WHO IS RESPONSIBLE FOR SPUTNIK?

The Springfield Sun, under its present management, has never taken sides in a local election. We don't intend to do so now.

However, we deplore the use of the proposed new Federal Highway hysteria in the contest to be decided next Tuesday between Township Committeeman Vincent J. Bonadies, the incumbent, and Henry Grabarz, who seeks the office.

Our elections should be decided on the qualifications of the candidates, not because they belong to the same party as Dwight Eisenhower or Adlai Stevenson.

To introduce an issue like the Federal Highway program into the Springfield contest for Township Committee is like asking Morris Avenue Motors why Detroit put fins on the new Chryslers.

Bonadies, as a Democrat, is no more involved or responsible for the Federal-State highway program than any Springfield Republican official is involved with the State Department career man in Washington who has been dismissed from his official position because he accepted a Cadillac car from King Saud.

Whatever influence any member of Springfield's official family is able to exert through either the Democratic party or the Republican party on a State or Federal level, we feel confident that everyone will be equally vigorous in seeking to protect the best interests of all in Springfield.

Everybody is against having the new highway bulldoze its way through Springfield—and we have enough confidence in our officials, both in Trenton and Washington, to see that our best interests are protected.

And, at this moment, no matter how politically expedient it is to "blame the other side," both the Democrats and the Republicans will have to work together to get the best for Springfield.

The money will come from ear-marked funds already appropriated by Congress, but the route—the actual pinpointed location of the new highway—will be a joint job between both the New Jersey State Department of Highways and the Federal government bureau. Trenton will not be able to have any highway constructed without the approval of every foot of the way by the Federal offices.

The whole relocation of Route 22—and the proposed spur to the Goethals Bridge—should be taken out of local politics. The fight against any unnecessary "butchering" will be fought by both Republicans and Democrats in Springfield. It calls for the same kind of community cooperation as fighting the flood conditions in the Township or the speeding on the highways. It needs teamwork.

THINGS LOOK BRIGITER

In the parlance of the prize ring, Springfield was clattered and slammed to the floor for a long count last week when all the newspapers in Union County, including the Springfield Sun, published maps showing the proposed route of the new Federal Highway.

However, Springfield, recovering quickly from the knockdown, is now fighting back savagely and there is every reason to believe the final decision will not be so devastating.

As a matter of fact the hysteria has cooled off a bit. Home owners are already organizing protest groups—Township officials are planning to go to Washington—and the picture this week is not quite so grim.

There is even a chance—and the recommendations have already been transmitted to the State Highway Department—that Springfield will be spared the harrowing prospect of a spur to the Goethals Bridge.

The spur project is the worst rasped in the entire highway plan and, if that is moved to follow the Elizabeth River line and not hooked up with Springfield at all, the Township can give a long sigh of relief. State Sen. Robert C. Crane is sponsoring the new spur route and Springfield will be forever grateful if the connecting link is moved out the Township.

Everybody is against having Springfield's residential sections "butchered" by the new Federal Highway. And it's a pity that the ugly head of politics appears in the discussions.

Democrats are just as much concerned about not having the bulldozers rip through Springfield as the Republicans. Mayor Albert G. Binder, champion protector of the Township's future, is ready to take his Republican colleagues on a trip to Washington where they will pound on desks and demand that every consideration be given Springfield when the final route of the highway is accepted.

And, Township Committeeman Vincent J. Bonadies, the only Democrat on the governing body, has already screamed into Trenton ready to battle even his own party's chief executive, Gov. Meyner, and Highway Commissioner Palmer if Springfield suffers too much by the coming of the Federal highway. Bonadies has assurances that the present maps mean nothing and that every consideration will be given Springfield when the final route has been established.

Residents of Springfield—home owners in the Township are displaying the proper public spirit in organizing and pooling their efforts to oppose any unnecessary route for the highway. But they shouldn't permit this protest against the coming of the roadway to keep them from voting next Tuesday.

