FRIENDS!!

George M. Turk appears to be further away from the permanent postmastership than ever before... his failure to pass the examination is the talk of the town, in political circles anyway... Whether or not this means Tim Sheehan, who was the only candidate to pass the exam, will get the appointment is a moot question... certainly if it were up to the people as a whole in Springfield, the very largest majority of local Democrats and this newspaper, Sheehan would receive the nod... he's well liked, a real gentleman, has always been an outstanding civic worker and most important of all, he has proved he is qualified to hold that all-important position... but the selection of a postmaster goes beyond the boundaries of Springfield and the only way we can make our sentiments known in this matter is to write our Washington representatives now.

Received a phone call the other day from a woman who complained that Springfield should enact legislation which would make it mandatory for home owners to keep garbage covered at all times, whether they be in back yards or at curbs for pick up... she emphasized that it is common knowledge that flies spread disease and this would be a big step in the proper direction... we agree with the caller and suggest that the Board of Health consider the subject seriously at its next meeting.

The Township Committee just referred this following letter to the Chamber of Commerce and we believe its suggestions are very worthwhile and should be one of the first fall projects of the chamber: "... As a citizen who has to change buses at the church quite often, I am asking for a bench, preferably with a roof, on both corners. It would add an air of hospitality to the town, besides being a great convenience to many."

Even residents of Springfield will admit that certain finer sections of Long Island equal in dignity and appearance the very best areas of this community... last week a group of developers inspected the nearby-completed Short Hills Village apartment project with a view toward duplicating the same in a fashionable Long Island area... officials and residents of the town they have in mind are said to be very particular and undoubtedly it was somebody's suggestion that a development like Short Hills Village would be acceptable, nothing less... under the circumstances all of us should begin to feel pretty good about the distinction.

By the time you read this the heat wave may be over and another one on its way, but regardless of how goes the weather we defy anyone, anywhere, anyplace to tell us there's a hotter spot in town than the meeting room in the municipal building... we know taxes are at an all-time high, but we doubt if there would be any objection to the purchase of an exhaust fan, at least, to make the place bearable during meeting nights.

Regional Starts Groundwork On New Addition

Completion Set For Next Year, Board Hopes

Work has started in the $1,465,000 addition for the Regional High School. The giant building is expected to be ready for occupancy by September, 1953. The referendum in which the proposal was included was approved by voters in the six supporting municipalities of Springfield, Berkeley Heights, Mountain-side, Kenilworth, Clark and Garwood on November 13 last year. The margin was two to one.

The building will contain a new gymnasium, a renovated cafeteria, a number of class rooms and an enlarged auditorium. There also will be teachers' rooms, a health office and expanded library facilities. The total also includes an agricultural building which currently is nearing completion.

Originally it was urged that a new school be constructed. However, Regional School Board members pointed out that it would be more economical to construct an addition. The possibility of a completely new building was discarded after a study of the economic factors involved, it was said.

The board issued a statement pointing out that the building here originally was designed to be expanded for increased enrollment as needed. This factor loomed increasingly important in the face of a shortage of construction materials, it was said.

Facilities which would have to be duplicated include a cafeteria, $75,000; auditorium, $125,000; teachers room and library, $30,000; health office, $30,000; and development and grading of twenty acres, paving of roads, walks and parking area, $100,000.

The board has indicated its next project will be a new high school, possibly in Clark, since a Mountain-side project, was rejected.

Union County Park Patrolman Clifford Kohler took the injured boy to Police Headquarters from where he was removed to Overlook Hospital, Summit, in the First Aid Squad ambulance. He was released after treatment.

Town Flood Relief Plan Is Outlined

Detailed Reports Of Engineers Are Given To Public

An explanation of the procedure of the Township Committee in ordering various phases leading up to a comprehensive program of flood relief in the Henshaw Avenue area is contained in reports to Township Engineer Arthur H. Lennox by Elson T. Killam, hydraulic and sanitary engineer of New York City.

He reports: "The following is in reference to our inspection of the storm drainage problem in the stream around and tributary to Henshaw Avenue. Because of the very substantial area and the probability of progressive development, it may be anticipated that this stream particularly along the flat reaches where the channel is more or less parallel to the contours until such time as a comprehensive project of substantial scope is undertaken.

