FRIENDS!!

Some time ago The Chamber of Commerce warned readers who owned their own homes that various areas in the county were being canvassed by a party concerning which made all sorts of guarantees with regard to its product and its "ridiculously low price" for a complete painting job, both inside and out. . . . despite the caution signal, several property owners were high pressured into signing contracts on-the-spot and now have admitted they blundered. . . . spring is here and the pressure boys will probably be out en-masse very soon. . . . again Jim Ferguson, chamber president, urges that you exercise extreme caution before you sign anything. . . . there are many legitimate painters in Springfield who offer free estimates on all jobs. . . . it would be wise to check locally before your name is added to a long sucker list.

Again over the week-end vandals took its toll at newly-erected Short Hills Village. . . . at least a half-dozen automobiles tires were slashed and punctured by the same hand of youths who previously did considerable damage when the first section of the development was started. . . . it is almost impossible to believe that strained feelings between the builder and some nearby residents could be responsible!

Aside from the battle for some county committee posts, Springfield's primary this year is shaping up as a dull and uninteresting affair. . . . Art. Handville and Charles Remlinger, unopposed should win the GOP Township Committee nominations easily. . . . and even at this late date we don't have the slightest idea who may be the write-in nominees for the Democrats. . . . thus far, they've been ever so quiet. . . . but come November when the fusion ticket of Walk Baldwin and Fran Kenne seeks to upset the Republican steamroller we should be in for some real fireworks. . . . good old Springfield, either it's quiet as a mouse or rip-roaring like a tidal wave. . . . no happy medium!

A unique event will take place tonight (Thursday) at Regional High School when five students will speak at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association. . . . as members of the Forum Club, the students will discuss the needs of youth and how the school and community. . . . to meet the needs. . . . Betty Jane Wesley, John Wesner, Esther Currie, Obera Stotterbeck and Daryl Maslow will participate. . . . They will also answer questions submitted by parents.

Clean-up, fix-up, paint-up period will be announced in Springfield very soon by Township Committee member Fred Brown, committee chairman. . . . all residents, home owners and owners of vacant land, alike, will be asked to cooperate in this annual spring house-cleaning task.

There's a picture on Page 1 today of a Springfield youth, graduate of Regional High School, who recently was awarded the Bronze Star by the Army Department for heroism in action against the Communies in Korea. . . . Sergeant Doug Hall of 106 Morris avenue, made light of the award when he arrived home for the first time in a year a week ago last Sunday, but mom's mighty proud and she wants the whole town to know about it. . . . and we don't blame her for it. . . . she visited The Sun office on Monday and told us the whole story.

The biggest political shindig in Springfield's history took place here last Friday night when Senator Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts fired the opening gun for General Eisenhower for President at Regional High School. . . . Charles Rancie, serving as master of ceremonies, did an outstanding job. . . . Mrs. Amy Bandemer, candidate for alternate to the GOP National Convention, sat on the speakers' platform next to Senator Saltonstall. . . . the event was sponsored by the Associated Suburban Republican Clubs, of which Springfield is an affiliate.

Regional Voters Balloting Today On Site Project

Board Urges Approval of 40-Acre Plot

Hundreds of voters in Springfield and the other five supporting municipalities of the Regional School District are expected to go to the polls this afternoon and this evening to ballot on the referendum for purchase of a forty-acre site in Mountside for location of a second Regional high school when one is needed.

Most of the opposition is expected to center in Kenilworth. Mayor William Lister and the borough council of that municipality have been irate since the Regional Board of Education temporarily turned down the offer of a site in the borough for the Mountside location.

The board indicated it might accept the Kenilworth site at a future date but said that the property owned by the borough, and which was offered free-is not sufficient. Acquisition of the remaining parcels might be expensive, it is contended. Several vitriolic exchanges featured discussions between Mayor Lister and Bertram Bertolami, president of the Regional board.

Civic groups, the parent-teacher association and industrial and political organizations have rallied to support of the Mayor and Council in Kenilworth. Indications are that the borough will turn out in large numbers to vote against the proposal.

