Traffic Lights May Be Placed On Morris Ave.

Installation of electrical traffic signals on Morris avenue, east of Meisel avenue to cut down the terrific speed of motorists is the most urgent objective of residents in that area of Springfield and demands are being made that the New Jersey state officials do something about it immediately. Because there is no light or signal to curtail the speeding cars from Meisel avenue to the Union line, residents in this section of Springfield have asked the Township authorities and Springfield Sun to emphasize the need for immediate installation.

Amy Bandomer Heads Heart Appeal

MRS. AMY BANDOMER

Mrs. Amy Bandomer, of 541 South Springfield avenue, Springfield, has been appointed chairman of the 1954 Heart Appeal drive there. Last year, Mrs. Bandomer headed the successful drive for the first time. Her quota will again be $741.67.

Mrs. Bandomer has resided in Springfield 28 years and has been very active in many municipal drives and civic groups. She is a member of the Springfield Woman's Club, the Springfield Civic Club, the Republican Club and the Union County Federation of Republican Women.

Former Attorney Institutes Program

Herbert A. Levin, formerly a Springfield attorney, has been responsible for instituting an Insurance Training Program in connection with the Law School of the University of Miami. As reported in an article in the "Herald," official publication of the University's School of Law, the program offers six courses, upon the completion of which a certificate of proficiency in insurance law will be awarded in addition to the degree of Bachelor of Laws. Three of the courses are already part of the law school program and are to be considered prerequisites to Insurance I, II and III. These prerequisites will, however, be waived until September. (Continued on page 5)

United GOP Voters Drive for Members

Mrs. N. Moses, 652 S. Springfield avenue, is secretary of the United Republican Voters Association with headquarters at 358 Springfield avenue, Summit, which is conducting a drive for new members. Applications can be had from Mrs. Moses.

W. D. Schuster, of 43 Warner avenue, a resident here for a great number of years, has been staging a single handed fight to have such signals installed. Mr. Schuster has written letters to the State Highway Department, pointing out the danger to children and even adults along this portion of Morris avenue—all of which has evidently brought some official action.

Engineers from the Bureau of Traffic Safety have already been in Springfield to make an inspection of the particular stretch of Morris avenue but, up to this writing, there has been no indication of what the results of that survey may be. The installation of traffic signals at the corner of Short Hills road and Morris avenue is also being considered by the Highway Department.

In a reply to a letter written by Mr. Schuster to Governor Alfred E. Driscoll, State Highway Commissioner R. J. Abbott wrote under date of November 17, "Governor Alfred E. Driscoll has referred to my office your letter of December 11, 1953, requesting the installation of traffic signals at State Highway Route 24 (Morris avenue) and Battle Hill avenue, Springfield Township.

Postmaster Urges Care in Mailing

The Arab-Israel issue will be discussed. Mrs. Martha Berger, president, will preside.

Allstate Building Starts Construction—But Not Here

Those who fought successfully against having the Allstate Insurance Company located in Springfield will find little or no comfort in that conquest with the announcement that the Borough of New Providence will have this modern up to date office building built on the property having been acquired this week. Construction is expected to begin next month.

TAXES! TAXES! TAXES!

If there's anything you want to know about your taxes—or even your neighbor's taxes—you can inspect the new assessments between 9 a.m. and 12 noon Saturday, December 12, in the Municipal Building.

Propane Gas Co. Permit Is Held Up By Township

Harsh words and bitter accusations keyed the main subject of the township meeting last night, when the Standard Propane Gas Corporation, an organization who had proposed to lease property from Casale Farms on Springfield avenue, ran hot-tempered and up against the Township Committee.

The Standard Propane Gas Corporation, a newly formed group headed by Richard H. Gerweck and James E. Garrigan had arranged with Casale to lease a portion of his property for the purpose of setting up a sales depot. This depot, according to their attorney, Howard Schlesinger of the law firm of Levy, Fenster and McGuskey, of Newark, would be no more than a 6,000 gallon tank and a single block brick front building with landscaped grounds. Since, according to Schlesinger, his clients were in strict adherence to Section 8 of the Zoning Ordinance, and the plans were approved by the building inspector, fire department and police, he questioned the jurisdiction of the Township Committee in this instance, and if they were empowered to act for or against, the gas concern wanted a decision.

Members of the committee insisted they were investigating every aspect of the problem and felt that a company of this nature might jeopardize the present and future of Springfield.

New Electric Cable To Double Capacity

A new electric cable between Chatham and Springfield substations was recently put into operation by the Jersey Central Power & Light Company according to James Traynor, superintendent of the local electric company's district.

Jersey Central Names Local Man Office Manager

Duff, the company's northern division commercial manager, announced today. In his new duties, Mr. Mann will assist in divisional commercial activities, Mr. Duff said.

