THIS WEEK

The report that the "State Highway Department Traffic experts" may install a light at the corner of Henshaw and Mountain Avenues but with such restriction as "no left turn out of Henshaw Avenue," hasn't struck residents in that area as being very funny.

"If there is to be no left turn," said one resident, "then why the traffic light at all—why spend the money? Turning to the right is no problem at all and we don't need the traffic experts for that."

Another restriction which is bound to bring howls will be the enforcement of the law that there is to be no parking within 500 feet of the traffic light. It may even be 1,000 feet on Mountain Avenue.

While the experts are at it—parking too close to a busy traffic light is dangerous no matter where it is and there are several places in Springfield where enforcement of that rule would help avoid some of the traffic jams.

Just when we were beginning to gloat that "Springfield had only one 'for rent' sign," one of the Township's Morris Avenue stores decided to "close the store." Schaeffer's, a delicatessen and general grocery which has been conducted by nice people—and a very fine job they did while they were open—couldn't stand the impact of the big fellows. They decided last week to close and now there are two vacant stores on Morris Avenue—but that won't be for long.

The Saks Fifth Avenue project should get into motion very shortly. Soundings and test borings were made this week on the Anderson property which is always a sign that things will begin to move very soon toward actual ground breaking.

The report is that certain legal loose ends are still to be picked up but that everything is set and Building Inspector Wilbert J. Binder looks for the Saks people to be in very shortly for the necessary papers to proceed with the construction of Springfield's new and most lush retail establishment.

We still don't believe there is any sign of juvenile delinquency in Springfield but there have been some incidents that need close attention by parents. Too many youngsters are permitted to roam the streets "to all hours of the night and those who scout about town in souped-up cars should be tackled by the police."

Later one night, last week a car filled with youngsters kept the neighbors awake in the vicinity of Henshaw and Hawthorn by speeding around these two streets with the back fire of the motor giving some of the residents the idea that shots were being fired.

As a matter of fact, one resident telephoned the police that "cowboys in a car filled with kids, were driving up and down the street, shooting out the lights." A police car was sent to the area but the youngsters insisted it was only the back fire and they didn't know how to stop it. The police found one good way to stop it—they sent the youngsters home.

HOW THE NEW TOWN HALL WILL LOOK—Architect William G. Chirgott's sketch showing the addition to the Springfield Municipal Building, bids for which were received at last night's special meeting of the Township Committee. The new entrance will face a beautifully landscaped mall running to Flemer Avenue. Center Street, in front of the present Town Hall, will be vacated and there will be angle parking in North and South Trivett streets. This is part of a Municipal construction program which includes additions to the Public Library, the Town Hall and a municipal garage which is to cost $385,000.

Construction To Start Soon On New Town Hall Addition

TO NOMINATE A PRESIDENT. Mrs. Amy Bandomer who will go to San Francisco as a member of Union-County's representatives to the Republican National Convention this month, met with other members for final instructions at the Princeton Inn Tuesday evening. State GOP Chairman Samuel L. Bodine conducted the meeting which was attended by U.S. Senator Clifford P. Case, delegate at large; Mrs. Helen M. Glaeser, vice chairman of the state committee and alternate delegate at large; Sixth District delegates County Chairman Francis V. Lowden of Hillside, Frank Scott, Jr., of Elizabeth, Mrs. Mary S. Reiss of Elizabeth and Mrs. Bandomer. Several of the Union County delegates plan a train trip through the West, arriving in San Francisco a few days before the opening of the convention on August 20.

Bids were received at a special meeting of the Township Committee last night for the $385,000. construction program which will give Springfield an up to date Municipal building, an addition to the Public Library and a Municipal Garage. William G. Chirgott is the architect for the entire program.

Actual work is expected to start shortly with the Municipal Garage probably as the first order of business since the need for expansion is urgent in that particular service. It is also possible that the Library work will start ahead of the Town Hall but the hope is to get the entire program rolling.

The expansion program is the result of a careful study made by a committee of residents appointed to survey the needs. Meetings were held and heads of various municipal departments were invited to tell the committee how much additional space was needed for the various municipal services.

The addition to the municipal building will almost double the available space. The work planned for the municipal garage and the library also will double the capacity of those structures. The town hall exterior will take on a colonial appearance, with a small portico, columns and cupola. Construction will be of red brick.

The wing will be added to the south side of the building facing the mall. This will convert the present rectangular structure into a T-shaped unit with the main entrance in the new section on Mountain Ave., as it is now. Center st., which now cuts the mall in two, will be vacated, and the mall will run uninterrupted for 200 feet from the building to Flemer Ave. Curbs

A center staircase will lead to a Township Committee chamber almost four times the size of the present one. Officers of the tax collector, plumbing inspector, township engineer and building inspector, and a meeting room for the planning board and the board of adjustment will be located on the second floor in the front of the building. Part of the second floor will be used as a dormitory for the fire department, the chief's office and a department meeting room.

