Highlights of The Election

Cong. Williams and Bonadies made Democratic political history in Springfield on Tuesday, the former polling the highest number of votes ever in the Democratic column for a county-wide office. Bonadies not only surpassed the highest total ever received by a Democrat in a local contest but he polled the highest vote of any single candidate in any election ever held in Springfield.

In 1952, with the Eisenhower landslide, Township Committeeman Frederic A. Handville received 2077 votes and the other victorious candidate, Charles A. Reminger, was given 2047. Ninety-three percent of the eligible voters cast their ballots in that election.

Twenty-three voters in Springfield who evidently didn't care for either Cliff Case or Charles Howell, the rivals for United States Senate. That was the number write in votes received by Fred Hartley in Tuesday's voting.

"Bob" Marshall, defeated by Bonadies, and his two lieutenants, Township Committeemen Reminger and Edward Reibold, lost no time dropping in at Bonadies' headquarters and congratulating the victor. As soon as it was evident that the Democratic candidate was a certain winner, they came to headquarters and "wished Vince the best of luck."

Congratulations and best wishes came from other members of the Township governing body as soon as the results were definite and all signs point to "team work" when the new Township Committee organizes January 1 with all five seats filled.

Cong. Harrison A. Williams, Jr., whose victory over Fred E. Shepard in the Sixth Congressional District, was again one of the startling upsets of Tuesday's general election, gained considerable ground in Springfield and his Independent-for-Williams voters in the Township are very much pleased with the fine showing made by the personable Congressman.

Regional Revue Set for Friday

Alfred E. Bowman of Springfield will be master of ceremonies at the Regional Revue tomorrow evening, Friday, November 5 in the Regional High School auditorium. The entertainers will be students, their parents and teachers.

One of the highlights of the evening will be the opening number which will be the Super-Sextet (Regional District Superintendents). The show will consist of singers, various types of dances, instrumental selections, a gay minuet-barber shop quartet and several skills. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Ralph Dietz and Mrs. Wilford Bowman of Mountaintop. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

70 Acres Of Flemer Land Reported Sold

The Flemer property, approximately 70 acres situated along Meisel avenue and beginning at Milltown road, was sold this week, according to reports, and home building operations are slated to start about June or July of next year.

No details could be obtained but there was no denial that a deal had been made when the F. & E. Nursery offices were called by telephone. The reports further have it that a syndicate made up of members of the Flemer family and a home builder from Morristown will develop the property and start the building of homes next summer. The Flemer family, pioneers in Springfield, own considerable property in Springfield and there has been considerable talk that a good portion would be placed on the market for development of homes.

Cake Sale for PTA Benefit on Saturday

Homemade cakes — the wonderful kind that "mother used to make and still does" will be on sale for the benefit of the Springfield P.T.A. at Pinkava's Garage, corner of Morris and Mountain avenues. The sale starts at 9 a.m. on Saturday and continues until the last cookie is sold.

Victor in Local Contest Thanks Springfield People

In a victory statement issued yesterday, Vincent J. Bonadies, who was elected to the Township Committee in Tuesday's general election, gives thanks and credit for his success to "the people of Springfield" and promises to "cooperate and work wholeheartedly with his colleagues on the governing body in the best interests of the Township."

"Our victory on Tuesday," said Mr. Bonadies, "was a clear-cut mandate from the people of Springfield on non-partisan lines and made possible only through the support of the entire electorate regardless of party affiliations."

"All factions—all civic groups participated in what may be termed a crusade to eliminate blind loyalty to political parties with so much at stake in planning for the future of our Springfield. I want to thank all—the countless volunteers, the political amateurs who were inspired only by a civic duty without any selfish goals, and even the members of all groups, all parties for supporting and casting their ballots for me. Springfield—all the people here deserve the credit."

"In all humility, I want to pledge myself to a program of constructive participation in all matters pertaining to the future and best interests of Springfield. Politics as far as I am concerned will be carefully wrapped and placed in the deep freeze so that we may solve the many problems confronting our rapidly growing community. Thanks, again."

