Mayor Urges Curbing Use Of Water Here

Mayor Albert G. Binder has issued a request that all residents cooperate in the face of the low water pressure scare here early this week by curbing the use of water for lawn sprinkling, car washing and other unnecessary waste. "There is no shortage of water for Springfield," said the Mayor, "and there is no fear of rationing the use of water but we must ask our people here to restrict lawn watering and such uses as car washing."

Mayor Binder explained that the cause of the low pressure on Monday of this week which left a large section of Springfield with a mere trickle of water, was explained by the Commonwealth Water Company as "insufficient pumping facilities." There was plenty of water, the company officials explained, but the rush of water users in this entire area was too much for the pressure machinery. Increased pumping facilities, in a day or two, will eliminate any change of a repeating of the danger confronting Springfield because of "no water."

Monday evening's pressure in Springfield was down to about 10 pounds when the normal pressure is between 40 to 50 pounds. Mayor Binder, Township officials and police, with loud speakers, drove up and down streets of Springfield asking people to cease watering the lawns until the pressure had increased. Between 6 o'clock and 9 of that evening the pumping had increased the pressure to about 50 pounds.

Most of the places affected are served by the Commonwealth Water Co. of Summit, which said the trouble was caused by excessive use of water which cut pressure in the mains to near zero.

Thomas W. Coleman, general manager of Commonwealth, said the situation was caused by "insufficient pumping capacity to meet the draw on the system." He said that the water supply was sufficient but that the company (Continued on page 2)

Plan Full Day Program Here For July 5th

Springfield residents are answering the call for contributions to the annual 4th of July celebration here, a full day's program arranged by the committee to be staged on Monday, July 5. Workers for the committee have been ringing door-bells, solicitations have been made by mail and the entire township has been made aware of the big celebration by window displays and there is even a big billboard on Morris avenue, asking Springfield to remain home on July 5 for the big 4th of July all-day program.

The Springfield Fourth of July Committee, with Vincent J. Bonadies at the head of a team of willing workers, is very much encouraged by the cooperation being given the program by citizens, business men and local organizations.

A full day's program has been arranged for that Monday, starting with a twenty-one aerial salute at 8 a. m. One of the high spots of the day is the annual baby parade which starts at 10:15 and will be held on the Regional High School grounds. Mrs. Amy Bandomer is in charge of this part of the program and announces that many entries have already been received for the three classes. "Those who want to compete and have not already done so, can register at the Regional High School grounds from 9 to 10 a. m.

A feature is the afternoon program at the Meisel Avenue Athletic Field starting at 1:30 p. m. Participation in various events and activities has always proved popular. Free rides for the kiddies (Continued on page 2)

Truck Convoys, Loaded With Dirt, Bring Some Complaints

Residents of Springfield—in the area of Morris avenue and Morrison road—are pounding on the doors of the township officials requesting that something be done about the rumbling convoys of trucks dumping dirt to fill in the Ness property. Trucks, loaded with fill, said to come from the Garden State Parkway construction job, have been pounding through Morris avenue for weeks and the report is that over 3,000 loads will be used to improve this big piece of property.

Traffic jams have been caused by these trucks traveling in the convoy order throughout the entire day but there has been very little serious complaint along Morris avenue except for the speed of the trucks and the fact that the ordinary passenger automobile cannot compete with these heavily loaded vehicles. There is a question of the right of way.

The trouble is caused when the loads are dumped on the property and the dust spreads all over the neighborhood. Many complaints have been made but the authorities except that Morris avenue traffic is jammed up. It is understood that a special police officer, paid by the contractor or owner of the property, has been stationed at the intersection of Morris avenue and Morrison road to handle traffic at that point, the motorists (Continued on page 6)

Ordinance To Install Lights Is Introduced

Necessary legislation for the eventual installation of traffic lights at the corner of Morris and Battle Hill avenues was introduced at last night's meeting of the Township Committee, with July 14 set as the date for the final hearing on both ordinances.

