Another Salk Vaccine Shot Set For July 8

Springfield's Board of Health has definitely set Sunday, July 8, as the date for the next Salk vaccine public clinic.

The place will probably be at the Raymond Chisholm school with members of the local medical profession cooperating in administering the shots.

Rev. Rieker Leaves Holy Cross Church

Rev. Eric H. Rieker

The Rev. Eric H. Rieker, spiritual leader of the Springfield Holy Cross Lutheran Church has accepted a call from the Atlantic District of the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod to start a new congregation in Middle Island, Long Island, N. Y. He will begin his new duties on July 1.

A graduate of Concordia Seminary, Springfield, Illinois, Pastor Rieker first came here in July, 1951, when he assumed charge of the mission congregation which was meeting in the Raymond Chisholm School. Since that time the congregation has acquired property and a chapel at 639 Mountain avenue and has grown to a membership of 91 communicants.

Pastor and Mrs. Rieker were guests of honor at a farewell party given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Jacobsen of Mountain side where they were presented with a purse from the congregation.

The Rev. Henry von Sprengelsen of Union, N. J., will provide pastoral services for the congregation during the temporary vacancy.

Short Hills Village Is Sold To New York Group

The 20 acre garden-apartment development known as Short Hills Village located at 302 Short Hills Avenue, Springfield, New Jersey, designed by William G. Chirgottis and built by Nicholas N. Angleton, was involved in a transaction between Short Hill Village, Inc. and Ira Kavanau of New York. George W. Seiler, Realtor of Short Hills, handled the transaction. The property comprises 30 2-story garden type apartment buildings, arranged in suites of 3-4-5 and 6 room simplex apart-

The July 8 public clinic has been arranged in an effort to bring the Springfield anti-polio campaign up to date, according to Mrs. Eleanor H. Worthington, secretary of the local Board of Health. The following program will be carried out:

1. Second Salk vaccine shots will be administered to all those who had their first inoculations in 1955. There are now persons eligible for this second injection.
2. Third Salk vaccine inoculations will be given to those who had their first and second shots in 1956.
3. The Board of Health also wishes to give first Salk vaccine shots to those who have not had any at all. All those eligible—from one through 14 years of age and pregnant women—are instructed to come to the office of the Health Board and make application for inoculations at the July 8 clinic. Parents of children who have not had any vaccine shots are asked to make application immediately so that the name may appear on the list for injection.

The vaccine has been made available and, according to Health Board officials, enough is on hand to take care of the entire local program. Notices will be sent to all eligibles when and where to report.

The starting time is 9 o'clock Sunday, July 8. All available Springfield doctors will participate in the inoculations.

Bids Received For Municipal Building Plan

Sealed bids were received and opened at a special meeting of the Township Committee Tuesday night for the municipal building program but no awards will be made until the engineer and architect have an opportunity to make a study of the figures.

Bids were asked for an addition to the Public Library, a new garage and an enlarged Township Hall. There were no bids submitted for supplying necessary steel for the jobs and, for some unexplained reason, no bid was received for plumbing in the library addition. The threatening steel strike was given as the probable cause for the absence of any bids in this category.

Requests for bids for the steel and the library plumbing is being made.

A complete tabulation of voting and names of winners will be announced in next week's issue of the Springfield Sun.

50 YEARS OF SERVICE. Members of the Springfield Volunteer Fire Department paraded Saturday in honor of their golden anniversary celebration. Fire companies from all parts of New Jersey helped Springfield celebrate this great event with approximately 10,000 persons watching the marchers. Start Work On SUN Offices In A&P Building

Morris Avenue is gradually losing the "For Rent" signs. As a matter of record, only one or two remain and the demand for places to rent is growing.

The vacant store in the Pasch building has been rented and the new owners are already preparing for the opening of their cleaning and dyeing business. The report has it that the Casternovia store will shortly open with a new tenant. The Triple-S Stamp Re-

Ernie Nagel Has Free Sun Caps For All Boys and Girls

Ernie Nagel, proprietor of the market bearing his name at 230 Morris Avenue, is helping Springfield celebrate next week's Fourth of July holiday by handing out sun caps to all boys and girls who come to his place of business over the week end.

