Hearing On 104 Unit Apartment House Thursday

Members of the Board of Adjustment will hold a public hearing next Thursday, February 26, in the Municipal Building to consider the application of Mountview Gardens for a Special Exception Use to the Zoning Ordinance concerning Block 76, Lot 3, Hillside and South Springfield Avenues.

This is the site of the proposed new garden-apartments on approximately 10 acres of the Mrs. Prince Farm property. According to the information in the office of the Building Inspector the builders plan apartments with 104 family units with three, four and five rooms. The plans show one bedroom in the 3 room unit, 2 bedrooms in the 4 room and three bedrooms in the five.

There will also be room for parking 140 cars and the plans show considerable room for entrances to all the apartments. The portion of Mrs. Prince's property for these apartments is in the rear of the Route 22 discount stores, Channel and Davega, between the highway establishments and Hillside avenue.

Other matters before the Board of Adjustment next Thursday will include an application by the Echo Plaza which is the name of the new shopping center where Mountain Avenue and Route 22 meet, for a variance to "exceed the building line requirements on setback on the U. S. Highway No. 22 in order to construct additional stores on the center."

The feature unit of this new shopping center is a 23,000 square foot Acme super market. The store is practically complete and is waiting only for completion of the parking area for official opening.

Republicans Start Drive To Hold Line In November

The Springfield Republican Club is already mustering its forces for an attack on the Democratic fortress next November which, the GOP leaders feel confident, will slow down the victory rush of the present controlling party.

Former Township Committee Chairman Frederick A. Handville, who has taken over the job of "drum beating" for the Springfield Republicans as their publicity director, gives warning that "ten or twelve qualified candidates are under consideration by the Republicans for this year's elections" and narrows it down with the statement that "two unnamed candidates have the edge."

No one in the Republican camp would give any indication as to the identity of these "two unnamed favorites" but the report is that every effort to avoid a primary scrap will be made by having everybody agree on these two candidates.

Monday evening's meeting of the Springfield Republican Club brought out an enthusiastic group with President Joseph Zasa arranging for a program that made the entire evening very interesting.

He announced the appointment of Mrs. Carl Sprauer as second vice president, Mrs. Georgia McMullen chairman of the annual card party to be held in May, and Mrs. Amy Bandomer as chairman of the annual dance to be held in October. There will be no mid-winter dance this year.

Highlights of the evening were an illustrated lecture by Mr. Noble of the Metropolitan Museum of Art and a talk by former Mayor Albert Binder, outlining his future in politics, as well as plans for the primary election in April.

Walter Baldwin, chairman of the Municipal County Committee, spoke more specifically about his committee's action of screening candidates to secure new young blood.

Harold Oskman was named trustee for the third district. A vigorous membership drive has been started by first vice president, William Doyle.

NAMED TO PETIT JURY

The following residents of Springfield have been named among the 200 to report for petit jury duty at the Court House in Elizabeth until February 27: Mrs. Lenora M. Anderson, 53 Battle Hill avenue; Mrs. Frances W. Goat, 25 Woodcrest Circle; Evelyn C. Oleniche, 39 S. Maple avenue, and John Vallance, 439 Meisel avenue.

Mrs. Bandomer Appointed To Election Board

Mrs. Amy Bandomer

Mrs. Amy Bandomer, known throughout Springfield as Mrs. Republican, has finally received her reward for years of effort in behalf of the GOP.

She has been chosen by the Republican leaders for the $3,000 job on the Union County Board of Elections. Gov. Robert B. Meyner is to name her for this appointment to replace Mrs. Edith S. Pascoe, of Elizabeth whose current two year term expires March 1.

Mrs. Bandomer was selected from a group of three candidates recommended by the Union County Republican Executive Committee. The selection of Mrs. Bandomer is reported to have been unanimous.

Another Springfield Republican leader, Charles Beardley, said this Election Board appointment for two years.

