Your Library

In the adult department there are wonderful illustrations showing fires in the old days in such books as "As You Pass By" by K. H. Dunshee, and in the American Heritage Series, "Fires and Fire Fighters" by J. V. Morris. Saturday, the Free Public Library has a display of books on fire engines and fire fighting.

ment, "Five Alarm" by J. J. Floherty also explains equipment with more emphasis on modern methods, including fire boats and forest fires.

Small children love books about fire engines and there are many fine picture books for them including "The Great Big Fire Engine Book" with large colored pictures and Lois Lenski's "Little Fire Engine." "Fire" by Cliff Meredith for young readers is illustrated by photographs taken on the scene of actual fires.

Usually the Free Public Library of Springfield loans to readers the books on exhibit as soon as they ask for them. This time will be an exception. The book will be on exhibit for a week — June 21 to June 28.

Another exhibit of interest to citizens of Springfield was arranged by the curator, Mr. Donald Palmer, in the exhibit case in the main hall. This is made up of old-fashioned carpentering tools.

It is to be hoped that many people will stop in to see these exhibits and the Springfield Library. Just at present, books are crowded waiting for the new wing to be built, but the old house is delightful and in itself is worth a visit.

A full camp program is scheduled such as sports, dramatics, music, arts and crafts, etc. The camp will utilize the swimming facilities of Mt. Keiblic Swimming Club in Morristown three afternoons a week. Boating will take place at Echo Lake Park.

Vacation By Car Needs Planning

It won't be long until vacation cars are on the road and the peak season for travel will be in full swing. If your family will join the parade, it's not too soon to check some details that will help make the trip the best you have ever taken.

Of course, you'll have your car looked over and necessary repairs or adjustments made a week or two in advance. This will get you off to a safe start and will reduce annoying delays en route. Mrs. Doris Anderson, extension home management specialist of Rutgers University, suggests you also check emergency supplies—a good spare tire, tools for changing a tire (including a light and a flare), jacks, and even an extra fan belt. "Be sure flashlight batteries are working," she reminds motorists. "Some supplies in your first aid kit—may need to be replenished. Try to keep them in a handy place, not under mountains of luggage. Identification cards, registration for the car, drivers' licenses and information about insurance policies and agents, to notify just in case need to be where you can locate them easily. Check your supply of keys. Give an extra set to a trustworthy member of the party. And don't forget a key to your own home.

"When packing your car, keep vision unobstructed on all sides. A side mirror is a safety precaution.

"If possible, sandwich all suitcases and boxes on edge, lengthwise, in the luggage compartment. You can slide out one without lifting two or three others.

"Put items in everyday use in an easily reached bag. But reserve all seat and floor space for the passengers. If you are taking more than you can get in, repack, or stow the excess in a lightweight cartop rack, fastened securely."

measures for fighting mildew. "Keep storage spaces as well as things stored in them clean. Soiled clothing, household linens and other cloth articles are much more likely to mildew than clean ones. Keep things well aired and dry. This is the best way to stop mold growth.

"Before putting clothing away for any length of time, be certain it is cleaned, sunned and aired. Also make sure it is dry, then store in a dry area or in a moisture-proof container.

"Be sure that all frequently used household articles and clothing are thoroughly dry before placing them in the hamper or laundry bag. Air the laundry hamper in the sun often.

"When you are ironing, never dampen any more articles than you can iron within your planned working schedule. If you are interrupted, shake out undried clothes and hang up." The New Jersey State University specialist says that if mildew has developed, go after the stain while it is new and fresh, before the growth has a chance to work down and attack the fibers.

I'M MRS. AMERICA

This morning at the market a reporter questioned me:

- Q. You're a home maker and mother?
- A. Yes.
- Q. Do you and your family attend Church?
- A. Every week, unless prevented by illness.
- Q. Surely you don't take the children when they're small?
- A. Oh yes. It's been proved that habits formed during the first five years establish a pattern for life.
- Q. When it's raining or snowing doesn't it often seem best to stay home?
- A. No. Bad weather doesn't usually keep us from doing other things we want to do. Besides, children go to school on rainy days so why not to Church and Bible School?
- Q. Then you feel regular worship is good for a family?
- A. Not only good but necessary. Religious training is the fourth R, and the most vital part of our learning to live.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"Keep Hydrants Clear," Fire Department Warns

Deputy Fire Chief O. W. Mesker is passing along word from the Springfield Fire Department to all citizens of the Township that "it is a violation of the law to place litter baskets, garbage cans and any refuse against the fire hydrants."

"Keep the hydrants clear," said Deputy Chief Mesker. "This is the time of the year when the dry season causes bad fires and it will help our men to have the hydrants ready for quick use. Another hazard for the firemen is the string between the roadway and the lawn grass. Often the fire fighters, in their haste, do not see the string and are tripped."

Care should also be taken at this season of the year, the fire department officials point out, with bon fires. Special permits are needed to kindle any bonfire.