EVERY ELIGIBLE VOTER SHOULD GO TO THE POLLS IN SPRINGFIELD NEXT TUESDAY TO CAST YOUR BALLOT FOR A GOVERNOR, FOR ASSEMBLY, FOR FREEHOLDERS AND FOR THE TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE. ALSO TO VOTE "YES" ON THE CHARTER STUDY REFERENDUM HERE IN SPRINGFIELD.

Voters will have their choice of casting a ballot for either Vincent J. Bonadies, the present incumbent, or Henry Grabarz, who seeks to unseat the lone Democrat on the Township Committee.

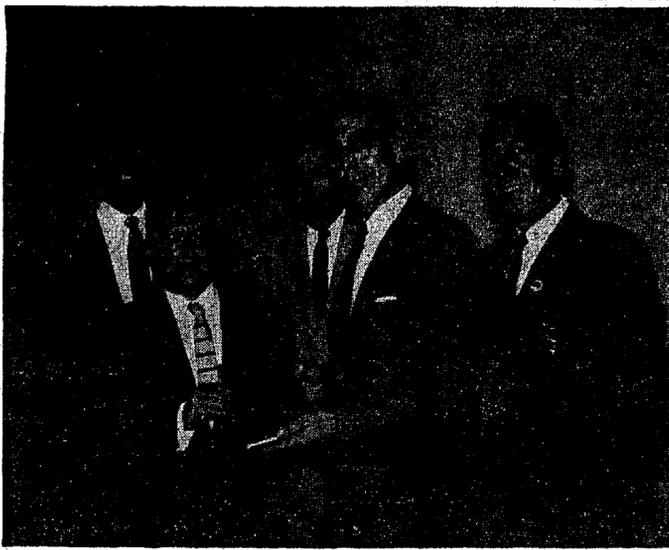

Neither man is in the guilt by association theory or otherwise, could possibly be blamed for anything that is taking place on the new highway front. We feel voters should select Bonadies or Grabarz on the man's ability, the utilization of that ability and experience.

Changes in the direction of the new Federal highway can be made—and will be made only by the present action of engineering facts to the map makers when the public hearings are held in Springfield.

Politicians—State Senators—United States Senators and Members of Congress can do ABSOLUTELY NOTHING. The highway engineers—the trained men who are preparing the maps won't make a little curlicue in the route just to satisfy a political whim.

Highways have certain formulae, and a glance at the maps published

Dan Lucy, Ex-CD Boss, Is Supporting Bonadies

Dan Lucy, resident of 41 Tower drive and recently resigned as Springfield's Civil Defense Director, made public a letter yesterday favoring the re-election of Township Committeeman Vincent J. Bonadies next Tuesday.

His statement lashes out at Henry Grabarz, the Republican candidate, and points out "the need for returning Bonadies to his present office as member of the governing body."

Mr. Lucy is a vice-president of a large New York bank and served until recently as head of the local Civil Defense on appointment by Mayor Albert G. Binder.

Following is Mr. Lucy's letter to Bonadies:

Dear Mr. Bonadies: I have watched with keen interest the development of your campaign for re-election to office as a township committeeman. At the same time I have weighed the pronouncements of your opponent based upon his platform. As a result, I feel compelled to write a good word of encouragement to you and express my sincere wish that success will crown your efforts so that Springfield will reap the benefits.

Perhaps such words of well wishing for your cause, coming unsolicited from me, will be a surprise to you, for over the years we have crossed swords many times on various issues on activities in which we have been mutually interested.

But, in fact, it is that very reason which makes me take this action, for in each instance that we disagreed I always recognized that you were sincere in your stand, honest in your objectives and well informed. When, on occasion, the results went against you, I always admired your ability to accept the decision in good grace and with a smile. To me, these abilities are the qualities inherent in a good leader.

Turning now to the matter at hand, your election, it seems to me that your record on the township committee fully entitles you to be returned to office for another term. The criticism heaped upon you by your opponent is completely without foundation. As the minority representative of the people of Springfield, I believe you have had the most difficult role on the committee.