The township clerk, tax assessor and the building inspector will have fireproof vaults, and provision will be made for the future installation of air-conditioning.

Because of the recent steel strike, bids had been received which did not include the necessary steel for the jobs. Invitation to bid was readvertised and received at last night's meeting. Just when the actual work will start is not known but the township officials promise that it will be very soon.

First Aid Squads Assist Each Other

An auto accident on Route 22, near Summit Road, in Mountain-side recently resulted in 2 serious injuries, both were spine injuries—extremely dangerous and difficult to transport. The Mountain-side Squad had placed both victims into their ambulance and started up Summit Road toward Overlook Hospital, when the ambulance suddenly developed motor trouble and broke down.

The distress call went out and in a matter of seconds, Springfield Police had dispatched this town's Squad out to the scene where the patients were transferred carefully into Springfield's ambulance and then continued on to the hospital for treatment.

This is just one example of how a possible tragedy was averted because of the reciprocal coverage plan inaugurated by the New Jersey First Aid Council, of which the Springfield First Aid Squad is a participating member.

Citizens of Springfield can feel secure in the knowledge that a constant 24-hour emergency service is available even though their own ambulance may be in service at the time. The inter-coverage plan allows for a neighboring town to answer any emergency in Springfield while Springfield's Squad is on another call.

Springfield's First Aid Squad reciprocates of course, by standing by on the same basis for its neighbors. This "helping hand" arrangement has proved its worth many times in the past.

Local Retailers Expand During Summer Months

The months of July and August are traditionally slow months in the retailing, but Springfield merchants, taking inventory after a very successful Spring and Summer Season, highlighted by an Anniversary Sale in General Green Shopping Center, a "Miss Springfield" contest, and a Dollar Days promotion, are busy laying the groundwork for expanded business in the fall.

What stands out is the physical expansion and improvement going on at many established stores, and the rental of hitherto unused premises.

Tom and Russel Lyons, of Russel's Mens Shop, 261 Morris Ave., found that more people entered their establishment through the rear door than through the front.

The reason was the excellent free off-street parking facilities which they provided in back, so that customers to stores in their building could shop in leisure. They felt that the solid brick facade could be improved to make their parking lot entrance more attractive and inviting. The display-type window, featuring some of Russel's products is the result. Finished in the colonial manner, it is expected to be a ready means of identification.

Kay's Stationery, 279 Morris Avenue, has made some extensive changes in their interior layout, which will make all the "kids from 1 to 99" very happy.

Until recently Lou Kravitz, the proprietor, would don racing shoes early in the morning, and start the daily marathon between the magazine section, soda fountain

Neighbors Object To Pansy Scents

G. Norman Becker, proprietor of pansy farm at 425 Mountain Avenue, may have to mix his fertilizer with "Air-Wick" or some other active deodorant. If he doesn't do something about making the air near the pansy farm less offensive during fertilizer time, the neighbors are going to chase the law at him again.

Mr. Becker has been experimenting with various types of fertilizers but the neighbors insist he doesn't give any of them a personal nose test before he starts spreading it on his loving pansy plants.

The neighbors have complained because of the "obnoxious odors" and, on a day when the wind is in the right direction, residents who are not actually neighbors reach for a bottle of Stoptet.

Mr. Becker has asked the Springfield Board of Health for a little more patience because he believes he has discovered a fertilizer that will grow the pansies and still not be too obnoxious to the neighbors. Health Board officials are willing to go along with him on condition there are no further complaints from the neighbors.

"No Left Turn" From Henshaw May Rule At Traffic Light

Variance For Super-Market Up On Aug. 23

One of the important matters to be considered by members of the Board of Adjustment at their next regular meeting to be held August 23 is the application for a variance on the property bounded by Mountain Avenue, Shunpike Road and South Springfield Avenue.

The report has it that this property, now zoned for residential, is to be used for a Food Fair super-market and the variance requests a change in the zoning to permit the construction of such a place of business.

Objections have already been heard and considerable opposition to granting such a variance is expected when the matter comes up for a public hearing. The school authorities are expected to offer their objections since such a shopping center in this congested part of the Township would create traffic hazards and add to the danger to the children attending the schools in the immediate area.

The agitation for a traffic light at the corner of Henshaw and Mountain Avenue has brought quick action by the Township Committee—but it may not be what the residents of that area expect.

Because, at this moment, there is a very good chance that the safety traffic experts of the New Jersey Highway Department will recommend a "NO LEFT TURN."

