FRIENDS!!

Springfield's primary "pot" is beginning to simmer... as freely predicted on several occasions in the past in this corner, the organized-GOP have given Township Committee member Walt Baldwin the brush-off...

Had a visit the other day from John Conley whose wife was killed by an auto just before Christmas while crossing the lower end of Morris avenue...

It's a pleasure nice in a while to hear a merchant in the center arena about business... "It's good," say the new owners of the Center Super Market and they express their appreciation to everyone for their patronage...

Glad to see Representative Cliff Case run for reelection... we have him down in our book as a splendid example of a public official in every respect.

Reminders to the contrary notwithstanding, there wasn't a single "no" vote at last week's session of the Township Committee when the board rejected ex-Township Treasurer Merlette's bill for more than $200 for typing services rendered by his wife...

Springfield's annual Boy Scout fund drive has been underway for a week and collections are coming along well... Attorney Felix Forlenza heads this year's drive and he asks everyone's cooperation for a worthwhile cause.

A complete breakdown of the 1952 township budget appears on one of the inside pages of today's Sun... In this connection, announcement was made yesterday by the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce of postponement until Tuesday, February 19, of its public budget forum at the town hall...

Handicraft work made by members of Girl Pack No. 172 is now on display in one of the windows at the Holly Morris avenue... The group will attend services in the First Presbyterian Church on Sunday.

Regional Bd. May Name New President

Garwood Member May Vote To Oust Bertolamy

Indications today were that Raymond Forbes of Springfield, reelected Tuesday to the Regional Board of Education or Richard N. Southgate of Berkeley Heights, may be the next president of the board following the upset victory of youthful John E. Conlin in the vitriolic battle for one of the Garwood seats.

Observers point out that Conlin may not vote for Bertolamy when the board reorganizes Monday. Last year the board president received the vote of Milltown and is believed to have voted for himself to break a deadlock.

In Springfield Forbes, who was unopposed received 44 votes. Dr. Jones, also without opposition, was given 85 votes in Mountaineer. The budget was approved in all of the six municipalities by a margin of approximately two to one.

Scout Drive Here Is Well Underway

It was announced today by Felix Forlenza, general chairman of the Springfield General Drive, Union Council—Boy Scouts of America, that Joseph Poehl, Springfield CPA, will serve as chairman of the Industrial and Business division of the campaign.

Mrs. L. L. Andrews, Jr., chairman of the home solicitation division of the drive, announced that her section had launched collection Friday, February 1, and that while many sections of the township had already been solicited, it is too early to submit a report.

Forlenza announced that the treasurer for the drive this year will be Tax Collector Charles Huff and that drive leaders may make their returns either to Huff at the Town Hall, or to Andrews at 450 Meikel avenue, or to Forlenza at his office at 276 Morris avenue.

High Scout Award For Dick Bischof

Richard C. Bischof, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bischof, 6 Remer avenue, Springfield, will receive the "God and Country" Award, one of Scouting's highest honors, on Sunday.

The Protestant Committee on Scouting, in cooperation with all major Protestant denominations, has developed a church-centered program for Scouts-affiliated with Protestant churches. The "God and Country" Award is made available to Scouts who have fulfilled specific standards involving their participation in the total program of their respective churches.

The adoption of the Religious Awards Program by any church is optional. This is not a Merit Badge in religion awarded by the Boy Scouts of America. It is an award of the church, made by the church on the fulfillment of religious standards established by the church.

McCarthy Talk To Draw Many From Township

Senator To Speak At Millburn High Friday Night

This area will be the focus of political attention for the entire country tomorrow (Friday) evening when Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, speaking at the Millburn High School, will answer charges made against him by President Truman.

Originally this was planned by the "1952 Associated Suburban Republican Clubs," representing Maplewood, Millburn, Short Hills, Springfield, South Orange, and Summit, as a meeting to discuss Communism, and the subject selected was "The Communist Issue—Where It Stands Today." But the meeting has taken on national significance since President Truman issued his charges last week that Senator McCarthy was a "character assassin."