I can well realize the great discouragement and frustration that must have been yours when legislation you sought to have enacted was time and again defeated on purely political grounds. Your ability to accept such opposition and still push on to fulfill your pledge and obligation to the people at large is something the people should treasure. On the other hand, the legislation you were successful in having enacted over such opposition has been good for the town and the fact that a majority of those serving on the committee with you voted for your legislation confirms this fact.

Springfield has had many serious problems confronting it in the past few years, but, in my opinion, they were minor compared to the critical situation now before us. To solve these matters will require hardworking, sincere, and dedicated leadership. I believe your record gives the citizens of Springfield every assurance that they will receive that type of representation from you. These are problems that must be met head on, with understanding and with courage.

The approach to these matters which your opponent has taken indicates to me that he lacks understanding of their great importance and certainly does not instill confidence. I consider that he is striving to please all people at all times on all matters—a trick which no man yet has been successful in accomplishing. He ridicules what you have done, and, in turn, proposes to introduce into Springfield conditions which time and again have been explored by the governing body and submitted to the voters only to be rejected as bad for the town and unwanted. As a matter of fact, I consider your program to contain a lot of humor, for actually he is not criticizing you but rather he is saying that the committee majority, of which he is seeking to

Officials Plan Fight Against New Route 22

The Township Committee is preparing an all-out fight against the present route of the new Federal Highway as shown on published maps last week, and plans are already being made to go to Washington, if necessary, to protect Springfield's rateables.

The plan is to list the aid of Senator Clifford P. Case and Congresswoman Florence P. Dwyer and use every influence with the Federal Bureau of Highways before a final route through Springfield is accepted.

Petitions are being circulated throughout the Township asking for signatures to fight the new highway. The petitions read "We, the undersigned, fearful of the wanton invasion of our homes and the destruction of our community, do heartily endorse Mayor Binder's fight against the new 22 highway."

Taxpayer groups are organizing in various sections of the Township and last night the first of these, known as the Garden Oval Homeowners, formed an association at a meeting held in the Florence Gaudineer School, to protest violently against the proposed routes. The Garden Oval group was formed under the supervision of temporary chairman Jules Kazin, a resident of 42 Garden Oval.

Appraisal Questions?

The Reassessment Commission, announced today that post cards, covering blocks 31 to 59B, have been mailed to property owners inviting them to open hearings on their property appraisal and evaluation.

The hearing nights set aside for discussion of problems are next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Town Hall. Any property owner who has received a card and wishes to attend the hearing is requested to bring the card along to Town Hall, between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m. on the dates specified.

Local Rival Candidates Promise To Keep Rte. 22 Away From Springfield

Township Committeeman Vincent J. Bonadies declared yesterday that he has placed Governor Meyner and State Highway Commissioner Dwight Palmer on notice that he will fight right up to Trenton and Washington, if necessary, to keep the Route 22 Realignment out of Springfield.

"More assurances that the proposed Federal route will not massacre Springfield," Bonadies said. "are not sufficient." Bonadies added: "I am rallying the entire population of Springfield for an all-out fight with mass petitions to prevent the potential destruction to our township."

At the same time, Bonadies lashed out at officials here who have done absolutely nothing about the threat of the Federal route except writing their hands while busily trying to make political hay by seeking to blame anyone or everyone while valuable time is lost.

"In contrast to this," Bonadies said, "I have had to proceed alone with the only positive action program that will rally our entire Springfield population, regardless of party affiliation, for a last ditch battle right on up to Trenton or to Washington, where the Federal Highway Act of 1956 was enacted giving birth to this potential massacre. I don't care whom we have to fight or what political party they represent—but the proposed Route 22 Realignment must not be allowed to destroy Springfield."

"As part of this battle," and at my own expense, I have sent through the mails yesterday petition postcards to every Springfield family enlisting their support for immediate united non-partisan action to fight the new route.

"And while time continues to run out, officials here in Springfield continue the most disgraceful example of politicking in the history of our township by failing to take overt action. While they engineer politics, other municipalities, where no municipal elections are taking place, have already closed ranks and presented a non-partisan united front to fight the potential damage to their towns," Bonadies declared.

