FRIENDS!!

Just a short-couple of weeks remain before voters trek to the polls in Springfield again to decide who shall become the next township clerk . . . the campaign was rather quiet this week with activities limited to house meetings by both sides and lots of street corner gossiping by those who haven't made up their minds . . . this observer continues to believe the race between Mrs. Eleonore Worthington and Mayor Wilbur M. Selander, both Republicans, with the latter running as an independent, will be close . . . and the closer it becomes the greater the chance for Democratic Candidate Gordon Bryson . . . one of these clerks a Democrat is going to ease into office very gracefully and the GOP will have nothing to blame it on but its own stupidity.

Very important, but just incidental to the town clerk battle, will be the election of a township committee man also on November 6 . . . Fred Brown's "opponent" is H. Stanley Glenn . . . there's little to question on this score.

Springfield voters demonstrated far beyond a reasonable doubt at Tuesday's special Board of Education election that a new school must be erected there shortly regardless of price . . . now we say let's get started . . . on construction at once before something else crops up to mess the whole situation again.

Walt Baldwin reminds us that his new farmhouse referendum will also be voted on at the November 6 election . . . in order to put the matter across he realizes the need for a rugged campaign in the next dozen days and offers to appear before civic groups . . . we're told that Baldwin's opponents are organizing and plan to do all in their power to smash his proposal into oblivion at this time! . . . great town, eh?

One of the most important events here this year took place Tuesday night when the Chamber of Commerce played host to its membership and municipal officials at a dinner at Hans Dehn's Orchard Inn . . . was purely a social affair with the main purpose being to stimulate interest in an organization which is striving to better business conditions in the community . . . the dinner was well attended and was featured by talks by Herman Distler and Bill Jensen . . . Joe Focht served as toastmaster.

A national newspaper magazine recently paid tribute to a New Jersey lawyer . . . It quoted the editor as attributing success of the paper to the rules . . . local issues hard and to "hit on all sides" . . . if there is a controversy in town, the paper jumps into it with both feet, presents both sides, makes editorial comment, runs features and angles . . . few make every effort to keep it before the public," said the editor . . . so there!

We have always advocated a policy of buying locally for the purpose of keeping Springfield dollars at home, taxwise and otherwise . . . in these present weird retarding times it becomes increasingly important to shop at home . . . to know from whom you are buying . . . the present rash of so-called outlets, warehouse sales, and other high-pressure retailing "gags" have revived with emphasis the old Latin adage "Caveat Emptor" or "let the buyer beware" . . . not only have many unsuspecting purchasers been misled by the sale of used or damaged merchandise, or electrical appliances with vital parts missing, but any attempt at redress is met with a shrug and a statement that all goods are sold without a guarantee of any sort . . . such business methods are presently under scrutiny by the Federal Commission and the Better Business Bureau . . . so today, more than ever, it behooves the purchaser to know the man from whom he is buying . . . buy from local merchants who have been here for years . . . and who will be here tomorrow if you have a complaint to make.

Republican Split Widens In Township Clerk Battle

With Election Day only twelve days away, five candidates for local posts increased the momentum of their campaigns as they neared the homestretch. Three of them are aspirants for the post of township clerk and the others are competing for a township committee seat.

Interest, however, throughout the township centered primarily on the competition which finds Mrs. Eleonore Worthington, Republican; Gordon Bryson, Democrat, and former Mayor Wilbur M. Selander, independent, competing for the clerk opening. So intense has been the interest in this contest that the struggle for the township committee seat between Fred A. Brown, G.O.P. incumbent, and H. Stanley Glenn, Democrat, has attracted little attention. Under ordinary circumstances the fight for the governing board seat would be the focal election attraction.

The fight of the former Mayor to become township clerk has created increasing comment. The strategy of the faction opposing his bid has been to point out that Mrs. Worthington is the official choice of the Springfield members of the Republican County Committee. However, there is considerable conjecture as to whether the group supporting her candidacy have convinced the electorate that it should endorse the choice. Election Day will supply the answer.

