Township Seeks Answer To N.J. Milltown Snub

SPRINGFIELD—Springfield is going to find out why the New Jersey State Highway Department has rejected the request of the Township Committee to carry out its promise to "complete its financial aid to Springfield for the improvement of Milltown Road."

Correspondence between Springfield and the Highway Department will be examined in an effort to determine whether or not the state bureau had committed itself to help pay for the completion of this highly travelled road.

Aluminum Co. Asks Fiorelli's Advice

SPRINGFIELD—Tony Fiorelli, local electronics expert, has come upon an aluminum mine that may turn out to be pure gold for him.

The proprietor of Stereo Sound Corporation in Springfield has been engaged by the Reynolds Aluminum Company to supervise the installation of a sound system throughout their Harrison plant. He will design the layout and advise the Reynolds' engineers on proper installation. The system will pipe music and paging announcements throughout the two-story 425,000-sq-ft plant. The "gold in them thar hills" lies in the fact that there are approximately 30 Reynolds' plants across the country who can now take advantage of Fiorelli's sound advice.

Stereo Sound Corporation is located at 113 Mountain Avenue in the building with Springfield Radio & Television Center.

Good Check For $20,000. And No One Wants It

SPRINGFIELD—A very good check for $20,000.00 is bouncing around and no one appears to be willing to accept it. The Township Committee, after passing legislation to rescind its deal with Jeffrore Estates on the controversial sewer, made a check for $20,000 which Jeffrore had deposited with the Township Committee, and returned it. However, Jeffrore passed it right back to Springfield and a resolution has been passed to return it to Jeffrore Estates since the contract for the sewer job has been cancelled.

The controversial Shunpike Rd. storm sewer project, an issue in last November's general election, was before the Township Committee twice during last night's meeting in the Municipal Building.

The project has been the source of stormy sessions of the governing body since announcement of the proposal was made last June. At that time Mayor Vincent J. Bonadies, then the lone Democrat on the committee, fought the measure and appealed for public support at the hearings.

Last night, the committee voted 4-1 to repeal the ordinance which provided for construction of the storm sewer in the Shunpike Rd. area and for its financing. The ordinance, approved Oct. 8 by a 4-1 vote, provided for payment of $50,000 by the township toward the cost, $50,000 by the trashholders and $20,000 by Jeffrore Estates. Mayor Bonadies opposed the sewer on the grounds Jeffrore Estates planned to construct 57 houses in the Shunpike Rd. section and should bear a greater share of the cost.

Daystrom Official Kiwanis Speaker

SPRINGFIELD—Samuel M. Kinney, Jr., Secretary and Counselor of Daystrom, Incorporated, will be guest speaker at the April 2 luncheon meeting of the Mill Springfield Kiwanis Club. The club meets at the Millburn Inn, Millburn.

Mr. Kinney's subject will be "Daystrom—Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow." The company, which moved its executive headquarters to Murray Hill from Elizabeth two years ago, is one of the country's leading electronic firms. The largest of its plant locations is the Weston Instruments Division in Newark. Other plants are located throughout the United States and abroad.

A resident of Westfield, the speaker has been associated with Daystrom since '51. He is a graduate of Penn State, received his law degree from Rutgers and holds memberships in both the New Jersey and United States Supreme Court Bars.

Gaudineer P.T.A. Sets Spring Dance

SPRINGFIELD—The Florence M. Gaudineer P.T.A. will hold a Spring Dance at Evergreen Lodge, Springfield, Friday evening, April 10, at 9 P.M. The program includes ballroom, novelty and square dancing. During the evening many door prizes which have been donated by merchants in Springfield and surrounding towns will be awarded to guests.

Mrs. John Moore and Mrs. Walter Anderson are chairmen of the dance and are assisted by Mrs. John Unterwald and Mrs. Spencer Cannon, ticket chairmen and Mrs. Stanley Freeman, prize chairman.

Tickets are only $1.25 each and may either be obtained through children's home-room teacher or purchased at the door on the night of the dance.

Move To Outlaw Merry-Go-Rounds

SPRINGFIELD—Application by National Shoes, Route 22, Springfield, for permission to set up a merry-go-round adjacent to their store has resulted in the introduction of an amendment to the zoning ordinance barring all such "pony rides, carousels, etc." in the Township.