* Absentee Ballots: Marshall—8, Bonadies—13

Vincent J. Bonadies will be the new member of the Township Committee for the next three years, defeating former Mayor Robert W. Marshall, the Republican candidate, in Tuesday's general election by exactly 300 votes, the totals being 2100 for the victor and 1800 for the loser. These figures include 13 absentee votes for Bonadies and 8 for Marshall. The vote for Bonadies proved that Springfield had definite ideas about the local election and hopped from the Republican column in other contests to the Bonadies hand-wagon to give him a spectacular total of 2100, the highest ever polled by any candidate. The most significant figures show that Bonadies defeated Marshall in the Sixth District where many had figured that the Republican candidate would overwhelm the Democratic standard-bearer. Bonadies won the Sixth by 404 to 271.

Real strength for Bonadies was shown in the Third District where he polled a total of 589 to 294 for Marshall. The Fourth District which has always been a Republican stronghold gave Bonadies 395 votes against 330 for Marshall, far below the 402 ballots given to Township Committeeman Eugene F. Donnelly, plus the 153 high total for the Independents in that same district in the last Township Committee election.

The trend in favor of Bonadies was evident with the first early returns and when the final figures were reported from the Sixth with Bonadies far in the lead, there appeared to be no question in the mind of the Bonadies backers.

Marshall Asks Full Support In Statement

Robert W. Marshall who lost his bid for re-election to the Township Committee on Tuesday, issued the following statement yesterday in which he publicly congratulated his victorious opponent, Vincent J. Bonadies, and asks for unity in tackling the problems of the community. Following is his statement: "The people of Springfield have indicated their choice and may I congratulate you on your success at the polls Tuesday. The heat of the political venture will soon be forgotten and you shall soon undertake to serve the public and electorate. I urge all concerned to lay aside minor differences and cooperate with you to make our township a healthier, richer and more desirable community for the future."

Toward that end, if there is any manner in which I may serve the community, please do not hesitate to call upon me. Sincerely, Robert W. Marshall

"Thanks," says Marshall

"May I take this opportunity to extend to my close personal friends and supporters my heartfelt thanks and gratitude for the many hours of their time and effort and loyal support in placing their confidence in me in this past election. I likewise desire to thank all those many voters who supported me at the polls."

Steel Going Up On Shopping Center Work

Steel—the sure sign of building progress—is now going into two of Springfield's construction jobs, the General Greene Shopping Center at the corner of Morris and Flemer avenues and the Sip and Sup restaurant at the corner of Morris and Springfield avenues.

Max J. Levine, who promised action when he took over the shopping center development, is very satisfied with the schedule of the contractor and feels confident it will be ready for the opening of business slated for February. Mr. Levine hopes to have a great deal of the exterior work done before the bad weather sets in so that the job can continue without any delays.

County Line Farm Shacks Demolished

Part of the "overall clean-up" and the elimination of "eye-sores" in Springfield has already started with the announcement that the Old County Line Farm on Springfield avenue, a line of rambling shacks, is being demolished by the Elizabethtown Water Company, owners of the property.

The Township officials, through the fire and police departments, have made recent inspections of the property and reported that it is not only a "fire hazard" but a menace to all traffic using this busy thoroughfare. Officials of the Elizabethtown Water Company were most cooperative when informed by the Township Committee that "these shacks" must be removed and immediately asked for the proper permits to have the work done. It is believed that the demolition job will be completed by the end of the month. No other building is being planned on that site, according to the water company officials.

Fire Official Warns Against Rubbish Fires

Deputy Fire Chief Ormond W. Mesker issued a warning to residents of Springfield yesterday that "burning of leaves or any kind of rubbish" on the street or gutters is a violation and the police department has been alerted to make charges against all those who do not comply with the local ordinance.

"Permits are necessary to burn any kind of rubbish or leaves," pointed out the fire department official, "but even that is to be confined to back yard and own property of the person receiving permission from the authorities." Even where there are no side-walks, Deputy Chief Mesker pointed out, burning anything is prohibited on the shoulders or gutters. "At this time of the year, he continued, there is much danger from fires getting out of hand and the issuance of a permit gives our department enough warning and an opportunity to check."

War Is Topic Of Methodists Debate Mon.

"Should a Christian Ever Engage in War?" is the question that will be debated Monday night, November 8, at the meeting of the Methodist Men at the Methodist Church in Springfield in a specially-prepared W.P.T.U. Forum, to begin at 8:00 o'clock. All men of the community, regardless of denominational background, are cordially invited to be present for this free public meeting.