Mrs. Bandomer has been very active in Republican affairs for a great many years and is considered to be one of the strongest women leaders in this area, doing most of her work in county politics in behalf of Springfield residents.

Red Cross Calls For New Members

Postmaster A. V. Del Vecchio, Chairman of the 1959 Fund Raising Campaign for the Springfield Chapter of the American Red Cross, has announced that the annual enrollment of members will commence March 7th.

Volunteer workers will call to enroll you as a member of the Red Cross for 1959. Mr. Del Vecchio asks that you be as generous as you can.

Mr. Del Vecchio stated: "Any time you are asked to contribute money, you have the right to know how effectively it will be used." When you give to the Red Cross, you get $30 worth of service for every $5 you contribute.

How is this done? The answer is VOLUNTEERS, such as the person who will call to enroll you as a member of the Red Cross during the month of March. No money could buy the time volunteers give to the Red Cross, but the more than 2 million volunteers throughout the nation contribute more than $60 million dollars of unpaid work each year.

For instance, the floods now plaguing the mid-west and the tornado which struck St. Louis; Red Cross volunteer workers were on the job nursing the injured, manning first aid stations and distributing vital supplies. Long after the headlines disappeared, they were still on the job helping their neighbors get back on their feet again. Even here in Springfield, the volunteers work day in and day out, providing home service for members of the armed services and their families, providing water safety training for the young and old alike and also providing motor service for hospital patients, Civil Defense and other purposes. These are a few of the services your local chapter provide.

Through the efforts of these volunteers your money carries six times its weight in work. Mr. Del Vecchio asks: "Please join in the great work of the Red Cross with your time and with your dollars."

Methodist Club To Award Trophies

The Amateur Show Committee of the Methodist Men's Club of Springfield announces that in addition to the Savings Bonds prizes - special engraved trophies will be awarded the winners of the April 23, 4th contest to be held at the Regional High School.

The trophies will be on display in the window of The Springfield SUN," Chairman Norman Banner said.

The response to the entry application distribution is increasing, and local residents, as well as (Continued on Page 3)

Former Mayor Binder Retires At End Of Year

Albert G. Binder, Mayor of Springfield for five years and a member of the Township Committee for eleven, has issued a public statement that he "has decided to retire from public life at the end of the current year." The former Mayor's term ends this year and this announcement removes him as a candidate for re-election. Many citizens on both sides of the political fence have been urging him to continue his public service and to make himself available for the November elections but he has given illness and the pressure of other circumstances as reasons for retiring.

He and Eugene F. Donnelly are the two Republican members of the present Township Committee, with the Democrats in control. These two seats are to be open for the November elections and the rush has already started by candidates of both parties who wish to be considered for what is shaping up as an interesting campaign. Township Committeeman Donnelly has not made any public statement.

Following is former Mayor Binder's statement in full:

"In view of a combination of personal circumstances, I have decided to retire from public life at the end of the current year. At that time, I will have had the pleasure and honor of serving on the Township Committee for 11 years, five of which I had the privilege to serve as mayor.

"During my terms of office, I have witnessed an unprecedented growth in Springfield, and it was a distinct privilege to be closely associated with many distinguished members of the committees, as well as civic minded citizens, who cooperated to make Springfield one of the finest suburban communities in the sea today."

Due to the alertness of the Springfield Police, one Siegfried Weber, 21, a resident of Union, was arraigned before acting Magistrate James M. Cavley on a reckless driving charge. Young Weber according to police, was traveling at an excessive rate of speed when first noticed by Patrolman Robert Polewka in his cruiser on Meisel Ave. Police records state that a chase ensued through Springfield streets at a speed of 100 mph as clocked by the police cruiser, before Weber was finally apprehended on Morris Avenue heading toward Union.

Workman's Comp. Session Begins

Harold Ackerman, of 121 Laurel Dr., Deputy Director of the Division of Workman's Compensation will moderate the session of the First Annual Governor's conference on Workman's Compensation to be held in the Robert Treat Hotel next Wednesday.

