Hot Words Mark Reappointment Of Police Chief

Thompson Asks Town Board for Quick Retirement

Primary election, its candidates and other township issues today were relegated to the background as observers attempted to figure the next move in the increasingly intricate situation surrounding appointment of the chief of police.

The details in sequence last week were:

1. Chief William J. Thompson tells governing board in 1953, the retirement age and, if he is to be retained, the move is up to the governing board.
2. The chief learns that the majority faction of the board will not retain him.
3. Chief Thompson sends the committee a letter requesting retirement.
4. The committee changes its plans at the meeting night and decides to reappoint the chief for one year.
5. Mayor Robert W. Marshall and Police Commissioner Albert G. Binder visit Thompson at his home during recess of the meeting and persuade him to accept reappointment for a year.
6. Chief Thompson is reappointed for the next twelve months.
7. The chief answers at subsequent reports announces he will seek retirement immediately.
8. The chief sends a letter to the governing board requesting that he be retained under the State retirement regulations.

Seniority Recognition
New rumors are flowing thick and fast. One is to the effect that the Springfield Local of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association plans to send a letter to the township committee urging that seniority be recognized in all future promotions.

Foreign Students Love Regional High

Five high school students from foreign countries are learning about ice cream, sodas, jazz and the usual subjects at Regional High School and all of them wish it would never end. The group, consisting of Anita Frediani of Rome, Italy; Ian Durand of Toronto, Canada; Valerio Di Antwerp, Belgium; Deanne Thurkow of Stuttgart, Germany and Monica Vacher of New Caledonia.

The students contrasted their schooling in foreign countries with their experiences at Regional High School. All agreed that high school education at Regional was more friendly and democratic, less formal than in foreign schools. Most students observed that although they seem to have less homework here at Regional High School than in foreign schools, they seem to learn just as much and perhaps more because of the many different kinds of classroom activity.

Lee S. Rigby, Ex-Freeholder, Enters Race

Candidate Warns County Faces Dictator Bid

Decrying any drift toward local dictatorship in the county, Lee S. Rigby, 206 Morris avenue, former sheriff and freeholder and founder of the Union County Youth Welfare Council, today made himself available to the Republican party as a candidate for its freeholder nomination.

The fight of Republican voters to act independently and continuance of a sound fiscal policy for the county are his objectives as a candidate.

"I am disturbed by the spectre of bossism on our horizon," said Rigby. "Many of my friends, interested too in the continued welfare of our county, are gripped by this same fear."

"The Republican party has been good to me and I do not want to see bossism take over, bleeding corruption and stifling the will of the people."

For years our Boards of Chosen Freeholders gave efficient, but economical, administrations. That policy reduced our bonded debt by two-thirds, saving thousands of dollars in interest charges," Rigby declared. "This is not the time to abandon a course that has kept our county free and strong and its voters independent."

While on the Board of Chosen Freeholders, Mr. Rigby was chairman of its legislation and public

Red Cross Reports On Activities

The residents of Springfield will soon be contacted to contribute to the annual fund drive of the Red Cross. The local chapter depends entirely on this one drive to finance its work in town and also to meet its share of the national quota.

One of the many services of the Volunteer drivers transport patients to hospitals and clinics for local chapter is the Motor Corp. treatment. Many other trips are made in the station wagon for the welfare of Springfield residents.

The local Red Cross chapter also cooperates with the Springfield First Aid Squad in conducting first aid courses given free to anyone who enrolls. The chapter also has conducted classes in Home Nursing instructed by an accredited registered nurse. On a national scale 2,188,000 certificates were awarded to persons who were trained in first aid, water safety and nursing skills for the home, and to volunteer in hospitals.

Every summer the Red Cross chapter sponsors and finances the Water Safety Program for Springfield children. Through this means many school children have learned how to swim and take care of themselves in the water.

The Home Service chapter has been active assisting men and women in the armed forces in camps in the U. S. and on overseas duty. This takes the form of helping to solve personal and family problems, including financial aid where indicated.

