

Schools To Use Parish House For Classrooms

Following recommendation by E. G. Davenport, chairman of the school government committee, the local Board of Education authorized Superintendent E. F. Newslinger to proceed with necessary arrangements to house the various kindergarten classes in the new Presbyterian Parish House starting next September. This move was made at a meeting held on Tuesday evening and will obviate the necessity of putting the estimated 240 to 300 youngsters on double sessions.

A letter was received from County Superintendent William H. West in which he expressed preference for the Presbyterian building following a survey of all available locations. It was recommended by Mr. Newslinger that all kindergarten classes be held in one building. The interior of the building will require little or no revision for use by the schools. However, some expense will have to be incurred to surface the area outside the building to provide recreation space. It was stated that an estimated 240 to 300 children will be enrolled in next year's classes. This will require the employment of additional teachers. The room made available in the various schools will be utilized by relocating pupils in the lower grades.

A resolution in favor of a county high school for vocational training at the postgraduate level was adopted. The resolution, introduced by S. Bryan Hass and Edwin G. Davenport, will be sent to the Board of Freeholders.

Needs for vocational training in high schools are best met on the local level—the resolution pointed out. The board felt that it would be a disservice to students to force them to decide when entering high school whether to continue academic training or to select specialized vocational training program. A survey on the needs of industry for students trained in the various fields and of the rewards of such studies was recommended. A salary guide raising the minimum by $200 a year was adopted. ## To Solicit Funds For Ball Teams

A squad of 40 teams will launch the annual "fund drive" of the Springfield baseball league, on Saturday, April 11. Each team will consist of four or more boys supervised by an adult captain and signed to a specific area.

Complete coverage is anticipated and a generous response from each resident will enable the continuance of this program which now enters its sixth year. This baseball program consists of 24 teams, with over 400 boys playing America's favorite game. It is run by a group of adults who are in their time freely acting as directors, managers, coaches and score keepers. Any adult interested in taking active part in the many tasks of running this league, are requested to contact the League Secretary Bill Luckalew, 36 Denham Rd., DR. 5 1109.

Del Vecchio Named To Lead GOP Fight

Two important announcements were made at this week's meeting of the Springfield P. Public Club held in the American Legion home Monday evening. One was that Joseph Zaza, president of the club, would have to resign because he is being transferred to another part of the country by his firm. This would mean, it was announced, that the family would leave very shortly for another state. The other announcement was that Philip Del Vecchio, of 142 Henshaw avenue, has been selected to manage the local Republican campaign.

James W. Cawley and Paul H. Beck, GOP candidates for the two places on the Township Committee, were present at Monday night's meeting of the club and participated in discussing various aspects of the coming campaign.

PRESENT STATUS AND GOAL—Brownie Maria Nelson of 159 Pitt Road (left) points to the present amount of $800 reached by the Springfield Rotary Club in their drive to assist the local Girl Scouts. Girl Scout Mary Franklin (right) prints out the goal to be reached, $1200. Active solicitation of funds is planned for April 2 and runs to the 20th. Businessmen and industrialists are being called upon to lend a helping hand to the Scout program.

Civil Air Patrol Responds In Search for Missing Jet

1st Lt. Jens H. Hansen, Commander of Springfield Squadron, Civil Air Patrol and his unit were called early Sunday morning by New Jersey Wing, CAP to participate in a search for an Air Force F-86 Jet missing in this area.

The aircraft was coming from the Carolinas to New York and was last reported over Atlantic City. Springfield Squadron operating out of Morrisstown Airport with Flossham Park Squadron responded to the call after having originally planned on attending a New Jersey Wing Staff Officers Conference at McGuire Air Force Base.

Having had his personnel prepared to leave Springfield at 8 a. m. Sunday for McGuire, a quick change in uniform and direction took Lt. Hansen and his squadron to Morrisstown instead. The Cadet section of the unit responded "as quickly and all reported for duty. The search was hampered considerably by low ceiling and poor visibility and finally was called off at 4 p. m.

Those participating from Springfield were, 1st Lt. Jens Hansen, Commander; 1st Lt. Gladys Hansen, M-Sgt. Helen Henry, T-Sgt. Robert Henry, all of 24 Brook St., and Cadets Susan and Edward Kisch of Meisel avenue. Other personnel from Chatham, Millburn and Summit also were present.

Businessmen Urged Boost RC Donation

James "Cawley" and Jack Stiffman, Chairman and the Springfield Business Division for the 1959 Red Cross Drive of Springfield, urge all business men and women to forward their annual contributions without further delay.

So far the returns have been lagging and the Springfield business people are under by more than half of last year's total. Contributors can save the Committee considerable expense and effort by mailing their contributions now. It is the plan of the committee to reach all business organizations in town, first with another letter and then with a personal call.

The theme of the drive this year is "People Helping People." The need is very urgent and this year let us try to put our town up on top where it belongs. In past years all the surrounding municipalities contributed far more than Springfield.

Holy Name Honors Past Presidents

Conway, G. M. Turk, Frank Ott, Sr., H. E. Monroe and L. A. Muench.

The guest speaker will be Monsignor Vincent Coburn, of the Archdiocesan Chancery Office. All the men of the parish are invited to attend.

Local Regional Junior Wins Oratory Test

Bruce Goldstein, son of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Goldstein 26 Kipling Avenue, Springfield, N. J., who won the American Legion Union County Oratorical contest, was also voted winner of the Tri-County contest held at Morris Hills Regional High School. The Tri-County contest consisted of winners of Morris, Essex, and Union counties.

The judges were Reverend Negola, District Court Judge William H. Healy, John Burnside, Principal of Thomas Jefferson High School, Denville, and H. Irwin, American Legion Judge-Advocate of Morris County. Bruce, who is being sponsored by Continental Post 228 of Springfield, will represent Union County at the state finals to be held at West State High School in Trenton on March 28.

Bruce, a junior at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, won the county finals of the American Legion oratorical contest last Thursday night at Martin Walberg Post 3.

Bruce gave a prepared speech on "Our Constitution—the Greatest Constitution the World Has Ever Known."

All contestants gave extemporaneous talks on: "The Right of the Citizens of the United States to Vote Shall Not be Denied or Abridged by the United States or any Individual State on Account of Sex."