"I believe that the most effective method of reducing the difficulties at nominal cost would be as follows: To widen and deepen the channel in the reach immediately downstream from the outlet of the 36-inch pipe west of Henshaw. To widen and deepen the channel all the way from Henshaw to the outlet of the 36-inch pipe previously mentioned. To clear and slightly widen and deepen the channel in the section between Mountain Avenue and Henshaw.

"In reference to the last item, I believe that this would substantially increase the capacity of the existing 18-inch culvert under Henshaw and until a more general improvement is made, a second 48-inch crossing would not be fully effective.

"In regard to laying approximately 1,000 feet of 48-inch pipe paralleling the existing 36-inch line, I would recommend that the filling in of the channel and construction of a pipe be postponed until a comprehensive plan is developed for the entire length of this channel.

"It is obviously difficult and expensive to lay a line with so large a tributary area, approximately 300 acres, and provide a line big enough for future requirements when there is more impervious surface on the watershed and the flows are greatly increased.

"On the other hand, if a relatively large pipe is not laid, it will be found extremely difficult in the future, in all probability, to lay a parallel line, and in one instance three lines adjoining each other would be ultimately necessary.

"I would strongly recommend taking those previously mentioned temporary measures which will not involve anything which will later disappear and then recommend that a comprehensive plan be developed for the permanent channel.

"This is most essential because every culvert and every short reach such as those under consideration is greatly affected by the section immediately downstream, and whatever is done will furthermore influence the upstream section.

"The entire plan would obviously involve a project of excessive cost, and inasmuch as funds available will probably be limited, it appears essential that such expenditures as are made be directed to the points where the most improvement will be effected at a minimum cost, and this can only be done when what is built comprises a useful section of a long range plan.

"I would suggest that you recommend to the Committee that you be authorized to prepare a profile of the stream bed and banks with frequent cross sections and with details of all culverts throughout the length of the stream, if possible starting at the Railway River.

"When this is completed, I believe that it will clearly show where the next successive stages of improvement could most effectively be made.

"If for some reason the Committee insists on installing a section of the pipe without a plan, I would recommend that an attempt be made to obtain initially a right of way of sufficient width to allow for future supplemental lines.

"From an approximately computation, it would appear that the tributary area is approximately 320 acres, and that with a slope of 0.05 percent, it would recommend serious consideration of 54 inches as a minimum size because the cost over and above a 48-inch is only $3 a

Postmastership May Pass Into Republican Control

Regional School Bus Snag Acute With 6 Weeks to Go

A conference with representatives of several bus concerns brought promises to the Regional Board of Education, in special session Tuesday night, that bids will be offered in response to reauthorization for transportation service for 200 Kenilworth children.

With the opening of school only six weeks off, the board found itself without bidders a week ago for the Kenilworth run. Charles Shilleros, who for years has carried the Kenilworth children, declined to renew his contract this year stating he is entering an express business.

It was reported last night, however, that Mr. Shilleros, feeling a moral obligation not to leave the board stranded, has promised he will submit a bid. Charles Torzella, who already holds contracts for transporting Clark and Garwood children, said he will bid as did Walter L. Purvis, of Public Service.

All told of them many difficulties which have beset operators of school buses, including difficulty of obtaining equipment, losses of having buses idle much of the day and increased costs for drivers.

The board authorized reauthorizing for bids, to be received August 12.

Also discussed was the problem to be faced in the fall when the long driveway around the school will be blocked by construction work on a new addition to the school. Bus operators pointed out that even with police help, lining up of eighteen big buses along Mountain Avenue, mornings and afternoons, will create a dangerous situation, especially as hundreds of cars belonging to teachers and construction workers will be parked in the vicinity.

The operators urged the board to construct immediately an emergency driveway near the rear of the school so buses could use Clinton Avenue as a means of entrance or exit from school grounds.

Springfield Man Pays Fine For Overloading Vehicle

Fines totaling $156 were imposed against Moses Daly, of 64 Dwight street, Newark. He was found guilty of operating a car while he was on the revoked list. He also was charged with using fictitious registration plates.

Daly paid $100 and $3 costs on the first count and $50 and $3 costs on the second. He was apprehended July 21 in Morris Avenue by Patrolman Louis Quinton.