"In Springfield, however, politicking continues unabated, with

Palmer Says Highway Could 'Vary by Miles'

State Highway Commissioner Dwight R. G. Palmer announced today that several alignments for Route F.A.I. 102 (Route 22) in Union County at variance with the original "brush stroke" projection are currently under study and that no alignment submission can be made to the respective communities as to where the route will eventually run until such studies have been completed.

He predicted that by April it will be possible to meet with various municipalities to discuss an alignment which by then may be recommended by the Highway Department. According to some studies, this line could eventually vary from the so-called "cost estimate" line by miles, he said.

Commissioner Palmer explained that the line he has described as a "broad brush stroke" was selected for the purpose of submitting preliminary estimates of cost to the Federal Government by last June 1, the same policy being pursued by all State Highway Departments. This was the first step in providing Congress with an over-all cost for the system nationally.

Since time did not permit a detailed study of the alignments at that time, rough lines were used as the basis of the estimates, he said. Such a line was indicated for Route F.A.I. 102 (Route 22) in Union County.

Following the submission of general cost estimates on the route, engineers began detailed studies of various alternate alignments, he said. These are still continuing.

The purpose of these studies, Commissioner Palmer explained, is to find a line or lines through the County which will cause the least inconvenience while at the same time providing full benefits to each community through which it may extend.

The studies currently under way are in full conformity with Federal regulations and are a necessary

Henry Grabarz, Chairman of the Municipal Planning Board, and Republican candidate for the Township Committee, today declared his election will mean development of an industrial park which will bring $40,000,000 in rateables to Springfield and an all out effort to keep the new Route 22 out of Springfield.

"This dual policy presents a positive program in striking contrast to the vacillating attitude of the Democratic opponent.

"There are two things which are of the utmost importance to every Springfield resident in the election Tuesday," Grabarz said. "One is endorsement of a program which will keep the tax rate in line on the face of the need for expanding school and municipal facilities.

"The answer to that is the plan for establishment of an industrial park on the south side of Route 22 far from all residential areas. The $40,000,000 in rateables will be the solution to many of our financial problems.

"The other vital problem is an aggressive program to keep out the new Route 22 and the spur out of Springfield. The declared purpose of the legislation for the new route was a straight line highway. The map engineered by the Democrat state administration menders through Springfield without rhyme or reason. Only through intervention of our congresswoman, who lives in Union County, and our two U. S. Senators, one of whom lives in Union County, can we hope to block the Democrat state highway policy plan to chop up Springfield.

"In striking contrast my opponent has vacillated on both the highway and the industrial park, as well as on other issues vitally affecting our town. He has scooped at my industrial park program, and indirectly endorsed the same when backed into a corner at the

Says Independent Vote Needed Here

An appeal to all voters regardless of party affiliation to re-elect Vincent J. Bonadies to the Springfield Township Committee and keep alive the only independent voice on the governing body here was sounded today by Irwin Weinberg, Democratic Municipal Chairman.

"The only other choice," Weinberg said in a message to Republicans, Democrats and Independent voters, "is to face the deplorable situation of finding the spark of independence on our governing body stamped out by a man who is publicly on record favoring 5-0 blanket voting on every municipal item for the sake of party harmony.

"Where this situation occurs," Weinberg said, "the pattern of history shows only too well that government above criticism takes over—stifling your voice and mine when the occasion arises for us to speak out.

"In Vince Bonadies, the only independently voting member of the governing body, we have kept open the door of government to criticism when needed. It would be sheer folly, regardless of party affiliation, to silence that voice, particularly in favor of a man who in Henry Grabarz is dedicated to rubber-stamp politics first . . . and your government second."

Citizens to Decide If Town Gov't Needs Study

Springfield voters will turn thumbs up or down on the long discussed charter study Tuesday when they answer the Public Question on the voting machine. The question reads:

"Shall a charter commission be elected to study the charter of the Township of Springfield, New Jersey, and to consider a new charter or improvements in the present charter and to make recommendations thereon?"

If Springfield votes yes to the question, the following Springfield residents will serve as Charter Commissioners: Albert W. Booth, 162 Bryant avenue; Fred West Compton, 33 Severna avenue; Antoinette H. Simmons, 166 Short Hills avenue; Everett Speer, 807 Mountain avenue; and Robert T.