The group backing the former Mayor insists that the people have a right to their own choice regardless of any action by the Republican County Committee. They cite the former chief executive's extensive knowledge of municipal matters and point out his many years of service as a member of the governing board. Selander's name has been linked prominently with that of Brown as political advertisements have been published by groups backing both men.

Committee members pointed out that the proposal, if approved, would correct a situation which, they said, finds the county park commission unable to administer completely its program because of a shortage of funds.

The claim was made that increased labor and construction costs and an increasing population which requires additional facilities have made it impossible for the commission to operate satisfactorily with appropriations set up under a law passed in 1922.

An amended law, approved by the legislature and signed by the governor, will be presented as a referendum next month. It will permit the Board of Freeholders to increase the maximum from three-fourths of a cent to one cent of a cent per dollar of assessed valuation for park purposes. It was pointed out that this will permit more adequate upkeep of the county parks.

Local Man Fined As Drunk Driver

Harold F. Coombs, 48 years old, of 714 Tooker avenue, was found guilty of drunken driving by Magistrate Henry C. McMullen in Municipal Court Monday night. He was fined $200, assessed $233 costs and his license was revoked for two years.

The local resident testified that he had consumed six highballs after having a tooth extracted. He said he did so to relieve the pain. The whiskey, mixed with the novocain which the dentist injected, produced the intoxicating effect, Coombs said. He was his own attorney.

Coombs was arrested by the police after his car mounted the curb at Morris and South Springfield avenues October 15. He was pronounced drunk by Dr. Henry P. Donzler.

Fines imposed for speeding included: Louis Starock, 170 Short Hills avenue, $5; Benjamin Mesling, 194 Springfield avenue, Summit, $10; and Fred C. Reddick, 834 Railway avenue, Westfield, $8. Court fines totaled $228.

Township Voters Approve Additional $150,000 For 16-Room School Building

Cardinal Renamed To Assessment Bd.

Francis Cardinal of Milltown road, formerly Democratic member of the local Board of Assessors, was reappointed for a four-year term by unanimous vote of the Township Committee last night.

The board introduced an ordinance banning parking on Wabeno avenue, which cuts through General Greene Village, at all times. Public hearing on the measure will take place November 14.

Rotary Sponsoring Halloween Project

The third annual Halloween window contest among local school children will be held today and tomorrow through the township business area, in conjunction with the arts department of the local grade schools, Regional High School and merchants.

More than 80 youngsters will participate. It was announced by Thomas Lyons, chairman of the Rotary club, committee in charge of the project. Prizes will be awarded in two classes for high school students and two classes for grade school pupils as follows: Most artistic, first, second and third prizes, and fust, second, first, second and third prizes. Contestants in a group will receive duplicate prizes. Judging will take place on Sunday.

Other committee members of the Rotary group include: Felix Forlano, Milton Billet, Adam LaSota, Carl Holmers and Milton Keshon.

PTA to Sponsor Children's Shows

The children and the mothers of Springfield will be delighted to learn that the P.T.A. will sponsor again this year the Salome Gynae Theater for Children. All three plays will be presented at the Regional High School Auditorium at 8 p.m. on Saturday afternoons—Jack and the Beanstalk on November 17, Little Women on February 2, and Heidi on March 23. Tickets will be on sale at the regular P.T.A. meeting at the James Caldwell School on October 29. Mrs. Bruce C. Linck is chairman of the committee. Working with her are Mrs. Wilbur S. Eno, Mrs. Roderick Bouchard, Mrs. William J. Melick and Mrs. Wilbert Schoenleber.

Madison Driver Nabbed As Tipsy

Clifford Missal, 32 years old, of 2 Elmer street, Millburn, was arrested Saturday on a charge of drunken driving after his car had struck another vehicle stopped for a traffic light at Morris and South Springfield avenues, Saturday.

Missal was apprehended by Sgt. Wilbur Selander. He was examined by Dr. Henry P. Donzler, who pronounced him under the influence of intoxicants. He was released in $250 cash bail for trial in Municipal Court on Monday evening.