State Book Tells How to Avoid Shore Traffic Jam

"Traffic Jam Ahead," a new pamphlet issued by Attorney General Theodore D. Parsons, shows motorists going to and from New Jersey seashore resorts how to avoid much of the congestion and delay. The publication is one of a series of remedial measures taken by the State Coordinating Council on Traffic and Safety, of which Mr. Parsons is chairman, to relieve record-breaking volumes of traffic each week-end for the balance of the summer.

The leaflets, which were prepared by the Highway Department and the Bureau of Traffic Safety, Department of Law and Public Safety, will be distributed at Turnpike interchanges leading to and from the resort areas and at all main recreational centers along the Jersey coast. Other steps to ease the traffic jams include the erection of alternate route signs along the highways leading to the principal points of congestion; posting an inter-county secondary route system with numbers in the 500 series and emergency traffic control measures such as the use of additional lanes traffic bottlenecks and similar police control methods.

"The full success of these relief plans," Mr. Parsons said, "depends in large part upon the cooperation of every motorist traveling to or from the shore areas."

He appealed to drivers to cooperate in the following ways: 1—by using the alternate routes as outlined in the leaflet, "Traffic Jam Ahead," 2—by avoiding the peak hours of travel, which are between 10 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays for shorebound traffic and avoiding 5 to 8 p.m. on Sundays and holidays and 7 to 9 a.m. on Mondays for the homeward trip, and 3—by observing the emergency traffic control signs restricting turns at certain points or limiting traffic to one lane in one direction and similar emergency measures.

"While every available police officer and motor vehicle inspector will be on duty to help expedite traffic," the Attorney General declared, "each motorist can help further by being his own traffic officer."

This means, he said, in addition to following the three suggestions stated, to be constantly on the alert for signs of temporary traffic control operations, anticipating ways to avoid unnecessary tie-ups by not blocking intersections, refraining from needless overtaking and passing and by being friendly and cooperative toward others by proper signals and other courtesies of the road.

Mr. Parsons also reminded motorists that the increasing number of vehicles on the road this summer can mean accidents for the uncooperative driver. Clinging the highway tragedies in New Jersey during recent weeks, he urgently pleaded for everyone on the road to "remember and cooperate."

Democrats and GOP Here Hail Convention Results

Democratic and Republican leaders in this municipality today are surveying the results of the two recent National conventions in an attempt to ascertain what effect the selections will have on the political result in this municipality.

Generally speaking the result appeared to be satisfactory to the Republicans but the Democrats are not so sure that the party picked the candidate who will do the most good here.

One Democrat, who preferred not to be quoted, gave his reasoning along this line: "Perhaps Governor Stevenson is the right man but I'm not sure. After all it was Estes Kefauver who was the primary choice here and there may be some resentment about the way he was treated. If he had been given the vice-presidential nomination it would have been different but there probably will be plenty of people who will resent the manner in which he was rejected."

However, there are others of the Democratic faith here who are convinced that only the selections of Governor Stevenson could keep Southern Democrats from walking out of the party. They feel the Illinois governor, plus Archibald Alexander as candidate for U. S.

Dept. Can Order New Examination; Turk Fails In Bid

With Acting Postmaster George M. Turk failing to receive a passing grade there were indications today that Springfield's next fulltime postmaster may be a Republican.

Despite the fact that Timothy J. Sheehan was the only one of four candidates to receive a passing average, it did not appear definite that he will receive the appointment. Observers were inclined to doubt that either County Democratic Chairman Edward A. Whelan who originally endorsed Turk for the post or Congressman Edward Hart, who is in charge of New Jersey—Federal patronage, would recommend Sheehan. This belief was based on the fact that he chose to run as an independent nominee for the Township Committee three years ago.

However, the situation appeared today to be equally as bleak for Turk. The former local leader, who has held the postmaster's job in an acting capacity, failed to achieve 70 percent in the examination. He is considered the minimum for a grade. Also failing to attain a passing average was H. Stanley Glenn, an unsuccessful candidate for the Township Committee and Benjamin Denman, a Postoffice employee.

The Civil Service Commission has explained that no written examination was given. The scores are determined on a rating of a possible 80 percent for business or professional experience and 20 percent education. Sheehan scored 77.20 percent.

Charles B. Gelston, assistant director of the division of postmasters in Washington, said it is probable that Postmaster General Donaldson will instruct the Civil Service Commission to conduct another examination rather than send only Sheehan's name to the President for appointment, and ultimately, for Senate confirmation.