Handville States Views on Chief

Township Committee member Frederick A. Handville states his position in the matter of Police Chief William J. Thompson's retirement in the following statement:

"It is my opinion that the law governing police retirement is a good one. In effect it says, 'When a policeman reaches age 65, and has served 25 years, he shall be retired at half pay. He will be provided for an extension of time if the governing body of a municipality sees fit and acts according to that effect.'"

"Normally when a man reaches age 65 he has served his best years and if conditions permit he deserves to have life a little easier. This can be the case with Chief Thompson who has worked hard for many years."

Missing Manager Seen on Coast

News of John Yuhaz, 28-year-old geophone service station operator, who disappeared January 11, has been received by township police. It was revealed today by Detective Vincent Pinkava.

According to teletype reports Yuhaz attempted to enlist at the U. S. Army induction center in San Francisco several weeks ago. He did not return to the induction center after making preliminary inquiries, it was said.

Yuhaz operated the service station at Morris avenue and Prospect place. Also missing was more than $200, it was said. At first four-day was feared-but the news from San Francisco has caused police to discount that theory.

At the time of the attempted enlistment Yuhaz gave his address as that of his parents who live in Canton, O. His home is in Irvington. He has a wife and two children who reside at the Irvington address.

Education Board Names Harrison

George D. Harrison

George D. Harrison, Jr., of 45 Short Hills avenue is the new president of the Board of Education. He was named at the reorganization session of the board Monday night. Commissioner Robert G. Smith was elected vice-president.

Harrison was nominated by Howard Smith, who headed the board last year. The nomination was seconded by Commissioner Margaret Fitzgerald, District Clerk A. B. Anderson presided at the session.

The new board now includes six men and three women. The new commissioners, Mrs. Raymond W. Forbes, Alan Cunningham and Mrs. A. Russell Hillier, were inducted.

Mayor Issues Explanation On Thompson Reappointment

Mayor Robert W. Marshall today issued the following explanation regarding the recent reappointment of Chief of Police William J. Thompson. The chief executive said there has been considerable confusion about the facts in the case and he desired to set them forth.

"May I take this opportunity to issue some definite statements regarding the retirement of Police Chief Thompson, Mr. Binder and other members of the governing body of the township?"

"The statute states that a member of the Police Department who has attained the age of 65 and has 25 years service shall be retired at a pension of half pay. However, a subsequent statute gives the governing body the power to continue in office said officer or chief until he has attained the age of 70, at the governing body's discretion."

"For the benefit of all I shall quote a portion of the Township of Springfield Police Ordinance: 'The chief of police shall exercise sole and complete control of the department, its members and property subject to the order of the Township Committee which may act through the police committee thereof, the chairman of which shall be known as the Police Commissioner, the Township Committee may, from time to time, legislate and direct the enforcement of such rules, regulations, instructions and orders as it may deem proper for government and control of the Police Department.'"

"Now with this portion of the ordinance in mind every member of the governing body is charged with equal responsibility for the matters and functions of the Police Department. Upon attaining the age of 65, Chief Thompson submitted a letter so stating."

"I personally knowing that Chief Thompson was nearing age 65, had given this matter much consideration prior to executive session of the governing body on Feb. 10, 1953. I forthrightly admit that at this session I gave my opinion that I felt Chief Thompson should retire. Mr. Binder had been instructed to inform the Chief at executive session that the majority of the governing body felt he should retire."

"During the interim period of Feb. 10, 1953, at midnight, and the regular Township Committee meeting on Feb. 11, 1953, I received many visitors and telephone calls from people who stated that they were Chief Thompson's friends and that they were not interested by politics or in Chief Thompson's successor if there was to be one, but that they, his friends and taxpayers, appeared to me to conscientiously consider the several matters or facts they posed to me regarding Chief Thompson and to retain him for another year."

"Since Chief Thompson's final action, many of these same people called me to tell me they were sorry they had ever intervened in the Chief's behalf and they now felt that he had personally let them down."

"On Wednesday, Feb. 11, at the regular meeting of the governing body I did definitely cast a vote to retain Chief Thompson for one more year. Prior to this vote and (Continued on page 4)

Newark Motorist Pays $103 Fine

Guy Douglas, 27 years old, of 47 Belmont place, Newark, was fined $103 by Magistrate Henry C. McGillic in Municipal Court Monday night. On a charge of operating a car after his license was revoked.