The conference, the first of its kind in the history of the state, will take place on Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

WHEREAS, each year Governor Robert B. Meyner has issued a proclamation urging all organizations, all public and private schools to emphasize the study of American History during the month of February; and

WHEREAS, the Church and Cannon Chapter of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, appeal to all citizens to join with Gov. Meyner and other groups to bring more attention to the study of American History; now

VINCENT J. BONADIES,
Mayor

February 19, 1959.

Ask Taxpayers To Discuss New Budget & Taxes

An invitation to all residents has been issued by the Township Committee to meet with the governing body on Saturday afternoon, February 28, at 2 o'clock in the Municipal Building for the purpose of informally discussing the new 1959 budget prior to the public hearing scheduled for March 11.

Springfield's announced new tax rate for 1959 shows a 27 point decrease, $5.77 as compared with $5.77 in 1958. This 27 point decrease has been made without curtailing any of the Township's services and with salary increases for practically every employe.

The full budget appears in this issue of the Springfield Sun on pages 11 and 12.

The lowered tax rate makes good a promise of the Democratic party during the last campaign, said Mayor Vincent J. Bonadies, "and we intend to save money where we can without affecting the services to the taxpayer," he stated.

Springfield Cracks Down Police Nab 100 mph Whiz

As a result of the enactment of the new motor vehicle speed law now in force in the state, whereby a driver automatically loses his license if caught speeding when traveling ten miles over the prescribed speed limit in the zone in which he is traveling, both city and state police have been on the alert for these offenders as evidenced by the number of licenses that have been revoked thus far by the Motor Vehicle Department.

Evidence of the crackdown on all violations, not only speeding, was demonstrated by the Springfield Magistrate Court on Monday night, February 16.

Due to the alertness of the Springfield Police, one Siegfried Weber, 21, a resident of Union, was arraigned before acting Magistrate James M. Cavley on a reckless driving charge. Young Weber according to police, was traveling at an excessive rate of speed when first noticed by Patrolman Robert Polewka in his cruiser on Meisel Ave. Police records state that a chase ensued through Springfield streets at a speed of 100 mph as clocked by the police cruiser, before Weber was finally apprehended on Morris Avenue heading toward Union.

"Report To People" Planned By Mayor

Residents of Springfield will be brought up to date on what's going on in the Township with the publication of the first of monthly reports by Mayor Vincent J. Bonadies.

The Mayor hasn't yet selected the title for his monthly statement but it will probably be presented as "My Report to the People of Springfield" with a lot of information on what's going on in the Township, what the plans are for the future and how citizens may help in solving some of the problems.

"I want this monthly report to be a fireplace chat with residents of Springfield," said Mayor Bonadies. "It has no political significance. It will make public information that has not been brought to light and which, I believe, the citizens should know. It will be like talking to all the people and a sounding board for some ideas we have which may or may not be, just what we need. I can answer questions and people can find out many things they would like to know about their Township."

Mayor Bonadies and his two Democratic colleagues, Township Committeemen Dan Lucy and Howard Flammer, are also keeping their promise to voters that "they would be available as much as possible to citizens in the Municipal Building." Mayor Bonadies spends a good part of every day in his offices in the Township building. Mr. Lucy is available every Friday night and all day Saturdays and Mr. Flammer is in the Municipal Building part of practically every day.

Elliot Koretz, secretary of the Temple Teens, was in charge of the meeting. President of the group is Jerry Greenberg, Advisor is Bert Manhoff.

President of the Presbyterian Youth Group is George Rupp, Vice President, Timothy Stewart.

Town Officials In Huddle On New Highway

Mayor Vincent J. Bonadies and Township Engineer Alfred H. Swenson have been holding conferences with engineers and officials of the New Jersey State Highway Department in Trenton. The two local officials spent a good part of yesterday in Trenton but no hint as to the subject matter of these conferences would be made public by either one except that "it concerns the route of the new highway through Springfield."