The tenor of the Kenilworth sentiment is indicated by the action of the parent teacher association there is refusing to permit Dr. Minor C. J. Jones of Mountside to speak on the subject. He originally had been invited to speak with the invitation later being withdrawn.

Reports in Kenilworth have been to the effect that the united borough organization is conducting a telephone campaign which extended to the other supporting municipalities. What effect the telephone strike and the accompanying service curtailment may have.

H. S. Forum Club To Offer Program

A program arranged by the Regional Forum Club, a student group, will be presented tonight at the meeting of the Regional High School Parent-Teacher Association in charge of arrangements. John Butler will be moderator.

The following discussion topics and their leaders have been listed: "The Needs of Youth," Betty Jane Wesley; "How the School is Meeting These Needs," John Wesner; "How the Community is Meeting These Needs," Esther Currie; "Student Suggestions for the School," Obera Stotterbeck and Daryl Maslow; "Suggestions for the Community," Daryl Maslow.

A fifteen-minute motion picture "The Fourth 12" will be shown. Parents will be asked to submit questions before the meeting. The program is under the direction of Miss Charlotte Singer. Mrs. John Mayer Jr. will preside.

There's a picture on Page 1 today of a Springfield youth, graduate of Regional High School, who recently was awarded the Bronze Star by the Army Department for heroism in action against the Communies in Korea. . . . Sergeant Doug Hall of 106 Morris avenue, made light of the award when he arrived home for the first time in a year a week ago last Sunday, but mom's mighty proud and she wants the whole town to know about it. . . . and we don't blame her for it. . . . she visited The Sun office on Monday and told us the whole story.

Senator Says GOP Can Win With Ike

Claims General Will Carry Big Non-Party Vote

"The Republican party has never in its history had a candidate who appeals to the independent voters of the country in the manner which General Eisenhower does," U. S. Senator Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, told more than 300 persons Friday night at the Regional High School. . . . It was the first out-of-state Republican leader to speak in New Jersey on the Eisenhower campaign.

"The Republican party has never in its history had such a magnificent opportunity to serve the American people as that which presents itself today." "Every possible indication - the press, the polls, the radio, television, word-of-mouth, and the primary campaigns which have been held thus far, make it crystal clear that the American people want this present Administration removed from office, stock and barrel."

"This is not a party matter. We face an all-American crisis, and it must be met with all-American strength under all-American leadership."

In making specific his stand with respect to the type of leadership which he believes essential, Senator Saltonstall continued: "I'm for Ike - because he has shown beyond all question that he is an able administrator, a good executive, a cracker-jack diplomat. . . . I'm for Ike - because I believe that he is the one Republican who appeals particularly to the Independent voters of our country - AND WE MUST HAVE THEIR VOTES TO WIN."

"I'm for Ike - because he terms in today's and tomorrow's terms, not in the patterns and platitudes of a quarter-century ago. I'm convinced that he will face today's and tomorrow's problems squarely and courageously. I know that he will be firm, fairhearted, and fair and that he will finally deal honestly." (Continued on page 3)

May Allow Women To Serve Liquor

Women will be permitted to serve alcoholic beverages in restaurants in Springfield if an ordinance introduced by Township Committee last night is passed after public hearing on April 23. . . . The ordinance repeals Section 5 of the present law controlling liquor establishments and sets forth specific conditions under which women may dispense hard drinks. The women must be at least 21 years old, must not work after midnight, may serve liquor only in a bona fide restaurant, and may serve alcoholic beverages only from a service bar at which no patrons sit.

Township Committeeman Albert Binder was the lone dissenter in the vote on the ordinance, declaring that "it's letting-down-the-bar." We must make every effort to keep the serving of alcoholic beverages on the high plane we have always maintained."

The Committee adopted the ordinance, committing the pay of all municipal employees for the current year, with pay boosts up to 10 per cent for some employees.

In answer to a complaint of Robert McCallin, of 93 Mountain avenue, and to a letter from the Board of Education asking that trucks be excluded from Mountain avenue in the interest of the safety of school children, the Committee said the problem is a knotty one, as any change would divert the heavy traffic on other streets and intersections. The education body was invited to send a representative to confer with the governing body on the matter.

Accepted with regret was the resignation of Tax Assessor Lewis F. Macartney, who said ill health forced him to give up the work.