Douglas also was assessed $28 for driving a non-registered vehicle. The Newark resident was apprehended January 31 by patrolman John Wenz who said the car had only one license plate.

According to police Douglas's license had been revoked because of previous violations.

Other fines imposed included Thomas E. McCreeken, $38. Bal-lustror avenue, speeding $10; James C. Thomas, 90 Tully street, Summit, speeding $10 and James A. Hardo, 1107 South Elmora avenue, Elizabeth, speeding $7.

Fines totaling $242 were levied by the magistrate.

Local Mailman Enters Army

Mr. George J. Graziano of 86 Tucker Ave., was honored by six township employees at a "Send Off" party held at the Twigs, 80 Springfield Ave., on Sunday, Feb. 15.

Mr. Graziano entered the U. S. Army on Feb. 17 and is the fourth person from this office to enter Military Service since the beginning of the Korean conflict.

He was presented a token gift by Mr. George M. Turk, acting postmaster, in behalf of the carriers and clerks, for his outstanding cooperation with his fellow employees and in his service to the residents of Springfield, during the past 21 months in which he was employed at the local office.

Mr. Graziano would have been (Continued on page 4)

Police Still Hunt Regional Student

Police today reported they have come to a virtual dead end in their hunt for attractive Dorianne Rochard, 17-year-old Regional High School senior who has been missing for the past month.

The girl, adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rothbard, of 310 Alden road, was last seen on January 20, when she was coming her half in front of her locker at the high school.

Her parents have had no word from her. In view of her deep devotion to them, they fear that she may have been a victim of foul play. Otherwise, they reason, she would have contacted them by letter merely to let them know that she is safe.

It is understood the police department's investigation headed by Detective Vincent Pinkava covered every possible phase of action which he taken in such cases. Classmates were questioned and the queries elicited the fact that at times Dorianne had considered taking a job to become independent.

However, her relations with her family were harmonious and there was nothing about her home relations to account for her sudden disappearance, it was said.

Descriptive bulletins have been sent out to the FBI and to the State's police. Meanwhile her anxious parents are watching the girl with bated breath.

Unanimous Vote Lifts Suspension

The Township Committee, Tuesday night, unanimously reinstated Tax Assessor Frank Cardinal after acquitting him of the charges made which led to his suspension last October.

After hearing testimony by half a dozen witnesses, some of whom testified at an earlier hearing, the governing board decided that the story told by Herman Korsman, of Route 22, principal witness, whose original charge brought about the action suspending Cardinal, was not of sufficient weight to warrant finding the tax assessor guilty.

In brief the decision, read by Mayor Robert W. Marshall, Cardinal was reinstated with pay retroactive to the date of his suspension October 20, 1952.

There was no immediate indication as to whether the tax assessor will institute a civil suit against the township or against Korsman charging defamation of reputation or alleging that his business connections have been harmed. Cardinal (Continued on page 5)

Police Will Use Timing Device

The new electrical timing device for checking speeders which recently was purchased by the police department will be put into official operation next month. This was revealed today by Lt. Albert A. Sorce, in charge of the department during the illness of Chief William J. Thompson.

The timer is being used on various streets in the township, Lieutenant Sorce said, on a "dry run" basis. This enables the department members to familiarize themselves with operational details. In this manner they will be able to testify against speeders who are trapped by the device.

The lieutenant said the department has no plans to purchase an additional timer. He said the personnel of the department is such that only one can be used. Too many men would be required if additional timers were placed in operation, he pointed out.

The device is operated with two rubber hose lines placed several hundred feet apart. The speed which the car travels between these two lines is recorded by the device.

Lieutenant Sorce said Magistrate Henry C. McMullen has watched the timing device in operation and is familiar with all details of the set-up. He will recognize its findings as the basis of legitimate charges against speeders, it was said.

Mayor Marshall Will Run For Third Term on Board

Mayor Robert W. Marshall today announced he will be a candidate for re-election to the Township Committee in the Republican primary.

