Town Board Hears Angry Demands For Two Hours

Following nearly two hours of bitter criticism and demands for immediate flood relief by more than a score of residents of the Henshaw avenue and Hawthorne avenue areas, the Township Committee last night authorized the hiring of a consulting engineer to work with Township Engineer Arthur H. Sports In The Sun

BY DONALD ROSSELET

Odds and Ends of Sports

Raymond Walsh, 12-year-old Springfield youngster, continues on a winning path in his horseback riding ventures. Ray took the NJSPCA hunting seat equitation event and the hunting seat horsemanship championship at the twenty-sixth annual Watching Riding and Driving Club horse show last Sunday afternoon in Summit.

Previously, Ray had qualified to ride in the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden, New York, next fall by winning the ASPCA horsemanship division at the Montclair Riding Club of West Orange's annual show.

Ray's first riding was done at the Watching stables . . . They tell us that the Legion put on quite a show for the benefit of Regional's baseball team last Thursday evening. The diamond squad, which recently completed a season in which it triumphed nine times in fifteen games, was guest of honor.

Ray Bell, quite an ardent fisherman, is the current leader in the striped bass division of the Elizabeth Daily Journal's annual fishing contest . . . For any horsehoe pitching enthusiasts, the John Rosselet memorial tournament, sponsored annually by the Union County Park Commission in cooperation with the New Jersey State Horsehoe Pitchers' Association, will be held Sunday, June 22, at Warrananco Park, Elizabeth.

The PBA, undefeated leader, looks like the team to beat in the local softball league. With victory number four safely tucked away, the Police team looks to the game with Bond Electric next Tuesday. That fray will end the PBA's first-round action, which it hopes will be a sweep.

As was the case in the Union County track and field championships at Plainfield several weeks ago, Art Curtis was the only Regional runner to win points for the local school in the New Jersey State cinder meet, jumping 11 feet in the pole vault for a second-place tie at Montclair Saturday . . . This writer passed through Montclair while the meet was in progress and we did see some of the color, pomp, and spirit of the contestants. Incidentally, Art will be back next year for another try at breaking the school pole vault record which was set by Fred Danneman in 1942. Danneman's height was 12 ft., 3/4 in. in a state track meet.

We've nothing further to report on the situation concerning the signing of Bob Thwaltes and Charlie Schaffernoth by major league baseball teams. Together during the season just completed, the pair formed Regional's top battery, which was rated tops in Union County diamond circles by many observers.

According to a baseball rulling set down a few years ago while A. B. (Happy) Chandler was commissioner, no high school player may be signed until after he graduates. That eliminates the possibility of either signing this week.

Schaffernoth and Thwaltes are both candidates for graduation from Regional on June 19. During the week, both are expected to be working out with major-league scouts.

Sewer Authority, state health officials and state Water Policy Commission.

The Henshaw-Hawthorne residents claimed the floods were less serious before the recent construction of a nearby housing development, which, they said, did not provide ample drainage facilities.

Township Engineer Lennox said the problem would have been solved two years ago if his advice to the state water policy commission that another Henshaw-Hawthorne sewer line be installed had been followed. "There's the solution," he said.

Lennox's plea that the problem be presented again to the policy commission was rejected when Binder said, "all we get is a thesis."

A final resident's protest was lodged by Mrs. Mae Hunton of 125 Henshaw Avenue, who said that an open end of a large township drainage pipe is exposed on her property. She said that flood waters rush into the pipe, endangering her children and carrying off soil. She concluded: "I'd hate like hell to have one of my kids go down through that pipe, and I've got five of them."

last fall and winter. It was inaugurated Deputy Chief Edward F. Delgman, of Elizabeth, probably will again be dean of the school.

A number of prominent authorities on fire fighting has been engaged to address the training school. Among them are several from the New Haven, Conn., fire department. There will be others from South Jersey departments. The first session probably will be held in September.

Plans were made for attending the Relief Firemen's Association convention in Atlantic City, September 12, and the Exempt Firemen's convention in Phillipsburg, September 27.

