FRIENDS!!

Looks as though the only way Springfield will get that new $50,000 library addition is for the public to approve same by referendum . . . and with local taxes skyrocketing the way they have that possibility appears doubtful . . . the Township Committee wavered in the direction of a direct appropriation at last week's meeting, as requested by the library board, but in the final phases of the discussion, decision was made to delay action until September 10 . . . Had A. B. Anderson and other members of his library board been on hand again the approval vote may have gone through, but with opponents outnumbering those who favored spending the money at this time, the governing body, as usual had no alternative.

With school opening slated for next Thursday, Board of Education authorities are asking parents to caution their children to cross thoroughfares at protected crosswalks only . . . because of the slice in bus transportation, there will be more Springfield children walking to and from school than ever before . . . police also advise motorists to be particularly careful as the school season opens and warn they will deal harshly even with the slightest of violations.

Rift between the Regional Board of Education and the Township Committee over parking of students' and teachers' cars grows wider as time progresses . . . why Regional doesn't okay use of the high school campus for that purpose temporarily is a question that should be answered . . . expenditure of more than $5,000 for the creation of other temporary facilities makes no sense, particularly if any portion of the burden is placed on Springfield . . . it's sorely situations like this which make for uncomfortable living and needless expenses.

Flood conditions here during and after heavy rainfalls has finally stirred the town hall boys into action . . . not only have they authorized an appropriation of several thousand dollars to clean out ditches and enlarge storm sewers, but a move already is underway to bring about concerted effort on the part of all Union County communities affected by the Rahway River to join in a campaign to alleviate the condition, with the aid, if possible, of county and state funds.

Town Seeks County Help On Floods

3rd Step Taken In Campaign Against River

A possible solution to the long-standing township problem of flood control along the Rahway River may develop as a result of the decision of the Township Committee to take the bull by the horns, or in this case, the flood by the crest, and seek outside help.

The governing board has written to the Union County Board of Freeholders urging assistance in a composite flood program along the Rahway River. In addition the committee has authorized Mayor Robert W. Marshall to contact Freeholder Albert C. Benninger relative to securing aid.

This will be the third step in the flood control program recently initiated by the township committee. The first two phases, according to Township Engineer Arthur Lennox have cost more than $7,000. Clearing of a culvert on the south side of Henshaw avenue cost $2,000, it was pointed out.

The program has centered on the Henshaw avenue and Hawthorne avenue areas where scores of residences in recent months have invaded Town Hall at sessions of the Township Committee urging remedial measures.

The measures included widening and deepening of a ditch which extends along the rear of homes on the south side of Henshaw avenue. The step was taken at the first phase of a long range program according to Mayor Marshall.

He pointed out that work on the ditch was considered necessary for alleviation of the recurring floods. That conclusion had been reached, he said, by Lennox and consulting engineers were in agreement.

The program also provided for construction of smaller ditches to carry water from the Hawthorne Avenue area to the main stream.

The Sun recently carried an explanation of the flood control procedure as issued by Edwin T. Killam, hydraulic and sanitary engineer of New York City.

The report was made following an inspection of the storm damage area. The essence of the report was that "because of the very substantial area and the probability of progressive development, it may be anticipated that this stream particularly along the flat reaches where the channel is more or less parallel to the contours until such time as a comprehensive project of substantial scope is undertaken."

At a recent meeting Edmund A. Bates, of 106 Henshaw avenue, told the governing board that during a recent flood his kitchen was under eight inches of water. The mud garbage was floating in the sink and silted the menace of pollution as a result.

What action the Board of Freeholders may take on a possible regional basis is problematical. Rahway, Garwood and other municipalities already have urged action by the county board. It is believed by some township officials that the freeholders will urge flood control of the Rahway River as a State aid project.

Voters May Decide Fate Of $50,000 Library Wing

Indications today are that sentiment in behalf of a referendum on the request of the Public Library Board for an appropriation of $50,000 is rising.

Hundreds of township residents have indicated they believe disposition of the project should be a matter of decision by the community at large rather than by the township committee. The governing board at its last meeting split on the request. Committeemen Fred A. Baldwin either should be present to vote on such important and controversial issues or resign and permit someone to be appointed to his post.

Consensus of residents, the Sun learned, is that the library addition is a worthy project and that additional space is badly needed. However, many persons believe that it must wait until the school housing problem is settled and until the flood control program here reaches the point where waters will no longer penetrate residential areas during periods of heavy rains.