Smoke Bomb Blasts Eatery; Patrons Flee

A score of customers together with heavy clouds of smoke poured out of the White Diamond Restaurant, Morris and Millburn avenues, Saturday night and the entire fire department rolled to the scene to put out what promised to be a conflagration that might destroy the building.

But this is one time when plenty of smoke failed to produce any fire. Coughing and with eyes smarting the guests and the proprietor left the building and firemen vainly sought the blaze.

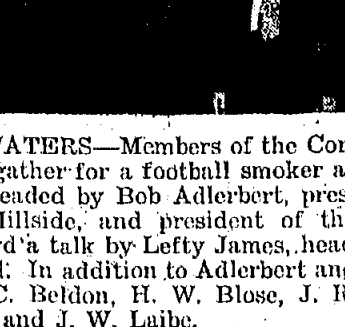

Finally they found a smoke bomb which had been attached to the lavatory. Fire Chief Charles Pinkava, commenting on the prank, said a $1,000 fine is provided for discharge of bombs of this type in public gathering places. Police are investigating.

Low Cost X-Ray Service Planned

The local Board of Health in cooperation with the Union County Tuberculosis and Health League, Inc. is planning for a low-cost X-ray service in Springfield. The time and place will be announced at a later date by Tax Collector Charles Huff, chairman of the Tuberculosis Christmas Seal Sale Campaign.

Huff further reports that the total county Seal Sale has reached $73,899.90, as of January 31, 1952, in the regular report to the New Jersey State Tuberculosis League and the National Tuberculosis Association. The total returns in Springfield are $1,540.88.

GOP Launch Plans For Lincoln Fete

The local Republican Club was informed, at its January 29th meeting, of completion of plans for its annual Lincoln dinner to be held at Baltusrol Golf Club on Friday, February 29th, at 7 p.m. The Dinner Committee, of which E. F. Donnelly is chairman, assisted by Amy Bandomer and Georgia MacMullen as co-chairmen and by Max Sherman, Gladys Boardsley and Arthur Marshall, has arranged for a steak dinner (with lobster being provided for those who do not want steak).

The January meeting was addressed by H. G. Kenney, Vice-President in charge of public relations of Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company. Kenney discussed the necessity for spreading more widely, the economic facts of our democratic way of life as compared with life under either socialist or communistic governments.

Tickets were distributed for the meeting tomorrow (Friday) of the Associated Republican Clubs to be held at Millburn High School, which will feature an address by Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin. This is the first in a series of prominent Republicans to be delivered in the several towns whose clubs have affiliated for this purpose.

The class of Auxiliary Police which just completed a First Aid Course was among a group of 75 which attended the showing of the film "The Medical Effect of the Atom Bomb and Destruction," in the American Legion Hall last Thursday evening. School Nurse Honored After 30-Year Service

The Board of Education at a special meeting last night voted unanimously to name the new school under construction at South Springfield avenue opposite the Raymond Chishom School, the "Florence M. Gaudineer School," honoring the veteran school nurse. It is believed to be the first instance that a building here has been named for a person who still is living.

Board members pointed out that Miss Gaudineer graduated from Overlook Hospital School in 1920. She accepted a position as supervisor in the hospital. In 1923 she was persuaded by Dr. Henry P. Dengerler, the school physician, to join the school system.

At that time F. J. Hodgson was supervising principal. There was no regular school nurse. Miss Gaudineer with the aid of Hodgson and Dr. Dengerler developed the medical service. At that time the system was small, with ten teachers and an enrollment of 350 children. Edward Ruban was chief of police and school janitor.

The following year the dental health program was started. Board members pointed out that Miss Gaudineer has seen the system grow from 850 in 1923 to 1,117 in 1952. They observed that in the period of the three decades she has seen the entrance and departure of many board members, teachers, supervisors and an endless procession of children. Today she is looking after the health of many children who are sons and daughters of her former students.