Fire Capt. Charles F. Post, of Rahway, association vice-president, presided. There were fifty firemen present representing departments in Springfield, Cranford, Rahway, Elizabeth, Roselle, Roselle Park, Union, Hillside, Fanwood, Berkeley Heights, Westfield and Garwood.

July 4th Campaign Starts Next Week

Next Wednesday evening, June 18, marks the opening of the Fourth of July Celebration (fund drive). A concerted effort will be made to cover many homes the first evening. Edward Hoffer chairman of the Fourth of July Committee explains, but that the drive will continue through the Fourth.

The celebration promises to be one of the best in recent years with all day activities climaxed with an outstanding evening program featuring a dance band, entertainment, and fireworks.

It is stressed that the program is made possible only by voluntary contributions, and residents are urged to donate to the committee representatives distributing identification tags in their neighborhood. Checks should be made payable to Theodore Schuss, treasurer of the committee. Complete details of the program will be announced shortly in the Sun.

If You Were a College President
If you were, you would be alarmed at the number of boys who fail to graduate. Like many other presidents, you would ask your Director of Admissions to give preference to boys who achieved good grades in English and who had a thorough training in reading. Carteret is aware of these requirements and offers remedial reading to improve the student's speed and comprehension, and stresses thorough preparation in English. Each year at Carteret abundant evidence is available proving the correlation between reading ability and high grades in all subjects. In addition, small group instruction at Carteret helps boys immeasurably in mastering their studies in mathematics, science and history.

Periodic aptitude and achievement tests are given as a means for guiding each boy towards his fullest development. Individual attention is given to improvement of reading habits, with complete equipment under supervision of a Psychologist.

LETTERS from Our Readers

Editor, Sun:
This is just to express a word of thanks for your invaluable assistance to us in our program for combating Springfield's problem with the breakage of street light bulbs and fixtures. Your cooperation in bringing the matter to the attention of the public will prove the most effective means of solving this company and the township's police department that could possibly be adopted. Your fine article in the Springfield Sun's issue of May 22 pointed out the hazards to the public at large which result when street lights are out of service, and I should like to add the fact that we have a very special problem insofar as our servicemen are concerned. There is very little danger, if any, in performing the operation of standing beneath a street light fixture and withdrawing a burned out bulb, but when the glass is broken, an entirely different situation develops. There are incidents of record where the jagged glass has fallen into the face of the re-

In an era that may see the culmination of man's long dreamed of plan to reach the moon, it is not surprising to see the increasing popularity of science fiction. Today's factual accomplishment in the realm of science has, in many instances, caught up with and passed both Jules Verne and Buck Rogers, so that the challenge to writers of science fiction is now greater than ever. The fact that they have met this challenge with excellent success makes for an equally great reward for the reader.

Woman's Club Activities During Past Year Shows Outstanding Record of Service In Branches of Springfield's Community Life

During the past year, members of the Springfield Woman's Club have been continually on call to help in youth activities. In April, 1951, the literature department participated in the American Legion Essay Contest on "Safety," which had been conducted in the two local grade schools. Fifteen papers were submitted and three winners were chosen.

Some of the club's most active members are also interested in Girl Scout activities. On June 16, 1951, the Girl Scout Strawberry Festival was a major event in Springfield. Besides a cash donation, the Woman's Club was happy to contribute in other ways. For example, the garden department made the flower coronets and bouquets for the festival queen and her attendants.

The original festival idea had been originated in 1950 by a club member. Springfield's first live radio program, by Bill Fitzgerald, KFM, and Home Entertainment for WJNR, organized by another club member, took place at the festival and highlighted the activities of the Springfield Girl Scouts that year. There are twenty-seven members of the Girl Scout Association who are also at present members of the Woman's Club.

The Brownie Day Camp, originated during the summer of 1951, had as leaders six active members of our club. Thirty-nine children attended during the two-week session.

Under the auspices of the Springfield Recreation Committee, financed by the Red Cross, free swimming classes are conducted for local children between the ages of seven to sixteen. Members of the youth conservation department and members of the Town Recreation Committee, arranged and supervised the daily trips to Rahnway pool last summer. Four hundred and eighty-five children participated throughout the summer.