Jonathan Dayton High School, which furnished the winner, was awarded the Fred H. Smith Memorial Trophy by Union County. The trophy is held for one year.

The beginning orchestra consists of fourth, fifth and sixth grade students from the James Caldwell, Raymond Chisholm, Edward Walton and Florence M. Gaudineer Schools. The advanced orchestra is comprised of sixth, seventh and eighth grade students from the Florence Gaudineer School, and is the most experienced performing group in the school system.

Citizens' Committees Submit School Reports

The Springfield Citizen's Advisory Committee met on Tuesday, March 17 at the Florence Gaudineer School with the sites committee submitting both a majority and a minority report. Both were accepted by the committee as a whole.

The majority report of the Sites Committee recommended consolidation of the Board of Education property, the Township owned acreage, and the Harenberg property fronting on South Springfield avenue opposite the Prince farm, and running westerly to the Walton School site as the most logical site available for school purposes.

While this property was its primary recommendation, the sites committee pointed out that the presently owned school sites are also available for additions or expansions as needed.

The minority report recommended two sites. The Smith tract and the property on South Springfield avenue described in the majority report. The report also considered additions to existing facilities. They do not feel it advisable to narrow consideration to just one site for new construction.

The Construction Committee made a preliminary report on their progress thus far, and stated that they would have a final report ready for the next meeting. The next meeting of the Citizens' Committee will be on Tuesday, March 24, at 8 o'clock in the Florence Gaudineer School.

The statistical committee has also submitted a comprehensive report regarding the need for additional school facilities in Springfield and recommendations on how to meet the problem. Following is part of that report: General Findings 1. Our residence maps show no concentration of children in any particular neighborhood—whatever their grade. 2. Kindergarten registration figures for the Caldwell School have stabilized at about 60 children per year. Kindergarten registrations in the Chisholm school, while not yet stabilized, will become relatively stabilized in 1963 at a figure much below the present enrollment and the maximum enrollment of 108 predicted for 1960. Stabilization for Chisholm should be between 55 and 60 new registrations per year.

The Walton School has a pattern similar to Chisholm in that the peak year of 1959-1960 students will occur. The stabilization point however, is not in view. Findings reveal that most of the expected growth will come in this general area—Baltusrol, Top, Princes Farm, Garden Apartments near Route 22 and various small parcels of land that lend themselves to residential development.

3. There is no problem at Caldwell now or in the foreseeable future; classes are actually smaller than the ideal of 25 children. The proposed highway through this section will also remove children from this school. At present the Garden Oval development is sending its peak load of children to this school. When this eases off in a few years the enrollment will drop considerably. 4. Chisholm school at present is short 8-9 classrooms, if the 4th and 5th grades now in Gaudineer are returned, with the present zoning.

5. The pupil enrollment of the Gaudineer School when divided by the number of classrooms available leaves the Gaudineer School short of three rooms as of September 1959 if a class size of 25 is to be maintained. However, if these children can be accommodated adequately through the efficient use of the departmental system, no additions will be necessary. The committee is still checking this problem and will report its findings as soon as possible. One room at the Gaudineer School must always be available for educable children leaving the remaining 23 rooms available for the 6th, 7th and 8th grade children of Springfield.

6. The Building Inspector's map indicated maximum future development of about 1700 new homes including the development of Baltusrol Country Club and the Quarry. This has not been included in arriving at figures of school needs because it is very long range. (Continued on page 7)

February Taxes Continue Upward

Springfield collected $81,649 more in taxes for February 1958. Tax collector Charles H. Huff reports that $287,898 was received by his office last month as against $206,249 for the same period last year. This brings the total for 1959 through February to $710,692 compared with $546,793 for the first two months of 1958. This is a difference of $163,899.

Fewer Voters Eligible For '59 Primary

Registration of eligible voters for the coming primary dropped in Springfield according to figures released by the County Board of Elections.

A total of 6,735 will be eligible to vote in the primaries which is slightly less than the 6,739 total of those who could vote in the 1958 general election. The 1959 total, however, is slightly ahead of the 6,681 eligible voters in the 1958 primary election.

The Board of Elections listed 229,339 voters eligible for the primary elections April 21. The total is a drop of 4,250 from the general election registry last fall and 3,456 less than the 1958 primary total.

Every town in the county except Fanwood, Mountainside and Scotch Plains showed dips in their registry figures since last fall. And the increases in the three towns were negligible.

Fanwood went up 10, Mountainside 37, and Scotch Plains 55. This year is the third year and customary low point in the four-year election cycle beginning with the presidential election. The total will shoot up next year for the presidential voting.

Mr. Best, long associated with the cause of public education in New Jersey, signified his acceptance at a meeting at Mountclair State College of representatives of state educational groups. Included were delegates from Rutgers, Newark College of Engineering, and the six state colleges.

"I feel very strongly that we need to insure New Jersey's future by making sure that every qualified youth has a place to attend college if he desires to do so," said Mr. Best. "The comprehensive study made by the State Board of Education makes it emphatically clear that failure to expand our publicly-supported colleges immediately would leave at least 11,000 to 12,000 New Jersey boys and girls without a college to go to by 1965, or before."

The Springfield Democratic Club will hold its Annual Dance and Buffet Supper May 28, at the Shackamaxon Country Club, Westfield. Cy Greene's orchestra has been engaged for the evening. Co-chairmen of the dance are Janet Lawit and John Bell. Tickets are available at the home of Mrs. Lawit, 8 Essex Road.

 Discussion of a proposal for increased training in vocational courses resulted in the adoption of a resolution advising the county superintendent that it is the opinion of the board that the age level of grade school pupils is too low to permit much selectivity of courses offered.

Daniel Murray, a teacher who has been in charge of obtaining substitute teachers each morning, will be paid $4 a day extra instead of $3.50 starting in September, the board decided.
 Tuition for pupils who are not township residents was increased by $50 a year to $500.

They are expanding their business to enter into these fields as a part of their continuing effort to broaden service to the insurance buying public.

Allstate, the largest writer of automobile and truck insurance in New Jersey, plans to enter its eighth new line of insurance shortly, and these men will be among the 183 agents fully trained and licensed for these new coverages.

