Phone Users Here Learn To Operate Dials

Some 8,300 telephone customers in the Millburn-Short Hills-Springfield area began "go to school" by telephone this week to learn how to dial local and long distance calls.

New Jersey Bell's local manager, Charles A. Dowd, Jr., said the company's dial instruction program has been developed to acquaint telephone users with the new dial system which goes into effect at 3:00 a. m. Sunday, October 2.

Coincident with the change-over to dial, all Millburn 6 and Short Hills 7 numbers will receive a new designation, DEXEL 6 or 7. Starting last Tuesday, Sept. 6, Dowd explained, a group of Telephone Company instructors began calling all telephone customers in the Millburn-Short Hills-Springfield area. Each customer is asked if he knows how to use the dial, if not he is instructed in its use. In each case the customer is requested to dial a test call which will be recorded on a pen-recording tape device to determine if his telephone instrument is working properly.

Dowd said that one and two party customers will be given special instruction in placing calls to long distance points, whereas all customers will be briefed in placing calls to telephones throughout New Jersey and to New York City.

Trucks Have Color
There's a "new look" in the telephone industry today. Not only do telephones come in eight decorator colors, but even New Jersey Bell's fleet of commercial trucks and trailers is joining the color parade.

Bell System green, a standby for more than a quarter century, is yielding to the two-tone trend by adding a new contrast color, bright orange.

Woodside Homes State's Largest, Opens Tomorrow

The largest and most beautiful residential building project in North Jersey will open in Springfield tomorrow (Friday) at Meisel Avenue and Milltown Road. Known as Woodside Homes, the development will occupy nearly 100 acres of the former Flermer Nursery property, bordered by the Wooded Union County Park Commission land.

Approximately 230 homes, ranging in styles from six and seven room split levels to rambling 3-bedroom ranches and spacious 4-bedroom Cape Cods, will be placed on sale officially at noon. Each residence will be individually appointed and situated on minimum 10,000 square foot plots.

Ray Bell Associates has been named exclusive sales agents. Charles A. Remlinger heads a staff of twelve real estate men and women as sales manager. The firm is the same which broke all home selling records last October when it sold the Milltown Road Archbridge Park development, comprising 40 homes, in less than three hours.

A Springfield resident and highly successful developer, David Fisher heads the Woodside Homes building group. Fisher recently completed an outstanding development in Morris County.

According to Remlinger, advance sales at Woodside indicate an early sell out. If weather conditions are favorable, it is expected more than 10,000 new home seekers will jam the area over the weekend to view four distinctive models. Arrangements have been made with Police Chief Albert A. Sarge to handle traffic and parking at Meisel and Milltown.

Each home includes a Frigidair dishwasher, Martha Washington wall oven, counter-top range, birch kitchen cabinets and ceramic tile baths. Shower stalls are glass-enclosed. Bathroom fixtures are colored tile.

Sidewalks, streets and sewers will be completed and paid for by the builders. Minimum plots are 133' x 133', fully landscaped, including shade trees. The homes will be gas heated with temperature controlled by Honeywell Electronic Moduflow.

Decorations and furnishings are by Leon Furniture Company of Newark. Woodside Homes special advertising representative is Howard L. Kissel of Springfield. He is a member of the firm of Jay Victor Associates of Newark.

Booklet On "Springfield" To Be Unveiled Sept. 22
The guest speaker for the evening will be Magistrate Henry McMullen who will talk on "Springfield, Past, Present and Future." As President of the Historical Society of Springfield, Judge McMullen, an outstanding speaker, has a splendid background to trace the history of the township, its present outlook and what the local citizens can expect in the future.

Although everyone is invited to attend the gathering, special letters of invitation have been sent to all public officials, Boards of Education, Library Trustees, The Clergy, School Officials, and to all organizations. Other guests of honor will be those individuals in Springfield who have given so much of their time in assisting the League members in gathering information for the book.

According to Mrs. Mort Adell and Mrs. Norman Freedman, co-editors of the book, the advance sale is progressing rapidly and the books will also be available to the public at the meeting and at booths on Morris Avenue and the shopping center.

Refreshments will be served following the presentation ceremony.

Springfield has three cases of polio—but, according to the Board of Health authorities, none is serious.

"As a matter of fact, two of the cases reported may be sent back to their homes in Springfield either today or before the end of the week but a rigid quarantine will be maintained until the Board of Health officials are confident there is no danger.

Those who have been reported as mild polio patients and who have been at St. Elizabeth's in Elizabeth are:

Harold Davis, 25, of 4 Essex Road.
Guy Stroud, 31, of 133 Meisel Avenue.

Mrs. Thelma Stroud of 153 Meisel Avenue.
Mr. Davis was admitted to St. Elizabeth's on August 31 and Mr. Stroud on August 29. It is reported that these two have shown improvement and their condition is such, according to St. Elizabeth's officials, that they can be returned to their homes in Springfield.

Mrs. Stroud, the hospital reports, will be detained a few more days.

Dr. R. S. Milligan, Health Officer for the Springfield Board of Health, said yesterday he had been in touch with St. Elizabeth's Hospital and that he was informed that the condition of the two men was excellent and they could be returned home. However, Dr. Milligan said he wanted to examine the three cases personally before permitting their return to Springfield and that he will order the quarantine to continue until September 14 to make certain the patients have definitely recovered from the attack.

Altar Society To Meet On Sept. 12
The Altar and Rosary Society of the St. James Catholic Church will hold its first fall meeting Monday night, Sept. 12, after devotions.

Mr. Ellis O. Philhow, vice president of Welsh Farms, Long Valley, New Jersey, will present two films, "The Facts of the Case" consisting of the products and processing of milk, and "For All the Ages," which covers the manufacturing of ice cream. Welch Farms will provide a generous sample for all present. Mrs. Frank Clark, president, will preside.

A dessert bridge will be held at Kooz Bros., Rahway, N. J., Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 21 at 1:30 P.M. Mrs. Edward Kaye as chairlady and will be assisted by her committee.

Boy, to Solazzis
Mr. and Mrs. Constantine Solazzis of 22 Henshaw Avenue are the proud parents of a baby boy born at Overlook Hospital on August 29.

Leslie Schulman, co-owner of the Springfield Market on Morris Ave. in Springfield, had his three weeks' vacation in Miami marred by an automobile accident on his way home. Accompanied by his wife, Mae, and daughters Karen, 18 and Janet, 11, Mr. Schulman was driving from Silver Springs this week when the accident occurred ten miles outside of that place in a town called Oke, Florida.

Karen needed hospitalization and was released the next day against the advice of her physician. She has both internal and back injuries and had to fly home while the rest of the family proceeded home by car, which, fortunately was able to run in spite of its badly damaged body.

The occupant of the other car was a Miami resident and had her two daughters with her. No one was hurt.

Springfield—the most accessible and complete shopping center in this area of New Jersey—is prepared to prove that statement in the BIG SALES DAYS now going on all over town.

There is FREE PARKING off the street for more than 1,000 cars and shoppers can make their purchases without battling traffic jams.

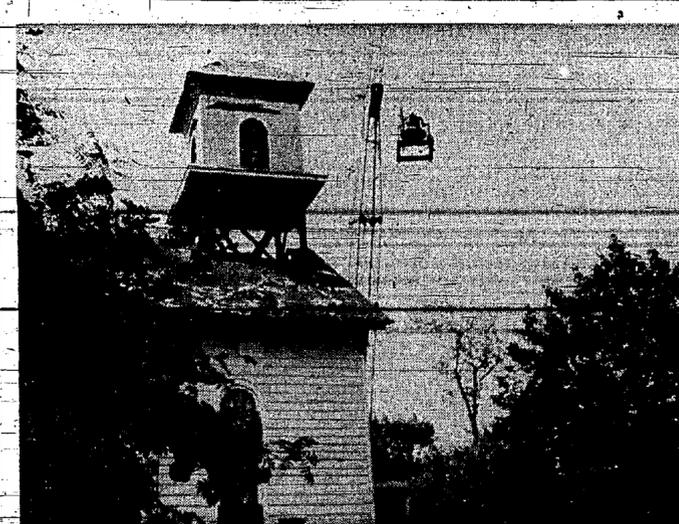

The shelves of every store in Springfield have been replenished with the latest in Fall goods—and priced to meet any competition.

"Springfield is putting its best foot forward," said The Freedman, President of the Chamber of Commerce, "and we want to prove that this is the best place for shoppers—no matter what they want or need. All merchants are offering unusual values and we feel confident that once a shopper takes a good look at our new look, they will make it a steady habit to shop in Springfield."

"We have plenty of parking space—FREE and off the street—and our quality of goods and services will match anything offered anywhere. Shoppers can buy everything in Springfield—everything from a spool of thread to an automobile—from a can of soup to the newest in clothes for men—from Tropical fish or nails or lawn care products to everything in lumber—and even prefabricated houses. Tax Collections Ahead of 1954

August kept pace with 1954 tax collections, the total for last month being ahead of the same period in 1954. The total for August compared with $156,645.19 for the same month last year.