"Ernie" is giving these sun caps free to all kids in addition to offering unusual values in meats, poultry, assorted cold cuts and picnic products.

As usual, Ernie has his display windows dressed in the Fourth of July theme.

WHERE'S THE FIRE? Old time equipment and a bike that dates back to 1880 were included in the Springfield 50th anniversary parade on Saturday. Don't let that handle-bar mustache on the youngster riding the old bike fool you. That is "Don" Palmer, Springfield's historian, drum-beater, bell ringer and general public relations expert riding on the high two wheeler. Palmer "stopped the show" along the entire route of the very successful parade. The driver of the old-time wagon (left) is Charles H. Ruby and sitting at his side (right) is his father Charles H. Ruby, once chief of the local department and a fireman here since the department was organized. (Photo Elizabeth Journal)

All-Day Celebration Set For July Fourth Program

Starting off with a 21-aerial salute, the sixth annual Fourth of July celebration will get under way next Wednesday at 8 a. m.

The Fourth of July committee under the leadership of Steve Schmidt Jr., promises a gala all-day-and-night program to interest every member of the family.

The morning feature of the July 4th program is the ever-popular baby parade which is offering prizes in each of five separate divisions.

From 11 in the morning until about two in the afternoon, there will be a list of events ranging from a 25 yard dash for kids under the fourth grade level to a rolling pin throw for the well-practiced housewife. Awards will be made in all the field events.

Aid Squad Installs New Alarm System

Perhaps you've noticed the ambulance belonging to Springfield's First Aid Squad parked each Saturday and Sunday in front of a partially constructed building on North Triquet Ave. The vehicle is not attending an accident case at the scene of construction, as so many have wondered, but rather is "standing by" ready to answer any emergency.

For here, at what will soon be the First Aid Squad's own building, has been installed a special Bell Telephone alarm system so that as soon as the emergency is reported to the police, the alarm sounds and the squad members on duty make a rapid change from "construction workers" to "angels of mercy," drop their hammers and saws, and man their ambulance. Several such calls have been answered since construction of the new dwelling began a few weeks ago.

According to John Baker, President of the Squad and Chairman of the Building Committee, response to the volunteer construction job has been excellent and progress has been very satisfactory. The building is now completely enclosed with roof shingles, brick and wood siding, rough plumbing and electrical work nearly completed.

It is anticipated that the dwelling will be finished far enough to house the ambulance and equipment by mid-July.

Firemen Mark 50th Birthday With Parade

Springfield put on another big show last Saturday when 91 fire companies, coming from all parts of the state, paraded to the music of 31 bands in celebrating the 50th anniversary of the Springfield Volunteer Fire Department.

Police estimated that more than 10,000 persons watched the three-mile parade which started at the Springfield Summit line and dispersed at the Old Evergreen Lodge. It was one of the most colorful parades ever staged in this area and the committee in charge had control of the arrangements every minute.

The police department did a wonderful job of re-routing all traffic away from the line of march and the Springfield First Aid Squad responded to care for a few heat victims.

Members of the Township Committee left the parade to take their seats with parade judges and other guests in the reviewing stand at Tooker and Mountain avenues. Thirty-one bands took part in the three-mile parade that began on Morris Ave. at the Springfield Summit line, and dispersed at the Old Evergreen Lodge.

The department was created by resolution Feb. 3, 1906, and was incorporated 14 days later with 27 members, several leather buckets and a pair of two-wheeled hose carts. It has grown to 50 men and several pieces of modern equipment.

The marchers were led by the Newark Police and Fire Band followed by a group of Springfield volunteers pulling an old two-wheeled hose cart.

Several pieces of old equipment were included in the parade. An 1875 two-handed pumper of the Westfield Fire Department was the oldest.

Bellmar Park, Camden County, was cited for coming the longest distance. Phillipsburg Fire Department, represented by Jersey Hose Co. 28, was given the Charles Pinkava Memorial Trophy as the outstanding marching company. The award was made in honor of the late Springfield fire chief.