Simplified System Of Mort. Payments

The new simplified system of making mortgage payments, inaugurated during the first part of this year at Crestmont Savings and Loan Association, shows evidence of effectiveness in an almost fifty per cent increase in early payments, according to Loren F. Gardiner, President.

The mortgagee, provided with a book of coupons and a supply of envelopes to cover a period of 18 months, can handle his payments with more ease than under the previous system and save time as well. Payments can be made by mail or in person at either the 1888 Springfield Avenue office or the association's office in Springfield at 175 Morris Avenue.

This new method, undertaken to handle Crestmont's growth, is being used throughout the country by many financial institutions of equal size and larger. Easier, economical and faster to handle on the part of personnel in the association, this method readily adjusts to Crestmont's anticipated increase in mortgage holdings.

Chisholm Kids Hold 2 Programs

Parents were guests at two separate spring programs which were held this week at the Raymond Chisholm School.

One of the programs, entitled "Around the World" was presented by second and third grade children. It featured songs and dances from the United States, Mexico, Hawaii, Spain, Denmark and Scotland.

The other program was given by the kindergarten and first grade pupils. The theme was "The Waltz of the Flowers," and it welcomed the approaching spring season.

Springfield Teachers Launch Study Of Child Behavior In Local Schools

Twenty-one teachers in the Springfield Elementary Schools are this year engaged in a program of child and youth study. The group is one of approximately sixty-five such groups in the State of New Jersey. Similar studies are being made in many states throughout the nation.

This program is not an innovation in elementary education. It had its beginning in 1938 with the American Council on Education. A division of the Council on Education was established at the University of Chicago with the purpose of studying scientific material regarding human behavior and compiling this material in such a way that it would be more easily understood. Subsequently, an Institute for Child Study was established at the University of Maryland. Many graduates have gone out from this center to become leaders in the field throughout the country.

In 1958 the New Jersey Department of Education received funds from the Grant Foundation which made it possible to provide personnel for a Child and Youth Study Office in Trenton. In June 1958, the teachers of Springfield were given an opportunity to enroll in the program on a voluntary basis. Because the study is more successfully carried on in small groups, two such groups were formed from the list of teachers who expressed an interest in it.

Three objectives: The purpose of the program carried out through this center is threefold: to become familiar with scientific knowledge regarding human behavior, to develop skills in collecting and recording information about individual children, and to put into practice in the curriculum the knowledge gained through this study.

The persons responsible for the leadership of these groups are Mrs. Lillian Hayward, assisted by Miss Claire Hoopman, and Mrs. Betty Powers, assisted by Mrs. Rose Rocco. These leaders have taken part in the study program for the past two years and are now in their third year of Child Study.

The program is designed to last four years. In the first year the study deals primarily with the physical development of the child. During the second year the sociological development is stressed and the third year is devoted to psychological development. The

12,000 Patients New Record at Overlook

Walter Beinecke, Jr., president of Overlook Hospital, summarizing his report for the year just ended declaring, "We can look to the future with confidence, however, because there has never been a time when this hospital had a better staff; a more experienced management; a higher prestige in the communities it serves; a large number of generous friends; finer facilities; or a better record for professional performance."

Mr. Beinecke reports that Overlook took a major part in serving its many participating communities. There were 12,000 patients treated last year which is a new record.

Another record was the delivery of 2,023 babies, including 23 sets of twins.

The economic importance of the hospital to the area is shown by the payroll of $1,693,191.00 and expenditures of $350,000.00 for supplies and services. It is hospital policy to draw on local businessmen for its needs whenever it can do so.

The Overlook Hospital president noted that all present available space including inadequate solariums are now in use to house patients. An unfortunate aspect of the overcrowding is the present delay for some operations, which can be made safely, in order to deal with emergency cases. Mr. Beinecke reports that this problem will be cleared up when the new $3,728,000.00 building is completed in the fall. This addition is proceeding on schedule. In order to avoid an undesirable new construction, the trustees mortgage increase to finance the have agreed to continue their fund raising program of Annual Giving.

Doodles Analyzed By Rotary Speaker

Doodles are a product of the subconscious mind and often betray a person's innermost thoughts, Miss Helen King of Elizabeth, a handwriting and doodle analyst, told the Rotary Club Tuesday at the Baltusrol Golf Club.

Miss King said Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is an inveterate doodler and that his assistants doodles executed during conference usually destroy his notes and as a precaution, the speaker pointed out the word "doodle" originated in a motion picture, "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington."

Examples of doodles drawn by well-known persons were displayed by Miss King. She was introduced by Milton Koshen who arranged for the program. Miss King is the author of books on the psychology of doodles and how to win contests in television programs.

NAMED BY YOUNG GOP

Miss Elizabeth L. Cox, Springfield resident, has been named vice president of the Union County Young Republicans at the group's convention held in Plainfield recently.

H. Ray Kirwan, of Cranford, was named president and, in his address to the delegates at the conclave, urged Republicans "to stop selling GOP defeatism. The county GOP is a strong, vibrant organization whose product is still good," he said.

Regional High To Present Kerr-Play

Joseph Trinity, head of dramatics at the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, has announced the names of the members of the cast for the forthcoming production of the senior play, Stardust, by Walter Kerr.

Leading roles will be played by Judy Vance, Tex Nolen, Bill Bender, Diane Berger, Bob Cadden, Fred Gronau, Maureen Hoyer, Roberta Kappstatter, and Elaine Kern.

The play is a comedy about the visit to a dramatic school by a New York actress for the purpose of obtaining a "fresh" approach to the theater. The students of the school, however, are much more "advanced" in the theater than the visiting actress and what they learn from each other contributes to the hilarity of the play.

Production date has been set for Friday evening, March 20, at 8:00 p.m.

Jean E. McMurray In Concert Group

Miss Jean E. McMurray will play in the Bucknell University Symphony Orchestra when that group makes a three-day concert tour early this month.

