WHAT ABOUT POSSUM PASS?

A winding road, with the very unromantic name of Possum Pass, threatens to become one of Springfield's loudest, fist-shaking controversial issues.

Residents in the Briar Hills Circle development have been raising the temperatures of the Township Committee with demands that this road be regulated to traffic which, as they say "is noisy with the constant screeching of brakes, ringing terror in their hearts for constant fear of their children's safety."

Without discussing the merits of the case—and there's much to be said in behalf of the residents as well as the harassed members of the governing body—this problem should be approached with a long, iced, gin and tonic in either hand. Pounding on tables and shrill, shrieking accusations will help very little toward a solution.

The Township Committee contends that closing of this street presents certain difficulties and the Briar Hills residents insist that "the road never should have been opened in the first place." The question has been tossed into the laps of some safety and traffic experts who might come up with a solution as soon as some of the frayed tempers have cooled off.

Of course, much of the trouble can be traced to the glib, eager beaver real estate salesman who sold the fine homes in this development. The residents claim they were told that the road—Possum Pass—would not be opened to Mountainside. Now it serves as a connection with the eastern end of Mountainside and traffic has been steadily increasing.

There is another side to the problem. Business places along Mountain Avenue have already felt the increase in shopping from that section of Mountainside and the closing of Possum Pass will shut off much of that new trade.

However, the safety of children in the Briar Hills Circle development should be the first consideration, and we feel confident the Township Committee will work out some solution. But, again, we don't believe it can be done with cheer leaders and finger pointing.

MILLBURN DOES SOME RESENTING

Several telephone calls have been received by the SUN objecting to the reference made in last week's letter, printed here, which suggested having the new relocated Route 22 go through "the vacant lots and slum dwellings along Millburn's Mechanic Street."

We regret the use of the word "slum." "Blighted area" would have been more acceptable but the writer of the letter evidently wasn't too choosy in selecting the right word. He merely tried to conjure a picture in his mind that would take the new highway out of Springfield. He was merely following a suggestion made by some of Springfield's officials showing the new highway skirting around the Township into Millburn—where the chances of it going are about 100 to 1.

MORE ABOUT NEW HIGHWAY

The SPRINGFIELD SUN is still the target for telephone abuse from those who believe that "no good purpose was served by publication of the two maps showing the newest suggested route of the relocated Route 22 through Springfield."

The SUN has repeated and reiterated in bold face type that the maps are not final, that they may be hundreds of feet in any direction, and that public hearings would be held before anything is made official.

Whether or not the publication "served a good purpose" is something we must decide. We believe it was good journalism in that it made people aware that the highway will come through Springfield. There is no yard stick or how great was the public service. The publicity given the disputed surveys on cigarette smoking and cancer in all the newspapers of the nation is subject to a lot of discussion.

And, what "good was served" by the screaming headlines in the New York newspapers that the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants were moving to the west coast.

Local Teenagers Tour Summer Stock

Four Springfield teenagers have taken to the theatrical road this summer—touring summer stock theatres with a play for children. The four all Regional High School students are Tim Nolan, Roberta Kappastatter, Ward Landrigan, and Diane Ashfield. They are members of the Student Theatre of Summit. This group is presenting "The Magic Shoes" to such famous summer theatres as:

The Lakeside Theatre Hopatcong, N. J.; Southern Tier Playhouse, Binghamton, N. Y.; Foothill Playhouse, Bound Brook, N. J.; Bucks County Playhouse, Pa.; The Gateway Theatre, Atlantic City, N. J.; and the Ephrata Playhouse, Ephrata, Pa.

The Student Theatre is a year-around theatrical training school for teenagers in the Springfield area. They present radio plays over WTR in Morristown, and children's plays in schools throughout the area. Last year's productions included "Rumpelstiltskin" and "The Sleeping Beauty," both of which were seen in Springfield.

POLIO VICTIM STRIKES BACK—Three years ago Robert Walker of 12 Kipling Avenue, then eight years old, was felled by Bulbar Polio, the most severe form of the disease. Now, nearing full recovery, Bobby is shown giving money he and his sister raised to help fight polio. The check for $3.00 was raised by Bobby and eight-year-old Carol-Ann Walker by selling pot-holders that they had made themselves. In all they sold 50 pot-holders to neighbors.