Other trophies were won by the following: Most men in unit, Phillipsburg; best appearing ladies auxiliary, Bonton; best appearing company with music, Wharton; best appearing equipment not over five years old, Manville; best five years old, Washington, N. J.; best ambulance, Randolph Township; best brass band, Dover Welders; best drum and bugle corps, Harmony Fire and Drum; best junior fire and drum corps, Keyport; best string band, Denzville; best appearing oldest unit, Westfield and most original, Westfield.

4-Day Sales Event Here Is Biggest Ever!

The General Greene Shopping Center's first birthday sale was a "sensational success—the best ever!"

That was not just the consensus of opinion—but the unanimous report of every merchant in the busy shopping center which celebrated its first birthday last week by staging a four day sale—from Wednesday through Saturday.

"Sales went sky high—beyond our most optimistic dreams," said Robert Davidson, general manager of the J. J. Newberry store. "Wednesday morning when the four day sale first started—brought such an army."

Warn Against Fly-By-Night Contractors

Residents of Springfield are warned to "investigate thoroughly" before signing any contracts for alteration and remodeling work to be done by out of town concerns.

The office of the building inspector and the Chamber of Commerce have received a great many complaints in the past few weeks in which local residents have howled about "quality of work, high pressure and fly-by-night concerns."

"Reputable contractors don't ring door bells," said one of the Township's officials. "There are a great many qualified concerns and the home owner should thoroughly investigate. Know your contractor or find out as much as you can about the work they have done. And don't sign any papers too hastily. Some of these high-pressure boys may have your signed paper in a bank for discount before the work is completed and you will then discover that you had signed to pay so many dollars each week, whether the job is according to your contract or not."

Chamber of Commerce and local officials urge all those who are considering any alteration or home repair to investigate before signing any contracts.

Additional Captains were: Mrs. Helen Alessi, Mrs. M. Merkle, Mrs. L. Roland, Mrs. M. Schroeder.

The booths set up at Channel Lumber and Davega were staffed by Mrs. W. Yuchman, Mrs. E. Wemischer, Mrs. S. Seroff, Mrs. R. Jackson, Mrs. A. White, Mrs. R. Weissman, Mrs. H. Oakman, Mrs. V. Brink, Mrs. J. Bender, and Mrs. P. Lewis. The committee wishes to thank the management of both stores for their cooperation.

Denmans Celebrate 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Denman of 75 Bryant Ave. celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on June 27th. In honor of the occasion, they were given a surprise party on Saturday, June 23rd at their home with about 25 guests from Springfield, Millburn, Scotch Plains, Plainfield, Scotch Plains, Plainfield, Scotch Plains, Plainfield.

The Denmans, who are widely known in Springfield, have lived here for the past 20 years. Before they were residents of Springfield, they have one son, Ronald. Mr. Denman has been employed as a letter carrier for the Springfield Post Office for 17 years.

Terry Dempsey and Tydol Make-Up; Work Begins

Terry Dempsey, owner of the Springfield restaurant bearing his name, and the Tidewater Associated Oil Company, his next door neighbor, have "kissed and made up."

Dempsey obtained a court order halting the construction of an enlarged Tydol gas station at the junction of Morris Avenue and Morris Turnpike. He maintained, and his attorney, Peter C. Triolo of Summit, apparently convinced Judge Richard J. Hughes that the expansion plan did not altogether conform to the new Springfield zoning ordinance.

A court order was issued stopping the work and all the parties then appeared, before Judge Hughes. After the hearing a court order was issued stipulating that the new building on that narrow strip of land be constructed "5 1/2 feet from the rear of Dempsey's property and the lubricatorium, at least 2 feet from the rear line of the adjoining property."

Construction work on the expansion of the gas station is going ahead but there was another delay when, inspection of the work early this week, resulted in the discovery that the "lines were not in accord with the court orders," according to Dempsey.

"I don't want to hinder their job," said Dempsey, "but I'm certainly going to insist that the orders of the court be carried out. There was an agreement reached at the hearing and the construction engineers know exactly how close to my property they are to build. An error was discovered and the engineer cooperated and immediately pushed back the line to comply with the court order."

The Tydol station has been at this congested corner for a great many years and according to traffic officials it is responsible for snarling traffic and causing jams at that intersection because of the narrowness of the station.