Doings At Regional High School

By Marsha Wilson

The cast has been released for Region's first operetta, "The Student Prince." Many Springfield students have parts in our first musical show. Ronald Barz, senior from Springfield, has the male lead. He portrays "Karl Franz." Other students having principal parts are Art von Linden, Mark Biddelman, Cindy Brande, Jay Gladstone, Cathie Silance, Judy Vance, Margot Berier, Barry Marler, and George Seltzer, all residents of this town. Springfielders in the choruses include: Ed Prichard, Ron Bumer, Phil Lord, Rich S. ssman, Faith Zalko Elaine Giannatasio, Diane Ashfield, and Elise Lindauer. Dancers from Springfield include: Joyce Field, dance captain, Joan Pitney, and Sue Melick. Incidental parts of maids and ladies, in waiting have been given to Nancy Friedman, Phyllis Kaplan, and Barbara Diamond.

The A. S. Department of Regional has been very busy. They are presently engaged, increasing their bee hives from four to six, growing many vegetables and flowers, and raising chicks for broilers to use at their annual parent-son dinner to be held in April. A parent-son dinner will also be given by the Kiwanis Key Club. The meal will not be Regional's, however, but instead turkey.

In the home management department, each girl has been given a "husband." On April 23rd, the girls will take a field trip to Koo Brothers in Rahway where they will select and price furniture to fit their "husband's salary." The girls also try to make out a budget to live on with their limited salary. In April a Lenox table setting contest will be held. The clothing department is preparing to put on a fashion show entitled "Around The World In Eighty Days" for assembly. Paula Frankel, a junior from Springfield, wrote the complete commentary. Ann Sears, also from Springfield, will read the commentary.

Regional is brought honors by way of Bruce Goldstein, a Junior from Springfield. Bruce won the county finals in oratorical speaking and went on to win the district finals, which qualifies him to enter the state finals. Should he win this, he will receive a $400 Rutgers scholarship. Good luck, Bruce!

Our debate team has also been lucky. They will go to Florida in June to compete in U. S. national debate tournament. The team consists of George Seltzer, Kenneth Ryder, Bruce Goldstein, from Springfield, and William Van Nest, from Mountaineer.

Our senior play "Stardust" will be given this Friday evening, March 20th, at 8:15 p. m. The three act comedy is being rehearsed every evening. General admission tickets are $1.00. Come out and support the senior class!

Fellowship Group Hears Centurions

The Centurions under the leadership of Ben Moring will be at the First Presbyterian Church Parish House on Sunday, March 15 at 7:30 p.m. This was the regular meeting of the Westminster Fellowship Group and for this particular meeting this group had invited their parents, and other young people's group and parents and friends from the surrounding churches to be their guests and hear this wonderful group tell of their experiences.

The Centurions are organized as a simplified Marine Corps, with modified uniforms and a military system of rank. Ben Moring is a "Colonel" only in the Centurions and the boys are cadets or officers. The rules are simple and inexorable. Boys are eligible for commissioned rank for example, only if they neither smoke nor drink. And any boy committing a major offense, is expelled from the unit by court-martial.

These are boys that are considered themselves "tough" and roamed the slums with weapons, stole etc.

The Centurions have won the sponsorship of the Protestant Council of the City of New York. For two months every summer two corps of the Centurions are encamped at the Council's summer camp at Dingman's Ferry, Pennsylvania. Four Presbyterian Churches in Manhattan—Fifth Avenue, Madison Avenue, Emmanuel and Rutgers—are also supporting the Centurions.

Ben Moring organized the Centurions three years ago. As a boy in the back-alleys of Philadelphia, he had been a gang leader, etc. In his teens he became a Christian; hitchhiking his way around the United States, partly to escape his background and partly to keep a jump ahead of a persistent feeling that God wanted him to become a minister. While working at a logging camp in Oregon, Ben narrowly escaped losing his life. He graduated from the Biblical Seminary, New York and is looking forward to ordination as a Presbyterian Minister. In Seminary, the course of Mr. Moring's life began bending back to gangland, thus the Centurions were organized.

Any boys who played on a Youth League Major Team last year need not attend; however, they must give their completed registration cards to their Team Managers.

Boys who did not play on a Babe Ruth Major League team in 1958 should report to Gaudineer Field with their completed registration cards and baseball gloves. The boys who played on a Babe Ruth Major League team last year need not attend, but they must give their completed registration cards to their team managers. In event of rain or unplayable conditions, tryouts for both Leagues will be held on April 4.

A meeting will be held tonight, March 12 at the V.F.W. Headquarters on Morrison Rd. Adults interested in the activities of the Junior Baseball Leagues are invited to attend.

Citizens

(Continued from Page 1) and well beyond the five year projection of our earliest pre-school children—and it is relatively unpredictable as to time and place of development. In the development of any large tract of land, it is recommended that school requirements be studied and provided for simultaneously with the residential construction.

General Conclusions:

1. There is an immediate (1959-1960) and a long range school problem; specifically at Chisholm and Walton.
2. Rezoning can alleviate the need for double sessions on the immediate situation; specifically by moving children from Chisholm to Caldwell, and by increasing class sizes beyond the ideal of 25 but less than 30 exists.
3. Rezoning at all times be considered an integral part of school construction planning and must be considered for full utilization of the existing school plants.

The following are the only reasonable possible solutions to the Springfield school problems.

Solution 1. (a)—A new elementary school K-5 in the area of the Walton School. It should be an eight-room building. The number of rooms required must be increased when the amount of children from the Garden Apartments are determined. This building must lend itself to expansion when the need arises. This will eliminate the Walton School problem for the present. (b) An addition of 5 or 6 rooms to the Chisholm school. This represents a long range solution to the Chisholm school problem. (c) It is possible that an addition to the Gaudineer school will also be necessary.

Solution 2. Rezone Twin Oaks oval, Surrey lane, Glenview drive, Cambridge terrace, Northview terrace and Midvale drive—children from Chisholm to the Walton school. The following additions will then be necessary: (a) 8 or 9 rooms to Chisholm. (b) 6 rooms to Walton. (c) A possible addition to Gaudineer, use as the need arises.

Solution 3. Will leave adequate room for the addition of three or four children to each class in the Chisholm school when the need arises. (Jeffrey Estates).

Solution 4. The construction of an upper grade school in the Walton school area. The school size should be 14 to 16 rooms. The construction of this upper grade school will alleviate the crowding in the Chisholm school and the possible crowding of the Gaudineer school.