There is considerable speculation that these officials meetings with the State Highway Department may have direct bearing on the route the new highway is to take through Springfield.

Neither Mayor Bonadies nor Engineer Swenson would say whether or not there are to be any changes in the last reported route of the new highway through the Township.

The several trips to Trenton have been made armed with city and county maps and, while the two Township officials refuse to divulge anything concerning their conferences with the Highway Department, it has been fairly well established that the new highway route through Springfield is the chief topic of their discussions.

Mayor Bonadies stated yesterday before starting on the trip to Trenton that "an announcement of importance may be made next week."

"New housing starts for 1959 will increase more than 20% throughout the country over last year," predicts Loren F. Gardiner, president of Crestmont Savings and Loan Association.

This rise in starts will contribute to Crestmont's anticipated increase in mortgage holdings. Mr. Gardiner estimates an increase over 1958 of 18.5% or $4,000,000 in holdings by Crestmont for a total of $25,000,000.

Most of Crestmont's mortgage lending is done in the conventional form in which a 30% to 40% down payment is encouraged.

A smaller part of Crestmont's business is made up of loans guaranteed by Federal agencies. These loans are granted within the limitations set by the Veterans Administration and the Federal Housing Administration.

In addition to financing home construction or purchase, Crestmont also grants loans to home owners for home improvement, repair, or modernization.

Union Jr. College To Begin Development Campaign

CAMPAIGN LEADERS — Warren Halsey of Springfield, secretary of the Board of Trustees of Union Junior College, Cranford, and Frank M. Kerr, a member of the Union County Regional District Board of Education, to lover specific gifts campaign for Union Junior College's silver-anniversary development fund in Springfield.

Union Junior College, which is now organizing its silver-anniversary development fund campaign in Springfield, has provided a start in higher education for more than 10,000 persons—a large majority from Union County.

Frank M. Kerr, Springfield representative on the Regional Board of Education, and Warren W. Halsey, retired superintendent of the Regional system and secretary of the college's Board of Trustees, are heading the special gifts campaign in Springfield.

Its basic aim is to provide the freshman and sophomore years of college equivalent to the first two years in the four-year institutions and to transfer our students with advanced standing to more than 300 colleges and universities throughout the country.

Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, U. J. C. president, said: "Union Junior College transfers — with advanced standing — 85 percent of its students who earn credit. Dr. MacKay said, and 85 percent of them do so well or better at their receiving institutions."

Dr. MacKay pointed out that the Cranford college emphasizes high academic standards and is fully accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools — the highest possible accreditation.

es are presented in both the Day and Evening Sessions in engineering, liberal arts (including pre-law), science (including pre-medical and pre-dental) and business administration. They parallel the first two years of work at four-year institutions. In addition, two-year terminal programs leading to an associate in arts degree are offered in the four curriculums.

"College policy," Dr. MacKay said, "Provides for admission of high school graduates who indicate a potential to do college work. National tests show that U.J.C. students are above the U.S. average in intelligence and achievement."

Dr. MacKay pointed out that Union Junior College is an independent, non-profit, two-year institution founded "for the specific purpose of enabling deserving young people who show promise of achievement on the college level to continue their education beyond high school."

Dr. MacKay said, "and the college will play an increasingly important role in developing the area's business and civic leaders in the future."

Dr. MacKay said, "Our evening session standards and programs are identical with the day session." Dr. MacKay explained, "We are proud of our faculty, which is augmented with part-time instructors who by day are leaders in area research and industrial firms."

An advantage of a community, two-year college such as Union Junior College is low tuition add the chance for students to keep expenses to a minimum by living at home, the U.J.C. president said. He added that many U.J.C. students find part-time employment in the Union County area.

"Our college will begin a new and exciting phase when we move into our new building in September," Dr. MacKay said.

