Seven Enter Race For School Board

Springfield can expect a spirited campaign for the three seats up for election on the Board of Education as a result of seven candidates throwing their hats in the ring last week.

Seven candidates had filed their nominating petitions with board secretary A. B. Anderson by the deadline Friday afternoon. They met in the Board's office at the Caldwell school Friday night to draw for positions on the Feb. 10 ballot.

The candidates, listed in the order their names will appear on the voting machines, are Milton H. Kappstatter, 39 Glen View Dr.; H. Lee Sarokin, 16 Christy Lane; Werner W. Penard, 39 Lyon Pl.; Rupert H. Humer, 11 Dayton Ct.; Robert H. Multhaup, 25 Lyon Pl.; Domenic La Motta, 113 Irwin St.; and Alfred W. Rogers, 126 Fieldstone Dr.

Mr. Kappstatter, who is completing his first three-year term, is the only incumbent seeking re-election. Mrs. A. Russell Hillier of 22 Park Lane, board president, and Alan R. Cunningham, 58 Spring Brook Rd., announced Dec. 17 they would not be candidates. They are finishing their second terms.

Mr. Sarokin, a graduate of Dartmouth College, Hanover, N.H., and Harvard Law School, Cambridge, Mass., has offices in Newark where he has been practicing law five years.

Mr. Penard, a native of the Netherlands, was educated at the Merchant Marine Academy in Amsterdam and at Rutgers University, Newark, where he studied accounting. He is cost controller for the Holland-American Line in the Hoboken office.

Mr. Humer, who has a degree in electrical engineering from New York University, is division planning supervisor in the Brooklyn division of the New York Bell Telephone Co. He has been active in community affairs and is secretary of the local chapter of the American Legion.

Dems Repeal Sewer Act

The Democratic-controlled Township Committee took the expected action Friday night at a special meeting to repeal the $130,000 Shunpike storm sewer ordinance.

But lone Republican Eugene F. Donnelly took unexpected action when he voted along with the Democrats. When the ordinance was adopted in October, Donnelly voted for it. At that time, present Mayor Vincent J. Bonadies led a fight against the sewer claiming that Jeffrey Estates should bear more of the cost.

Since then the sewer has spent more time in court than on engineer's drawing boards. The latest decision from Superior Court Judge Walter L. Hetfield was handed down Tuesday morning when he agreed to hear more of the case if the ordinance revoking the sewer deal falls to pass at second hearing.

With four votes against the sewer now and only ailing committeeman Albert G. Binder in favor of the sewer, it looks as if Judge Hetfield has heard the last of Shunpike road.

Springfield has assuredly not heard the last of the sewer, though. It is believed that Jeffrey Estates still intends to develop the Baltusrol tract of land into homes and will still want to dump sewage on the tract.

Citizens Plan Action For New School

Forty Springfield residents took on the difficult task of paving the way for a new elementary school in town Tuesday night.

The group met at the invitation of the Board of Education to form a "Citizens' Advisory Committee" to find a solution to Springfield's school problem.

Text Of Mayor Bonadies' New Year's Day Address

"And now we turn, to the major considerations of administrative organization for 1959. I deem it fully appropriate and fundamentally essential that from the very beginning here in these chambers, our thoughts, our predictions and our every actions on this governing body, be centered upon the people of this community."

"Call it, if you will, a people-centered government, or, simply government wholly and totally responsive and responsible to the people of Springfield, and I believe you will have summed up our dedication on this governing body."

"Our very course of action shall be charted by this dedication, and it shall be my personal responsibility, as well as that of my colleagues here, that we will not digress from the principle nor ever compromise with it."

"The people of Springfield have demanded in no uncertain terms (Continued on Page 10)

Keynote Is Save

Mayor Pledges Economy As Democrats Take Up Reins

Mayor Vincent J. Bonadies set himself some tough goals in his "State-of-the-Union" address New Year's Day at the township's organization meeting.