Springfield's officials aren't very happy about it and the State traffic experts can expect a real scrap when the time comes for the Township to agree to pay its share of the installation.

According to the information, four plans are being considered when the light is installed at this very dangerous intersection. But the "No left turn" out of Henshaw Avenue is said to be the most likely one to be recommended by the traffic experts.

This would mean that most residents in the Henshaw, Hawthorn Avenue area would probably find some method of by-passing the light altogether by going through the Warwick Circle, to Shunpike Road.

How the traffic out of Henshaw Avenue—IF THERE IS NO LEFT HAND TURN—would be able to get into the shopping center, the traffic experts are not "experting" very well.

If "no left turn" is accepted at that intersection, a resident of Henshaw Avenue pointed out, then there is no need to spend the $25,000, or more, it would cost to install such a light.

"The whole trouble at the corner of Henshaw Avenue and Mountain," said this resident, "is that we cannot turn left into Mountain Avenue at certain times of the day. If they prohibit left hand turns, then obeying that order would mean there would be no need for a traffic light."

The matter of a traffic light at this intersection is now in the hands of the Union County Board of Freeholders. This, according to the new red tape, is "going through channels." The State

Bids Awarded On Town Hall Expansion

Bids were awarded for the expansion and alteration of the Town Hall garage and Springfield Public Library at a special meeting of the Township Committee held last evening.

The Delaware Valley Engineering and Construction Company was the successful bidder for the general construction of the municipal building, submitting a low bid of $189,108. The electrical contract was awarded to Acme Electrical Co., Elizabeth for $23,532; heating contract to Ben Yarrow of Springfield at $13,124; plumbing to Albert J. Colandrea of Springfield at $13,800 and the steel for the municipal building to the above mentioned Delaware Valley Co. at a cost of $33,761.

General construction on the Public Library expansion was awarded to DeVeneria Construction Company of Morristown at a cost of $39,673. Electrical work went to Acme Electrical at $4,949; Heating to Ben Yarrow, $2,817; plumbing, Albert J. Colandrea, $2,875 and steel to DeVeneria at $2,830.

Ceram Construction Co. of Belleville was the successful bidder on the general construction of the municipal building submitting a bid of $23,100. Acme Electric, $1,878; heating, Ben Yarrow, $900; Plumbing, Albert J. Colandrea, $1600 and steel and miscellaneous iron work, S. Ackerman & Son, Newark, $2,160.

MARKS 35th YEAR—Lorenz Seufert, a repairman with the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company's plant department, will mark his 35th year of telephone service on Thursday, August 8. Seufert, who lives at 545 Morris Avenue, is a member of the H. G. McCully Chapter, Telephone Pioneers of America.

Springfield Rejects Plan For Baltusrol Top Homes

Unless a survey, being conducted by Hydraulic Engineer Elson T. Killam, recommends some change in present policy, the Township Committee will not grant any permits for further construction of residences in Baltusrol Top which is part of the property known as the Grassman Tract.

The Planning Board and the Township Committee have so far refused to grant permits for these residences on the "grounds" that septic tanks must be used for drainage since there is no sewer connection with that part of Springfield. Also, because the property is only accessible through Mountain-side and Summit, the Springfield officials point out that it is very difficult to render the services due to taxpayers because the area cannot be reached directly from Springfield.

The survey and report being prepared by Engineer Killam will give the local authorities some ideas as to the feasibility and the cost of not only sewers but a road connecting this property with other thoroughfares in Springfield.

Several homes have already been constructed in this Baltusrol Top area but Springfield officials are against any more septic tanks and the reports have it that, under the present conditions, no further building permits will be granted.

TEACHING MILITARY—Major Carl L. Matthews of 48 Kipling Avenue, is a member of the instructional staff of a military government training school teaching reservists at Fort Stovon, N.Y. Matthews is completing a two-week tour of summer training with the 303d Military Government Group.

Drainage Ditch Helps To Cure Bad Water Hole

Township Committeeman Frederick A. Handville—and also President of Springfield's Board of Health, said yesterday that the job of eliminating the stagnant water hole in the South Derby Road area is now about 85 percent complete.

"The Scott people have poured in considerable fill in the Messino property," said Handville, "but there is an ear in the rear of the Messino land which we will attempt to if the owner doesn't take care of immediately."

"We have also arranged with Elmer Walker, owner of the Leigh Apartment House to dig a drainage ditch which is intended to take care of any water resulting from heavy rains. Mr. Walker is anxious to cooperate in helping eliminate this health menace to the property owner."

Register Now To Vote In November

Persons who are not permanently registered but who desire to vote in the General Election in November should register at the office of the Township Clerk in the Municipal Building by September 27.