Introduction and final passage of these ordinances are in accordance with the agreement made with the New Jersey State Highway Commission and, as soon as both are passed on final reading, the traffic lights will be installed. The agreement is already in the hands of the Township Committee and the ordinances introduced last night include all the recommendations made at the public hearing held on the matter of the Morris avenue light installation.

One ordinance passed last night deals with left turns, a condition demanded by the Highway Commission, and the other covers parking in the vicinity of Battle Hill and Morris avenue. The parking limit in front of the Suburban Liquor store will be for 30 minutes instead of the 15 minutes as first ordered.

Card Parties, With Prizes, Against Law, Clubs Learn

Women's organizations and members of other groups in Springfield who have been depending on card parties to help replenish their treasuries, face a legal road-block with the reported ruling recently that Merritt Lane, Jr., of the New Jersey State Games Control Commission, in which he is said to have stated that the law specifically prohibits the awarding of prizes at such affairs. Prosecutor H. Russell Moss, Jr., is reported to have stated that Mr. Lane's decision is correct.

Many organizations believed that the new state law permitting bingo and raffles under the commission's supervision would make card parties for prizes legal but Mr. Lane's decision would make such card parties illegal if any prizes or money were offered to the winners.

Nothing in the raffles and bingo acts changes the provisions the New Jersey gambling laws which says, in part, "Any person playing for money or any valuable thing at cards... is guilty of a misdemeanor." This means that all those organizations in Springfield which have sponsored prize card parties and awarded prizes to support their programs will have to find some other way to give away prizes if they are to stay within the law.

Prosecutor Moss is reported to have stated that Commissioner Lane's ruling merely reiterates what he has said to every organization that has ever asked him about card parties: "You can't award prizes for card playing, no matter how worthy the purpose of the party."

Palsy League In Need of Support

Fear that some of the services provided for children at the United Cerebral Palsy League Center, 636 Salem avenue, Elizabeth, may have to be curtailed was expressed yesterday by Mrs. Charles Beardsley, local chairman, in a renewed appeal for public support during the current fund-raising drive.

Last year's generous response made it possible to expand the services of the Center to a five-day-a-week schedule, instead of part-time. As a result, 23 additional children were accommodated and benefited from the expert treatment received there, according to Mrs. Beardsley.

However, unless this year's response improves, funds will not be available to continue the present full-week schedule. Mrs. Beardsley, in her appeal for public support remarked: "If you have ever watched a (Continued on page 6)

Thanks To Police

During the National Open Tournament at Baltusrol, a great deal of good police work was accomplished. After considerable personal observations, as well as seeking comments of others, I would like to compliment the entire force on a job very well done. Your duties were performed on a high level of efficiency and courtesy, for which you can all feel proud.

I feel that no Police Department anywhere could have pursued their duties more effectively, which reflects a lot of serious thought, hours of planning and good direction on the part of the Chief, also much hard work and good morale on the part of all officers and patrolmen.

Frederick A. Handville, Police Commissioner.

Mrs. Thomas F. Doherty

Battle Of Springfield Mentioned On Radio

John Gambiling, noted WOR radio program conductor, devoted part of his broadcast yesterday morning to the fact that "Springfield, N. J. is observing the 174th anniversary of the Battle of Springfield."

In his comments he also referred to the fact that "last week they staged the second battle of Springfield at the Baltusrol Golf Club" which was part of the Springfield-Historical Society's observation in publishing the open championship here.

Girl Scouts Have Building - But Need Site To Move It

If some big hearted, civic spirited owner of property in Springfield has a piece of land—about 100 by 150—and wants to please practically everybody in the Township, he can do it either by giving the property to the local Girl Scouts or make an offer to sell the property at a price the Springfield group can afford. If such property can be made available to the Girl Scouts it will mean a permanent home for this group since an offer has been made to give them a fifteen room house in excellent condition—the only problem being that the structure will have to be moved from its present location at the corner of Morris and Springfield avenues.