The ordinance was introduced at last week's meeting of the Township Committee and prohibits its setting up of wild animal farms, pony rides, merry-go-rounds, carousels, roller coasters, ferris wheels, and similar commercial amusements.

Business places have been permitted in the past to set up such attractions for the youngsters but the new amendment will bar such enterprises in the future.

The amendment goes before the Planning Board for approval and a public hearing is scheduled for next Wednesday, April 8.

SPRINGFIELD—In line with a previous stated policy, this article is the second in a series designed to acquaint the people of Springfield with the functioning of the various components of our local Civil Defense and Disaster Council. One of the most important segments of this organization is the Radiological Section.

Under the leadership of Lawrence D. Blitzer and three other members, Jay Levens, Saul Freeman and John Tooker, who are trained in radiological detection work, this section is prepared to function in the event of any disaster involving radioactivity. By the use of special instruments which are kept in constant readiness by the Radiol. Section, the unseen and unheard deadliness of radioactive waves can be detected. Each of the members of this team can read and interpret the findings of the instruments used.

Plot Fallout
Radiol. personnel are also trained to plot the "fallout" which is the inevitable result of an atomic explosion; even when a bomb may be dropped hundreds of miles away. When danger from such course is imminent, the Director of Civil Defense would then be informed, thus allowing him to take the necessary steps to set the whole mechanism of Civil Defense in action.

Another very important phase of the work of the members of the Radiol. team is to test food and water in the event of fallout or any other radioactive contamination. The public should be aware that the intake of such contaminated food or water can be extremely dangerous.

Members of the Radiol. team, available at short notice, even during business hours, should their services be needed. In these days of mounting use of radioactive isotopes, both industrially and medically, the possibility of their accidental misuse is ever (Continued on Page 2)

Township Has Lowest Tax In Union County

SPRINGFIELD—Springfield, for the first time under the Democratic administration which pledged lowered tax rates, now has the lowest tax rate in Union County.

It is now $5.35, according to the official figures released by the Union County Board of Taxation, and it represents a 42 point drop from the 1958 rate.

Originally the Township Committee had announced a lowered tax rate of approximately $5.50 but the increase in the costs of operating Union County and the improvement in Springfield's taxables because of the 100 per cent revaluation completion in the Township have made the $5.35 rate possible.

News of the lowest tax rate in Union County for Springfield was announced at last week's regular meeting of the Township Committee.

A salary ordinance which provides increases of approximately $200 a year for municipal employees was adopted last week by the Township Committee after hearing in the Municipal Building. No objections were registered.

The vote was 4-0 with Commissioner Albert G. Binder abstaining because he was not present when the ordinance was prepared, he pointed out.

The ordinance does not provide for increases in the salaries of Township Committee members, set at $2,000 or the chairman, set at $2,300.

The salary schedule is as follows: Township clerk, $6,750 up $250; tax collector, $5,700 up $200; magistrate, $4,200 up $200; Municipal Court clerk, $1,050 up $300; attorney, $3,000, same; treasurer, $1,200, down $100; building inspector, $6,250, up $250; secretary, Board of Tax Assessors, $8,750, up $250, and engineer, $9,900, up $300.

Approval By Town for New Apt. House

SPRINGFIELD—Plans for the 104 unit apartment house to be constructed on a portion of the Prince Farm will be made public as soon as the Board of Adjustment, the Township Committee and the Building Inspector have had an opportunity to consider the application.

Application of Mountside Gardens of 470 North Ave., Elizabeth, for a special exception use to construct the 104-unit garden apartment development at S. Springfield and Hillside Aves. has been recommended favorably to Township Committee by the Board of Adjustment.

The board took its action after a public hearing in the Municipal Building. There were no objectors. The apartments, if approved by the governing body, will be constructed on a 10.3 acre tract of the Prince Farm, one of the township's few remaining farms. The development would have 48 three-room units, 32 four-room units with two bedrooms; 16 five-room units with two bedrooms and a dining room, and eight five-room units with three bedrooms.