The $1 million building is under construction on a 28-acre campus off Springfield avenue, opposite Nomahegan Park. It will contain four well-equipped science laboratories, a large library, 17 classrooms, theater-type lecture hall, cafeteria, faculty and student lounges and administrative offices.

The building will serve about 1500 students, enabling the college to more than double its present enrollment.

Student Teachers Gaining Experience In Local Schools

Six student teachers representing three New Jersey colleges are now doing their senior student teaching in the Springfield schools. With the close cooperation and guidance of experienced teachers they are gaining first hand experience in the art of teaching. They are offered the opportunity to participate in every phase of classroom work.

Upon completion of their student teaching and their remaining college courses, they will be graduated at the end of this school year with bachelor degrees in education.

Three of the students are from Newark State College at Union. Mrs. Estelle Monestersky, a kindergarten primary major, is working in kindergarten under the supervision of Miss Margaret Hergenhan in the James Caldwell School. In the same school, Mrs. Linda Halperin, a general elementary student, is practicing in fourth grade with Mrs. Dorothy Hendrix. A third, Newark State student, Mrs. Ina Weinstein, also a general elementary major, is practicing in Mrs. Ruth-Arey's third grade class in the Edward V. Walton School. It is of interest to note that two of the three supervising teachers in this group had also done their student teaching in the Springfield Schools.

Miss Mary Ann Torrieri of White Plains, New York, a student from Caldwell College for Women majoring in social studies and elementary education is also doing her student teaching in the third grade. Her cooperating teacher is Mrs. Margaret Dunn in the James Caldwell School.

James Manning and Robert Russomanno from Montclair State College are doing their student teaching in the Florence M. Gaudiner School. Mr. Manning, a social studies major is working in grades five through eight with Mrs. Priscilla Butler, Miss Diane Milley and Mr. Robert Van-Wagner as cooperating teachers. Mr. Russomanno, who is majoring in vocal and instrumental music, is teaching under the supervision of Mrs. Barbara Jaeger and Mr. John Alt, vocal and instrumental music teachers.

The Western Hemisphere's only Gaelic college is at St. Ann's, Nova Scotia.

Wendlands Need Help

Springfield, already known as the township with the warm heart, is again responding to a call for help.

The tragic death of young Danny Wendland last week has left his family in need of immediate funds. Neighbors are planning a drive for funds, starting it off with checks and contributions of their own.

Appeals have been made to the Springfield Sun to handle such a drive for funds. We are very eager to do what we can to help the Wendland family and will gladly accept checks for the widow and her three children.

"The tragedy that occurred last week to Danny Wendland," said one of the many letters to the Springfield Sun from a neighbor, "was a great shock to all of us who knew him. More shocking is to think of Mrs. Wendland, left a widow with three small children and no visual means of support.

"All the people we have talked to are of the same feelings, that most of the people of Springfield would gladly try to ease their burden with a donation given through the courtesy of the Springfield Sun."

Another letter, with a check enclosed, asks that it not be published. Part of it urges the Springfield Sun to "write a very heart warming story, and I know the people of Springfield will open their hearts and give most generously."

We feel confident that Springfield will do its share in this fund drive for the widow and three children. There is no need for sob-sister stories in the paper; the tragedy itself is enough.

Those wishing to help — and every one should give something — just make out your check to Lawrence Wendland and mail it to the Township Hall.

Better yet — send it to the Wendland family. The neighbors say funds are needed immediately.

Suburbia Today

"Now if you're all set, why don't you just go ahead and mow the lawn?"

"We'd like our tires to have some of this wonderful, invigorating country air."

TAKING CARE OF YOUR GARDEN

Chairman, Springfield Shade Tree Commission
By Edward A. Cardinal

All roses should be pruned regardless of type, or age. Few other shrubs should have as much wood removed as the familiar hybrid tea roses. In this climate it is customary to cut the bushes back a third, or more in late fall to prevent storm damage. The regular pruning is then performed in late March, or early April, as soon as the danger of freezing is past.