Southward, 194 Bryant avenue. Howard Flamher, president of Springfield Citizens for Charter Study released the following statement of the "whys and whats" of voting yes:

"Springfield's Charter was adopted over 150 years ago when the town was a small farming community; today we are a growing suburban community of 14,000 people.

"Many citizens of Springfield, including members of our Township Committee, have expressed a desire that a charter study be made. A mechanic can do his most efficient work with the best tools available; individuals make periodic visits to physicians and dentists to determine the state of "The P.T.A. Role in Today's Community" was the theme of the convention. The delegates from Springfield report that the speakers stressed the fact that the Parent-Teacher Associations are in a position to strengthen various forces and agencies that serve the best interests of children. P.T.A. services can range all the way from friendly acts such as welcoming newcomers and interesting them in their new community to proposing legislation that will help the educational system. The delegates report that they left the convention with the feeling that the New Jersey Congress of Parents and Teachers is constantly working to unite everyone in a community to seek the best ways to strengthen our homes, schools, and our neighborhoods.

The delegates from Springfield reported that they were thrilled to see the 1956-57 Publicity Scrapbook of the Springfield P.T.A. on display with the other books that won "Convention Awards" last year. "Ten Bucks Don't Buy Much"

Jack: "Seems like every time I shop for you I get less for my money. Ten bucks's not as big as it used to be."

Jill: "Same thing is true for everything else we buy — clothing, furniture — well everything."

Jack: "Not everything, Jill. Take electricity and gas. Of course our monthly bills from Public Service may be a bit higher but gosh, we use a lot more. Think of all the appliances we have."

Jill: "Sure, right down here in this laundry, but what a comfort — no wonder Public Service says:

"Electricity and Gas do so much and cost so little."

Woman's Club to Hear Comedienne

The Springfield Woman's Club will observe its 8th anniversary in the Edward V. Walton School on Mountain Ave., Wednesday, Nov. 6, at 8:15 p.m. A program of musical mishaps will be given by Gertrude Neidlinger concert comedienne. Various aspects of musical activities are the subjects of her satire. She has always been a keen observer of human nature and her greatest gift is her ability to create and present her sisters of the concert stage in their most incorrect and embarrassing moments. Miss Neidlinger studied for a career as a concert singer with her aunt, the distinguished vocal technician, Mrs. William Neidlinger. Encouraged to be a comedienne, she has successfully combined the best concert music with the most incorrect moments that have actually happened to the great and lesser lights of the concert field. This year she is celebrating her thirteenth year as a concert comedienne.

THIS WEEK

lished last week will show the route following natural lines, through a great deal of Union County Park land.

Even a layman detects what appears to be a sudden and useless turn to the right as it comes up from Berkeley Heights. And, the same layman could hardly explain why the highway shouldn't continue past the Troy Village development and the Rahway Valley Railroad tracks, to the Millburn line.

That may even keep it out of Springfield altogether but, the engineering experts might have a very good explanation for every foot of the path it must take through the Township. This will be made known to every home owner—every property owner when the final plans are ready for public hearings.

League of Women Voters meeting. "At the same meeting he played both sides of the street on the new Route 22. He declared he would fight this program to the very end and in the very next breath stated that the road was not going where the map said it was going and would not do all the terrible things which he would fight against.

"This is the kind of double talk my Democrat opponent has reflected in his voting record during the three years he has been in office. He was nominated in the Democratic primary and is now running as an independent. "I offer my record of performance as a building inspector, on the Planning Board, as chairman of the Building Code Committee, against the broken promises and dualism of my Democrat opponent."

their health and take remedial steps; management makes periodic investigations of the progress of their businesses to determine what, if any, changes are required; similarly, our public officials can best serve the interests of the people of Springfield by working under the most suitable form of municipal government.

"A Charter Study will determine the most suitable form of government for Springfield. The Faulkner Act provides a legal means by which governments can re-evaluate and streamline their local governments to fit present and future needs.

become a dream of the Union County Park Commission" for more than 25 years, Crane said. Despite the fact that the river offers "a path created by nature," a road projected along the river has been stalled by lack of funds at the county level, he declared.