The applicant was represented by Daniel C. Hanrahan, Elizabeth real estate broker.

The Planning Board's advisory report said the developer has conformed to various requirements. The 28 buildings will be two stories and will have detached garages. Paved parking spaces, four for each three apartments, will be provided.

The superintendent of schools, Benjamin F. Newsinger, said a survey indicated the development could be expected to have 64 children of school-age and that three (Continued on Page 2)

 Commissioner Binder dissenting. Commissioner Eugene F. Donnelly, the other Republican member, voted for repeal. An error in the repealing ordinance at that time necessitated adoption of another measure to kill the project.

Bids were received from contractors Nov. 12 for the sewer but action on the bids was delayed pending the outcome of a taxpayers' suit to prohibit construction. The plaintiffs charged in the suit "taxpayers' money is being used in the sewer project for private benefit." The suit is still before the Superior Court.

Binder Explains Stand
 Commenting after he voted "no" last night, Commissioner Binder said the action to repeal the sewer ordinance was "not in the best interests of the township." He added the municipality would lose $70,000 promised to assist in financing the project and that drainage of the area will become necessary in the future.

The committee received its check for $20,000 which was sent to Jeffrey Estates, Alexander Krauss of Newark, attorney for the developers, wrote the check was being returned because of the pending litigation.

The committee then ordered the check sent again to Jeffrey Estates with a letter of enclosure.

Still on sewer matters, the committee authorized Township Engineer Alfred H. Swenson to apply to the federal government for a grant to construct a sanitary sewer in the Baltusrol Mountain area on the south side of the municipality. Mayor Bonadies said the sewer will be built whether funds are received from the federal government or not.

Township Has

 set as follows: Chief, $8,000, up $300; captain, $7,075, up $275; lieutenant, $6,750, up $250; sergeant, $6,250, up $250; detective, $5,925, up $225; first class patrolman, $5,825, up $225; second class patrolman, $5,525, up $225; third class patrolman, $5,200, up $200; fireman, $4,900, up $200.

The road department supervisor received a $250 increase to $6,750 a year. The recreation director was increased from $5,350 a year to $6,300.

Erskine Made Captain
 After the ordinance creating the position of fire captain was adopted, Edwin Erskine of 167 Linden Ave. was appointed effective next Wednesday. Mr. Erskine, a first class fireman, has been a member of the department eight years. The new position was created so the department will have an officer on duty for each of the three shifts. The other officers are the chief and deputy.

Bids for purchase of a new pumper for the Fire Department were received from four companies and referred to the public safety committee for study. The bids are: Four Wheel Drive Auto Co., Clintonville, Wis., $22,000 and $23,000; Maxim Motor Co., Middleboro, Mass., $20,830; Seagrave Co., Columbus, Ohio, $21,491; and American LaFrance Co., Elmira, N.Y., $21,900.

The pumper would replace a 1941 Mack truck badly damaged last year in an accident. Offers for purchase of the old truck will be received by the governing body April 8.

Road Priest
 The committee voted to write to the State Highway Department in protest of the refusal to grant state aid funds for completion of Milltown Rd. The action was taken on a motion of Commissioner Binder that the department be told "in no uncertain terms" that the Milltown Rd. project was started with the consent and advice of the state.

Township Engineer Alfred H. Swenson said the State Highway Department gave no reason for the refusal.

This year the Easter exhibits in the Springfield Library have unusual distinction. The one in the Children's Room has bunnies for its theme. It was arranged by Mrs. Helen Keller, the Children's Librarian.

The background, a huge cutout paper bunny dressed as Peter Rabbit in a blue coat, was made by the pupils of the Florence Gaudineer School, directed by Mrs. C. Ackerman. He is surrounded by grass, flowers, and Easter eggs. Below him on top of the bookcase, Beatrix Potter books, and figurines based on these, are spread out. These stories and characters have been beloved by generations of children ever since the first book was published in 1901.

