Postmaster Asks Early Mailing Of Packages

Postmaster A. V. Del Vecchio is continuing this series of articles to provide information which will assist patrons in obtaining maximum benefits from the facilities of the local post office. In this respect inquiries or complaints concerning any phase of the Postal Service should be made directly to the postmaster.

Because of the coming holiday period, it is believed general information about the proper packaging of gifts, etc., to be mailed under the fourth class or parcel post rate, would be most appropriate. This information applies to fourth class mailings at all times.

The shipping containers for parcel post must be strong enough to retain and protect their contents from the weight of other mails. Cartons of corrugated or solid fiberboard or kraftboard are commonly used and have proven to be best suited for parcel post mailings. A good used corrugated fiberboard box such as is available at grocery or drug stores makes an excellent shipping container for parcels.

These containers must be covered with brown wrapping paper and securely tied. Parcels addressed to distant points receive more handling and therefore require stronger containers. Sufficient internal cushioning material should surround the article to be mailed to protect it from outside impact. If you contemplate mailing fragile articles such as chinaware, framed pictures, and the like, it is suggested you contact the parcel post clerks of the post office for specific packing instructions before mailing.

The packages you mail are valuable to you and the recipient. Protect them by proper packaging and insure them against loss or damage at a small additional fee. It is also suggested the use of a return receipt would alleviate any doubts as to whether or not the person for whom the parcel was intended had received it. Ask the parcel post clerks about the insurance and return receipt services they have to offer for your protection and convenience.

Parcels mailed under the fourth class rate may not be sealed unless they bear a printed or written endorsement for the address side reading "May be opened for postal inspection."

Mail your Christmas parcels early. Please remember—it is better that your gift is received a week before the holiday and under the Christmas tree rather than being in transit because of late mailing. Holiday parcels may be endorsed "Do not open until Christmas."

Your attention is invited to the fact that the employees of the local post office are well versed in the entire operation of the Postal Service and they are available to answer all questions. If you have any doubts about the mailability of any item, consult them beforehand to eliminate inconvenience, delay or damage to your mail. It is the desire of all the post office employees and the postmaster to give the best postal service at all times.

Bonadies Sits In Town Hall Unofficially

Vincent J. Bonadies, Committeeman-Elect, was invited to sit in with the Township Committee, to fill the unexpired term of the late Fred Brown, in a motion introduced by Committeeman Charles Remlinger last evening at a regular town meeting.

Bonadies declined to sit with the committee in an official capacity stating that "in the interest and welfare of the community at large and so that I may better judge the many issues presently before the committee, I would prefer to wait until the first of the year, the legal start of my term."

At his own request, Bonadies did however offer to sit with the group in an unofficial capacity. The request was unanimously approved.

Ladies Group Plan Special Guest Nite

On Thursday, November 17, at 8:15 p. m. the Ladies' Evening Group of the Presbyterian Church will have as their guests Sylvan Kohn of the Jewish Education Group of Essex County and Irving Kramer, cantor of the local Jewish group. Both of these men will give highlights of Jewish life and custom, interspersed with typical songs and chants.

The meeting will be held in the Presbyterian Parish House and all ladies of the Church have been invited to attend. Mrs. Thomas Geddes is program chairman for the group and Mrs. Herbert Bailey is chairman.

Asks Registration For Special Study

The Springfield Board of Education has requested the registration of all mentally retarded or physically handicapped children not already enrolled in school. Benjamin F. Newschwager, superintendent of schools, explained that recent state legislation requires all Boards of Education to provide a program of education to such children who have not already been placed in special schools.

In order that the Board may know the number of children for whom to provide such an educational program, parents are asked to register their children no later than November 30 at any of the local elementary schools.

OUR COUNTRY, RIGHT OR WRONG.

When right, to be kept right; when wrong, to be put right.

— Carl Schurz (1829-1906) Speech, 1872.

Town Hall, the open forum of public opinion—that good, old fashioned sounding board in the American way of life, came to Springfield Monday evening in the form of a public hearing on a new proposed zoning ordinance at the Florence M. Gaudineer School.

It was a refreshing and exhilarating experience for those who came just to "see Democracy at work" but for those who registered objections—sincere, synthetic or imaginary—it appeared to be the most crucial moment in the history of very historic Springfield. Tomtoms and vocal chords that have been "skipping rope and taking only light exercise" since the late lamented All-State Insurance debacle were given another chance to "flex their muscles" and those extended index fingers of warning and dire threats again stirred up the air in the school gymnasium.

