FRIENDS!!

Tuesday's scant 200-vote margin of victory for the regular Republican forces in Springfield was entirely too close for comfort and observers freely predict the town hall boys will be settling down to some serious business soon to avoid any possible recurrence of so near a defeat. . . the third district, where flood conditions have sent residents on a rampage, came within a hair's breadth of spilling the entire result in favor of Fran Keane and George Marchev, independent candidates for Township Committee. . . Charles Remlinger, newcomer on the committee, and Art Handville are well acquainted with the situation and probably will waste little or no time in finding a solution to problems responsible for the protest vote. . . with Mayor Robert Marshall coming up for reelection next year, it is expected he will lead the crusade to dry up the basements in the Henshaw-Hawthorne avenue areas!

The local result was known about a half-hour after the polls closed. . . in the midst of all the hoopla and howling at GOP headquarters shortly before 9 p.m. Marchev, Keane and their campaign manager, Eugene Becker, strutted smack into the middle of the victory celebration and congratulated the successful candidates. . . got to hand it to them for that!

The Frank Cardinal incident, involving suspension of the tax assessor last week by the Township Committee, is said to be hot enough to burn the toughest pair of hands, particularly those who think they know all the ins and outs of the case and are foolishly speaking too freely on the subject. . . even newspapermen, under direct orders from their superiors, are proceeding with extreme caution, citing only the facts as they stand and avoiding any editorial comment whatsoever.

Springfield's Morris avenue business district has taken on a new look and the comments are gratifying and pleasing to the ears.

Grand Jury May Hear Cardinal Case

Darby Urges Action by Prosecutor

A charge that several township officials were parties to a conspiracy to defame Tax Assessor Frank E. Cardinal, who last week was suspended by the Township Committee, was made today by his counsel, former Township Attorney Robert F. Darby in a letter to Union County Prosecutor Edward Cohn. Darby requested the case be presented to the Grand Jury.

Considerable conjecture centered over the next move as Cardinal, lone Democratic member of the three-man tax assessors' group, struck back at the governing board after being suspended as a result of undisclosed charges made against him in an affidavit by Herman Kohnspan, operator of the Colonial Auto Sales in Route 20.

Darby already had claimed the Township Committee lacked the power to suspend Cardinal, Township Attorney Max Sherman disputed this contention. Darby has maintained that no "public interest" was involved since the complaint, he said, did not involve money.

Darby told the prosecutor he had made an independent investigation and was satisfied that Cardinal was not guilty of any acts of intimidation as charged. He asserted that his findings indicated facts surrounding procurement of the affidavit establish that several township officials and others were a party to a conspiracy to defame Cardinal.

Darby offered to aid in the investigation if his assistance was needed.

Darby's letter follows: "Within the last week certain officials of the Township of Springfield (Continued on page 2)

Work Continues on Apartment Project

Work is progressing on construction of a two-story luxury colonial style garden apartment on two acres at 45 Morris avenue.

The project is owned by Elmer Walker, who also is the builder of the project, Frank H. Taylor and Son, Inc., arranged construction and financing.

The development is scheduled for completion in February. It will contain four three-room apartments and fourteen with four rooms each. There will be a 30-car garage compound in addition to outdoor parking facilities.

A special feature is found in the fact that ground at the rear of the property has been reserved for tenants interested in gardening as a hobby.

Springfield Sun Sold

Raymond Bell, editor and publisher of the SPRINGFIELD SUN for the past five years, this week announced sale of the newspaper to Sam O. Sarokin and his son, Julian, residents of Springfield. Bell, head of Ray Bell & Associates, real estate and insurance firm, announced he soon will begin to devote full time to that line of endeavor.

It has also been announced that, in addition to the newspaper, the Sarokins have purchased "SUBURBAN LIFE," a long established monthly magazine. Formerly known as the "Oranges and Montclair," the publication is devoted to gracious living in New Jersey, and will also have its editorial offices in Springfield.

Sam Sarokin has been connected with newspapers for more than 35 years, having worked for the New Orleans Item, New York American, Cleveland News, New York Evening Mail, Hudson Dispatch and other newspapers, and since 1940, has been publishing the New Jersey Industrial Directory.

Julian Sarokin is assistant advertising and public relations manager at the Cooper Alloy Foundry, Hillside. He edited a monthly publication issued by the Industrial Marketers of New Jersey and is now Treasurer of that organization. He served with the 9th Air Force in the European Theatre during World War II.

New owners of the newspaper have faith in the future of Springfield and the Sun will continue to make every effort to encourage the proper development and growth of this community.