The collections for 1955 including August showed a total of $1,801,093.30 while last year, for the same period of time, the total was $903,964.37.

Even the collection of taxes due last year was greater last month than for the same time in 1954. Collector of Taxes Charles H. Huff received $182,244 for last year's taxes in August which made it a total of $33,898.57 collected in 1954 taxes.

Money received by Tax Collector Huff which included all assessments amounted to $189,914 for August for a 1955 total of $1,102,744.92. This total is greater than the 1954 amount for the same period which was $974,264.78.

Murphys Retain Lawyer To Stay Eviction Order

The Murphys, who have been living at 352 Morris Avenue for more than 10 years, are reaching out desperately today for legal aid to restrain Springfield authorities from evicting the family.

Magistrate Henry C. McMullen has ordered the Murphys "to move from the premises by September 8—or go to jail for 10 days," the building having been condemned by the Township authorities as "not being fit for human habitation."

Eugene F. Murphy, who has been a resident of Springfield for 35 years, has retained H. Lee Sarokin, a local attorney with offices in the National Newark and Essex Bank Building in Newark, to explore the legal aspects of the eviction order and give the family protection against what Mr. Murphy says "are illegal proceedings and the eviction orders."

Mr. Murphy stated that he is not contesting the fact that the premises at 352 Morris Avenue are in a deplorable condition but he is merely seeking time in which to find shelter for his family. Murphy says, he, himself, contacted certain Springfield Township officials many months ago and pointed out the condition of the premises asking for assistance in having the existing conditions remedied.

Mr. Murphy told the court that he is now in the process of building his own home in Morris Township and hopes to have it ready within a very short time. The Murphys, through their attorney, are expected to plead for a delay in executing the eviction order so that they may be able to find other quarters or have their new home ready.

Mr. Sarokin has made a thorough study of the matter and is expected to make a formal request for a delay of the eviction order so that his clients, the Murphys, may have an opportunity to find suitable quarters.

If, after the last General Election, you have moved into another district in Springfield or elsewhere in Union County, you must arrange for a transfer. Persons who have reached the age of 21, or will have reached that age on or before the day of the General Election, are eligible to register.

Start Work On Remodeling Of Local Church

Work on the enlarging and remodeling of the Methodist Church on Main Street was started yesterday, the removal of the steeple being the first job on the schedule.

At the same time work began on the new roof and the complete plans call for extending the building with a brand new front.

Culminating a program of many years of careful planning, the trustees of the Methodist Church in Springfield, backed by the District Superintendent, Rev. Dr. Roland Luerich of Westfield, and the unanimous consent of the congregation are now in the midst of signing contracts for extensive repairs and remodeling of their property at Main Street and Academy Green.

Due to this condition the Methodists in Springfield are deeply indebted to the Presbyterians for making available the Presbyterian Parish House across the street from the Methodist Church for worship at the 11:00 o'clock hour on Sundays for a few weeks until some long-range plans can be made for increased space for the Church School and a renewal of the 9:30 and 11:00 a. m. worship periods on Sundays.

All Methodists and their friends are urged to attend Divine Worship at 11:00 a. m. next Sunday and each Sunday through October 2nd at the Presbyterian Parish House. W. N. Barz will be in charge of the musical program at the piano and Mrs. Barz will sing a solo.

Democrats To Dine-Dance This Saturday
Democrats—and many who still won't admit it—are expected to jam into the private ball room of Chi-A-Mi Chateau on Route 22, Mountaintop, Saturday night for the First Annual Dinner Dance of the Springfield Democratic Club.

The affair will get the political campaign under way with County and Springfield Democratic candidates scheduled to appear and become acquainted with everyone.

Mayor Robert W. Sheldon of Roselle Park who is the Democratic candidate for Senator from Union County will be one of the principal speakers. Francis Keane and Irwin Weinberg, who will carry the Democratic colors in the battle for the two places on the Springfield Township Committee this November, are also expected to "kick off" their campaign with a real blast against the administration backed Republican candidates.

Deputy Attorney General Felix G. Forlenza will be the toastmaster of the evening. The Wally Roman orchestra will furnish the music for the dancing.

Only About 98 Days To Xmas!!! Several weeks ago, we were surprised to note that the Pace Setter shop was already stocked up on 1955 Christmas Cards. Well it seems the Christmas spirit is spreading. Milt Kestner of Beacon Hill Printers reports that he has over 35 sample books of Christmas cards on his tables already. He figures these contain about 1750 different cards.

Milt isn't very impressed by these figures. He says his store has "everyday cards" all over the place—over 800 different categories of them.

you need a flameless automatic electric range

"Flameless!" That's the reason electric cooking is so Cool, Me'am, Cool! You see, the surface units on an electric range are in direct contact with pots and pans. Flameless electric heat goes straight into the food. Will not escape to make your kitchen like an oven. And speaking of ovens, only with an electric oven do you get full insulation on all six sides. This means your range always stays cool to the touch. Flameless electric cooking is also clean, fast and completely automatic. Why not visit your Reddy Kilowatt dealer and see for yourself?

Warning Given On School Bus Laws

Police Chief Albert A. Sorge yesterday asked motorists to be especially careful now that the schools are opening and the children will be using the streets and highways. He especially called attention of the motorists who are urged to be alert for the familiar yellow school buses or other buses with the official yellow school bus signs now re-appearing after the summer vacation.

The reminder was issued by the police chief in calling attention to the state school bus law. When approaching a school bus halted to take on or discharge passengers, he said, motorists are required to stop at least 10 feet away and to move only after the children have entered the bus or have alighted and reached a place of safety.

There are two exceptions granted by law in the interest of preventing needless delay and congestion. On multiple-lane highways where there are physical separations, such as dividing safety islands, the law permits drivers approaching a stopped school bus from the opposite direction on the other side of the separation to pass at not more than 10 miles an hour, taking on or discharging children at the curb of a school situated on the same side of the street, so that the youngsters do not have to cross. Drivers may pass at 30 miles an hour.

The arrest of 207 drivers in 1954 for passing stopped school buses in New Jersey indicates that many drivers are unfamiliar with the law or are not alert for

SUN Reader Says Some Nice Things

The offer of FREE GLOBES for new paid subscriptions to the SPRINGFIELD SUN added many new members to the big family of regular readers. While the premium was intended ONLY for new paid subscriptions, several were given to old subscribers who came into the SUN office to renew.

The following letter, mailed from Cape Cod, was received this week from Mrs. Trudy Creede, a well known local resident: "Not until a recent copy of the 'Sun' was forwarded to me," Mrs. Creede writes, "did I realize that we claimed one of your globes for a renewal instead of for a brand new subscription. The boys love it and will have increasing use for it. Please accept the enclosed dollar in payment of the globe. (If I owe more, I'll pay it when I see you in September.)

"Being away from Springfield makes me appreciate all the more what a wonderful town we have. I hope your paper is successful with your subscription drive. Personally, I have no sympathy with the folks who try to get along without the paper—and then gripe when they don't know what's going on.

"Thanks for all past favors."

P.T.A. NEWS

All local P.T.A. officers and chairmen are urged to attend the Union County P.T.A. Institute to be held on Wednesday, September 14th in the Trinity Reformed Church, 122 West 2nd street, Plainfield, from 9:30 to 2:15. All those planning to attend are reminded to get there early to get a seat. This Institute should be informative and instructive in planning the year's procedure. For arranging car-pools, anyone wishing to go may contact the President, Mrs. Phillip Lewis, Mil. 6-4502.

Mrs. I. J. Gershen, 41 Norwood road, Mil. 6-5772, the P.T.A. Finance Chairman, is very much enthused about the coming P.T.A. SALE, Oct. 17, 18, 19th. Right now she has requests for bicycles, especially sizes 20"-24". If you have a boy's or girl's bike around that is not being used and is taking up too much space, you may call the above number. The response has been so good that Mrs. Gershen already has many beautiful items in her cellar. She suggests that you call her to find out if she has what you might need right now. Among those items there is a maternity wardrobe, size 10, for a "Lady-in-Waiting."

A Budget Meeting was held at the home of the President, Mrs. Phillip Lewis on Tuesday, August 30th, to work out a Budget to be submitted for approval at the Regular P.T.A. Meeting. Members who attended the meeting were Mrs. Samuel Goldstein; Mr. Harold Oakman, Treasurer; Mrs. I. J. Gershen, Finance Chairman; Mr. Frank Jakobson and Mrs. Charles Miller, Vice Presidents.

Letters to Editor

Editor, Sun:
Three weeks ago I wrote an article announcing the intention of starting a Fundamental Baptist Church in Springfield. God willing.