None of this is being written in a derogatory sense, nor do we find any fault with those who see changes in the new ordinance too drastic for the "picture of tranquility"—the oasis of jangled nerves as conjured up and made part of the ranch house-developers sales literature. We're not questioning the sincerity of those who want changes—but there was a great deal left to be desired Monday evening as far as decorum and respect for town officials are concerned.

Preparing this ordinance—sitting long weary hours in consultation with the engineers and the master planners—was a tiring chore for members of the Planning Board. The cause of the objectors was hardly enhanced by the aggressiveness and table pounding of some of the articulate residents who shouted, interrupted, offered snide remarks and, otherwise, made it appear that the Planning Board and the Township Committee had wrapped up a diabolical plan, with the connivance of the Baltusrol Golf Club and Daystrom, Inc., to "sell Springfield down the river."

At this point we would like to make our position very clear. The Springfield Sun doesn't have to offer this explanation but the yackety-yackers have been spreading some gossip that we were part and parcel of a scheme to "put something over" on the residents in this area because nothing appeared in the Springfield Sun in the last issue concerning Daystrom.

The SUN "goes to bed" Wednesday night and prints with Thursday's date line. Last week's issue carried a Page One story in which we hoped to turn the spotlight on the public hearing by announcing that "a large crowd of interested citizens was anticipated, etc."

The alleged option for the Baltusrol Golf Club property was announced as having been signed on Friday according to the Sunday newspaper account. We had heard rumors—and we have been sitting on a flock of rumors for months—but, as far as we knew, there was nothing on which to base any facts. THE SUN HAS NO INTEREST EXCEPT TO SEE A MASTER PLAN THAT WILL SERVE SPRINGFIELD—ALL OF SPRINGFIELD!

We're not going to discuss the merits of the zoning ordinance at this point because there will be another public hearing next Monday evening by the Township Planning Board and even a third PUBLIC HEARING BEFORE THE ORDINANCE IS FINALLY ADOPTED. That will give all interested parties two more solid wallops at any part of the ordinance not consistent with the best interests of Springfield.

Those who raised their voices in protest and objection Monday evening had a perfect right under our system of permitting all to be heard—but no decisions, no changes could be made according to legal opinion. After next Monday's public hearing, the Planning Board will drag itself off to some quiet corner of the Township Hall, carefully consider all the suggestions and proposed changes. Then their recommendation will be relayed to the first team, the Township Committee, and the march toward the goal will start all over again.

Mayor Albert G. Binder and Frank M. Kerr, chairman of the Planning Board, are to be commended for "cooling off" some of mob psychology by controlling their own tempers despite some of the abuse aimed directly at the town officials. Most of the speakers objected to the zoning ordinance presented calm and sound objections and requested the Planning Board to consider making those suggested changes when the recommendations are presented to the Township Committee. However, there were a few who went beyond the bounds of good taste.

The right of differing is not to be denied but to impugn the motives of your town officials and make a personal circus out of a serious public question doesn't come under the head of good business.

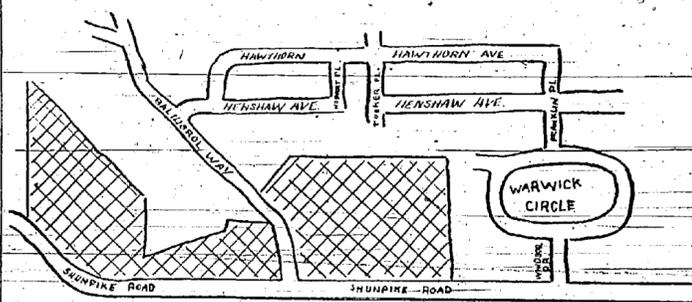

One Zoning Law Objector May "Secede From Union"

Allyn W. Faltoute, owner of property in what is known as Baltusrol Top, appeared at Monday night's public hearing at the Florence M. Gaudineer School and added his objections to the new Springfield zoning ordinance which limits construction of single family dwellings to one acre plots, or 150-foot lots. Mr. Faltoute resides at 150 Baltusrol road which is actually in Springfield but is so close to the Summit line that residents in that area have their mail post office.

Yesterday Mr. Faltoute announced that he has a solution to his own problem—and those affected by that portion of the master plan—if the Planning Board insists on recommending adoption of the zoning ordinance without

First Public Hearing On Zoning Ordinance Runs Into Objections

BATTLEGROUND COMMUNIQUE — The combined battalions of Henshaw and Shunpike civic groups closed the pincers fighter around the Daystrom forces and planned to continue the battle at next Monday's planning board hearing. The shaded area shown on the above map is the area designated by the new ordinance as Limited Business.

