Residents Object To Traffic Regulations Still Want Signals

Collection of Taxes Running Ahead of 1953

Collection of 1954 taxes in Springfield are running ahead for the same period of 1953—the total for the first two months of the year being $292,686.99 as compared with $267,909.09 for last year. The 1954 total for all collections which include delinquent taxes, bus gross receipts and other items is $305,514.65 for January and February compared to $279,755.30 for the same period in 1953.

For the month of February Collector of Taxes Charles H. Huff reports that $92,261.30 were received against $105,582.27 for the same month of last year. Delinquent taxes were collected during February amounting to $3,716.40 which made it a total for the two months in 1954 of $11,956.29.

While everybody is in favor of installing traffic signals on Morris avenue in the Battle Hill-Marion avenue section, the residents in that area are up in arms because of the regulations accompanying the recommendation. The residents plan to voice their objections as soon as they can be heard by the Township Committee and representatives of the Department of Law and Public Safety of the State Highway Commission.

"Husband's Night" Set for March 10

MRS. LEE L. ANDREWS

Show Director

"Husband's Night" will be observed at the Club Night Meeting of the Springfield-Woman's Club at the James Caldwell School on Wednesday, March 10th, at 8:15 p.m.

The "Year of Jubilo," a Minstrel show, will be presented by members of the Drama Department with the cooperation of Music Department members. Mrs. Lee Andrews, Jr., is show director and will be assisted with the production by the following people:

Music director, Mrs. William Osborne; Dance instructor, Mrs. William Darrow; Make-up, Mrs. Harry Speicher; Costumes, Mrs. Louis James; Stage, Mrs. Russell Post; Pianists, Mrs. George Lanoster and Miss Joan Field; Publicity, Mrs. John Trout; Prompter, Mrs. Dorothy Lee Andrews.

To the rousing chorus of "The Year of Jubilo," Mr. Interlocutor, played by none other than our Regional High School Latin teacher, Miss Evelyn Porter, will lead on stage his recitals, the "End Men," and from then on till the end of the show pandemonium will reign.

Right now petitions are being circulated in that section to be affected by the proposed regulations and over 120 have already signed to back up their objections. The chief target of the petitioners is the suggestion by the Highway Commission that no left hand turns be permitted into Morris avenue from Warner avenue, Washington avenue and Alvin terrace. The other important objection is the parking prohibition on Morris avenue in the immediate vicinity of the proposed traffic signal.

Business places on Morris avenue, near Marion avenue, would have to "close up," according to "Bill" Siles, proprietor of Suburban Liquors, 18 Morris avenue. "Most of my customers," said Siles, "come to my place because they are able to park near my store. If there is no parking, as the letter from the Highway Commission suggests, we might as well close up."

Signers of the petition objecting to the "no left turn" and "no parking" regulations come from Morris, Washington, Alvin Terrace, Battle Hill, Marion, Warner and Perry Place. The petition points out that if there is a traffic signal at that point—Morris avenue, what would be the objection to left hand turns. The petition says that traffic will be stopped.

James J. Olsen Promoted By Pru

James J. Olsen, of 144 Pitt Road (Springfield), has been promoted by The Prudential Insurance Co. to chief actuarial assistant in the company's sickness and accident department.

Mr. Olsen joined Prudential's Home Office staff in 1934. Throughout his 20-year career he has been associated with actuarial work in various divisions of the company. In 1951 he was promoted to senior actuarial assistant and transferred to the newly organized sickness and accident department. In the same year he completed requirements for the highly coveted designation of "Fellow" in the Society of Actuaries.

His career was interrupted by military service during World War II. From 1942 until his discharge as a staff sergeant in 1945 he served with the Army.

Mr. Olsen was born in Elizabeth and later moved to Roselle where he attended the local high school. A resident of Springfield since October, 1951, he lives here with his wife and their two daughters—Cande, aged four, and Nancy, two years.

Nenninger To Be GOP Choice For Township Job?

BOTH CONSIDERING CANDIDACY—Robert G. Nenninger, left, former Township Committee member, and former Mayor Robert W. Marshall who promise announcements soon on running for office.

Springfield politics will come to a boil in the next few days and, while there is nothing definite, there is a little battle royal brewing in the coming Republican primary, even if half of the rumors are true.

Official announcement will be made by the Republican organization in Springfield at a meeting to be held in the American Legion Hall this Sunday as to the candidate to be supported for the one place on the Township Committee.

There is every indication that this man will be Harold G. Nenninger, former Township Committeeman, and if they can get him to accept the job of campaigning for the office, it should provide an interesting race. Mr. Nenninger is seriously considering and seems to be the choice of most of the local leaders and considerable influence is being brought to bear on him to accept but there will be no official announcement until after Sunday's meeting.