Naturally I wanted other newspapers to announce it also. I would like to take this opportunity to express my thanks and tell you that your newspaper was by far the biggest medium of reaching the populace in Springfield. I can vouch for this because I polled the group that responded. In the three weeks that have passed, we have been able to set Thursday as our regular meeting night, and also to make a definite plan to take a step of Earth next month which we will make an announcement soon. This Thursday, Sept. 8, Rev. Wesley Olsen will be our guest speaker. We will again meet in my home at 8 p.m. Again thanking you for your newspaper space, I remain,
Ray Schneiderman,
24 Shunpike road.

The Sun is publishing the calendar covering the immediate events for the month, and the Library is trying to cover long range planning. Between them they hope to solve the dilemma of individuals who have had two or three events to attend on the same evening; or of committees trying to select a date on which nothing else is scheduled.

The Community Calendar with each day marked by a square is kept in the Reference Room of the Library. As fast as information comes in, the squares are filled in with future events. Any organization or person, planning an affair should send in the date as soon as possible. (If they are sent in, in duplicate, one copy will be passed on to the Sun.) It would be better still for interested persons to stop in and look at the calendar or telephone the Library before finally deciding on the date.

This week letters are being sent to the officers of all Springfield organizations asking their help in collecting information. If officers you know did not get a letter but you know of events scheduled, consider yourself responsible for sending information anyway.

With the Summer Season fast approaching its close, the Summer Program of the Free Public Library of Springfield likewise is ending.

The last Story Hour will be on Wednesday, August 24th at 10:45 a.m. There will be stories for the smaller children told by Mrs. Dean Widmer and for the older group by Miss Adaline Tallan. The story teller for the older group this week was Miss Myrna Libby. Each week more and more children have been coming. The older group have enjoyed having the story outdoors under the trees.

The Golden Key Reading Club also is causing considerable excitement among the younger set. Two or three readers have already gotten five or six Golden Keys, each representing ten books, and have set for themselves the high score of one hundred books for the summer. We hope they will reach it.

After Friday, August 20th, no one may join the Reading Club, but those already members may continue to report on books they are reading until September 15th. This will give the boys and girls who took books away for vacation a chance to get their keys.

So much activity among the younger readers in the summer has tended to overshadow the adults, but they have been busy too with their own interests. Many have taken home extra books to read on hot days, so they can stay in air conditioned rooms. At other times books have helped them forget the hurricanes.

For those people who work and find it difficult to come in during the day, the Library will be open Tuesday evening September 6th, the day after Labor Day. On Monday, Labor Day itself, the Library will be closed all day. Evening Hours: (7:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. Monday and Friday. (Also Tuesday after Labor Day.) Story Hour: 10:45 August 24th. (Last of summer season.)

The staff of the Springfield Public Library was wondering the other day just how many books there are in the Library whose titles begin with the words "How To..." We counted sixty-six titles, and some of these so captivated us that we would like to mention them. The ones we like best are: "How to Cook a Wolf" by M. F. K. Fisher, "How to Live with a Cat" by M. C. Gay, and "How to Meet a Millionaire" by Davis Lilly. Anyone who reads all the available books on "How To" should become a truly versatile person. He or she would know how to afford a college education, decorate windows with crepe paper, earn an income while retired, be happy while single, be his own decorator, break 80 at golf, drive—and stay alive, furnish old American homes, lie with statistics, get more out of reading, grow the best lawn in the neighborhood, keep the romance in his marriage, make pottery, make his emotions work for him, mend china, paint trays, raise a dog, speak in public, travel incognito, and, of course, win friends and influence people. So, if the reader wishes to learn how to do any of these things, or practically anything at all, he would be wise to consult the "How To" books at the Springfield Public Library.

The Golden Key Reading Club will end on September 15 for this year. After that time, the Library staff will tally up the results and find out who our champions are. The Springfield Free Public Library will be open again on Saturdays starting September 17. Library Hours: 10:30 A.M. - 5:00 P.M. Monday through Saturday (with the exception of Saturday, September 10).

 motor vehicles for New Jersey Bell, explained that the new orange and green combination is easier to see.

"We feel the new color scheme will make parked or moving trucks stand out, particularly at dusk and in shaded and tree areas, when green has a tendency to blend with the background," Ott said.

The orange contrast, he said, is also more easily seen by pedestrians and drivers under normal daytime conditions.

The green color will still be the standard for the cab and upper levels of truck bodies. The lower portion of New Jersey Bell vehicles, however, will be painted bright orange.

The new combination has also brought on a variation in the color scheme of New Jersey Bell's seal which adorns all its vehicles. The background for the Bell is now a cream color which under the new arrangement will be changed to white. Outlining and lettering, which is now gold, will become silver, it was explained.

Ott estimated that the change-over of some 2,400 work trucks and trailers to the two-tone arrangement will take over 4,000 gallons of paint, but he doesn't expect the output to create any run on the paint market.

New vehicles, he said, will come delivered with the new color arrangement. Others will be painted the new scheme as they are brought in for general overhaul. It will be several years before they are all painted, he said.

The changeover to green and orange at New Jersey Bell will mean the fourth change in colors in the past half century. Originally the standard color was a royal blue. Following this the trend was to battleship gray.

When New Jersey Bell was formed as a statewide operating unit in 1927, it started using the present solid green.

New Jersey Bell with a total of more than 3,100 vehicles, including passenger cars, has the largest commercial fleet in the state.

First Aid Squad Needs Members

The Springfield First Aid Squad has requested "Tin Hats", the American Legion's monthly pamphlet, to extend their pleas for new members.

The squad is in need of members especially for volunteer work during the daytime. The only requirement for membership is the possession of a driver's license and being at least 21 years of age.

All training required will be supplied by the squad and a six-month probationary period is provided in order that the new member may decide whether they are suited for the type of work required of a member.

Applications may be obtained from squad members or by writing to the Springfield First Aid Squad, Springfield, N. J.

Pet Shop Opens On Morris Avenue

The Fin-N-Feather Pet shop, formerly located on Central Avenue in East Orange, announces the formal opening of their shop at 281 Morris Avenue tomorrow (Friday) which should be of considerable interest to all pet lovers in this area.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Young, who started the business about six years ago at the Central Avenue address in East Orange, have built up a loyal following and their coming to Springfield is expected to bring many new shoppers to the Township. Mr. Young started raising fish as a hobby over 20 years ago and his interest extended to "parakeets" and other pets.

The new shop will be formally opened tomorrow although the Youngs have been preparing the place for several weeks. The shop will cater to those who are interested in Tropical fish of all kinds, gold fish, parakeets, hamsters, turtles and canaries. The shop will also carry a large stock of pet accessories including fish tanks, bird cages and stands, dog, haberdasheries and all kinds of pet foods and toys. They will not have dogs or cats.

McClintic to Try Out New Play at McCarter Theater

The McCarter Theatre, thanks to which Princeton ranks as one of the seven pre-Broadway cities in the entire U. S., opens its 25th season with the world premiere of a Broadway-bound comedy, co-produced by Guthrie McClintic and Stanley Gilkey. Starring Patricia Neal, whom Hollywood has kept away from Broadway for three years, "Roses" will play Princeton for three performances only: Friday and Saturday evenings, Sept. 23-24, with a third matinee on Saturday.

Anyone who doesn't know by now that Mrs. Guthrie McClintic is Katharine Cornell will learn through "Me and Kit", McClintic's memoirs, condensed in the current Ladies Home Journal, appearing as a book October 3. The Cornell-McClintic names, sometimes jointly, sometimes separately, flying over a play have, for a generation, meant top quality.

"Roses" is a favored contender for honors of the new season and 20th Century-Fox bought the Edith Sommer script for films even before it had benefited by the McClintic touch. Miss Neal, absent from Broadway since the 1952 revival of "The Children's Hour", plays a young matron who, because of one warm, impulsive gesture, became the center of an international scandal and lost custody of her daughter. How she settles accounts with society and wins back her embittered teenage child is the theme of this contemporary comedy of good manners.

Mail Orders are now being accepted and the theatre box office is open from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Mondays through Fridays.

Mr. John's ticket stub handed him at the door.

Hath Difficulties? Behold the Editor

Consider the editor. He weareth purple and fine linen. His abode is amongst the mansions of the rich. His wife hath her limousine and his first-born sporteth a racing car that can hit her up in forty flat.

Lo! All the people breaketh their necks to hand him money. A child is born unto the wife of a merchant in the bazaar. The physician getteth 10 gold-plunks. The editor writeth a stick and a half and telleth the multitude that the child tippeth the beam at nine pounds. Yea, he lieth even as a centurion. And the proud father giveth him a Cremona.

Behold, the young one groweth up and graduateth. And the editor putteth into his paper a swell notice. Yea, a peach of a notice. He telleth of the wisdom of the young woman, and of her exceeding comeliness. Like the roses of Sharon is she and her gown is played up to beat the band. And the dressmaker getteth two score and four iron men. And the editor getteth a note of thanks from the SGG.