The figurines, which were imported from England, include "Peter" alone and his sisters "Floppy," "Mopsy," and "Cotton Tail" in another group. Other figurines are "Jemima Puddle-Duck," "Timmy Tiptoes" (squirrel), "Tom Kitten," "Pigling Bland," and another rabbit, "Benjamin Bunny." One of the mice who helped the sick old man in the story called "The Tailor of Gloucester" is seated on a tiny spool of cherry-colored silk. The little Beatrix Potter books are scattered around and between the figures. These books will be

Seventeenth Annual Antique Show Scheduled For April 7, 8, 9

SPRINGFIELD — The parish house of Springfield's historic Presbyterian Church will be the rendezvous for all lovers and admirers of antiques on April 7, 8, 9. It will be during those days from 11 a.m. until 10 p.m., when the now famous Antique Show Sale will be held for the seventeenth year.

Because dealers throughout the East regard this as a prestige event, they are anxious to participate and show their wares. This certainly assures those who attend that there will be on hand, the best and finest there is in the antique field. It also guarantees unsurpassed variety. These combinations have given this show the reputation of being one of the best in the area.

There will be two complete floors packed with everything that represents American living in the past. On display will be such things as delicate china, rare old glass and all types of historic accessories as well as hand made furniture of the early days. Doings At Regional High School

Easter vacation is here again, with plenty of homework for everyone! Senior history classes have term papers along with modern European history classes.

Yet with all the homework, there is still recreation. Seniors have planned a senior picnic for Wednesday, April 1st. The site is at South Orange Reservation. It starts at 12:30. A permit was obtained so that food could be cooked on the fireplaces provided. Students plan to bring base-balls—and their mountain climbing attire. Let's hope the weather is ideal!!!

Vacation means hard work in more ways than one. Members of the Student Prince cast are rehearsing for three hours every morning. Track boys have practice and so do baseball players. So you can see that they don't have much time to themselves.

Easter vacation is also the time for interested students to go summer job hunting. This task can be far from fun with employment's constant ups and downs.

April 10th is the date set for the "Spring Carouse!" (allus freshmen dance). Admission is $5.55 in advance and $7.75 at the door. It seems that every year the freshmen dance is a success; for enthusiasm runs high in the class itself.

Monday, March 29th, was the date set for Miss Mary Hanlon, English teacher in Regional, and

LETTERS

Editor, ECHO: Due to an accident which kept me in a Sussex County hospital until a short time ago, I have not had a public opportunity to convey my thanks to the many residents of Mountainside who helped the Citizens' Advisory Committee conduct the survey on population for this year. I hope I may use the columns of the ECHO to express our appreciation to the more than one hundred and thirty men and women of our community who worked so hard and well to complete our triennial census. Despite the many activities in our borough and personal interests these fine people gave their time freely to complete another chore for all of us.

Spring Classes Set By Y.M.C.A.

MOUNTAINSIDE—Registration for the Spring Instructional Classes at the Westfield YMCA for Non-Westfield residents begins April 8 at 3:15 a.m. Classes are being offered in swimming and gymnasium work for boys in the 5th grade and up and in swimming only for boys in the 1st through 4th grades. Boys must be at least 49 inches tall to be eligible for enrollment in the swimming classes. Classes are one half hour in length and run for 16 weeks. The first lessons begin the week of April 13th. Because of the additional interest expressed by parents for swimming instruction during the spring term, the YMCA has concentrated on offering additional classes particularly in the beginners level. It was able to schedule extra instructional swim classes on Saturday afternoons during the period that has been occupied by the YMCA Jr. Swimming Team, for its home-swimming meets. The Jr. Swim will complete its schedule April 4th. Parents are urged to register their sons early so that they may be assured of an opening. Further information regarding schedule and rates are available by phoning the Westfield YMCA, AD 3-2700. The Boy Scouts International Bureau at Ottawa, Canada, coordinates Scouting in 67 nations.

Local Students Winners In Time Magazine Test

SPRINGFIELD — Michael Levy and Robert Hurt of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, have been named winners in the 23rd annual Time Current Affairs Test.

The test, given this year to more than 110,000 college and high school students in the U.S. and Canada, consists of 105 questions on natural and foreign affairs. Included are such categories as business, sports, entertainment, science, religion, literature, journalism and education.

Top scorers in each of the more than 2,000 classes taking the Time test receive an inscribed certificate from The Weekly News-magazine and have a choice of either a world globe or a book from a specially selected list.

