Democrats Say Opponents Have No Real Plan

There was no "pulling of punches" in the final campaign blast released by the Democratic candidates—Vincent J. Bonadies and J. Leo Moran, charging the Republican administration of township affairs and their two candidates as having no "program for the civic improvement of Springfield." The Democrats emphasize the fact that the opponents "continue their personal attacks on Bonadies and Moran but shirk their greater responsibility for offering a program."

Following is the Democrats statement:

"As has been pointed out time and time again, the Democratic candidates for township committee, Vincent J. Bonadies and J. Leo Moran, continue to find themselves alone in the proposal of a future program for the civic improvement of the town. No where is heard a concrete proposal for future planning but from the Democratic candidates who show a forthright effort toward offering some kind of remedy for our problems."

"The Republican party on the other hand continues its campaign of belittling their opponents and their aims. They continue their personal attack on Bonadies and Moran and shirk their greater responsibility of offering a program for future action."

"The spokesmen for the Republican candidates claim that Bonadies and Moran lack any experience in government. Since when have the Republicans offered government training courses to any of their candidates before offering them to the public for approval? He claims the Democratic candidates are woefully uninformed on Township affairs; yet as a member of the town's official family he has demonstrated a complete and frustrating ignorance of municipal law, time and time again, the knowledge of which is paramount in his present official capacity. Yet he dares pass judgment on those whose integrity and past performance in every day activities prove, beyond a doubt,

Two of These Six Will Help Run Springfield

Thomas A. Argyris Independent, Albert G. Binder Republican, Vincent J. Bonadies Democrat

Eugene F. Donnelly Republican, Francis J. Keane Independent, J. Leo Moran Democrat

Independents In Final Plea For Election

Thomas A. Argyris and Francis J. Keane, Independent candidates in the hectic race for the two spots on the Township Committee, write final to the newspaper campaign with a short statement to the voters, pointing to the sound program presented for Springfield. The two Independents believe that the trend of the voters is "away from political machines."

Halloween Painting On Windows Today

Don't look now but starting today, goblins, ghosts, and witches on broom sticks will be staring out at us shoppers from the windows of most of the stores on Morris Avenue.

No, we haven't been invaded by another planet but by inspiring artists from the Springfield High School and grammar schools who will be putting their talents on display in the form of Halloween scenes.

Judging will be done over the week-end and awards will be made in the form of trophies. Names of winners will be announced next week.

Henshaw-Hawthorn Group Hear Candidates Speak

Candidates for township committee were the guests of the Henshaw-Hawthorn Association at a special meeting held Tuesday night at Legion Hall.

More than 50 interested members turned out to meet and hear first-hand what each candidate had planned for the people if he is elected.

William S. Fisher, acting president of the organization, introduced the candidates, Francis J. Keane, Independent was the first speaker and his talk dealt primarily with the many accomplishments he was responsible for and proposed his reign on the committee. He pointed particularly to a new building code and a flood control program, tax re-assessment program and an industrial expansion program on the township committee. Keane stated that he has proved that he has the town's interests at heart as witnessed by his fine job on the Board of Education and his new sanitary code which he introduced.

Thomas A. Argyris, Independent, attacked the Republican statement that "the Independents were waging a campaign replete with negativism and contortion." He

You can vote for ANY TWO candidates—NO MATTER WHERE THEY ARE ON THE VOTING MACHINE.

Mrs. M. Multhaupt Submits Painting

Mrs. M. Multhaupt of 25 Lyons Avenue has submitted an oil painting "Plinky Bouquet" to the Annual New Jersey State Exhibition which opened at the Montclair Art Museum, the sponsoring organization, on October 25.

The Jury of Selection and Awards selected 147 oils and 27 sculptures from 443 entries submitted in these categories.

Children to Present Play

The first full production of the Children's Theater will be at 3 P.M. in the Playhouse at Gaudinier School on November 7. Mrs. Henry Bonhardt, chairman, announced. Tickets are on sale in all the schools. "The Tinderbox" will be presented.

Republicans Fire Full Broadside On Bonadies

The full broadside of political fire by the Springfield Republican organization, in the last week of the bitter campaign, is aimed at both the Independents and the Democrats with near misses and direct hits scored in the final barrage. Vincent J. Bonadies, one of the Democratic candidates, is the special target charging that he "made wilful misstatements and distortions of fact."