The chief executive said he has reached the decision to again seek membership on the governing board after consultation with numerous friends who have urged him to make the run. Mayor Marshall has the unusual distinction of having served as chief executive five of the six years he has been a member of the governing board.

First elected to the township committee in 1947, he was re-elected in 1950 for his second three-year term. The first year was the year of the famous New Year's Day tie vote during which the four-man governing board failed to agree on a fifth member or to name a Mayor. Several days later they selected former Mayor William M. Selander as the fifth man and elected him chief executive.

However, Marshall has been Mayor since 1948. Prior to that he was fire commissioner. The chief executive said he had conscientiously handled township affairs over a period of years and that he believed he was sufficiently competent to handle any situation which may arise during the next three years.

Mayor Marshall, in announcing his candidacy, said he believed the Republican voters were entitled to know well in advance who the candidates are. He said that he saw no reason for waiting until the last minute to file. He said that currently he is making his announcement alone and does not know who else may enter the contest.

The chief executive conceded that many problems faced the governing board in the past six years but expressed belief that they are characteristic of a growing community and said he believed none will prove to be of a calibre that cannot be solved. He said he would run on his performance record.

The questions follow: "Can a sincere and intelligent person believe in God and religion today? What is the relationship between religion and American democratic principles? Can belief in the theory of a 'chosen people' and a God-inspired 'national destiny' be squared with the ideals of universal brotherhood and equal rights for all?"

Mayor on Thompson

during a discussion of the governing body on Wednesday night at the town hall it was agreed that I should contact Chief Thompson on the telephone and ask him to either come to the town hall or if the committee could visit the Chief at his home and for me to more specifically discuss with the Chief these new facts that had been revealed and only revealed after executive session.

Gave Faithful Service
"During this telephone conversation with Chief Thompson I was told by him that he had been informed that the governing body did not want to retain him as chief. I then informed the Chief that, since said executive session and at present, I had learned of some new facts and while I was strictly not sure or allowed to decide for the governing body, that if he would request to be retained, I felt that probably the governing body would reconsider their original remarks and continue him for one year."

"I also informed the Chief that I personally had been of the opinion that his service had been faithful and honorable. (Between Feb. 10 and Feb. 11, Chief Thompson submitted a letter requesting retirement.) I also informed the Chief that at executive session the committee many times is of one opinion or another, but at a public meeting and with more facts in mind as stated by the public they (the committee) do change their minds, and that they are within their rights to do so and to vote accordingly. Chief Thompson then would withdraw his letter requesting immediate retirement and, if the governing body so decided, he would leave.

"I reported this to the governing body and was then instructed to accompany Mr. Binder to the Chief's home to have a personal, face to face discussion on the matter. I naturally realized that Chief Thompson's feelings had been hurt and tried to extend to him every courteous consideration. I did not beg Chief Thompson to stay nor did I say tremendous political pressure had been brought to bear upon me, but that much pressure from his friends and others, not generally known to me to be political observers or followers, had asked me to weigh his case and to let him remain for another year if possible.

"There was far more outside pressure or requests made than there were from people connected with political parties or factions. (There were persons who were in politics and did attempt to influence me; they did not and could not influence me, and they had no business in trying to do so.) I think it best not to disclose the identity of these people.

"I stated to Chief Thompson that I felt as I always have since taking public office that in so far as possible I try to gather or take the pulse of the public's thoughts and feelings and that I personally was willing to change at executive session and that I would vote to retain him for one year. Mr. Binder then gave the letter of resignation or request for retirement to Chief Thompson and I informed him that I would request the Pension Board to return his pension request back to him if the governing body retained him as Chief. Neither Mr. Binder, Chief Thompson nor myself entered into an agreement or deal other than as above told. We mentioned the possibility of a Deputy Chief by rank, but by name. Any other conversation seemed to be superfluous. Mr. Binder and I returned to Town Hall and the governing body unanimously voted to retain Chief Thompson.

Police Give Safety Rules For Children in Circular

The Springfield Police Department has done a remarkable job in safeguarding the children of the Township and the excellent results are obtained only because members of the department have always been vigilant and alert in the safety program. Through the efforts of Detective V. Pinkava who serves as Juvenile Officer in Springfield and who is a friend of children throughout the township, a well prepared brochure with a lot of "don'ts" to kids and parents has been distributed. Over 2,500 of these very interesting pamphlets are in the hands of those who are asked to help spread the story of safety.