The offer of giving the big white house to the Girl Scouts came with the reports that new owners have purchased the land at this corner and a new structure will be built there as soon as the deal is closed which, according to reports, will be in the next week.

Instead of demolishing the building the present owner offered it to the Girl Scouts and, according to Mrs. Charles Frey, who is forming a committee to work on this project, he has even offered to contribute what it might have cost to demolish toward the expense of moving the building.

The Girl Scouts, over a period of years and through hard work on the part of the group, have been saving money in the hope that permanent quarters may be made available for this group. They have been meeting in churches and schools but these meeting rooms are not always available and the prospect of having their own home has started a chain of activity which, it is hoped, may result in having their dream realized. Through the sale of cookies and the annual "strawberry festival," the Girl Scouts have managed to build up a treasury where they are now seriously considering accepting this offer if a site for locating the building here can be obtained.

Mrs. Frey and her committee workers have contacted several property owners in Springfield and even the County Park Commission has been asked to help make some property available for the building. If any one has information, or if some property owner has a site to fit the needs of this building, he can get information from the Girl Scout group, by telephoning Millburn 6-0446-M.

If You Lost Tame Tortoise—He's Safe

If some youngster in this area has lost a tame tortoise, he will find that the "critter" is being taken care of very well by R. E. Moore of 30 Springfield Road, Springfield.

Mr. Moore found the tortoise out in the road in front of his home Monday morning and immediately recognized that it was "tame" and probably the pet of some youngster. "These tortoises don't usually act very friendly," said Mr. Moore, "but this one evidently shows that he is accustomed to humans and must have been some kid's pet. There's a little hole drilled in the shell for a guide string. They're better off in captivity. This one would probably have been run over by an auto if I hadn't seen him Monday."

Mr. Moore will take care of the tortoise until the owner claims the "critter."

Mayor Urges

had underestimated the demand which the heat would create. A break in a line between New Providence and Berkeley Heights contributed to the pressure drop, Coleman asserted, but was not primarily responsible. The line was repaired.

Coleman said a pump of greater capacity will be installed at the Canoe-Brook pumping station in Summit. He recommended that consumers cut down water usage during the hot spell.

Banquet To Honor

Coaches and Managers of the Kiwanis, Rotary, Car-Hop and the Lions Club, also Recreation Commissioners Les Lawn, Edmund Hoffer, and Director of Leagues, Edward J. Ruby.

The Springfield Youth Baseball League enjoyed a highly successful season, and have already made plans to operate during the 1955 spring and summer months.

Historical Group Planning For Fall

A very ambitious program is being planned by the Springfield Historical Society to start in the Fall, details of which were discussed at a meeting of the officers, directors and committee chairmen held at the residence of Magistrate Henry C. McMullen, Molter avenue, last Thursday evening. The first regular meeting will be held in October and arrangements are being made to have an outstanding and well known speaker whose talk will be devoted to historical information involving Springfield and the surrounding territory.

Mrs. Eva Brown, of 121 Meisel avenue, has agreed to head a committee to accept and make part of the society's exhibits, any material, printed or recorded, pertaining to Springfield's history. Mrs. Brown explains that anything in the way of historic value will be appreciated. Those who have any such historical material are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Brown or telephone the SPRINGFIELD SUN—Millburn 6-5000—and the information will be relayed to Mrs. Brown.

The membership committee reported a total of 276 enrolled in the Springfield Society. Application for membership can be made to any one of the officers and Judge McMullen has set a target of at least 300 members before the regular October meeting.

Award Prizes

Award by Mrs. Myron D. Williams, President of the Springfield Women's Club.

The Service Award went to Carl Cingula and was presented by Mr. Robert C. Smith, President of the Shunpike Association.

Mrs. Eugene Donnelly, Regent, Church and Cannon Chapter, National Society, Daughters of American Revolution, presented the DAR Citizenship Awards to Maryann Donington and Roger Smith and the history project awards to SaEllen Keen and Barbara Heerwagen, and the history excellence award to Lois Hoeking.