Hot Election Coming Down Home Stretch

Springfield citizens who have been watching political squabbles in the Township for so many, many years cannot recall a campaign that has frayed as many tempers and brought such sizzling and bristling charges and counter charges as the current race for the two places on the Township Committee which is now going down the home stretch.

Six candidates are battling for the two places on the Springfield governing body, two man tickets being sponsored by the Republicans, Independents and Democrats.

Jewish Group to Use Parish House

A very heartening demonstration of practical brotherhood and interfaith relationship was the announcement that the Jewish Community Group of Springfield had completed arrangements this week for the use of the new Parish House of the First Presbyterian Church.

The Jewish Community Group takes a very significant step forward with the inauguration of a Sabbath Service and Forum the first meeting to take place tomorrow, Friday evening, October 30, at 8:45 p.m. at the Parish House of the First Presbyterian Church, 37-39 Main Street. Ted Seagull, of 109 Lehigh Avenue, will be hymn leader at this first service. He will be assisted by vocalist, Alan Zane, of Millburn. Sylvan Kohn, Director of Adult Education of the Jewish Education Association of Essex County, will speak on the subject "The Schools of Thought in Modern Jewish Life."

Directly following this program, there will be the traditional "Oneg Shabbat" (Sabbath Joy) of discussion and refreshments. This step is in keeping with the avowed aims and goal of the group, in establishing complete religious facilities within the Township.

The Jewish Community Group has arranged for the facilities of the new Parish House to hold Sabbath Services through the generous consideration and whole-hearted cooperation of the governing members of the First Presbyterian Church and Rev. Bruce W. Evans.

Ephraim Weiniger, president of the Jewish Group expressed the group's appreciation of the entire group in the consummation of the arrangement by commenting, "Here again is a real demonstration of the American ideal of Freedom and Brotherhood! Our town exercises the Brotherhood Week program every week of the year."

The Republicans finish their newspaper campaign with the following statement:

"This is the last occasion we will have to talk to you through the medium of the press before election. A summary of the respective campaigns is therefore in order.

"The Independent candidates spent several weeks in negative criticism and vague generalities. Their criticism of off-street parking exploded in their faces when we disclosed that one of their candidates authorized that much maligned ordinance.

"In desperate answer to our pointed statement that the Independents had no program whatsoever, they have belatedly come up with a capital budget. They told us of many long-range projects our Township may require in the next several years and suggest that in listing these projects, presto—Springfield's problems will, in some mysterious and unexplained way, be solved.

"There is nothing new about the so-called capital budget. For years the Republican governing body has been compiling just such a budget. We have the facts and figures; but we also know there are limitations in the ability of taxpayers to pay for them. The wisdom of long range planning, budget-wise is open to serious question. We have been living in an era of great inflation. Cost increases of two or three years ago are meaningless today because of radical price changes.

Is Not An Issue

"In short, we do not think the capital budget is an issue. It is simply something dragged in by the Independents in frantic desperation for something to talk about.

"The Democrats started out in this campaign from lofty heights. They had a program, unbeknownst to them, however, a good part of that program has already been accomplished by our Republican governing body. The balance thereof has been demonstrated to

Colonial Fair Here is Big Success

Reports are that the Colonial Fair, held in the First Presbyterian Church Parish House on Friday and Saturday, was not only a big success financially but that it also left a feeling of satisfaction to many people—the booth chairmen who so proudly "sold out" their wares, the children who had so much fun on the Fire Engine and in the downstairs Parlour—and, of course, the many customers who felt they had really secured bargains.

The Fair was an "all out" effort on the part of every group within the church. A planning committee with representation from the various church groups, had been functioning for several months and much activity on the part of members and friends had been engaged. All proceeds from the fair will be used to reduce the mortgage on the new Parish House.

Mrs. H. A. Jones was chairman of the Planning Committee; her co-chairmen were Mrs. B. J. Pugh and Mrs. J. W. Veale, who also represented the Afternoon Ladies' Benevolent Society. Other members of the Planning Committee included: Mrs. R. T. Bunnell and Miss Judy Widmer, representing Westminster Fellowship; Mrs. R. G. Pierson, Sunday School Department; Mrs. L. S. Stevens, Ladies' Evening Group; William Wood, Presale Group; and George Gleim, Men's Club.