Township Forces Rate High In Civilian Defense Test

Civilian Defense officials here today said they were generally satisfied with the results of the surprise practice demonstration conducted here Sunday afternoon. Springfield was the center of action as rescue units from other sections of the county poured in to aid this "stricken" municipality. Eleven mock "infectious" took place by Civil Air Patrol planes flying overhead and ambulances, demolition squads and other groups functioning to aid "injured victims."

An emergency hospital was set up at James Caldwell School. More than 200 Civilian Defense workers enrolled in police, fire, communications and transportation units participated in the drill. Township residents were notified of the practice demonstration by a sound car at 11 a.m. For nearly an hour and a half in the afternoon the various units functioned under conditions which are expected to exist in event of a bombing attack.

Date For Ground-Breaking To Be Set By Authorities

Township residents Tuesday put their stamp of approval in decisive manner on the request of the Board of Education for additional funds when they voted approval of an additional bond issue of $150,000.

The final vote found 707 residents favoring the proposal with 253 against. In the first district the vote was 455 to 172 and in the second 252 to eighty-one. However, it is significant that out of approximately 3,800 voters in the municipality, only 960 voters went to the polls.

The additional bond issue, together with the original appropriation of $650,000 brings the total bond issue for construction of the sixteen-room, upper-grade elementary school in Springfield avenue to $800,000.

Following Tuesday's election, the school board held a special meeting at which it went through the routine procedure of approving for the bond issue which had been authorized and set Tuesday night as the tentative date for a meeting at which contracts will be awarded to bidders on the various construction contracts.

The board procedure now must be approved by the attorney general. However, once bids are awarded, it is expected there will be no delay in launching construction of the new school which will be located on South Springfield avenue. Civic groups and other organizations had urged support of the referendum in order that crowded conditions and double sessions at the Raymond Childs and James Caldwell schools can be eliminated.

School Commissioner Thomas Doherty, chairman of the board's publicity committee, gave credit to members of the Springfield Parent-Teacher Association and the Woman's Club for the part they played in the referendum. He said both groups had telephoned voters urging them to vote "yes" on the proposal.

Last May voters approved the $650,000 bond issue after rejecting two other proposals. Of the amount voted $31,000 is to be spent for the site.

Local Donors Hit Minimum Quota

Mrs. Charles Phillips, Jr., who is heading a group of solicitors for blood donors, reports that Springfield has now reached its minimum quota for the forthcoming visit of the mobile blood bank.

However, any individual who wishes to donate blood for the armed forces should contact the local Red Cross chapter at MI. 6-4330 or call Mrs. Phillips at MI. 6-4330 or MI. 6-0856. Blood donors are still urgently needed.

Springfield will participate in the program which will be known as the Northern New Jersey Regional Defense Blood Center. The unit will be based in Plainfield. The mobile unit will tour Northern and Central Jersey five days a week, arranging for blood donations. South Jersey is served by the Philadelphia Regional Center.

So far, the armed forces blood collection drive is far below its goal of 75,000 pints a week to meet the objective of 2,800,000 pints by July. Despite the crucial need, authorities cannot buy or manufacture blood, they can only ask people to give. General Marshall, just before his recent retirement as secretary of defense stated that the armed forces supply of blood plasma "has been gravely depleted by the demands of the Korean campaign." He added that its immediate replenishment was vital and that every possible effort must be made to secure whole blood in quantity from all available sources."

INSTRUCTORS URGE PASSING OF BOND

The Springfield Teachers' Association has adopted unanimously a resolution urging passage of the Teachers' College Bond Issue. The group urged all voters to approve the measure at the polls on November 6.

The association pointed out that the current legislature had approved the bond issue and that the governor had signed it. It cited the need for repair and additional construction of teachers' colleges in the state. The debt would be paid over a fifteen-year period, from the revenue of the present inheritance tax.

GUEST SPEAKER
Guest speaker at a meeting of the Education Department of the Woman's Club of Millburn Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. R. E. Schneider, 8 Tullip lane, Short Hills, will be Miss Joan Goodwin Bull of Hendon Technical College, England, who is spending this year as an exchange teacher at Millburn High School.