Accidents Caused By Faulty Vision

If you're one of the millions of Americans who have found new pleasure and relaxation in the "do-it-yourself" craze, the Union County Optometric Society has some advice for you.

Dr. Leonard Eckle, Springfield optometrist, said yesterday that the National Safety Council has reported a striking increase in the number of accidents among do-it-yourself fans. A lot of these accidents are the result of faulty vision, he declared.

The optometrist pointed out that persons with vision adequate to read a newspaper or drive a car do not always possess the necessary visual attributes to do the close precision work required in such jobs as carpentry and metal working.

Poor health perception is one of the leading causes of accidents during such work, he said. "If a man hits his thumb with a hammer or runs off a finger on his new power saw the fault probably lies in the fact that he is unable to judge the distance and dimensions of the material at hand."

"Whenever sharp tools are used, the ability to use both eyes together as a team is extremely important," Dr. Eckle declared. He added that most visual problems that are responsible for home workshop accidents can be corrected. A person with an eye disorder that cannot be corrected usually can learn to compensate for his deficiencies, he said.

Dr. Eckle also stressed the importance of safety glasses as protection from flying particles such as wood or metal chips. "One good way to end your home workshop worries forever is to lose your eyesight because of carelessness," he asserted.

Highlights of Election

Down-the-line Republican votes gave Shepard a 2275 to 1519 lead in Springfield but Cong. Williams defeated his opponent in the Third District 414 to 413! In the last general election Cong. Williams polled only 282 votes in this same Third District and his total for Springfield then was only 1120 as against 1519 on Tuesday.

Mrs. Eleonore H. Worthington who was unopposed for Township Clerk, received the highest number of votes in the Township, even polling more than Clifford P. Case who received 2390. Mrs. Worthington's unofficial total was 2392.

Mrs. Worthington might have received credit for one more vote when the final count showed that George M. Turk, former acting postmaster of Springfield, was given one write-in vote for Township Clerk.

 The other day a fellow called on us and said he was off to Maine to hunt deer. He was well aware that often the hunter gets shot, rather than the deer.

"What kind of protection can you offer me during this hazardous vacation?" he asked. We had just the thing: A Tripmaster Policy, $25,000 accidental death, $2500 medical expense, 15 day term, $14 premium.

Any potential deerlayers reading this should be interested in this tailor-made policy—truly a hunter's special.

CATHOLIC FORUM

No hen ever laid a bad egg! The first egg that Ezra Hardhead ever ate was bad—unquestionably bad!

That was years ago, but with Ezra the memory has become an obsession. "All eggs are bad!" He cries. "Away with them! Away with the hen that lays them!" No use reasoning with Ezra. He's an egg-bigot.

Fortunately "Bad Eggs" are not confined to the breakfast table. Humanity too, has its quota—all races, all classes, all religions. But the Catholics "Bad Eggs" seem to smell worse, taste worse, and reflect most on the hen that lays it. Why is this, when the Catholic Church claims to be holy? Can a bad egg come from a good hen?

Certainly not! But bear in mind that no hen ever laid a bad egg. The egg that makes you run for dear life, was, when first laid, just as fresh as the delicacy that delights your palate and nourishes your body. No fault of the hen if a few of its products roll out of their place in the scheme of things, into the corrupting heat of the world.

In like manner the Catholic Church never produced a bad man. The "Bad Egg" Catholic was, immediately after Baptism, just as pure as the saints and angels. No fault of the Church if a few of its members, disregarding its teachings, stepping out of their place in God's plan for them, into the corrupting influences of the world.

The hen was made to lay fresh eggs; and it does. Its fruits are the source of great benefit for man and the propagation of the chicken tribe. The Church was made to bring man back to God, and it does. Its fruits of the past are the saints who rose to heroic heights of sanctity because they followed with all their hearts and wills the teachings of the Church. Its products of today include many who, for the same reason, will be saints of the future, while of its more than 385,000,000 living members, the vast majority are sincere believers and doers of God's commands.

There will always be bad eggs, bad Catholics, and bad headed fat men—but worse far worse—there will always be Ezra Hardheads!