The first full production of the Children's Theater will be at 3 P.M. in the Playhouse at Gaudinier School on November 7. Mrs. Henry Bonhardt, chairman, announced. Tickets are on sale in all the schools. "The Tinderbox" will be presented.

be workable in Springfield.
Their position in the clouds having proved untenable, the Democrats have quickly descended to areas more familiar to them.

"This candidate says he stands for a breath of fresh air and dignity. We ask whether his statement at Orchard Inn last Wednesday night that young ladies are afraid to venture out after dark because of their meeting a police car, is conducive to the enhancement of that morale which he is so concerned about. We think Mr. Bonadies owes the Police Department of Springfield a public apology.

"In Springfield we set aside one week each year in celebration of Brotherhood Week. During that period persons of all faiths, colors and creeds get together at a house of worship. Intolerance and class contumacious are unmasked and exposed. We learn not to consider an entire class of people because of the misdeeds of a few. We learn not to pass judgment until after a fair hearing. We learn not to convict before trial.

"The Democratic candidate says we cover up. We know that the records will show that we have made a complete investigation which are available to the public into any untoward incidents in any department in town, and we prefer charges where indicated.
Yes, and we have the courage to do so in the midst of a campaign.
But we do think that common decency dictates that while a charge is pending, people refrain from making public comment thereon in fairness to the accused and members of his family.

"Let Mr. Bonadies deny, if he can, that earlier in the campaign he tried a political marriage with the Independent candidate, Argy-ria. He suggested that Argyria throw his running mate, Keaneoverboard, and he would do likewise with his pal, Moran. This Democratic candidate has conducted a whispering campaign going from Republican to Republican and Independent to Independent trying to set each against the other and suggesting support of Bonadies as the answer.

"The Democratic candidate would saddle every taxpayer in town with the cost of enlarging the municipal parking areas so as to relieve merchants from furnishing off-street parking. We believe that off-street parking is as much a part of a merchant's requirements as his fixtures and stock in trade.

"The Democratic candidate talks about landscaping every industry.
Could he be referred to his Bond Electronics which has neither off-street parking nor landscaping?
The Democratic candidate talks about purchase of used equipment.
This stealer, wanted by a leading expert and approved by him prior to our purchase. It was a bargain at the price and is giving Springfield considerable service.
If the Democratic candidate as a business man is opposed to the purchase of used equipment on principle, then why did he recently purchase an old discarded safe from the Township?
About Industries
The Democratic candidate said that enterprises are packing up and moving out of town because of off-street parking requirements.
We ask him into name them. Incidentally, the Tax Assessors advise that Springfield as of this moment has over $2,000,000.00 of new realties which will produce over $100,000.00 in new taxes for 1954. Mr. Bonadies talks about Dairy Queens, motels and the like.
Unfortunately there is only one Public Service, one Du Pont, one Hannibal, one Channel Lumber, one General Electric, and we have all of them. It is indeed unfortunate that there are some small business men, but we think they have a right to live also. We cannot be all as prosperous as the Democratic candidate. In passing, we should like to inquire just how big is the plant of Bond Electronics, and what taxes do we get from them.

"We should like to warn the voters about some last minute propaganda, which the opposition candidates may put out on election day. Obviously if they put out last minute material it will be done in that way so as to foreclose the possibility of a reply by the Republicans. Do not be misled by such tactics. The opposition has had all the time that they have needed to present their case to you.

"Only the Republican candidates, Albert G. Binder and Eugene F. Donnelly, have the practical experience in government and business to give you a successful administration. Springfield has grown under this Republican administration to a point where land and property values in town are at their highest level and compare favorably with land and property values throughout the county. Protect your investment in Springfield by supporting Binder and Donnelly."

Police

Police Officers can have these benefits through Civil Service.
OUR PRESENT ADMINISTRATION HAS DONE NOTHING TO SECURE CIVIL SERVICE FOR THE MEN.

"Our Police Officers can not efficiently perform their tasks and duties unless they have the proper and adequate equipment. The present administration has done nothing in the way of providing the equipment.

"The morale of our Police Department could be excellent, but this is difficult when those having charge of the administration of our Township do very little to help bolster the morale of the Police Department.

"We, as the Democratic candidates for Township Committee, pledge our cooperation to our Police Department; we pledge ourselves to the adoption of the Civil Service system in the Township of Springfield; we pledge ourselves to the securing of the proper equipment so that our Police Department will have the tools with which to do a proper job; we pledge our efforts in restoring good morale to the Police Department; we pledge that every member of the Police Department need ever have fear of doing an honest, diligent and conscientious job.