Indications are that it may be Congressman Hart who will decide whether Sheehan will be the new postmaster. Generally, it is understood, the Postoffice Department is reluctant to submit a list containing only one name.

It was pointed out that if the Postmaster-General calls for a new examination it is possible a list of three candidates might be established. In such a situation any of the three who are certified could be recommended for appointment. In such a situation, it was pointed out, Turk possibly could increase his score for he would have more than fourteen months of experience as acting postmaster to his credit.

But another examination together with subsequent certification would take time and in the present political situation there is the essence of the political observers are in the habit of saying. In the event General Eisenhower should be elected president he's not likely to appoint any Democrat to the post. However, indications are that regardless of who goes to the White House, there is better than an even chance the Democrats will retain control of the Senate. This body has confirmation power of postmaster appointments.

Turk probably will keep his job until January 4. After that the identity of the incumbent probably will hinge on the results of the November 4 election. On the basis of what has happened in other postoffices Turk may still be the permanent postmaster, in the event of a Stevenson victory. But if Eisenhower wins, some faithful Republican probably will get the job.

SWITZERLAND IS WORLD-FAMOUS FOR ITS SUPERB INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTS, AND ANNUALLY THE SWISS INDUSTRIES FAIR PUTS ON SHOW THE VERY BEST THAT SWITZERLAND HAS TO OFFER. THIS YEAR'S FAIR, APRIL 1951 TO 29, WILL BE HELD AS USUAL IN THE BEAUTIFUL CITY OF BASLE.

SPRING IS ONE OF EUROPE'S MOST DELIGHTFUL SEASONS. THAT'S WHY SO MANY AMERICANS TAKE EARLY VACATIONS THERE. MOST TRAVELERS ARE HERE AT THIS TIME, TOO.

DUBROVNIK, YUGOSLAVIA'S "PEARL OF THE ADRIATIC" WILL BE VISITED BY THOUSANDS OF TOURISTS THIS YEAR.

THE MAGNIFICENT SLOVENIAN MOUNTAINS TOO, WILL ATTRACT MANY OF THE VISITORS WHO ARE TAKING ADVANTAGE OF VERY LOW DETOURATION RATES FOR TRANSPORTATION AND ACCOMMODATIONS IN YUGOSLAVIA.

Treat Your Books With Great Care

Good books are treasures to preserve for present and future enjoyment. Too keep them attractive, dust them frequently. To insure a long life, handle carefully. "Dusting is not hard at all with a soft brush attachment on your vacuum cleaner," says Mrs. Margaret C. Shepard, Essex County home agent. "Run the brush over each book as you take it from the shelf. Then dust the shelf itself with the same tool. Do only one shelf at a time and lay books in flat small piles. High unsteady piles may fall over. Such a tumble can break the backs."

When you remove a book from a shelf for any purpose, grasp it with your fingers on either side of the middle of the bound end. Don't pull it out from the shelf by its fragile backing. You can tip it back gently by the top edge so you can set a firm grasp on it.

Old Age Claims Up Four-fold Since New Law

Since July 1, when the "new start" for claims under Old-Age and Survivors Insurance became effective, the Elizabeth office of the Social Security Administration has been receiving and processing quadruple—the number of claims of its normal operation, according to Leonard F. Savvel, manager of this federal agency in Union and Somerset Counties. As a consequence, both the local office at 1143 East Jersey street, and its branch offices in Plainfield and Somerville, have been thronged with claimants—with some delay.

Your Library

LIBRARY CLOSED AUG. 2nd to Sept. 7th (Inclusive)
For years the patrons of the Springfield Library have had one general complaint—the fact that only three-books could be borrowed on each card. Much to the pleasure of all concerned, this rule is temporarily lifted due to the summer closing.

Mrs. Leslie Joyner, Mrs. Arthur H. Lemmon and Mrs. Henry C. Muller.
Richard Tisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Tisher of 31 Bryant avenue, was elected president of the Freshman council of the Penn State Christian Association at Penn State College.

To accommodate residents of Springfield, rationing offices were opened in Town Hall.
Announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Jean Watson of Irvington to Edward J. McCarthy, Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCarthy of 45 Sutter street.