Only one day — December 13, 1921 — was set aside by Governor Bradford of the Plymouth Colony for the first Thanksgiving Day in the New World. However, three days—actually—were spent in feasting and prayer to inaugurate the occasion.

Board Meeting Set

MOUNTAINSIDE — The Board of Directors of the Mountainside Woman's Club will meet on Wednesday, April 8, at 1 P.M. at the home of Mrs. Frank X. Dwyer, 1045 Sunny Slope drive.

A lobster who loses a claw or an eye can merely grow another, although the new one is usually smaller.

We have had a long winter, with little snow, or rain, and plenty of high winds. This has caused considerable damage to hemlock, azalea and many other broad leaved plants. Japanese holly, especially the rotundifolia variety, has been severely burned throughout Jersey.

There is little we can do about this condition, except let nature take its course. Pruning and fertilizing will help stimulate growth, and I would not advise removal of the plants until you are certain they will not survive. This condition has happened before and the plants have recovered, so give them a chance—it is amazing how a plant can recover if the root system is strong.

Cold weather will lengthen the period that pre-emergence crab grass chemicals can be applied, so if you are going to give them a try, do so at once. Follow the directions given by the manufacturer for best results.

Q: My lawn is already starting to turn green. Shall I fertilize now?

What's in it for me?

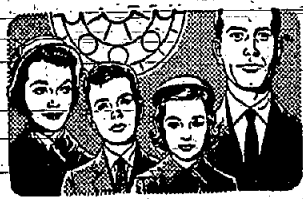

If he'll work, there's faith in his future.

Nothing... and everything

It will demand your free time—often when you want that free time for other things. It will demand sincere enthusiasm and concentration.

It will demand money, perhaps... certainly hard work and the sacrifice of some personal pleasures and whims.

In return you'll have nothing you can hold in your hand... or put in the bank... or stick up over the mantelpiece. Nothing but priceless faith. Hardly a specific. But faith is not a specific thing. It comes when you need it most... and where. That's part of its strength—a strength that's as strong as you want to make it.

THIS WEEK

WHAT ABOUT MORRIS AVENUE?

The president of the Springfield Chamber of Commerce, Jack H. Stiefelman, hauled off and took a healthy swing at some Morris avenue merchants in a blistering letter which appeared in last week's edition of the Springfield Sun.

The letter deplored the lack of interest on the part of the Morris avenue merchants in the program being launched by the Chamber of Commerce, charging that "not a single one attended a meeting called especially to plan for coordinated town wide sales program."

We can't seem to arouse these Morris avenue store keepers, "was the closing comment.

The Springfield Sun is attempting to keep out of this family scrap because, in the past, we have heard the rather weak explanation: "All the Springfield Sun is interested in is selling advertising."

That's a very startling observation! What then has the Springfield Sun or any other newspaper, for that matter, to sell except its advertising columns? Banana splits?

Advertising is the one thing we have to "our selves." We appreciate that a merchant cannot continually spend money for advertising unless it brings some results. But we know that a cooperative effort, a well planned campaign, with a majority of the merchants participating, is the one sure method of attracting business.

The Chamber of Commerce isn't only interested in the Morris avenue merchants. The officers have a very comprehensive program, with a lot of new talent active in the organization this year. Bringing new business into Morris avenue has been one of the targets. But—if the merchants themselves are glued to their television sets and won't take off that one evening to plan for more business, it is no wonder that it produced such a letter as appeared in last week's issue of the Sun.

OTHER COMMUNITIES HAVE PROBLEM

Springfield isn't alone in facing this problem of merchants spending money for advertising—or not spending. A very clever advertising salesman and writer by the name of Al Look published a book, Advertising At Retail, a condensed chapter of which ran in The American Press recently. Some of the tonics make excellent reading and we hope some of it rings bells.

Here are some of the excerpts: EVERYBODY WANTS TO WRITE The average person will admit he cannot compose an opera, write a best seller, or draw a straight line, but rarely is a person found who admits he cannot write advertising.

There is probably more misconception about the preparation, purpose, and purchase of advertising than any other phase of retail business.