Police Commissioner Albert G. Binder and Chief of Police William J. Thompson have always approved the work of Det. Pinkava in behalf of the children and the distribution of these safety pamphlets has made parents as well as children aware of the help they can give in this safety program.

The pamphlet, well illustrated with photographs, gives a series of "don'ts" which include "don't enter empty or unoccupied buildings with strangers, don't accept rides to school, with strangers wait for school bus, don't go with strangers who ask for directions" and others in the same vein.

"Under the slogan, 'Be safe, play safe and stay safe,' the pamphlet has this message from Det. Pinkava and the Springfield Police Department to parents:

"Your constant assistance is needed, however, as all children must be frequently reminded of the dangers involved when they take up with strangers. To some children there are no strangers.

"Please help us by teaching your children to WRITE DOWN LICENSE NUMBERS OF CARS driven by persons attempting to molest them or persuade them to get into vehicles. After license number is obtained, the children should be instructed to tell the first person they see, or go to the nearest house, and call the nearest police station. It is also important for them to try and remember what the offender looks like, what kind of clothing he is wearing and the color of the car he is driving—both most important of all, THE LICENSE NUMBER.

"These rules have been set forth primarily to educate grade school children on this important hazard. But this is a good opportunity for parents to caution their teenagers on the same subject, particularly as it might apply to persons attempting to sell or give them narcotics in the form of cigarettes, etc."

eligible to take a competitive examination to be held in the near future, had he not been drafted.

Mr. Turk, Mr. William H. Corby, assistant postmaster and Mr. Jack Fisher, superintendent of mails, joined in behalf of all employees, in wishing George a "bon voyage" and Godspeed for a safe return.

In addition to the aforementioned persons the affair was also attended by Mr. Edward Rackowski, clerk; Mr. Anthony Graziano, probationary clerk and brother of the guest of honor, and Mr. Fred C. Kaufmann, custodian.

Mr. Fisher expressed his sentiments in poetic form with the following original verses written by him especially for the occasion:

The call to arms has come once more to Springfield's Postal men. "Greetings," reads the letter that our boys get now and then. It all began in "Seventeen, the boys first head the beat. 'Twas then that Corby as a "boot" became part of our fleet. There was a lapse of many a year, 'til Nineteen-Forty-One, When once again the word was spread, "Let's Go, Work's to be done". Our good friend Jimmy Abel responded just like that. Then came Lee and LaMagn, sporting a sailor hat. Morrison soon followed, the call had reached him too. Art Bjorstad and Matt D'Andrea soon were on the ocean blue. The Peltzingers, Joe Autenrieth, O'Neill and David Roe said, "What's the use boys? When you gotta go you gotta go." There's Colantone and Conner, Willard Bjorstad and Bob Jones, Skip Swanson, Schramm and Stephen Schmidt, they didn't make no bones. These boys toured foreign ports from Malay right to Singapore. While PFC Jack Fisher had to guard the Jersey shores. Graziano, you're the new recruit who don't know what to do. Having spoken to our ex-GI's, here's what I'll say to you. You'll have gripes and disappointments as you move from spot to spot. Still you'll find some places very nice and others not so "hot". You'll detect the Army detail that we all know as "K. P.". Still it's better than guard duty, just ask any PFC. On the brighter side as you will find, you're always "on the go". With television, movies and the good old U. S. O. So you see it's not as dreary as it was at Valley Forge. You won't even chop a cherry tree, even though your name is George. Just have faith and trust in God above, and I'm sure He'll see you through. And from all of us we're wishing, "A Bon Voyage To You".

Surrogate Otto Seeks Nomination in GOP Primary

Surrogate since 1933, Charles A. Otto, Jr., Elizabeth, asked the Republican voters of Union County today to renominate him in the primary election, April 21. A speaker of the Assembly in 1933, he was a member seven years.