The daughter goeth on a journey. And the editor throweth himself on the story of the farewell party. It runneth a column, solid. And the fair one remembreth him from afar off with a picture-postal card that costeth six for a jitney.

Behold, she returneth and the youth of the city fall down and worship. She picketh one and lo, she picketh a lemon. But the editor calleth him one of our most promising young men and getteth away with it. And they send unto him a bid to the wedding feast and behold, the bids are fashioned by Muntgummary Hawbuck, in a far city.

Flowery and long is the wedding notice which the editor printeth. The minister getteth 10 bones. The groom standeth the editor off for a twelve-month-subscription.

All flesh is grass and in time the wife is gathered into the silo. The minister getteth his bit. The editor printeth a death notice, two columns of obituary, three lodge notices, a eulogy of poetry and a card of thanks. And he forgetteth to read proof on the head, and the darned thing cometh out "Gone to Her Last Roasting Place."

And all that are akin to the deceased jumpeth on the editor with exceeding great jumps. And they pulleth out their ads and cancelleth their subscriptions and they swing the hammer unto the third and fourth generations.

Canst thou beat it?

Springfield Red Cross Gives $1300 To Relief

Springfield—always ready to do its part in the various fund raising drives—turned over a total of $1300 to the National Red Cross Flood Relief which was collected in the Township as the result of the appeal to help the recent flood sufferers.

The Township was one of the first to go far beyond the quota set by Red Cross headquarters and the announcement yesterday that $1300 has been received here and turned over to headquarters, officially closes the appeal for flood funds.

The Springfield Chapter of Red Cross was notified yesterday that the appeal has ended, the quota of ten million dollars having already been passed.

Local Red Cross authorities will issue a statement next week thanking all those who helped Springfield "go over the top."

Sara Churchill To Play At Montclair

Sara Churchill

Sara Churchill, who has been touring this season in "No Time For Comedy," makes her only appearance in the metropolitan area next week (beg. Mon. eve., Sept. 12) as the star of the S. N. Behrman play at Harold J. Kennedy's Montclair (N. J.) Summer Theatre. It was under Mr. Kennedy's auspices in 1949 at the McCarter Theatre in Princeton that Sara Churchill's daughter made her American stage debut. Next week's cast also includes leading man Robert Carroll, who first came into Broadway prominence when he played Tschickow in "Music in My Heart" and has since appeared with Gloria Swanson in "Twentieth Century" and as the villainous nephew in "My Three Angels."

Other featured roles will be filled by Frances Tannhill, Alexander Clark and Butterfly McQueen, the unforgettable Prissy of "Gone With the Wind." Rogers Brackett has staged the production with advance direction by Richard Franchot. The settings will be by Charles Baker, Montclair's resident designer. Matinees as usual are on Wednesday and Saturday.

Mr. Behrman's "No Time For Comedy" was first produced on Broadway in 1939 with Katharine Cornell and Laurence Olivier in the leading roles, and has since served Cary Grant and Rosalind Russell as a delightful movie vehicle. Considering the success of the current tour with Miss Churchill, the play seems to be unraveled by time and its view of the human comedy is apparently as perceptive today as it was fifteen years ago. Since her 1949 acting bow in the United States, Miss Churchill has appeared on Broadway in "Gramercy Ghost," and in a tour of "The Philadelphia Story" for the Theatre Guild. She also married her favorite photographer, Anthony Beauchamp, and was beckoned to Hollywood for a song and dance role with Fred Astaire in "Royal Wedding." Television claimed her talents, too, as hostess-actress on the weekly video series, "Hallmark Hall of Fame."

The attraction for the tenth and final week of the season, beginning September 18th, will be announced shortly.

Short Hills Church Opens Season Sun

The Community Congregational Church in Short Hills will hold its first service of the fall season this Sunday, September 11, at the Short Hills School on Hobart Avenue. Rev. H. Otheman Smith, who returned this week from his summer camp at East Blue Hill, Maine, will preach on the subject, "Behold the Mercies of God." Provision has been made to care for small children during the service.

Church School registration and the opening session are scheduled for Sunday, September 25, with primary, junior, junior high and high school departments meeting at 9:30, and nursery and kindergarten departments at 11 a.m. Hugh S. Wertz will again serve as superintendent of the church school. Gilbert L. Johnston, a senior at Princeton Theological Seminary, continues as assistant in young people's work. He will have charge of the high school department on Sunday mornings, assist in the 11 o'clock worship services, and conduct the junior high and high school group meetings on alternate Sunday evenings.

Mrs. Vern Jensen, the former Miss Betty Turkington, a student at Drew University, will also return to the church staff this fall.

in charge of the kindergarten department and assisting in the primary department.

Richard Connelly of New York will commence his duties as organist and choir master this Sunday. He is a graduate of Oberlin College and last June received an advanced degree in music from Syracuse University.

Boy Scout Troop No. 62 will hold its first meeting of the year at the Jewish Community Center on Baltusrol Way, September 13, 1955. A cordial invitation is extended to any boys who wish to join as new members to attend.

The group is non-sectarian. Special emphasis was placed on scout leadership, and any adult who likes to deal with boys, plan activities with them, and guide them would be a most welcome addition to the troop. Let's have a big turnout at this meeting.

On Saturday, August 27th, a group of the scouts were taken to Ebbets Field in Brooklyn, to see the Dodgers play the Cincinnati Reds, and a good time was had by all, even the Giant fans. See you at the meeting.

Jews To Observe High Holy Days

Rosh Hashana, the Jewish New Year, will be observed in homes and synagogues throughout the world, beginning at sundown, Friday, Sept. 16th. Keynote of the holiday, the beginning of a ten-day span known as the high Holydays, is the belief that human nature can be improved by the application of divine ideals to daily life. Religious services on the holiday stress the theme of the possibility of overcoming weakness and faults. This idea is embodied in prayers, preaching, and liturgy.

Worship services on Rosh Hashana feature the sounding of the shofar, or ram's horn, used as a bugle in times gone by. It summons the worshipper to do battle against his faults. According to legend, this year's observance marks the beginning of the year 5715, since the creation of the world. Jews do not make use of the Hebrew calendar on which this reckoning is based except for the timing of holidays and religious milestones.

Climax of the high Holydays is Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, which falls on Monday, September 26th. Synagogue observance of Rosh Hashana takes place Friday evening and Saturday morning in Reform Temples; in Orthodox and Conservative synagogues, the new year is celebrated for two days.

Temple Sinai which worships at the Community Unitarian Church in Summit, serves the Reform Jews in this area. Temple Sinai will hold its first sabbath eve service before Rosh Hashana on Friday evening, Sept. 9th, at 8:30, with Rabbi Morrison D. Bial conducting the worship assisted by Cantor Norman Summers and the Temple choir. Rosh Hashana worship for Temple Sinai will be held in two services to accommodate all of the congregation—the first at 7 P.M. and the second at 8:30 P.M., Friday, September 16th, at the Unitarian Church.

Beard School to Open September 14

The Beard School in Orange will open its 65th consecutive year on Sept. 14. A recently completed building, which was the result of a fire in 1953, will be opened for occupancy.

CATHOLIC INFORMATION

Six times three and a Rosary.

The foursome had just completed its 18-hole round on Jim Doak's three-hole, back-yard golf course, when the thing happened.

Lolling in the big porch rockers they were discussing the game when Art Fisher, in drawing forth his handkerchief, inadvertently hung to the floor a circle of brown beads. There followed a moment's silence, which Art broke with the casual words: "What's the matter? It's only my Rosary."

"But," he continued, picking up the beads, "I can guess what you are thinking, so let me briefly explain what it's all about."

"Of course you recognize the crucifix here at the end—the emblem of Christianity. In the circle you will note five series of eleven beads each, the first in each case being slightly separated from the ten that follow. On each of these separated beads we recite the 'Our Father' or Lord's Prayer. On each of the ten that follow we say the 'Hail Mary' or Ave Maria.

"The complete Rosary consists of three times as many beads, as you see here, but by going through this thrice, I complete the whole devotion, just as we all completed a full round of golf just now by playing these three holes six times over."

"Firesome? Not a bit of it, if we say our Rosary correctly; for we do more than recite the beautiful prayers I have mentioned; we also meditate on the great mysteries which have to do with our Divine Savior's birth, life, death, and resurrection, and also the part which His Blessed Mother played therein. Fifteen sublime mysteries, upon which the child or ignorant adult can meditate according to his capacity. Fifteen stupendous mysteries upon which the wisest theologian can dwell time without number and never exhaust his source of godly inspirations.

"An ever-flowing fountain of thoughts that raise us high—An ever-acceptable tribute to Christ, our God and King. A frequently-answered pleading to the mother of us all, for prayers and intercession to Him who loves her most. That is the Rosary."