Receive Notices For Jury Duty

NEW TELEPHONE MANAGER—New Jersey Bell Telephone Company has announced the appointment of Charles A. Dowd, Jr., of 53 Summit avenue, Caldwell, as manager of the company's Millburn business office.

Methodist Church to Receive 70 New Members on Sunday

Approximately 70 new church members will be received next Sunday into the fellowship of the Springfield Methodist Church at Main street and Academy Green in Springfield, at the 10:45 a.m. service of Divine Worship. These new members have had instruction for four weeks and are the result of the November United Evangelistic Advance when 39 members of this Church visited in the homes of new member prospects challenging the prospects to make Christian decisions.

Xmas Seal Sales Reach $17,000

20,398 persons in Union County have contributed $16,851.63 to the Union County Tuberculosis & Health League, Inc., by their purchase of Tuberculosis Christmas Seals. Mrs. C. H. Richards, treasurer of the Springfield Seal Sale Committee, contributors who do not receive follow-up cards shortly after Christmas will know that their contributions have been received. This season the cost both from the point of labor and postage. One of the goals of the League is early detection of tuberculosis, for which diagnostic clinic and low-cost x-ray services are provided through the purchase of Christmas Seals. All persons with suspicious findings in these low-cost x-rays are advised by the League to see their family physician, or attend one of the League's clinics for further study. These x-rays show abnormal pathology other than tuberculosis—such as lung tumors and heart conditions.

ON THE SUNNY SIDE

While we're on the subject of gripes—and how to improve Springfield—why haven't our town fathers built a fire under the Union County Park Commission and have something done about parks in our own Township?

Even on the basis of political expediency Springfield has always produced the kind of a Republican vote that should attract some kind of recognition from the powers that be—but the Township is getting the usual cold shoulder—and no park. Springfield hasn't anything that even resembles a park despite what the County Park Commission may offer in the way of an explanation.

And it might surprise taxpayers and others in Springfield to learn that the Union County Park Commission owns 359 acres in the Township of Springfield and it's logical to expect that some of it should have been developed after all these years. Of course, much of the land decided over and now owned by the County Park Commission isn't what might be called first grade property but some plain and fancy tricks have been done in other sections of Union County to improve the parks and recreational facilities of those communities. They seem to be able to find funds for newly constructed golf courses in other sections of Union County but, except for a little fill in for swamp land, very little has been done for Springfield.

Several years ago the Township Committee met with the Union County Park Commission representatives and there was considerable talk of extending Riverside Drive all the way to Kenilworth as part of an elaborate program of establishing parks in Springfield but that was just a lot of conversation.

It is conceded by everyone that no community in Union County is growing more rapidly than Springfield and something should be done about parks—some place where the mothers can walk with their youngsters, or sit in the shade during the heat of the summer.

We don't want to go deep into a long discussion on rates, taxes and all such uninteresting statistics but it is something for the municipal survey boys to think about: Subtract the 359 acres now owned by the Union County Park Commission which is entirely lost to the Township as far as rates are concerned and add to that the North Jersey Quarry property, the Flenner estates and other land within the municipality now taxed on an acreage or farm basis, it leaves not too much for tax collector unless we permit more homes—and even more industries to locate in Springfield.

The Baltusrol Golf Club is also assessed on the basis of farm land or acreage but the amount of actual dollars paid by this organization to the Springfield tax collector every year makes Baltusrol one of the best tenants in the entire Township.

According to Charles H. Huff, Collector of Taxes in Springfield, Baltusrol hands a check of approximately $40,000.00 every year to the Township without too great a call on the services available to most taxpayers. Baltusrol cares for its own garbage, according to Huff, there are no sewers or the usual street problems on the inside of their property and the Township doesn't have to provide school facilities for what otherwise might be private homes.

There is an occasional call for police services and a fire would, naturally, bring out the Township Department but Baltusrol is the kind of a tenant Springfield should encourage to remain.

There is nothing Springfield can do with other property now assessed on a farm land basis but the Township could do very well without some of them. The North Jersey Quarry Company, owners of a great section of Springfield, will eventually leave the Township a series of deep holes. There doesn't seem to be any provision to compel the company to do something about exposing the kids to the temptation of playing around those newly created spots for adventure. Perhaps, Springfield might find an ordinance to force the quarry company to fill in these holes in the ground after they have blasted out whatever they're looking for.

New Providence residents are gloating. This thriving little community will get that over a million dollars in rates and over a million dollars a year payroll with the coming of the Allstate Insurance Company eastern office to that municipality.

Springfield could have had this office and its 400 to 500 employees—its estimated $30,000 a year in taxes, its big payroll, a part of which would have rubbed off on local merchants.

