C. of C. Planning Town Wide Sale

Formation of an industrial division and plans for a town wide sale on the retail level were two of the important topics discussed at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet held last Thursday at the Orchard Inn. It was a well attended affair and one of the most enjoyable and interesting ever held by the Chamber.

Mayor Robert Marshall dropped in to pay his respects and Township Committee Albert G. Binder, Charles Reimlinger and Arthur Handville found the evening interesting enough to remain throughout the entire program. Present also were Magistrate Henry C. McMillen, Township Attorney Max Sherman, former Essex County Prosecutor and Juvenile Domestic Relations Court Judge Felix Porzella, ex-Police Chief Felix Ruyon and Thomas Argyris, independent candidate for the office of Township Committee and a great number of other Springfield professional and business men.

Joseph Focht and Dr. Henry Mullhauser served as co-chairman of the committee and Focht also did a remarkable job as toastmaster for the evening's program. "Bill" Jensen was the principal speaker of the evening and delivered his usual fine speech on salesmanship.

Edith C. Fortenza, president of the Chamber, outlined the future activities which include printing and distribution of the Chamber of Commerce Directory, the formation of an industrial division within the Chamber, a town wide sale to be sponsored by the Chamber, the regular meeting to be held in September, the naming of a parking and traffic and the election of officers in January.

Local Student Goes to India

Rudolph C. Schroeder

Rudolph C. Schroeder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Schroeder of 142 Linden avenue, is on the high seas today, bound for Mysore, India, by way of Paris and Bombay, one of a delegation of eleven college students and faculty members selected from the entire nation to participate in the international symposium on technical education to be held this summer in Mysore, India.

Schroeder and his fellow students sailed from Quebec last Monday, May 25, on the S. S. Atlantic and will be out of this country until early September. They will fly from Paris to Bombay and back on an Air India carrier.

Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder, the parents, their younger son, Kenneth, and Mark Coburn, a friend and neighbor, made the trip to Quebec by auto on Monday to see the boy off on this interesting trip.

Young Schroeder is a product of the local schools having graduated from James Caldwell and Regional High. He received a scholarship to Dartmouth and will graduate in absentia, this June. He was on the Dean's list at Dartmouth and considered to be one of the outstanding students in that famous Hanover college.

More than 100 students and professors from South Asia, the Middle East, Europe, and North America are expected to attend the month-long meeting, which will be under the Chairmanship of Dr. Zahir Hussain, one of India's most distinguished educators.

Ready for Annual May 30th Parade

Springfield's marchers in the annual Memorial Day parade on Saturday have been requested to be at their designated starting places at the Town Hall before the procession gets under way at 9:15. This year's annual parade will be held in conjunction with Millburn, the two parades merging at Taylor Park in Millburn.

Police will lead the Springfield contingent with all service organizations in line, the First Aid Squad, Daughters of American Red Cross, and Scout groups.

The parade, as usual, will stop at cemeteries in Millburn and Springfield with buglers and firing squads participating in the Memorial Day ceremonies. The flag raising and placing of a wreath at the foot of the War Memorial will mark the end of the parade.

Local Detective Receives Diploma

Detective Vincent C. Pinkava was one of about 250 police officers of New Jersey who were awarded diplomas for finishing a special 10-week course of instruction given by former Assistant District Attorney Burton Turkus of Brooklyn. It was this famous District Attorney who broke up the "Murder, Inc."

The diplomas were awarded at a banquet held in the Essex House in Newark last Thursday night with many of the State's leading law enforcement officials participating in the ceremonies. Burton Turkus, who had charge of the school, was also master of ceremonies at the graduation and awarding of diplomas.

Rev. C. Albertus Hewitt

Rev. C. Albertus Hewitt, who has been minister of the Methodist Church in Springfield since June, 1948, is leaving to take up his new duties as the minister of the Wesley Methodist Church of Belleville. The Springfield congregation is pleased to announce the coming of Rev. Dr. Marvin W. Green as the new minister who will conduct the services here for the first time this Sunday. Dr. Green, his wife and two children will occupy the parsonage here after June 4.

Rev. Hewitt has made a great many friends during his five years as minister in Springfield and, in addition to his duties in church work, was very active in civic affairs. He is secretary of the Lions Club and his leaving Springfield will be felt keenly by all those who came in contact with him.

He came to the Newark conference in 1945, having begun his ministry in the South Georgia Conference. Since coming to the Newark Conference he has served churches in Succunna, Wood-Week and, more recently, in Orange.