SERVICE GUILD MEETING
The Wesleyan Service Guild of Springfield Methodist Church held a regular meeting Tuesday night at which time its members prepared candy, lei and Christmas packages to be sold at the group's fair slated for November 18 at the church.

LETTERS from Our Readers

Brown Backs, Schlander, Editor, SUN: I appreciate the support all my friends in Springfield have always given me. I am in complete agreement with all those who are campaigning for Wilbur M. Schlander for Township Clerk. Though, running on the Regular Republican Ticket myself I am sure most people want to consider the merits of each individual candidate. Having so considered the qualifications of Wilbur M. Schlander and recognizing him as a staunch Republican I am for him 1951. Fred A. Brown

Lands Demonstration
The Civil Defense demonstration which was so successfully carried out last Sunday afternoon proved once more that the people of Springfield can be depended upon to sacrifice their time and energies for the good of all. The County Director of Civil Defense, observers from the State Police and officials from other towns all expressed their praise of the smoothness and efficiency of the various organizations involved.

The Township can be very proud of the showing made by its citizens. As Director of the Civil Defense Council and Chairman of the Township Committee I wish to thank everyone who has contributed in any way to this outstanding demonstration of public interest in civic duty.

GIRL SCOUT CORNER

By M. E. PENARD

Hello folks:
Have you placed your Girl Scout Cookie order? We are sure that most of you have. We didn't mean to miss any one of you but, if we have, please call MI. 6-150-W. One of us will then call on you immediately.

We will be making deliveries in the next few days. Do you know that we hope you will like them so well you will call your Scout or Brownie for reorders. We will be so glad if you do for we have a contest among the troops and we are anxious to sell as many as we can. Then, too, it helps our Scouting cause here in Springfield.

Last week we were a little mixed up on our news about Troop 6 and Troop 8.

Troop 8. These Brownies have Miss Adeline Geib and Mrs. Gilbert Martin for leaders. They meet every Tuesday evening 7-8:30 at the Methodist Church annex. Already this troop has finished a service project and has started knitting an afghan. The first project was for Lyons Hospital—Halloween favors.

Troop 6. Miss Jane Maturo, assisted by Mrs. A. C. Roth, leads these intermediates. They meet every Tuesday evening 7-8:30 at Miss Dolores DeLeonardi's home, 40 Henshaw avenue. Last week and the six second class scouts went to the Girl Scout camp at Lake Surprise for overnight camping. Mrs. Paul Prince, a troop mother, and the leaders accompanied the girls. This is the kind of scouting we girls thoroughly enjoy and we hope we can have more of it. The weekend was ideal and, what is more beautiful than the outdoors in the Fall? Even the rotation of the work details, cooking, kitchen police and ground keeper was fun for these girls.

Troop 1. These intermediates had their hayride last Friday evening. Thirty-five Scouts and five mothers enjoyed that good clean smell of horses and hay, as they joggled along the country roads. Hot cocoa and cookies served by the mothers proved a surprise at the half-way point. Our next treat is a Halloween party this Saturday morning. Everybody will be in costume and party favors will be in order.

The officers of this troop are: President Barbara Heerwagen, Vice President Jean McMurray, Treasurer, Barbara Geddes, Secretary and Scribe Mary Ann Donington and Patty Haggerty. There are six patrols. The Butterfly Patrol Leader, Jo Ann Hartz; Rose, Elaine Kern; Wolf, Carol Smith; Clover, Mary Ann Donington; Bluebird, Peggy Sienkiewicz; S.O.S. Lynne Hughes. The girls of this troop are glad that the four mothers Mrs. Korn, Mrs. Kerr, Mrs. Hansen and Mrs. Heerwagen took over this troop when Miss Richards found it necessary to give up the leadership.

This year we are going to postpone our Song Festival which we have always held in Girl Scout Week. The leaders and the Council have set tentative plans for next March.

Sincerely,
Springfield Girl Scouts & Brownies.

WHAT'S HE GOT TO DO WITH your telephone service?