I even detect from this that the Republican leadership is lukewarm about his candidacy and are reluctant to tell him the facts of life. So, if he can't count on their support before elections, how can he hope to be an important part in their deliberations thereafter.

Your opponent has shown his inaptitude for political office by heaping abuse upon various departments of our local government, and without cause. He should realize that in criticizing a volunteer fire department he is showing a complete lack of understanding, that he is pointing with scorn to public spirited citizens who are giving of their time and talents, often at great risk, to save the taxpayers thousands of dollars annually by eliminating the need for a fully paid department.

And by implying that you are currying the favor of the police department you are seeking their votes and those of their families and friends is completely unfair to the men of that department. But what is more important, in taking this stand, he has drawn into a political campaign two departments of the government which, by their very nature should never become politically involved.

How much better an impression he would have made if he understood enough about our local affairs to discuss the serious threat now confronting the financial condition of Springfield with our borrowing capacity now used to almost its full limit. Or if he discussed the new and larger expenditures which will confront us, or what effect it will have on the tax rate. How much better it would have been of he had the understanding of what the people feel about changing the character of Springfield from a residential town, of which we are proud, to a factory town with our well-maintained homes made dismal and unkempt by soot and smoke. I can only guess that his advisors have counseled against discussion of such controversial matters.

So, in conclusion I again repeat. Keep up the good work. Don't slacken the pace. Springfield will benefit from your re-election.

Springfield citizens must continue to have a representative on the committee who will watch out for their interests, who will be free of all pledges to vote on issues as the party leaders dictate, and who

"Part of my action calls for Springfield to immediately retain the services of a National Engineering Consultant Firm which is expertly qualified to document the tremendous damage that the Federal Highway can cause in Springfield, and also to assist the township in its all out fight.

"Regardless of the outcome of next Tuesday's election," Bonadies said, "I will continue to spearhead this mass positive action and not sit by casting political has enough business ability and common sense to weigh all the facts and arrive at a decision which will benefit all.

Your opponent pledges complete unity of action with his associates if elected. Unity is a fine thing if used properly, but it can be a great mistake if used blindly.

You have shown your ability to unite with the majority when you felt they were right, but what is most important, you have the courage to disagree when you considered them wrong. That is an important thing for the citizens of Springfield. That is true representation. That is what we need and want.

Again, good luck.

EXPERIENCED DEPENDABLE AND CAREFUL

In years of service as county and municipal officials these Republican candidates for the Board of Chosen Freeholders have qualified by every test for your vote.

They stand as protectors of your tax dollar... favorable to necessity and progress, but opposed to extravagance and waste.

Just as the costs and demands of your own home or business increase, the county's grow a thousand fold:

welfare, courts, and law enforcement, roads and bridges, building maintenance, salaries and pensions, require more money every year as administration grows in proportion to our county.

Your protection against carelessness with your tax dollars rests in the proved ability and known integrity of these candidates. You will find their names at Pointers 10A, 11A, and 12A on your voting machines next Tuesday.

Alert Proves CD Unit Is Ready

The following report has been submitted by the Civil Defense Unit in Springfield.

There certainly was no lack of cooperation evidenced during the CD drill of last Friday night. This was felt and practiced by all who participated, and all divisions were well represented.

The simulated "attack" and "bombing" incidents, which took place at Raymond Chisholm School, were well handled by the Fire and Police Departments, First Aid Squad, Civil Air Patrol and Boy Scouts—Troops 2, 76 and 73.

The Red Cross served as the Welfare Division and registered "evacuees," as part of this exercise; and the CAP participated by supplying guards at various strategic points in Springfield.

During the simulated "bombing," the Fire Department removed an "injured" man from the roof of Raymond Chisholm School; and the First Aid Squad treated injured at the site and set up a field hospital in the Squad Building. Following the exercises, the Red Cross served refreshments.

Robert C. Planer, Local CD Director, was very gratified with the night's work, which will help to iron out some of the difficulties and bring to light the weak spots.