Apt. Trial Decision Due Over Week-end

Regional Bd. Rejects Move On Vaccination Regulation

The Regional Board of Education Tuesday night in a split decision voted down a move which would have required a Springfield student to submit to a vaccination to which he and his father object on religious grounds. The alternative would have been his expulsion from school.

The student is Frank Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Clark, of 166 Morris avenue. Following the decision, the board voted to send the problem back to committee for medical and legal advice for a report. It is expected another vote will be taken at an adjourned meeting Tuesday night.

The motion was made by Commissioner Raymond Forbes of Springfield. Voting with him were Commissioners Thomas L. Nolan, of Clark and Adams P. Shims of Kenilworth. In opposition were Dr. Minor C. K. Jones, of Mountside, John E. Conlin, Garwood, William J. Melek, Springfield and Richard N. Southgate, Berkeley Heights.

Pending the investigation the majority decided to go along with a "loosely" worded statute which places a decision on the local board by permitting the board to exclude a teacher or student from school if he has not been vaccinated. However, it was said.

Letters were read from the student's father and from Mayor Robert W. Marshall asking that an exception be made in the student's case. The majority was inclined not to interfere with the family's religious views but it voted to reconsider the matter on professional advice.

The boy's father said the Clark are members of a religious group which does not believe in medical practices, according to his letter. He said other municipalities have made exceptions.

Services Held for J. N. Jakobsen

Funeral services were held yesterday at Young's Funeral Home for J. N. Jakobsen, 82 years old, of 270 Mountain avenue, who died Sunday at his home after a brief illness.

He was the husband of the late Mrs. Minnie E. Jakobsen. Mr. Jakobsen was a wholesale plant grower. He was a native of Denmark and came to this country in 1892. He worked as a gardener in Denver and later was in charge of the grounds during the Columbian exhibition in Chicago in 1893. He established his business here in 1915.

Mr. Jakobsen specialized in poinsettias for the Christmas season and in lilacs and hydrangeas for Easter. His plants received numerous national and state awards. . . . Mr. Jakobsen was a member of the New Jersey Florists' Association, Society of American Florists and First Presbyterian Church of Springfield. He also held membership in Continental Lodge, F. and A. M., of Millburn and Salem Temple.

Surviving are two sons, Niel of Summit and Frank of this township; three daughters, Mrs. Horace Fosyth, Mrs. Dean Widner and Mrs. Arthur Sander, all of Springfield and Mrs. Ane Stach and Mrs. Andrea Sorensen, in Denmark.

Rev. Bruce W. Evans, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated. Interment was in Presbyterian Cemetery.

J. C. School Will Be Playhouse Sat.

The three-act play, "Held" will be presented at the James Caldwell auditorium on Saturday afternoon at 8 o'clock by the Salem Gaylor Theatre for Children.

In sponsoring the play, the PTA is giving the children of Springfield the opportunity to enjoy a delightful, exciting and colorful story book tale, brought to life by professional adult actors. . . . The Swiss Alps is one of the most entertaining of this season's productions. It depicts Held as a winsome and personable little girl who is full of fun and mischief but whose influence is nevertheless wholesome and good.

GETS BRONZE STAR

Sgt. Douglas Hall

Sgt. Douglas Hall Cited for Heroism

Sgt. Douglas A. Hall, 22 years old, of 106 Morris avenue, has been awarded the Bronze Star by direction of the President. The medal has the letter "V" indicating heroic achievement with military operations against the enemy in vicinity of Saegobnang, Korea.

The sergeant, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott E. Hall, is a member of Company A, Second Engineer Combat Battalion, Second Infantry Division.

On September 17 of last year he volunteered to accompany a patrol into enemy territory with the mission of reconnoitering a trail, enabling friendly tanks to attack the reverse slope of an enemy-held hill.

As the patrol advanced ahead of the friendly lines, it came under direct enemy observation and was immediately subjected to intense hostile artillery and sniper fire.