Board members were in agreement that in view of her many years of service, her devotion to hundreds of school children and her loyalty to the school system deserve the tribute which is being paid her. They expressed hope that their action would bring to her "some small measure of satisfaction in a job well done."

The board in officially naming the school for Miss Gaudineer, adopted the following resolution: WHEREAS, FLORENCE M. GAUDINEER has served the Board of Education faithfully and well as School Nurse for nearly thirty years, and

WHEREAS, during this period of service she has given her own time to the Community in the promotion of the welfare of Springfield, and

WHEREAS, Miss Gaudineer has been the confidante of all agencies for the amelioration of those less fortunate in the Township, and

WHEREAS, this Board of Education feels that recognition should now be given to the services of Florence M. Gaudineer which have been conspicuously above and beyond the duties attached to her employment, now therefore be

Vandals Destroy Gas Pump Hoses

Police today are investigating the destruction on Sunday of five gasoline pump hoses at two service stations. Operators reported they were valued at nearly $200. Three hoses were ripped from pumps at the Shell service station, Mountaineer and South Springfield avenues, which is owned by Kenneth and Douglas Baldwin, of South Springfield avenue. Two hoses were missing from Danny's Sun Station, Morris and Warner avenues. Danny Wendland, 97 Battle Hill road, is the proprietor.

Operators of both stations said they had not received any threats. Wendland expressed belief the incident may have been an element in the gas price war.

Young GOP Reunion Set in Elizabeth

Leaders in the Young Republican movement prior to World War II—many of them now seasoned public and party officials—will be the guests of Colonel H. Russell Morse, Jr., and Frederick G. Sigler, Jr., at a reunion-reception at the Elizabeth Town & Country Club at 5 o'clock next Thursday.

Colonel Morse, now first assistant prosecutor, and Sigler, Summit business man, both were leaders among the Young Republicans and their purpose is a reunion of those with whom they worked in those days. The reunion, however, both say, is strictly non-political.

Among the guests, in addition to the former Young Republican leaders across the state, will be all county departmental heads, the Board of Chosen Freeholders, the county's legislative delegation, and Republican mayors and municipal chairmen throughout the county.

King Will Run Again For Freeholder On Regular Republican Party Ticket With Col. Dudley and Mrs. Glaeser

Col. J. H. M. Dudley

Mrs. Helen M. Glaeser

Harry E. King

Maintenance of all essential services without waste of public funds was described as the platform of three freeholders, Colonel J. H. M. Dudley, Elizabeth; Harry E. King, Union, and Mrs. Helen M. Glaeser, Township of Clark, who announced today they will seek nomination for new terms in the Republican primary election, April 15. Their announcement was practically concurrent with the disclosure that the Union County tax rate probably will remain the lowest in New Jersey.

The candidates hold that in halving the county's debt in eighteen years, no essential service has been slighted nor any duty by-passed.

Colonel Dudley, director of the Board and for years chairman of its welfare committee, also is head of the civilian defense organization in Elizabeth and a member of the boards of the Elizabeth General and St. Elizabeth hospitals in that city.

During this seven years on the board, Freeholder King has directed the work of the purchasing committee. In this period, through avoidance of excessive overhead, by careful buying of equipment and supplies, and by competitive bidding, his committee has contributed to the economy program of the county government. He also is on the roads, public welfare, bridges, and public property, grounds and buildings committees.

A native of Freehold, King has lived in Union since 1929. In World War I he was overseas with the army air force.

Preceding his selection for the Board of Freeholders he was an assessment commissioner in Union and then a member of its town-ship committee for eight years. Freeholder King is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, and the Regular Republican Club in Union. His home is at 178 Indian Run Parkway and he and Mrs. King have two daughters.