Mr. Ream was Professor of Philosophy and Psychology at Baker University, Kansas. He was formerly with the Curtis Publishing Company where he was employed in the Advertising Department. He has also been employed by the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company where he was engaged in personal and organizational work.

He has been active in the field of personnel development in 70 agencies throughout the United States and from his extensive background and experience he has gained a profound knowledge of human nature. Mr. Ream is active as a lecturer in business organizations, college groups and social and welfare organizations.

Still No Trace of Missing Local Girl

It's over four months since the disappearance of Miss Dorzanne Rothbard, Regional High School student, but the authorities still haven't a single clue nor have they given up the search.

Detective Vincent C. Pinkava who was assigned to the case keeps in close touch with the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rothbard, 310 Alden road, but they haven't been able to offer any help since not a single word has come from their daughter, according to the police.

The girl was last seen in front of her locker in Regional High School on January 20. Since then Detective Pinkava and other police authorities working on the case have run down many clues without any success.

T'wnship Plans Installation of Sidewalks

The necessity of installing sidewalks along certain streets in Springfield was introduced as an ordinance at the regular Township Committee meeting last night.

The streets involved include the northerly side of Riverside drive, northerly side of the intersection with Meisel avenue, Washington to the intersection at Washington and connecting with existing sidewalks on South Maple, Battle Hill and Washington avenues; along both sides of Hillside avenue between the intersections of Mountain and South Springfield avenues; and the northwest side of Mountain avenue between Shunpike and Hillside avenues; easterly side of Baltusrol way between Bryant and Shunpike; northerly side of Shunpike between Baltusrol way and existing walk northwest of Meisel drive; northwest side of Windsor avenue between existing sidewalks within the township as the baseball program now conducted by the Recreation Commission under the guidance of League Director Ed Ruby should bear results especially if the interest of the youth can be maintained with sufficient activity during the forthcoming summer months.

Beardsley Is Candidate for Rep. Case's Job

Charles P. Beardsley, both County and Springfield Republican Chairman, has been mentioned as one of the possible successors to Rep. Clifford P. Case of Rahway who has announced that he would resign his 6th-District seat to become head of a Ford Foundation project.

The actual date of resignation by Rep. Case will await the election of his successor since a special election may have to be called to fill his seat for the unexpired portion of his term.

There are many Republican aspirants for the office and, in addition to Beardsley's name, such outstanding Republicans as State Senator Kenneth C. Haud, Assemblywoman Florence P. Dwyer, Freshman Albert J. Doninger, Assemblyman G. Clifford Thom, Mayor Carlisle Crano of Plainfield and a long list of others.

Congressman Case said he expects to resign as soon as this session of Congress ends when he returns to his home in Ohio. Case will serve through 1954. If Case resigns before September 14, both parties may designate nominees who would run for the unexpired term in the regular November elections. If he resigns after that date there would have to be a special election.

New Super Market May Come to Flemer Site

GETS LIFE MEMBERSHIP—Former Police Chief receives gold life membership in State P.B.A. Standing in the usual order, Patrolman John E. Wontz Jr., Robert M. Tanffe, Daniel Minding Jr., John Hanson, Wesley Poltz, John Ennis and Ivy Habere.

Seated are Patrolman Leslie J. Bell, Detective Vincent C. Pinkava (who made the presentation), Thompson, Patrolman K. Delno Tompkins and Lt. Wilbur C. Selander.

Rumors of new developments on the Flemer property—the corner of Morris, Flemer and Main—reached a boiling point this week but N. Angleton, who knows what is news and what isn't—said yesterday "There was still nothing definite, but things were very encouraging. Perhaps, in a few weeks."

However, Mr. Angleton did say that some announcement might be forthcoming in the next few weeks which gave further impetus to the present stories about the many new construction plans for Springfield's center. One of these has to do with a shopping center unit with one of the leading super markets taking up Area A, with a florist, a bakery and tailor already leased for Area B, adjoining the market.

This proposed plan also has a second floor over Area A, with approximately 10,500 square feet for office space. The report has it that the Prudential Insurance Company has considered taking this second floor space but this is definitely out of the picture, it is said, and various professional men have been asked if they might be interested in such offices.

American Legion Helps With $100

The Springfield American Legion voted one hundred dollars towards the Springfield Youth Baseball League at their last meeting with the funds earmarked for additional baseball equipment. All indications point towards the further development of baseball within the township as the baseball program now conducted by the Recreation Commission under the guidance of League Director Ed Ruby should bear results especially if the interest of the youth can be maintained with sufficient activity during the forthcoming summer months.