This will be the last day for registration and those who have not yet checked to see whether or not they are entitled to vote in the very important November election should do so at once.

The offices of the Township Clerk are open daily for registration and announcement will soon be made for the evening hours, which usually come the last days before September 27.

The important thing for newcomers to Springfield is that if you have lived in New Jersey for one year by November 6—and five months in Union County by November 6—you are eligible—BUT YOU MUST MAKE THE NECESSARY TRANSFERS.

Another important thing is that if you are a naturalized citizen—BE SURE TO BRING YOUR NATURALIZATION PAPERS WITH YOU when you come to check on your registration.

GAZING INTO THE FUTURE—Fortune teller Merle Boydman and Marjorie Wemischer. The Adrienne Marder tries to determine the future in fortune teller's booth was one of the featured attractions of the mid-summer carnival of the Temple held yesterday on the Beth Ahm summer day camp held yesterday on the Adrienne Marder, Carol Spiegel, Susan Fried, temple grounds, Baltusrol Way.

Letters to Editor

Is it possible that our good residents and town fathers of Springfield are unaware, or insufficiently impressed with the very dangerous condition of Morris Ave.? Though we seldom think about the danger that trolley tracks create on a wet day, now and then these tracks cause an accident or such a close call, that one begins to realize once more that these tracks should be immediately done away with. Just last week, one of our drivers, Bob Siebert, by trying to avoid a car which had cut him off, was thrown over by the slippery tracks and resulted in having the car which Bob was driving wrecked. Thanks to his quick thinking and skill, he was able to avoid hitting the other car, or any pedestrians, and fortunately ended up without anyone hurt or killed. Is not one life worth saving by doing away with this dangerous nuisance? Is there no one in Springfield who cares?

Sincerely,

Enthralled By Historical Hawaii, Warmth & Romance

Miss H. Virginia Stackleth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Stackleth of 83 Kipling Ave., returned with her friend, Miss Frances Sonntag, of Kearny on Sunday, July 29th, from vacationing several weeks in Hawaii. Virginia, writes, among the highlights of her vacation was the tour of Dole's Pineapple Cannery — the largest fruit cannery in the world. They turn out five million cans of pineapple a day. The water tower is in the shape of a huge pineapple and holds 100,000 gallons of water.

"We toured several of the Islands," said Miss Stackleth. "While in Kona, we took a boat trip up the Waialua River to the Fern Grotto. There we heard the beautiful Royal Hawaiian Wedding Song, and met Father Bryan, (a priest) the oldest pure blooded Hawaiian living today. He chanted an old Hawaiian Blessing for us. That was a rare privilege, for it is a sacred chanting spot and few have the chance to hear him.

Parked Buses Costs Station $55. In Fines

"Parking of buses in a gas station is a violation of an ordinance" according to Township officials and Kenneth Baldwin, a partner in a service station at Mountain and Springfield avenues, paid a $55 fine in Municipal Court Monday night on such a charge.

"Trucks parked in other service stations are just as guilty," said Building Inspector W. J. Binder who brought the charges against Baldwin when complaints reached his office that buses had been parked there overnight. "We know of other violations and as long as the law prohibits this, we intend to clear up the situation."

Inspections are being made at all service stations in Springfield and any violations of the ordinance will bring charges similar to Monday night's case when the Baldwin station was fined.

CYO Campers Set For Annual Meet

Boys and girls at the Union County CYO day camp at St. James parish are preparing today for their annual athletic competition with campers in the CYO's other parish in Elizabeth.

The meet will be staged in mid-August at the Meisel ave. field in Springfield. Events will include track and field competition, softball games and kick-ball for both boys and girls. The program is slated as an all-day affair.

John Shannon, camp director, is coaching the Springfield teams, which were defeated last year by the Elizabeth squads. Mr. Shannon promised that his charges will be in top shape for the contests.

Elizabeth campers are working out under the supervision of Raymond S. Molnar, CYO program director. Arts and crafts, swimming and other programs fill out the day at both camps.

The boys and girls at the Springfield camp traveled to Mendham Lake, Mendham, for their weekly outing yesterday. (Wednesday, Aug. 1.) Swimming and other sports were enjoyed.

Carrie Nation became famous on January 21, 1901, when she smashed up a saloon in Wichita, Kansas. A freckled condition of the skin is called lentigo.

Local Resident Expert In Handling Migratory Bees

Gus Semon, of 29 Baltusrol Way, would easily "stump the experts" on the "What's My Line" television program but his particular skill is known to authorities, police headquarters and many other people throughout North Jersey.