Mrs. Glaeser is President of the Union County Federation of Republican Women, a former vice chairman of the Union County Republican Committee, vice president of the Monday Afternoon Club of Plainfield, a member of the Board of Governors of the Women's State Republican Club of New Jersey, Inc., and is affiliated with many other organizations. Mrs. Glaeser lives in Locust Drive and has a daughter, Mrs. William Theodore Larow of Plainfield.

Becomes Bride Of W. A. Bunzel

A nuptial mass was celebrated in Our Lady of Victory Church, Florid Park, N. Y., at 10 a.m. Saturday for the marriage of Miss Patricia Ann Constantin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Constantin of 18 Poplar street, Florid Park, and William A. Bunzel, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bunzel of 117 Salter street. The Rev. Raymond Davis officiated at the ceremony and was celebrant of the mass. A reception followed at the 115 Club, Little Neck, N. Y.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin trimmed with Chantilly lace. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was attached to a Juliet cap of satin trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a prayer book covered with white orchids.

Mrs. Raymond Constantin, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. Miss Viola Jensen was bridesmaid. Eugene Constantin, brother of the bride, was best man and Lewis R. Wright and Barney Monteleone ushered.

Following a honeymoon in the Poconos the couple will reside temporarily at the Salter street address.

Mrs. Bunzel, a graduate of Sewaneta High School, Florid Park, was employed by the Equitable Life Assurance Co., New York. Mr. Bunzel also was graduated from Sewaneta High School. He attended New York University and was graduated from New York Arts and Science Institute. He served in the Navy during World War II and is employed by Armour & Co., Newark.

McCarthy Talks

This problem is so important that it transcends any personal or even party considerations.

According to him, the record shows that anyone who has attempted to expose Communist infiltration in Washington has been subjected to a studied campaign of vilification and abuse and that this is a calculated risk one must be willing to take.

Hilbard E. Broadfoot, president of the Millburn-Short Hills Republican Club, who will preside at the meeting said, "There is every indication that this will be one of the best attended meetings ever held in this area. President Truman's charge against Senator McCarthy has made the meeting most timely. The fact that he has agreed to answer questions is an added attraction."

Following the meeting in Millburn, Senator McCarthy will fly to Wheeling, West Virginia, for a meeting the following night. Just two years after the meeting in Wheeling, when he made his original charges against the Communists and the Communist sympathizers in our Government. Before returning to Washington the Senator will address meetings in Tulsa, Oklahoma, and in Wisconsin.

"The Heritage of America," a phrase which represents everything we have and are, but which we, too-often, take for granted, is the 75th anniversary slogan for the American Library Association. Books that explain and evaluate this heritage, especially for young readers, should be in every home. Children are eager to learn and a comparatively short history such as ours, which includes every exploit typical of man's courage, every proof of faith in the right, and the will to live or die for it, makes fascinating reading for them. The realization of a world other than the present, with sympathy and admiration for the people that developed it, is essential to every young American's education.

A new series of historical books for children is the well-named Landmark Books which will be on display in your library this week. These books are for the 9 to 13 age level and are a combination of romance and reality woven around the figures and events that have shaped our history. The authors have been chosen with care and thought as to their ability to write on each subject and as a result we now have the following titles—"The Santa Fe Trail" by Samuel Hopkins Adams—"The Explorations of Pere Marquette" by Jim Kjelgaard—"The Panama Canal" by Bob Constable—"The Vikings" by Elizabeth Janeway—"The Lewis and Clark Expedition" by Richard L. Neuberger—"La Salle and the Grand Enterprise" by Jeannette Covert Nolan—"The California Gold Rush" by May McNeer—"The Building of the First Transcontinental Railroad" by Adele Nathan—"Our Independence and the Constitution" by Dorothy Canfield Fisher—"Lee and Grant at Appomattox" by MacKinlay Kantor—"The Voyages of Christopher Columbus" by Armstrong Sperry and many others of similar appeal.