Undoubtedly, the toughest will be to "hold the line on spiraling taxes in Springfield." He pointed out that the town is in for some big expenses in the near future, notably a new school, new fire engine, loss of a planned $20,000 because of tax re-valuation, and loss of $83,000 in State and Federal aid to Regional High School.

Thus, he devoted a majority of his speech to plans for curbing spending, if not actually cutting taxes.

In this respect, he is leaning heavily on new committeeman and banker Daniel M. Lucy. Lucy is heading up the financial department of the new government and will work closely with the Mayor on all the economy moves outlined in the message.

Economy Plans — Throughout Mayor Bonadies' program as outlined New Year's Day there is an emphasis on new ways of handling budget problems. The Mayor proposes:

1. Budget requests be submitted earlier than customary to enable study of all functions to eliminate any that may not be necessary.
2. Classify responsibilities and salaries of all municipal employees.
3. Reapportion insurance so that town's rating will be better, homeowner's premiums lower.
4. Map industrial expansion to help homeowners with tax bill.
5. A modified capital budget so (Continued on Page 10)

Swear In New Officials In Solemn Rite

For one minute on New Year's Day, Springfield was without any government. Then at one minute past noon, Township Clerk Eleonore H. Worthington rapped the gavel and asked for nominations for chairman of the township committee.

To no one's surprise, Vincent J. Bonadies was quickly elevated to the Mayoralty and for the first time in history Springfield was governed by Democrats.

There were more than a 100 citizens crowding into the chambers to see the ceremony which marked the end of Republican rule. The ceremony which followed the Mayor's opening remarks was solemn and significant and the audience seemed to appreciate it. The hour long proceedings saw little applause or laughter.

The tone for the occasion was set by the Mayor's speech. He (Continued on Page 9)

March Of 10c Drive Starts Under Moran

Launching an expanded attack on behalf of a whole new group of physically underprivileged persons in this community and throughout the country the "grayer victories" March of Dimes is underway in Springfield, J. Leo Moran, campaign director, announced today.

The appeal will continue throughout the month with the traditional Mothers' March climaxing the 1959 campaign, the local leader said.

"In 1959," he said, "the March of Dimes must meet the big challenge of the three faces of crippling—polio, arthritis, and birth defects. Just as the National Foundation came up with the Salk vaccine, so too we hope to move ahead toward greater victories in arthritis and birth defects."

"Polio remains one of our targets because there are many victims of that disease still needing help. Polio patients in our country who need assistance will continue (Continued on Page 5)

Del Vecchio Says Xmas Mail On Time

Springfield Postmaster Abel V. Del Vecchio has expressed his appreciation of the "splendid cooperation" by postal employees and the public in easing the burden of handling the 1958 Christmas mail.
 He says that "Operation Christmas" ran smoothly, without any congestion or backing, through joint efforts of postal patrons, employees and supervisors.
 Public response to the "mail early" campaign, especially in the early part of the Christmas rush, helped, he said, in leveling off the incoming mail for dispatch. For this reason, there was no congestion on any one particular day, especially during the peak period, he explained.

Fight To Keep $ Due High School

There will be a battle to keep Springfield's Regional High School from losing the money local Democrats have been worrying about.

State Sen. Robert C. Crane has declared that he will introduce legislation to offset the possible loss of $255,242 in state school aid to seven regional high school districts this year.

The regional school boards must make up that much in their 1959-60 budgets as a result of a ruling by Atty. Gen. David D. Furman involving the law which governs state aid to regional districts.

Union County's district, comprising Berkeley Heights, Clark, Garwood, Kenilworth, Mountainside and Springfield, would have to replace $86,543 in state money under the ruling.

Sen. Crane said he has asked Mr. Furman to review his decision in the light of the fact that regional districts already have had their 1959-60 budgets certified by the State Board of Education.

"Your decision," he said, "has left this group with the formidable task of possibly reopening the budget for consideration with all the inherent public misunderstanding and misconception."

"Please give this earnest plea for a new ruling on your part high priority for we shall be dealing with the budget appropriations affecting the allocations in the Legislature very shortly."