If it's anything Catholic, ask a Catholic!

Regional "Night" Draws Big Crowd

Back-to-School Night for parents of students at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, which took place on Thursday evening, October 28, had the largest attendance to date. There was a short P.T.A. business meeting conducted by Mrs. Harold Danielson, president of Kenilworth Regional High School girl and boy scouts conducted the flag ceremony.

The budget for 1954-55 was approved and everyone was asked to join in the Membership Drive. Acting Assistant Principal William F. Brown was introduced and gave the procedure for class visitation and visits with the class teachers.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria, where the senior class girls sold Christmas cards. The cake sale sponsored by the P.T.A. board members was a success.

Your Library

Last week for Halloween the children at Story Hour wore pumpkin head bands. Mrs. Ester Porter made them for the children, and also made a lovely pumpkin and cornfield scene for the wall. This hour is so popular, the Library is now running two sessions, one at 10 a.m., the other at 11 a.m.

An exhibit, both instructive and interesting, has been arranged by Mr. Donald Palmer for November. It consists of fifty samples of different types of wood. It is interesting for the young people to see the varieties and different kinds of grain. The Boy Scouts could study them for identification and all people connected with the wood working and building trades could learn to distinguish these types of wood they seldom see.

On Wednesday, November 3d, five of the Library Staff attended the State Meeting at Trenton. They were Miss Helen Reyer, Mrs. Mary Manuel, Mrs. Ada Sautter, Mrs. Panna Hohn and Mrs. Ester Porter. They started early enough to visit the State Library in the State House Annex before the main meeting at the Hildebrecht Hotel.

Three classes from the James Caldwell School already have visited the Public Library and had library methods explained to them. They were the fourth grade classes of Mrs. Huff, Miss De Napoli and Mrs. Ryder.

For the rest of the month the Library will be getting ready for Book Week which takes place between November 14th and 21st.

"Artistry on the Green" might have been the theme of the weekend of October 23 and 24 when the Art Department held its Third Annual Outdoor Art and Handcraft Exhibit on the grounds of the Springfield Public Library.

The show which was attended by 190 people. The paintings displayed were fine examples of all media, oil, water color, pastels, charcoal, and casein.

A varied ceramic display received much attention from the visitors. There were handsome pieces shown including figurines, bookends, dogs, ash trays, vases, plates, lamps, a sugar and creamer in a gold swirl finish was very attractive.

A charming winter scene around a Nativity Creche was entered in the Art Exhibit by Mr. Harry Speicher, owner and creator of the Springfield-Ministry Village on Evergreen Rd.

As a means of helping this cause, the International Relations Department of the State-Federation of Women's Clubs has had four beautiful buildings printed on paper place mats and is selling them in a package of twenty for the cost of $1.00.

The four historic buildings shown on the place mats are Washington's Headquarters at Morrisstown, Cornwall's Headquarters at Trenton, and Voorhees Chapel at N. J. C. at Rutgers.

Some thirty Art Department members met at the home of Miss Gertrude Sala, 488 Morris Ave., on November 1 for an evening of jewelry making. Wooley Coal Co. Observes 30th Year Of Service Here

Serving Springfield with fuel and heating equipment for thirty years may not be too exciting nor romantic to some people but to J. Herbert Wooley and his brother, Norman W., who are the Wooley Coal Company with headquarters in Maplewood, it has been a satisfying and heartwarming experience.

J. Herbert Wooley has been a resident of Short Hills for a great number of years and was a member of the Millburn-Short Hills governing body for nine years, serving as chairman of the Police Committee. He is one of the Directors of the Springfield division of the Crestmont Savings and Loan Association and chairman of the committee that directed and consummated the merger of the Crestmont association with the Springfield Savings and Loan.

The brother, Norman W., is a member of the governing body of Mountainside. Both have taken an active interest in the civic affairs of the communities in which they reside and their confidence in this area of the state has been justified by the rapid growth of the section—served by the Wooley Company and the increase in their business.

This year marks the 30th year since Wooley Coal Co. made its first delivery in Springfield to serve the families of this area with fuel and heating equipment. Sensing that the suburban and nearby areas bore great promise for growth, they moved here, seeing their forecasts coming true as the decades passed.