Although continuation of the patrol appeared extremely hazardous, Corporal Hall proceeded with the mission. The citation accompanying the medal said "by fearlessly exposing himself to the enemy fire, he was a constant inspiration to his comrades and led to the successful completion of the patrol's mission. The heroic conduct and outstanding devotion to duty displayed by Sergeant Hall on this occasion reflect great credit upon himself and the military service."

At the time of his achievement he was a corporal. He subsequently was appointed to sergeant.

The sergeant enlisted in the service October, 1950 for three years. He is a graduate of Regional High School in the class of 1947. His father is a telephone engineer with Western Electric.

Backers to Stage Candidate's Nite

Workers and supporters of Councilman-at-large Ernest S. Hiekkel in the Summit-Area will stage a "Hiekkel-Valentine Night" at the Beechwood Hotel on Friday, April 4th, in honor of the two candidates for the Republican nomination for the Union County Board of Freeholders.

Following the speakers, the audience will be entertained by the Tune-Whisters, an orchestra that has become widely known in Summit. Dancing will continue until 1 o'clock.

5-Hour Hearing Ends Case Against Short Hills Village

Following five solid hours of grueling testimony with regard to the township's suit to restrain the developer of Short Hills Village from erecting more than 182 apartments, Superior Court Judge Alfred A. Stein late yesterday afternoon reserved decision. Indications are that the decision will be rendered Saturday or Monday morning.

Starting with Township Engineer Arthur H. Lennox shortly after 10 a.m., about a dozen witnesses took the stand for this community. Springfield sought to prove that the developer "somehow" caused the initial "agreed upon figure of 182," according to the complaint, to be changed to 252 for the Short Hills Village Development.

This was vigorously denied by the defendants. Their testimony tended to indicate that local municipal officials, members of the Colfax Civic Association, which was instrumental in bringing the case to trial, town planning board members and others in various official capacities throughout the community were in possession of maps, plot plans and other documents plainly marked for 252 apartments.

In some cases several witnesses for the plaintiff admitted seeing maps of "all sorts" but never took the trouble to check the contents. The defense never once throughout the trial sought to deny that at the outset the plan had been for 182 apartments. But all preliminary plans are subject to change, their witnesses declared. In this particular case, it was pointed out with the increase of 70 apartments, the developer is adhering strictly to the terms of an agreement not to exceed 16 per cent of the land-area with buildings.

The defense said no effort was ever made to hide the number of apartments. It produced into evidence a photograph showing a huge sign in the center of town calling public attention to Short Hills Village and the number of apartments. It also produced a signed statement by Building Inspector Reuben H. Marsh showing the only figure familiar to him was 252. Marsh, under cross examination, verified this and said he had issued a building permit for 252 apartments.

Mayor Robert Marshall admitted signing the agreement with the developer for the project but never took the trouble to examine a map attached to the agreement which showed 252. "I did not know there were 252 apartments, and I should have known it," said Township Committeeman Walter W. Baldwin.

All witnesses for the town, including former Township Attorney Robert Darby, said they looked upon the number of apartments as unimportant. They agreed that the important item was whether or not the zone should be changed to permit an apartment development.

One of the highlights of the trial was a statement by Morris Schmitt of Newark, chief counsel for the defense, that, "We're here to repudiate those charges of fraud, and, frankly, to throw the charges back into the teeth of those who made them."

Pre-trial reports indicated that there would be some real faces around town after the session, but in all except one instance this was not so. During cross examination of Mayor Marshall, defense attorneys produced evidence that Marshall knew of the existence of three-room apartments some time ago because his father-in-law occupies such a suite at Short Hills Village. Marshall denied that he in any way aided his in-laws in arranging for the place. At one point Marshall provoked the court by not answering a question yes or no. Judge Stein reminded the case and called upon him to come forth with definite answers to future questions.

William G. Chirgolis, architect for the development, testified that his plans and specifications were in strict compliance with all agreements. He said he showed maps to Colfax Association members and to Township Engineer Lennox with the 252 apartment figure at the very beginning. Lennox was called back to the stand and denied this, but defense attorneys did not cross examine him again. Chirgolis was subjected to severe cross examination but stuck to his original statements.