The Furman ruling centers on how much the regional district contributes as its fair share of the school budget. The state contributes the remainder under a 1954 law designed to encourage regional school districting.

Union Bank Ups Resources 23%

SCHOOL BEAT

By MARSHA WILSON

Christmas vacation for Regional students was near perfect this year. Only one thing suppressed the joy of the new year, that being the sudden death of Miss M. Claire Kelly, our senior English teacher. Miss Kelly was also head of the English Department and advisor of the Student Council. Her untimely death brought sorrow to everyone who knew her.

The dance band assembly, scheduled for this Thursday and next Thursday, raises high spirits all the students. The band, under the direction of Mr. Nicholas Romeo, will play throughout the program. Entertainment will also be provided. This year five couples have been selected to dance on the stage to the music of the "Moon-glowers."

Casting begins next week for two Regional events, the Senior Play, "Stardust" (to be given in March), and the operetta, "The Student Prince" (to be given in May). These productions involve a lot more work than meets the eye. Production management, makeup, costumes, scenery, tickets and publicity all must be taken care of for a successful performance.

A two-week program of co-ed volleyball is now in existence in all the gym classes. This helps to vary the gym program, even though it gives the boys a chance to prove how strong they are!

In two weeks, Regional will be host to foreign students. The Herald Tribune Forum sponsors these students each year. This year we will receive a girl from Italy! She will reside with Margot Breier, a girl also from Springfield, and senior from Springfield, Don Book. Senior class president, will take the boy who comes from Sudan. These two students will stay at Regional for a period of two weeks and then move on to another school. It is always interesting to find out their impressions of America and Regional, so I will bring you some of their thoughts just as soon as they come. Parties will most likely be given for the students, as Regional always tries to make the foreign students stay as pleasant as possible.

In one month the Senior Prom will be held. This year the theme is the Senior Sweetheart Ball as the prom comes one day before Valentine's Day. This senior sweetheart queen will be announced at this event.

In four weeks the first semester ends. Mid-terms aren't given in our school, so students relax when January 31st comes. For those students who have electives, the second semester is always greeted with anticipation of another new and exciting subject.

The rink was constructed this fall by the Commission and the Springfield Millburn-Kiwans.

Dems Repeal

storm sewerage somewhere. As to whether they can get permission from the township committee or the courts to dump into the Henshaw ditch, or whether a new financial arrangement can be made to finance the Shunpike sewer remain conjecture. The next move is up to the Sherman brothers who operate Jeffrey.

The complex legal maneuvering over the "taxpayers' suit" that brought the case into court saw the Democrats Friday night dismiss the law firm retained by the former Republican majority to defend the town. New Township Attorney Irwin Weinberg replaced the Elizabeth firm as town's defender, but the firm was retained by Binder and former committee-man Raymond Forbes, who are also defendants.

Forbes and Binder are asking that the case be brought to trial. They say that the town will have to pay the law firm $2,500 any way as contracted and that the taxpayers have a right to know which side will be vindicated by the courts.

On the other hand, it appears that Forbes and Binder would have to continue their case as private litigants, at their own expense. According to a Democrat official this would be "at considerable additional expense to the town. The people of Springfield have had their opinion vindicated at the polls in November, there is no need to carry this any further."

rapidly deteriorating school situation.

The same machinery was set up at the meeting in the Gaudineer cafeteria that succeeded in breaking the log jam that developed in 1952 when two referendums to build the Gaudineer school had been defeated. At that time a similar citizen's group presented recommendations after a six month study which were overwhelmingly approved by the voters. Tuesday night's meeting saw the selection of James H. Cawley, of 7 Richland Drive, a lawyer, and George G. King of 358 Meisel Avenue, assistant Regional High principal, as co-chairmen of the group. It was decided to let them appoint citizens to serve on the six fact finding and recommendation making committees that were felt necessary.

King and Cawley declared that they would make committee assignments by Monday. Following are the committees the group voted to set up:

- Site selection.
- Statistics on school need.
- Construction type and cost.
- Financial effect on taxes.
- Survey of the public's opinion.
- Publicity.