Daystrom Plans Talks With Home Owners; Groups Adopt Resolutions Against Rezoning

Officials of Daystrom, Inc. yesterday issued a statement asking officials and residents of Springfield to withhold any final decision on the proposal to rezone part of Shunpike Road until the corporation has had an opportunity to present all the details in what it plans to do in the Township.

An architect's drawing of the proposed office building is being prepared and should be ready to show members of the various civic groups, town officials and other interested parties in about two weeks.

Daystrom officials have had Springfield in mind for some time but no steps were taken and no announcement as to their plans was to have been made until they had an opportunity to thoroughly discuss the entire plan with all civic groups as well as the Township officials.

"Premature publication of news of our plans," said one of the officials, "spoiled our plans to present our ideas to all groups before taking any steps. We want the advice and help of all groups and our plans are aimed only at what will be best for all of Springfield. We hope Springfield home owners, town officials and all others interested in the future of the Township to withhold final decision until we have been given an opportunity to show just how we hope to become part of Springfield's future growth."

Representatives of Daystrom are planning to sit down with all interested groups so that those in favor of the executive offices on this portion of Shunpike avenue might have an opportunity to voice their sentiments.

"Daystrom's plans for the tract adjoining Baltusrol would stabilize the character of the neighborhood and continue to enhance its beauty," said William C. Stafford, Director of Community Relations of Daystrom, Incorporated.

"We have looked at a number of properties in northern New Jersey, and the site in Springfield on which we took an option seemed eminently suited for what we wanted to do. Interestingly enough, our objections to other sites were such considerations as possible noise, dirt, traffic and uncertain character of the locations involved, particularly when we looked to the future. In fact, our objections to other sites were of the same type that were raised by many people at the Planning Board hearing the other night.

"Our plans call for a building to house our executive offices. Both our executive office and research activities would be compatible

Baltusrol Golf Club Has Been Good Neighbor

Some opponents of the new Springfield zoning ordinance threw a few brick-bats at the Baltusrol Golf Club—organized nearly sixty years ago, in the Spring of 1895, and regarded by everybody as "a very fine neighbor." Some of the highest type residents of New York and New Jersey are members of Baltusrol and the location of this high class club in the Township has made Springfield very attractive to home owners.

An inspection of the tax records show the Baltusrol pays into the treasury approximately $40,000.00 every year. The actual amount Springfield taxed this year is $37,144.30.

All this money is paid to help conduct the affairs of Springfield Township without requiring the many services given to other taxpayers, one of the officials pointed out. "Springfield doesn't have to provide many of the official services," he continued, "they do not require the usual police services, they do not use our street department, they handle most services themselves—and Baltusrol is a taxpayer to this great extent without calling on the Township for the usual services."

This same official also stated that the most important part of Baltusrol's part in Springfield is that there is no problem of schools in measuring the club's tax burden. "If Baltusrol weren't a golf club," he continued, "and the entire course were given over to homes, it would mean over 1,000 residences—many with children which would mean more school room—more police—more fire protection—more of everything which would cost the municipality considerably more than is now earmarked for each child would be an added drain on the budget.

"Springfield now receives nearly $40,000 annually from Baltusrol," he concluded, "and Springfield gives very little in services in return. Let us not antagonize a good neighbor—especially one who pays his way in Springfield and doesn't do much gipping."

W. C. T. U. To Meet

The Springfield Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet at the home of Mrs. E. D. Pannell, 318 Main st., Millburn, on Thursday, November 17th at 2 p. m. This is the Roll Call Meeting. Mrs. Mabel E. Francher of Roselle will be the guest speaker. Members and friends are invited.

Members of the Henshaw-Hawthorn Civic Association and the Shunpike Civic Group, in separate meetings held at the Jewish Community Center Tuesday evening, adopted resolutions opposing the rezoning of land along Shunpike Road which was the subject of the public hearing at the Florence M. Gaudineer School Monday night.

The new zoning ordinance plans to change a portion of Shunpike Road from residential to permit office building under the title of "limited business."

Copies of the Henshaw-Hawthorn group's resolution will be sent to all members of the Township Committee, the Planning Board, the Baltusrol Golf Club and Daystrom, Inc., the latter being identified as considering plans to locate executive offices on the corner of Shunpike and Baltusrol Way.