All 6th and 8th grade children living in the Walton area should be rezoned to this new school, thus releasing rooms in Gaudineer for the upper grades of Chisholm to use as the need arises. By leaving the dividing grade between the upper and lower grade school flexible, the crowding at the Walton school will also be alleviated. This is the only solution the Statistics Committee can find, where the construction of one school can alleviate the crowding of three schools.

Regional Sr. Play Is This Friday PM

"Stardust," this year's senior play of the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, will be presented Friday evening, March 20, at 8 o'clock in the school's Halsey Hall.

Featured in the cast will be Judy Vance, Tex Nolen, Bill Bender, Diane Berger and Bob Cadden, Fred Gronau, Maureen Hoyer, Roberta Kappstatter and Elaine Kern.

The play is a comedy about the visit to a dramatic school by a New York actress for the purpose of obtaining a fresh approach to the theater. The students of the school, however, are much more advanced in the theater than the visiting actress, and what they learn from each other contributes to the hilarity of the play.

Joseph Trinity, head of dramatics at Regional, and the members of his cast have had much experience in the theater. The play promises to be one of the best dramatic presentations by the school in recent years.

Loren F. Gardiner On Nat. Committee

Loren F. Gardiner, president of Crestmont Savings and Loan Association, was appointed to the 1959 Committee on Management of Branch Offices of the United States Savings and Loan League; it was announced today by C. B. Mitchell, president of the league.

A nationwide trade organization of savings and loan associations, the league represents more than 4,400 savings institutions.

The program of the Committee of Management of Branch Offices includes research studies of branch management problems and meetings to provide a means for the exchange of ideas and operating experience on branch office operations. Crestmont is one of the few New Jersey associations operating a branch office.

Mr. Gardiner, largely responsible for the organization of Crestmont in 1942, has been active in the savings and loan industry for 36 years.

Mr. Gardiner has taken an active part in community activities. A member of the Rotary Club of Maplewood, he served as president for the 1946-47 term. He was elected to two terms as president of the Businessmen's Association of Maplewood. He has been a member of the Audit Committee for Maplewood and is presently serving on the Cancer Fund Drive.

Students Balk

Three new schools in two years, Kristiansen said, would give the students a feeling of insecurity, and hamper their success in school work and extracurricular activities.

Dr. Warren M. Davis, superintendent of schools, and members of the board told the dozen parents that the change might not provide an ideal situation, but it would result in the greatest good to the majority of the regional district's students.

Dr. Davis advised against keeping 1,700 students in Jonathan Dayton because "the school is too crowded for maximum effectiveness this year, while the Arthur L. Johnson High School can easily accommodate the extra students."

Your Library

The group of people who met at the Free Public Library of Springfield to discuss the book "THE UGLY AMERICAN" by W. J. Lederer and Eugene Burdick were disturbed by the many implications of this book. All agreed that they could not suggest any easy solutions to the many problems. A few felt that perhaps the picture had been painted blacker than necessary. All agreed upon leaving that they had a great deal to think over.

Messrs. May and Whitcomb were admirable leaders. It is hoped they will be able to lead the Great Books Discussions next year.

From the library point of view, "THE UGLY AMERICAN" has had important results. As a best seller, it has reached a mass audience and brought about a climate in public opinion which favors discussion of the important questions raised by these stories. Everyday new books are appearing which are written by people well acquainted with the area of Southeast Asia and whose intellectual standing makes them competent to contribute worthwhile ideas. A list naming a few of these books follows:

THE ART OF OVERSEASMANSHIP, edited by Harlan Cleveland and G. J. Mangone suggests patterns of conduct and methods of training people who are to go overseas. These suggestions apply not only to those in the diplomatic and government service, but to individuals conducting private business.

DIPLOMACY OF SOUTHEAST ASIA: 1945-1958 by R. H. Fifield is a large book packed with information about the relations of the States in the area to each other and to the major world powers.

TRAGEDY OF AMERICAN DIPLOMACY by W. A. Williams is a historical resume covering a longer period of time and a wider area.

MAJOR GOVERNMENTS OF ASIA by H. C. Hinton and others has over a hundred pages on Southeast Asia.

COMMONWEALTH ECONOMY IN SOUTHEAST ASIA by T. H. Silcock is a short volume in the Duke University Commonwealth series covering economic and political problems in this area.

THE LITTLE WORLD OF LAOS by Oden Meeker is a delightful book descriptive of that country.

In the appendix of their book "THE UGLY AMERICAN," the authors recommend that everyone read Mao Tse-Tung in order to get a firsthand account of the Chinese leader's thinking. HIS "Selected Works" in four volumes has been added to the Springfield collection.

All these titles and others show how profoundly the thinking of the American people has been stirred. This also is confirmed by the fact that the largest group of people to attend the library book discussion so far, came out on Tuesday evening and had a great many opinions to express.

The last book in the series "Novels of Protest," "DOCTOR ZHIVAGO," will be the subject of the March 24th meeting and raises questions of equal significance. It is to be hoped that the people who came to the first three discussions received so much mental stimulation that they will all return for the last evening. Mr. Robert B. Potter will be the leader.

NAMED BY HOSPITAL
Dr. Frank Burstein of 485 Mountain Avenue was recently named as an associate in eye service at Beth Israel Hospital, Newark. Dr. Burstein has served as oculist at the Beth for 20 years.

The historic term "Thespians" for actors comes from Thespis, known as the father of Greek tragic drama.

Dr. Kaufman Elected as Blue Shield Trustee

Dr. Jerome G. Kaufman of Springfield, nationally-known internist and cardiologist and founder of the New Jersey Heart Association, has been elected to the Board of Trustees of the Blue Shield Medical-Surgical Plan of New Jersey, it was announced today by Dr. Royal A. Schaaf, president.

Dr. Kaufman's election has been approved by the board of trustees of the Medical Society of New Jersey, which organized New Jersey Blue Shield in 1942 and cooperates in its operation. The plan, which has paid well over $100 million toward doctor bills of its subscribers since its foundation, ranks seventh largest in the nation with nearly two million persons enrolled.

A recent recipient of the New Jersey Heart Association's distinguished service medallion, Dr. Kaufman was the first president of that organization, from 1948 to 1951. He presently is a member of the board of directors of the American Heart Association and its nominating committee.