Adult School Sets Sessions In Clark

The Regional Board of Education announced that beginning in September the Adult School of Clark would use the facilities of the new Arthur L. Johnson High School in Clark for presenting their future programs. Representatives of the Board of Education and the Adult School Board of Trustees are working together to contact interested parties from the other communities in the Regional District to serve on the Board of Trustees. Mr. H. Bannfield of Mountainside was recently elected Vice-Chairman of the Adult School Board of Trustees.

The Adult School was originally formed in Clark as a result of requests received from the various civic associations for an adult education program. The school has been functioning since the fall of 1953 using the facilities of the Charles H. I. Brewer School in Clark; but with the transfer to the Arthur L. Johnson High School, a wider program is anticipated. The fall program includes such new courses as Business Letter Writing, Cooking Can Be Fun, Metal Handicrafts and a discussion group on World Politics. The latter course is promoted by the American Foundation for Political Education and should appeal to individuals interested in discussing the problems confronting the world today.

Further information concerning the fall program will be released in the next few months. Detailed advertising schedules have been prepared that will cover all the communities of the Regional District.

WHAT THE BIBLE TEACHES ABOUT GOD

God is a personality. This does not say that God has a human form, but that God is a Person. Personality has been explained thus: "Personality exists where there is intelligence, mind, will, reason, individuality, self-consciousness, and self-determination." God is much more to us than some impersonal influence for good. True religion is the communion between God and man. Many people have the erroneous idea that God is some influence or power who has no time or is uninterested in the individual. This is not true. Since man is personality and God is personality there is the possibility of communication.

The question might be asked, if God is not a visible being how can I know His existence? The Psalmist said: "The heavens declare the glory of God." When one gazes into the starry heavens at night one sees the handiwork of God. As one beholds the world of nature in the flowers, animals, mountains, rivers, oceans, etc. these are again a few of the evidences of God's creation. Science, by disclosing to us the marvelous power and accuracy of natural law, compels us to believe in an infinite intelligent being.

The Scriptures from beginning to end show how God sought to reveal Himself to man. When God created man He made man to have fellowship with Himself. This fellowship has been broken by man's sin and disobedience. God in His mercy has provided a remedy for sin. "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." John 3:16. Through Christ fellowship is restored between God and man. The Christian has the privilege of communication with God through prayer and the Word of God.

REFUGE and STRENGTH

Into the House of God they have come for spiritual strength and comfort. The care or sorrow or need which brought them here is not important. It is important that the experiences of a lifetime have taught them that God is their refuge and their strength.

The beauty of faith shines in their faces, and from this devout worship they will go forth stronger in spirit. But faith is not the exclusive possession of age. From childhood to the grave, man may find hope and comfort and peace in God. For faith banishes fear, overcomes difficulties and imparts new life.

In these troubled days, men need religion more than ever before. In the presence of vast powers hitherto unknown, we may feel frustrated and helpless. Human problems lie heavy upon our spirits. But God is a Rock of Refuge and Pillar of Strength to those who trust Him. Come to the House of the Lord.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

F. T. & T. Man Gets Certificate Award

Ernest Costogno, 54 South Maple Avenue, an engineer at Federal Telephone and Radio Company, Clifton, a division of International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation, was awarded a certificate last night at a ceremony marking the completion of a 12-week course of special study in the field of Industrial Management, sponsored by the Executive Development Department of Federal.

The program was carried out with the cooperation of Rutgers University which assisted in designing a program for Federal's particular needs. Today's highly competitive markets require that the executives have an exceptionally well rounded background in both administration and technology and these courses, conducted by Professor Robert Cambreleng, chairman of the Department of Personnel and Production at Rutgers University, afford the engineer further development and study in such areas as modern business organization, types of organization structures, modern management methods, problem solving, formulation of policies, production control, quality control, material handling and other attendant subjects. Comparatively speaking, the subject matter is similar to the groundwork of a Master's Degree in Industrial Management.

Diphtheria has been virtually eliminated as a cause of death in the United States.

CATHOLIC INFORMATION

MIRACLES—WHY NOT NOW?

The Gospel tells us of Christ's miracles. The evidence is overwhelming. Why did He perform them? To prove to a doubting world that He was God.