The S. S. Greenbird came stalling into our room this week and we have joy to edit sargoo-yvuu Auvuu usuu. Our favorite part was South America since it is getting cooler down there and hotter up here.
We have been very busy making our own saltboxes which many of us tripped to the Walker, Gordon Dairy Farm in Plainboro. We left school at 9 o'clock and returned in the afternoon. It was interesting to see so many cows being milked by machine. The cows are milked twice a day and each cow is washed thoroughly before each milking. We also saw several calves during our tour through the barn. We then had lunch and played before starting our own book home. We decorated our room last night with all kinds of pictures about our excursion and set up our own farm on our library table.

Grade 3
Mrs. Estelle Kuhn
The children in the third grade have been doing many interesting things. Mrs. Kuhn's class has been studying clowns. They made a bulletin board with windows showing models dressed in many different kinds of materials and styles.
Mrs. Kahn's class has been studying the flag in connection with Flag Day. They have studied the flags originated by John Paul Jones and Benjamin Franklin. David Ronco brought in several pictures of different flags.

Mrs. Lillian Gushin
Miss Joan Carroll
We of Miss Carroll's fourth grade have composed our own book of poems. We have all tried to contribute an original poem which could be entered into everyone's booklet. Such a poem was written by John Benigno called "The Old House."
"There is an old house at the corner of town.
Not a single repairman has ripped it down.
It's been there for years—we call it home.
With its broken-down shutters and rainy white dome.
Danny Matting wrote "Baseball Game."
"Baseball Game," "Tom the Window," Robert Chodas, "Spring," Marvin Segal, "The Wedding Month," Ken Rosegger, "Just," Nancy Staubert, "Playing."
In honor of Flag Day Karl Roitzinger wrote "Our Flag."
I love our flag of red, white and blue
Its forty-eight stars stand out so true.
We'll fight for it where'er it's flown
For the touch of it keeps harm from home.
We of 4 G have had a hobby corner where interesting articles were on tables and questions were asked of each other concerning hobbies. Here are some of them:

OUTDOOR DECOR
The sameness in suburban developments is disappearing. Homeowners are doing a big job of creating individuality. Landscaping and ornamental iron effects have contributed to this new variety.
The mail box, one of the first sights to greet the passerby, lends itself to imaginative treatment. Grace your house with a welcome air; make your mail box the distinctive, personalized key to your home.
The sameness in floor coverings has disappeared, too. Today, we find the market flooded with a wonderful variety of man-made fibers, especially ideal for summer rugs. Patterns and colors are as attractive as they are practical. We would not only like to have you see our line but we would welcome the opportunity of explaining the many advantages of summer rugs now on display at the Carpet Decor, 515 Millburn Avenue, Short Hills. We had a "Pet Day" too:

It was fun petting and watching our friend's pets.

Clean Pots Make Better Coffee
Don't blame your favorite brand-for a poor cup of coffee until you inspect your coffee maker. A bitter, stale taste develops if the oil found in all coffee becomes rancid as it forms a stain. While it doesn't feel greasy, even a slight accumulation can cause trouble.
"Daily washing in hot sudsy water, thorough scalding and drying keep this important utensil clean and free from objectionable flavors," says Mrs. Doris Anderson, extension home management specialist of Rutgers University. "The pump stem in a percolator or the spout of any pot could be the offending surface. Frequent use of a percolator brush will help keep these parts clean."

Finishes Madison School
Sheila Sullivan, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy B. Sullivan, 54 Spring Brook rd., Springfield, was graduated from Bayley Elard High School, Madison, June 19, 1956. She is a member of the National Honor Society and received a certificate of merit for her outstanding art ability. Sheila has been accepted at Indiana University and will attend there in the fall.

State Restocking Trout Streams
In order to provide continuous sport and full creels for fishermen, trout stocking in the colder public streams of New Jersey was resumed this week. Joseph B. McLean, State Commissioner of Conservation and Economic Development, announced today.

According to a report to Commissioner McLean by the State Division of Fish and Game, at least 20,000 trout will be taken from the pools of the Hackettstown Fish Hatchery and transferred to the colder streams or the "colder sections of public streams. The new trout will augment the 553,050 trout liberated in the streams during the spring months and the 7,000 trout released last September, the report stated.
"The total 1956 liberation of trout in New Jersey will reach record proportions when the new distribution program is completed," said Dr. McLean. "The open trout season is of tremendous importance to thousands of licensed fishermen in New Jersey and the State Division of Fish and Game is anxious to provide them with well-stocked streams."

the powders made for removing coffee stains. Quickly washes away rancid oil and restores the new look to glass or metal surfaces. As a solution of the cleaning powder bubbles through, even the hard-to-clean parts are freed of any oily deposits that cause objectionable flavors.
The New Jersey State University specialist adds the reminder that aluminum can be scoured with soap-filled steel wool pads, but this type of cleaning would injure other metal or glass surfaces.