Dr. Kaufman is a past-president of the Essex County Medical Society and former president of the medical staff of Beth Israel Hospital, Newark. He is presently serving as president of the Essex County Ch-Ill Service and as a trustee of the Medical Society of New Jersey.

A graduate of New York University School of Medicine in New York, Dr. Kaufman is now a member of the teaching staff of the New York Medical College. He is also a consultant to Monmouth Memorial Hospital, Long Branch; Fitkin Memorial Hospital, Neptune, and Riverview Hospital, Red

Lorrie Lewis New Chairman Cancer Drive

Mrs. Philip Lewis was appointed chairman of the 1959 Springfield Cancer Crusade today by Elliott Pachtman, crusade chairman for the County Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

"Mrs. Lewis has done an outstanding job as crusade chairman in the last three years," Mr. Pachtman said, announcing the appointment. "Springfield is exceedingly fortunate in having such an enthusiastic worker to lead its cancer control program." Mrs. Lewis was president of Springfield's Teacher Association in 1954 and 1955. She is a member of the Dramatic Workshop in Springfield and The League of Women Voters. "Our crusade this year, as in past years, has two major objectives," said Mrs. Lewis in accepting the appointment. "The first is to acquaint every family in Springfield with cancer's seven danger signals and to urge them to see their own doctor promptly should they notice one of them. The second is to raise funds to support the research, medical, volunteer services and education programs of the American Cancer Society."

Mrs. Lewis pointed out that much of the money collected will be used in Springfield to pay for calls by the visiting nurse on cancer patients, the raw materials for cancer dressings which are supplied to all patients free of charge and to underwrite the cost of Springfield's patients who use the facilities of the Green Tumor Clinic in Elizabeth or the similar clinic at Overlook Hospital.

Mrs. Lewis is a graduate of Erasmus Hall High School in Brooklyn and holds a B.A. degree from Hunter College in New York City. She is well-known to Springfield residents as the Lorrie Lewis of the "Springfield Sun." She has lived in Springfield for almost seven years, currently residing at 385 Milltown Road with her husband and two boys. Her husband is head of the Philip L. Lewis Company, management consultant.

This Week in Washington... Stamps Actually Do Save Money for Mom, Dept. of Agriculture Discovers

By Stanley E. Cohen, Washington Editor

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22—The U.S. Department of Agriculture has come up with the proof: There is a Santa Claus. According to a report on trading stamps which the department expects to release in the near future, Santa Claus is the nearby supermarket.

The department's experts had set out some time ago to find out what the cost of trading stamps is to their customers.

The department compared prices at stamp and non-stamp supermarkets in 21 cities between November, 1953, and March 1957. It found that stamp-giving stores on their prices. On the other hand, non-stamp stores charge each customer an average of 10 cents for each stamp.

OVERLOOK HOSPITAL

THE CHALLENGE AND THE PERFORMANCE

A Year End Report by the President

Overlook Hospital ends another fiscal year in excellent shape to meet what is, obviously, a very large challenge ahead.

During the year just ended the hospital took care of a record number of patients—12,000.

It participated in the delivery of 2,023 babies, 1,078 boys, 945 girls, 23 sets of twins, but no triplets, quadruplets or quintuplets.

An Annual Giving campaign in the fall of 1958 produced the largest amount ever raised by such a campaign—$241,954.

During the year Overlook, with the help of the Hartford Foundation, inaugurated a School of Practical Nursing, a significant development in the field of nursing services for hospital patients, and was delighted to find interest very high. More good candidates wanted to enroll than the school could accommodate.

The hospital was most generously supported by an outstanding Women's Auxiliary, by 110 Twigs, by 1,100 volunteer workers.

ECONOMIC IMPORTANCE

During the year Overlook was again a major employer in the area it serves with a payroll of $1,693,191.

The hospital again spent large sums with suppliers and services in the area—$250,000. It is a policy of the hospital to give preference to local suppliers whenever it can do so.

At the end of the fiscal year, the credit of Overlook was at a level which permitted it to obtain the best possible terms. It pays its bills promptly and on time. It takes full advantage of discounts for cash, and payments.

PROFESSIONAL STANDING

Like all hospitals, Overlook is a service facility made available to the communities it serves only through associated physicians. People do not enter hospitals except in the care of a doctor. At the end of the year just closed Overlook had a notable staff of 178 doctors from 23 communities.

Overlook continues to have all the necessary approvals from all of the accrediting agencies in the medical field.

The State Board of Control of Institutions and Agencies

NEW BUILDING

Overlook's new building is going up on schedule. It is expected to be available by October 1959. Meanwhile the hospital is making maximum use of all its presently available space—including solariums not designed for patient care and much needed for convalescents. Because it needs additional space for surgery it continues to find it necessary frequently to postpone operations which can be safely delayed in order to deal with emergency cases first.

The new building, when completed, is expected to cost $3,728,000, with all equipment. It will include the 8th floor and we hope the 5th which we thought might have to be postponed because of insufficient funds. It now appears that this total bill can be paid from money which will be available out of contributions, from reserves, and from Annual Giving if the Overlook mortgage is increased from the planned amount, in September, of $150,000 to $650,000. This increase is not desirable and we are still seeking to avoid it. The Trustees of Overlook have agreed with the lender that they will continue their fund raising program of Annual Giving.

It is a source of satisfaction and pride to the Trustees of Overlook that the mortgage of the hospital, which was made necessary by the construction of the present main building, once stood at $425,000 and has been reduced $255,000 over a period of 5 years by regular payments.

During the fiscal year just concluded Overlook Hospital again stayed in the black for the fourth consecutive year from an operating viewpoint and was thus enabled to make a contribution of $35,942 from operating income to the financing of the new building and providing reserves necessary for its operation in the first year.

GROWTH INEVITABLE

Looking ahead we are aware that the population of this area will continue to grow—as was foreseen when the present Greater Overlook plan was adopted and the architectural drawings made. All the hospitals in the area we serve are crowded and becoming more so. Patients cannot find facilities outside the area because the need for space is universal. There is no alternative if our communities are to have the protection of a first rate hospital—except to go ahead with our long range plan for Overlook which involves, within the next ten years, the completion of Building D at an estimated current cost of $2,500,000. This we are resolved to do.