Surrogate Otto is a native of Elizabeth, attended his public schools, and subsequently was graduated from Dickinson College of Law, Carlisle, Penna., where he played football and other sports. Admitted to the bar in 1908, he soon turned to politics.

The first position he held was a journal clerkship in the Assembly and subsequently he was made assistant secretary to Arthur N. Pierson, Westfield, then the speaker of the house. His first judicial post was in the Elizabeth Police Court.

The seven consecutive terms in the Assembly began with his election of 1926. In 1931 he had risen to majority leader and in the removal of politics he was minority leader in 1932. The speakership was in 1935.

This year he sought the Republican nomination for surrogate and was elected in November. Similar victories followed in 1938, 1942, and 1948.

In those years the volume of business has grown tremendously in the surrogate's office, as in other county departments, and Surrogate Otto steadily has revised procedure to conform to new techniques and to exercise greater efficiency.

Others who testified were Wilbert Laying, secretary of the Board of Assessors and Richard Horner, the third member of the board. They testified that final decisions on property assessments are always made after study and conference by at least two of the members. Kenneth Bandomer, told of Kornspan's verbal complaint about Cardinal during a visit to the Bandomer feed store. He gave details leading up to the formulation of a written charge. Mrs. Eleonore Worthington, township clerk, testified she wrote the complaint as dictated by Township Attorney Max Sherman. Several references were made to a tape recording by Bandomer of statements made by Kornspan and others at the time the charges were formulated. The one-hour recording was not played. In the summation Max Sherman said the prosecution had established that Cardinal informed Kornspan on two occasions that he was tax assessor; had referred to the then proposed car-toll ordinance and indicated Kornspan's need for a license, a fence and cleaning the place up. Derby in his summation claimed Kornspan had failed to corroborate the story of Cardinal's threats. He cited the testimony of Seymour J. Abraham, a real estate agent, to the effect the Cardinal's admitted remarks about a pending ordinance requiring paving of lots were legitimate sales talks. Cardinal, who is the Democratic member of the three-man assessor board, was suspended a week before election. Kornspan, in his testimony, had indicated he believed Cardinal had influenced the township committee. He said he still was not sure Cardinal was not responsible for the paving ordinance.

LENT MEETS TO BEGIN The Methodist Church will be the scene of the first of this year's Community Lenten Services, sponsored Sunday night, March 1, by the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches. Dr. Lynn Harold Hough, noted author and speaker, will preach at each of the four services which will be held on March 1, 8 P. M. and 22. Dr. Hough's first topic will be "The Great Argument." The general public is invited.

Whether the governing board will grant the chief's request seemed to be the 64 question. And if it did, who will be appointed in his place was another matter which has everyone up a tree and which means a great deal to at least three superior police officers. Despite the fact that Siles is reputed to have three supporters on the governing board there have been reports that an examination will be held and the man with the highest mark will get the post. Conceivably the township committee could table the request for retirement and the entire matter could be laid over for another year. No matter what is done there will be plenty of people who will be dissatisfied. One observer probably best summarized the problem when he said, "The situation could hardly be called characteristic of a municipality known as an oasis for jangled nerves." That's probably the only observation on the entire matter that wouldn't draw a challenge.

Bulldogs Face Edison As Tourney Play Gets Rolling

Wide-Open Fight Seen for Crown

Prospects for another exciting show in the seventeenth annual Union County Conference basketball tournament have brightened in view of the startling developments of the past fortnight, as the grid for the opening round games. Activity begins tonight with third-seeded Union (14-3) playing St. Patrick's (6-10) at 7 p. m. and second-seeded St. Mary's (13-2) meeting Roselle Park (9-8) at 8:30 at the Elizabeth Armory, site of all tourney games.

Eighth-ranked Regional (8-9) and Edison (5-11) open tomorrow (Friday) night's program at 7:30, while sixth-seeded Scotch Plains (14-2) squares off against Rahway (5-10) at 9 o'clock.

There is a four-game card set for Saturday. Fifth-seeded Plainfield (13-3) tackles Sacred Heart (2-14) at 1:30, seventh-rated Pingry (10-0) battles Cranford (8-10) at 3, fourth-seeded Linden (13-3) meets Roselle (3-14) at 7:30, and top-ranked Jefferson (14-3) ends first-round competition with Westfield (8-9) at 9 p. m.