Dr. Marvin Green of the Springfield Methodist Church gave the benediction.

New Home Cooler Introduced Here

Springfield is being used as the testing grounds for a new sensational home cooling system—at a very low cost—which is said to be the most revolutionary development in making the home comfortable.

It is known as Siber's Natural Home Cooling System and can be installed in the home "in only 5 minutes." The advertisement and full story on this new cooling system appears on Page 3 of this issue and can be had completely installed for $25.00.

F. J. Siber, well known development engineer and manufacturer, developed a simple system of placing a mist spray across the entire length of the roof. It sprays a very small amount of water that evaporates and cools the entire roof. This absorbs the hot air in all the rooms beneath the roof. Now that the air has been cooled it naturally becomes heavier and sinks.

As this cool air sinks it also sets in motion the cool air near the floor, further intensifying the circulation of coolness. All these conditions work together to cool the rooms naturally without drafts or artificial cooling; so objectionable in all artificial conditioning. The unit is used only about 5 or 6 hours a day. It never uses more than 7¢ worth of water a day.

Plan Full Day

(Continued from page 1) and contests for all ages continue throughout the afternoon. Highlights are a watermelon eating contest for boys and girls; a rolling pin throw for the ladies and a hole in one contest for the men. Two baseball games featuring selected teams of Springfield's youngsters will be played at 2:30 and 3:30 p.m.

Architect Recommends
Roof Cooling
According to architect, Theodore Hood, in June 1954 issue of PAGEANT, well-known digest magazine, one of the most effective, least expensive ways to beat the heat is to cool your house by first cooling your roof. The water from the sprinkling system, according to this article, not only absorbs the heat, but protects the whole house from the direct rays of the sun.
NOW YOU CAN KEEP ENTIRE HOUSE COOL and COMFORTABLE this SUMMER WITHOUT FANS OR AIR CONDITIONERS
Drop Temperatures Inside 8 to 15 degrees on hot days with

SIBERT'S NATURAL HOME COOLING SYSTEM
Takes Only 5 Minutes to Install—No Plumbing Required—Works on Recognized Principle That A Cool Roof Creates Cool Inside Air—Each unit effective up to 1,000 sq. ft.
If you don't want to sweat out another summer in overheating rooms—if you don't want to spend hundreds and hundreds of dollars for electric air conditioning—here's a wonderful idea guaranteed to knock 8-10 — up to 15 degrees off the temperature in one-story buildings or the upper floor of your multi-story home or larger buildings and for such small cost you will hardly believe it possible.
A prominent New York architect in an article in the June 1954 issue of PAGEANT MAGAZINE tells of a wonderful way to cool your premises without expensive air conditioning, without electric fans, without fear of cold-drafting drafts.
The method suggested by this expert is to cool your house by first cooling your roof with a sprinkling system that can be turned on or off at will. And here's really good news! A low-priced, long-lasting sprinkler system has just been developed to cool the roofs of one-story structures, that costs just a few pennies compared to electric air conditioning systems.
No special plumbing required for installation. You can do it yourself in 5 minutes. Just connect to your hose or convenient water outlet and it's ready to operate. Then on hot days turn it on — and you will be amazed with its cool sweet air without annoying drafts. Comes to you complete, ready to install. Good for all sorts of one-story buildings, homes, churches, stores, factories, garages, barns, farm houses, poultry sheds, motels, diners, gas stations, road stands, etc.
You will really enjoy it. SIBERT'S Natural Roof Cooling System drops the temperature inside from 8 to 15 degrees on hot days. But place your order quickly, it's a shame to sweat a single unnecessary day this summer, and now — thanks to the SIBERT Home Cooler Spray — it's unnecessary. Order yours today.
USES ONLY 3¢ WORTH OF WATER A DAY!