They are shown presenting the money to Thelma Dilley, secretary of the local committee of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Signs of Bobby's recovery include the swimming lesson he's excelling in this summer and the Gold Cup and scholarship he won at Miss Bunny's dancing school. He says his ambition is to become another Fred Astaire.

Highway To Attack Town In 1780 British Manner

The same accident of geography that made Springfield famous as a battleground in 1780 will cause her great unhappiness as a road bed in 1958.

Briefly put, State Highway Commissioner Dwight Palmer faces the same problems faced by the Hessian General Knyphausen on that fateful June day 177 years ago. He must push through an irate citizenry to gain entrance through the pass in the Watchung Mountains behind Springfield.

General Knyphausen's orders from Sir Henry Clinton were to move through the pass and destroy Washington's Headquarters at Morristown. Dwight Palmer's orders from Washington, D. C. are to move through the pass so as to link up a highway as part of a vast interstate highway network.

Springfield's misfortune today, just as 177 years ago, is that it lies at the entrance to the only break in the Watchung Mountains for many miles. Palmer can not get the highway on the other side of the mountains by moving west because of what was once known as First and Second Mountain and is now known as Mountainside. He cannot gain entrance to the east because of Newark Mountain, the high hill behind Millburn. So like General Knyphausen he must brave the Minute Men of Springfield and go through the Gap.

Whereas the Hessians met their stiffest opposition at the Presbyterian Church, the highway men are apt to encounter the heaviest fire in Springfield's plush Spring Brook Park residential area. The cry as the bulldozers move forward will probably be:

"Give 'em ratables, boys, give 'em ratables!"

A sign of the times is the different way Springfield's neighbors are meeting the crisis. In 1780 neighbors in what is now Summit fired a warning gun calling farmers from the entire area to the aid of Springfield. In 1957 a Millburn Township Committee member stated that he was in favor of the highway devastating Springfield as long as it didn't affect Millburn.

The geography that eventually defeated General Knyphausen was the Short Hills behind Springfield. After the Hessians had moved (Continued on page 2)

Prudential May Have Office Here

The real estate rumor for this week is that the Prudential Insurance Company is planning to build regional offices in Springfield on Morris Avenue.

The same source says that negotiations have been practically closed for part of the Conklin property on Morris Avenue where the Ideal Florists are now located.

There has been considerable talk of a Prudential office in Springfield and, according to a reliable source, this insurance company had practically signed a lease to occupy part of what was to be the second story of the General Greene Shopping Center. Only one story was constructed in the center and nothing was heard regarding a Prudential office here until this week's report.

Possum Pass Still Subject Of Discussion

Residents of Briar Hills Circle intend to continue their demands that Possum Pass—a road connecting the new development with Mountainside—be closed down or regulated so as to eliminate the danger of speeding vehicles in that new area of homes.

Mrs. Jeanette Abrahamson of 87 Briar Hills Circle, one of the members of the civic association demanding official action stated that "the traffic through this pass is not only noisy (the residents could bear with this) but the constant screeching of brakes, a sign of speeding cars, rings terror in their hearts for constant fear of their children's lives."

"At each meeting of the Township Committee," continued Mrs. Abrahamson, "members of the Briar Hills Civic Association demand action. Mayor Albert G. Binder and other township committee members concede there is a problem but point out that Mountainside will not consent to Possum Pass being closed!"

"They observe that in the event it was closed Mountainside residents would have to go out Summit Road to Route 22 in order to get into Springfield. However, the residents of the Circle maintain it is not the residents of Mountainside to which they object but rather to having the street used as a by-pass for cars coming from the factories of other towns."

"In any event closing the street would merely mean that all traffic would have to use Route 22, an inconvenience of maybe ten minutes of their time! Hardly an inconvenience worth endangering lives for."

"Actually Briar Hills Circle is misnamed for it is really a long oval with houses on both sides of the inner and outer sections. Traffic coming down from the mountain and from Mountainside comes through the Pass to the tune of 700 to 800 cars over a 12-hour period by actual count."

"It is the township's contention that the problem faced by the residents is not much different than that which occurs in other sections of Springfield and nearby municipalities. If Possum Pass is closed other area residents would clamour for shutting off of roads in their sections and soon Springfield would become a maze of dead-end streets township committee members claim."

"This the residents of the Circle would agree with were it not for the fact that the Pass did not come into existence until the development was completed. For many years prior to opening this street people from Mountainside and elsewhere had little or no difficulty finding their way into Springfield."

