card.

All but eight pupils in Mrs. Waters' class have their dental cards. Mrs. Waters' class welcomed two new pupils: Maxlyn Panko from Elizabeth, and Ruth Marinelli from Florida.

Grade 8

Mrs. Ruth Arcey

Miss Claire Hoopman Miss Marjorie Parkhurst Miss Hoopman's class was pleased to have another member.

The members of the Fifth Grade have been studying the principles on which the country was founded. They have learned part of the Declaration of Independence. Through discussion the meanings and understandings of democratic principles have been developed and contrasted with those of other countries.

During the discussions a pupil asked, "What is meant by 'Behind the Iron Curtain'?" In response, the differences in the rights and privileges of the people in a democratic country were compared with those in a totalitarian state.

Grade 6, 7 and 8
Mrs. Helene Kosloski
Miss Patricia Guerin
Mrs. T. L. Sundeiler

The sixth grade English class has begun a unit on oral English. They have decided to conduct their class in the form of panel discussions, debates and forums. The topics they have chosen for discussion reflect good thinking ability. Among these topics were: "How important are parent-teacher conferences?" "How does attitude affect school work?" Last week, the topic discussed was the importance of maps. The discussions have been so well presented that the class is considering presenting a debate in assembly.

The final science unit in the Sixth Grade has been devoted to individual interests. Doug Bell, Claus Corvius, Dick Anderson, Bud Quinzel and David Prichard are constructing radio and crystal sets. Richard Battelle, David Zeller and Billy Charles have begun a project on birds. John Moscaritolo and Audrey Franklin are making a project using clay and cardboard to display the relation of the planets to the sun.

The Seventh Grade is busily engaged in preparing a Farewell Dance for the Eighth Grade. The theme of the dance will be novel, but right now it is a secret.

The Eighth Grade has formed itself into two committees. One committee will devote itself to the study of engines and the other half to the study of live matter and the use of microscopes.

Last week Bob Andrew brought in a white rabbit for science in order to study a typical mammal. The class voted to make the rabbit an honorary member of the class.

Fleet Officers

That God gives us the ability to see through the false pretensions of evil—and thus protect ourselves from its seeming effects, will be brought out in all Christian Science churches next Sunday.

Subject of the Lesson-Sermon, composed of passages from the Bible (King James Version), "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alms Memoriam and Hypnotism. The Golden Text is from Paul's epistle to the Romans: I would have you wise unto that which is good, and simple concerning evil. And the God of peace shall bruise Satan under your feet shortly." (Romans, 16:19, 20).

The theme of spiritual awareness will be emphasized in other selections from the Bible, including this one: "Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day; therefore let us not sleep, as do others; but let us watch and be sober." (I Thessalonians 5: 6, 8).

Correlative passages from Science and Health include: "Mankind must learn that evil is not power. The so-called demonism is but a phase of nothingness." (p. 103).

of the Township Committee and to the Chamber of Commerce, which has been the moving spirit, it finally looks as though we're on our way... recently the governing body rezoned a huge area along Route 29 for industrial purposes and just this week we've come into possession of the knowledge that two distinct concerns are considering locating research plants here... One is General Electric with the possibility of a building running in cost to nearly $1,000,000 and the other is a huge Linden outfit, also reported to be planning a research branch here... We'll break the news when everything is definite, but things are really beginning to look good!

New Jersey's Most Luxurious Bowling Establishment Now Under Construction In Mountainside At Cost of $750,000

MOUNTAINSIDE New Jersey's most luxurious bowling establishment, the Echo Lanes, is being erected on Route 20, Mountainside, and is expected to be opened to the public by mid-August.

The magnificent structure, with 40 ziltening new alleys stretching from one end to the other, is going up at a cost of more than $750,000 and will take its place among the most beautiful bowling houses in the country. It will be the only pin emporium in the East with 40 alleys in a row.

Only fifteen minutes from Newark and Plainfield and easily accessible, the ultra-modern establishment will be the most completely equipped bowling structure in New Jersey with 1951 Centennial lanes, semi-automatic spotting machines, automatic ball returns, score projecting units for audience observation, latest hidden lighting system, complete sound control and air conditioning and cooling systems.

It will also feature an elaborate cocktail-lounge and milk bar and bowlers' "quietie" and milk bars, in addition to men's and women's elegant locker-rooms, a woman's powder room and a private lounge meeting room.

Owners of the Echo Lanes are brothers Harry and Herman Sturcke, well-known Westfield businessmen, and Arnold Eckhart, Westfield manufacturer. Herman Sturcke is a Plainfield resident. They are sparing no expense in making their project the best work in bowling establishments.

Nestled in a picturesque setting 200 feet off the highway, the building will have a frontage of 300 feet and a depth of 165 feet. It will be beautifully landscaped and will have ample parking accommodations for more than 300 cars.

In the center of the building will be a charming grand foyer and concourse. The spacious structure is being built without pillars and will permit spectators to view action from one end to the other without obstruction. There will be more than 200 upholstered spectator-seats behind the alleys, while the bowlers will wait their turns in comfortable circular sections.

The building is being lavishly equipped with all the latest bowling equipment of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company. Included will be masking units which hide back-end operations. Telescopes for projecting the bowlers' scores, ABC-fouls to detect foot faults, ABC-approved range finders to aid in higher scoring top-grade pins for maximum action, cold cathode hidden tube lights for maximum lighting with minimum glare and strain, and many other features designed to enhance bowling.

As an added attraction, bowling lessons will be given to newcomers and to those who desire to improve their scores. There will be special classes for women, boys and girls in the afternoons, with experienced bowling teachers in charge.

Many of the area's top leagues already have requested space in the Echo Lanes, but the management announced checks since still is available for industrial, commercial and social leagues and groups. Applications are being received by Herman Sturcke at 111 Quimby street, Westfield, or by telephoning Westfield 2-1000.