After His Ascension, we read in the Acts that Christ gave the Apostles the power to perform miracles in His Name. Why did He do that? To certify to a doubting world that these men were also God-directed in their teachings.

The Catholic believes that God still performs miracles—at times, through the intercession of His Saints, just as He did when Peter and James and John walked the earth, and there is evidence of this, all-conclusive to him who would examine.

At Lourdes in France, at Carlin in Scotland, at Beauraup in Canada, at Fatima in Portugal, and at many other Catholic shrines throughout the world, God, through the intercession of His Blessed Mother and His saints, is yearly curing hundreds of humanly incurable cases, right before the eyes of throngs of people, including scientists from all parts of the world. These scientists, irrespective of their faith or lack of it, are invited to sit in and thoroughly examine every case before and after, and to offer any reason for the cures other than the supernatural that they possibly can.

Many people eaten away with cancer, tuberculosis or some other organic disease, declared incurable by science, leave Lourdes whole of body and enlightened in spirit. Many well folks who have gone to scoff have remained to pray. The evidence is there. It is indisputable to him who has eyes to see and who uses them with an open mind.

The Catholic believes—and we think with reason—that God performs miracles to prove His existence—that He performs them at Catholic shrines to signify the Church which He Himself built—that in the case of Lourdes, He also puts His seal of approval on the dogma of the Immaculate Conception, defined by the Church in 1854; for only four years later His own Blessed Mother, appearing to the child, Bernadette—so beautifully described by the non-Catholic, Franz Werfel—proclaimed "I am the Immaculate Conception!"

There were 8 Brownie and 9 Intermediate Troops this past year, and beginning in September there will be 2 new troops at James Caldwell, 3 at St. James, 2 at Raymond Chisholm and 2 at Edward V. The offices are expected to be ready for occupancy by the middle of August, according to Grabarz.

Jewish Group to Adopt New Name

The Jewish Community Group of Springfield, which has been in existence six years, adopted a new name at a membership meeting held last Monday at the Center, Ballourol Way. Following the general custom of giving synagogues Hebrew titles, the organization chose the name TEMPLE BETH AHM, which means in translation "Community House". The Temple plans to continue to carry on a board program of social and recreational activities as well as those of a religious and educational character. With the adoption of the new name, Temple Beth Ahm becomes the first formally designated synagogue in Springfield.

Milton Kappstatter is president of the Temple organization, whose membership is approaching the 200 family mark. Its spiritual leader is Rabbi Reuben R. Levine, and Irving Kramerman is its Cantor.

Chrysanthemum plants require attention during the summer if good bloom is expected in the fall. Feeding, mulching, watering, spraying, pinching and disbudding are among their requirements. The plants need to be kept in good growing condition from early spring until they are in full bloom in the fall.

To keep "mums" from growing too tall, pinching out the terminal growth should start in early spring, when growth has reached a length of four or five inches. Then, the lateral branches that develop as a result of pinching the central stem need their tips pinched out too when they are four to five inches long. That method of pruning is continued up until the first week of July. Any pinching done after that time may cause loss of flower buds or at least buds which will not have time to bloom.

Feeding the plants during the summer, every four or five weeks, until color can first be seen in the flower buds helps in the development of quality bloom. A liquid plant-food solution can be made by mixing a complete fertilizer, such as 5-10-5, or a special soluble fertilizer, at the rate of two to four ounces per each gallon of water. Stir well before using and keep the solution away from the plants, as it will injure plant tissues.

Frequent inspection of the plants once a week is advisable in the prevention of disease and insect infestation. When insects are first seen or any damage is evident, start spraying with both an insecticide and fungicide. Plant lice, leafhoppers and spider mites and sometimes mildew appear on mums.

Unless chrysanthemums have an adequate supply of moisture in the soil during the growing season, the stems are likely to get woody, which in turn may decrease the number of shoots and flower buds. If the stems are too woody at bloom time, the size of bloom will also be decreased.

Some gardeners prefer to have fewer flowers but larger blooms on their plants. To get that result, they resort to disbudding, as soon as the buds start appearing in mid-summer. Buds located on the lower part of the plant are first removed carefully with the fingers. Disbudding them continues on up the plant until only the top or terminal buds are allowed to remain to produce flowers. It is a matter of choice between a profusion of bloom or larger and fewer specimens. In between the two extremes, one could leave only the terminal buds on the side shoots as well as those on the top of the central stem.