The organization, as now set up, has proved itself. The principal hitch is manpower! There seems always to be a shortage of such for this sort of so-very-important project.

S. Marsh & Son Opens in Millburn

Marking nearly half a century in business, S. Marsh & Sons, jewelers and silversmiths, will open a suburban store on Tuesday, November 5, in Millburn. The event will feature an "open house" from 12 noon until 9 p.m., during which customers will have an opportunity to see a fabulous collection of valuable antique jewelry and unique imports, worn by lovely models.

"In recent years," says Irving J. Marsh, president of the company, "we have seen a tremendous increase of suburban addresses appear on our books. So it seemed a natural step for us to accommodate our suburban customers with a store that is located more conveniently for them."

A spacious store was erected, comfortable, handsome surroundings have been provided and a large staff has been trained to offer the kind of service that has built a constantly growing clientele through the years.

Mr. George H. Fitzgerald, formerly manager of the Wiss store in East Orange, and a man regarded as a gem expert, will manage the new Millburn store. Before entering the retail jewelry field, Fitzgerald had wide experience in the industrial phase of the jewelry business.

SUNNING SPORTS

By MIKE GOODMAN

Regional prepares for an invasion of Union this Saturday after being repelled by an undefeated Roselle team with a 27-0 loss. In a game marked by county gridiron experts as one so markedly one-sided that it borders on the ridiculous, Regional faces a Union team that has amassed a total of 147 points while limiting their four previous opponents to a total of 35.

Union has lost one game this season and that stems mainly from the fact that almost the entire Farmer first-string was out with the flu when a fired up Woodbridge team edged Union 21-20. The Union has rode roughshod over their other three opponents and they meet undefeated Plainfield on Saturday after their contest with the Bulldogs. That game may well decide the Central Jersey Group 4 crown.

While the game may be a foregone conclusion, the fans will have a treat in seeing some of the county's top quarterbacks in the persons of Union's Bob Hayes and Regional's Don Carpenter. Both are up for all-county honors. While Hayes is a very slick passer and ball-handler, Carpenter is considered a more all-around player in that he also punts and plays defense.

Pigskin Picks
The Bulldogs again occupy the role of the underdog, this time against Union. The Unionites are not as fearsome as last year's team which posted a 47-0 shutout on the outmanned Bulldogs. They are good, no doubt about it, but they fall to measure up to last year's squad which went undefeated and placed two men on the first-string All-County team. This year, they have a good deceptive quarterback

Safety Course Set For Jr. Huntsmen

Junior Huntsmen, between the ages of 14 and 21, will be required by law to complete a course in firearm safety before they will be entitled to a hunting license according to Fish and Game Agent John Wentz of the local police department.

Patrolman Wentz suggests that any youngster wishing to take the required safety course should contact him by phone for an application at Drexel 6-5576 or Drexel 6-0800.

Firearm safety classes are now being formed and since classes will be limited, Wentz suggests that prospective students act promptly.

Springfield Market Back On Top of Bowling League

Last year's form took hold Monday night at the Springfield Bowling Alleys as the old leaders took charge in the Springfield Bowling League.
First Springfield Market swept three straight from Drakes Fuel to gain a tie for the lead with Parkview Garage. The garage-men, who finished second in the market bowlers last year, took two out of three from D'Andrea Driveways.

Going against their form last year is Cozzolino Furs who took two of three from Franks Auto Service Monday. Beckmann's Market was stumped by one to two loss to Bunnell Brothers. Other action saw Mendis Florist take two of three from American Legion No. 1 and American Legion No. 2 take two from Brunner Excavating.

High man for the night was Don Pierson of Springfield Market with games of 183, 236 and 247 for a new high three game series. Bobby Anderson of the same team hit 202 and 234 and his teammate, Conchar, rolled 201 and 200. Best that for team work.

Other two hundred games included: Ralph Policarpio 237; Caggiano 222; D'Andrea 221; Colangelo 221; Vince Policarpio 215; Humbuch 214; Julio Policarpio 213; Geo. Graziano 211 and Bill Reardon 211.