Walter's Inn Buys Springfield Diner

A Springfield landmark, Walter's Two Bars, has become Walter's Two Restaurants.

The three owners of Walter's Restaurant at the five corners on Morris Avenue have announced the purchase of the adjoining, Springfield Diner.

Fred Sharpe, Edward "Jiggs" Lacitello, and Ralph Deitz have purchased the diner to provide one big parking lot for customers of both eating establishments. They purchased the Springfield Diner from John Simons, owner of The Hampshire House in Summit. Simons had owned the diner for over a year.

The diner has been operated by John Mulligan under the last three owners. The owners of Walter's Restaurant have leased the diner to Mulligan and he is now running it as his own business.

Mr. Sharpe says that they intend to repave both parking lots behind the restaurants. This purchase gives the three partners a total footage of 180' frontage on the turnpike and 130' deep.

Reform Group Is Increasing Here

Phillip Gurian, president of the Reform Jewish Congregation of Springfield has announced that the congregation's membership has increased 27 percent since the last general meeting.

Due to the many requests for information about membership and Hebrew school facilities he has received, Gurian suggests that persons interested in joining the Reform Congregation contact Mrs. Philip Ames, DR. 9-4975.

The Congregation has contracted with the Springfield Board of Education to use the Raymond Chisolm school for Hebrew and Sunday school classes.

"We urge all interested parents to register their children now," Gurian said, "so we can adequately prepare ourselves before the school year starts."

Henshaw Ave. Traffic Light Now Certain

Springfield will get a traffic light at the corner of Henshaw and Mountain avenues—rapidly becoming one of the serious danger spots in the Township.

Temple Prepares For Observance

The ninth day of the Hebrew month of Av is a solemn day on the Jewish religious calendar, known as "Tisha b'Av". It marks the date on which three tragic events in Jewish history took place.

The first of these is the capture of Jerusalem and the ancient Temple of Solomon in 586 B.C. by the Assyrians. The second is the destruction of the rebuilt Temple by the Romans in 70 A.D. In the third instance, the ninth of Av was chosen by the Spanish rulers in 1492 to be the day upon which Jews were expelled from that country.

Traditionally, Tisha b'Av is a fast day marked by the reading of the Biblical Book of Lamentations at the evening Service. In current times, the solemnity of the observance, which is often conducted by candle-light, has been tempered with a new note of hope and faith. For our times have seen the rise of democratic countries, such as our own, where equality and the exercise of human rights are assured. The establishment of the State of Israel has also encouraged Jews throughout the world to view recent history as a vindication of past tragedies. Thus, the observance of Tisha b'Av carries with it

Word was received this week by the Township Committee from the Safety Division of the New Jersey Highway Department recommending a light at that intersection but local officials have yet had time to study the many plans.

There are five plans, all of them, it is understood, call for changes in the handling of traffic at that corner. The one idea which is expected to receive the most favorable acceptance is the plan that would make South Springfield Avenue a one way street at all times. This would eliminate the possible tieup of traffic turning into South Springfield from Mountain.

The other plans prohibit left turns out of Henshaw and one idea would make both Henshaw and Oakland one way streets. Another plan suggests a new roadway to go in back of the building at the corner of Henshaw and Mountain avenues for traffic into Henshaw.

The Township Committee will make a thorough study of the five plans before setting the machinery in motion for the traffic light. The installation will cost Springfield approximately $12,000 for the light but it is generally agreed that traffic has increased so much at this intersection that such a light is necessary for the safety of both motorists and pedestrians.

The light will have impact on business and parking since it will mean that no cars will be permitted to park within 200 feet of the intersection in all directions.

Charter Study Continues To Get Support

Proponents of the Charter Study group for Springfield hope to be able to present completed petitions required to place the question on the ballot in the elections this November. Crews are soliciting signatures so that there will be more than the required number but, according to the workers, the response has been very gratifying.

The Charter Study group failed to get the consent of the Township Committee to pass an ordinance which would legally place the question on the ballot this November. This could be done, the Charter Study proponents said, without the need of obtaining the necessary number of signatures to the petition. However, all members of the governing body rejected the request although none was opposed to the charter study itself.

Mayor Albert G. Binder has issued a statement in which he explains his stand on the question, appearing below:

"I have carefully and conscientiously considered your request for the governing body to immediately introduce an ordinance relative to a charter study for the Township of Springfield."