Blue Sox Win 1st Half of CYO League

The C.Y.O. Baseball League of St. James had decided earlier in the season to divide the twelve games into two halves. In this way a little world series could be played with the winner of the first half playing against the winner of the second half. This series will be played in a two out of three game series, deciding the champion team of the league.

The Blue Sox were declared winner of the first half by winning five games and losing only one game. The Red Sox and the Black Sox are the principal teams in the battle for winner of the second half, with the Black Sox having a slight edge over the Red Sox at the present time. The Red Sox have two tie games to be played and one of these games to be played against the Black Sox. This should be an exciting struggle between these two teams.

The Green Sox have played fine ball and showed good sportsmanship but they have not as yet won a game in this second half, having lost two games and two tie games to play.

The Blue Sox, after winning the first half, are in a definite slump, losing three games out of four in the second half.

Rotary Nips Car-Hop 4-3; Firmly Set In 1st Place

Lou Iorio walloped two home runs for the Car-Hops last Monday night, at the Washington Avenue Field, driving home three runs, but it was the Rotary that had the clutch pitching by Rupp which staved off a threat by the Red & Blue in the sixth and final inning thereby assuring the Rotary of at least a tie for the Springfield Youth Baseball League Championship.

The Rotary scored three big runs in the fifth inning to assume a three run advantage on the Car-Hops, only to see Iorio wallop the longest homer of the season into the left field woods, scoring Pignolet who had doubled. This wallop, Iorio's second home run in succession came in the bottom half of the fifth, bringing the Car-Hops up to 3-4 deficit. In the sixth and final inning the Car-Hop's made their last bid for at least a tie when Norm Lawn blasted a liner into left center which was played into a triple as Bestch had over-run the ball in an attempt to make the catch. The game was replete with good catches with Smith of the Rotary snaring two hard smashes for putouts, with Boyam and Becker also contributing with good defensive play.

The Car-Hops had a rally going in the third, but Nutall snared Gladstone's line drive shot for the final out.

In the other half of the twin bill the Kiwanis had a field day at the expense of the Lions, winning easily by an 18-0 score at the Meisel Avenue Diamond.

Springfield Woman's Club Highlights For 1953-1954

During the past year members of the Springfield Woman's Club have been continually on call to help in youth activities.

The Junior Volunteer Corps at Overlook Hospital, sponsored by the Youth Conservation Department, has completed its second year as a service unit. Of the 45 high school girls who attended the organization meeting at Regional High School in October, 29 have given regular service on Monday afternoons.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Mosher, the new Volunteer Coordinator at Overlook, the activities in which the girls may participate at the hospital have been expanded to touch nearly every department of the institution. Ten members of the Woman's Club, working in pairs, take turns supervising the program at the hospital. These women, who have bought their uniforms and who provide their own transportation, have given willingly of their time to make the program successful.

The Art Department held its annual exhibit on October 24th and 25th on the library grounds. Springfield residents and club members were invited to display their paintings. Approximately 75 exhibits were entered including ceramics made by department members.

In October 3 members of the department acted as judges for the Lions Club to select prize winning paintings done by the children in town.

Twenty-eight Springfield children were made a little bit happier on Christmas as the result of the American Home Department's project involving the donation of clothing and toys to Miss Florence M. Gaudineer, School Nurse, for distribution.

Department members worked diligently on an Afghan, the proceeds of which enabled them to make a contribution to a charitable organization.

An informal round table discussion, sponsored by the Civics Department, was held on February 18. The subject, "Is a United Fund Soliciting Campaign a Possibility in Springfield?" was discussed by department members, campaign chairman and other interested parties.

In November the group sponsored a movie entitled "Of This We Are Proud" shown at the American Legion Hall to invited guests, club members and Springfield residents. This outstanding film was presented to stress the development of America the Nation. A collection was taken for the Independence Hall Restoration Project.

A Minstrel "The Year of Jubilo" was presented by the Drama Department on the Club's annual Husband's Night in March. This hilarious and talented production was such a resounding success it was re-staged on April 2 for the benefit of the Springfield First Aid Squad.