Mr. Semon is an expert with bees and the following article in Tuesday's issue of the Newark Evening News tells the story: HILLSIDE—Monday the quiet of a drowsy, mid-summer afternoon was shattered in the neighborhood of 133 Coe Ave. as mothers whisked sunbathing infants from front lawns and shouted frenzied warnings to neighbors. Police sirens wailed, passing motorists hurriedly rolled up windows and stepped on the gas and confusion was punctuated by the slamming of windows and doors.

The occasion for the uproar was that a runaway queen bee decided that the two-story green shingled house owned by Charles Shuta would make a good home. What upset Mrs. Shuta and her neighbors was that the queen's 10,000 followers also wanted to move in.

The squatters, however, soon were given short shrift by Gus Semon of 29 Baltusrol Way, Springfield, whose telephone number is kept handy in the police headquarters of many North Jersey communities. Unmasked and ungloved, the 65-year-old sheet metal worker reached into a particularly thick cluster, gingerly picked up the queen and dropped her into a portable hive. He came back at dusk to pick up the hive, which by then contained all the bees.

Semon, who raises bees (and pigeons, parakeets, parrots and rabbits) for a hobby explained that the queen probably left the hive in which she was born when it became too crowded. Her subjects naturally followed. Semon could not explain where the bees came from, but said probably from within a five-mile radius.

tain; stationery section; greeting card counter, toy department, and then back again.

Something had to go, and in this case, it was the soda fountain. Shoppers will now have to forego the pleasure of sipping a "coke" as they glance through their daily "dope sheet", but then they can feast their eyes on the new enlarged toy section, displaying the latest variety of playthings for young and old alike. Among the new franchises are Chuco automatic toys, imported from Germany; Ganyu line dolls; Jeanette and Terry Lee products. Shoppers for hobbycrafts, stationery supplies; sporting goods, reading material, and packaged ice-cream, will still find Kay's more than adequately stocked.

The need for a store featuring phonograph records, and sports equipment, will soon be solved with the opening of the Disk and Shutter at 264 Morris Avenue, sometime in the early part of September. The new enterprise, owned and operated by Felix Gold, a resident of Springfield, will also carry an extensive selection of photographic equipment, and hobbycrafts.

Among the novel features of this operation will be a "free darkroom" for the use of patrons. They will be able to develop and enlarge pictures, using the facilities of the Disk and Shutter at no extra charge. The record department will carry a full range of music from Mozart to Rock-and-Roll. Local fishermen will find a complete tackle shop.

One interesting aspect of the mercantile scene in Springfield is the growth of local shopping with many happy memories of their month's vacation at Alun Pond Lake, Sturbridge, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Waldorf of 391 Milltown road were the weekend guests of Dr. and Mrs. Sam Aji of Silver Springs, Maryland. Mrs. Aji is the sister of Mrs. Waldorf.

"Among the lucky ones" are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lester of 37 S. Derby road and Mr. and Mrs. Cy Silver of Lakel ave. The two couples managed to get tickets for the August 2nd performance of "My Fair Lady."

The opening of new stores on Mountain Avenue is a prime example. At one time only fuel and lumber dealers, a few produce and flower stands, and one grocery store did business on the street. Now one finds a variety of stores selling all types of merchandise along the entire length, from Morris Ave. to Route 22. Chester Paint entered the picture first with the construction of a building housing Conto's Deli-catessen. Green's Market became Puffan Superette, and G&B opened a variety store. Kau Quality Meats opened recently, and the next few weeks will see the opening of a bakery, drug store, and other businesses.

Highway Department traffic experts have been surveying the need for a traffic light at this corner and agree that something is needed. The Highway Department experts now must wait for action by the Freeholders before the necessary ordinances are passed and any installation can be started.

Installation of traffic light at this corner would also bring many parking restrictions to the area and there is a chance that no parking would be permitted within 300 feet of the light. One official said that he thinks the traffic experts will ask for restrictions barring any parking within 1,000 feet.

The Township Committee has sent a letter to the Freeholders requesting that body to expedite the matter of installing a traffic light and, as soon as this is done, the governing body plans to call in the Highway Department traffic experts and invite the residents for a hearing on the matter.

UNCHANGING!

How different their transportation from ours! How different their clothing! And yet, their spirit, their motives, their purpose, their God were the same.

In a covered wagon on the open prairie, or in a modern car on a super deluxe highway, God is with his people, his unchanging-love-giving them strength.

His Church is unchanging too. For it taught the same truths, and proffered the same comforts to those pioneer men and women as it does today.

Yes, God is unchanging: The Church is unchanging. Only people, the hearts of people, are inconstant.

How about you? Don't you need a power and strength far greater than yourself? God is waiting, the Church is waiting, the people are waiting. Will you add your strength to theirs and help the Church meet the challenges of today?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

WHAT THE BIBLE TEACHES ABOUT GOD

God is merciful and extends to all loving-kindness. By this is meant the patience, love and goodness of God to the obedient and disobedient sons of men. However, lest anyone presume upon the mercy of God led him know that there is a limit to God's mercy.