It was decided to launch the committee studies as soon as they are formed and to make preliminary reports back to the general group on Tuesday, January 27.

The "Citizens' Advisory Committee" was called together by the Board of Education after the 3-1 defeat of the Board's proposal to build a school on the Smith farm on the Union border. Board member Loren Skousen outlined the committee's work when he said they should "show us where we went wrong."

ELEONORE H. WORTHINGTON, Township Clerk.
Jan. 8th and 15th.

Board President Mrs. A. Russell Hillier told the citizens before the meeting that their function was strictly advisory. She said that the final decision of what will appear on the next school referendum must remain up to the Board of Education. Board members and Superintendent of Schools Benjamin Newschwager will sit in on the citizen's meetings, but have no vote.

The meeting was organized by Leonard Pest, local pencil manufacturer and long-time civic leader. He had served on the Gaudineer citizen's committee and has been a leader in State education for years.

"We must make a grassroots study," Pest told the meeting. "And after weighing all the facts come up with a proposal that answers every question."

$10 For Favorite Recipe

Our Favorite Recipe Contest offers a $10 cash prize every week for the best recipe submitted. There are no rules except that the earliest postmark wins in case of duplication of recipes. All you need do is mail a copy of your favorite recipe to this newspaper at the address in the upper left-hand corner of this page. Please include your telephone number. If you have already sent us a recipe and didn't win, try again. Several contestants won with the third, fourth and even fifth recipe they submitted.

Mrs. Wilbur Johns, of 835 Savitt Pl., Union, won the $10 prize this week. Her recipe is particularly good at this time of year when everyone is probably eating too much of everything and a good plain cake with a simple powdered sugar topping will be most "appealing."

ORANGE LOAF CAKE

Sift together:
1 1/2 cups sifted, all-purpose flour (1 3/4 cups minus 2 tablespoonsful)
1/4 cup sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

ADD:
1/2 cup shortening
Grated rind of one orange
1/2 cup of one orange plus water to equal 1/2 cup liquid

2 large eggs
Beat vigorously and pour into greased loaf pan. Bake 60-65 minutes at 350 degrees Fahrenheit. When cool, remove from pan and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

A cup of thin cream plus three tablespoons of butter may sometimes be substituted for a cup of heavy cream in candy making.

Adding scalded liquid to a fat-and-flour paste when making a sauce helps to prevent the fat from floating on top.

Never pierce meat with a fork during cooking... it causes loss of juices.

FINISHING TOUCH: Mrs. Wilbur Johns puts finishing touch on Orange Loaf Cake. Powdered sugar is all it takes to top off this delicious recipe which won $10 prize in our Favorite Recipe Contest this week.

Diet Program Is Slated Tonight

The Union County Heart Association program on Low Sodium Diets will be held at Shangle Hall, Elizabeth General Hospital tonight at 8:15 p. m. This program will give an understanding of the importance of the diet and ideas to improve flavor, says Mrs. Mary Armstrong, Union County Home Agent. Dr. Warren Nestler, Chairman of Public Education of the Union County Heart Association today said, "That this is a Pilot Project of the Heart Association of our County and will be open to the Public."

Persons interested may call the Union County Heart Association for reservations since the Auditorium at Shangle Hall makes it necessary to limit the assembling to 200 persons. Similar programs will be held in Plainfield and Summit if the public requests them.

A Baked Ham Lasts "Forever" But Left-Overs Can Make Interesting New Dishes

By AUDREY CHASE WALTERS

So you had ham for Christmas, or New Year's perhaps? One of our favorite books on cooking gives as a definition of eternity: A ham and two people. Fortunately, ham lends itself better than practically anything you can think of for left-over dishes. A really good cook rarely serves left-overs. Rather, she makes anything that is left over into an entirely new dish. If you own a meat-slicing machine, the easiest way to dispose of ham is to slice it thin down to the last smidgin and store it away in the freezer compartment for sandwiches and cold plates. There are other interesting ways to use it, however.