Second Overload Brings Big Fine

A near-record fine of $503 was imposed by Magistrate Henry C. McMullen in Municipal Court Monday night on Michael Rudzinski of 640 Eighteenth street, Trvington, on the charge of being a two-time offender in overloading a truck.

The Irvington man was found guilty of operating an overloaded truck in Route 29 on September 12. His vehicle was stopped by State Trooper Szoja. Magistrate McMullen pointed out that the $500 penalty is mandatory for a second offense. Court costs were $3.

Walter J. Halder, of 77 Sussex avenue, East Orange, pleaded guilty to allowing an unlicensed driver to operate his car. He was fined $24. He also entered a guilty plea to landing his driver's license. He was assessed $28 on that complaint.

Ronald V. Toliver, of 198 Amhurst street, East Orange, was fined $52 for driving without a license. Both men were apprehended in Route 29 by Patrolman Ivy Haberle on October 25.

J. F. Dalley, of 1103 Mountain avenue, Mountlake, was fined $7 for speeding. Fine totaling $783 were imposed in the session.

Local Man Hurt In Car Collision

Ernest Holtz, 57 years old, of 15 Lyons place, Springfield, is in "improved" condition today at Overlook Hospital, Summit, where he was taken Monday after the car which he was driving was in collision with a tractor-trailer truck in front of Orchard Inn, Route 29.

Police said the truck was operated by Abram G. Teller, 43, of Marion, N. Y. They said Holtz was coming out of the inn driveway when the collision occurred.

The Lyons place resident was taken to the hospital by the First Aid Squad in the township ambulance. His wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Holtz, 52, was treated for shock and released.

Holtz's injuries, according to police, included multiple abrasions and bruise burns, suffered when he was partially thrown from the car. X-rays were taken.

Plan Communion Breakfast Sunday

The men of St. Rose of Lima Church, Short Hills, and their teen-age sons, will be the guests of the Holy Name Society this Sunday at its monthly Communion Breakfast which will be held in the school hall after the 8 a.m. mass.

Steven E. Schmees, Ph.D., of Nutley, administrative secretary to the state treasurer for the State of New Jersey and head of the Bureau of Public Employees' Pensions, will be guest speaker. He was formerly professor of Economics and Government at Boston University, and until recently was research analyst with the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce.

GOP Victory Seen Costing Turk Postmaster's Job

The Republican landslide which engulfed the country probably struck no one—not even Presidential Candidate Adlai E. Stevenson harder than it did Acting Postmaster George M. Turk.

To begin with his wife, Mrs. Ann Turk, who is municipal Democratic chairman, together with her running mate, J. Leo Moran, finished poor thirds, in the six candidate contest for the Township Committee.

But the winning of the White House by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower means that Turk apparently has lost any chance he might have of being made permanent Postmaster. By the same token it is just as unlikely that his principal competitor for the political plum, Timothy J. Sheehan, will receive any consideration.

As the Sun compiled political returns yesterday the 1952 composition of the U. S. Senate still was in doubt. However, indications were that the Republicans would have a small working majority and will organize the Senate.

As a result it appears inevitable that Springfield's permanent postmaster will be a Republican. His identity will be a decision to be reached by the Republican Municipal Committee. There is little doubt that there will be numerous applications for the post who will claim their devotion to the party entitles them to consideration.

It is not inconceivable that one of these could be former Mayor Wilbur M. Schlander. However, it's a question whether he would have

It's their big night: Mrs. Charles Remlinger, Mayor Robert W. Marshall, Township Committee member Frederick A. Hand-

Floods Cited As Issue

The Republican tidal wave which swept New Jersey and most of the United States left a local dry spot here as Republican candidates for the Township Committee, although victorious, failed to win decisively despite the substantial majorities given all other party candidates.

Finance Commissioner Frederick A. Handville and his running mate, Charles Remlinger, led their Fusion opponents, former Township Committeeman Francis J. Keane and George Marchev by approximately 200 votes. Mrs. Ann Turk and J. Leo Moran, Democratic nominees, finished well in the van.

The narrowness of the Republican victory here is best illustrated that the two candidates failed to obtain a majority. Handville's total was 2,077 and Rem-

LOCAL RESIDENTS CAST VOTES EARLY

Springfield voters went to the polls early on Election Day, Township Clerk Eleanore Worthington points out. By 12:30 p.m. a total of 2,418 had voted. By 6:15 o'clock when long lines of voters generally were forming, the tabulation showed that 4,352 had cast their ballots. The total vote was 4,799 out of a total registration of 5,133.