Maximum Benefits From Appliances

Were you thrilled about the new electric appliance Santa brought you for Christmas? Of course, you were. Electrical housewares, as the trade now calls them, shorten and lighten meal preparation. Just how much depends upon you and how versatile you are with them.

Mixers and blenders are known to perform a variety of kitchen tasks, but so do corn poppers, grills, waffle irons and coffee makers. Mrs. Doris Anderson, extension home management specialist at Rutgers University, urges you to study the direction book which comes with your appliance before you try any of these recipes in it. It's very important to know how to operate and care for an appliance according to the manufacturer's directions.

"For instance, each book will tell you that the electric part or heating element must never be put into water," Mrs. Anderson points out. "So if you are learning to use one of those deluxe coffee makers, find out how to clean it thoroughly but safely.

"You may have to do some kitchen-rearranging so that your electrical servant will be stored where it is handy. A mixer or liquidizer stored on the bottom shelf won't be used often. It must be right on a counter or on a table within easy reach."

As for varied uses of individual appliances, Mrs. Anderson gives some suggestions, starting with the corn popper.

"It will make a delectable dish of whitely fluffy popcorn with no fuss or bother, but don't stop there," she says. "The electric popper is also grand for heating soups, making hot sirup-toppings or any other sauces. It will also keep food hot for some time after the plug has been disconnected.

Drew Offers Marriage Course

Drew University will offer an extension course in Marriage and Family Life during the spring semester, President Fred G. Holloway announced today.

Dr. David E. Mace, founder of the National Marriage Guidance Council of England and professor of human relations at Drew since 1940, will teach the course on campus Tuesday from 9 to 10 p.m. beginning February 5.

Drew is scheduling the course principally in the interests of adult education, President Holloway said. Persons who are not seeking academic credit may enter it without restriction. Those qualified for graduate study may register for two semester hours of credit.

Registrations will be taken at the university this month and at the first class meeting. They will also be accepted at times and places designated for Madison-Chatham and Morristown adult education enrollments.

Dr. Mace has written several books and many articles on marriage and family relationships. He has been a regular contributor to "The Woman's Home Companion." Three of his articles have appeared in "The Reader's Digest." He is a member of the American Association of Marriage Counselors, a director of the National Council on Family Relations, and International editor of the professional journal "Marriage and Family Living."

Among the topics he will consider in the extension course are: the meaning of human love and its expression and fulfillment in the marriage relationship; the achievement of satisfactory sexual and inter-personal adjustment in marriage; parenthood and the parent-child relationship.

Shade Tree Commission Report Shows Activities of Past Year

Much of your Commission's re-planting was accomplished in the past year. The result of phenomena which occurred in the previous year: the hurricane of November, 1950 bequeathed a legacy of fallen or split trees, hanging or broken limbs, and leaning trees which kept the department busy much of the season. Well over a thousand hours of labor have been devoted to this clean up job and there are still a number of trees with split or broken limbs which will be removed this winter when their dormant condition permits greater visibility.

Possibly due to the dry summer of 1950, the incidence of the Dutch Elm Disease showed a marked increase during the past year. Our department removed twenty-three dead trees this year and there are more to be disposed of. Experimental treatment by injection with a new material has been tried. However results cannot be known until next season. There is at the present time no known remedy for this affliction, but we believe it is to be worth while to attempt any reasonable trial which might save our remaining elms. In the meantime your Commission will consider the desirability of interplanting existing elms along streets with oaks or maples in order that some start will be made in the event all elms are doomed.

PLANTING The Department planted and mulched trees and shrubbery at the new Millburn and Short Hills parking lot extensions and laid out flagstone walks. Annuals were planted at the Millburn avenue entrance to Taylor Park and the Commission will continue the program to introduce more color into this park. Tulip bulbs have been planted at the Taylor street entrance and will be succeeded by annuals in the spring. By arrangement with the developers, and at their expense, trees have been planted along new streets in the Prudential tract, as well as along new streets in other parts of the town. Considerable perhaps through an open flue and if so will liberate. The department received many calls about these insects.