Last September the Education Department took 13 girls from Regional High School to New Jersey College for Women at New Brunswick to attend College Day, sponsored by the New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs.

Department members attended Board of Education meetings and two representatives were sent to the Citizens' Advisory Committee, formed at the request of the Board of Education, to study needs for a new school.

In March 3 representatives attended the Union County Workshop on Education, each representative going for one day of the conference.

This year the club voted to make the $200 scholarships as given last year to a Springfield girl graduating from Regional High School, an annual award.

Two $25 bonds were given again this year to graduating 8th graders, one to a boy for outstanding work in the Manual Training Department and one to a girl for outstanding work in Home Economics.

Mrs. Merton D. Williams, Club President

The many and varied activities of the Garden Department enabled them to make several charitable contributions; primarily the making and selling of Christmas corsages, made it possible to donate to the Greenbrook Sanitarium, the Springfield First Aid Squad and the Restoration of Independence Hall Project. The department also made aprons and sachets for Greystone.

Congratulations and condolences were capably handled by the Good Will Chairman.

With money earned by the International Relations Department last year, they were able to send a package containing yard goods, etc. to the "German Youth Activities" and a contribution to the "Pan American Scholarship."

In keeping with the American Heritage theme, the Literature Department chose biographies of American women for the year's program. They reviewed the lives of Emily Hahn, Ethel Waters, Dorothy Shaffer, Mary Margaret McBride, Sally Victor, Mary Curtis Lee, Martha Washington and Mary Todd Lincoln.

"The Seasons in Song," beautifully sung by the Music Department, highlighted the Christmas program on "Federation Guest Night." The group sang at the Town's Christmas program, at a patriotic meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary and for the Ladies' Benevolent Society of the Presbyterian Church. In October they sang to a highly appreciative audience at the Fifth District Fall Conference at the Ballustr Country Club and in May participated in the Fifth District Music Festival at the Woman's Club of Orange.

A column entitled "Woman's Club News" has been published weekly in the Springfield Sun by a very energetic and capable publicity chairman. Special events have been sent to the Newark Evening News, the Elizabeth Daily Journal and the Springfield Sun. Tribute must be paid to publicity for a complete and accurate coverage in recording these events for posterity.

In October the Ways and Means Committee sponsored a very successful Fashion Show featuring creations by Lillian O'Grady of Summit. In February, the St. Valentine's Dance, another of the department's many projects, provided members and their guest with a delightful evening. In April the Audubon Room of the Hotel Suburban in Summit was the scene of a highly successful Spring Luncheon and Card Party. In June, club members and friends enjoyed the annual Luncheon-Theatre party in New York. After a delicious luncheon at the Three Crowns, they attended one of two shows—Kismet and Ondine.

The collecting and tabulating of data for the Year Book was accurately and capably handled by the Chairman, as evidenced by the complete and serviceable Year Book every member finds invaluable.

Nearing the end of its fifth year, the Springfield Woman's Club, with a membership of 250, plays an important part in maintaining and responding to National, State and local appeals. During the year 1953-54 the following organizations received donations from the club: Vineland Research, Penny Art Fund, Endowment Fund, Orthopedic Workshop, Red Cross, Springfield Fourth of July Committee, March of Dimes, Girl Scouts—Cancer Society, Representative Good Citizens, College Room Fund, Union County Medical Health, United Cerebral Palsy, Springfield First Aid Squad, Heart Fund, Greystone, College Committee and Vets and Armed Forces.

One hundred and fifty-nine club women attended the Fifth District Fall Conference at the Ballustr County Club in October; at which time the Springfield Woman's Club was hostess to 29 clubs.

The Club is outstanding in Fifth District and State Federation Chairmanships in having Mrs. William Cosgrove as Northern Vice-Chairman of Youth Conservation, Mrs. Adam La Sota as Fifth District College Chairman—Mrs. Robert Hayes as Fifth District International Relations Chairman and Mrs. Edwin Davenport as Fifth District Program Assistance Chairman.