Mulching helps hold moisture and keeps the soil cooler. If one has had trouble with leaf nematode, mulching should start as soon as the plants are set out in the spring. That is to avoid rains splashing the tiny nematodes from the soil to the leaves. Nematodes cause leaves to get V-shaped blotchy areas on them, starting with the older leaves.

Your Library

The readers of the Springfield Free Public Library always have been interested in mystery stories. During the years the library has accumulated a fine collection which is now almost twice as large as the space to display it. For some months, part of the mystery books have been in storage in the basement. With the coming of vacations, it was decided to bring these out and to store some recently displayed. Here is a chance for every mystery fan to welcome back old favorites or to look for titles they may have missed when new.

Although mystery stories are not the most highly recommended type of reading for the young reader, they can supply good clean fun for youngsters on a hot day. So, the Juvenile Department has its "mysteries" also.

For the "fourth graders", those by Helen Fuller Orton are good introductions to reading for fun; while the "Mystery of Old Quebec" includes some information about the city with the story. "Mystery at the Doll Hospital" by Elizabeth Honness is a fanciful story as well as a mystery, and a very amusing one is "Detectives in Togas" by Henry Winterfeld, laid in ancient Rome. There are other types of reading popular in summer. The many biographies of baseball players such as "Pee Wee Reese" and "Willie Mays", and baseball books such as "Baseball" for Young Champions" are popular with older boys. Romantic stories of both past time and present day appeal to girls and women. Many of the men enjoy relaxing with a good "Western". Peter Field's "Ender Valley Renegade" is the latest addition. While the small boys still enjoy reading about Indians and cowboys. In all of these ways the Springfield Library is feeling the force of summer vacations. Furthermore, readers are beginning to borrow books to take with them. (Each person may take ten, if he does not choose recent best-sellers.) The boys and girls are taking a tremendous interest in the Reading Club. Over three hundred have joined and many have already pasted states on their maps. Peacocks were pampered pets at the court of Alexander the Great.

Overlook Hospital Reports Finances

Springfield contributors to Overlook Hospital received this week a letter from the hospital's President, F. Bruce Gerhard, bringing them up-to-date regarding Overlook's finances and plans for the immediate future.

"The truth is," said Mr. Gerhard, "that Overlook faces major capital problems. It is probable that we must spend at least $1,500,000 within the next two years. We are 50 beds short now. We have had to put beds in the solarium on each floor. We desperately need new kitchen facilities and any increase in beds cannot be accomplished without such facilities. We are already hard pressed for parking space. Demand is pressing us in many ways.

"The good news from Overlook is that, on current operations, we are breaking even or better consistently - largely, of course, because the hospital is running very full. As a result there is no drain on our capital. That means we have been able to adopt sound financial policies - for example, depreciating our facilities, and building up reserves. We have been able to keep up with repairs and capital improvements.

"The $1,500,000 or more which we must raise very soon will come, we hope from a number of sources. Chief among them, of course, is our Annual Giving Program. Next fall, in November, we will again approach the generous friends of Overlook. There is a good reason to hope that we can expect at least $200,000 a year from this source. Individuals, corporations and business interests have widely accepted a basic responsibility to support Overlook in this way."

The Overlook President said that the hospital had been able to build up a capital reserve of $102,000 and that assurance had been received from banks and insurance companies that the hospital's mortgage could be substantially increased.

Reporting that detailed plans for expansion would be ready in the fall, the President summed up the situation with these words: "Overlook has financial problems - big ones - but with the continued support of its friends it can look to the future with confidence."