THE BLUE CROSS PROBLEM

We are also aware that the problem of Blue Cross must be solved by some more sensible plan than the present one, which transfers the burden to New Jersey hospitals.

Blue Cross, as everyone knows, is in financial difficulties, largely because the State has not approved adequate rate increases and Blue Cross Trustees have not sufficiently insisted on the justice of their demands. It has promised more than it can pay for in the way of services. The State's solution to this problem is to put a ceiling on what Blue Cross can pay hospitals—a ceiling which means losses to the hospitals, and endangers them financially and thus jeopardizes medical care.

This is a thoroughly unsound and totally unfair arrangement and Overlook, along with the other leading hospitals of the State, has already begun to take action toward finding a realistic solution to the problem of insured hospitalization. The need for a Blue Cross which is actually sound is obvious.

WE LOOK AHEAD WITH CONFIDENCE

At no time has Overlook been without its problems, and the present is certainly no exception. We can look to the future with confidence, however, because there has never been a time when this hospital had a better staff; a more experienced management; a higher prestige in the communities it serves; a larger number of generous friends; finer facilities; or a better record for professional performance.

On behalf of the 43 Trustees, who freely give so much of their time to public service through the hospital, and for all the officers of Overlook, I wish to express a deep appreciation for the support which the hospital has received during the past year from so many fine people inside and outside its organization and to ask a continuation of such support.

WALTER BEINECKE, Jr.,
President.

Italian Pizza has taken America by storm and a recipe combining pizza ingredients with veal chops was selected winner of our Favorite Recipe Contest this week. The cash prize goes to Mrs. Benjamin Perrone of 896 Pinewood Rd., Union.

This contest is open to anyone with a recipe to submit. Just mail a copy to this newspaper at the address in the upper left-hand corner of this page. Please include your telephone number. A $5 cash prize is awarded every week for the best recipe received.

VEAL CHOPS, PIZZA STYLE

1/2 teaspoon parsley, chopped
1/2 teaspoon thyme

1/2 cup olive oil, or substitute
Salt and pepper to taste

Bake in oven at 350 degrees F. for 45 minutes. Pour over all one cup tomato sauce and bake additional 15 minutes.

Fashions Take Their Cues From Variety Of Sources

Fashion is a fickle goddess whose head has been turned by everything from bunions and bets to politics and even the winds of chance. A London dress designer, for example, recently attributed the popularity of the sack dress to a reaction against the curves of Jayne Mansfield and Marilyn Monroe.

Queen Victoria reacted differently, however, when Albert cast admiring eyes on a Scottish peasant girl dressed in a red flannel petticoat. According to The World Book Encyclopedia, the queen ordered a red flannel petticoat for herself, and began the fashion typical of her reign.

The French Revolution took the frills out of Parisian dress for a while, and substituted its own somber tone. The guillotine left its mark in the Titus coiffure, cut very close at the back with the front arranged in loose ringlets. A red neck-lace was worn, and sometimes a red shawl, to complete the effect.

Another hair style was initiated by accident, when the wind blew off the hat of the Duchess of Fontanges at a royal hunting party. The resourceful duchess tied up her hair with her ribbon garter. The next day, all the court ladies appeared with a head-dress "a la Fontanges."

The wife of an Austrian archduke introduced a new color by airing her dirty linen. Isabella had vowed not to change her linen until her armies had taken the town of Ostend. The siege lasted more than three years. And for more than a century after, fashionable men and women dressed in yellow-gray, dubbed "Isabella color."

During the Middle Ages, long-toed shoes denoted wealth and dignity. The style has been blamed by some on a Frenchman who reportedly invented it to hide the huge bunions on his feet.

About the year 1800, Lord Spencer set out to expose the capricious fashion world. He is said to have made a bet that he could launch a meaningless fashion that would become popular in six months. Whereupon he cut off his coat tails with a pair of shears and went out for a walk. In two weeks, all London had adopted the style—and the Spencer jacket was born.

Don't Send Vitamins Down The Drain Chinese Cooking Preserves Nutrients, Color, Flavor

By AUDREY CHASE WALTERS

Practically all I know about cooking is what I read. Of course, I learned quite a bit from my mother and a bit more at school and a bit more in my own kitchen and I was fortunate enough to have a French grandmother who had a mother who was unfortunate enough to be left a widow with young children to raise. She became a cook in, of all places, a German restaurant and this gave me some background in both French and German cooking. Still, most of what I've learned has come from books.

The latest books I've been reading have been on Chinese cooking. This is a method I have long wanted to investigate. The Chinese are masters of the art of quick cooking and this alone should make it extremely popular with housewives here.

PIZZA STYLIST: Mrs. Benjamin Perrone came up with a recipe for cooking veal chops, pizza style and won the cash prize in our Favorite Recipe Contest this week. Pan of delicious concoction is on its way into oven in picture above.

For the most part, they cook vegetables without water or at least with very little water. This saves the vitamins from going down the drain and definitely preserves all the vegetable juices and the vegetables' natural color, too.

And the flavor—really, you'll think you never actually "tasted" a vegetable before once you've tried it cooked in the Chinese style.

Of course, they use a lot of fats and this may hold you back if you have a calorie or a low-fat diet problem. They use chicken fat a lot, from what I've been able to read. In cooking vegetables their style, I have substituted corn oil, which has a negligible fat content.

By all means, use chicken fat or other shortening substitute if you wish. Corn oil can be used very successfully, however.

I have tried combining French methods with my Chinese cooking and have been very happy with the results. Try just this one recipe with spinach and see if you, too, aren't convinced of the superiority of Chinese quick-cooking methods.

Heat two scant tablespoons corn oil in a large frying pan. Add one-half medium onion (or a third of a Bermuda) chopped and cook until onion is soft and just turning golden. Add one pound whole spinach thoroughly washed and shaken as dry as possible. Sprinkle with one-half teaspoon salt. Using a wooden spoon, keep the spinach constantly on the move for three minutes. Serve immediately.

Maybe your reaction will be the same as mine, thinking that in only three minutes of cooking the spinach must still be half raw. It isn't. In three minutes it is completely cooked and it's actually fascinating to watch it wilt as you stir it and see it take on a deep green color.