Former Chief Thompson Honored by P.B.A. Local

Former Police Chief William J. Thompson, now retired, was honored by his former colleagues at his home 285 Morris avenue, Tuesday night when members of the local force presented their former chief with a gold life membership card in the New Jersey State Benevolent Association.

Asks Township to Help Improve New Parking Lot

James Fincheon, one of the interested storekeepers, proprietors of the Springfield Shop but we could not come to any satisfactory agreement. I believe that the lot can be used for parking, but the township will not improve it in any way. Committee at its regular meeting, the letter pointed out that some relief in the parking situation may be found by filling in and surfacing an empty lot in that area located next to the Gibson's Diner.

The Township Committee unanimously decided to turn this matter over to Engineer Arthur Lennox for a complete study to ascertain whether or not the property could be improved, how many cars it could park and other data, and make a report to the Committee at a future meeting.

"Jim" Fincheon's letter follows: I read, with a great deal of interest, an article in last week's Springfield Sun. The article was about Mr. Binder's feelings in connection with the parking situation in our town.

I have tried to arrange for parking on one side of Morris avenue through a meeting with Mr. Fincheon (the owner of an empty lot between Gibson's, Diner and Marshall Kravis's building), Mr. Marshall

New Principal Well Qualified For Promotion

The proposed blue print shows that the two-area buildings are moved far enough back on the property for 300 cars. Entrances and exits are also provided so that it will not interfere with traffic on Morris and Flemer avenues. An outdoor parking space is also shown on the blue print in the rear of the property, exiting on Linden avenue.

Our great deal of its usefulness since Center street was made a one-way street going South. It is practically impossible to get the customers who shop on the north side of Morris avenue to use it.

Carrying a box of groceries that distance is almost impossible and to drive from the lot to our store you have to get tied up at Flemer and Morris avenues and we all know how impossible it is to make a lot turn at that intersection.

Our Town Committee, in the past, has taken steps to regulate parking and eliminating parking. It seems to be some consideration should be given the merchants in town, and also the customers who live in town.

These expressed opinions are mine and I felt that they should be brought to the attention of your committee.

Some years ago when the parking restrictions were passed, the Town Committee at that time remarked that we would only suffer a loss of business for a short time and that people would adjust their shopping habits. I am afraid that I have to agree with them now, but the habit that was changed was not the time of their shopping, but the place. Many people now shop out of town because it is not convenient to park here.

If your committee has any solution to our problem we should like to hear from you.

Respectfully yours, J. James Fincheon.

ON THE SUNNY SIDE

The Chamber of Commerce held its annual banquet at Orchard Inn last Thursday night and even the committee, in charge of the arrangements, was pleasantly surprised with the time and enthusiastic attendance.

As one citizen remarked, after this observation was made, "Just about every other business and profession in Springfield is well represented, yet the merchants on Morris Avenue who stand to gain the most benefit through Chamber of Commerce activities, seem to be the last ones to support the Chamber."

Of course, there is always the "previous appointment" and, no doubt, very plausible excuse for not being able to attend a specific function but this was an important meeting of the Chamber where plans for the year's activities were to be discussed where a town-wide plan was to be planned.

Members of the Township Committee, all of whom were present except Mr. Brown, searched the banquet table in vain for those merchants who have been shouting for "better shopping conditions and for improvement of the shopping center. Community spirit and cooperation call for teamwork and we're confident the merchants do not mean to ignore the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce.

This is not written in the nature of a complaint since there are extenuating circumstances and always two sides to every story. Community spirit and cooperation are very important in a growing municipality such as Springfield and good will can be built up only by the right kind of team work.

Township Committeeman Binder, who delivered a very interesting speech at the Chamber of Commerce banquet, made some very significant remarks, some of which are printed below:

"All of you men here this evening are fortunate in having a business enterprise in a town that has shown phenomenal growth in the last few years. Springfield is primarily a residential community, although we enjoy some very fine light industry, and we are about to embark on a preferential industrial development that will reflect favorably in our rateable and tax structure.

"Your problem, yes, and my problem too, is how to entice those residents, as well as our neighbors in surrounding towns, to patronize the merchants in Springfield.

"Let us face the facts, even though the truth is often hard to swallow. Many of our residents, more than you care to think about, go outside the town to do their shopping. Millburn and Union merchants, to mention the closest, enjoy the patronage of Springfieldites. A small percentage of this diverted business can be attributed to habit or personalities, both hard nuts to crack. But I believe they can be overcome. Habits can be broken with well directed persuasion, and personalities can be changed by a closer study of human nature.