Japanese beetles showed an increase over the past year. A number of insecticides including DDT will control this pest. Lawns that are not grub proofed in early spring before the beetles begin feeding may show some injury next season.

The canker or inch worm was not as bad as in previous years. This pest is easily controlled by many sprays. The Pin oak sawfly was noticed on a few trees in the northern section of our Township, and in consequence may show an increase next season. Tulip scale was also noticed on a number of Tulip trees during the past season. As we stated last year, a contact spray in early fall, after the young insects have left the protection of the female, is recommended.

Although the hurricane damage occupied much of the time of the department, some pruning was done. A number of limbs were removed in the Wyoming Section. Low limbs were cut back on Hobart avenue, Southern Slope drive, Undercliff road, Toy terrace and Myrtle avenue. In addition, if not hampered by future storms, additional stress will be placed next year on the pruning of low hanging limbs over streets.

PLANS In addition to consideration of plans for replacement of elms as previously mentioned, the Commission hopes to develop a workable scheme for the planting of shade trees along Millburn avenue from Saint Stephen's Cemetery to the town line. Consideration will also be given to the improvement of the triangles on Millburn avenue, at the intersections at South Mountain Estates, as well as Woodlawn avenue extension at the diversion basin and the upper end of Chatham road.

The expenditure for Tree Planting in 1951 exceeded the budget by $1,120.00. This however is offset by receipts amounting to $1,314.00 from eight property owners, principally the Prudential Life Insurance Company, for trees planted by us along new streets. The difference—between these amounts is accounted for by the labor of our regular employees. With our small force we have been unable to remove most of the large diseased or dead elms and we have therefore contracted

The department devoted time to various projects as follows: Storm Damage—1068 hours Pruning and Topping — 1000 hours Planting and Mulching — 828 hours Parks and Parkways—400 hours Burning Brush—60 hours Sciences absence—58 hours Vacations—288 hours Holidays—288 hours Extra Labor Parkways—550 hours Slump Removal—58 hours Taylor Park—2200 hours Watering—28 hours

In closing, your shade Tree Commission wishes to recognize the loyal splendid work of its foreman Edward O'Hara, and his assistants, both regular and temporary. Again their faithful performance of their duties has contributed to the life of our community. It is the feeling of this Commission that if salary levels are raised for other employees of the Township, similar treatment should be accorded to the employees of this Commission.

LETTERS from Our Readers

PRaises SQUAD

I am writing to you as the best means locally to express our deep appreciation to the Springfield First Aid Squad for their unselfish and efficient assistance as a voluntary group.

We have reason to be deeply grateful to them, and I am at last able to sit down to write on behalf of my parents as well as myself.

Mother met with a serious accident on Melsel avenue on January 8th, and we know that the measure of her being saved and of her recovery since was due to the forthright and devoted attention of the Springfield Rescue Squad.

They answered the call quickly, rendered badly needed first aid, and quickly drove her to Overlook Hospital where they stayed until the doctor arrived. The squad comprised five, both men and women, called from their jobs or duties at home at the supper hour.

It is naturally impossible to adequately thank them and in turn Springfield for its foresight, except to assure you how grateful we all are, and to trust that they may continue to keep up this wonderful work. Springfield would be justly proud of this public-service to friend and stranger alike.

Sincerely, C. H. BIRDSALL, JR., 120 North Chestnut St., Westfield, N. J.