Most notable events of the past two weeks have been Jeff's two-game losing streak, Edison's upset of St. Mary's, Linden's win over Union, Regional's surprise victory over North Arlington, Pingry's doubling of Regional and Rahway's success over Cranford.

A big factor in the tournament games is that they will be contested at the "Betsy-cow" drilled. Only Westfield's new floor can approach, in size, the spaciousness of the "Army court," so several quints might find it a bit difficult to play the running-type game there.

Zone defense will be strictly taboo if a team wishes to advance because the offense will proceed away from the pivot, luring the defense with it, and leaving the post wide open for give-and-go maneuvers.

Regional, Roselle Meet in JV Play

The junior varsity basketball teams of Regional and Roselle will collide head-on in the initial round of the fifth annual Union County Jaycee tourney Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. Also in the first-round card are St. Mary's-Westfield, Scotch Plains-Cranford, and Roselle Park-Edison battles.

Roselle (8), St. Mary's (5), Scotch Plains (7), and Roselle Park (6) were seeded along with Linden (1), Jefferson (2), Rahway (3), and Union (4). The latter quartet has drawn opening-round byes. Jeff is defending champ with titles in 1951 and 1952.

Rahway evened the score with the local JVs for an early-season tourney in Spunktown, by stopping Coach Leonard Fane's crew, 69-42. The Scarlet outscored the Bulldogs in every period save the last, but by then, it was too late.

Rahway held a 49-29 lead. Regional, which did not even tie the 49-point total, had a three-point edge in final period scoring. Bob Arthur, who fouled out at the start of the fourth canto, was high for the Bulldogs with 10 markers.

RECREATION NOTES
Saturday afternoon basketball league program catching fire... Larger turnouts each week are encouraging... Parents have been invited to this Saturday's session to watch the battle between the unbeaten Lakers and Knickerbockers... Officials in the games thus far have been Jack Schrupp, Bill Brown, and Jack Keith... Officiating has been superb... Lessons in fundamentals (foul shooting, dribbling, passing, pivot play, rules, and good sportsmanship) begin each week's program at 1:30, followed by games at 2 and 3 p.m.

Schedule will run for four more weeks... Each team will play the other league members twice... Plans also call for a selection of the top fourteen performers for extra-curricular games against teams from neighboring communities.

A baseball clinic is expected to begin as soon as the baseball program ends... World Series film of 1952, baseball players, scouts, coaches, and other diamond personalities in the area would feature this program.

Eventually, a "Little League" movement would be started... "Little League" film, and will screen it shortly as a primer for a "Little League" movement here.

Golf school still on... Interested residents, male or female, are urged to write Ed Ruby, recreation director, in care of the Town Hall, Springfield... Fee of $2 will be charged for the entire course... Well-known pro will conduct the weekly lessons, probably from 8 to 9:15 p.m. on Tuesdays.

A BIT ON THE STATE CAGE TOURNEY
Regional, which cancelled its final scheduled tilt with Jefferson because the latter had played the NJSSAA's limit of 18 games for State tourney entrants; opposes Westfield in the NJ affair starting on March 7. The Bulldogs split a regular-season pair with the Blue Devils.

Also competing for the sectional Group 3 laurels are Caldwell, Edison, Rahway, Dover, Linden, Morristown, Hillside, and Summit. As it looks from here, the locals will have a better chance of copping the sectional State crown than they do in the county jamboree.

Regional Matmen Close With Somerville; Six Grapplers to Enter UC Eliminations

Attempting to snap a two-match losing streak which has set their seasonal record at 2-3, Regional's wrestling team treks to Somerville Friday night to engage Somerville in the final meet of the campaign.

The grapplers, six of whom will enter the Union County eliminations, stepping stone to the State jamboree, took it on the chin on the Union mats last Friday evening, losing by 30-6.

The unbeaten duo of Al Hector and Richie Scorse, odds-on favorites for the county crown in the 106- and 123-pound classes, gained the Bulldogs only success; each by 5-2 decisions over Ronnie Dinkowitz and Harvey Welles, respectively.
