FRIENDS!!

People who read our lead story this week may figure that there can be no talk of budgets these days without using astronomical figures. Well, it isn't as bad as that. Actually we have more than a small measure of sympathy for Finance Commissioner Art Handville and other members of the Township Committee when they sit down to try to pare down figures in the face of rising costs. And the same goes for the local school board and the Regional school board.

It's all right to say that things should be kept down but every-one wants more money and every-thing costs more. In Springfield, particularly, it is in the budget stew because it has little industry to tax. So the homeowners pay the bill.

The request of the police department for an increase of 15 percent is not surprising. Linden police recently requested a 20 per cent raise. We understand Linden police won't get all they ask and quite probably the local cops won't either.

However, there's no doubt but that there will be a raise and it probably will be pretty substantial. These days a good cop is hard to find and certainly is worth keeping.

The demand for industrial workers is increasing and most municipalities realize that if they are going to keep their employees they'll have to spend more money. Some of these jobs which look attractive today may vanish two years from now but plenty of people are willing to let the future take care of itself.

Deadline for filing petitions for the Regional Board of Education was yesterday. Having covered the Regional sessions over a period of years we feel Springfield is fortunate to have a member of the cabinet of Ray Forbes.

He's up for re-election and it would be a good idea, we think, if the voters made certain that they vote for him to show that they appreciate a job well done.

There are some Regional Board members who do not contribute too much, other than their time, but Ray is not one. His work as building and grounds chairman has been the past help him busy but like the other members the plans for an addition have meant a lot of extra hours of conferences.

Ray Bell, the customary occupant of this corner, is absorbing a lot of sunshine down in Miami and presumably pulling in the fish down on the Keys.

At least that's what his posters say. Ray's a pretty smart operator. He generally picks January with its budgets, its shut-down periods for new job holders and the "hot news" period as his vacation. So would you—if we could.

We were wondering the other day about that theater which was supposed to be erected in Springfield a couple of years ago. We're inclined to believe that for many years to come township residents will have to get their cinema entertainment at Union or Millburn or more distant points.

Television probably sounded the knell of that proposed theater. During the immediate post-war period, materials weren't available and when they were, potential builders began to get skeptical.

In Union a building permit for a theater was changed to a super-market. People today can watch a screen in their homes for free or at least they can if they are willing to take a lot of mediocre entertainment along with the several (but not many) good programs. Well, if they went to the movies they would also see plenty of Grade B films so you can't win.

A member of the police department recently took us to task for our observations on speeding following the township's late fatal. We admit the accident record here is better than that of many other municipalities but some items sometimes are a matter of either luck or geography. For instance Elizabeth has had a high number of fatalities but there are several miles of road.

Forbes Files Petition for Regional Bd.

Smith, Harrison Are Candidates in Local Race

Regional School Commissioner Raymond Forbes is one of three Regional board members whose terms will expire next month. Deadline for filing petitions was midnight last night. As the Sun went to press, Commissioner Forbes had filed a petition for re-election. Dr. Minor C. K. Jones, of Mountairside, also has filed for re-election. The third incumbent whose term ends is Frank Corveley of Garwood. Indications are that he, too, will seek another term.

The Regional election is scheduled for February 5. It was incorrectly stated in last week's issue of the Sun that it would be on February 8. At a recent public hearing on the budget there was no mention.

Previously Mayor Lister of Kenilworth had indicated there would be persons from that borough to protect some of the items in the budget. However, there were but six persons present at the session in addition to board members.

Yesterday it was revealed that two of the three members of the local board whose terms are expiring will seek re-election. They are Howard Smith, board president and George Harrison, the vice president. Thomas F. Doherty, the third member, said that press of private business may prevent him from being a candidate. He said he had not reached a decision.

The deadline for filing petitions is January 21, District Clerk A. B. Anderson said. There have been no indications that other candidates are seeking the posts. In recent years, however, contests have featured school elections here.

Observers point out that there probably are fewer people who will seek the board posts this year. Much work is involved and more frequent meetings with a new school being built, it was said. Many residents also are busy with private business as the tempo of industry is accelerated, it was said.

Civic Group Asks Ban on Fare Rise

An appeal to the Public Utility Commission to reject the application of the Somerset Bus Company for an increase in rates was adopted by members of the County Citizens Association at a recent meeting at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Harry Spitzer, 1 Elyngreen avenue. The group pointed out that the increase, if granted, would increase the living costs of the riders on the line. Hearings on the application took place yesterday.