Many State Communities See Tax Rate Jump 100 Pts.

Four hundred and fifty-nine of New Jersey's 564 municipalities have higher tax rates in 1952 than they did in 1951 and 89 saw their tax rates jump at least 100 points in the last year.

Taxpayers Ass'n Slates Taxation and Economy Debate

Taxes probably will have more effect upon the life of the average American family next year than any other factor visible from this distance, according to the New Jersey Taxpayers Association. They will affect incomes, savings and almost every family decision ranging from a meat counter choice between bologna and steak to whether the children will go to college. This was stated yesterday by the Association in a news release.

Especially significant to New Jersey taxpayers will be Constitution Day, 1952. Falling on Wednesday, September 17, this will be the date of a discussion of taxation and economy in government by New Jersey's two major candidates for United States Senate—the Republican incumbent H. Alexander Smith of Princeton and his Democratic rival Archibald S. Alexander of Bernardsville. The occasion will be the Constitution Day meeting of the Board of Directors of the New Jersey Taxpayers Association at the Hotel Essex House, Newark. The meeting will be open to the public on invitation of the Board.

Interest of the people will lie in the fact that the successful candidate for the Senate will have much to do with shaping the country's tax future and, in turn, the welfare of every man, woman and child for the next six years as the Congress seeks to iron out the Nation's fiscal difficulties. Among the latter are the deficit-bound current fiscal year's spending program calling for appropriations of $0.1 billion dollars as against income variously estimated at $83.3 to 71.0 billion dollars. Overshadowing the fiscal picture is the tremendous national debt which now stands in excess of $90 billion dollars.

"The impact of Federal taxation is being felt by everyone," President George Stringfellow pointed out. "Candidates Smith and Alexander will be making an important contribution to the welfare of all the taxpayers in New Jersey by presenting their views on taxation and economy in government before this Association which is non-partisan and interested only in the welfare of the taxpayer."

"With the help of newspapers, radio and television, comments of these two candidates will be widely communicated throughout New Jersey, thereby contributing toward greater public understanding and interest in overcoming one of the most pressing problems now confronting the American people."

"Student Prince" To Open Aug. 11

One of Frank Carrington's finest operetta productions, "The Student Prince," will be the next summer attraction at the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn opening Monday, August 11 immediately after the close of the current run of "Show Boat."

The Sigmund Romberg work has always been one of the most requested musical shows in the Paper Mill repertory and in its latest edition, it will star Gilbert Russell in the title role. Russell scored an outstanding success in the first Millburn production of "The Student Prince." Most recently he has been in Hollywood. He was featured prominently in M-G-M's "The Great Caruso."

Opposite Russell, Carrington has cast Sylvia Karlton who will be making her Paper Mill Playhouse debut. While Miss Karlton has appeared in many of the nation's top operetta theatres, she has been busy when parts for her have been available in the past. Her appearance of Kathie on this occasion, however, will give a new highlight to the Millburn production.

A new Dr. Engel in the person of a favorite Paper Mill performer will be seen with the casting of Harold Patrick who has not been seen since last season's "Annie Get Your Gun." George Britton who played this role in earlier Paper Mill productions is currently engaged in the starring lead of "South Pacific" on Broadway.

Playground Activities

IRWIN AVENUE

Barbara Wood

"What are you going to do?" was the question heard all over the playground last week, as the children eagerly anticipated the costume show held last Friday. Many unusual and original costumes were entered.

First prize went to Robert Layman who was dressed as Tom Sawyer. Robert wore a pair of tattered jeans with one pant leg about ten inches shorter than the other, a plaid shirt, and to top it off, an enormous straw hat.

Other prizes were awarded to Thomas and Michael Goughigan who were almost identically dressed as cowboys.

Honorable mention went to Andy Shepard, dressed as a sea captain, and to Fey and Robert Sissim as Huckleberry Finns.

The arts and crafts program continues to be a bright spot in the week's activities. Lanyards and pot holders prove to be the most popular while bracelet making runs a close third.

The children are planning to entertain their mothers next week. Just exactly what they are going to do is still a big secret, but it surely will be a very interesting event.

Many thanks to Misses Ann Marie Wood, Myrna Chessler and Carol Hudson for judging the costume show.

Also a great big thank you to Mrs. J. Kisch, Mrs. Gargano and Mrs. A. F. C. Pannell, Jr. for sending over such delicious and cooling drinks every day.