Following is the full text of the resolution passed Tuesday night. Members of the Henshaw-Hawthorn Civic Assoc. as taxpayers and home owners in the Township of Springfield, hereby protest the proposed rezoning of the Baltusrol Tract on Shunpike Road from a Class "A" Residential Zone to a Limited Business Zone on the following grounds:

1. The placing of a Limited Business Zone in the heart of a completely Class "A" Residential Zone will drastically change the character of the entire surrounding area with the following results:

(a) Establish a precedent so that all other Class "A" Residential Zones in the Township will be subject to the encroachment of business and industry.

(b) Depreciate the value of all homes in the Class "A" Residential Zones adjacent to and near the Baltusrol Tract.

(c) Increase traffic on Shunpike Road and feeder roads, constituting a hazard to school children attending the schools on So. Springfield Ave. and the proposed school on Mountain Ave.

(d) Discourage real estate developers from building residential homes in Springfield.

(e) Discourage future home owners from purchasing homes in Springfield.

(f) Produce a hodge-podge of homes, business and industry instead of a well planned community.

Bancroft Hill Co., 226 Morris Ave., Springfield, featuring complete line of imported Xmas cards. Open Fri. even.

Springfield's new zoning ordinance for 1954 was given the first of two public preview showings at the Florence M. Gaudineer School Monday night.

The new ordinance is 60 pages of typewritten sections with many changes throughout the Township as part of a master plan presented by Theodore T. McCrosky, a consulting engineer of New York City, after months of foot-by-foot survey, but the greater part of Monday night's hearing was devoted to the proposal to rezoning the Baltusrol Golf Club property located at the corner of Shunpike Road and Baltusrol Way.

The new ordinance would rezone Shunpike road, including the Baltusrol 18 acres, to permit office buildings or "limited business" as it is shown on the map. Objectors to this change were very vehement because of the report that Daystrom, Inc., a holding company for several large industries, is considering construction of a one story Colonial design, executive office on this site. No application for such construction has been made but an option is reported to have been given by Baltusrol with many restrictions as to landscaping, proper maintenance and future expansion.

The attack on the rezoning was led by residents of the immediate area but those not opposed to the rezoning could not be heard although it is understood that a great number of those present indicated that "they could see nothing wrong with the rezoning plan especially with a one story Colonial design building on 18 acres of ground, with high shrubbery, proper landscaping and to be constructed 150 feet back from Shunpike road.

DAYSTROM PLANS

with the environment of the neighborhood.

Only 40 Employees
Our project has apparently been confused with previous projects considered for development of this eighteen and a half acre tract. The Daystrom project does not involve a large office building, but rather a small headquarters structure of approximately 11,000 square feet. Our headquarters organization comprises about 40 people in all. Furthermore, this development is, in no way, to be confused with manufacturing; one of our objectives is to have a quiet spot which will facilitate planning and conference activities which are constantly required of our executives.

"I can readily understand how people would have fears of any newcomer, particularly, if they felt that there was a chance of depreciation of property values. If I were personally in the same position, I would feel the same way without more complete information.

"Unfortunately, the zoning issue came up before we could be prepared to submit information such as architect's plans, topography sketches, plans for shrubbery and all those things which make for attractiveness. To date we have not even had time to test drill the property.

"We would in any case talk over our planning with those around us, those immediately interested, and submit our plans for their consideration and helpful comments. The plain fact is that we would want our investment in the property to be worth more over a period of years, as would our neighbors. We are confident that this can be the result.

"No long term plans can or should be developed overnight. We hope ample time will be given for consideration of all the factors involved in establishing the long true character of this area and its beauty."

PUBLIC HEARING

tion are expected to jam Gaudineer School next Monday night when the second of the public hearings will be held on the new ordinance. The opponents of the ordinance promise to fight the rezoning proposal to the limit and word has gone out to all residents in the area to be present next Monday night.

While there is no organized movement to marshal those who do not oppose the coming of the executive offices to Springfield, it is understood that a great number will attend the public hearing Monday night and voice their sentiments in favor of the Daystrom proposal since, as one of the old residents of Springfield explained,

"It will bring in approximately $15,000 in taxes to Springfield and it shouldn't depreciate the value of other homes in the area. As an example, would anybody find particular fault with the kind of a structure the Crestmont Savings and Loan Association has if it were located on this particular plot?"

While the Baltusrol-Daystrom rezoning argument took up most of the time Monday evening, there were objections from owners of property in the section known as Baltusrol Top where the new ordinance calls for one acre plots for residences.