Another club member was responsible for the formation of the local Parent-Teacher Association's Little Theatre group, which brought the Shalome Geynor Players to Springfield to present children's programs. This program, running through most of 1951, featured a series of three plays. More than six hundred children attended each performance. Sixteen Woman's Club members acted as hostesses and chaperones for the children; two members were in charge of tickets, and the chairman of publicity was also a Woman's Club member.

For three years, the Rotary Club sponsored the Halloween art contest. High school and junior high school students participated in painting store windows in our shopping district. For the 1951 contest, three members of the art department served as judges.

For the past two years, the art department has sponsored an art contest for high school and junior high school students, held in conjunction with the club art contest. The winning paintings have been submitted to the State Art Symposium each year.

In passing, it should also be mentioned that each year since the organization of our club, we have sponsored the attendance of a local high school girl at the NJC Citizenship Institute. In June 1951, Miss Catherine Tarade represented Regional High School and the Springfield Woman's Club. In June 1952, Miss Ella Mae Jain will be the representative.

In 1951, the major problem in Springfield was the passing of the referendum to authorize the building of a third local elementary school. Working to pass the referendum became the major project of the Springfield Woman's Club. Beginning in October, 1950, the youth conservation and civics departments combined forces to make our school problem their year's project. Realizing that part-time education vitally affects the future of our children, the Springfield Woman's Club, on February 7, 1951, adopted the following resolution: "Resolved: That, although we recognize the need for expansion in our rapidly growing town, the Springfield Woman's Club believes that all plans for the expenditure of large sums of money for public buildings should be delayed until the school problem is solved." At the same meeting, the civics department and the youth conservation department joined forces to sponsor a project to register new voters.

In the meantime, one of our members had been appointed the club's representative to the recently formed chapter of the National Citizens' Commission for the Schools. We are proud to state that she was one of the most active members of the commission.

During the same time, the PTA repeated its yearly project, a census of the town's families to compile statistics concerning the number of students who would attend local schools in the future. The civics and youth conservation departments, realizing that many newcomers to Springfield had not registered, although they were in favor of a new school, organized a campaign to urge all eligible voters to register. Following the PTA practice of dividing the town into twenty-one areas, the chairman of the two departments chose twenty-one captains from the Woman's Club to conduct the surveys in these areas. Six or eight workers, assigned to each captain, contacted personally every non-registered voter in their areas. Drivers and babysitters were made available. As a result of this project, more than one hundred and sixty voters were registered by the Town Clerk.

After the Citizens' Committee's recommendations were made public on March 21, 1951, the School Board proposed a school costing $850,000, to be built on a nine-acre tract, the referendum to be presented to the voters on May 22, 1951. The Woman's Club rolled up its sleeves and got busy! At the Executive Board meeting of April 26, 1951, it was decided to send a resolution to the Township Committee and to the Board of Education endorsing the proposed program and expressing the desire to support it wholeheartedly. At the regular business meeting the following week, a motion was carried to that effect.

During the week prior to election day, the Lion's Club sponsored a poster contest, "Why We Need a New School." In both elementary schools, three hundred and twenty-five children participated; five prizes and three honorable mentions were granted. The grade school children also participated in the campaign by making and wearing sandwich boards, with "Vote Yes" as the general theme. In many neighborhoods, the mothers organized their children into improper parades. It is impossible to tabulate the number of parents converted by their children's enthusiasm.

The Woman's Club volunteered to distribute brochures describing the new proposal to every home in town. This personal contact accomplished miracles! Many doubtful or probable negative voters were converted by the enthusiasm of the woman's club workers. At this same time arrangements were made for transportation and babysitters, where necessary, during voting hours. Each of the seventy-eight workers was instructed to indicate the location of strong "yes" or "no" votes in preparation for the next step in the campaign.

The PTA and Woman's Club again joined forces, choosing headquarters for each of the six electoral districts. Six Woman's Club members volunteered their homes as election day headquarters. Voting lists were checked at the polls by Woman's Club members and reports made to headquarters concerning voters favoring the school who had not yet appeared. Telephone squads contacted those people and cars were dispatched to take them to the polls before the nine o'clock deadline.