The primary battle will come with the news that friends and supporters of former Mayor Robert W. Marshall are using every known device to get him to run again. Petitions for his candidacy are already in the hands of his workers but he hasn't given any indication that he will accept it, there is to be a primary contest. It is known that Marshall doesn't want a primary scrap if he can avoid one but his friends maintain that his experience on the Township Committee shouldn't be overlooked.

He refused to make any statement regarding the primary but said that he was watching developments with interest and that he would make up his mind long before the final date for filing petitions which is next Thursday.

Suffers Severe Lacerations

William Regal, 47, of 16 Mountain avenue suffered severe lacerations of three fingers of his left hand on Sunday evening, February 21 while using an electric saw. He was taken to Overlook Hospital, Summit, in a police car, and released after treatment. Mr. Regal is the brother of Mrs. E. Mittnacht of 18 Mountain avenue.

Husband Saves the Day By Paying For Parking Ticket

Mrs. Muriel E. Lyons, of 125 Hawthorn avenue, is known by her neighbors as a soft spoken, rather retiring, quiet person with a fine smile, who just likes people and makes friends easily. Even her husband, Bernard, is authority for the statement that she never screams when the bus tires burst and she never or hardly ever, he says, tried to kick him under the table when he trumped her ace during a six spade bridge hand, which is praise from Caesar.

She could have been described as the "difficult" version of Mr. Milquetoast—that is, until last week when she earned the rather dubious distinction of being "the first" to receive a ticket for violating the parking meter regulations in Springfield.

That evidently was the last straw that broke the proverbial camel's back because Mrs. Lyons let loose with all the whistles and even the easy-going Police Chief

PFC Benkert Completes His Boot Training

PFC Gordon Benkert

Private First Class Gordon Benkert has completed his boot training with the U.S. Marines at Parris Island, S. C. He graduated with the Honor Platoon. The training period lasted for 11 weeks.

PFC Benkert, son of Mrs. Maelda Wozniak of 43 Battle Hill avenue, is home until March 12, at which time he will report to Camp Pendleton, Calif. Following four weeks' advanced training there, he will go to Japan for two years. PFC Benkert enlisted in the Marines while a senior at Regional High School.

Albert A. Sorge who was the target for some of Mrs. Lyons' well-ennunciated ideas about policemen who hand out tickets without warning, found it rather difficult to decide whether or not to get angry about the whole thing. However, he didn't get angry and Mrs. Lyons, having blown off some steam, soon began seeing the humor in the situation.

Mr. Lyons found a quick solution to the whole problem by taking the ticket into the violations bureau and paying the fine—but Mrs. Lyons says it's a matter of principle and she's prepared to take it as high as the Supreme Court—and even to the United Nations or the next meeting of the Big Four if she doesn't get some satisfaction along the way.

Mrs. Lyons says her gripe isn't against the police officers who were doing their duty when they handed her a ticket, but she doesn't believe the parking meter regulations were handled with any concern for the ordinary citizen.

"When the parking meters were first installed—whether I believe that they do the job or not is not important—I observed the police by dropping coins whenever I parked," said Mrs. Lyons. "Then I was informed that the parking ordinance hadn't yet passed and that we had been pushing nickels in the meters top soon—and they put up little posters announcing that it wasn't necessary until it became a law."

Mrs. Lyons insists she didn't read the newspaper announcing that the parking meters would be "official" starting with February 24 and when she was handed a ticket she was surprised. "There should have been a sign in the period," says Mrs. Lyons, "a week or more of warning before any real tickets were handed out." Of course, Mrs. Lyons has cooled off considerably since the first outburst and Mr. Lyons is happy that he managed to get the ticket and pay the fine.

The operation of the parking meters is going along smoothly according to the police department. Tickets for violations are being handed out averaging about 9 or 10 each day since the parking meters became legal here.

A Police Officer's Answer
A police officer in our town of fine reputation in law-enforcement circles was recently dismissed from his post after a hearing on charges made against him.

When the "lightly veiled innuendoes" against the entire department began to rankle and burn, one officer sat down before his typewriter and wrote a policeman's answer from all members of the department. The text is reprinted below:

The other night, while you (the public) worked or slept, policemen on the third shift and also the second shift, at headquarters, walked or rode a beat that covers over 5 square miles. They were performing necessary, but to them, routine duties.

They directed the strangers, helped motorists, calmed down the boisterous, broke up the fights, administered first-aid, and helped the sick and injured. Yes, and they took the reports and arrested the violators, and patrolled and checked your houses and business establishments, also guarded your own quiet little home in the suburbs and checked the cafes and taverns.