Whether or not A. B. Anderson, president of the library board, and other board members will resign en masse in the event the request is turned down is not known. However, it was learned that this is a possibility. Anderson and the other board members, it was pointed out, have worked tirelessly to provide needed library accommodations and are becoming tired of constant municipal rebuffs.

A decision either rejecting the proposal, approving it, or authorizing a referendum is expected at the meeting of September 10. The referendum appears to be the most likely procedure, observers insist. This would take pressure off the township committee, which is an important consideration with Election Day only two months off.

Hunters Await Season's Start

New Jersey's Fall hunting gets under way on Labor Day, September 1, with the opening of the rail season, the Division of Fish and Game, Department of Conservation and Economic Development, announced today.

On this date properly licensed gunners may hunt for Clapper rail, commonly known as Mud Hen, Sora, less numerous rails such as the Virginia and King, and for Gallinules.

Sora hunting is best on the wild rice marshes and probably will reach its peak around September 15. Mud hens and Clapper are found in New Jersey's extensive salt water marshes. Technicians and wardens of the New Jersey Division of Fish and Game report that the supply of these fine sporting and eating birds is the largest in recent years.

Old-timers prefer to hunt Mud Hens at high tide and the greatest concentration of gunners and Mud Hens will be found during the storm tides in the middle of September. However, in recent years more and more gunners have enjoyed excellent sport hunting these birds by walking the marshes at low tide with springers or retrievers.

Despite the large kills which have been made for years during the periods of high tides, Mud

Regional Board Awaiting Demand For Payment Of $6,300 For Parking Lot

3 Truckers Fined For Overloading

Continuing the drive here on overloaded trucks, Magistrate Henry C. McMullen in Municipal Court fined three truckers Monday night on charges of driving overloaded vehicles.

Those who were fined were Michael Rudzinski, of 649 Eighteenth street, Irvington; Albert Rose, 324 Morris avenue, Newark, and Hines Brothers, 208 Livingston street, Newark. Each paid $200 and were assessed $3 costs.

Rudzinski also was charged with operating another overloaded truck. He was held in $200 bail for hearing September 8 on this complaint. The trio was stopped in South-Springfield avenue. One truck was overloaded by five tons, police said.

The magistrate processed nineteen cases. Fines totaling $726 were imposed. The included: Forrie Bryant, 60 Orleans place, Union, speeding, $10; Gerald M. Goodwin, 835 West Third street, Plainfield; $7 and George Wellman, 386 Stout avenue, Scotch Plains, stop street violation, $5.

Faculty Session Set At Regional

On Tuesday, September 2, there will be a Regional High School general faculty meeting at 2 p.m. to discuss the many problems in connection with the building program. The parking area has been excavated for the foundation walls for the addition. The new Agricultural building will not be ready for occupancy. There are problems involved in providing for a greater enrollment than last year with no additional facilities.

On Wednesday, September 3, one bus from each district will transport ninth grade students to Regional. The session will last from 8:30 to 12:00 for these students. Students will receive their schedule cards and will duplicate the daily route with shortened periods.

On Thursday, September 4, school will open for the entire student body. Changes in student schedules have been made during the month of August so that school will be in full swing at 8:30 of the opening day.

Municipality Will Ban Cars From Streets In Area

The Regional Board of Education, meeting Tuesday night for its monthly session, looked for a communication from the Township Committee in anticipation of a request for $6,300 to finance establishment of a parking lot for cars of students and faculty members. No letter was received from the governing board.

The township has indicated it may supply land for the project in the event the school commissioners will bear the $6,317 which has been listed as cost of the parking lot. Whether the board will agree on this phase of the proposal has not been indicated. However, it is expected in event there is disagreement, the board of education will submit a counter proposal.

The lot, if completed, would provide space for more than 150 cars of the students and faculty and administrative heads which are being forced off the present school parking lot for nearly two years because of construction of the $1,320,000 high school addition.

Township Engineer Arthur Lennox set the $6,300 figure for clearing and laying of cinders in the area. It has been reported that the Lennox survey was sent to the Regional officials with a request that the board pay for all, or most, of the project's cost. However, it was not received as of Tuesday night, board members said.