HS PTA Reports 911 Membership

The Regional High School Parent-Teacher Association currently has a membership of 911, it was reported at last Thursday's meeting in the school. A report by Mrs. Haskin, of Garwood, chairman of the membership committee, indicated the association is heading for a new high in registration.

Mrs. W. W. Toyman, of Mountlake, and Mrs. Irene Conrad, of the faculty, reported on the State convention held recently in Atlantic City. A report on the workshop conference in Summit was made by Mrs. Stanley Eaton and Mrs. Ralph Ulrich, Berkeley Heights. Mrs. Jacob Kopp, Clark, presented a budget report. Warren W. Halsey, school superintendent, spoke on school affairs, registration and attendance.

More than 500 persons attended the session. Following the business session parents attended classes of their children and were introduced to teachers.

Mrs. John Mayer, of Garwood, presided.

DAR Hears Talk On Flag Code

Miss Margaret Crumble of Jersey City, New Jersey State Chairman of Correct Use of the Flag, was guest speaker at the October meeting of the Church and Cannon Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. Miss Crumble discussed the Flag Code. She said that because the American flag is the symbol of the nation, disrespect toward it amounts to disrespect toward the United States.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Arnett Millett of West Orange. Mrs. Milton F. Brown, regent, presided. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Millett and the co-hostesses, Mrs. Henry C. McMullen and Miss Margaret McMullen of town.

Pinkava Appointed Patrol Supervisor

Chief of Police William J. Thompson today announced Detective Vincent Pinkava has been appointed contact man from the Police Department to the public schools and in this capacity will be in charge of the school safety patrols. This will be the first time in the history of the township that school patrols have been organized on an official basis.

The move, conceived by Chief Thompson, has the full approval of Police Commissioner Albert G. Binder. The chief said that Detective Pinkava will have the new assignment in addition to his other duties.

All officers and school children assigned to duty in the new detail will be under the supervision of Pinkava. It will be his responsibility to train, supervise, assign and schedule all personnel and to handle all related details. It was said.

Chief Thompson, in announcing the new arrangement, expressed belief it will result in a high degree of efficiency. He said the preliminary plans as drawn up by him in conference with the commissioner should aid in guarding and supervising school children in their daily journeys to and from school.

The chief pointed out that this is purely a police department function. He said there has been need for some time for a departmental contact man in order to iron out any problems which may arise.

It was indicated children who participate will be selected from the leaders in various classroom activities. Although no announcement was made to the effect it generally was believed the new arrangement will result in a high degree of efficiency.

OUR PLEDGE ON ARMISTICE DAY
In custom, we pause on this Armistice Day to honor the men who have died in the service of their country. But we must not pause or falter in our efforts to build a solid foundation for permanent peace. This must be our solemn pledge to those who died and those who will be called upon to die if our efforts fail.

GRAND JURY

field referred to you an affidavit charging Frank E. Cardinal, a member of the Springfield Board of Assessors, with certain acts of intimidation which they desired you to investigate.

"The Township Committee proceeded to suspend Cardinal from his post as assessor, an act which, in my opinion, was not within its power. However, this last mentioned fact has nothing to do with the matter on which I am addressing you.

"I have conducted an independent investigation, as a result of which I am satisfied that Cardinal was not guilty of any acts of intimidation as charged. On the contrary, I believe that the facts surrounding the procurement of the affidavit establish that several township officials and others were parties to a conspiracy to defame Cardinal and to cause his removal from the Board of Assessors.

"I represent Frank E. Cardinal, and on his behalf insists that this matter be presented to the Grand Jury. He is confident that your investigation of the matter will clear him of any charges whatsoever and that the parties guilty of reprehensible conduct in this matter, in this connection will be brought to justice. If I can be of any assistance to you in reporting the results of my investigation, I will be pleased to do so."

Robert F. Darby.

ARTHRTIS?

I have been wonderfully blessed in being restored to active life after being crippled in nearly every joint in my body and with muscular soreness from head to foot. I had Rheumatoid Arthritis and other forms of Rheumatism, hands deformed and my ankles were set.

Limited space prohibits telling you more here but if you will write me I will reply at once and tell you how I received this wonderful relief.