"We end this letter confident that the rumor and scandal-mongers are convinced of the clear and unmistakable meaning and intent of our campaign platform so far as it relates to the Police Department of the Township of Springfield."

Respectfully,
Vincent S. Bonadies.

Henshaw

drafted with an eye to any future growth in the town.
Eugene F. Donnelly, Republican spoke of his qualifications for the job based on 30 years of business experience. He spoke about the expensive job involved in a reappraisal of property, his routes for Springfield (which are under the control of the bus companies), and additional traffic lights (which state and county officials have found inadvisable after careful surveys).

"Vincent J. Bonadies, Democrat prefaced his talk by clarifying his statement made at the Chamber of Commerce dinner last Wednesday night. Bonadies said that the members of the Springfield Police Department are worthy of all of the praise you can give them.
That it was not my intention to victimize any of the members of the force, but rather to censure the administration of the police department on the highest level, for surely if there are any glaring offenses by any of the department, the fault lies upstairs and not with the individual men. The job of the police is a thankless job and one which should command the respect of everyone in town. Certainly, every measure should be taken to assure them security on the job, high morale and the future of promotion through merit rather than political means."

Bonadies outlined some of steps in his democratic program which included public audiences two times a week, flood control commission, "so-called light industry," and the "unfortunate tax structure in the town."

Democrats

their understanding of township affairs.

Critique Playgrounds

The Republicans criticize our talks of a non-partisan recreation commission. Have they ever examined the complete lack of adequate facilities for recreation and community gathering? Have they ever watched children in the two existing playgrounds sit up clouds of dirt and dust; trip and fall over stones and holes filled with stagnant pools of water and finally desert the playgrounds for the comfort of unacrossed streets?
No. Their concept of recreation is some what different than that expressed by the people and youth of our town. Have they gone into the congested areas of our town where people cry out bitterly that some consideration be given to their children? No. They only visit these people at election time.

"The Republicans dare criticize our proposal for a Baby Keep Well Station with a bland statement that it was tried here once and failed. The reason people preferred this service on a personal basis, through physicians of their own choosing. Here again the Republican spokesman shows his complete ignorance of what he criticizes. First of all, the town never sponsored a Baby Keep-Well Station and, secondly, such a station primarily encourages the use of personal physicians at all times. Those acquainted with Baby Keep Well Station know full well that such stations, highly successful in every town around us, do not treat children or supplement the personal physician. Nor will this station supplement the use of our Visiting Nurse service for adults.

"They say we talk about a Citizen's Budget Committee. Well we're informed they had one too.
But, alas, as every thing else goes that they once had, it failed, too.
Of course it would fail when honest sincere citizens endeavoring to serve their town are belittled, abused and looked upon as inferiors. Haven't it ever occurred to the Republican hierarchy that people who pay taxes have a genuine interest in how their money is spent, but also have some pride?
The Board of Education has experienced a high degree of efficiency and success through the cooperation of citizen's Committees, but the Republican Township Committee finds little use for such endeavors.

On Flood Control

"The Republican spokesman has made the outrageous statement that by establishing a permanent flood control commission we would expect to perpetuate permanent floods. How ridiculous can they get? Is there no limit to their false double talk? A permanent commission can face the local problem of floods without being concerned, at present, with the Kahway Valley and $1,000,000 project.

"They can maintain a vigil on drainage problems and assure that town meets its responsibility in preventing soil erosion and floods.
They talk about floods as a monumental task requiring state and county aid. True, but, in the meantime, let's try doing something for ourselves.

"The Republicans ridicule our proposal for the collection of garbage on a joint-meeting plan with other adjacent towns. They say they're for home-rule; the kind of home rule that, at present, permits the private scavenger to collect tribute from small and large business men in town for the normal collection of garbage. A collection paid by the town and clearly defined in the contract between the town and the private scavenger, fully aware and cognizant of the illegal collection of garbage fees, turns it back on the pleasure of business men to do something about a nasty deplorable condition.

"The spokesman for the Republican candidates points out their rapid cooperation with various service groups in town, such as the First Aid Squad. Of course he doesn't point out that Mr. Blader fought the purchase of a new ambulance (tooth and nail and later labeled it a "white elephant").