Several, probably, risked their lives, knowingly or unknowingly. In the past history of the Police Department officers have been in gun battles with dangerous criminals, shot at while patrolling alone in police cars and walking the beat; also injured in motor vehicles in trying to apprehend the criminals. This everyone knows. It was on the front page of newspapers and on the air.

After this one officer was discharged from duty, the others went home feeling a little sick. Some pretended not to hear when two factory workers or others discussed the case a little louder than necessary. Some arrived home, a neighbor called to them and wanted to know the "inside on the case."

Maybe they were a little cross when they went home and wives sighed and the little lines that policemen's wives get around their eyes got a little deeper. And when he went to work they stood at the door and watched him a little longer. Also, sons and daughter of these men were shunned and bypassed by other children of non-policemen who heard their parents talk about the case.

All the years of good police work seemed wasted. When it came time to put on the blue suit a lot of policemen wished they were plumbers or mechanics or of some other profession.

No, these aren't the guys you read about unless they get lucky and break a big case or are unlucky and get hurt or killed. But they make this town the cleanest town of its size in the State.

They don't ask for honors or praise, but they do ask that you judge them not on the actions of one man as you would not be judged on the actions of one man of your group or profession.

That which is in the hearts of all men on the force.

Has Done Wonderful Job
Enthusiastic support from all political factions in Springfield and the blessing of all local leaders should give Mrs. Eleonore Worthington the field all to herself in the campaign for Township Clerk, this time.

The office of Township Clerk is one of the busiest operations in Springfield and Mrs. Worthington has made this department one of the most efficient, bureaus in the Township.

Mr. Dowd Takes a Long, Careful Look
Under the above heading the Elizabeth Journal points out editorially how things have changed in Union County politics, as follows: "As has come to be quite generally recognized around the sovereign State of New Jersey Mr. William G. Dowd Jr. is the leader of the Democratic Party in Union County. Time was—and not so long ago—when outside of Hudson County, it didn't make too much difference who was Democratic leader in Union. Now, things have changed and Mr. Dowd finds himself the storm center in his home port merely because he recognized an obvious, but ignored, fact, that his duty is to the whole county."

Because "Bill" Dowd has dared to nominate Mrs. Jean Krulish of Roselle for the Union County Board of Elections instead of James J. Davis, who in ten years of membership has received around $40,000 salary in return for his party loyalty, the chairman, overnight, has become a big, bad ogre to a lot of people. Why? Do you suppose the Democratic chouse "Bill" Dowd as county leader to permit things political hereabouts to retain the status quo which existed before last November? Or did they see in him the "Moses" who would lead the Democratic Party out of the Union County "bullrushes" in which they had languished for, lo, these many years?

If the Democrats were satisfied to accept a situation in which a lot of political faith was required to keep Democrats out in the county faithful, then they should have been surprised at Mr. Dowd's evident attempt to establish his party on a county-wide basis. On the other, if they expected that Dowd would attempt to solidify the Democratic gains of last November, as an army general would solidify the gains of battle, then there is no reason why protest over the removal of Mr. Davis should not give way to applause.

Before this 1954 has run its course the Democrats will be facing one of the severest tests in all their Union County history. This could be the year of do or die on the county level. They won last November, perhaps not so much because of themselves as because of a turn of events that are unmatched hereabouts. But, they won! Also, they cannot go on winning without support of the voters living beyond the eastern fringe of the county. That includes the women voters as well as the men voters.

What the Democrats may do about stilling the future occasioned by replacement in a Board of Elections appointment that is by no means a "Civil Service post," is a matter to be settled within Democratic councils. However, beyond the future, it is a matter that should hold wide interest both for the average citizen as well as Republican leaders. If the Democratic foothold now existing means that in further gains the voters living west of Elizabeth need expect no consideration election returns will quickly return to what used to be considered normal. And if there is to be no place on the patronage list for women party workers generally then the return to "normal" will be even quicker.

"Nobody knows this any better than the Republican leaders who have themselves done their full share toward helping out the opposition party. Mr. Dowd who merited nothing a year ago seems to have suddenly become the man of the hour."

Spare Those Trees
We're wondering if there is something Springfield can do about the developers coming into Springfield with their bulldozers and leveling every tree in the path of their blue prints. All of it can be charged up to speed and anxiety to get the homes sold before the ink dries on the mortgage papers.

Some of the real beauty of recently built homes disappeared with the trees.

What About Springfield?
The news handouts, telling how the Union County Park Commission plans to spend money this year, is interesting reading to all sections of the county except Springfield.

There is nothing actually being planned here except some maintenance costs. You read all about an item of $9,500 and $10,000 "to start work in the upper reaches of the Elizabeth River . . . and $8,000 for expansion of Kawamech Park play activities. . . and $10,000 to be used for clearing, grubbing and seeding along Salem Road . . . a total capital budget request for $110,000. Again, what about Springfield?