In Psalm 103:8 we read: "The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy." This is good news to our ears because as sinful men we need mercy. Some might understand the patience of God as a sign of weakness; This is not so. God is merciful toward us so that we can have time to repent of our sins and to accept Christ as Saviour. As the Bible says in II Peter 3:9: "The Lord . . . is longsuffering to usward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance." You can clearly see that God yearns for men to turn from their sin and to yield to Him. Let it be remembered that God does not have to be merciful and kind. How the wickedness and sin of this world as evidenced in greed, dishonesty, hatred and promiscuity must provoke God. Anyone less than God would have long since exhausted patience. Perhaps you might say: "But God is not necessarily merciful to me—by virtue of the fact that God does not strike you down in your sin this moment is an evidence of His mercy. He is giving you another opportunity to repent."

The question arises: "What is the limit, if any, of God's mercy?" We cannot continue to presume upon the mercy of God because there will come a day when God must exercise His justice. If you continue to disregard the mercy of God you are sealing your own condemnation. However, recognizing your need of God's mercy you will accept His remedy for sin. John 1:12 says: "But as many as received Him, (Christ) to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name."

CATHOLIC INFORMATION

"NOT AFTER MIDNIGHT, THANK YOU!"

"Such a long train ride—and you won't take even a cheese sandwich? Well, then, how about a cup of coffee or a glass of milk?"

"No, thanks. I'm going to Communion tomorrow, and we Catholics fast from midnight, you know, so I believe I'll go right to bed. Would you mind calling me at 8:15? I think I'll go to the 9 o'clock Mass."

And up the stairs he went, with a mouth that was as dry as a blotter, and a stomach which hadn't seen food since 5:30. But he wouldn't eat now. No street! He was going to Holy Communion.

First of all, we Catholics believe that Holy Communion is the actual taking of the body and blood of Jesus into our stomach. "This is My body," the Lord said. "This do for a commemoration of Me." And we have, ever since He told us to. Through His divine power we have been converting bread and wine into His body and blood every morning for well nigh 2,000 years.

If, then, we intend to have breakfast with our King, it doesn't seem right, somehow, to have breakfast first with someone else. What would you think of someone who made sure to fill his stomach before he came to a meal at your house?

After all, it is the body and blood of the King Himself—and we shudder at the thought of reposing it in a swirl of coffee and fried eggs. . . .

The deadline has been set at midnight, and a Catholic is used to the voice of authority. A Catholic is so sensitive on the point that he would rather cut off his foot than go to Communion with a broken fast—that is, unless he is sick.

Inconvenient? Terribly, at times; especially for that priest who says two Masses on a Sunday, with confessions before each Mass, and sermon with announcements at both solemnities. He is a very tired man by the time he pulls his chair up to the breakfast table. But it is a sacrifice he makes cheerfully, and we with him, out of respect for the sacred body and blood of the Lord, Jesus Christ.

Miss Grampp Wed In Church Here

Mrs. Herman John Honecker.

The Springfield Methodist Church was the setting at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, July 28, for the wedding of Miss Eleanor Kay Grampp and Herman John Honecker. Rev. Marvin Green officiated. A reception was held at the Chi-Am-Chateau, Mountaintide.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. William Grampp of 30 Hillside avenue and the late Mr. William Grampp. Her husband is the son of Herman Honecker of 390 Central ave., Mountaintide, and the late Mrs. Honecker.

John W. Wyckoff of Springfield gave his niece in marriage. Mrs. Robert Hartman of Syracuse, N. Y. was her sister's honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Roger Medlin of Alexandria, Va., and Miss Arlene Shallcross of Kenilworth.

Serving as best man was Dean Curtis of Mountaintide. Ushers were Carl Honecker of Mountaintide, brother of the bridegroom, and John W. Wyckoff, Jr., cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Robert Huban of Union, aunt of the bride, was soloist. Mrs. Honecker attended Becker Junior College and is associated with the pharmacy research division of CIBA Pharmaceutical Products, Inc., Summit.

A veteran of two years' Army service, Mr. Honecker is president of H. & M. Excavating Co., Mountaintide.

"Catered Affair" Coming To Loews
 Bette Davis, winner of two Academy Awards, Ernest Borgnine, winner of this year's Academy Award, Debbie Reynolds and Barry Fitzgerald (the cast's third Oscar-winner) star in MGM's "The Catered Affair," opening at Loew's Theatre Wednesday with "Hot Cars" as a co-feature and an extra added attraction, Grace Kelly's Wedding in Monaco. The wedding film was made with exclusive permission of the Prince and Miss Kelly. Filmed in CinemaScope and Color it is the official film coverage of the historic event.