Planning Board member Walter W. Baldwin led the forces against making necessary changes in the zoning ordinance at that time. The fact that Springfield would be getting an estimated $30,000 in taxes from this office building was brushed aside by Mr. Baldwin with the statement that "the Hanovia company would, no doubt, pay as much after the industry is located on their property on Route 22." The Hanovia industry never did come to Springfield although the sign is still on the property, practically hidden by tall weeds which still insists on telling the world "This is the site of another Hanovia Manufacturing Company plant."

The SPRINGFIELD SUN agrees with residents on Morris avenue who have been shouting for a traffic signal at the corner of Short Hills avenue and some place east of Meisel avenue in the direction of Union. Appeals have been made to the proper authorities in Trenton and, at this writing, there appears to be some hope that the State Highway Department will shortly take some action.

Morris avenue, a tempting speedway for motorists the minute they get past the business center of Springfield, has been the scene of several crashes and some near fatalities. It is almost impossible to cross Morris avenue near those intersections because of the speeding cars and a traffic signal should alleviate this hazard to some extent.

Just where the electrical signal will be placed on Morris avenue, east of Meisel, has not been determined but it will probably be near Battle Hill avenue—which should help slow down the cars considerably. Letters and telephone calls to the proper authorities should bring some announcement very shortly.

The controversy between the garbage contractor and the merchants and industrial executives who have been paying extra fees for what the scavenger claims is for extra services, should be an easy matter to resolve. Complying with the provisions of the contract with the Township Committee. It is very definite that there should be no extra fees. The Roselle organization has a schedule to maintain in the matter of collection for a definite amount each year. The contractor cannot and should not measure the amount of garbage to be collected since it averages out.

However, the merchant is bound by regulations and his garbage should be placed and made ready for the carting away in accordance with the Health and Sanitary Code of the Township. This is still a matter for enforcement by the municipality and it leaves the merchant in the position where he cannot be forced to pay extra fees by the contractor.

The greatest cause of trouble is the carton, the paper container and other rubbish difficult to place in easy to handle bundles. Perhaps, the solution to the problem would be to give those merchants permits to build inexpensive incinerators in the back of the stores where much of this paper rubbish could be burned under the proper supervision.

SCHOOL NEWS

FLORENCE M. GAUJONNE SCHOOL NEWS

Grade 3 - Mr. William Falson... Grade 4 - Mr. Raymond Winbush... A study of the universe was the main topic of study in the science classes.

Science is learned through observation and experiment. Much about nature may be learned by the student who has been observant. Since September, many students have found and brought to class an assortment of insects ranging from praying mantis through butterflies.

Two topics of current interest which have been and are being studied are atomic energy and the atom.

It is interesting to note that the early history of jet propulsion dates back to the Chinese. It was the Chinese who first used gunpowder in the form of jet propulsion.

A good deal of curiosity has been voiced concerning the bodies comprising the solar system. Students were amazed to discover that the entire solar system is moving at the rate of twelve miles per second or one million miles each day toward the star Vega.

The theories involving the origin of the earth, the origin of the moon, the origin of comets and meteors, the composition of the sun, and the possibilities of life on other planets have all been studied.

The theories involving the origin of the earth, the origin of the moon, the origin of comets and meteors, the composition of the sun, and the possibilities of life on other planets have all been studied.

tion in mathematics is necessary. When they learned that the planet Neptune was discovered by mathematical calculation and that the astronomer's yardstick was a "light year" which involves a good deal of multiplication in its computation, arithmetic became more precise in the eyes of the students.

The pupils are now doing research on individual projects involving the solar system. They must refer to and consult the many reference books in the science room and make use of the books in the library. A bibliography is an essential part of their project.

In the rear of the science room there is found a display table with many interesting specimens. A collection of zoological fish, the skulls and skeletons of various animals, thriving tadpoles, living specimens of a snake, lizards, salamanders, frogs and toads; the cocoon of a praying mantis and the larval stage of a monarch butterfly are but a few that may be enjoyed by all who are interested.

John Meitz has compiled an interesting and informative collection of leaves, stems, fruits and seeds of many trees. Larry Viscelli brought his habits to school for several weeks, at which time the students observed the habits of this member of the Feline family.

To further the interests of science, Larry Viscelli and Michael Tarko have been building another science display table in Shop. The present one is no longer has room for further exhibits.

The Special Class has several plants in the sunny windows of our room. The plants are carefully tended and the perennials, begonias, African violets, and crab cactus plants are well cared for.

Fined $200 for Overloaded Truck

The Kraemer Trucking Company, of 524 South Twelfth street, Newark, was fined $200.00 on a charge of operating a truck overloaded by 8,000 pounds by Magistrate Henry C. McMullen in Municipal Court Monday night.