As J. Herbert Wooley and his brother Norman reminisced, the former remarked, "These have been really revolutionary years in the industry. Better fuel and better heating equipment—base-cooled by leaps and bounds—from the primitive prepared coal to the carefully selected coal; from chunks of ice in the old-fashioned icebox to the efficient electric refrigerator and freezer of the present; from the coal stove in the home to the oil burner—the changes have been tremendous."

This has, of course, brought inevitable changes and improvements in the equipment and services for maintaining and operating these new modern facilities, both for the home and for industry. Efficiency, precision, and scrupulous attention to details unknown and undreamed-of in 1924 are regular features of today's operation.

The population of the whole area has grown fast and tremendously in these 30 years, from a purely rural to a well-modernized semi-urban group of neat communities.

Step by step, as the newest and the most efficient methods and equipment came along, the Wooley business was quickly modernized. And, says Norman, we "ain't seen nuthin' yet"—maybe stalling atomic units—perhaps finer receptacles and devices that will be almost invisible to the eye, inserted in a wall or a corner of the new Presbyterian Church in Mountainside was formed after a house survey showed that there was need for such a place of worship in that community and 457 members indicated a desire to join.

Pastor Installed In Mountainside

Many Springfield residents attended the ceremonies in Mountainside Sunday when Rev. Delwyn R. Rayson, associate executive of the Presbyterian Synod of New Jersey, was installed as the first pastor of the recently organized Presbyterian Church in that community.

The church was formally organized October 10 and Sunday's installation ceremonies were held in the Central Avenue School, Mountainside. A reception followed with members of the Women's Association serving as hostesses. A building fund drive has been planned to start November 21, the congregation having voted after Sunday's worship service to construct a church building in traditional design rather than contemporary.

Rev. Rayson formerly served as pastor of the Gwystone Presbyterian Church, Elizabeth. He was born in Oak Park, Ill., and is married, the father of four children.

SUNNING SPORTS

By BOB DUBOW

On Saturday, October 30, Regional's faltering grid forces suffered a severe drubbing at the hands of an unexpected foe. The foe, which triumphed in 48 other schoolboy contests, too, is called the elements. In the case of Regional, the elements cracked the Bull Dog defense with a stiff line of rain that started Friday, stopped for darkness, and continued again on Saturday.

Community Keglers Maintain Lead

The leading Community Shop bowlers lost the odd game to Frank's Auto Service in the local bowling league, despite Bill Delrick's ego-series for the Community club. Delrick was impressive with games of 157, 214 and 225. Shop-Rite, the second place club won two from Cameron's Tydol, while Bunnell Brothers took two games from the American Legion. In other games, Suburban 5 & 10 dropped two to Clare Mould, Regional Sweet Shop won two from Suburban Liquors, and Cozzalino Furs moved out of the cellar position by taking all three games from H. Anderson & Son.

At 3:00 p.m. (Nov. 2). At this time the same opponent that had procrastinated the original date of the game, again descended upon the already mudsoaked Meisel Avenue field. This time the contest was rescheduled for November 20, the Saturday prior to the Thanksgiving Day contest, which is hardly ever scheduled for a contest unless it is one that has, during the season, been rained out or postponed for other reasons.

This coming Saturday, (Nov. 6) weather and field conditions permitting, the Bull Dogs will take on the touted Blue Devils from Westfield, in a bid for their second victory of the season.

The following Saturday (Nov. 13) the Regionals will tackle a powerful Linden 11, that has always, with their sparkling pass patterns, given the Bull Dogs a rough time.

On November 20, already mentioned, the Bull Dogs will match forces against a team that to date duplicated the Bull Dogs 1-4 record; the Farmers from Union.

The last contest of the '54 grid season will be the Turkey Day tilt against the traditional rival, Rahway. The prospects of winning this contest have recently been improved because of the dropping of the Scarlet fullback, Homer Killings. Killings, a valuable man last season, this year was, up to this point, high scorer in the county. The reason for the dropping of the Scarlet fullback, Rahway squad has not been disclosed.

Thank Springfield Palsy Contributors

Residents of Springfield and other Union County municipalities were thanked by Julius R. Pollatschek, President of the New Jersey and the Union County United Cerebral Palsy organization, for their support of the fund-raising teletthon held recently.