"It has always been my contention that such a request should come from the citizens at large, and not from a small group of civic minded individuals; notwithstanding their sincere concern in the betterment of our town. The State legislators must also have had this in mind when they decreed that as a first alternate 20% of the registered voters must indicate their desire by petitioning for such a study."

"This personal opinion in no way is contrary to any previous expressions made by myself, although it is in some way tempered by the passing of time, and first hand experience as a Township Committee member for the past nine (9) years."

"The Faulkner Act affords many forms of government adaptable to a community of the size of Springfield. Many of these forms of government have proved by experience to be unworkable and impracticable, and most important, not in the best interest of a community as a whole. In some instances they have been beneficial to communities whose affairs have been mismanaged, and/or not properly managed."

"In the case of Springfield we are now emerging from a growth and expansion period unprecedented in its history. It is not self-praise to state that the members of the governing bodies over the past five years have done a herculean job in keeping abreast of this expansion, and constantly planning for the future. That these governing officials could have done better is always questionable, that they could have done worse under a different form of government is paradoxical."

"To study a form of government requires more than a casual observation, to make recommendations for a different form (Continued on page 3)

Eden Roc Fashions Keeps Morris Ave. Store "Alive"

Eden Roc Fashions, one of Springfield's fine ladies' dress shops at 246 Morris avenue, is closed for the Summer but the owners of the establishment don't believe in just slamming the door shut and going off on vacation. Interesting displays in the windows still attract pedestrians and Rose and Lou Nadel, the proprietors, even arranged to have the lights go on automatically from 8:30 to 12 o'clock every night. One of the manikins in the window, covered with a display barrel, carries a sign "Goin' Fishin'".

The Nadel's will be back in Springfield in time to open up their Morris avenue shop the last week in August, as they put it, with "the top brands in merchandise the best values and the finest in custom fitting to mould

SWEDISH CARS ARRIVE—Springfield gets its first crack at the crack new Swedish Volvo this week as the little cars began arriving at the local dealer regularly. Niels Andersen, of 312 Springfield avenue, Summit, has been selling Pontiacs to Springfield residents since the end of World War II. Three months ago he added a variety of foreign cars to his showroom, topped this week by the Volvo. Andersen who has been selling American cars since 1925, now lists besides Pontiac, Renault, Hillman, Borgward, Rover, Sunbeam, Jaguar, and soon the GM Import, Vauxhall. Andersen describes the Volvo as a "rugged mountain goat." "For ruggedness, speed, and durability, nothing will touch it," he says. It is pretty hard to touch it at any cost, according to Andersen, because he has sold out every car shipped so far.

The hospitality of our town was made known quickly to William Wachenhut and Ernest Juerken of Nagold, Germany. They taxied from N. Y. There ensued a joyful family reunion between Mrs. Eugene Tuback of the Hawthorne Ave. address, her brother, William Wachenhut whom she hasn't seen in 30 years, and her 14 year old nephew, Ernest Juerken. Mrs. Tuback has eight other sisters and brothers all living in Germany. Mr. Wachenhut and Mr. Juerken plan to visit until the beginning of September.

of government requires practical experience and intimate knowledge of the functioning of every department. In all due respect to the many fine men and women on a charter study commission, they often lack the working background and close contact with the operational functions of a governmental agency.

"A logical question is do I believe our present form of government can be improved. Without hesitation I most certainly do. I believe there are certain phases of our overall operations that can be expanded and improved on. However, I do not believe that to gain such improvements we should scrap our present system by adopting a plan as laid down under the Faulkner Act. There is a way of incorporating such changes by petitioning the legislative branch of our State government. In this way we can accomplish that which we know is beneficial without experimenting with the unknown. I personally support this avenue of approach.

"From the foregoing it can be determined that I do not favor the introduction of an ordinance for placing the subject of a Charter Study on the November ballot. Your organization has had, in my estimation, sufficient time to secure the necessary 1268 petitioners to make this action mandatory. It is unfair to approach this body at this late date and request that emergency steps be taken to obviate this prescribed procedure. If and when the registered voters of Springfield request this first step for a charter study, then their wish is our command."

Hay Truck Darkens 900 Local Homes

Over nine hundred Springfield homes were without power for over an hour Tuesday when a hay truck went out of control on Shunpike Road and knocked down a power pole.