Magistrate McMullen processed forty-two traffic violation cases, with penalties totaling $402. More than a score were $1 assessments for illegal parking.

Among others penalized were: Speeding, John M. Chavious, 524 Springfield avenue, Union, $10, and Joseph White, 414 Amherst street, Linden, $7.50, and for passing a stopped school bus, Stella Schumacher, 11 Ridgedale avenue, Summit, $13.

DAR Hear About Historic Dolls

A display of historical dolls and an interesting and informal talk by their owner, Mrs. Edwin Florence of Summit, was the highlight of the November meeting of the Church and Cannon Chapter of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Florence exhibited a large number of dolls, dating back to and representing the styles of dress and manufacture of earlier days.

The regent, Mrs. Eugene F. Donnelly, presided at the meeting which was held at the new home of Mrs. E. P. Steltz of Chatham. Mrs. Steltz' assistant, hostesses included her sister Mrs. G. W. Pultz, Mrs. J. H. Mitchell and Mrs. Allan Spencer, all of Chatham.

Lyric Soprano Sings in Revue

Mrs. June Q. Cotter

Mrs. Anthony Verlangieri of 138 Melsel avenue and Mrs. John R. Cain of 133 Melsel avenue accompanied Mrs. and Mr. David Cotter to New York City to enjoy the Wall Street Follies presented by The Church of Our Lady of Victory of Downtown New York City, held at the Hotel Astor on Friday evening, November 27th.

Mrs. June Quane Cotter, lyric soprano of 132 Melsel avenue participated in the Revue and sang "Danny Boy" and was tremendously appreciated as was evidenced by the amount of applause. She responded with an encore of "For Thine Alone."

Mrs. Cotter majored in music in her college days at St. Mary's College at Xavier, Kansas, and taught music in the Staten Island and New York City schools before her marriage.

Tax Collections Ahead of 1952

The taxes collected for the month of November, 1958, according to the report issued by Springfield Collector of Taxes Charles H. Huff, shows a decrease as compared with the same month in 1957, but the total to date is greater than last year.

For November of this year, a total of $40,239.52 was collected as against $104,685.17 for the same month in 1957. However, the total collections including November for 1958 were $887,160.30 as against $928,062.28 for 1957.

Up to and including November there was a total collection of $31,588.83 of delinquent taxes, $16.47 being received for taxes owed in 1947.

The total current collections for 1958 are $1,075,536.10 as against $1,002,300.40 for the same period in 1957.

Scavenger

The usual extra fees to the contractor, the contractor, on the other hand, insists that the extra fee was for additional services, an arrangement he has had with some of the merchants and industries for some time.

The letter, distributed by the Springfield Board of Health, is addressed to the "Occupant of Sublet Premises," and states that the "enclosed herewith is a copy of an Ordinance of the Township of Springfield relating to disposal and removal of ashes, garbage and refuse. You are urged to read the provisions of the ordinance very carefully. Your compliance with the requirements of the said Ordinance is required to insure collection service by the scavenger of your ashes, garbage and refuse. The subject Ordinance is just as much a part of the garbage contract as the contract itself."

The merchants contend that the Roselle organization has a contract with the Township of Springfield which does not call for any additional fees to be paid. If they comply with the provisions of the sanitary code relating to garbage, the contractor will have to be content with the amount being paid by the Township. That means handling of paper cartons and other containers so that the scavenger can cart it away without forcing his men to make extra trips.

However, the Roselle organization maintains that it has been giving extra service for any additional fees charged. Private arrangements are said to have been made with merchants and industries for services in addition to the provisions of the contract with the Township Committee and for years this has been the rule.

As soon as the merchants and industrial heads who have been paying extra fees have the opportunity of studying the ordinance, an effort will be made to hold a conference with the garbage contractor and work out some acceptable arrangement.

Attorney

1954, for those wishing to take any of the insurance courses.

This program has had an extremely enthusiastic reception from numerous insurance companies which have been contacted by Mr. Kavin. They have expressed themselves as being greatly pleased that the University of Miami is foremost in this initial attempt to develop attorneys with an insurance background. Mr. Kavin has in his office over one hundred applications from insurance companies for law graduates who have obtained their insurance certificate, and points out that many law students in administrative positions in the insurance field today are lawyers.

The eventual plan is to develop the insurance program so as to make it a part of the graduate school thereby awarding an LL.M. in Insurance.

Kavin, a welcome to the faculty in the fall of '52, has had wide experience representing insurance companies in litigation. He has a facility for teaching non-legal programs and obtaining success. Last spring, he launched the Insurance Conference, an continuing with the annual Tax Conference held at the Royal Palm Hotel from April 15 to April 22. At this conference, the nation's leading authorities in insurance lectured in their respective fields. The conference was so highly successful that it will be retained as a permanent part of the law school agenda.