A request was made of the Township Committee to have the township attorney support the stand of the Board of Adjustment on use of the former Doctor Morris tract. The governing board also was asked to study the township building code.

Stanley Jacobs and Mrs. L. L. Andrews, Jr., were named representatives to the Citizens' League meeting. Plans were made for a party to be held at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Harry Spitzer, 1 Elyngreen avenue, on April 25. The membership application of Mrs. A. T. McMullen was accepted.

It was reported that the children's Christmas party was a success. Harry Monroe was Santa Claus.

Enterprise Mate Home Safe Plans to Go to Sea Again

One of the last fifteen persons to abandon the ill-fated Isbrandtson freighter, "Flying Enterprise," slipped by the now famous Henrik Kurt Carlsen was Michael V. Stalkoff, third mate, who lives at 84 Walena avenue.

When he was informed that the freighter finally had gone down, the Springfield man showed no surprise. He said he was amazed that it has remained afloat so long. He pointed out that the ship was virtually defying the laws of gravity to remain on the water as long a period following the hurricane which struck it.

Stalkoff said he was on the 8 to 12 watch and wasn't fully aware of the gravity of the situation until the second mate came on the bridge and asked him if he wanted a lifejacket. He said he then realized the situation the freighter was in.

The third mate was high in praise of the Norwegian tanker, Westral Larsen. He said it climbed the Enterprise for several

Essex Man Fined As Tinsy Driver

Paris S. Russell, 42 years old, of 51 Bellvue avenue, Maplewood, was fined $228 and his license was ordered revoked for two years in Municipal Court Monday night when he was found guilty of drunken driving by Magistrate Henry C. McMullen. The conviction came after a three and a half hour trial.

Russell, represented by a Summit attorney, claimed he only appeared intoxicated when examined by Dr. Henry P. Dangler, township physician on December 15. He said he was dazed from injuries suffered in the accident in Route 29 which preceded his arrest.

Several patrolmen as well as a Newark resident testified that Russell gave the appearance of being drunk. They said he fell on his way to police headquarters.

The Advance Brick and Sand Co., of Brooklyn, was fined $500 for overloading a truck. The magistrate said the company previously had been guilty of a similar offense. He pointed out the fine is mandatory for repeated offenses.

Others fined by McMullen were William Glenn, 221 Smith Street, Newark, and Thomas E. Patten, of 91 Morris avenue, Springfield, both $10 for careless driving; Ruth Talley, of 127 North Sixth street, Highland Park, $10 for passing an unloading school bus, and Frank Wilson of 341 Tower street, Nuttall, $10 as an unlicensed driver.

Town Studies Changes for Recreation Bd.

Keith Resigns; Asks New Setup As Commission

A new deal in municipal recreation may be the result of the action of John M. Keith, who tendered his resignation last week as chairman of the Township Committee. Keith has held the post for the past seven years. He indicated he was withdrawing in protest of the failure of the Township Committee to act on a request, which, if granted, would result in broadening the powers of the recreation group.

The Sun learned today there is a possibility Keith may be asked to reconsider his action. It also is possible, it is understood, that the Township Committee may change the status of the set-up to the extent that the board would become a recreation commission.

Keith has claimed that such an action would give the committee legal power to acquire and control property and entitle it to a percentage of the municipal budget for disposition at its discretion. However, its funds still would be controlled by the governing board, it is believed, since it prepares the municipal budget.

Keith last week scored the committee members, charging the governing board failed to extend the courtesy of a formal reply to his request. In view of the importance of recreation it is believed that an effort will be made at the next meeting of the Township Committee to pour oil on the troubled recreational water.

Keith also has pointed out that the new status would end the present system of appointment. Currently all five members are appointed at the same time. Keith prefers staggered appointments with each member's five-year term expiring at a different year. He claims that would make the group a self-perpetuating body.

The membership now is composed of one representative from each of the township's four districts and a school board member. Last summer four playgrounds were operated. There was super-

Library Re-Elects Anderson President

Mr. A. B. Anderson was re-elected President at the organizational meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Springfield Free Public Library. Mr. Lemuel S. Stevens, a new member of the Board, was elected Vice-President to succeed Mrs. Dorothy B. Bunnell who resigned. Mrs. Helen R. Smith and Mr. Benjamin Neumann were re-elected secretary and treasurer, respectively.

In the twelve-month period just ended the library added 1,371 new books, loaned 240 magazines, accepted 493 applications of new borrowers and put 28,132 books in circulation. Since books loaned must be returned, it results in the handling of some 56,264 volumes by a staff of two and a corps of twenty-seven loyal volunteers.