If you didn't have ham at all during the holidays but you like the sound of these recipes, many of them may be made with a slice of smoked ham purchased for the purpose. Be sure to increase the cooking time sufficiently to cook the ham thoroughly. We have to leave the length of time up to you because there are so many different types of ham sold these days.

Cut ham two inches thick. For all these recipes, pieces the right size for individual servings or even chunks, if you are down to the ends of the ham, will do just as well. Place ham in skillet and cover with sliced tart apples and a sprinkling of raisins. Add canned apple juice or cider to half the depth of ham. Sprinkle entire surface with dark brown sugar until well covered. When fruit juice begins to boil, cover pan, reduce heat to lowest point and let simmer until ham is done if you started with a fresh piece... until apples are done if you are using leftover ham.

Place ham slices or chunks in a roasting pan and spread slices of peeled, raw potatoes over the ham. Using a ratio of one-quarter cup to every three potatoes, sift all-purpose flour mixed with a bit of paprika over the potatoes. On top of that, place enough slices of onion to cover with one layer. Cover to half the depth with milk and bake, covered, in moderate oven until vegetables are done.

Melt two tablespoons butter in saucepan over low heat so it will not burn. Remove from heat and stir in two tablespoons flour. Scald one cup of milk (reconstituted evaporated milk works very well. If price and calories and fat content are not your problems, light cream is delicious.) Slowly stir milk into butter-flour mixture and continue stirring over low heat until smooth. Increase heat and cook and stir until mixture comes to boil. Use immediately or transfer to double-boiler over low heat to prevent sauce from curdling. Add one cup cooked diced ham, one cup diced hard-boiled eggs and one cup mushrooms which have been sauteed in butter. Serve on toast or split hot biscuits. A few cooked peas and carrots cut in small pieces add delightful color to this dish. Or a sprinkling of dried basil or finely chopped parsley will delight both eye and palate.

Mix one-half cup crushed pineapple with one-half teaspoon dry mustard and put in bottom of loaf pan. Combine two cups ground cooked ham with one and one-half cups bread crumbs, two medium eggs slightly beaten, two tablespoons chopped onion which has been sauteed in butter, a sprinkling of pepper, one cup of milk and two tablespoons chopped parsley. (If desired, substitute for the bread crumbs prepared poultry stuffing which you have rolled as fine as bread crumbs.) Put mixture in pan on top of pineapple and bake in moderate oven about three-quarters of an hour.

Mix into one cup of ground cooked ham, one tablespoon pickle relish and two tablespoons mayonnaise. Form into large "hamburgers" and place each one on repeatedly; yet will still defy showers. Cotton poplin by Dan River has Zelan durable water repellent finish. Gay cotton print lining is colorfast. This coat will keep you gay as spring through early winter rains.

Mincemeat Baked Alaska

Bring a bit of the wintertime wonderland of drifting snow to the holiday party with this glistening dessert—Mincemeat Baked Alaska. Beneath the swirl of lightly baked meringue is a bakers-layer cake, generously covered with mincemeat ice cream for the holiday flavor.

A dessert to talk about—it can be made in advance and held in the freezer. Or, days ahead, an uniced caked layer is purchased from baker or food mart, the ice cream made and both frozen. The recipe has a slick trick for handling the ice cream. At serving time, the meringue is drifted over the layers and the dessert baked for just five minutes at 450 degrees. Serve the Alaska with the fan fare of jingle bells.

Mincemeat Baked Alaska

1 pint vanilla ice cream 1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract
 1/2 cup prepared mincemeat 1 (8-inch) bakers' yellow
 3 egg whites or white cake layer
 1/2 cup sugar

Soften ice cream slightly and fold in mincemeat. Line a (2-quart) shallow (7-inch) skillet or saucepan with waxed paper, allowing paper to extend above sides of pan. Pack mincemeat-ice cream into pan. Freeze until firm. When ready to serve, beat egg whites until foamy, but not stiff. Add sugar gradually, beating after each addition. Continue beating until mixture is shiny and holds peaks. Blend in vanilla. Lift ice cream from pan by paper; turn upside down onto cake. Remove paper. Cover all with meringue. Bake at 450 degrees for 5 minutes, or until lightly browned. Serve immediately.