"Yes, Jimmie, old scout, I know that you're thinking: 'Vain repetition as the heathen do.' Surely we've had it here this evening, but not in the Rosary. Six times over we've played these three holes of golf; and look at the score-card. On each repetition you have been worse, Jimmie—worse in score, worse in your heathenish condemnation of a little ball. Vain repetition! I'll leave it to the crowd!"

Constitution Week To Be Observed In Springfield

The local chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution and other patriotic organizations are expected to participate in the program to observe the 175th anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution of the United States of America to be held Saturday, September 17.

The entire week, starting with September 17, has been set aside as Constitution Week with a proclamation by the President of the United States which reads as follows:

"WE the People of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common Defense, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this CONSTITUTION for the United States of America."

"On September 17, 1787, the delegates to the Federal Convention in Philadelphia met for the last time and approved these familiar words now enshrined not only in our Nation's basic instrument of Government but also in the hearts of our citizenry. Led by the President of the Convention, George Washington, the great majority of the delegates signed the newly drafted Constitution, and on the following day their Secretary set off for New York by stage coach to deliver the engrossed document to the United States in Congress there assembled. Within a week the proposed Constitution had been printed and circulated in both Pennsylvania and New York, and the great principles by which our country still is governed had been dispatched or carried home by delegates from other States as well. On September 28, 1787, the Congress resolved to transmit the draft text officially to the States of the Confederation for action. "It is fitting that we, whose entire lives have been protected by the fruits of the Convention's

September Tips To Tree Owners Summit Woman

September is the time to pep up shade trees. Some will need a clean-up, others repair. Feed all trees that look sick, especially those weakened by heat and drought, those that dropped leaves prematurely, or were ravaged by insects or otherwise damaged. Feeding will help put new life into the trees this fall. Prune out and burn weak, diseased and dead branches. At the same time thin out crowns so there will be less danger of damage during hurricanes or fall storms.

Cable and brace weak crotches and limbs. Clean up evergreens by timely spraying.

September is an ideal time to curb red spider which causes needles of arborvitae, hemlock, spruce and fir to yellow, brown and then drop. Use nicotine or malathion. Spray even if these evergreens appear to be pest-free, for red spiders are on the move this month and may come in from neighboring places and do much damage yet this fall.

Be on the lookout for crawling young scale on underside of twigs of many plants. These tiny scale crawl in late September and early October, suck plant juices, then settle down for winter.

Young of many scales are pale yellow; tulip and magnolia scale crawlers, jet black. Spray with malathion or nicotine.

Watch white, red and Austrian pine for evidence of pine bark lice, which are cottony in appearance as they cling to twigs, needles and trunk. Curb them with a contact insecticide spray. The damage they do shows up next May and June.

In its first year of operation, the Garden State Parkway had several outstanding safety achievements. There was not a single traffic fatality among drivers or passengers during the last and busiest five months of 1954; there was not a single traffic accident reported on the Parkway during nationally-observed "Safe Driving Day", Dec. 15, 1955.

Borers Now at Work on Trees Hit by Drought

Borers, the most destructive of insect pests, are moving in on trees right now.

They are picking out trees weakened by this summer's searing heat and drought. Suburban shade trees are taking the brunt of the attack, according to Dr. Dale F. Bray, entomologist of the Barlett Tree Research Laboratories.

Countless numbers of borers have multiplied in wood of trees injured and debilitated by last year's hurricanes and previous dry spells. "Now as adults they are emerging, mating and laying eggs in bark of trees. Within days these eggs will hatch into grubs that will tunnel into the trees, girdling as they go.

Once a tree is invaded by borers, decline is rapid and the tree may die within a year or so, unless prompt care is given.

Good care means feeding to build up a tree's resistance to attack, and pruning and burning dying and dead limbs to kill borers that may be within. Painting the trunk and lower limbs with a slurry (watery paste) of DDT may help. Tiny holes, some D-shaped, others elliptical or round, on tree trunks or limbs are emergence holes from which adult borers escaped, not where they entered. The most common borers are these:

Two-line chestnut borers which attack all varieties of oaks, beech, ironwood, and chestnut. These are very severe in new home developments where construction has injured existing trees.

Flat-headed apple borers which attack not only apple but poplar, willow, sycamore, oak, hickory, ash, maple, beech, cherry, linden and apricot trees.

Bronze birch borers which start at the top of birch, poplar, willow and quaking aspen trees and work down.

Dogwood borers that are so destructive to dogwoods they can kill a tree in a single season. Hemlock borers on spruce and hemlock. Austrian white and Scotch pines are also attacked by still other borers.

Twenty-two per cent of the beer purchased in the United States for home consumption is sold in liquor stores and 21 per cent in taverns.

Social Security Information

This is the first in a series of questions and answers prepared especially for the item by Seymour Finer, manager of the Social Security Administration district office at 1040 Springfield Avenue, in Irvington. Official answers are furnished for questions most frequently asked about Old Age and Survivors Insurance. Readers are invited to send personal questions to the local Social Security office for prompt replies.

SOCIAL SECURITY QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

1) Q: What is Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance?
A: It is a family insurance plan provided by the Social Security law and operated by the United States Government. Under this law, people contribute during their working years to provide an income for themselves and their families when their usual income from employment or self-employment is cut off by old age or death. Through contributions based on the amount of their wages or self-employment income, they establish rights to future benefits. The amount of monthly benefits to a family will depend on the amount of the insured person's average monthly earnings and on the number of other members of the family who are entitled to payments as the insured person's dependents.

2) Q: Are benefits paid automatically upon attainment of age 65 or death?
A: No. When an insured person retires after reaching 65, he becomes 72 years old, or dies, a claim must be filed before any benefit payments are made. It is important to remember this because the law permits monthly payments to go back for only 12 months before the month in which a claim is filed.
3) Q: How long must a person work in jobs under social security in order to be eligible for retirement payments?
A: Generally speaking, he must have worked the equivalent of one-half the time between January 1, 1951 and his 65th birthday, with a minimum of a year and a half and a maximum of ten years. Any work under social security since 1937 counts toward this requirement.
4) Q: About how long must a person work under social security in order to be eligible at age 65 if he becomes 65 on:
a. June 6, 1956
b. December 1, 1966
c. April 4, 1971

A: a. 2 1/2 years
b. 7 1/2 years
c. 10 years
5) Q: Is it necessary to be a citizen of the United States in order to qualify for social security benefits?
A: No. Citizenship is not a factor in determining eligibility for social security benefits.
6) Q: Does a person have to be in need before he can claim benefits?
A: Yes. A beneficiary may earn $1,200 during the year and still be entitled to all his social security benefits for the year.
7) Q: Must these earnings be considered on a month-to-month basis and each month limited to earnings of no more than $100?
A: No longer. Earnings are now considered on an annual basis. A beneficiary may earn more than $100 in some months, but if his annual earnings do not exceed $1,200 he will not suffer any loss in benefits.

8) Q: Are earnings in non-covered employment included in a beneficiary's total yearly earnings in considering how many benefit checks he will receive for the year?
A: Yes. Beginning this year earnings in non-covered employment must be included.
9) Q: Are there any situations in which a beneficiary may earn more than $2,080 and still be entitled to social security benefits for some months of the year?
A: Yes. Regardless of the total amount of earnings a beneficiary may have during a year, he will be entitled to benefits for any month in which he did not earn more than $30, or if self-employed for any month in which he did not render substantial services.
10) Q: Is an officer of a corporation considered to be self-employed, or is he an employee of the corporation?
A: An officer of a corporation is an employee of the corporation.
11) Q: Are partners self-employed or employees of the partnership?

A: Partners are self-employed individuals. They cannot be employees of the partnership.
12) Q: If a wife is employed by her husband, is her employment covered for social security purposes?
A: No. This is considered family employment which is not covered under the social security program.
13) Q: Did the 1954 Amendments to the Social Security Act extend coverage to veterinarians or optometrists?
A: No. These professions are still excluded from coverage. Other major professional groups still excluded are dentists, physicians, chiropractors and lawyers.
14) Q: What is the status of a director of a corporation in relation to social security coverage?
A: No. These professions are still excluded from coverage. Other major professional groups still excluded are dentists, physicians, chiropractors and lawyers.
15) Q: Fourth of July fireworks caused 468 deaths in 1950, but in recent years, only one to four such deaths have been reported in single years.
A: Dear lose their appetites about mid-November and don't fully regain them until late in March.

Mountainside Student At Regional To Judge 'Chicks'

A Mountainside boy and student of the Regional High School in Springfield was given quite an honor last week, according to an article in the Newark Evening News, which follows:

Fifteen-year-old James Finn of 1070 Sunny View road has turned out to be quite a judge of chickens despite protests of neighbors who forced him to give up poultry raising efforts after four months.