This is considered a truly remarkable set of figures for a township whose total population is roughly 10,000.

The library has established a reputation among similar institutions throughout the state, which derives from the comprehensive

Springfield Man Faces Jail Term

Denzil E. Biles, 34 years old, of 11 Mountain avenue, faces six months in the Essex County Penitentiary as well as fines totaling $230 unless he successfully appeals three convictions in Municipal Court, Maplewood.

Biles was found guilty by Magistrate Japham of drunken driving, driving while on the revoked list and operating a car without the owner's consent.

On the first charge he was given a mandatory sentence of ninety days in the penitentiary. He also was assessed $20 costs. For driving while on the revoked list he was assessed $100, assessed $5 costs and sentenced to another ninety days. On the charge of operating a car without the owner's consent he was fined $100 and assessed $5 costs.

Police said Biles' driver's license had been revoked last year in Linden. Revocation was for drunken driving, they reported.

Police Sgt. Setaro testified that Biles' car had been involved in a minor accident in Valley street, Maplewood, December 24. He said Biles admitted that he had been driving prior to the collision. He said he was not driving the car when the accident occurred.

Biles pleaded not guilty to all charges. His attorney, Abe Silverstein, filed notice of appeal. Biles' bail is being continued pending the appeal.

First Aid Class Plans Announced

Richard Allen, chairman of First Aid for the Springfield Chapter of the American Red Cross, has announced that a standard first aid course will be conducted, starting tomorrow. There will be eleven weekly sessions of two hours from 8 to 10 p.m. The classes will be held at Town Hall. Branch and Girl Scout leaders and all other interested persons are urged to attend the first session. Sufficient qualified instructors are available for several classes.

Measure Being Prepared-- May Be Ready Jan. 30

Indications today are that Springfield residents this year will be paying their taxes at a rate of approximately $9.50 per $100 valuation. This is the highest tax rate in the history of the township and is believed to establish a new high in Union County. The rate would represent an increase of 229 points over the 1951 rate of $7.21. This is believed to be the biggest tax jump ever recorded here.

The Sun learned today that only a super-effort on the part of the Township Committee can cut the 1952 tax rate to a figure any lower than 9.50. Finance Commissioner Fred A. Handville and the other members of the governing board will meet with Fred J. Stefan, township auditor, tomorrow night in an effort to pare everything down to rock bottom. However, in these days of inflationary trends rock bottom is still a long distance above sea level.

Actually this is the picture which faces the Township Committee:

1. The school board's costs are up at least 40 per cent.
2. Indications are that fixed municipal costs will rise at least 30 per cent.
3. The increase in the school budget, as members of the governing board interpret the figures, will be in the neighborhood of 120 points.
4. There is a better than even chance, based on preliminary budget reports, that the township budget will show a jump of more than eight points.
5. The Regional school budget is up and the freesholers have announced the county budget will be increased with additional appropriations being listed for parks and maintenance. The last two items are expected to account for nearly thirty points.

Members of the governing board are reluctant to discuss the budget. They believe that it will not be ready by the next scheduled meeting of January 23. As a result it is expected a special meeting will be called on Wednesday, January 30, for introduction of the measure. The hearing then probably would be scheduled for February 13.

Currently facing the board is a request by the police department for a raise of 15 per cent. It was

Churchill Thanks Springfield Artist

William C. Jensen, of 126 Meisel avenue, who attributes his return to excellent health to his hobby of painting, has received a letter of appreciation from one of the world's best known amateur painters, Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

The British leader thanked the local man for a picture which he recently sent to him while he was visiting at Blair House, Washington. The picture was a New Jersey shore scene entitled, "A Bit of New Jersey." The letter was written by the prime minister's secretary.

Mr. Jensen has an exhibit of twenty-one paintings on display at the Elizabeth Library. He launched his hobby after reading Churchill's book on painting as a pastime.

The letter was as follows: "The Prime Minister has asked me to thank you very much for your kindness in sending him the pastel which accompanied your letter of the 28th December. He is indeed appreciative of your thoughtfulness."

"Mr. Churchill read with interest the newspaper article which you sent him. He is so glad that you have found enjoyment in painting and that this has contributed to your recovery from your illness."

Ex-Townman Wins $1,000 Prize for New Technique

Springfield's contribution to science, Dr. John Laurence Kulp, has been awarded the $1,000 Newcomb Cleveland prize for a technique that extends the range of an atomic calendar 10,000 years further back in time, by the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Dr. Kulp, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kulp of 110 South Maple avenue, was graduated from Regional High School in 1938, the first graduating class at the school. At that time, Dr. Kulp, who was captain of Regional's first football team, received the Dr. Watson B. Morris prize for the best Scholastic Student in Athletics. He was president of the class of 1938, and won a scholarship to Drew University where he majored in chemistry.