Quick And Easy Busy-Day Meal

Did you know that frozen vegetables are very tasty when placed in a covered casserole with seasonings and no liquid and cooked in the oven about half an hour or until just tender? Edith Mae Ingalls, County Assistant Home Agent, suggests freezing individual meat loaves to be cooked in the oven with frozen vegetables for a quick and easy meal for the busy days ahead.

2 lbs. ground beef chuck
 1/2 lb. ground veal
 1/2 lb. ground pork
 2 unbeat eggs
 1 cup milk

1 1/2 cups soft bread crumbs
 1/2 chopped green pepper
 1 tablespoon salt
 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning (optional)
 1/4 teaspoon pepper

Combine milk and bread crumbs. Mix chopped meat, add the other ingredients and blend thoroughly. Divide into 3 parts. Shape 3 loaves on large shallow baking pan. Bake in foil, store in freezer. Store drippings for gravy.

Freezing Combination Main Dish: In view of request by calling or writing the Union County Home Economics Extension Service office, Court House, Elizabeth.

Canned Foods In Easy Meals

Cooking with a can opener can save time and energy during these busy days, says Miss Edith Mae Ingalls, Assistant Home Agent. There are many interesting and appealing menus—you can make using canned foods that are good for family or company meals.

Canned foods are almost as nutritious as fresh or frozen, since such foods as vegetables and fruits often are canned right in or near the field where they grow. This means that within twenty-four hours after picking they are sealed in the can. Care should be taken in cooking canned vegetables so that they are not over-cooked. They just need to be heated through and served immediately. Canned meats and fish are also time and money-savers. They help to vary menus and stretch the food dollar.

A tasty tuna-casserole that is made by combining a can of drained tuna, a can of undiluted cream-of-mushroom or cream of chicken soup and a package of frozen peas, and decorated with pimiento and crushed potato chips is a dish fit for a festive family or company dinner. This Casserole should be baked 15-20 minutes. This dish can be extended to serve more than four by adding cooked macaroni, rice, spaghetti or bread crumbs. Serve this dish with canned beans, lettuce wedge with Russian dressing, brown-and-serve peas and canned peaches with cookies.

Another interesting meal using canned foods is the pineapple-banana bake. Slice a can

Food Industry Faces Big Job, A&P Head Says

The nation's food industry did the greatest job in its history in 1958, and is faced with an even bigger job in 1959, Ralph W. Burger, president and board chairman of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, said today.

"The entire industry, including farmers, processors and distributors, can be proud of its collective accomplishment during 1958," Mr. Burger said. "It provided more good food and better service to more people than ever before, and by so doing, rendered a real public service."

"I am impressed with the great progress in our industry during the past 10 years due to research, technological advances and the continuing drive for greater efficiency. As a result, there has been a steady and substantial reduction in the amount of time the average American must work to earn the money to pay for his food."

Mr. Burger cited five major facets of the industry's accomplishment during the past year:

- 1) There are almost 3,000,000 more people in the United States today than at the end of 1957, and the food industry has had to provide the food and facilities to serve this growing population.
- 2) The food industry did a great job in holding food prices down despite rising costs. During the month of November the cost of food declined for the fourth straight month, at a time when the overall consumer cost-of-living index was creeping steadily upward to hit an all-time high of 123.9.

- 3) To provide improved service, retailers built thousands of new stores and did major remodeling on additional thousands of existing outlets. This represented a total investment of well over $1 billion in construction and inventory.
- 4) The trend towards built-in services to simplify the housewife's tasks through package mixes, pre-packaging of foods and the expansion of the frozen food industry continued at a phenomenal pace.
- 5) The entire food industry adhered to its traditional low-profit rate. Chain retailers, for instance, continued to operate at profit on each dollar of sales, while the profit rate for food manufacturers was two-and-a-half cents.