The site of the municipal owned lot is at Mountain and Rose avenues. At the meeting of August 13 members of the governing board were critical of the school board for its reluctance to use any part of its campus as a parking site. The board had urged the township to furnish the area. Both agencies agreed that parking of cars in Pieter or Mountain avenues should not be permitted because of traffic hazards. They also believed that nearby streets should not be used for parking purposes by the school groups.

Biertuempfel Urges Republican Unity

There can be no factionalism among Union County Republicans if they expect to contribute materially to a G.O.P. victory on November 4," Union Township Mayor F. Edward Biertuempfel, chairman of the Union County Republican Committee's executive group, warned today.

Pointing out that before the party's National convention both General Eisenhower and Senator Taft had adherents among county Republicans, the executive chairman said, "There should be no traces of pre-convention differences. Those who back the loser should get behind the Republican candidate. And it's equally important that the Taft supporters be welcomed back by those backed the general."

"Actually the party Nationally and in every State and county needs its maximum strength," the Mayor asserted. "Normally in presidential contests there have been more Democratic voters than Republican. All G.O.P. votes together with millions of ballots of independent voters who will support General Eisenhower will be needed to assure a Republican victory."

What all Republicans must remember is that an election was lost four years ago through overconfidence. A divided organization or one which is too complacent cannot contribute its proper share of effort to the campaign. The Democrats, now in control of the presidency, both houses of Congress and the entire federal organization can muster the aid of federal employees as well as millions of persons who are obligated for their jobs to the present administration," he pointed out.

"The executive chairman observed that in previous presidential elections the Democrats have been able to cut down the size of the traditional Union County Republican majorities. "We certainly must have unity to prevent this from happening this November," he warned. "We must operate on the principle that every vote is going to be needed and the days of making concessions are past. If we're going to win it must be with a united front."

Enrollment Is Nearing Quota At Kent School

Enrollment at the Kent Place School for the approaching academic year will show an increase of about 10 per cent, Miss Florence maximum enrollment, and applied Wolfe, headmistress, indicated in an announcement this week. Several school officials.

The 1952-53 academic year will mark for Miss Wolfe her first term as headmistress. She assumed the leadership of the school a year ago as acting headmistress and took office as permanent director last July first.

Many plan improvements have been undertaken during the summer holiday, and Kent Place girls will return to find attractive and interesting innovations. For the boarding students the Mable House dormitory has been redecorated. New paint, wall papers, rugs, draperies, TV set, and other furniture will combine to help students and faculty enjoy a successful year.

Caddie Files $100,000 Suit Against Baltusrol Club

Robert Deller, 14-year-old caddie of Shunpike road, has filed through his father, Franklin Deller, a $100,000 damages suit in Superior Court, Elizabeth, against the Baltusrol Golf Club. He charged he was injured there August 16, 1951, when struck by a golf club.

The boy claims he was standing in the caddy assembly area when he was struck in the head by an iron. His attorney, Harry Cohn, of Newark, said the iron was thrown by another boy during an argument between a group of caddies.

The attorney said the boy had been hospitalized for a considerable time while severe injuries were treated. The suit contends the club should have provided a safer area for the boy.

The boy asks recompense for injuries totaling $75,000. His father, setting forth the care and expense necessitated by the incident, sued for $25,000.

A similar suit also has been filed under the Workmen's Compensation Act, Cohn said, adding that a court determination of Deller's legal status (as an employee or invited visitor of the club will decide under which suit the case will be tried.

Regional Finally Gets Bid For Boro Transportation

The Regional Board of Education finally has obtained a bus operator who will transport its Kenilworth students. He is Charles Shalloross, of Kenilworth, whose bid was the lowest presented at the monthly meeting Tuesday night. The figure was $10,000.

Three other bidders submitted estimates including Public Service Coordinated Transport, whose bid was based on a daily service charge.

Originally no bid was submitted for Kenilworth transportation. Worried, the board urged bidders to submit figures and they agreed to do so.

Shalloross has held the Kenilworth contract for years but did not plan to submit a new bid because he was entering the express all bus contracts now have been let. Supervising Principal Warren W.

Amy Plans Bang-Up Time For Kids At GOP Picnic

Pony rides were promised several thousand "young" Republicans if they get their parents to take them to the county-wide Republican picnic at the Old Log Cabin, Clark Township, on September 6 at which Senator Richard M. Nixon is expected to make his first appearance in New Jersey.

Mrs. Amy Bandomer, Springfield, reporting on the children's activities planned for the picnic during a committee meeting held Thursday night at Republican Headquarters, 433 South Avenue, Westfield, stated that in addition to eight ponies for the children to ride, a series of activities had been planned for each age group from 7 to 12.