Bill Jenkins is a telephone motor vehicle maintenance man in Newark. He's never climbed a pole, spliced cable or installed a telephone. Yet men like him play a big part in giving you fast, economical and dependable telephone service.
It costs a lot to keep 2,400 telephone cars and trucks rolling—constant care cuts these costs to the last possible penny.
Every day, New Jersey's Defense, business and social life depend more and more on dependable, uninterrupted telephone service. It's good to know that the big Green Fleet is always ready—prepared to meet any routine need, or to handle any emergency on a moment's notice.

Right of Way Booklet for All

A reminder to motorists on the popular held illusions on "right-of-way on the highway" features the new safety leaflet, "Don't Be Fooled," now being distributed at the State vehicle inspection stations. Director Martin J. Perbar announced today. A copy goes to the driver of each vehicle passing inspection.

The cover of the leaflet portrays an optical illusion on the size of three figures in perspective and shows another illusion that "20,000 drivers yearly are fooled about right of way." The work illustrates the principle of right-of-way under the caption: "You only leave it when someone gives it; when no one gives it—no one has it!" and illustrates the six things every driver should know about right-of-way to prevent accidents and congestion.

Stating that violations of right-of-way rules are the second major cause of traffic accidents in the State, Director Perbar added: "More accidents occur at intersections because of right-of-way violations than from any other cause. When approaching an intersection, the driver should be extremely careful, reduce his speed and be prepared to yield the right of way. Courtesy and cooperation, as a driver, will help save lives." The leaflet, "Don't Be Fooled" was prepared by the Division of Motor Vehicles in cooperation with Professors Carol C. Pratt and Merle Lawrence, of Princeton University.

In 1640 whalers selected a location for their whaling operations on the shore of the Delaware Bay four miles above Point of Cape May. The site is now called Town Bank.

If the 165,237 distribution and transmission poles, towers and overhead structures in use in JCP&L's electric service area were placed atop one another, they would span approximately 1136 miles into the air, or about 4800 times higher than the Empire State Building.

Chatham served as an outpost of the Continental Army during the time Washington was stationed at Morristown.

Shipbuilding was one of the first industries in Newport. In 1631 John Collier established a boat yard on Brown's Point and operated it for 20 years.

Garden Topics

By Essex County Agricultural Extension Service

Those house plants resting outdoors during the summer ought to be taken indoors immediately. They have, up to now, been in a desirable environment and need to be re-acclimated to their new indoor life under opposite and adverse conditions before it is time to turn on the furnace switch.

If any of the plants need repotting, usually some do each year, do so at once outdoors. A soil mixture suitable for most of the common house plants consists of one-third good garden loam, one-third well rotted manure, peat moss or humus and one-third sand. These proportions are made by volume and not by weight. Plants left in the pots during the summer and which do not need repotting now can be handled differently. Much of their old soil on top of the pots can be removed, without disturbing the roots, and replaced with some of the above suggested potting mixture.

Any plants which have become root-bound or have made an unusually vigorous growth should be repotted, in most cases, in the next larger-sized pot. Those which show poor growth and have a poor root development are to be placed in the next smaller-sized pot.

Adequate drainage is necessary with most house plants. Pieces of broken clay pots or small stones are placed over the drainage hole or in the bottom of holeless containers. This permits better air circulation around the roots and prevents the soil from dropping out of the hole when the plant is watered enough to wet the whole root ball.

Place some of the new soil mixture over the coarse drainage material in the bottom of the empty pot. The plant is now set and soil is spread around the root mass and firmed well with the fingers. Enough soil is added to bring the volume up to within one-half inch from the top of the pot after settling. Sufficient water is added so that any excess will flow out of the drainage hole.

After the plant takes hold and new growth appears, feeding with a prepared fertilizer every two weeks or so can be started. Plants require plant food during the period when they are actively growing and blooming.

It is best added regularly in small amounts rather than one feeding to last several weeks. Roots can readily be injured by feeding while plants are dormant and resting.