Dr. Kulp, who holds a Master of Science degree at Ohio State University, Illinois, and his master degree at Wheaton College, received his Bachelor of Science degree at Wheaton College, Illinois, and his Master of Science degree at Ohio State University. Dr. Kulp furthered his education at Princeton University, where he received a Master of Arts and a Ph.D. Dr. Kulp is head of the Geochemistry department and an associate professor at Columbia University. The atomic calendar uses the N. Y. presentation of the award was temporarily out of his power instead of reading it.

or, rather, "millennium-glass," for rate at which the atoms of a radioactive form of carbon (carbon 14) explode as an atomic "hour-glass," or rather, "millennium glass," for measuring with a high degree of accuracy the passage of time. Dr. Kulp extends the range of the "millennium-glass" from 20,000 to 30,000 years back in the earth's past.

Carbon 14 differs from ordinary carbon in that its nucleus contains two extra neutrons. It is radioactive, and its activity is that of nitrogen.

Half of any given amount of carbon 14, known as a "half-life" of 5,580 years, will turn to nitrogen. (Continued on page 3) dances along Route 25 which cuts through the city's business section. . . Route 29 in Springfield passes through sparsely settled sections. . . But Route 24 passes through a busy area where persons may be crossing the street at any block. . . For that reason we still claim that too many motorists are traveling too fast on Morris avenue—particularly in the area between Mountain avenue and the Millburn line.

Looking into several stores the other day we were impressed by the absence of penny candy. . . Seems that has gone the way of the trolley car and the horse and buggy. . . Those who didn't see the penny candy of the 1910-20 era probably can't appreciate what a ludding today. . . But actually it is being carried with us as good as a king when he walked into a candy store. . . We have vivid recollections of a candy friend in a tin in the frying pan and with a tiny tin spoon to scoop it out—and all for a cent. . . Then there were shiny chocolate candies in the figures of fish, violins, bears, cats and other animals enclosed in a cardboard box, all for a dime. . . And long, luscious candy bananas, pink or white. . . Today it's all nickel candy. . . Nevertheless many a man made a fortune just selling penny candy. . . We can bring this up to date by recalling that the other day a Springfield woman made her boy stop selling the Springfield Sun because he was spending all his profits on candy and getting too fat.

The problem of recreation is once again confronting the Township Committee. . . The matter was brought to a head last week by the resignation of Jack Keith, board chairman, who believes a recreation commission should be established. . . A commission would have more authority but it still would have to work with funds furnished by the governing board. . . It seems to us that the recreation group could be given more authority as long as the township committee still controls the pursestrings.

In that span of time. In 1947, Professor William F. Libby of the University of Chicago, discovered that carbon is constantly being created in the atmosphere by the bombardment of cosmic rays and that small quantities are incorporated in all living creatures, plants, animals, and human beings, as part of carbon dioxide out of which all plants are built up. It was pointed out. . . Since only living things incorporate carbon dioxide, the time that had elapsed since the plant or animal was alive on earth could thus be determined by comparing the amounts of carbon dioxide in the plants and animals living today with the amount left in the fossil remains of a past age, it was said.

Extension Service Sets Budget Talk

Mrs. Mary Armstrong, Extension Service home agent, will speak on "Family Budget Patterns to Meet 1952 Inflation" at a public meeting Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at the Springfield Public Library. . . A Lamp Shade Making Class will be held at the February meeting of Extension Service, on Wednesday, February 20, from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Springfield Methodist Church. Mrs. John Rawlins will be the instructor. Advance registration for this course is required. . . "Small Household Equipment for Time Saving and Convenience" will be a topic for the March meeting. A sewing course and a furniture refinishing course will be held in April.

Special officers have requested an increase in their hourly wage of $1.32 is inadequate since they must purchase uniforms and other equipment and do not have other benefits accorded the regular police. It appears likely, it was learned, that their financial situation also will be improved in the new budget. . . Preliminary estimates indicate that the township budget will show an increase of approximately $82,000 over the 1951 measure. Taxpayers probably will not be aghast at the prospect. With increased costs featuring all municipal operations, a new local elementary school under construction, and a high school addition in prospect, it can only mean a much higher budget, they admit.

vision of night recreation in the winter and instruction in specific sports. Various groups also were given special swimming periods at the highway pool.