Nicholas Angleton, owner and developer, was the last man to take the witness stand. He said haltingly of the project at 182 (Continued on page 3)

Helena Crewmen To Hold Reunion
Thirteen former members of the crew of the USS Helena, meeting here at Terry Dempsey's Restaurant, 624 Morris avenue, recently made plans for a nation-wide reunion of men who served on the ship. Former shipmates were present from New York, New Jersey, Illinois and the District of Columbia. A campaign will be launched to notify others of the convention which will be held in a centrally-located city. The date and site will be designated later.

Dempsey and O. R. Point, who is assigned to the Navy Recruiting Station in Trenton, head the arrangements committee. The reunion brought together for the first time since the war-men who fought on the vessel between their commissioning in September, 1939 and July 6, 1942, when the ship was sunk by Japanese torpedoes in the South Pacific.

Regional Sophomore Dies Of Rare Leukemia Disease
All Springfield was saddened today at the death of pretty Virginia Kelsay, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Kelsay of 57 Colfax road. She succumbed to leukemia yesterday morning.

The attractive Regional High School sophomore known to her classmates and fellow Girl Scouts as "Giny," passed away in Memorial Hospital after receiving numerous blood transfusions. It is understood that on one day she received as many as five.

Giny died of the stem cell type of leukemia. Medical experts pointed out that it is the most vicious manifestation of the dread disease.

For the past two weeks her classmates at Regional as well as township residents have gone all in an effort to save the life of the popular high school sophomore. Her physicians, friends and neighbors all joined in the effort to preserve her life. Their best efforts were to no avail.

There were no signs of the girl because ill. However, there were no acute manifestations until Tuesday, March 18. She had attended school the previous day.

On that Tuesday she was taken to Orange Memorial Hospital where a diagnosis was made.

Following the confirmation of the dread ailment in which the white blood corpuscles consume the red corpuscles, Giny was transferred to the New York hospital which specializes in treatment of malignant ailments. Tests showed that she had blue spots on her body and that she bled easily.

Friends said the girl appeared to be healthy immediately prior to being stricken. Physicians described the case as "very unusual."

Her classmates collected a fund of more than $125 for flowers and other items. It is expected the remainder of the collection will be turned over to the Damon Hinson Cancer Fund which helped to finance Giny's hospital expenses.

In addition to her parents Giny is survived by a brother, Leroy W. Kelsay, Jr.

Ten Years Ago

An ordinance was introduced by the Township Committee which provided for a $2,000 bond issue to finance a municipal parking lot to be located at Center street and Hannah street, directly across from the Woodruff Bowling Alley and extending to Flomer avenue.

John Lawrence Kulp, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kulp of 119 South Maple avenue, was among five students at Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill., to receive assistant-ships for research and part-time teaching at various universities.
Kulp was to go to Ohio State University, Columbus, O. for his assistantship.

At its first annual organization meeting in the Legion Building, the Springboard Park Association elected Dr. George M. Hamilton as president. Other officers elected were: George D. Har'om, secretary; Frank J. Boebe, secre-

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ganska of Mountain avenue, left for Kelly Field, Texas, to enter training as an aviation cadet in the Army Air Corps.

The marriage of Miss Alicia
Eberle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Oskar Eberle of Edmund terrace,
Union, to Roland A. Dummigan, son of Mrs. John P. Dummigan of Haltersed way and the late Mr.
Dummigan, was held at the Meth-

"Thanks" and "An Apology"

FROM Helen Elliott

THANK YOU - Your quick approval and overwhelming response to the opening of our new MILLBURN SHOP WAS MARVELOUS. Also thanks to all the fine neighboring merchants who were so generous in their welcome.

OUR APOLOGIES - In spite of what we thought more than ADEQUATE preparation - we were "SOLD OUT" on a number of items. A steady flow from the kitchens did not prevent this. Many patient folks sat around and waited. Some thought we planned it that way - honestly we didn't.

So to keep faith with all - we repeat these features
this week-end.

There are now 400,000 Indians in the United States, compared to about 250,000 around the close of the 19th Century.

The last hour of the case was rushed along by both sides when Judge Stein indicated it may be necessary for the trial to go into a second day. In addition to Schnitzer, other attorneys representing the developer were Herbert Ellend and Samuel Daniels, both of Newark. Township Attorney Max Sherman represented Springfield, assisted by Lester Sandles who did most of the cross examining.