The accident occurred a few hundred feet north of the Balsur Golf Club. Summit police north of the accident scene and township police on the southern end detoured traffic for nearly four hours until a new pole was installed.

Power, however, was restored in an hour with a crew from the Jersey Central Power and Light Co.—switching in electricity from another substation. Meanwhile scores of calls flooded police headquarters from residents without current.

Police said the truck was operated by Robert Bullock, 49, of Hop Bottom, Pa. He was not injured. The truck, badly damaged, was towed away. The hay was placed on another truck. Summit police sent traffic to Morris Ave. and Springfield shunted cars through Mountain side.

Antique Shop to Locate at Rigby's

Lee Rigby, former sheriff and freeholder, who has been in the household accessory business at 401 Morris avenue, for many years announced this week that he has closed a deal with Lennard's one of the better known antique dealers in this area, to move into that building.

Mr. Rigby will use part of the premises to continue servicing lamps and other small departments of his present business but Lennard's would occupy all of the front of the building.

The Lennards, Harold and Helen, who reside at Short Hills Village, have been conducting their antique shop in Morris avenue, Union. They have closed that shop and are spending the summer at Bretton Woods, New Hampshire, where they have an antique exhibit at the Mt. Washington Hotel.

They plan to open in the Rigby building early in September.

TROOP NO. 73

After a week's encampment at the Union Council Camp Wing-bago, located at Marcella, N.J. Troop No. 73 sponsored by the Holy Name Society of St. James Church, under the leadership of Mr. Ed. Kaye, scoutmaster, and Mr. Ed. Siebert, asst. scoutmaster, returned home Sunday July 21st somewhat tired and dusty, but very happy after a full scoutcraft and recreational program, which consisted of the following: boating, and canoeing every morning from which a great deal of fishing was also done, swimming in the afternoon which hailed with great enthusiasm due to the hot weather.

This plus instructions in tracking, pathfinding, compass and orienteering, trail cooking, using fresh and dehydrated foods which was terminated with an overnight hike and sleeping under the stars, nature basic and advance, small axe which they learned how to use, sharpen and carry safely, also the large axe and its use in wilderness engineering where they also felled large trees, rope yard where the boys learned to tie various essential knots, also pioneering where they learned lasings and helped to construct a monkey bridge after which they spent about an hour taking turns going across the bridge, camp craft and handicraft.

A half day was spent in field sports where the boys were instructed and used the 22 caliber rifle. Bow and arrow and Muskett target shooting. This was a general day-time program, however the nights were not without excitement as the boys were plagued by visitations of the furry natives, such as the skunks and raccoons at odd hours throughout the night which kept them alert and on their toes. Then came Saturday—the entire camp of 300 boys participated in 13 phases of aquatic sports. The boys of Troop No. 73, covered themselves with glory by placing 2nd with 20 points—4 points behind 1st place.

Their prize was 2 watermelons and a high time was had by all that night. In the afternoon, a Pinewood Derby was held—here the boys are required to whittle small racing cars out of pinewood and race them down a ramp. This event is also camp-wide and was won by Ronald Purro, a member of Troop No. 73.