"A large percentage of the lost business is due, in my humble estimation, to the lack of the three A's—Appeal, Appearance and Assortment. Business today, whether large or small, must have ingenuity, enterprise and enthusiasm. When you combine all these virtues together you get the driving force of your own personality. You will succeed.

"I previously referred to Millburn and Union as culprits who steal our business. Why? It can't be lower prices, because I am sure your set-ups are comparable to theirs—it certainly is not the traffic or parking conditions, because both those towns are much worse off than Springfield. So what then causes this shopping out of town. I refer back to the three A's I mentioned before—Appeal, Appearance and Assortment, with a liberal dose of ingenuity, enterprise and enthusiasm, and I believe therein lies the answer.

"It has been said we have enough stores as it is in town right now. I don't think that is a logical conclusion. I believe bigger and better stores in town will attract more shoppers, and furthermore they will come in whether we like it or not.

"The potential business is here. It is up to us, or specifically you, to tap the source. Each one of you, I am sure, has the ability and the resources to accept the challenge. The town governing body, and for myself specifically, are always ready and willing to sit down and discuss your problems, but you must bear in mind that it is our sworn duty and obligation to consider the overall picture and welfare of the town at large.

"I hope my remarks will be taken in the spirit in which they are given. I do not and cannot attempt to set up myself as an authority on the management of your business. I only express my humble thoughts and opinions which I trust will in some small way be construed as constructive. I look forward to a bigger and better Springfield, with increased trade for your bigger and better business establishments, and, naturally, bigger and better profits."

Next month, "Know Your America Week" will be observed for the second time on a national scale. It will begin June 8 and wind up on a most appropriate day, June 14, Flag Day. More than 250 communities participated in this week's observance last year under auspices of All-American Conference to Combat Communism, which is headed by Chairman Daniel A. Poling, president and editor of Christian Herald.

The conference does not concentrate its efforts so much on anti-Communist activities as it does on pro-American education. For the latter is the best weapon against the infiltration of this foreign lam.

In 1951, the 2-year-old organization tested its program in Buffalo, and some 100 groups participated.

Of that movement, President Eisenhower wrote: "Americans know that the ultimate source of the nation's strength is in our devotion to our own heritage and our determination to preserve it. To accomplish whatever essential task may be immediately at hand, while at the same time protecting the rights and reputations of loyal Americans, requires wisdom and understanding on the part of our people."

"All-American Conference to Combat Communism, composed of more than 50 national organizations with memberships totalling more than 40,000,000 people, believes, as do I, that intelligent devotion to our American freedom rests on knowledge and understanding of the American way of life.

"For these reasons, I most heartily commend the purpose of All-American Conference in promoting the observance of a nationwide 'Know Your America Week.'"

The 1953 themes of "Know Your America Week" are: Monday, June 8, Citizenship—"Rights and Responsibilities." Tuesday, June 9, Labor and Management—"Jobs at Which We Work."

Wednesday, June 10, Government—"Laws Under Which We Live." Thursday, June 11, Education—"Schools Our Children Attend." Friday, June 12, Our Community—"Lands From Which We Come, and Organizations to Which We Belong."

Saturday, June 13, Our Democracy—"Freedom Versus Slavery." Sunday, June 14, Flag Day—"The Nation We Honor." Special themes have been assigned for churches and synagogues, under "Religion—The Faiths By Which We Live."

other diseases once thought to be so surely fatal. Another new book on related subjects, "It's Not All in Your Mind" by Dr. J. J. Berglund and H. L. Nichols Jr., is just what the title implies. It contains an interesting chapter on psychosomatic medicine and also a study of neuroses, allergies, etc., and their treatment. Books on the lives of doctors are important reading for they make one aware of the years of hard work and sacrifice given to the profession. More new books this month include—"Good Morning, Young Lady" by Ardyth Kennelly. "Affair of the Heart" by Margaret Long. "Sidewheelers Saga" by Ralph Nadler. "I Married a Hero" by Anita M. Maxwell. "Strategy for Survival" by John E. Kieffer. "Ramey" by Jack Ferris and "Invitation to Folly" by Susan Eriz.

SCENE OF THE TIMES

This photograph indicates an activity which is going on in many areas of the territory served by Public Service. It shows part of the construction of a new gas main extension, as a 30-inch gas main is installed. Public Service gas service is growing all over our territory.

Because of the increased demands for gas service in many sections of the area served by Public Service, it is necessary for the company to conduct an expansion program involving the construction of large feeder mains to serve those areas. Additional growth indicates that further extensions of large mains will be needed.