In conclusion, the records show unstinting effort with impressive results by the entire club membership in every field of endeavor. MURIEL B. MURDOCK

To Sail To Europe

Miss H. Virginia Staekfleth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Staekfleth, of 83 Kipling avenue, sails Tuesday on a two-month European tour. She will visit England, Wales, Scotland, Holland, West Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Italy and France. She is a teacher in the Belleville schools.

Mary Ball, mother of George Washington, was born in Virginia.

Truck Convoys

however, maintaining that the trucks are getting the right of way in most cases.

Following is a letter received from a resident, Mrs. Edith M. Bell, who lives at 327 Morris avenue:

Editor, Sun:

"Please, what can be done about the clouds of dust that are being wafted across Morris avenue as a result of the loads of dirt being dumped on the piece of property just off Morrison Road? Who is responsible? I feel like sending them a bill for my Spring house cleaning which I had just finished before the work began about 2 to 3 weeks ago. Needless to say, the house doesn't look like it now."

"And the noise! Yesterday I felt sure my head was about to leave my shoulders—from 7 a.m. until nearly 8 p.m.—a solid stream of trucks in and out—every one sounds as though the driver was bent on trying to make the tail-gate rip a hole in the rear end of his truck."

"No doubt something in the way of construction will come out of it—if we live through it. I'd almost rather see the property the way it was before—it looked like some sort of a private dump at least, you could avoid seeing it if it offended you—but this, you can't avoid."

"We haven't been able to sit on our porch since the work began—unless we want to look like refugees from Sahara. I know several of my neighbors feel the same way as they have expressed their feelings to me. Perhaps the contractors could sprinkle a little water to keep down some of the dust—once in a while."

ple struggling along on the street, trying to coordinate their bodies in the single effort to get where they are going. Then you may have some faint idea about the terrors of Cerebral Palsy. If you have watched children with braces on their legs attempting herculean movements to which most youngsters would not give the slightest thought, then you may have some conception of what discouragement a Cerebral Palsied child undergoes.

"These are the people whose minds may be as agile as yours. However, their bodies do not obey their will because one area of the brain was damaged either at birth or in subsequent years. "These are the people who need your help. The United Cerebral Palsy League Center at Elizabeth has done a wonderful job. But the workers there need your financial support to keep the Center going. Won't you contribute today?"

"You can send your contributions direct to Cerebral Palsy headquarters at 1600 Stuyvesant avenue, Union, or you can mail or deliver it to the local treasurer, Carl Richards at First National Bank of Springfield.

Case Drops In On Republican Picnic

Clifford P. Case, the Republican candidate for United States Senator in the forthcoming general elections, doesn't take his home county for granted—nor does he want to assume that his many friends in Springfield will remain loyal to his candidacy without the usual campaign activities. A week ago Sunday, the Springfield Republican Club staged its annual family picnic and outing at Keller's Grove in New Providence and Mr. Case thought this event important enough to make a trip all the way from Atlantic City to shake hands and say "hello" to his many supporters from Springfield.

There was no speech making but the presence of Mr. Case, the Republican Congressional candidate for the Sixth District, Fred Shepard and other county officials gave the picnic a slight touch of politics but there was no campaign passes made. Mr. Case was warmly greeted by the local Republican leaders and is expected to attract full support from 4's section of the district in the November elections.

The usual family picnic program was carried out by "Bill" C. Jensen and his arrangements committee starting at noon and continuing throughout the day. Top prizes were won by Mrs. Albert

G. Under, Mrs. Amy Bandomer, Livestock, provides the largest Mrs. Francis Hammond, and Mrs. W. W. Laying, the United States farm. The next regular meeting of the Springfield Republican Club will be held the third Monday in September. The Joyce Kilmer collection of books and manuscripts are in Rutgers University library.