Health Hints

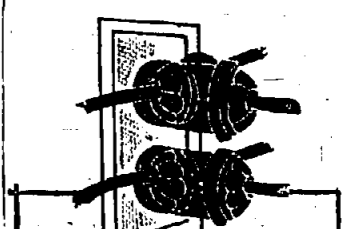

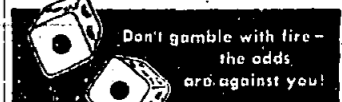

Managing Measles

Measles is a very common disease, but it should not be underestimated. It is a very contagious disease; ninety percent of susceptible persons exposed to it contract it. It is a serious disease because though its direct death rate is low, the total number of deaths attributable to it is large, for we must include later deaths from tuberculosis, encephalitis, and kidney infections. Measles is most dangerous in delicate children and in those under five years of age. It is most catching in its early stages, when no discernible symptoms may be present, or only a mild catarrh. Therefore, it is difficult to prevent. About ten days after exposure to measles, the little victim begins to feel unwell. For about ten days thereafter he is generally a very sick child. The diagnosis is definite when the characteristic red spots appear, generally first around the hairline on the neck and behind the ears, or when the doctor discovers in the mouth the characteristic Koplik's spots—tiny yellow points on a red base, found on the inside of the cheeks opposite the large molars.

What to do about it? If you know your child has been exposed, call the doctor at once. He can give an anti-measles serum, which is most successful in diminishing the severity of the attack when administered approximately five days after exposure. Treatment is a matter of simple medication, bed rest, and good nursing care in a well ventilated but not necessarily darkened room. It is important that the child is not allowed up too soon, to avoid the later complications. Authorities advise that he be kept in bed for at least a week after the appearance of the rash, and that all possible carriers of disease—in other words, all visitors—be excluded from the sickroom. In this way the patient can make a complete and uncomplicated recovery.

John W. Kelber, repairman, of Elizabeth, New Jersey, who has been with the Telephone Company since 1927 is shown here pointing out safe driving emblem to "Skipper" Talliferro of Cranford.

"That's right son... 24 Years of driving without even scratching a fender!"

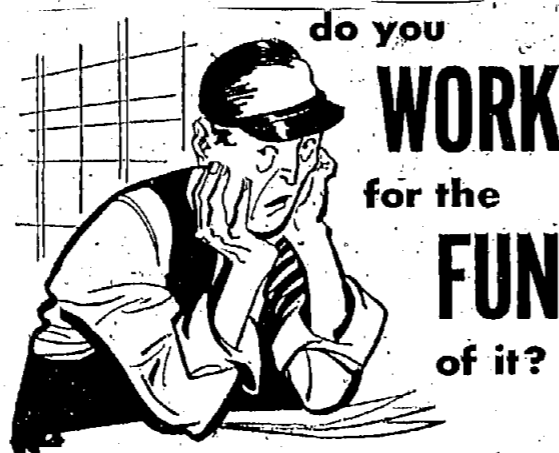

Joe Kelber has good reason to be proud of his driving record. Piloting a Telephone truck through busy traffic for 24 years without an accident is no mean feat!

But excellent as it is, Joe's driving record isn't at all unusual. Like him, 243 other New Jersey Bell men have driven without an accident since the company was founded back in 1927.

And, during 1951, when the "Big Green Fleet" rolled more than 18,500,000 miles to provide you with good telephone service—4,438 of the company's drivers won the coveted "no accident" awards for the year.

It's a big job enlarging New Jersey's telephone system and keeping it in good condition. Telephone men are doing it as fast as possible—and safely!

Visual presentation of a subject makes a more lasting impression than an oral account. The students' interest is proved to us by the repeated requests we receive for the films we show to schools and other groups. We make no charge for this service.

Some of our films cover such subjects as lighting and cooking. Others stress the privileges and advantages of life in this country. All are designed to make the pupil more aware of the world in which he lives... Just call us and arrangements will be made for a showing of any of our films.

State Fishing Book Available

The State Division of Fish and Game, Department of Conservation and Economic Development, today announced that Report Number One, New Jersey Fisheries Survey, will be available for distribution next week.

The 300-page report is recommended reading for every fisherman in New Jersey. Not only does it show what the division is doing and can do to provide better fishing, but it should also help each license holder to become a more successful fisherman.