Riverside Playground

Another week at Riverside shows a big improvement in the baseball team. Our manager, George Martini and Tony Monticello are working with the boys every day. Marilyn Monticello, our first base marvel showed everyone that she hit long in the lineup when she hit a home run with the bases loaded. Even though we that game to Irwin, the players did a fine job. Our pitcher, Frank Monticello, deserves a work of congratulation for his good performance. Some new players joined the roster - Nick Rizzo, Jackie McGeehan, and Pete Chertchia. Nick Rizzo is only eight but he's a good little player. We beat 'Regional' Monday afternoon by 5-4. The hat show Wednesday was a success. The winners were Pat Monticello and Terry Putscher for the biggest with Linda Cox, a close second; Nicky Rizzo, the funniest and Johnny Shock, second in this class; Carol Rutz, the prettiest hat and Joan Becker, a close runner-up. This Wednesday is 'TOPSY-TURVY' Day. We will all be doing everything backwards. It should be loads of fun. Next Wednesday is 'PARTY DAY'. All the youngsters will be asked to bring their lunch. Cake will be served for those having summer birthdays. COLDWELL PLAYGROUND Marjorie Bash Last week's big event at Caldwell Playground was Friday's Hat Show. We had 20 entries, every one showing - real effort on the part of its "designer". The judges had a great deal of trouble singling out the winners. Finally, they were all so good. Finally, however, they announced three winners in each of the following categories: Funniest, Most Colorful, Prettiest, and Most Original. Marder, and Most Original, Lois Kala-Tommy-Lyncey, Lois Bash; Most Colorful, Chrissy Jo Landrigan; Most Original, Chrissy Jo Landrigan; Prettiest, Donna Huntington, Drew Huntington, Beverly Marder; Most Original, Evelyn Bash, Donna Quinon, Greg Anderson. In addition the following were given honorable mention: Linda Kent, Eugene Mitnaecht, Janet Bash, Reinhold Regal, with lanyards and pot holders close behind. Sometime soon we are going to do some basket weaving, too. We have just had a tether ball pole put up, and, of course, that is in constant use, but checkers and dominoes remain favorite games, too. Some of the girls are practicing up on hop-scotch in preparation for the coming town and country tournaments. Earlier in the week we had another contest which helped to stimulate interest in our Hat Show. This was a poster contest, with the posters advertising the coming Hat Show. Judges for this event were: Mrs. Schramm, and Mrs. Bryant. The winners and their categories were: Most Attractive, Chrissy Jo Landrigan; Funniest, Diane Pozio; Neatest, Bruce Beckman; Most Colorful, Evelyn Bash; Prettiest, Beverly Vash; Funniest, Lois Vash-Bash. We extend our sincere thanks to the judges of these two events for giving their time. Beadwork remained the most popular among arts and crafts,

Those who have participated so far are: Claire Chamberlain, Jeff Bell, John Hall, Paul Soos, Bruce Perry, John Tucker, and Richard Healey. This week's main event was a Hat Show, which featured hats made by the children. The show was held at 2:00 on Wednesday, which will be our regular show time for this summer season. Given in the usual order of first and second prize, the winners for the respective categories were: Most original, Paul Soos and Richard Healey; Funniest, Pat Cully and John Tucker; Prettiest, Karen Healey and a tie between Libby Chaptman, and Danny Swartz. RESTAURANTS CHINA SKY - (Springfield Shopping Center) Everyone knows that the average Chinese serving is about twice what the average American can eat. Consider the bargain then on the Big Foo Young luncheon at 80¢. What ever Springfielders don't know is that Jack Chin's American dishes are just as generous. Also consider the cheerful surroundings and the air conditioning. You don't need a fortune cookie to tell that we highly recommend this place.

RESTAURANTS WALTER'S DIN - (395 Morris Ave., opposite Millburn Ave., Springfield) The old head comment about the pizza pie being too big to eat must have originated here where the pizzas come king size in both diameter and seasoning. We like applying a pizza among everybody at the table and ordering a variety of delicious toppings, Bavaria, and real and pepper. You sure know you're dined out after that.

RESTAURANTS WESTFIELD PANTRY - (109 North Avenue, Westfield, Westfield 2-3122) If you cross a kosher deli with a Swedish afternoon, add bit of Danish pastry, and serve in a beautiful air conditioned dining room, you'll have the Westfield Pantry. Every Monday night they put the homemade array of delectable foods and bakery goods on a huge table and let the gourmets go to town... all you can eat for $1.85.

RESTAURANTS GULF CENTER - (326 Morris Avenue, Springfield) DRExel 9-8838 - Joe Calabria has built up quite a reputation for himself in the five short months he has been in town. He's brought a lot of the latest technical know-how to go with all the new service equipment he's installed. If you stop here, you'll save more than Green Stamps - you'll save your car.

RESTAURANTS LARRY'S CYCLE & SPORT SHOP - (397 Broad Street, Sunnyside) If you're looking to get out of Springfield and onto some lake for boating, Larry's is looking to help you do it. Among the vacation items he stocks to help you make your get away is a complete line of Evinrude outboard motors. The smallest is the sporty 3 hp. lightweight, the biggest is the 35 hp. Big Twin Electric, which will move a mountain.

RESTAURANTS A & A TV - (2708 Morris Ave., Union 1/2 mile from Springfield, MURdock 6-1155 or DRExel 9-3922) John Ehrhardt has become an expert in all fields of electronics from high fidelity sound systems to color television sets. John, who has an expanding shop in Union, makes all his calls personally and guarantees all work by the way, he can install and repair TV antennas that can improve your picture more than buying a complete new set. As any radio man will advise you of what can be done to improve reception - be it antenna, tube, or electronic "thingamajig".