Jimmy will head a poultry judging team that will represent New Jersey at the Eastern States Exposition in Springfield, Mass., Sept. 16 and 17. Competing against many farm youngsters, the boy from suburban Mountainside won the Future Farmers of America state poultry judging contest held at Rutgers University last spring.

Jimmy confessed, "But with training at high school I managed to come out tops in three sections of the FFA contest—judging the laying ability, best meat and rooster fertility. The section I didn't win in was judging egg quality."

The youngster's interest in agricultural pursuits started as a child when he used to visit the farm his grandfather lives on in Beemerville. Jimmy, who will enter the sophomore class at regional high school this week, plans to attend Rutgers College of Agriculture.

Qualifying Round At Morristown

More than 70 of the finest stock car race drivers in the East will converge Friday night, Sept. 2, on the Morristown Raceway to take part in the weekly card of motor competition, but there will be a special incentive in this 16th card of the year.

Word was received yesterday by Track Operator Joe Soranno from Pat Purcell, executive secretary of The National Assn. For Stock Car Auto Racing, based in Daytona Beach, Fla., that the Morristown Raceway had been selected as the site for a qualifying round program Sept. 2; sportsman division drivers who finish well up in the night's 25 lap feature contest will become eligible for the October 9 NASCAR National Sportsman Division Championship race at the Langhorne (Pa.) Speedway, the number one event annually in its field in America.

Hundreds of stock car chauffeurs point for the Langhorne classic but only 60 can possibly make the grade and to earn a starting berth they must qualify via meets such as the Morristown card.

Purcell was to rule on whether drivers of modified cars could become eligible by converting to the single carburetor engine, with a final decision expected by midweek. Should he decide that such a move can be made, top ranked modified stars like George Tet Spud Murphy, Ray Cook, Ronnie Kohler, Ray Baxter and many more who compete weekly on the Hanover Avenue speed strip may change over, making for the most interesting situation of the year.

Every pilot seeking one of the 25 positions open in Friday's 25 lap feature will have to make the grade in one of the three 10 lap heats, or the 10-lap consolation race; the weekly 15 lap rookie race for beginners in the sport is an individual contest that has no bearing on the open competition, serving as a stepping stone for the young hopefuls. Several of the professional performers are graduates of the rookie crop.

New Jersey's Garden State Parkway will become a leading link in a new travel route between New England and Florida by virtue of projected connections at the superhighway's extremities. The Parkway is to connect with the New York State Thruway at its northern end, and is to tie in with a proposed Delaware Bay ferry service between Cape May, N. J., and Lewes, Del., at its southern end.

County G.O.P. Plans Dinner On October 13

Albert J. Benninger

County Republicans will hold a $25-a-plate dinner, to raise money for the upcoming November election campaign, on October 13 at the Flagship restaurant, Route 22, Union.

Albert J. Benninger, director of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders, has been appointed chairman for the affair.

Francis V. Loyden, chairman of the county G.O.P. committee, and Roy E. Carey, executive chairman, announced the appointment of Mr. Benninger. He was given full authority to select co-workers and to obtain a speaker of national importance.

The Garden State Parkway in New Jersey is one of the nation's most unique toll roads. It has several toll-free sections along its 164-mile course, and on some toll sections has only an "honor system" in effect for motorists leaving the Parkway. At those ramp exits, payment of the 10 or 25-cent toll is made in a depository without human or mechanical supervision.

Grabarz Tells About Big National Home Week Show

by: Henry Grabarz, President Home Builders Ass'n of Metropolitan N. J. and Building Inspector of Springfield, N. J.

The "Greatest Show on Earth" will be presented during the entire week of September 10 through 18 when members of the National Association of Home Builders display their newest and finest creations in homes. National Home Week enables all NAHB home-builders to show the public the results of their planning, designing and construction as it has progressed since last year's home show.

Using the entire United States as a showroom, our builder members are offering homes to suit any purse, any taste and any needs. Architecture will naturally differ in some respects from North to South and East to West, but the basic principle of making home living easier and more satisfactory is the common purpose. Today's house is a far cry from the first desperate effort immediately following World War II to provide sorely needed housing for so many people who were unable, because of the war, and its restrictions, to secure adequate living facilities.

The first goal was to provide sufficient housing to accommodate the millions who were living in overcrowded and many times sub-standard housing. After the desperate need for basic housing was satisfied, the home builders were able to devote more time and attention to streamlining and improving these basic houses. After ten long years of waiting, we have the combination of the finest technological improvements and advances to make present day home living a joy unsurpassed before.

These new homes are designed for complete liveability, taking into consideration, first, the community location, proper location of lots, lot sizes, well planned streets and then orientation, or position, of the house on the lot with particular care being taken to utilize the sunlight to the best advantage.

Steps from the grade to the living area are kept to a minimum number, even as inside the house, the different living levels are brought closer together requiring fewer steps from one level to

Chicks in Living Room

His mother, Mrs. James Finn Sr., said family friends thought it odd to find a brood of chickens being raised in the living room of their new ranch house. But soon the chicks were old enough to be moved into the cellar and then into a coop in the backyard.

"I finally had to get rid of the chickens when they started roaming all over the yards in our street," Jimmy said yesterday. The neighbors didn't appreciate having chickens feeding on their trim lawns.

Village Chorus Seeking Members

An exciting and interesting season is planned by The Village Chorus of Millburn which will be held at Millburn Recreation Center on September 12 at 8:15 p.m. Monday.

The Chorus is sponsoring a symphony concert featuring great moments in music in December and the opera, Cavalleria Rusticana, in April as a major activities this season.

New features have been incorporated in the planning which will enable those associated with the Chorus to participate in the production of these events. Arrangements are being made for attendance at rehearsals to watch a conductor rehearse in preparation for the presentation of the performance, and see how the singers, musicians and stage manager of the opera work together to make the finished production.

After rehearsals the conductor, Alfred Silipini, together with the director and the stars of the opera who have been brought over from the Metropolitan, and the cast will visit those attending the rehearsal and will answer questions about their work.

"The Chorus extends an invitation said Mr. Silipini, to all who are interested in the Arts to join with us. We need singers, artists, and others to assist in stage production and other activities. Many of the lesser parts of the opera will be assigned to members of the group.

"Visit us at our Open House Party or write to Post Office, Box 93, Millburn."

Homemaker Service Offers 16-Hr. Orientation Course

The overwhelming demand for visiting homemakers to ease the burdens of families stricken with chronic or temporary illness has led to the scheduling of a new 16-hour orientation course to be given in Summit by the Rutgers University extension division the last week in September.

At present there are 19 homemakers who received their training at the first course last fall or the second this past spring. Since the inauguration of this service on October 18—just 10 months ago—these 19 homemakers have completed the outstanding record of 5,000 hours of service to 100 families. Many requests have had to be turned down because there were not enough homemakers to service them. It is the hope of the Visiting Homemaker Service Committee of SAOE, Inc. (Summit Council on Aging) that this situation can be remedied with the addition of a can be performed by the homemaker; the extent and limitations of service to the sick person; and the homemaker's role in the home care team that includes the family, doctor and nurse.

In addition to performing a vital community service, Visiting Homemaker Service offers a splendid opportunity to mature women living on fixed incomes to supplement that income by working two to six hours per day at the rate of $1.25 per hour plus carfare.

Homemakers are selected for their personality, dependability, and special interest in performing the "neighborly" type of help formerly extended only to friends to families stricken by illness and misfortune. Since this is a part-time service, homemakers are not on salary, but are paid only for the hours worked.

Women interested in becoming a part of this important community service should contact Mrs. Allen D. Petee, Summit 6-

Santa Claus for Foreign Students

NEW BRUNSWICK — Round and merry gentlemen with red suits, beards and boots are abroad everywhere. This is Santa Claus season.

Rutgers University, too, has a Santa Claus — an International Santa just like Old Saint Nick himself. Mark W. Heald doesn't have a red suit to his name, and no beard or boots either, but he's a bona fide Santa Claus, nonetheless, to 36 young men and women from all over the globe.

Heald, an associate professor of history, doubles as counselor for foreign students at the State University. He is a nurse, lawyer and father-confessor to students from 31 different countries.

1746-J, to arrange for an interview.

Directing Rutgers' year-old Foreign Student Program is a year-round job, but Christmas is Professor Heald's busiest season. During the past month he has been working with various church groups, American students and faculty colleagues to make certain each one of his foreign charges has a home in which to spend the holidays.

He and Mrs. Heald are usually the persons who visit the students when they are ill, as was the case often last month after an Egyptian woman student underwent a serious operation in a local hospital.

Then there are social calls to help acclimate the visiting students to American customs, personal problems to be unshared and the infrequent accident that requires Professor Heald's presence.

"It's my business to be on call at all hours, very much like a doctor," is the way Professor Heald puts it.