Average Teacher Salary Is $3,868 For New Jersey

The New Jersey Education Assn. has released the results of its annual salary study of New Jersey schools and teachers. The study appears in the October issue of the New Jersey Educational Review. The average teacher received an increase of about $224 between last year and this year, a few dollars less than the increase of a year ago. The average salary for teachers up to $3,868. The teacher organization points out that the increase in salary kept pace with the cost of living for the past year. It was not enough, however, to restore the purchasing power of the average salary to 1939 levels. In terms of purchasing power, the average salary in 1950-51 was $2,011; it is now $3,868.

A new feature of the Association's salary survey this year is a report on years of teaching experience in school districts. It appears that the average teacher has taught in his district well over 11 years. Looking at trends in teacher salary schedules, the Association notes that most (68 per cent) of the districts have them and that the tendency in starting salaries is still upwards. More than half the districts now start their beginning teachers above the state minimum.

Every tree owner has his favorite tree. Mostly, he chooses it for form and beauty or for some characteristic he likes. Here are 12 favorite trees classified in popular terms to denote their characteristics, as compiled by O. W. Spicer:

Most graceful tree—American elm. Its tall vase-like stems make the most picturesque of all tree outlines. Its shade is applied to the right degree. Most talkative—Trembling aspen. The slightest breeze sets its leaves a-quiver; the leaves even twinkle as they rustle. Sturdiest—White oak. Everything about it denotes strength, its wide-spreading crown, its sinewy branches, its mighty trunk. Meekest—Gray birch. It will spring up on abandoned fields or gravelly slopes to inherit the earth no other tree wants. On a lawn, its pretty white legs add grace notes. City slicker—Honey locust. It thrives amid skyscrapers, with sidewalks and teeming throngs all around. It has become a favorite in front of New York's Radio City. Debutante type—Paper birch. White, clean and pretty as a princess. It likes the company of many conifers. Best dressed lady—Dogwood.

Unsurpassed at blossom time, robed in scarlet in the Fall color parade. All-American boy—American beech. For strength, hardiness, health, and beauty in all four seasons, it's hard to beat. Showiest—Sugar maple. Magnificent in Autumn, blending oranges, golds, scarlets with touches of green in a vast dome of color glory. Most character—Pine. Twisted, defiant, ageless when growing on a windswept shore. Motherly type—Apple. Warm, comforting, useful like Mother in her apron bustling about the kitchen. For Children's Hour—Sassafras, with its intriguing mitten-shaped leaves and sweetness of the bark of its roots. Many Portuguese who settled on Cape Cod and New Bedford in Massachusetts and elsewhere in the United States came from the Azores Islands in the Atlantic.

Wonder Fibers Used for Blankets

Like most other textiles these days, blankets are being made not only from the old, familiar fibers such as wool, but also from some of the new, so-called wonder fibers.

Miss Alice Gaston, Associate Essex County home agent, reports that blankets made of Dynel, one of these new fibers, are just beginning to appear in quantities on the local market.

"Latest blankets to arrive are those made of the still-newer fiber, Acrilan," she says. "The quantities of these are very limited as yet, since the fiber is just beginning to get into production."

"Blankets of these new fibers have some features quite different from those of wool or wool blends. But because they are so new we still have much to learn about them from the standpoint of the use and long-time satisfactions."

Many of the features claimed for these blankets will be welcomed by home-makers. They are said to be thoroughly washable and very quick-drying. They can even be sterilized without being affected in any way. Ordinary household stains can be washed out and shrinkage is no problem, since the nap tends not to mat. The fact that any article made of these new fibers is resistant to moths and mildew will make the problem of blanket storage a much more simple one.

But the main reason for which you buy a blanket is to get warm. So the way the blanket is made is the most important thing to consider. As pointed out by Miss Inez LaBossier, extension clothing specialist at Rutgers University, the warmth of a blanket depends upon the ability of air pockets, created through napping, to enmesh still air, and so to serve as an insulator between the cool air outside the blanket and the warmth generated by the body underneath the blanket.

"In view of this, the blanket should be so constructed that the underweave is even, strong and durable and that the napping is firm and well-anchored," the New Jersey State University specialist says. "Grasp a bit of nap between your thumb and forefinger and try to lift the blanket. A well-anchored nap will support the weight of the blanket. The ability of fibers to keep this lofty nap during use and after washing or cleaning is another important quality factor."

"The weight of the blanket is still another point to check. In comparing weights be sure that the blankets are of the same material as well as the same size. And speaking of size, here is a very important thing to consider. If you want to be warm and comfortable, be sure that the blanket is long enough to allow for about a six-inch tuck-in at the foot of the bed and still be long to come up well over the sleeper's shoulders. In width it should be at least as wide as the mattress, plus the depth of the mattress on both sides. There are extra long blankets now on the market that are made especially for the extra-size bed. "If money is on the scarce side, you can save a bit by buying blankets that are overcast on the edges or bound with narrow binding," Miss LaBossier suggests. "Luxury bindings are beautiful but they do not add warmth nor wearing quality."