Storage Ideas For Cupboards

Attitudes have a great deal to do with efficiency in housework, claims Mrs. Doris Anderson, extension home management specialist of Rutgers University. She offers storage practices as a good example.

"Where you keep things may depend more on attitude than on reason," she says. "If you ever suspect yourself of being in a rut, take a good look at what you store, how you store it and why."

"Must mixing bowls stay in a nest because they fit and look tidy together? You probably use one bowl more than the rest, so there is no good reason why all of them should come out when only one is needed. Are pots and pans stacked in the same way and in the same place as they have been for years? Did you have a good reason for storing them in that spot originally? While you are looking over those pots and pans you might question the assortment you have collected. Wouldn't you like to get rid of some and have convenient storage for those you need?"

"Reorganization, or change in attitude, may bring to light space you never thought existed in dish-cupboards or in closets. Small articles used together are so much tidier when stored together. You reduce mileage and confusion when you store both equipment and supplies near the place most often used or where they are used first. Energy is saved by putting heavy and often used articles as near shoulder level as possible, usually about 42 inches from the floor."

The New Jersey State University specialist says that if you don't like your work habits, maybe the answer isn't to have new cupboards and more closets, but to change your attitude toward better use of what you now have.

for handicapped patients. The course is intended to solve the problem of a better dentist-patient relationship with those suffering from cerebral palsy and mentally retarded conditions. Dr. Mulhauser who is affiliated with Beth Israel Hospital in Newark for the past twelve years, stated that considerable progress has been made at that institution in handling children afflicted with such illness, and his work at the University of Pennsylvania will bring him up to date on the subject. Dr. Mulhauser is also on the dental staff of Overlook Hospital in Summit. Dr. Mulhauser flew in from Philadelphia Monday night to present the first Elizabeth Gunn award at the Florence M. Gaudineer School graduation exercises. He returned by plane to Philadelphia to continue the course.

Mrs. Ferguson Dies; Lived Here 39 Yrs.

One of Springfield's former well known residents, Mrs. Esther Dulmage Ferguson, died last Sunday, June 17, after a brief illness at Webster Groves, Mo. where she lived for twelve years with her daughter, Mrs. A. J. Pastore. She was the widow of Robert E. Ferguson, former vice president of the First National Bank of Springfield, who died in 1944. In addition to her daughter, Mary, she leaves two sons, Robert A. Ferguson of Allenwood, N. J., and Alex Ferguson of Springfield. There are also five grand children and four great grandchildren and a brother, Howard Dulmage of British Columbia. Mrs. Ferguson was born October 9, 1888, at Clifford, Ont., Canada, and resided in Springfield from 1905 to 1944. She was very active in local affairs and was soloist in the Methodist Church choir here for many years. Mrs. Ferguson was also a member of the Woman's Club of Millburn, the Eastern Star, and the Daughters of the British Empire. In her later years she joined the Church of Christ Scientist. A Christian Science memorial service was held this week in Webster Groves, Mo.

In her early life in Canada Mrs. Ferguson's family, the Dulmages, became homesteaders in the Canadian northwest, travelling from Ontario to Saskatchewan partly by train but mostly by covered wagon. As a young woman she returned East and attended Alma College for Women, graduating in piano and voice.

next Thursday evening, June 28, at Young's Funeral Home, 145 Main Street, Millburn, starting at 8:15 P. M. Rev. Marvin Green of the Methodist Church will conduct the service and friends of Mrs. Ferguson are invited to attend.

Urges Greater

Swimming Safety

Drownings during summer months are a greater hazard to youngsters under 15 years of age than traffic accidents, the New Jersey State Safety Council reports, and voiced an urgent plea for stepped up supervision of youngsters, in that age group, by parents or those entrusted with the supervision of children, to prevent drowning accidents.

During the months of June, July and August last year, according to the council, in a total of 83 drownings, covering all age groups, 33 of the victims were under 15 years of age. During the same period 16 youngsters in the same age group lost their lives in traffic mishaps.

In the state last year 127 lives were lost in drownings—an increase of three above the previous year's toll. Records show, the Council points out, that July was the most dangerous month for drownings with 33 deaths reported and 15 of these were children under 15 years of age. During the entire 12 months of last year 15 of the drownings involved children under five years and eleven of these fatal mishaps took place during June, July and August.

The Council offers the following water safety tips for swimming and bathing: Never swim alone and if you swim any distance in deep water start back before tiring; avoid horseplay on runways, diving boards—in the water, or while in a boat; before wading, swimming or diving in unfamiliar waters, find out the depth of the water and whether there are any hidden rocks, stumps or strong currents; stay out of the water during storms and get out of the water quickly if you feel chilled; wait at least two hours after eating before going swimming, to avoid cramps. If being helped out of the water let the rescuer handle you—the help you may offer is the same to the rescuer as resistance.