Freeholder Nelson L. Carr, Elizabeth, general chairman of the picnic committee, received an enthusiastic report from Fred Haley, Freeholder, chairman of the ticket committee, that a "sell-out" was expected on the 10,000 tickets distributed for the picnic. Haley stated that own quotas had already been met by Cranford, Rahway, Mountainside, Elizabeth and Springfield, with demands coming in for extra allotments.

Harvey Whitcomb, Plainfield, chairman of the speaker's committee, stated that further assurances had been received from State Republican Chairman John Dickerson that there is a "99 per cent chance" that Senator Nixon, Republican vice-presidential candidate, will appear as the main speaker at the picnic. Definite word was reported also that Governor Alfred E. Driscoll, Senators H. Alexander Smith and Robert C. Hendrickson, Representative Clifford C. Case, and State Senator Kenneth C. Hand will attend.

Final plans were announced by Carl Volbinger, Roselle Park, chairman of the sports committee for enough different sports events to make every Republican in the county a "champion" instead of just the candidates running for office. In the list of events planned, Volbinger mentioned a golf-driving contest, a hole-in-one event, a tug-of-war, a fat man's race, sack race, and others. Enough prizes to give each "champion" something worthwhile to take home were promised by Ed Pizzi, Summit, chairman of the prize committee.

Getting back to the serious side, Ed Roedel, Elizabeth, Commissioner of Registration for Union County, announced that a booth,

"That the Word of God understood, gives mankind power to heal the sick and cast out evil will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" in Christian Science churches this Sunday. Text is: "God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ." (1 Cor 4:6)

Among the classics from the King James Version of the Bible will be the following: "Thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, 'This is the way, walk ye in it, when ye turn to the right hand, at when ye turn to the left.'" (Isa. 30:21)

LET'S LOOK AT THE DICTIONARY

Citizens who seek a better understanding of the numerous problems resulting from population growth in New Jersey, today will do well to turn to their dictionary, according to the New Jersey Taxpayers Association. The Association recommends that they distinguish clearly between two words that are often used interchangeably—community and municipality.

"A municipality," says the Association, "is a city, borough, town or township having powers of local self-government, which it exercises throughout an area having definite geographical boundary lines."

"The word 'community' refers to the people of a particular region or area who have interests in common." Most New Jersey municipalities were established years ago. At the time, their boundary lines were designed to contain what was then the community. Meantime, through growth of population and through the dispersion made possible by modern transportation and communication, the communities have spread over the municipal boundaries into the surrounding municipalities. The community has grown larger, while the municipality has often retained the same boundary lines. As a result, many municipalities today are feeling community pressures and demands for water, sewage disposal, police protection and other services from the community fringes, which are actually located in adjoining municipalities.

"With more clear thinking on the fundamental difference between a community and a municipality," says the Association, "many people who are groping for solutions to the problems of providing adequate municipal services would be encouraged to study more carefully the solutions that can be found by establishing various types of cooperative arrangements. In some areas this

I've just heard a wonderful story... and it's about you!

Do you know why your ears were burning a bit ago? I was listening to a wonderful story about a Defense Bond owner. A thrifty, patriotic person, one I respect and admire. You.

You're writing the most exciting success story the world has ever seen. And I'm proud of it; for you see, I'm on the same team. I'm a Defense Bond owner, too.

FIRST—Thanks to new Treasury regulations, every Series E Bond we buy begins earning interest after only 6 months. It earns 3% interest compounded semiannually when held to maturity. It reaches full maturity value earlier (9 years 3 months) and the interest it pays is now bigger at the start.

SECOND—Every Series E Bond we own can now go on earning interest for 10 more years after it reaches the original maturity date—without our lifting a finger!

THIRD—During the 10-year extension period, every unretired bond earns at the new, higher interest rate (average 3% compounded semiannually). Our original $18.75 can now pay us back $33.67. $37.50 pays back $67.34. And so on.

FOURTH—When we make ourselves and our families economically secure through buying bonds, we're helping to build the great economic strength that backs up our national defense. And this is the best security our money can buy. For after two world wars we have found that peace is for the strong!