The amount to prune is not so simple to determine. There are two rules that form the basis of our pruning: 1—The weaker the bush the harder the pruning. 2—Prune hard for size of flower and light for quantity of flowers. The older varieties of tea roses are generally of weak constitution and should be cut back to leave only three to five of the strongest and youngest canes. Cut them back to leave two or three dormant buds. The newer varieties are more robust because of selective culture, and sometimes make canes an inch or more in diameter. It is not necessary to cut such roses back so severely. They will produce large-sized, long-stemmed flowers from a much larger plant. These varieties may be pruned to a height of 18 inches and, in extreme vigorous cases even to a greater height.

There is no exact height that is best for all varieties, and each plant should receive individual attention, but as a general rule not more than five canes should ever be left. Lateral canes can be left on strong canes, but should be headed back to a couple of strong dormant buds. Stiff, upright types should be pruned to leave outside buds in order to spread the new growth. Pruning to inside buds will cause a sprawling plant to assume a more upright character.

Q: I had a beautiful yellow tea rose last year, but this year the leaves were tiny and no flowers appeared. Did I prune it wrong?

A: You didn't mitch the rose during the winter, so the rose branches froze to the ground. The hardy understock, which the tea rose is budded onto, remained alive and sent up a sucker growth that did not flower. Remove the root and plant a new rose.

Q: Is it wise to remove the sucker shoots?

A: Yes. The suckers have smaller leaves as a rule, and grow from beneath the bud union. New growth above the union can be left to form new canes. Remove one old cane each year, leaving a strong, new shoot to replace it. Tip-plant this new growth when about a foot tall, otherwise it will continue to grow up through the plant. Tip-pinning will cause new shoots to develop laterals that will harden and mature during the first growing season. Proper treatment of these new shoots is the secret of good rose culture.

Q: How shall I cut the flowers for best reproduction?

A: Never leave more than two five-petaled leaves to each stem. Removal of flowers at the very top of the stem will result in many inferior short-stemmed blooms. Remember—the fewer the buds, the fewer the flowers, but they will be larger and more beautiful.

Springfield Is Interested!

Voters in Springfield, with six candidates seeking three places on the Board of Education, displayed enough interest to attract the largest vote ever cast in the Township in filling the vacancies last week.

However, it needed a lot of telephoning, a lot of whispering and much individual campaigning to bring out the vote. Which is a good sign that Springfield residents are very much interested in what is going on in our local school system.

Other communities aren't so happy about the little interest displayed in the school elections. School budgets were turned down in many districts. Voters couldn't be aroused even where there were contests.

The Elizabeth Journal, under an editorial heading, "Defeats and Misunderstandings," said school elections in New Jersey are conducted at the mid-year, mid-winter period when presumably the attention of parents would be best attuned to the educational needs of their communities. It is also a time well apart from the conventional partisan elections and even at a safe distance from municipal commission campaigns. Despite the weather, the school board budgets and members are up for scrutiny and decision when individual judgment should be uncontaminated by contravening influences.

The results each February attest inertia and distractions of overwhelming impact. Too few of the citizens reach the polling places, a common American failing, and the decisions on budgets are baffling.

The costs and responsibilities of education are aggravated by the terrific emphasis imposed upon it, especially in the realm of science, by international events and the hasty conclusion that Yankee skill has lagged behind Russian intelligence and intensity of purpose. Assuming a modicum of accuracy in that estimate of the situation (which may exist) the answer is not a headlong plunge in school expenditures. Many communities are smitten with fast spurts in school population and facilities adequate in former years now fall far short of proper standards. That necessity of expansion is apart from the frenzied concept of educational needs motivating many earnest people.

The statistics, particularly the defeats and squeaky victories, cry out that a gross lack of understanding prevails—that the school organizations and the public are far apart in their appraisal of necessary action.