The professor's association with an individual student actually begins long before he or she steps foot on American soil. Correspondence is the first chore. Then come passport problems, which may be legally magnified later should the student desire an extension to complete his studies.

Professor Heald is also responsible for finding the students suitable living quarters near campus. The University has only 10 campus rooms for its male foreign students — and protecting them from sometimes unscrupulous landlords. Several foreign students, for instance, were perplexed when charged with a fee for heat.

Actually there is no end to the number of problems that confront these young South Americans.

Asians, Africans and Europeans during their brief stay in America. Also among the major difficulties are personal financial woes; jousts with the Internal Revenue Department, homesickness and timidity. And all of them ultimately find their way to Professor Heald's office for solution.

Professor Heald, who describes the average foreign student here as "unusually capable and earnest," said the majority of them are studying in the College of Agriculture, the College of Engineering and the Institute of Microbiology, which are widely known abroad. About half of the foreign students are enrolled in the Graduate School.

Rutgers inaugurated its first unified program of encouragement toward foreign students last February because, Professor Heald explained, "We feel this is one of the best ways of promoting international understanding and peace." He said it also has the practical point-type effect of providing technical assistance to foreign countries.

The University also believes that it has much to gain from the program in the form of cultural exchanges between the American and foreign students. The International Students Club, composed of the foreign students and about an equal number of Americans has helped foster this idea at Rutgers.

Professor Heald? He likes his new job and plans to keep right on playing Santa Claus on a world-wide basis.

Fifty million cubic yards of earth had to be excavated and 3,800 acres of land cleared for construction of the Garden State Parkway.

Wearable Things For Christmas

Dressing up adds much to the gaiety and fun of the holiday season. And it's time to see that every member of the family has something ready for the big event that is practically upon us.

A thoughtful gift for a young member of the family would be a gay addition to his or her wardrobe. Even little boys are wearing gayer colors than ever before. Perhaps the young man in the family would like a gay check or plaid vest to dress up his best suit.

For young daughters, festive fashions in pretty dresses and separates can solve many gift problems.

Miss Florence Gessler, extension clothing specialist at Rutgers University, suggests that clothes for older members of the family might be chosen with a look toward spring.

"For the collectors of separates, there is a whole harvest of new blouse and skirt styles available for those whose social program looms larger than their budgets," Miss Gessler reminds gift buyers. "There is a host of wool skirts and dresses that are tagged washable without danger of shrinkage. This means no cleaning bills.

"Jumpers are also favorites for this season. They can go to parties without blouses—dressed up with jewelry. Later the jumper will serve as a practical costume with a blouse or sweater.

"The dress with jacket can be another practical addition to a wardrobe. The dress can be smartly accessorized for holiday occasions, and later serve as a spring ensemble."

There is nothing more gala nor smarter this year for season parties than a delicate pastel costume, says the New Jersey State University specialist. These soft, delicate colors will add a breath of freshness to the winter scene and serve on into the spring as well.

DuPont Manager Speaks To Rotary

Dr. George R. Seidel, manager of the Eastern district of the DuPont Company's Extension Division of Wilmington, Delaware, today presented a lecture demonstration on "Research and You" to the Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon. His talk was a behind-the-scenes account of several new products illustrative of the role played by scientific developments in strengthening our national economy and elevating the American standard of living.

For several years Dr. Seidel has been very interested in the educational program of the Delaware Section of the American Chemical Society. In this connection he has addressed numerous teachers and college groups in several states.

Dr. Seidel obtained his Ph.D. in physical chemistry from John Hopkins University in 1931. After a career of teaching on the college level, he joined the DuPont organization in 1935. In his 19 years with the latter organization he has worked on plant assistance research, as well as on the design and the search for new chemistry, prior to joining the Extension Division of DuPont.

Ed Cardinal's Nursery Is Real Success Story

ED CARDINAL—The owner of the nursery is a well known figure in Springfield. Last year he was commander of the local VFW Post, this year he is acting chairman of the Township's Shade Tree Commission. He had worked for F & F Nursery for 15 years before he moved across the street in 1934 and founded his own gardening haven.

One of the business phenomena in Springfield today is Cardinal's Nursery out on Milltown Road. The way in which this gardening supply outfit has blossomed in the last few years is indicative of the way all of Springfield has boomed.

According to the owner of the nursery, Ed Cardinal, his business has tripled in size during the last three years. This growth parallels the expansion of the whole town and the reasons for it are illustrative of why Springfield is at its peak of prosperity today.

Ed Cardinal is a hometown product having lived all his life in Springfield. He has learned the way to build up a big business is to mix low prices with the best brands and sprinkle well with good advice.

Ed puts it this way: "The main reason why people come to my place is for the advice they get." What kind of advice is this? Well, Ed Cardinal has three reasons for being well qualified to help people with their gardening problems. He has studied horticulture at Rutgers, he has been operating "test plots" for the Union County agricultural agent and Rutgers, and he has what is all talk by a long shot. The large showroom stocks thousands of gardening items from power mowers to insecticides. The barn is filled with such items as 27 tons of grass seed and 300 tons of fertilizer and lime. The five acre property on Milltown road is a veritable jungle of small evergreens, trees, saplings, and shrubs. There are always on hand several train carloads of peat moss, and tons of hyper-humus. In short, the Nursery has one of the largest stocks of material for the small home owner in the state. All this and a mower repair service too.

In the last year, Ed Cardinal has stepped up his power and hand mower servicing department. He had previously given free service only to those who purchased their mowers from him. Now he is the Briggs and Stratton and Parker Sweeper agent in this part of the country for all authorized service.

Ed Cardinal says a good part of his business comes from far away from Springfield. He lists regular customers in Camden, Lake Hopatcong, Saddle River, and Belmar.

Lawns are a big part of Cardinal's business. He estimates that during the last two years he has seeded over 3,000 new home lawns in this area. Almost all the apartment projects in town get their advice, seed, and equipment from Cardinal's.

The Nursery is located at 272 Milltown road, a convenient place to get to for people who know where Flomer ave. crosses Milltown road at the traffic light. But to make things extra convenient, the Cardinal's Nursery offers orders and free delivery for all their customers.

On the personal side of the ledger, Ed Cardinal lives with his family five houses down the street from the Nursery. Wife Lillian is president this year of the Women's Auxiliary of the Springfield VFW. The two children are Edward, 12, and Donald, 8.

Ed himself spent World War II in the Navy's SeaBees and started his Nursery for the second time in 1946 from scratch.

When he is not working for the Shade Tree Commission or boosting VFW membership (During his year as Commander, membership went up 212%) or working on his rapidly expanding business, Ed has plenty to do as President of the North Jersey Landscaping Association.

BIG SHOWROOM—The thing that surprises people most when they stop by Cardinal's Nursery is the huge display room. There are over 7,000 square feet of floor space in the building Cardinal's uses to display their extensive line of garden supplies. Above, Nancy Swartz of the Springfield SUN looks over one of the 17 popular brands of power mowers in the showroom.

ELMA MCGRIFF—One of the 2 trained assistants on hand to give gardening advice at Cardinal's is shown driving the tractor used in tilling the five acre farm. McGriff is a graduate of Tuskegee Institute, Montgomery, Ala., where he studied agriculture.

Lawn Making Hints

If crabgrass and weeds are abundant, spray the area to be reseeded with a sodium arsenite solution. Weeds and seeds will be dead in a matter of hours and the lawn can be started as soon as the spray dries. This method applies only when soil is to be spaded over or reseeded. Cost about $1.00 per 1,000 square feet.

The subsoil found in the average housing project requires the following materials to simulate fair top soil. Amounts are for each thousand square feet. Fifty lbs. limestone, 100 lbs. Agricultural gypsum (for loosening the clay), 40 lbs. Agrico, Vigoro, 5-10-5, Turfite, or other good fertilizer and 3 to 5 bales peat moss. If the peat moss is a few hundred pounds of dehydrated or natural manure can also be added.

When working on a new lawn, mix all the above material into the soil to a depth of 4 to 6 inches except about 25% of the fertilizer and lime. This should be raked into the top before the final seeding.

It is very important not to seed too heavily, or the grass will die out from lack of air and space. Apply a good grade of seed not heavier than six pounds per thousand square feet. Four or five pounds are sufficient if properly applied. You get what you pay for, so don't think cheap seed is a bargain—it will not last. Use a mixture containing not less than 40% Kentucky Blue Grass with the balance Creeping Red or Chewings Fescue. A small percentage of Perennial Rye Grass or Red Top is permissible for a nurse grass.

Always rake lightly after seeding to cover at least part of the seed. This will prevent drying out and will hasten germination. Light rolling will help firm down the seed. Water lightly every day until seed germinates, then reduce watering to twice weekly, but water for longer periods.

The first cut should be made when grass is 2 1/2 to 3 inches tall. Make certain mower is very sharp and catch the clippings.