Award Bids To Finish Parkway Interchange, Bridges By April 15

Contracts to complete the Route 29 Interchange with the Garden State Parkway including the new bridges over Morris av. by April 15 and the Morris av. to Mill rd. section of the Parkway a month later have been awarded to the lowest bidders by the New Jersey Highway Authority, builders of the Bergen County to Cape May super highway.

The contract for completing the Route 29 and Parkway interchange calls for paving the route as far as Morris av. as well as constructing bridges to carry the Parkway and the westbound lane over Morris av. (SEE CONTRACT "A" IN ACCOMPANYING SKETCH). An contractor to perform this work was awarded to the firm of George M. Brewster of Bogota, the lowest of five bidders at $2,024,820.

Six contracting firms submitted bids on the 1.3 mile Morris av. to Mill rd. section (SEE CONTRACT "B" IN SKETCH) which includes construction of bridges at Vaux Hall rd., Elizabeth River, North Union av. and a branch of the Elizabeth River. The successful and lowest bidder on this section was the firm of J. F. Chapman & Son of Hillside which will do the work for $1,943,306.

Completion of the contracts next spring will extend the Garden State Parkway from Cranford through Union Township and as far northward as Mill rd. at the Union-Essex County line.

A State-wide referendum on the November 4 ballot will determine the nature of the permanent financing. With referendum approval the Authority will be able to save between seventy and eighty million dollars in finance charges by issuing State-backed revenue bonds bearing an interest rate of

2 per cent or less for the construction of the entire route. The Garden State Parkway is planned to extend from the Bergen County-New York State line to Cape May, a distance of 180 miles. Leading consulting engineers have declared the entire route can be completed within three years as a self-paying project if approved by the voters next November. Approval will result in an initial annual saving on finance costs of approximately $3,000,000 a year. The Highway Authority has specified that the Route 29 interchange including bridges must be completed by next April 15. The Morris av. to Mill rd. section is scheduled for completion one month later.

Garden State Parkway Film Available To Organizations

TRENTON, Aug. 27 — "Your Garden State Parkway," an 18-minute color-sound motion picture, is being released by the New Jersey Highway Authority as a public service to acquaint the public of New Jersey with facilities the Garden State Parkway will offer when completed, Randolph J. Abbott, chairman of the Authority, announced today.

The film will be available for bookings before women's, civic and service clubs and business, industrial and other groups throughout the state after September 15. Plans of the Authority engineers to relieve northern metropolitan New Jersey of "traffic strangulation" and freedom from "bumper-to-bumper" traffic for coast-to-coast motorists from the metropolitan areas are told in animated drawings and actual scenes of congested traffic, according to Mr. Abbott.

In Essex County, the film points out, there are now 300,000 vehicles a day moving in north and south traffic lanes, overloading city streets and slowing movement in all directions. The parkway will absorb between 60,000 and 80,000 of these north-south cars and so improve safety and cut down driving time for motorists both on and off the parkway system in the area.

Running south from the New York State line through Bergen, Passaic, Essex, Union and Middlesex Counties, over the Raritan River, through Monmouth, Ocean and Atlantic Counties all the way to the tip of Cape May, the parkway will serve more than 3 million people directly. It will provide those who do not use the parkway in all other parts of the state much freer driving conditions, according to the film story.

Governor Alfred E. Driscoll, appearing briefly in the film, declares the speedy completion of the Paper Mill Gallery Shows Pastels, Water Colors By Two N. J. Artists

During the current run of Sigmund Romberg's ever popular "The Student Prince" the gallery of the Paper Mill Playhouse of Millburn is holding an exhibition of pastel by William C. Jensen of Springfield and of water colors by Kenneth Brown of Plainfield.

The work of both artists, while a trifle "modernistic" in style, is distinguished by vigor of drawing, freshness of color and by an agreeable variety of subject matter, landscape, marine and architectural.

Mr. Jensen took up painting only a few years ago, when a severe illness put an end to his activities as Sales Manager for the Park and Tilford Import Co. He declares he was inspired by Winston Churchill's book on "Painting as a Pastime." A copy of one of the seascapes in the present exhibition "A bit of New Jersey" was presented to the English Prime Minister who acknowledged it by a personal letter of thanks.

Mr. Brown after being discharged from the service in 1945 studied design at the Franklin School of Professional Arts in New York. He also attended the Newark School of Fine and Applied Arts and is now employed by Brat and Co. of New York as a display decorator.