RESTAURANTS SPRINGFIELD RADIO & TELEVISION CENTER - (173 Mountain Ave., Springfield) DRExel 6-4543 Five mobile repair trucks, six mobile repair men, and enough testing equipment to man the CBS master control room, make this a logical choice when Lawrence Wolk goes blurry. The service is quick and all work is guaranteed. The proof of the pudding is the rate this firm has expanded in recent years.

Gives Steps In Condemnation Procedures

Second of a series of articles dealing, in a general way, with principles and procedures governing condemnation proceedings of the New Jersey Highway Department. These articles are being prepared at the request of several weekly newspapers, by H. Le Sarokin of the Newark law firm of Lasser and Lasser, highlighting the rights and powers of individual property owners who might be in the path of the proposed relocated Route 22, to be known as Route 102.

CONDEMNATION PROCEDURES

In most instances, the property owner and the state agency are able to arrive at a value on condemned property by agreement. Often, however, an agreement is not reached and the state must resort to court proceedings in order to determine the "fair value" of the particular property in question.

Formal proceedings are instituted by the filing of a complaint in the Superior Court. The complaint, in essence, asks for the appointment of three commissioners to fix the compensation to be paid by the state for the particular property taken, including the damage to any remaining property. Requiring the state agency to prove its case in court, however, does not thwart its ability to take immediate possession of the property. The agency may, with the approval of the court, pay into court the amount estimated by the agency to be just compensation for the property to be taken. The state is merely required to give notice to the owners or occupants of the property. Upon the payment into court of the estimated amount, the state or its agency may take immediate possession of the property. The purpose of such a provision is obvious. If the law were otherwise, a single landowner would have it within his power to block government projects by protracted litigation. Since only the value of what is taken, and not the right to take, is an issue, immediate possession cannot alter the ultimate issue of determining the loss. If the right to take were in issue, naturally a premature taking would render that question moot.

There are occasions when the property owner may urge that the right to take is in dispute. This may arise when it is claimed that the state has taken more land than is necessary for the particular public use involved, or that there has been an abuse of the state's power.

If there is merit to the contention, the court has the power to stay the taking of the property in order to give the owner the opportunity to present his position and argument.

COMMISSIONERS NAMED
Once the complaint has been filed, the court appoints three commissioners, who appraise the property and determine the damages to its owner of the date of the commencement of the action for condemnation. The time element has been the subject of a great deal of criticism, since the damages sustained by a property owner may increase substantially during the pendency of the legal proceedings. Upon the institution of condemnation proceedings, tenants vacate their stores and apartments, but the taxes, maintenance, and other charges of the owner continue. This loss is not considered in the condemnation award.

Recent cases, however, have attempted to take the sting out of this requirement, and the value on a commercial property has been held to include the present commercial value or that value it could reasonably have in the near future.

MUST FILE REPORT
The commissioners, after they have made their appraisal, are required to file their report with the Superior Court. It then becomes a matter of record and is open to inspection. After presentation of the report, the state agency, the owner of the land, or anyone with an interest in it may appeal from the report of the commissioners to the Superior Court. Any party may demand that the appeal be heard and decided by a jury. The trial of a condemnation case is not unlike that of any other civil case, except for its singularity of purpose and issue. (We shall discuss in subsequent articles the evidence and opinions which are admissible in order to determine value in such cases.)

An appeal may be taken and a trial had even though the amount awarded by the commissioners has been paid to the property owner or into court. Any party entitled to payment may receive it without waiving his right to appeal.

If an appeal is taken and the judgment on appeal for a greater sum than the commissioners awarded, the costs of the appeal must be paid by the state. If, on the other hand, the judgment on appeal is for the same or a lesser sum than the commissioners awarded, the costs of the appeal must be paid by the party bringing the appeal.

FURTHER APPEAL
If, on the other hand, the judgment as a result of the trial is also inaccurate and in error, there is a further right of appeal to the Appellate Division of the Superior Court and, thereafter, possibly to the New Jersey Supreme Court upon the showing of certain prerequisites. The latter appeals are decided solely on the record of the trial and no new evidence is taken, except upon the direction of the appellate court.

This judicial process has as its purpose and usual result that the property owner is protected to the fullest extent of the law and received "just compensation" from the state for the taking of property.