"All these factors served to keep the American public the best-fed people in the world," Mr. Burger said. "Per capita food consumption is approximately one-eighth higher than in the years immediately preceding World War II."

Mr. Burger attributed this progress to two major factors: first, the industry's recognition of its public service responsibility; and the intense nature of the competition existing in the food business.

"Some idea of the healthy competition existing in the food business," he said, "may be gained from the fact that there are about 40,000 food manufacturers, 3,500 canners and frozen food packers, 5,000 meat packers, 6,400 bakeries and 368,000 food stores in the United States. And there are millions of farm families producing the food to feed America. The result is readily apparent in the wide choice of foods, brands and retail outlets available to any consumer."

Mr. Burger emphasized the fact that the food industry is dealing in the prime necessity of life that takes 25 to 30 per cent of the family's budget.

Wear Jewelry As Accessory

Whether it is a valuable heirloom or an inexpensive costume piece, nearly every one takes pleasure in wearing jewelry.

There are some basic rules for selecting and wearing jewelry. The first is never overdo it. A piece or two can add smartness to your costume, but more may ruin it.

Jewelry should never dominate a costume but only accent it just as other accessories do. Unless you have a definite flair for wearing jewelry, use it very sparingly.

Secondly, wear appropriate jewelry. An elaborate rhinestone pin and earrings are obviously not for a tailored outfit or for early morning wear.

Tailored or casual clothes are best accented with simple gold or silver jewelry. Dressier costumes may welcome more dramatic and showy pieces, but still must carry out the basic feeling of the costume.

REPORT TO THE PEOPLE FROM YOUR CONGRESSWOMAN

LORRENCE P. DWYER (9th District—New Jersey)

Recasting — political and economic — has traditionally been the order of the day during the early hours of a new Congress. Forecasting and resolving and hoping — but here in Washington in the first week of 1959, it might be wiser to emphasize the resolving and the hoping, and stay away from the forecasting.

Yet, these are the relentless challenges that face us, as a people and as a Government. And who can predict what our response will be? A giant question mark is raised over the next two years by virtue of the fact that our Government will be two-headed.

opportunity — to demonstrate to the billions who do not yet understand that freedom, not communism, is the road to peace and progress and prosperity; and the hope that our leaders will show the courage and resourcefulness to get out in front and lead!

During these past two post-election months, I've had a chance to talk with hundreds and hundreds of people in Union County and I know they think frequently of these great issues — along with those closer to home, like bills to pay, children to educate, and better job opportunities. And they expect their representatives to think about them, too — and act appropriately.

These have been busy days. The hour spent in our District office, the two days of "Legislative Open House," a survey tour of unemployment offices in the County, the hearings in Newark on the pending discontinuance of railroad ferries — these and other activities and just talking with people have also been extremely enlightening.

As far as legislation is concerned, this means long hours in the House, floor and careful study of the pros and cons of all the issues. It means casting my vote on the merits of each bill, in the best interests of the greatest number of our people.

It means, too, that I shall continue in every way possible to stay close to the people I represent, to seek their views and give them full and honest consideration. So, you can expect more of what we've done in the past: newsletters, regular District office hours, office hours in other communities throughout the County, "legislative open house," student press conferences, questionnaires, and prompt attention to your requests and views and ideas.

I look forward to these coming years enthusiastically. And I am grateful to all of you for making them possible, for giving me this renewed opportunity for public service. I hope you will always remember that my only reason for being here is to represent you.

A strip of medium-fine sandpaper taped to the wall near the gas stove provides a dependable striking surface for wooden matches used to light the oven, burners or pilot light. Use cellophane or mending tape to fasten strip to wall. It is easy to replace the sandpaper when it becomes worn.

Cleaners Offers Use Of Book On Fabrics

Home economics teachers, retail clothing stores — in fact anyone who buys or wears clothes — can now have access to a new fund of information on the selection and care of fabrics and their performance in use.