Regional Grid Practice To Commence On Monday

Bulldogs To Launch Season On Sept. 20 at Hillside; Westfield Added to Slate

Regional High School football fans can look forward to seeing a team in action this year which is composed mostly of underclassmen, according to head coach John Brown. The Bulldog mentor also said there would be some shifting of positions for several players.

Couch John Brown's eleven, which begins an eight-game end on September 20 at Hillside, will depend a great deal on last year's freshman team material. The Bulldog coaching staff (Brown, Lou DeRosa, John Muller, Ed Ruby, and Dave Pavlin) thought the 1951 frosh outfit was an exceptional team, probably the best first-year squad in RHS history. Brown also expects a good freshman showing this season and next year hopes to mold both into his starting array.

The major changes in this season's team put Judd Herman at end, Ed Ruby at tackle, and Jack Keith at quarterback. The first-mentioned player was Brown's first-string quarterback last year, but Keith probably will be given the nod on his better passing ability. Ruby did operate at tackle last year in varsity competition. The Bulldog mentor expects to work Chet Boyce and Don Ried into the backfield. Both were frosh sensations a year ago.

Again this year, Brown will use this campaign as a rebuilding year. He feels that on what the team did last season, it will be "work," determination, and a will to work," Brown said that the initial practice season has been set for September 2.

The Bulldogs will play the same schedule as last year, with the exception of Westfield, which replaces Bernardsville, Westfield, Hillside, Railway, Regional, and possibly Lipden have been regarded by most observers as the pick of the county Group III crop for many years. With the addition of the Blue Devils this season, the Bulldogs now will play each of the top group III powers.

Negotiations for the Regional-Westfield series have been underway since 1946, the year Regional leaped to the peak of the county clubs. From '46 until last season, the Bulldogs did not lose more than one game in any single campaign. A Westfield-Regional attraction a few years ago might have drawn in the neighborhood of 10,000 persons, but today it might draw up to 3,500. The latter figure has been almost unobtainable in Union County circles.

Regional's following in 1951 saw one of the smallest and greenest teams in Group III split an eight-game card. Another small team is anticipated for the coming campaign, but the experience should be more evident. "The days of big teams at Regional are gone for a few years," Brown asserted. Holdovers from last season include Tony Brome, George MacKenzie, Harold Grapethin, John Nadassy, Don Plicko, and Harold Bolick.

Scrimmages have been scheduled until Summit (an ex-Bulldog opponent), Millburn (also a former RHS foe), and Burlington.

Garden Topics

By Essex County Agricultural Extension Service

Now is an ideal time to either start a new lawn or improve the established turf. The latter probably has suffered this summer from insect or disease damage or from unfavorable weather conditions. Unfavorable, that is, for lawn grasses but not for crabgrass. Fall is preferable to spring for seeding grass. For one thing the soil temperature is such as to get the seed germinated, quickly. Then the damp nights are less apt to allow the surface to dry out enough to lose newly germinated seedlings.

If possible, the soil should be improved or fed and spaded ahead of seeding so as to have a good seed bed and to kill any weed seeds—germinating from seed in the top layer of soil. For a newly seeded lawn one should apply materials such as organic matter, lime and fertilizer prior to spading or rototilling. Once the materials are well mixed with the soil, a good job of leveling is then in order. One should roll and rake until there are neither depressions nor high spots left. The latter dry out and do not absorb rain water whereas water settles in the low spots to ruin the lawn in those areas.

Selection of high quality seeds is important in obtaining a satisfactory lawn. In the cheaper grass mixtures a greater percentage of the seeds are of the temporary grasses which are short lived. One should also note the germination and purity of the seed on the tag on the seed bag.

The right type of seed mixture to choose will depend upon the conditions under which the grass is to grow and the kind of lawn one wishes to have. Such factors include type of soil, amount of sun and shade, slope of area and future care and time to be given to the lawn.

Sufficient moisture in the soil is a necessity for germination of the seed and growth of the young seedlings until they are well established. One should water with a fine mist-like spray so as to keep the top half inch of soil moist until the seed germinates. After that water only as often as necessary. Avoid excessive watering as it harms the roots of the plants. In hot weather it can cause sunscorch and disease of the young turf.

The public is invited to see Essex County Agricultural Agent, R. E. Harman, prepare and seed a new lawn, repair an old lawn, use weed chemicals and hear descriptions of such more made at the Groves Cleveland Birthplace in Caldwell at 2:00 pm, September 6th.