September Good Month To Repair Damage To Trees

Springfield residents are urged to "take a good look at their trees" since September is an opportune month to repair summer damage to shade trees and to prepare them for fall storms and hurricanes, according to Carl E. Mellquist, supervisor of the Union County Shade Tree Commission.

He suggested feeding for trees that have been ravaged by insects or heat and drought. Any tree that loses its leaves prematurely or shows other signs of "sickness" will be helped by ground nourishment, Mr. Mellquist pointed out.

Pruning out weak, diseased or dead branches also will aid in the revival. Thinning out the crowns of the trees—floods protection against damage from hurricanes and other windstorms, he added.

The shade tree supervisor advised bracing weak crotches and limbs with cable and other supports before the hurricane blow. Earlier storms this season prompted many homeowners to bulwark their trees already, Mr. Mellquist noted.

The homeowner proud of his evergreens should spray in September against the annual incursions of the red spider among such plants. Nicotine or malathion are recommended.

Evergreens should be sprayed, according to Mr. Mellquist, even though there is no sign of the yellowing and needle loss which indicates the presence of the pest. They may move in from neighboring plants, he pointed out.

Scale and plant lice also burst into damaging activity in September, the supervisor continued. Nicotine and Malathion are effective against this species of parasite, he added.

Fly Fishing Waters Opened

Designated fly-fishing waters in New Jersey were the center of attraction for fishermen when four stretches of public streams opened for fly-fishing exclusively Monday, May 8 and will remain until November 30.

The State Fish and Game Council, Department of Conservation and Economic Development, designated the fly-fishing waters in the Fish and Game code adopted on February 8 last. They include:

1. Big Flat Brook, Sussex County, from the concrete bridge on Route 206 downstream to the end of the Roy Tract, a distance of approximately four miles.
 2. South Branch of the Raritan River, Hunterdon County, the stretch of water known as the "Wet Lockwood Gorge," a distance of approximately two and one-half miles.
 3. Paulinskil River Fly Stretch, approximately one and three-quarter miles of stream beginning at Vail's Bridge on the County road leading from Route 94 to Vail, down stream to a point approximately three-tenths of a mile below Crisman's Bridge on the Route 94-Polkville Road, marked by wire and sign.
 4. Musconetcong River, the stretch starting at the bridge on Schooley's Mountain Road, extending downstream approximately one mile to the entrance of the river into the Cook Chemical Works Pond, opposite Cedar Castle.
- Daily fishing hours on the designated fly-fishing waters will be from sunrise to 9 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. Not more than four trout may be killed daily. Trout in excess of this number may be caught provided they are immediately returned to the water unharmed.
- No-bait or lures of any kind may be used except artificial flies which are expressly limited to dry flies, wet flies, bucktails, nymphs and streamers. Expressly prohibited are metal, plastic or wooden lures, plugs, spinners and spinner flies. Also expressly prohibited are spinning reels or any type of angling whereby the fly is cast directly from the reel.

GM to Assist Driver Training

A plan whereby General Motors will lend financial support to its dealers' program of loaning automobiles to high school driver training classes throughout the nation was announced this week by Harlow H. Curtice, GM president.

The plan, under which a special allowance of $125 will be made to dealers for every new car loaned by them to schools for driver training classes, is designed to help GM dealers meet the growing need for high school driver training cars.

The plan will go into effect immediately, according to the GM president.

"Our dealers already are making a substantial contribution to high school driver training programs in many ways," Mr. Curtice said, "but there is an urgent need for expansion of this work. We believe that our new allowance plan will greatly encourage such expansion and allow General Motors a further opportunity to demonstrate its own interest in supporting this highly constructive traffic safety activity."

Under terms of the plan, any GM dealer who loans a new car to a high school or board of education in his community for student driver instruction throughout the school year will be entitled to the allowance. The allowance will help offset costs incurred in providing special equipment, recondi-

FEATURED AT SAFEWAY

Here's a simple plan for sending your youngsters through college.

It's easy to postpone saving when it's for an expense that's years away. But if you seriously want to give your children the benefits of a college education, you'd better start preparing for it now. And one of the easiest, surest ways to do it is by investing regularly in U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan.

Here's all you have to do. Sign up at the pay office where you work, and tell the people there how much you can afford to put aside each payday. They'll save that amount for you. It will be set aside from your salary before you get your check—before you're tempted to spend it.

That money is invested for you in the world's safest investment—U.S. Savings Bonds. The Bonds are made out in your name and given to you. Then you just hold on to them and let the interest pile up. (See the chart on this page.)

When held to maturity (9 years and 8 months) each Series E Bond pays an average of 3% per year, compounded semiannually. And now, with the automatic extension privilege it will go on paying interest for 10 more years. That means a return of up to $1.80 for each $100 invested.

Start right now on the road to financial security—to important goals like college for the children and retirement for yourself. Think of tomorrow today, and sign up for the convenient Payroll Savings Plan.

Want your interest paid as current income? Invest in 3% Series H.

U.S. Series H Bonds are new current income Bonds in denominations of $500 to $10,000. Redeemable at par after 6 months and on one month's written notice. Mature in 9 years, 8 months and pay an average of 3% per annum if held to maturity. Interest paid semiannually by Treasury check. Series H may be purchased through any bank. Annual limit: $20,000.

Pick Your Own Savings Goal

Save Each Week	And You Will Have
	In 1 Year	In 9 Years and 8 Months	In 19 Years and 8 Months
$2.50	$ 683	$1,424	$3,432
5.00	1,367	2,850	6,872
7.50	2,053	4,277	10,313
12.50	3,422	7,151	17,192

Just a few examples of how a small amount of money, saved regularly through Payroll Savings, pays off big returns.

Chester Morris To Star In Papermill Production

Chester Morris, who stars in the Paper Mill Playhouse production of Herman Wouk's "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial" beginning September 13th, Tuesday evening, was born and raised in New York City. His career began at the age of fifteen when he appeared with Lionel Barrymore in "The Copperhead" at the Shubert Theatre, New York City. He was literally "born in a trunk," his father being a famous Charles Frohman and David Belasco star and his mother a well-known comedienne with the Daniel Frohman Company—William Morris and Etta Hawkin, respectively. After the run of "The Copperhead," and several "Hops" on Broadway, a succession of engagements on the Road followed in notable plays such as "Turn To The Right," and "So This Is London," appearing in the latter piece with the well-known character actor Charles Coburn. After this engagement came two years in Vaudeville where he appeared with his entire family in a comedy sketch called "All the Horrors of Home." After vaudeville's demise, he returned to the "Legitimate" field, and was under the personal management of the late George M. Cohan for four years, appearing in such plays as: "Yellow" and "The Home Towners" in New York City. Then came his biggest hit under the aegis of A. H. Woods, in a hit production, "Crime" at the Times Square Theatre. This play ran for a year and Morris also appeared in it in Chicago and Boston. Hollywood claimed him in 1928. His first picture, made for United Artists, "Alibi" was a smash success and opened new vistas for talking pictures. He was subsequently starred in sixty-eight pictures, and is presently engaged in starring in the very successful series, "Boston Blackie" for Columbia Pictures Corp. He has appeared on many radio programs, and during World War II made over 380 camp appearances. He is an accomplished magician and has invented many tricks now in the repertoire of famous magicians. Became interested in legerdemain at the age of 12 and the hobby has never ceased to fascinate him. He has appeared in all the leading Presentation theatres throughout the United States, combining his magic and personal appearances. Morris was brought East by Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse to star in the National Company of Sidney Kingsley's hit play, "Detective Story" and played the part of the Neurotic "Jim McLeod" for over a year. He has appeared on all the major TV shows as Guest Star, "Robert Montgomery Presents," "Suspense," "Danger," "Omnibus," "The Milton Berle Show," "Paul Winchell," "The Arthur Murray Party," "Kraft," etc. In the Paper Mill Playhouse production of "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial" Chester Morris will play the part of Lt. Com. Phillip Queeg.

Henry Grabarz, president of the Home Builders Association of Metropolitan New Jersey, announced yesterday the official appointment of Axelrad-Lally Advertising, of Newark, to direct public relations for the Association, and also to publish the Association's official monthly magazine, "The Metropolitan N. J. Home Builder."

Herbert L. Axelrad, of Springfield, a partner in the firm said that his firm "created a public relations department early this year to answer an increasing need for service in that field."

Mr. Axelrad feels that "by combining public relations with our advertising services, our firm can now provide its clients with a more efficient and complete service, that operates smoothly because of its centralization."

After a background of several years with a metropolitan newspaper, Mr. Axelrad, with a partner, Harry J. Lally, of Cranford, formed the firm which over a period of years, has grown to become one of New Jersey's leading agencies, recognized by the American Newspaper Publishers' Association and other national advertising groups.

Mr. Axelrad resides, with his wife June and two children, Abbe and Robert, at 24 Archbridge Lane, Springfield, N. J.