Happy Holiday, dry cleaning establishment at 929 Stuyvesant Ave. has just received a copy of "Focus on Fabrics," written by Dorothy S. Lyle, director of consumer information for the National Institute of Drycleaning, a trade association with headquarters in Silver Spring, Md.

The book's 300 pages contain 174 pasted-in fabric swatches, plus 100 black-and-white photos and 50 color shots. Information in the 7 1/2-pound, four-inch-thick volume has grown out of the 30 years experience the Institute has had with garments which present "problem" in drycleaning.

There is no better source of information on clothing performance," said Robert Berliner of Happy Holiday, "than the Institute which studies more than 27,000 garment problems every year. That's just one of the reasons why our plant is a member. They also supply us with a variety of technical bulletins so we can always keep up-to-date."

Half of the book tells about selection and care of fabrics of varied types, including knits, man-made furs, 24-karat gold fabrics, as well as the more common types. It defines textile and fabric terms, special finishes, and tells how fabrics receive their color and design. The other half tells how various fabrics behave in drycleaning. The book also contains a section on safe measures for first aid spot removal at home.

Amboys' Film In New Dynamation

"The Seventh Voyage of Sinbad," produced in Dynamation and Technicolor, is the current attraction at the Amboys Drive-In Theatre in Sayreville. The supporting feature is "Men of the Fighting Lady," starring Van Johnson, Walter Pidgeon and Louis Calhern.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, "Tarawa Beachhead" with Kerwin Mathews and Julie Adams and "Hell and High Water" with Richard Widmark and David Wayne will be shown. "Hour of Fun" will be shown Friday and Saturday before the features and the horrorama, "The Devil Bat," will be shown both midnights.

Playhouse Closes

The Paper-Mill Playhouse in Millburn will re-open for the 1959 season on Easter-Monday, March 30, director Frank Carrington announced today. Eight productions are contemplated for the new season, based on requests received from patrons during the past year. Carrington said, "The theatre closed for this season with the performance Sunday of 'The Desert Song,' starring Ted Scott and Gail Manners."

Each year, as a tree grows, it adds growth-rings. These may vary according to moisture conditions. A dry year will see little growth but a tree will really take off in wet years. These broader rings make the beautiful grain patterns and texture of wood.

American Classic Doily

I was looking back over the history of needlework in America the other day, and an interesting thought occurred to me. Even during earliest colonial times, when settlers were surrounded by very real and immediate dangers and the trials of daily life were primitive in every other way, busy pioneer wives and mothers were creating objects of original beauty and delicate craftsmanship in needlework.

Needlework and the new-leisure. It's amazing to think that the first American women could find any time at all for deprecative needlework. Yet little girls started to develop their skills in the art as soon as they were old enough to master the simplest household chores. Today, the picture has changed. Leisure has become a common factor in every area of American life. In fact, social commentators devote pages of articles in newspapers and magazines to the problem of ways people are finding to use this new-found spare time. Seen in this light, it's no wonder that knitting and crocheting have reached a new-peak during the past few years.

A BEGINNER'S PROJECT WITH AN EXPERT LOOK

Luckily, the wonderful idea of teaching the feminine arts to girls while they're still of grammar school age has also been handed down through generations of American womanhood. Nowadays, with the accent on simplicity of line many of the designs that are richest for a novice to crochet also fit best into a streamlined modern decor. The doily pattern I'm suggesting today follows this happy formula. A straightforward American classic which will look beautiful in your home, it's an easy project for any member of your family to work — Stitches are clusters and long shells, in size #30 crochet cotton. If you'd like to receive the free instructions, just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this newspaper and ask for Leaflet No. S-393, RIPE-WHEAT DOILY.

Oregon's forest land is pretty prolific. In that state alone, enough saw timber is standing today to lay a 1-inch thick floor over the entire states of Massachusetts, Connecticut, Delaware and Rhode Island.

Part of the secret for a youthful looking neck is simply holding up your chin. Not only does this unfold and smooth natural creases, it also adds grace to everything you do.