He, probably, let that the First Aid Squad could do well with the 1922 Kissel Ambulance they had been using.

Good Plan

"The Republicans now talk about a service road along the rear of stores on Morris Avenue for the use of garbage collecting. But has anyone taken the time and bother to look behind these stores and investigate the feasibility of such a plan. Don't they know that several buildings stand behind these stores and that several business men conduct their business endeavors behind these stores?

"The Republican spokesman takes great pride in attracting Hanovia Chemical Corporation to Springfield. Little does he know that Hanovia has, long ago, lost faith in our government and business, located in Hillside. Now there will be nothing but weeds on the 63 acres owned by Hanovia.

The record of industry which first located elsewhere is a black page considered Springfield and then for yourself."

"This is the record; now choose

Woman's Club News

Thirteen girls from Regional High School attended the annual College Day at New Jersey College for Women at New Brunswick on Saturday, October 24. Miss Niles P. Christensen, education chairman of our club, and Mrs. Stevens C. Sperling, of the N. J. C. Alumnae Association escorted the girls on their outing. Phyllis Blazewicz, Myra Chiodo, Gerda Krosowicz, Barbara Boys, Elaine Hartung, Doreen Haupt, Ruth Moore, Evelyn Stouka from Mountaineer, Sandra Hines from Kenilworth, and Beverly Kostyal, Jacqueline Stryker, and Marlene Zavoda from Clark were the students who attended College Day at N.J.C.

The girls toured the campus, visited classrooms, dormitories, the dining hall, and the Student Center Building. A program in Voorhees Chapel acquainted them with student life on the campus, school traditions, curricula information, and extra-curricular activities. After a box lunch on Athletics Field, the girls were guests at the Fordham-Rutgers Football game.

This annual event is sponsored by the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs and is designed to acquaint high school girls—club members, parents, teachers and friends with New Jersey College for Women. College Days play an important part in keeping alive an active interest in N.J.C., giving Federation women an opportunity to see at first hand the strides made during the past few years and serving to clarify college problems in the minds of parents and students.

Miss Evelyn Potter acted as College Day Chairman and encouraged the girls to take advantage of this fine opportunity to visit the campus of N.J.C. and learn of college life.

Mrs. Christian Anderson, 32 Lyone place, was hostess to the members of the Executive Board on Wednesday, October 28. Mrs. Arthur Stender and Mrs. Michael Tatusko assisted as co-hostesses.

A copper tooling project begun last month by members of the Art Department will be completed when this department meets at the home of Miss Gertrude Sala, 488 Morris avenue, on Monday, November 2, at 8:15 p. m. Mrs. Robert T. Merino and Mrs. Frances L. McRobbie will be co-hostesses for this meeting. Miss Sala, department chairman, reports that fifty exhibits were shown when this group held its annual art exhibition on October 24 and October 25 at the Library. In addition to the paintings, there was a display of ceramics.

From November 1st through the 7th, American Art Week is celebrated throughout the nation. Federation Art Day will be observed on Thursday, November 5, at the Montclair Museum, Montclair. There will be an exhibition for New Jersey artists and will include water colors, oils, and pastels. A pastel by a Springfield artist, "Bill" Jensen, of 126 Melaleuc avenue, will be on display. All club members are invited to attend the Federation Art Day. Transportation will be arranged so if you are interested please call Miss Gertrude Sala for further particulars at MI 67063 N.

Hot Election

ings right up to Monday.

Last year's election figures show that the Republican candidate, Handville and Remlinger, won with 2,077 and 2,047, respectively. The registration figures for 1953 show that there are 5,191 eligible voters in Springfield and, if the workers for the various candidates can bring out a high enough vote, there may be some startling results. All sides are paying particular attention to the third and sixth districts, especially the third where there has been a great number of newcomers to be counted next Tuesday.

Last year Keane, who also ran on the Independent ticket last year, was high man in the third district with 532 and 520 for Marchese. Handville received 298 for the third and Remlinger 297.

It was also a close battle in the sixth district with Handville receiving 321 while Remlinger polled 315. Keane received 287 and Marchese, 272, in the sixth.

There hasn't been much steam worked up in Springfield for either the county or state candidates but the local battle for the Township Committee should bring out a fine vote on Tuesday. The size of the total vote will play a very important part and all three sides are preparing to ring door bells and make every effort to have every registered voter cast a ballot.