"The Catered Affair" as you may have guessed, is about another wedding. Based on a play by Paddy Chayefsky, author of the Academy Award-winner "Marty," the new picture unfolds a human and heartwarming story of a middle-class New York Family faced with the problem of giving their only daughter a suitable wedding.

If it is to be an expensive "catered affair," Mrs. Hurley will be able to make up to daughter Jane for past privations, to say nothing of putting up a good front for the neighbors. On the other hand, the cost of a fancy wedding will prevent taxicab driver "Pop" from buying the cab he has been saving up for. How it all turns out makes for laughter and tears.

Gish Sisters Set For Chalk Garden

Frank Carrington has presented many famous stars at his Millburn theatre in its long history but none who were received with more warmth than that accorded Lillian and Dorothy Gish in their first appearance at Paper Mill when they opened last Tuesday in "The Chalk Garden."

As co-stars in a summer tour the two sisters are appearing together on the stage for the first time in half a century. Although they were a major screen combination for years, they haven't acted together in the theatre since Lillian was six and Dorothy four. All of their Broadway and touring appearances have been done individually.

In "The Chalk Garden," Dorothy plays the matriarch in an English country home. She is a salty old girl who loves excitement. She tries to grow flowers in a garden that won't grow them, a chalky sterile garden. She tries to raise her granddaughter in the same sort of unproductive soil—a home without understanding and affection.

Lillian plays the teen-ager's governess, an understanding companion who succeeds in preparing the flamboyant youngster to face life and return to the mother who had neglected her, but who now wants her desperately. In their widely divergent roles, the two sisters are admirable.

Charon Follett gives a splendid portrayal of the psychopathic youngster and Frances Ingalls, as her mother, plays with touching appeal. O. Z. Whitehead is cast as a volatile butler, Neil Fitzgerald as the penetrating but kindly old judge, Mary Ann Cohen as a nurse and Lucille Calbert as one of the applicants for the governess position.

The attractive drawing-room set was done by Herman Rosse and the direction was sensitively handled by Charles Bowden. "The Chalk Garden" will be seen at Paper Mill for three weeks through Sunday, August 19th.

"Bus Stop" Coming To Grist Playhouse

Elaine Stewart

Metro Goldwyn Mayer star Elaine Stewart, a native of Montclair, New Jersey, will return to her home state for the first time as a stage actress in the starring role of the Grist's Prize play, "Bus Stop" which will open a week's engagement at the Grist Mill Playhouse in Andover, New Jersey, on Tuesday evening, August 7th.

Well known for her motion picture appearances in such films as "The Bad and the Beautiful," "Take the High Ground," "Brigadoon," and "The Adventures of Hajji Baba," Miss Stewart has received a special release from her Metro Goldwyn Mayer contract for her appearance at the Grist Mill Playhouse.

Born in Montclair, Miss Stewart is the daughter of Ulrich Steinberg, a retired police officer, and his wife Hedwig. Both of Miss Stewart's parents still reside in Montclair where Elaine received her first contact with show business by ushering at a local theater, where she later became cashier. After graduating from high school, she worked for a year in a doctor's office in Montclair and spent her day off in New York making the rounds of model agencies.

In 1948 she received her first job as a model with the Cover agency and six months later was one of the most successful models in New York. She has appeared on the cover of almost every national magazine and these cover appearances soon resulted in a Hollywood contract.

The play chosen for Miss Stewart's appearance is the first summer theater release of William Inge's Critics' Prize play "Bus Stop," a comedy which has delighted New York audiences for the past two seasons. Appearing in leading roles opposite Miss Stewart will be Harold J. Kennedy, who scored a success as the stuffy suitor several weeks ago in "Strictly Dishonorable," and Kent Lewellyn, who appeared earlier this season with David Wayne in "The Ponder Heart."

Miss Stewart's appearance at Andover will be her only stage appearance this summer as she is returning immediately to Hollywood to start work on a new Metro Goldwyn Mayer film.

There will be performances every evening, Tuesday through Sunday, with a matinee on Wednesday, August 8th, and two performances at 6:00 and 9:00 p.m. on Saturday evening, August 11th.

In addition to regular drills for advanced members, special squads and instructors are available for novice and beginners. Members ride once a week for a series of ten rides.

The Watching Troops include three divisions: the Watching Junior Troop for boys and girls over eight years of age; the Watching Boys Troop for boys over eleven years of age who qualify as advanced riders; and the Watching Girls Troop for young ladies over thirteen years of age who qualify as advanced riders.