Sports In The Sun

RAHWAY AGAIN

A hasty glance at the calendar on the wall in this office reminds us that Thanksgiving Day is just 21 days hence. And if that wasn't enough, the general discussion in local sports circles seems to center around the same theme—Regional's Turkey Day football scrap at Rahway.

We have heard from various points that county grid teams call their seasons a success if they defeat Regional. In the same manner, it can be said that the Bulldogs term their efforts a success if they can turn back the traditional Thanksgiving rivals.

Currently riding on the crest of a ten-game string of victories, the Spunktoners most likely will be strong favorites to whip the locals for the twelfth time, but the hunch here is that Regional will make it a close game. Possibly, the Bulldogs will spring an upset!

Those statements were not mere suggestions; we actually feel that to date Coach John Brown's men played up to their ability only on certain occasions. The first instance to come to mind is the rally two weeks ago against Roselle.

Rahway, although Joe Cygler, Ron Wood, Ron Cherubini, and Walt Pinke (among others) return from last year's Turkey Day aggregation, can be confined; for its attack is not on a level with those Scarlet offenses of yesterday.

Regional's 5-3-3 defensive alignment, with Judd Herman (rated one of the top defensive backs in the county), Jack Keith, and George MacKenzie as the halfbacks and safety-man, respectively, ranks with the best in the county. Except for the one trouncing by Somerville, 39-7, the Bulldog opponents have been unable to tally more than one touchdown.

Harold Grapenthin, Bob Colandrea, and Don Ried share the line-backer spots on defense, while the forward wall has John Nadasky, Tony Bremec, Ed Ruby, Tom Thompson, and Harold Bolick.

The Bulldog offensive hopes lie in Herman's power at fullback, Don Ried and either Larry Robinson's or Chet Boyce's ability at the halfback posts, and Jack Keith's initiative at quarterback.

At the ends are MacKenzie, a junior who turns in fine performances weekly, and Grapenthin. The tackles are Nadasky and Ruby, the guards are Thompson and Bolick and the center is Don Ficke.

The Regional line is not heavy as lines usually go, but not many scholastic walls are big today. Those facts make us a little wary about picking Rahway to make it an even dozen.

Teams Meet at Westfield Saturday; Bulldogs Play 0-0 Tie With Union

Two of the three Union County Group III kingpins finally are scheduled to oppose one another on the gridiron, but years since either has had a powerhouse. Thus, the UC gridiron spotlight falls on Westfield this Saturday afternoon as the Blue Devils play host to an unpredictable Regional High outfit.

Still regarded as the cream of the county Group III field—which also includes Linden, Hillsdale, and Summit—Rahway, Westfield, and Regional will fight it out for supremacy. The Blue Devils already have one strike against them, for they lost to Rahway several weeks ago, 14-0.

However, Westfield can get back into contention Saturday with a win against Coach John Brown's Bulldogs, while on the other hand, Regional can re-establish itself after last week's sub-par showing against Union in a scoreless deadlock, the first tie the locals have played since the dramatic Thanksgiving Day clash in 1950 that ended in a 7-7 standstill.

Union, which had lusted victory only once in five tries prior to Saturday's tie, boosted its grid stock considerably. Although the Bulldogs were favored in what was expected to be a close contest, the Farmers turned in one of their best performances this season to hold Brown's cloyen to the initial scoreless tie in Regional's gridiron history.

The Bulldogs missed several golden opportunities to score because of fumbles and pass interceptions by the visitors. All told, Regional fumbled six times and Union recovered five of them. The Farmers intercepted two of the locals' aerials and had the RHS attack bottled up most of the way. Regional completed three of ten passes.

The deepest penetration into Union territory by the Orange and Blue was to the five-yard stripe. With third down and four yards to go, Larry Robinson lost two yards and a fumble cost the locals possession on the succeeding play.

Union-Regional football games are generally rough ones (men arrangement may also establish closer relations between the police department and the school administration so both may cooperate in the face of any outbreak of juvenile delinquency. Observers have pointed out that to date there has been relatively little of this in Springfield.

Chief Thompson conceded that all details have not been worked out. He explained that additional angles will be explored after Detective Pintava has taken over duties of his new assignment.