Senator Says
costly with every American.
"I'm for Ike—because he understands fully how our problems abroad relate to America's security. He has proved that he can get along with our friends abroad. They have confidence in his sincerity and in his judgment. He will be able to establish a foreign policy that is clear, effective, consistent and completely American."
"I'm for Ike, because we so desperately need a change from the exhaustion of ideas and ideals that characterizes the present administration and from the dangerous corruption that permeates it."
"The nation needs as never before the leadership that only Ike can give us. That, essentially, is why I'm for Ike!"
In supporting each of these reasons why he was for Ike, Senator Saltonstall continued:
"No man in our time—perhaps in all history—has had to carry the administrative burdens and face the executive problems that have faced General Eisenhower in this past ten years—first in his capacity as Supreme Allied Commander in the greatest war in all history, now in his equally grave duty as Supreme Commander of Allied Powers in Europe in the greatest effort for security and peace that the world has ever seen."
Apartment Trial Decision

Hitting Is Chief Concern At RHS

Bulldog Batsmen Fail to Impress Coaches to Date

By DONALD ROSSELET

A definite lack of hitting and experience is the main problem confronting coaches Bill Brown and John Muller in the Regional baseball camp. The Bulldogs, who lost seven of its varsity nine via graduation, have three lettermen returning. As a result the coaches seem to have plenty of work cut out for them. A heavy exhibition slate is planned for the coming week, during which time the Regional mentors expect to do a great deal of experimenting.

The Orange and Blue faces a 15-game card starting on April 8 with Summit here.

Charlie Schaffernoth, strong-armed catcher who won the Union County Conference batting championship with a .500 mark last year, returns as one letterman. His hitting should lead the local hitters, which Brown claims, have not been impressive to date.

However, this definite lack of power in the hitting department could be compensated by good pitching, which Regional coaches will expect. Letterman Bob Thwaites widens, one of the headaches last year, will have to be corrected if Regional is to have top-notch pitching. Thwaites was alternated with ace Bill Peterson last season, but Peterson was graduated last June. Also expected to figure in the pitching department are Mike Mascaro, freshman Joe Schaffernoth, Tony Wojciechowski, and Ed Ruby.

Although neither figures to displace Charlie Schaffernoth as the backstop, Harold Bolick and Pat Venice are listed in that position.

During the '51 campaign, Regional's infield and outfield were pretty much secure. The keystone combination of Richie Tomasetti and Al Zimmer was rated by many as the best in the county. Henry Pasquale, who finished with a .400 UCG batting average, was the first place guard, with Art Larson holding forth at third. The outfield had Bob Rogers in left, Frank Foster in right, and either Thwaites or Peterson in center, depending on who was pitching.

This year, Brown will have to do a major rebuilding and shuffling operation to find the best combination. Three seniors have the inside track to three infield slots. Bob Foley, who led the Jay Vets hitters last year, tops the first base aspirant list. Also mentioned as possible replacements for Pasquale are Ray and Joe Pope, although the latter is primarily a short stop. In that position, Joe will be in competition with John Keith for a starting berth. At second, Don Ried, a freshman, and Wojciechowski are the prominent possibilities. Third base candidates include Lou Lurz, and Gerry Redington.

The outfield will be comprised of the pitching crew, plus Bolick. An alumni contest has been added to the Regional schedule and has been set for May 10. The Bulldog card lists 15 games at this point, with one open date.

Two Teams Vie for Honors In Town Bowling League

Springfield Radio neared the local bowling tie with three wins over Rau Five, but Nelson's Texaco kept it from clinching the crown by winning three from Regional Shop. The league has one week to go in its schedule.

Springfield Market dropped from consideration although it won two from Hershey Ice Cream. Community Shop took three from American Legion and Battle Hill swept its series with Bunnell Brothers.

Walt Keller, of Community Shop, had a 506 series, including games of 460, 470 and 286, the latter being the second highest score of the season. Bob Anderson scored a 225 John Rillo a 224, Billy Sanko a 220, Harry Volz a 210, Wayne Pieper a 209, and Frank Edelen a 203.