None of the other changes in the zoning ordinance were made the subject of any discussion, even though Morris avenue, all the way to the Millburn avenue intersection, has been rezoned to limited business. This means that office buildings can be constructed on Morris avenue, 150 feet in on any of the streets such as Moller, Marcy, Prospect place, Short Hills avenue, Lewis drive. No objections to this rezoning plan were heard but there are some rumblings and Monday's meeting may bring some of them out on the floor.

"Korean Day" To Be Observed Sun.

"Korean Day" will be observed at the 11:00 o'clock service of Divine Worship on Sunday, November 14, at the Springfield Methodist Church according to an announcement by the Rev. Dr. Marvin Green, local pastor.

The three boys who fought in Korea from the Methodist parish, Douglas Hall, Richard S. Penn and Robert Zeigenfus will be presented special certificates in recognition of their contribution to democracy and signed by Bishop H.J. Lew of the Korean Methodist Church. The names of these boys will be read in the Korean Methodist churches next Sunday. In the absence of Douglas Hall, the certificate will be received by his father, Elliot Hall of Springfield.

The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Mr. David Sageser of Springfield, member of the Ohio Methodist Annual Conference and Executive Director of the Department of Campus Life of the National Council of Churches, with offices in New York City. Mr. Sageser's topic will be, "The Call To Christian Fidelity." Dr. Green will present the awards and preside at the service.

A novel feature of the program will be the presentation by the individual members of the congregation of miniature "rice bags," previously distributed by mail to the membership, and symbolic of the sacrificial offerings of rice which the Koreans themselves have given to rebuild their war-ravaged sanctuaries. Known as the "Bishops' Appeal for Korea," this special offering has been approved by the Methodist Council of Bishops and the Council on World Service and Finance. It is expected that a million dollars will be raised throughout Methodism next Sunday for Korean relief.

Thank You!

Orchids to the wonderful residents of Springfield who made the "P.T.A. Cake Sale" such a tremendous success! As the home-made cakes, pies and breads were brought in, it was apparent that the mothers who baked had really outdone themselves. Customer after customer shook her head wistfully and said, "They all look so beautiful! How can I choose!"

The Finance Committee of the P.T.A., which sponsored the sale, extends its sincerest thanks to the hundreds of people who cooperated so graciously in making this project an overwhelming success.

For your future enjoyment, remember February 14th—the date of the annual P.T.A. bridge party.

SUNNING SPORTS

By BOB DUBOW

Regional Loses to Westfield 25-14 Margin

Regional High School Bull Dogs were named for the fifth consecutive time by a proficient squad from Westfield. The Blue Devils now sport a record of 6-1 as opposed to Regional's sickly 1-5 count.

The contest started out in typical Bull Dog fashion, with the Regionalites battling even with their opponents during the first quarter. As this first stanza ended the count was 0-0.

The second quarter was an action packed one with 20 points being tallied between both teams. Opening the scoring in this period were the Blue Devils. They scored on a play through the middle of the Bull Dog line that went for 24 yards. The try for the extra point was good and the Blue Devils led 7-0. After the ensuing kickoff Ed McCarthy broke away at the midfield stripe and scooted 30 yards for the score. Bob Wyckoff split the uprights with the tying point.

With only three minutes left in the half the Blue Devils took the ball on their own 28 yard marker and went 74 yards on 14 plays for the score. The half ended with the score 13-7 in favor of the Devils. With only a slim margin the Blue Devils scored an insurance T.D. in the third period on a 58 yard sprint. The placement was no good and the score was 19-7. Going into the final stanza and leading by a 19-7 score Westfield added another tally to their collection of three already. This score came on a 24 yard aerial which was caught in the end zone. Regional's final tally came in the waning minutes of that period, when after a long 65 yard march, Ed McCarthy took the ball over from the Blue Devil 3 yard stripe. Bob Wyckoff added the placement which made the score 25-14. The contest ended soon after.

With only two contests remaining before the Thanksgiving Day clash with the Scarlet, the Bull Dogs will face Linden, Home this Saturday. Linden is in possession of a 6-1 record. A week from this Saturday the Bull Dogs will face Union, who has a 2-4 record. The Farmers triumphed last Saturday over Morristown by a 19-7 score while Linden also won over winless Hillside by a 25-14 count.

What a grand way to say "Merry Xmas, darling" to the sweetest wife in the world (yours of course.) She'll love those Morgan cabinets, so brim full of storage space. She'll love the hush-hush insulate ceiling tile that muffles the clutter of pots and pans. She'll love her sparkling Marlite Plastic walls that laugh at grease and grime.