Mr. Pollatschek reports that preliminary totals show more than $9,000 pledged by Union County residents, of a State total slightly in excess of $62,000 and a teletthon total which reached half a million dollars.

"Many persons have already paid their contributions to volunteer workers in the various towns while some have mailed their checks in," Mr. Pollatschek said. "For those who have not already sent in their money to cover the teletthon pledges, we ask that the amount pledged be mailed as soon as possible to United Cerebral Palsy, Box 242, Union, New Jersey. Naturally, those who missed seeing the teletthon but who wish to support this worthwhile cause are invited to contribute also."

"I would like to remind the people," stated Mr. Pollatschek, "that 75 per cent of all funds collected are used right here in Union County to support the Cerebral Palsy Center at 636 Salem Avenue, Elizabeth. Here many afflicted children receive speech, occupational and physical therapy treatments five days a week."

The 17, 18 and 19. This event, which was so successful last year, is held for the benefit of the Parish House building fund and the committee in charge hopes this sale will do even better in building up the fund.

The place for the sale will be announced later. All those who have books to offer for sale are asked to contact one of the following: Roger Shotwell at Millburn 6-4524, Bill Allen at Millburn 6-1140-R and John Phillips at Millburn 6-1486-R.

Broadwell-Wingard Engagement Told

Wingard of Burnett avenue, Union. The Broadwells are formerly of 307 Main street, Millburn, on the Springfield line. The Wingard family are formerly of Johnstown, Pa. The engagement was announced on Saturday, October 30, at an open house party.

A graduate of Millburn High School, Miss Broadwell is employed by Sheehan Appraisal Service, Inc., Springfield. Mr. Wingard is a graduate of Johnstown (Pa.) High School. He is an operator with the H. Scott Excavating, Springfield.

Parents and friends of the new scout troop members attended the charter night program, a feature of the evening being a first aid and bandaging demonstration by the boys. Frank Holler is chairman of the new troop and Edward Kaye is the scoutmaster, and a very active program is being planned for the St. James scouts.

Charter Given To New St. James Scout Troop

Another Boy Scout troop of Springfield became part of the great youth organization on Wednesday, October 27, when charter night for the St. James Boy Scout Troop No. 73 was observed at St. James School with officials of Scout Headquarters and parents of the scout members attending. John Schwannhauser, Neighborhood Commissioner of the Scouts, presented the charter and the guest speaker of the evening was Frank Gundecker of Scout Headquarters who welcomed the new troop and described the summer camping at Camp Winnebago in Marcella, New Jersey.

SCHOOL NEWS

RAYMOND CHISHOLM SCHOOL NEWS

Kindergarten
 Mrs. Dorothy Chandler
 Mrs. Margaret Berghaus
 We have been very busy preparing our room for Halloween. We drew pumpkins and black cats. We made pumpkins out of hard clay and painted them. We had a Halloween costume party in our kindergarten. Some of us made masks out of paper bats. Halloween was such fun in kindergarten!

Grade 1

Mrs. Mildred Thurber
 Miss Claire Hoopmann
 Mrs. Jane Schorr
 The first grade enjoyed a Halloween Party last Friday. We paraded to the kindergarten and second grade to show off our costumes. Our rooms were gaily decorated with witches, pumpkins, black cats and ghosts. We sang the Halloween songs we had learned to the kindergarten boys and girls. We all wish to thank our mothers for the delicious refreshments.

Grade 2

Mrs. Alice Rieg
 Mrs. Helen Roser
 Mrs. Ursula Potts
 The second graders have had the most wonderful parties. Our class mothers supplied us with festive refreshments. We enjoyed our party games which consisted of musical chairs, pin the nose on the pumpkin, and a quiz program. Some of us bobbed for apples.

This week our children have been examined by the dentist as part of our school health program. Miss Rieg has nine children with perfect teeth. The rest of us will try to have perfect teeth soon.

Mrs. Ruth Arey
 Mrs. Estelle Kohn
 Mrs. John's class is studying the Lenni Lenape Indians. Our class has decided to make a model Indian village. They have divided up into several committees. One committee in charge of houses is headed by Dale Street. The one in charge of making model Indians is headed by Carolyn Duell and in charge of forest and animals is Paul Ledoto.