This was demonstrated forcibly Tuesday, when more than 60 budgets were rejected, in part or wholly. This rebellion was not sectional by geographic or economic or social metes and bounds. In other towns, the budgets won shaky victories. A few reverses could be dismissed as minor local discontent, but the antipathy of the voters was too near epidemic level to be disregarded on that basis. An ubiquitous implication is that the usually casual taxpayer is becoming concerned about the cost of schooling at the local stratum, if not its integrity and its impact on his offspring.

The American voter is accustomed—and content—to have all information on public issues laid before him in simple form. He seldom voluntarily takes to the field in pursuit of information.

Several communities now are groping to reach the consciousness of their voters. The election returns show that either the proponents of the budget and candidates did not prove their contentions or that they were erroneous on figures and personalities. The voters were not "sold," to borrow a phrase from the world of trade.

These frequent and sometimes recurrent defeats are not beneficial to education. They intensify any suspicions of waste and undue luxury in local school programs; they often delay worthwhile construction and retard proper compensation for teachers. Defeats will continue until school officials and their adherents arrive at vastly broader accord with the voters. When each understands the other, budgets will cease to be controversial to the point of rejection.

How To Build A Ghost Town

A recent report from a western chamber of commerce tells how to have a ghost town. It is an interesting tongue-in-cheek report that will hold just as true in our town as it does in that town.

It went as follows:

Results are certain for those working to create more "Ghost Towns"—if these simple directions are followed either by accident or design. Hundreds of former thriving communities which are now silent towns prove there is more truth than poetry to the simple statement "It Could Happen Here."

Here are methods proved by experience to guarantee bankruptcy, insanity, disappointment, suicides—all by products of ghost towns.

1. Tell everyone you meet that you never buy anything at home; the merchants are a bunch of crooks, robbers and cheats.

2. Belittle all efforts for community betterment—the people trying to do these things are secretly making a lot of money, want to "run things" and their way of doing things is all wrong anyway.

3. Never waste money by advertising or waste time trying to attract trade to the town—nobody reads the ads, there is never anything in the paper, it is always late, and why should anyone want to come to town—it's a dead place.

4. Turn down all appeals for contributions, and do it in a nasty way so you won't be bothered again, because the money collected is eventually stolen by some "higher-ups" anyway.

5. Refuse to serve on all committees, have nothing to do with civic organizations—the Chamber of Commerce never does anything and is run by a bunch of dimwits who want only to get their names before the public. All the city officials are in office to get a share of the graft.

There you have it—five simple directions for producing a ghost town. It's hard for one person to do it, but if you keep at it, eventually you'll get some converts, and a Ghost Town.

YOUR LIBRARY

There was never a time when selecting books was so important. Books are pouring from the presses daily, and if we do not wish to drown our minds or bankrupt ourselves, we must choose our reading.

Figures released for 1958 show that 13,462 new titles were published in the United States and 16,172 in England. To keep up with books coming from only these two countries would mean reading eighty works per day. These do not count the books reprinted or published in all the many other countries of the world. This is truly an appalling flood of books.

It is interesting to notice how these titles fall into groups. Those from the United States are divided as follows:

Biography	697
Children's	1,522
Fiction	2,235
Music	97
Poetry, Drama	451

In all groups except biography, England published more books than we. Here we outranked the British: 697 biographies for us, and 577 for them.

The huge number of titles poses a big problem for a small library such as Springfield's. People come here to read for pleasure, for mental stimulation in general, and to solve specific problems. With such a diversity of purposes, many titles must be considered in order to choose a few.

The skyrocketing cost of books is accenting this problem, as well as the limit on space. For all of these reasons, each new title added to the Springfield collection is being scrutinized most carefully and every effort is made to choose those of lasting value. J. A. Langford has said, "A wise man will select his books, for he would not wish to class all under the sacred name of friends."