The French have a method for cooking carrots you might like. It presents this vegetable in quite a different light and friends who didn't like carrots at all have enjoyed them served this way. Vitamins are saved from the drain here, too.

Slice the carrots in "rounds" as thin as you can manage. Put the carrots in a narrow pan—the top of a double boiler, for instance. Add water only to half the depth of the carrots. Salt sparingly because it will all be absorbed into the vegetable. Cook until tender, stirring occasionally, and keep an eye on them so they don't burn. When the last of the water has disappeared and the carrots are just about to "stick," add a tablespoon of butter. (If you are cooking a small amount of carrots—two or three portions—reduce amount of butter.) Stir until butter melts, turn off the heat but leave the pan on the stove. Stir in one tablespoon of sugar and put a cover on the pan. Let stand a minute or two before serving.

The French and the Germans alike have a lot of sweet-sour recipes. The Chinese like a sweet and sour mixture, too, and have a recipe for carrots very similar to the American recipe for Harvard Beets.

Heat one tablespoon of corn oil in a frying pan if you plan to cook enough carrots for six or eight servings. Reduce all ingredients proportionately if necessary. Scrub the carrots and slice without peeling them. Cook them in the oil for one minute, keeping them on the move. Add a teaspoon of salt and half a cup of water and cook until carrots are tender. Mix two tablespoons of sugar with one tablespoon of cornstarch. Add two tablespoons of vinegar and stir until smooth. Add one cup of water to the carrots, then the sugar mixture and cook until sauce turns clear.

Sour Cream Adds Variety And Nutrients To Meals

A touch of sour cream to your meals, whether it is in your meat dish or dessert, can make menu appealing, says Edith Mae Ingalls, Assistant Home Agent. This velvety smooth dairy product is rich in all the nutrients of heavy cream. It contains much calcium which is an important nutrient that builds and maintains strong bones and teeth. Vitamins A and D are also found in sour cream. Vitamin A is needed for good eyesight and vitamin D for healthy hair and skin.

For an extra special main dish, try Beef Stroganoff. This is a tempting beef dish made in a Dutch oven or a lightly closed heavy saucepan. Creamy cabbage is a tasty way to serve this vitamin C rich vegetable.

Commercially sour cream is most satisfactory for baked goods, since it is of the proper consistency.

BEEF STROGANOFF
3 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 lb. beef tenderloin, 1/4" thick
1 cup clove-garlic
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup minced onions
1/4 cup water

1 can undiluted condensed chicken soup
1 lb. sliced mushrooms
1 cup commercial sour cream
Snipped parsley, chives or dill

Combine flour, salt, pepper. Trim fat from meat. Rub both sides of meat with garlic. With rim of saucer, pound flour mixture into both sides of meat. Cut meat into 1 1/2" x 1" strips.

In hot butter in Dutch oven or deep skillet, brown meat strips, turning them often. Add onions; saute until golden. Add water; stir to dissolve brown bits in bottom of Dutch oven. Add soup, mushrooms; cook, uncovered, over low heat, stirring occasionally, until mixture is thick and meat is fork-tender about 20 minutes. Just before serving, stir in sour cream; heat, but do not boil. Sprinkle with parsley.

Serve with hot-fluffy rice or wild rice, boiled noodles, or mashed potatoes.

Makes 4 to 6 servings.

ORANGE BEAN MUFFINS
Measure 1/2 cup sifted flour; add 1 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, and 1 to 2 tablespoons sugar and sift again. Cut in 3 tablespoons shortening. Combine 1 well-beaten egg and 1/4 cup quick-frozen concentrated orange juice* and add to flour mixture. Then mix only enough to dampen flour. Fold in 3/4 cup (1-oz. package) Bran Flakes. Fill greased muffin pans about two-thirds full. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 20 minutes, or until done. Makes 6 muffins.

Thursday, March 19, 1959

* Or use 1/2 cup fresh orange juice.

WESTERN CHICKEN PLATTER
2 1/2 pounds chicken wings (about 16)
1/4 cup flour
1 medium-size onion, chopped
1/4 cup salad oil
2 cans tomato-soup
2 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon chili powder
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon basil
Toasted split corn bread

Shake chicken wings in paper bag with flour to coat well. Brown a few at a time, with onion in oil in large heavy frying pan; stir in soup, water, and seasonings; cover tightly. Simmer 40 to 50 minutes; or until chicken is tender; arrange on heated serving plate with toasted split corn bread. Spoon some sauce over; pass remaining.

Watch The Cost Of Meat To Effect Real Savings

Meat takes the largest share of food costs, says Mary W. Armstrong, Home Agent, and most people like it that way. But meat costs are the ones to watch to affect real savings. You can have your meat and save, too, if you follow one of two pointers. Select meat accordingly to seasonal supply and price, and practice the use of meat extenders now and then.

The red meats—beef, pork, lamb, and veal—make up 25 per cent of all food expenditures, according to a survey of 6,000 homemakers made in the spring of 1955 by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

For the families interviewed beef was the most popular meat, making up 41 per cent of all meat consumed. Lamb consumption was highest among city dwellers in the Northeast where families ate three times as much lamb as Northeastern farm families. Veal consumption for Northeastern urbanites was the highest in the country.

Meat consumption was affected by nationality, region, residence, size of family, and other factors, but the most important was family income. Higher income families ate more expensive kinds and cuts of meat; paid higher prices for the same cuts of meat, and ate more beef, lamb, and veal per person.

As you would expect, ham was the most popular pork item, with pork loin and chops next, and then bacon. These are the things people generally like best. Although pork is usually cheaper than beef, extenders are useful here, too. If your family likes plenty of pork chops, but two a piece runs up the bill for a big family, try baking thick chops with a pocket filled with savory bread stuffing.

To extend ground beef, try potato beefburgers. The meat cakes are better for the flavor and texture the potato gives and you get twice as many from the same amount of meat.

vide each pound of mixture into 4 portions and shape each into a flat cake. Place the cakes on a baking pan and bake them in a moderate oven, 350° F. for 20 to 30 minutes until the potatoes and meat are cooked throughout.