At the Halloween Assembly, Mrs. Arey's class played a story from their reader, "The Halloween Surprise." The speaking parts were done by Barbara Porter, Adrienne Marder, Bobby Haas and Irene Pannell. All the other children participated in the faces or costumes. The class also did in choral speaking, the poem "Goblins."

Miss Hilda's third grade pupils presented a short play entitled "Friday Cat." The main characters were Ronald Gargan, Walter Gargan, Paul Gargan, Bruce Brown and Nancy Shubert. The entire class recited a poem on "Halloween."

Mrs. Lillian Gushin
 The fourth grade class at Raymond Chisholm has enjoyed the study of Indian life in New Jersey. They exhibited their Indian dolls and dress of the Lenni Lenape tribe. Many children brought Indian objects to the class.

Gail Hanneke brought a mortar and pestle, Judith Stoholtz a ruff, Harry Monroe a bowtie, Susan Bird brought in a hand made pair of moccasins, Virginia Dooge brought in an Indian doll.

Original paper dolls depicting the dress of the Lenni Lenape also made their appearance. We had fun with Indian words too. "Achom-toem-scheyehbi." We know what they mean, do you?

Grade 5

Mrs. Margaret McGarrath
 Mrs. Daniel Murray
 The Junior Helpers, composed of fifth grade students, assist the teachers about the school. A boy or girl acts as hostess at each table in the lunchroom. They open the thermo bottles and generally assist with the younger children. Others deliver the milk to the classrooms each morning while other fifth graders assist at the swings, slide and runs on the playground.

Each month the helpers are changed. Each helper who is checked as satisfactory by the teachers receives a certificate for the month. Those who have received certificates for September are: Ellen Bloom, Barry Hollander, Lawrence Simon, Edna Schell, Eileen Wagner, Linda Feldman, Richard Miller, Marshall Muddler, Barbara Brown, Carl Weber, Edna Sperling, Leslie Foster, Elaine Fisher, Raymond Blum, Barbara Smith, Joan Nemer.

FLORENCE M. GAUDINEER SCHOOL READING

Mrs. Reva Johnson
 Mrs. Lillian Hayward
 Mrs. Lillian Hayward
 Reading at these grade levels is a developmental program embracing various phases which aims to develop in students the increased power demanded by the more complex tasks imposed upon them. Remedial reading, which attempts to serve those students who have failed to master skills required in earlier years, is but one phase of a much larger program.

Reading aloud to give pleasure or to impart information to others has an important place in the program. This does not mean having each pupil read aloud a paragraph from the book in the hands of every member of the class. It means, rather, reading aloud to create a point of departure for a quality of writing, to share a well-loved passage, to interpret a character in a play, or to help others to enjoy a story, poem, or piece of prose. Such reading must be carefully prepared in advance by pupils who feel a responsibility to the audience. Very often, the students select the material to be read and request time to read it to the class. At least one class has started negotiations and plans to form a dramatic club which will meet after school hours in order to have more time to prepare for class contributions.

Semantics and phonics form a sizeable part of preparation for both oral and silent reading. Semantics, the study of the meaning of words, is necessary in dictionary use for word meanings. Phonics enter the picture when the learning of a particular sound or blend. Variations in reading abilities found within a group can be adjusted by this part of the program.

Comprehension must be constantly developed if one important aim of the reading program is to be successfully met. In the final analysis, this is probably the most important purpose of the entire school program. Word meanings grow. The sentence, paragraph, and story meanings. Discussions before and after the reading are helpful and add to students' comprehension growth. Comprehension tests are given at regular intervals to determine the pupils' ability in this respect. We know that the more a child understands the printed page, the more he will enjoy his reading.

In order to achieve a meaningful variety of reading material and, thus, further enhance the enjoyment for the pupils, book reports have become a requirement of the reading program. The reports are kept simple in nature and should prove to be no burden on any student. The encouragement of the home reading for which a list of books for varied ability levels has been supplied. The "Teen Age Book Club" is a series available to the students of seventh and eighth grades. This is a unique plan which offers a wide range of good books at low cost. An attractive feature is the book club book for every four books purchased by a student at the end of each semester. Many pupils are making a collection of Teen Age Books for their own libraries.

An Accountants Meeting