Girl Scouts Win Coveted Awards

Twelve scouts of Troop 13, Mrs. Joseph Zidonik, leader, received "Curved Bar," the highest award in Girl Scouting, during an impressive ceremony at the Gaudin School on June 21. Those who earned this honor were: Nancy Bishop, Joan Doering, Dorothy Fuhrer, Elaine Giannattasio, Barbara Havala, Gail Ledig, Marilyn Miller, Barbara Neigel, Ellen Reinhardt, Karen Shields, Patricia Zalko, and Irene Zidonik. Mrs. William Degenhardt, Council vice-president and chairman of the program added a light note to the happy occasion by reading a prediction for the future as each girl was being "pinned" by Mrs. Thomas Doherty, president of the Council. First Class scouts Maureen-Neal, Barbara Rau, Diane Reichle and Karen Buckley of Troop 12 formed the color guard for the Flag Ceremony which opened the program. A cake, beautifully and appropriately decorated for the occasion was served with punch after the ceremony. It is gratifying to find that there has been an increased interest this year, among fourth year scouts to obtain Curved Bar Rank, and it is hoped it will continue to grow.

Cake Cottage's Operation Draws National Attention

When Ted Spector opened the Cake Cottage in Springfield's General Greene Shopping Center last year he hadn't the slightest notion that his first anniversary (celebrated last week) would see him heralded as an expert in the baking arts and finances. At the time he was experiencing all the discomforts of building a business, which many less optimistic associates had predicted as impossible in the first place. Time has endowed the Cake Cottage with success and no small portion of national and local attention. As proof, Ted's busy daily baking schedule is very likely to be interrupted by a lowa Cadillac bedecked baking executive who just happened to see a feature in December's Baking Industry, the bible of people in the trade. The article deals with the "Cake Cottage's battle for public confidence," and overcoming the disadvantage of being the "stranger" in that new fangled shopping center. Ted Spector usually dusts the flour off his hands and very patiently talks shop, answering his colleagues questions and suggesting ways of making his venture a success. Not all of Ted's visitors are of the professional calibre. Only last Friday the senior class at Edison Vocational High School in Elizabeth inspected the Cake Cottage premises. They were led on a

Good Breakfasts Are Essential

The day begins with breakfast, so begin it right! Survey after survey shows that many of us fail to have good breakfasts, says Mrs. Irene H. Wolgamot, extension foods and nutrition specialist of Rutgers University, who suggests starting spring right by forming the good breakfast habit now. A recent study in one of the states showed that one-third to one-half of all the school children had inadequate breakfasts. Lack of a good breakfast made them irritable, inattentive and unable to concentrate. In New Jersey, a survey of industrial men workers made by scientists in the College of Agriculture, Rutgers University, showed that the men became hungry during the morning because of poor breakfasts. They relieved their hunger with high-caloric snacks, with the result that 44 per cent of them were overweight. "Many homemakers are guilty of this same practice—an inadequate breakfast and then snacks during the morning," Mrs. Wolgamot says. "The result is often

Lemon Flavor Peps up Meals

Yellow is a spring and summer color and lemons are both colorful and delicious. They are also rich in vitamin C and important to good health. Mrs. Irene H. Wolgamot, extension foods and nutrition specialist reminds homemakers:

"The juice of one lemon provides more than half the recommended daily allowance of this vitamin," Mrs. Wolgamot reports. "We need vitamin C every day as it cannot be stored in the body. In addition, lemons contain the newly discovered 'citrus bioflavonoids,' important for the strength of the tiny blood vessels called capillaries. These materials work with vitamin C to help us recover from infections and injuries."

"We can hardly get along in the kitchen without lemons. They have so many uses. We need them with tea, with fish, with greens. They accent the flavor of many foods and serve as a colorful garnish. Try some lemon juice in soups, hot or cold; over steaks or ships, on asparagus or spinach and in bean or meat sauce."

A quick-and-easy lemon pie is made with gelatin and whipped cream. She offers this recipe: Quick-and-Easy Lemon Pie—1 9-inch pie shell, baked; 4 egg yolks; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 2 teaspoons grated lemon peel; 1/2 cup fresh lemon juice; 1/2 cup sugar; 1 tablespoon plain gelatin; 1/4 cup cold water; 4-egg whites; 1/2 cup sugar; 1/2 cup whipping cream; Coconut.