During 1952, a total of 220 miles of mains of various sizes were installed by Public Service. By the end of the year, there were 6,758 miles of mains in the company's gas distribution system. During 1953 we plan to increase this total to approximately 7,000 miles of gas mains.

It costs millions of dollars to pay for the expansion to our gas service facilities. This program is all part of the job which Public Service undertakes to bring you gas, the wonder fuel, that saves you time, work and money.

Wants for the new booklet about how Public Service serves you with dependability, lowest gas bills—Write—Room 2215, Public Service, 80 Park Place, Newark 1, N. J.

Local Groups Will Unite To Save Cannonball House

Cannonball House at 125 Morris avenue from being sold for commercial development. Letters of appeal have been sent to various organizations throughout the nation and to state and national officials who might be able to help in preserving such historical sites. Local organizations and individuals interested in this matter, plan a conference shortly to make some definite plan of action.

There has been some talk that one of the local civic organizations, said to be the Rotary Club, might consider purchasing the Revolutionary building but just what use the building might make of the building, the source of this information would not say.

This program to restore the Revolutionary House was given added impetus by a story in the New York Times which described

When the restorers moved in for the salvage operation two years ago, the ruin of the abandoned and decaying house extended over the three-acre site—the lawns were a hayfield, the driveways a "quagmire."

The project cost the localities known as the five-towns peninsula—Lawrence, Cedarhurst, Hewlett, Woodmere and Inwood—$150,000. The architect in charge of the biggest single operation was Henry Otis Chapman of Chapman, Evans & Delahanty of New York.

Mrs. Reginald P. Rose, one of several volunteers and donors, has been the curator and head of a committee that was formed to furnish Rock Hall.

Supplying of Furnishings. The Brooklyn Museum, a generous lender, has fine New York and Long Island furniture all through the house on indefinite loan. Other lenders are the Museum of the City of New York, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Yale University Art Gallery. A Chippendale mirror in the broad center hall was given by Mrs. Francis Garvan. And fabrics were donated by Franco-Saalmandre.

The house, of three stories with an ornamental widow's walk, is thought to have been built in or around 1767. The Dutch influence is apparent. Two drawing rooms, which belonged to Joseph Martin, remodeler in Georgian taste for one of the early owners, Rock Hall is open at 60 cents admission through November.

Old broken ceilings were torn down and new plaster, through which radiant heat warms the building, was put in. The old hand-hewn oak rafters were so hard that they turned ordinary nails in the installation of the wire lath.

A hunt for some of Rock Hall's original furnishings was rewarded by several finds, among them a

It Happened Here

Remember the storm during the fall of 1950? During the height of that hurricane an automobile was stolen from a driveway on one of our suburban streets. Retrieved later by the police, it was found to have suffered considerable damage. The owner collected in full because he carried Auto Insurance with Comprehensive Coverage.

It is easier (and wiser) to pay a few dollars a year premium than to finance a costly repair bill. For complete automobile protection call us today. We will be glad to explain the coverages and quote the premiums. Also available upon request a booklet explaining the new Security Responsibility Law.

SOCIAL NEWS
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taffel, of Hawthorn avenue, entertained at a buffet luncheon on Saturday, May 23, in honor of their daughter Barbara Lynn Roemer, who is to be married to Mr. James A. Chambers of Westfield, on June 20.

The Civic Department met at the home of Mrs. John Pitney, 62 Woodcrest Circle, on Tuesday evening May 19. The group was privileged to have Mayor Marshall as its guest at the evening. Mayor Marshall explained the formation of the Town Planning Board and answered questions pertaining to zoning and town development. Advantages and disadvantages of a Master Plan for Springfield were discussed. The need for a more adequate Town Hall and Library building was recognized. Mayor Marshall was interviewed on what the township has available for these needs and for other future major developments. The Civic Department feels that a swimming pool, town or county controlled, would be a noteworthy objective.

Hey, Junior, have a Heart...
LET'S NOT TIE UP THE PARTY LINE!
We know you're anxious to plan your next game with the gang—but others on your party line have important calls to make, too. So instead of making one call after another, allow a little time between them. It's always a good idea to allow a little time between calls—and incidentally, when you do, it gives your friends a chance to call you.

NEW JERSEY BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY
Spacing calls, hanging up gently if you find the line already in use, and releasing the line promptly if someone needs it in an emergency, are all little courtesies. But they do a big job in making everyone's party line service better.