"Excitement" rose to fever pitch as the nine o'clock deadline passed in election night. An auditorium of anxious workers were thrilled to learn that the referendum had passed 1,105 to 809. A spirit of carnival prevailed!

The Woman's Club emerged from this victory, a tremendous force for good in our community. The May 24, 1951, issue of the Springfield Sun stated: "A stirring saga of a group of women aroused to action in an all-out battle to preserve for Springfield children the American tradition of a complete education tells the story of approval of the $850,000 school referendum here Tuesday. Behind the hard-fought struggle were the two hundred members of the Springfield Woman's Club."

In an editorial in the same issue, the publishers wrote: "... the tremendous victory and the heavy vote is due... to the combined efforts of the PTA and the Springfield Woman's Club... Others who helped put the new school across are too numerous to mention, but let it be known they have earned the heartfelt appreciation of all who have been so deeply concerned with this important subject."

So successful had been our efforts, that later, when additional funds were needed because of rising construction costs, a School Board and Woman's Club member, appointed to the Club at the October 3, 1951, meeting for Woman's Club support. The same procedure was carried out and the referendum passed on October 28, 1951, by a four hundred and fifty-four majority vote.

November 11, 1951, marked the completion of our project when the first shovelful of earth was turned for the foundation of the new elementary school. The Springfield Woman's Club feels that we have given the youth of our town a permanent reminder that we are always ready to uphold the tradition established by our forefathers of building for freedom.

The Club project for the coming year—has already been established. The resolution to sponsor a Senior Girl Scouting program was passed at the February 6, 1952, meeting.

During the past year departmental activities of the club were numerous and were executed with energy and enthusiasm by participating members.

The civics and youth conservation departments organized a Volunteer Service Cancer Unit, and their members assisted with the National Smoking Survey. Through the able assistance of other club members, they entered the "Build Freedom With Youth" contest.

On October 23, 1951, the drama department presented a one-act comedy entitled "Consolation" at Kessler Institute and earned money a good laugh from the patients. The show "Magazine Highlights" was presented at the April meeting of the club on Husband's Night.

In October, 1951, the Garden department joined other Union County garden departments and garden clubs in supplying hostesses for the Union County Flower Show at Trallside Museum.

Members of the international relations department made scrapbooks for the children's polio ward at the Saturday Hospital in West Delhi, India. Their charities included a care package for Korea and a donation to the Lazere Foundation, a French organization designed to help care for children suffering from tuberculosis.

In a recent report from the Membership committee, active membership was listed at 240; seventy new members having been received this year.

On December 10, 1951 the music department gave a Christmas program of carols for the Republican Club of Springfield and on December 16, their voices joined others in celebrating the lighting of the tree at the village greens. Members of the group gave a performance at Kessler Institute on April 7.

A highly successful luncheon, bridge and fashion show was given on the way and means committee on March 11 at Chanticleer. Many club members participated in distributing Civil Defense Air Raid Signal Cards to residents of Springfield. Club members also helped in soliciting blood donors for the Red Cross Blood Bank.

Park Commission Pools To Open

The pool and sand beach at John Russell Wheeler Park, Linden will open for the season Saturday. The opening, originally scheduled for May 30, was delayed with that of Rahnway Park because of a strike by park maintenance workers. Since returning to their jobs on May 28 park workers have made excellent progress in readying both pools, the difference in their opening dates results from major electrical and plumbing repairs at the Rahnway Pool which the Commission expects to open next week.

For the first week of operation, Linden Pool will open at 12:00 noon and close at 10:00 p.m. with good weather. Thereafter the pool will operate on a full schedule, opening at 10:00 a.m. and closing at 10:00 p.m. with children under 15 years of age admitted free until noon.

Al Nogli, Linden manager at Linden Pool for several seasons will once again serve in that capacity, assisted by Michael Grossman of Linden. Life guards this year include George Mays of Elizabeth, Linda Budin of Elizabeth, Bob Schueker of Linden, Steve Mikalis of Linden and Tom Grall of Cranford.