Beat egg yolks slightly, add salt, lemon peel, lemon juice and 1/2 cup sugar. Cook over hot water until thick (about 5 minutes). Remove from heat. Add gelatin soaked in 1/4 cup cold water. Stir until dissolved. Cool. Beat egg whites until stiff and add 1/2 cup sugar gradually; beat 1 minute longer. Fold into cooked mixture. Whip cream and fold in. Fill highly into cooked, cooled 9-inch pie shell. Sprinkle with coconut.

the same as with these men—too many pounds! We should get one-fourth to one-third of our daily nourishment at breakfast. Proper spacing of meals is important to good health and normal appetite. It's a long time from dinner to breakfast—usually about 12 hours. We need to replenish our bodies to start the day right. "Coffee and doughnuts are not enough. You need a good serving of fruit, particularly vitamin C fruit, such as orange, grapefruit or tomato juice. You also need whole grain or enriched bread or cereal or both, and some protein food—milk, eggs or ham. You can change this general pattern for variety."

Not enough time for breakfast? The New Jersey State University specialist suggests you do some preparation ahead, such as setting the table and having needed equipment and food at hand. You can make breakfast a family affair, with some of the jobs shared by family members. And last—sometimes the hardest but most effective change of habit—is to get up a bit earlier and have time to eat a good breakfast and enjoy it.

HELP IS NEEDED
There are more than 20,000,000 physically disabled persons in the United States. Each year that list is being expanded by another 250,000. The real tragedy of the situation is that only 60,000 are rehabilitated during that same period. This is why the Sister Kenny Foundation is appealing for help in its drive held annually.

4-Day Sales

(Continued from page 1) of shoppers to our door that we were out of several items before mid afternoon. It was fantastic and total sales exceeded every target we set. New faces came to our store during this four day sales event and we know new records were set by our store for any one day—and certainly for a four day sale.

The same report was given by all the other business places in the shopping center and a great deal of it even spilled over into Morris avenue where the merchants found a definite increase in business.

The National Shoe Store management reported that total business for the four day sale broke every record and the opening day, Wednesday, was the best the store has ever had.

—Ted Spector, owner of the Cake Cottage, said business is not usually good at this season of the year but "we had the biggest sales we have had, higher than—even the best time of the year for bakeries."

Park-Drugs, Mae-Moon-Stores and Milton Liquors all agreed that the "response to the four day sale was terrific" and plans are already being made for another such cooperative sales event. Grand Union had to call for more sales help to take care of the increased business and the G. L. Deitersen people were very enthusiastic because of the new faces and added business as the result of the sales event.

More La Rue, always a busy place for laundry and cleaning service, joined the others in announcing that it was the biggest four days the shopping center branch ever had and "even Saturday, in spite of the parade, was one of the biggest days we ever had."

Even the China Sky Restaurant reported a fine increase in business—with Saturday the high mark despite the counter attraction of the parade.

The sale was conducted on a cooperative basis with every store in the General Greene Shopping Center participating. Advertising was aimed at bringing in shoppers from the entire area and all the stores fixed prices on certain items to attract the many customers.

All-Day Celebration

To this end, the committee was incorporated in 1950 as a non-profit organization. The object—as set forth in the constitution—is limited to providing an annual public commemoration of Independence Day in Springfield. It further explains: "The object shall be furthered by the individual members and by the organization as a whole to afford all residents an equal opportunity to participate in and enjoy the Independence Day activities."

Since that time, the following public-spirited people have directed the activities of the committee as general chairman: 1950, Harry Monroe; 1951, Joseph L. Focht; 1952-53, Edmund Hoffer; 1954, Vincent Bonadies; 1955, Herbert Day; and 1956, Steve Schmidt Jr. Much credit is deserved by these men and their hard working committees.

The full list of officers and committee chairmen follow: Steve Schmidt, Jr., President; Leslie Lawn, Vice-President; Theodore Schuss, Treasurer; Mrs. Lee L. Andrews, Jr., Secretary; David Roe, Grounds; Anna Schaffertoth, Babe Parade; Herman Wolfman, Entertainment; Frank Harlowe, Fireworks; Alford Meslar, Athlete; Max Sherman, Legal Advisor; Louis Pignolet, Publicity

Perhaps the greatest single task facing the committee each year is the raising of funds. An attempt is being made this year to obtain donations by mail. The committee feels the program is Springfield's biggest entertainment bargain. The committee requests a minimum family donation of one dollar for the all day activities, and that each member of the family wears a tag on the Fourth.