Daily attendance is still high at the playground. The favorite games are still Pick-Up, Old Maid and Checkers.

In active sports, a new game, 21, has become popular. There is always a game going on in the gym. This game has given both boys and girls a chance to practice for the four-shooting contest which will be held this week.

Try-outs are now being held for the annual talent show which will be held August 14. Any child who would like to be in this show may sign up with the playground supervisors.

Betsy Barr won first prize of our hobby show, last Friday. Chrystie Jo Landrigan took second prize and Shirley Temple, third. Judy Thompson, Shirley Temple, Peter Conn and Bruce and Buddy Allison received honorable mention.

Tomorrow, Friday's show will be the Costume Show. This has always been a colorful event. Prizes will be awarded for the funniest, prettiest and the most beautiful costumes.

Pot holders were finished this week by: Kathy Detrick, Janet

D'Andrea, Robert Norman, Ray Mead and Laura Mertz, Ellen D'Andrea, Shirley Temple, Barbara Riddington, Richard Norman, Laura Mertz, Tim Stewart, Betsy Barr and Fred Teak made Lanyards.

Bracelets were made by Nancy Gakman, Susan Gakman and Katherine Slopka. Richard Norman completed a ring.

Lanyards were made by: Arleen Straver, Pat Carny, Ruth Zeoli, Maria Immarato, Hope Mills, Richard Johnson, Paul Battelle, Lorraine Reiter and Charles Johnson. Dennis McDonough completed a jump key chain and Richard Spickler and Geneva Guster made rings. Colorful pot holders were made by: Carl Reiter, Judith Sokota, Dennis McDonough, Paul Battelle and Delcie Zurawski.

Our checker tournament began Monday. We expect to complete it tomorrow, Friday. Anyone who wishes to enter may sign up at the playground. Fifty points will be awarded to the winners. The three children with the most points on closing day, August 15, will receive medals. John Bradley, Arleen Straver, Hope Mills, Ruth Zeoli and Maria Immarato are leading.

Many interesting hobbies were exhibited at our hobby show last Friday. Winners included Ruth Valois with her collection of foreign money, Maria Immarato with a beautiful doll collection, John Bradley for his collection of medals, Charles Johnson with a large collection of post cards from many interesting places, and Sue Kisch for her stamp collection.

Many thanks to our cooperative judges: Mrs. Samuel B. Immarato, Mrs. John P. Jerner and Miss Patricia Gahan.

Second prize was won by Ann Thompson who entered a cement model of his conception of Mars. Norman Muller took third place for his rock collection.

Tomorrow, Friday, we will hold a Costume Show. Any person registered may enter the contest.

Schaffernoth Signs Pact Of Chicago White Sox

Charlie Schaffernoth, Regional High's top-notch catcher, has been signed to a 1953 professional baseball contract by the Chicago White Sox of the American League. Charlie has been instructed to report to the White Sox spring training camp on the west coast.

Signed by Benny Huffman, White Sox scout in the Chicago area, Charlie chose the contract over several others which had been offered to him. Schaffernoth's high school coach, Bill Brown, recommended that the White Sox pact be accepted in the best interests of one of his prize pupils.

In the meantime, Schaffernoth has been playing in an independent league in Canada.

Charlie's ambition, according to his mother, has been to play pro ball since the time he was five years of age. "He lives, breathes, and eats baseball," she continued.

The Springfield boy batted .354 in 15 games during the season, collecting three triples and a pair of doubles.

Watching Troops Open Membership

Applications for membership in the Fall session of the Watching Riding Troops for Juniors, boys and girls with or without previous riding experience are now available at the Watching Stables, Glenside Avenue, Summit. The Fall session consists of ten rides and will begin on September 4.

The number of horses for troop use are limited; therefore, interested persons are urged to submit their applications at an early date to insure their being assigned to a class and horse of their choice.

The troops accommodate children from eight to eighteen years of age. There are sections in each troop for novices, intermediate and advanced riders. In addition to instruction in horsemanship, members of the troops will enjoy many rides over trails of the Watching Reservation accompanied by competent instructors.

At the moment, his paramount concern is to make good mountaineering ball.

Charlie played football and basketball at Regional besides the diamond sport, but a grid injury limited his athletic participation to baseball during his later years at RHS.