In his resignation Keith pointed out that he had requested a replacement on January 1. However, he was reappointed. . . According to report the governing board is studying a compromise. Action is expected at the meeting of January 24.

list of titles it is able to offer its borrowers, both in fiction and non-fiction, and from the services it provides for students and private individuals of all interests. In addition, the library maintains a stimulating schedule of historical and literary exhibits that has won critical and public acclaim not just within the township itself, but from the surrounding communities and out of state visitors as well.

Congress Faces Big Fiscal Problem

Members of the 82nd Congress, now meeting in their Second Session, can think of many things that are "needed at Washington." Probably none will disagree with the 1952 Platform of the New Jersey Taxpayers Association, however, when it says: "Never was fiscal planning more needed." . . To this the people are likely to add a fervent "amen." They will have in mind the more than 48 billion dollars in additional Federal taxes that, since September 1950, have been piled atop the overloaded taxpayer, to say nothing of the sharp increases that have occurred in recent years in state and local tax collections. . . A huge, but often overlooked part of the fiscal picture is the imposing 259 billion dollar Federal debt, the principal and interest of which must ultimately be met from taxpayers' pocketbooks. New Jersey's estimated 7 1/2 billion dollar "share" of this debt exceeds the total assessed valuation of all the taxable property in the State. . . One of the major tasks before the newly-convened Congress will be adoption of a spending program for the new fiscal year. The Taxpayers Association declares: "Congressional procedures have become so grossly ineffective in checking waste that the adoption of the annual Federal budget has become a fiscal stampede."

Director Issues Warning on Draft

Colonel E. N. Bloomer, State Director of Selective Service, advised today that despite constant advice to registrants to keep their local boards fully informed at all times concerning changes that may affect their "draft" status, a large percentage are failing to heed the warning and are going to be inducted into the armed forces.

Many registrants, employers and parents, fail to realize that once an order to report for induction has been issued, strict limitations are placed upon a local board's power to reopen a registrant's case or to postpone an induction.

The most registrants wait until the last moment, when induction is imminent, to inform their local board that this, that or the other thing has occurred, which, in the registrant's opinion, should make him eligible for a deferment. It is quite possible that had the local board been informed of the facts in ample time, a deferment might have been granted.

After an order to report for induction has been issued, don't expect your local board to give consideration to your case because it's "too late." . . Be on the safe side. Even if you are presently deferred, physically unfit, married or over age of 26, or in any other category, promptly notify your local board of any change such as, change of address, employment, marital status, pregnancy of wife, birth of child, hardship, dependency, and all else they would know to properly classify you. Remember it's up to YOU.

Men's Group Sets Church Bridge

Wannor, program; Anthony Meyerstein and Robert Dunn, entertainment; William F. Mullins, refreshments; Eugene F. Butler, door prizes; E. C. Winn, cards; Sylvester A. Schramm, reception; Ralph P. Sports In The Sun

Springfield's Officials

Springfield has two basketball officials certified by the North Jersey Board of Approved Basketball Officials, who, during the cage season, officiate many contests.

They are the best of friends and reside within shouting distance of each other. We have reference to Jack Schrupf, of 17 Henshaw avenue, president of the Regional High Boosters Club; and Bill Brown, of 55 Oakland avenue, athletic director at the high school.

We understand, however, that each was amazed last Friday evening in Dunellen to find that they were working the game together. Our source of information said that Schrupf was in the Dunellen gym wondering who his partner was to be when he walked Brown.

The Regional athletic director and the Booster president were to officiate a contest pitting Dunellen against Highland Park. Brown has worked this rivalry for several years. Other officials in this area are a little wary about taking this game, our information says.

It was quite a contest, Dunellen won the battle on a tremendous layup with seconds remaining, 45-43. A jump ball had been called, and as the ball was tossed into the air, Highland Park, with a distinct height advantage, placed two men behind their jumper. But, as circumstances would have it, Walt Skowronski had drifted off to one side, virtually un-noticed.

As the Highland Park tap came back to a pair of teammates, Skowronski darted in front of the Parker defenders, stole the ball, and passed it to big Jim Kinch, who layed it in while off balance—a neat bucket.

Incidentally, there were 1,200 fans squeezed into the 700 foot gymnasium!

Immediately following the winning basket, Destroyer fans swarmed over the floor, hoisting their heroes on their shoulders, and paraded around the court with them. Technically, there was still one second to play, but, as our informer put it, "it would have been almost impossible to clear the floor so that the exact time could expire."

Some excitement? Wow!