Outstanding Cast At Paper Mill

A production that will top the original Broadway edition is always, Frank Carrington's goal when he undertakes to recreate a recent Broadway musical hit and he is making that very effort with his new production of "Finian's Rainbow" which begins a Millburn engagement at the Paper Mill Playhouse on Monday, October 29th.

Set with four outstanding stars in Mary O'Fallon, Edward Chapel, Clarence Nordstrom and David Thmar, Carrington and his co-director, Agnes Morgan, have selected an outstanding cast of supporting players familiar to Paper-Mill audiences. Robert Eckles and Janice Claff, currently in "Song of Norway" will play Senator Billboard Rawkins and Susan Mahoney, the dancing mute, respectively.

Daniel O'Brien and Hal McMurrin, who have contributed key supporting performances all season have been assigned the roles of Buzz Collins and the Sheriff. The trio of passion pilgrim gossipers will be played by Fred Thomas, Kenneth Hibbert and Roderick Timmons. Thomas was one of the 1950 winners of the Metropolitan Opera Auditions of the Air.

The Paper Mill Corps de Ballet which is achieving a measure of fame alongside the well-established Paper Mill Singing ensemble has been augmented for this production of "Finian's Rainbow" and Anthony Nello is acting as choreographer and creator of musical numbers. Nello who did the same chores for the season's opening production, "Annie Get Your Gun" has just returned from a banner season with the St. Louis Municipal Opera.

Regional Scores 3rd Victory

Rosellians Fall Victims To Bulldog Machine, 14-6

By DONALD ROSSELET Rosellians by a 14-6 count. The Regional scored the third win Bulldog triumph, coupled with a of its 1951 football campaign last 40-29 defeat of Thomas Jefferson Saturday on the Simpson field (Elizabeth) by Passaic and a Cliff-gridiron la Roselle, downing the Ford Scott win over Rahway by the edge-out score of 14-13, depleted the county's undetested ranks.

For Roselle, it was the seventh straight loss in the series with the local school which was begun in 1938.

Regional played one of the better games of the current season, which, incidentally, is now in the mid-year status for John Brown's outfit. The borough boys were out-distanced on the ground by an overwhelming margin of 256 to 79. Regional opened the scoring with a long pass from Juid Herman to Dick Beyer. Beyer scampered forty yards to score. Roselle drove to Regional's 22 in the first stanza, but lost the pigskin when three passes went incomplete. The Bulldogs lost twice on succeeding plays and had a third down on the Roselle 15 when Herman tossed a pass which was halted down. A five yard penalty was charged against the borough team for being outside, and Regional took advantage of the break. Herman then threw the TD pass from the twenty. Beyer gathered it in on the Roselle 40, Yalud Dave Hild out of position and went the remaining distance for the score. Dick Schaffer converted and R.H.S led by 7-0. Roselle bounced right back in the second period when Tom Holmes returned a punt to the Roselle 44. Ten plays afterward, the borough boys had a score. The biggest gain in the 58 yard drive was a fifteen yard penalty.

Sports In The Sun

TV vs. Sports War

Many observers will tell you that television is ruining sports. This possibly is correct, and if you look at the attendance figures for the past few years, the fact will verify itself. Sports, well at least most of them, are dependent upon the fan for survival. If TV continues to keep the spectator at home in an easy chair, the ball yards will continue to show many empty seats and the attendance will drop. School football has been one of the hardest hit by this TV age. And the scholastic sport is not directly connected with television.

This columnist can only urge his readers to go out and support the hometown club, but we fear that this is not enough. At Cranford, the situation is so difficult, that authorities have decided to play Saturday morning affairs. Several weeks ago, Essex County tried the same stunt in Irvington, but the result was no better than a p.m. contest. Agreed: football on TV (college style) is interesting, but the hometown club needs the support of everyone, including the stay-at-home grid fans.

The answer? If you know, we can assure you that many a sports-promoter will be glad to buy your services.

TV has its good points. It has brought enjoyment to millions. It has forced promoters to give the very best in their shows. The NCAA's limited-TV plan is in effect at the present time—one game a week. We don't see much of a change at the gate, though.

And Bill Veeck, St. Louis Brown's boss, wants a girl baseball announcer!