Schaffernoth's battery mate, Bob Thwaites, shunned a ball career for the present to enter Ithaca College this fall. Thwaites was considered by many observers as the top hurler in Union County.

Park Board Lists Playground Games

The 1952 Union County Playground Championships for boys and girls who regularly attend a supervised playground in Union County will be held on Saturday, August 16, at Warranaco Park, playground No. 2, Roselle, starting at 2:30 p.m. The Union County Park Commission has announced that to be eligible to compete in the county meet boys and girls must be the winners of elimination tournaments conducted on a city or town basis in the following championship events: checkers, pentonite, marbles, horseshoes, paddle tennis, quoits, ring tennis and foul shooting. Girls will also compete in jacks and hopscotch. Sectional eliminations in ring tennis and paddle tennis only, will be held at Scotch Plains playground for the western end of the county and Warranaco Park playground for the eastern end.

Local playground elimination tournaments, the Park Commission suggests, should be held on or before August 1, city and town tournaments August 6 and sectional eliminations August 8. Children who have not passed their fifteenth birthday by July 1, are eligible. Gold, silver and bronze medals contributed by the Elizabeth Daily Journal will be awarded the first three contestants in each event. The playground group winning the greatest number of points will receive the Championship Banner.

Turning to the Gridiron

The 1952 Regional High School football schedule is virtually the same as the eight-game card which the Bulldogs split last season. The only change, besides playing dates and sites, is the elimination of Barnardville as RHS contemplates its attempt to fill its slate with Union County powers by signing Westfield to a two-year contract. The pact calls for both games to be played at the Blue Devil field.

The Bulldogs open with Hillsdale at the latter's gridiron. Last season, Coach John Brown's men pulled a major county surprise by turning back the Comets, by 21-13. That was more than a victory for the Bulldog mentor, for he happens to reside in Hillsdale. A triumph this year in that category would again be welcomed.

Following an off-Saturday, the Bulldogs entertain Somerville. They will be looking for revenge as the Pioneers ended an eighteen-game Regional string with a 7-6 upset last year. Caldwell is next on the slate and again Brown would appreciate a win at Essex County town. He coached Caldwell prior to taking the reins at Regional.

Roselle and Union, in that order provide the opposition leading up to the Westfield affair. The Blue Devil will be a fairly interesting one for Regional. In its brief history, as compared to other UC institutions, Regional has had tremendous success in county games, save the annual Thanksgiving classic with arch-rival Rahway.

After the initial battle with Westfield, another goal country club, Linden, which defeated the Bulldogs in '51, leads up to the Rahway tussle.

Regional this year will be matched with six Union County eleven, one from Somerset and one from Essex. As we see it, the high spots will be the opener with Hillsdale and the windup with Westfield, Linden, and Rahway in succession.

For the boys who are to enter Regional this fall and who are interested in making the football team, Bulldog practice begins September 1.

Swim Meet Is Set for August 9

The 26th Annual Union County Swimming meet will be held at the Rahway River Park pool, Rahway on Saturday, August 9, starting at 2 p.m. Nineteen competitive events in classes of Seniors, Juniors and Midgets in both the men's and women's swimming division will be held, the Union County Park Commission announced.

The meet, sponsored by the Park Commission, is sanctioned by The Amateur Athletic Union and open to amateur residents of Union County only.

The program will consist of the following events: senior men—18 years and over, 100 yard free style, back stroke and breast stroke, diving and 200 yard free style relay; senior women—16 years and over, 50 yard free style, 100 yard free style and diving; junior boys—not having reached 15th birthday, 50 yard free style, back stroke and breast stroke, 100 yard free style relay and diving; junior girls—not having reached 15th birthday, 50 yard back stroke and free style and diving; midget boys—100 pounds and under, 25 yard free style and 50 yard free style; midget girls—80 pounds and under 25 yard free style.

The Plainfield Swimming Club which has dominated the meet events for several years is expected to successfully defend the club honors it has held since 1946. The Linden Pool Club and Rahway Aquatic Club are both considered good chances to wrest the women's club honors from the Watching Lake Swimming Club, winners for the last two years.

Applications for this meet are available at either the Linden and Rahway pools or the Administration Building, Warranaco Park, Elizabeth. Entries close at noon, August 6.