The polls open at 7 a. m. and close at 8.

Pass Hour Parking For Maple Avenue

The Township Committee went through a routine meeting last night. The only discussion coming in the final reading and adoption of an ordinance which forbids parking more than an hour on Maple Avenue between Springfield and Morris avenues.

Leonard Estrin, an attorney representing the Springfield Sheet Metal Works, pointed out to the governing body that such a regulation would work a hardship on the employees of that firm unless some other parking facilities would be made available. Estrin said the owners of the firm were willing to rent or even purchase any land in the immediate vicinity to be used for a parking lot for employees.

Other business and industries on Maple Avenue are also affected by the passage of the ordinance but Committeeman Albert G. Binder pointed out that the ordinance was introduced because residents on that street objected to the workers' cars being parked in front of their homes throughout the day and with the increase in traffic on that street, it presented a problem.

The ordinance was finally adopted after considerable discussion, but the Township Committee ordered a thirty day extension before enforcing the new ordinance so as to give the industries and business places on that street an opportunity to work out their own problems and, if possible, arrange for parking of the workers' cars on some other street.

The ordinance authorizing the purchase of parking meters was also passed on its final reading last night.

Sylvia Merrill, Marjorie Wellock, Andrew Gainey and Bob Flavell compose the quartet known professionally as the "Broadway Balladiers" who appear regularly in theatrical productions and also as entertainers at clubs, churches, schools and colleges in New Jersey, New York, Connecticut and Pennsylvania.

Sylvia Merrill, coloratura soprano, comes from a family of musicians. Her mother and father were concert violinists. In October, Mr. Gainey sang with a group from the Metropolitan Opera Co. in New Orleans.

Bob Flavell, now singing with the Amato Opera Co. of New York City, has sung with the Southernaires Quartet on radio noon, Regional High School scored touchdowns in each of the first three stanzas, to take Roselle for the ninth straight time, 18-0 at Simpson Field, Roselle, before a crowd of 100.

Regional Wins 18-0

After the half had exchanged hands twice, Jack Wyckoff recovered a Roselle fumble on the Tiger 19 yard line. From there the Bulldogs wasted no time. Ron Coles went into the line three times, picking up six yards. On fourth down Art DeBlasse passed to Bob Hull from the 13 to the three, where Hull went over to score. Robinson converted but a Regional offensive penalty cancelled it. The second try was wide.

Early in the second period Regional again began to move. DeBlasse hit George MacKenzie with a pass to the Roselle 10. Interference was ruled next when Hull was pushed reaching for an aerial on the three. Coles went into the line for no gain, but MacKenzie swept wide to score.

Hal Bolick almost went for another tally as he intercepted a Jump pass at midfield and raced to the Tigers' 20, before being knocked out of bounds. Regional, however, lost possession on a bad pass.

The quiet third quarter was interrupted by MacKenzie's sensational 70 yard punt return through the whole Roselle team. George, trapped by three opponents, managed to shake loose to score the final touchdown.

Robinson's kick was low and blocked.

Regional again started moving after an exchange of kicks. Coles broke off tackle and raced 38 yards to the Roselle 12, finally being stopped from behind. However, this threat was stopped at the nine.

The losers never gave off with a real threat, although they gained more rushing yardage than Regional. The Bulldog forwards, led by Ed Ruby, Hal Bolick, Jack Wyckoff, and Company, gave up no yardage through the line; but Roselle's speed merchant did gain around end.

Follow Good Clue In Safeway Job

The Springfield police department hopes to get a break very shortly in the holdup at the Safeway Supermarket last Friday night when, according to the report, a masked bandit forced the manager of the store to hand over the day's receipts, estimated at $3,000.

Thomas Mitchell, manager of the local Safeway establishment, and members of the local police department, spent yesterday in Newark examining pictures in the rogues gallery and the report is that a good clue has developed which may break the case.

The holdup was well planned, according to the police report, one of the men hiding in the store, until after closing. One of the men, his face masked by a handkerchief, forged Mitchell and a clerk, at gun point, to open the store safe. Mitchell told the police, and then opened the door to admit an accomplice. They then emptied the money from the safe into a bag, and after ripping the telephone wires, ran out.

Mr. Mitchell immediately rushed to an extension telephone and called the police. The two men had disappeared. Several clues have been developed and followed up by the local police, who hope to break something very soon.