Remember Last Year?
"Don't be a 'Last in Line Louie,'" stated William Green, President of the Automobile Association of New Jersey.

"Are YOU prepared for your second period inspection sticker required before obtaining 1954 registration?"

"How good is your memory? Will it go back about a year to the long hours of waiting in line for inspection and then again at the Motor Vehicle Agency for driver's license, registration and tags? 'Oh, that won't happen to ME again!—not after last year'. Is this what you're saying? Well, in case it is, it WILL happen again; those same long hours of waiting. Waiting to get your car inspected, waiting to get your license, tags, etc. Yes, it WILL happen again—UNLESS you are prepared. Make sure that your car is in tip-top condition BEFORE going for inspection and prevent a possible return trip to the inspection station. Get your car in readiness now by having all safety equipment such as horn, lights, brakes, front-end, wipers and glass checked, repaired or adjusted as required.

"Just think back a year and make sure that YOU won't be a 'Last in Line Louie'. Play it safe—play it smart."

Letters to Editor

Dear Sir:
It gives me great pleasure as President of the Springfield Volunteer Fire Company to personally thank you and your staff for the splendid coverage your newspaper gave to the Annual Fund Drive.

I can truthfully say that without your valued effort, we would not have reached the amount necessary to realize our objective.

It is indeed gratifying to know that so many of our townpeople, as well as yourself, consider the efforts of some 45 volunteer firemen a worthy and necessary part of every day life in Springfield.

Traditionally, Springfield is well known for cooperative effort and this again has been proven by such a grand response not only financially, but by the appearance of approximately 450 to 500 persons at the Chateau Ballroom for the Annual dance, which the Volunteer Firemen consider a great compliment.

From all the Volunteer Firemen, we heartily thank the Springfield Sun and all who so generously supported this Annual Fund Drive. We pledge our diligence to duty to uphold the inherent traditions of Springfield.

Roaring Twenties Highlight Party

Mr. and Mrs. John Stroppone of 106 Hawthorn avenue invited neighborhood couples to their home Saturday evening for an ordinary get together, but what a gay party it turned out to be. As a surprise to everyone, including their own husbands, five of the ladies arrived late, dressed in authentic costumes of the roaring 20s.

As the hostess, Mrs. Stroppone, played a rip-roaring Charleston for Mrs. Fells Gold entered first in a yellow silk chiffon dress, ornately covered with beads, a purple ribbon worn low over the forehead and rolled stockings. Mrs. Robert Hitchings followed her in a similar dress of the period, a black chiffon number decorated with jet beads. Both girls wore ropes of pearls about their necks and entered the room with one hand on their hips and the other outstretched before them, so reminiscent of this era. And what a Charleston they did. Next came the bathing suit division of the beauty parade. Mrs. John Trout appeared in a two-piece number of black satin with a white striped middy collar, sleeves, bordered in the same striped fabric, rolled stockings and sneakers and "spit" curls drawn out from under a green bandana tied with a huge bow in front. Under the 20's dress, Mrs. Trout was wearing an up-to-date Annette Kellerman suit of black wool.

Mrs. Howard Robins sent the guests into gales of laughter when she entered, wide eyed and pupped lipped, in a two-piece navy and white wool bathing suit, rolled stockings, sneakers and even a beauty mark. And last of all, the piece de resistance, Mrs. Thomas piece man's bathing suit, a navy Geddies strolled in wearing a two-wool number, with a wide brimmed straw hat worn at a rakish angle. Into the suit, Mrs. Geddies had stuffed a pump pillow and what a figure she made.

The party really started off with a bank and continued all evening. A delicious buffet supper was poned guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Altobelli, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Norris Donagio, Mr. and Mrs. Polly Gold, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hitchings, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Robins, Mr. and Mrs. George Ryner, Mr. and Mrs. John Trout and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wells.

Nenninger

The attendance at the Springfield Volunteer Fire Department's annual dance exceeded all expectations with a capacity crowd of 450 persons. Due to the good turnout a large number of persons had to be turned away. A general rumor about the dance was that an enjoyable time was had by all. The Volunteer Fire Department consider the attendance a great compliment and are indeed happy that so many came out to support their annual affair. Door prizes, donated by businesses from both town and out of town, were given out by chairman El Smith. Dancing was to Don Gibson's orchestra. Plenty of "refreshments" were sold, which also was a profit to the volunteer company. Prior to the dance the ticket drive was a complete success and according to latest figures available at this time, the company has realized its objective. A final report on the financial achievement of this year's fund drive will be given to the public as soon as practical. Many Springfield residents, knowing they could not attend the dance, gave donations to the Volunteer Company. Businessmen also contributed. It is hoped that those not heard from will soon send in their donations.