In addition to training in horsemanship, members will enjoy many rides over trails in the Watching Reservation accompanied by competent instructors. Certificates of proficiency in horsemanship are awarded to troopers at the completion of the program.

A string of forty-five gentle, well-mannered horses are available for the Troop's use and booklets on horsemanship and care of the horse are available to each member.

Applications for membership are accepted as received. For additional information or application blanks, call or write T. N. Tully, Director of Troops, Watching Stables, Summit, CRestview 3-9712.

Governor Meyner Discusses Varied Issues At Press Conference

TRENTON, July 27—The urgency of an early start on New Jersey participation in the Federal highway construction program, financing the increasing cost of state services, problems involved in New Jersey youth going to New York State to obtain liquor, and redistricting of Congressional districts in New Jersey all came in for discussion today when Governor Robert B. Meyner answered questions at his press conference.

Highway Construction
Under present Federal legislation, New Jersey can obtain from the Federal government either 50 or 90 per cent of the cost of improving 363 miles of New Jersey highways, depending on whether existing highways are improved or whether they are relocated and converted to free ways. In case of the latter, the Federal government will pay 90 per cent of the cost. In either case, the State must pay the matching portion.

In discussing this, the Governor said that the opportunity of New Jersey to get maximum value in this program depends upon whether the Legislature will in the next two months agree upon the means to raise the essential money. The Governor said other states are acting fast under the impetus of the Federal legislation. Those which act promptly will get the advantage of the greatest amount of competitive bidding among contractors. For those who are late, there will be fewer contractors to bid, their bids will be higher, and they will get fewer miles of improved highways for the dollars available to them.

The Governor said he was disappointed when at the most recent conference with the legislative leaders, they expressed the intention of deterring action until September. He said it ought not to be made a partisan issue because the Federal legislation was enacted with the support of both Democrats and Republicans. He also feels, he said, that New Jersey, which pays in much more in taxes to the Federal government than it gets back in services, would be unwise not to benefit promptly from the provisions of the Federal legislation.

He pointed out that rights of way must be acquired but when that is done, the right of way must be used within five years. There is little point in acquiring a right of way, he said, unless the State is prepared to proceed. He also stressed that the opportunity for Federal aid will be lost if it is not grasped within three years.

While he does not want to make this a partisan issue, the Governor said if essential action is deferred until a gubernatorial campaign comes up, the program is more likely to be injected into politics.

The Governor pointed out that while a 21-year minimum in the areas of New York concerned might help this situation, a law doesn't necessarily cure everything. A lot depends on parents, he said. If young persons under 21 are permitted to drink at home, they, too, probably take to the highways in the family car now and then.

"A lot of people," said the Governor, "think they can give their children complete freedom and then expect the law of the State or the army or somebody to teach their children discipline."

annual increases in the salaries of state employees, and annual increases in state aid to municipalities for the education as all pushing up the cost of state government. He said if the service is voted, the funds to support it must also be voted.

Youth Drinking
In response to questions, Governor Meyner said New Jersey officials have been trying to get New York authorities to adopt a 21-year law for drinking. New York has local option and in some municipalities the minimum age is 18. New Jersey youth in areas adjacent to the New York State line have been crossing over to get what is legally unavailable to them in New Jersey. According to some editors present, there has been a consequent increase in traffic accidents and fatalities among the younger set in the area.

The Governor pointed out that while a 21-year minimum in the areas of New York concerned might help this situation, a law doesn't necessarily cure everything. A lot depends on parents, he said. If young persons under 21 are permitted to drink at home, they, too, probably take to the highways in the family car now and then.

"A lot of people," said the Governor, "think they can give their children complete freedom and then expect the law of the State or the army or somebody to teach their children discipline."

Pickrel Season Open on Delaware

Licensed fishermen were reminded today by the State Division of Fish and Game, Department of Conservation and Economic Development, that the season for walleyed pike, (pike-perch) and pickrel in the Delaware River opened on May 1 and will continue until November 30.

Regulations have been approved in cooperation with the Pennsylvania Fish Commission, to fix the legal size of walleyed pike and pickrel at 12 inches, and bag limits of ten of each. The regulations also apply in the tributaries of the Delaware River between Trenton Falls and Birch Creek where the tide ebbs and flows. The regulations have been made a part of the New Jersey State Fish and Game Code and will be enforced by the conservation authorities of both states.

contributed by "The Elizabeth Daily Journal" will be presented by Alfred Jakucs, County Playground Supervisor to the first three contestants in each event. The municipal playground team that wins the greatest number of points will receive the Championship Banner.

In last year's event, Union Township playground representatives won their eleventh County Championship Banner. Linden frequently Union's closest competitor again placed second while Rahway another perennial contender was third.