Lecture On Gem Cutting

A special program "Lapidary and Jewelry Work" will be presented at the Trailside Museum in the nursery area of the Watchung Reservation on Sunday, August 31, by Eric E. Dixon of Summit, member of the Lapidary Society of Newark. The demonstration and exhibit will start at 2:00 p.m. The public is invited.

Dixon is a machinery designer whose hobby the past 20 years has been the cutting and polishing of precious and semi-precious stones and mixing them into jewelry for his family and friends. He will set up his jewel-cutting machine and diamond saw at the Trailside Museum and demonstrate the cutting and polishing of gems to visitors, some of whom will be allowed to help him in cutting and polishing the stones.

SAUCE REPORTS MAN St. Petersburg, Fla. (INS)—The St. Petersburg Times chuckled Saturday over a refreshing twist to the flying saucer series. Some prankster telephoned the newspaper to say: "Hello, this is a flying saucer. I want to report a man."

Sports In The Sun

By DONALD ROSSELET

Keeping in Touch

Bill Koenig, ex-Regional High first-sacker is performing for the Summit Red Sox of the Inter-County League. Bill wanted everyone to know that at last he has hit a home run. . . . Frankie Chorniewy, whose 85-yard touchdown run against Railway on Thanksgiving Day, 1948, will always be remembered by this writer as one of the greatest plays he has seen, has turned his talents to the diamond sport. Frank is patrolling leftfield for the Roselle Park B.C.C. of the Union County League. . . . Regional lost that '48 gridiron classic to the Scarlet, 13-8, as the home team rallied for two TD's in the final half to win.

Regional High School athletic director Bill Brown was awarded a Master of Education degree on August 15 at the University of Maine, where he underwent a six-week summer course. He will remain in Maine with his family until shortly before RHS begins the new term. . . . One of Brown's proteges, Herb Pomroyer, is currently adding the Maplewood Maples of the Essex County League to their second straight loop title.

Odds and Ends of Sport

Rumors, those awful things that seem to circulate faster and farther than the blood in a human body, have told us that an attempt to bring Roselle Park and Regional together early in the grid campaign was made, but previous schedule commitments forced the cancellation of plans for the proposed series. . . . Our piece in last week's paper entitled "Baseball in Dred in Springfield" brought no response. Apparently, there is less interest in the sport than we had imagined. . . . However, we did notice something, a consolation you might call it. An influx of youngsters swinging tennis rackets seems to have invaded the township. You can credit the recent "eraze" to the Recreation Committee's tennis instruction classes, which were conducted a few years ago.

In the last several years, swimming has become part of the summer ritual of Springfield's youths, thanks to the local Red Cross unit and the Red Board's supervision.

According to the sports lead this week, football already is back in the spotlight. However, this is merely an advance story and the high school gridlers around the county have not yet taken a firm foothold in the sports news. Next week's SUN will hit the newsstands after Regional practice begins. Thus, football by then will be the main issue of the day to many sports fans and the SUN will have complete coverage of the Bulldog training grind.

Why You Should Register

(This is first of a series of articles on registration)

Why You Should Register By Henry Reed Bowen, Chairman New Jersey Non-Partisan Register and Vote Council

More than 900,000 New Jersey citizens will be unable to vote in this year's Presidential election unless they place their names on registration lists before September 25. Less than a month's time remains for this 30 per cent of our population to take action if they are to participate in the choice of our government for the next four years.

Certainly all of these unregistered citizens have a stake in the outcome of the elections as large as that of registered voters.

Certainly most of them have—or will have—definite opinions about the men who are running for office.

Yet none of them will be able to make their voices heard when the election is made. None of them will be able to share in the decision, unless they take positive steps to register before September 25.

All citizens are entitled to vote. Yet only those who have placed their names on the official lists of citizen voters, in the communities where they live, will receive ballots at the polling places on Nov. 4.

The reasons for registration are obvious—to provide "checked" lists of those eligible to vote; and to prevent fraud in the voting. Few would object to the registration requirement.

Yet three out of every 10 New Jersey citizens are unregistered today. Three out of 10—30 per cent of the population—have disfranchised themselves by failure to register with their local election officials.

The privilege of voting is one of the major characteristics of our American system of government.

We have fought our wars to preserve it. If it were taken away forcibly, we would be keenly aware of our loss. Yet 900,000 people in New Jersey have given it up as not worth the bother.

How about you? The deadline is September 25.