Without any serious thought, retailers blantly waste money on ill-conceived ideas; they purchase space with no proof of what they are buying; they take any stranger's word for what is good advertising; and they write copy with no idea of what it is to accomplish. They believe the platitude "If pays to advertise," yet have no idea of what makes advertising pay.

A retail store advertises for one reason: to make a profit by selling merchandise. A merchant who thinks otherwise should never advertise. The retailer who agrees should never stop. Any other purpose is money wasted.

Wasted space, clever conceits, pompous vanity, cartoons, entertainment and disgusting prattle, if used by a salesman behind the counter, would reflect on his industry. Never look at advertising for what it is, but for what it does.

Poor advertising is prevalent because of shallow thinking and thoughtless spending. Advertising should never be treated as a necessary nuisance or sideline job for some clerk. Worthless advertising thrives because the merchant does not judge it with the same horse-sense logic he employs in buying, selling and business financing.

Wasted advertising is the product of not checking results, of spending money blindly, of not having studied advertising. It is difficult for an advertiser to see his own faults. But to know and recognize some of the fallacies of advertising is to avoid many pitfalls and the useless spending of good money.

VANITY ADVERTISING

Much advertising is written to satisfy pompous vanity. Adjectives are dusted off to tell the history of the company. Long, fancy phrases are concocted to describe the boss. Chest thumping, button popping, and goulash used in self-praise are of no interest to the customer. When a store advertises to itself, it gets little worthwhile attention from anyone else.

PEOPLE BUY ANWAY

There are retailers who are still skeptical of advertising. "I don't need advertising; people buy anyway," they will remark. And that is true. But the question is, will enough buy from a certain store in enough quantity?

Every business section has forgotten a number of long-gone retailers who had the idea that people would buy from them without solicitation.

'CAN'T USE MORE BUSINESS'

Some retailers think they have all the business they can handle. It is hard to imagine a store that can't profitably use more sales. All stores have a fixed overhead expense whether they advertise or not.

The extra sales produced by advertising not only bring extra profit, but more profit on sales already made. No business remains static.

A self-satisfied store invites competition. Advertising will keep satisfied customers coming to the store, and build insurance for the future.

'EVERYBODY KNOWS THE STORE'

That statement isn't true. Each new customer is another store's old customer, and the reverse is also true. Customers die, new people move in, young people get married, habits change, desires change, friendships change. It is doubtful that any one customer knows everything a store has for sale.

RIGHT HAND—PAGE—BACK PAGE

Position is greatly over-rated. If as much time were spent on writing the copy as arguing for a certain position in the newspaper, retail advertising would be much more profitable.

There is no evidence that a right hand page gets more readers than a left hand page, or that the back page gets more readers than an inside page. Studies show two advertisements on the same page getting vastly different readership.

The difference can be attributed only to copy and layout. What is said is more important than where it is said. Position is nothing more than wishful guessing.

'DOESN'T PAY, I TRIED IT'

"Advertising doesn't pay, I tried it," is a frequent remark. Usually it is from a merchant who has never used a properly planned and budgeted campaign.

No matter how long it is used, improper advertising will get no more results than an improperly used tool. Results cannot be judged from one advertisement any more than a cure can be expected from one pill.

SALES WON'T PAY FOR ADVERTISING

If Wrigley had worried about chewing gum sales paying for his first national advertisement, or if Coca-Cola had worried about selling so many nickel drinks in each town immediately after each advertisement, they probably would never have become two of the nation's most successful advertisers.

One advertisement doesn't make a campaign. Advertising is not a one time pitch. It is the cumulative effect on the mind of the customer that makes advertising pay.

BE BRIEF

The number of words in advertising copy is no criterion of its selling power. A merchant who would never think of confining a salesman to ten, twenty, or a thousand words will gag his advertisement with a shortage of words and expect it to sell merchandise.

"Gone With The Wind" contained over 1,000 pages of ordinary type and sold over 4,000,000 copies. Mail order catalogs contain over 1,000 pages. Keep advertising interesting and it will be read to the end.

MY CUSTOMERS ARE DIFFERENT

Many retailers think they cater to a very exclusive clientele. Their customers "are different." Human nature is the same the country over. No store has a hex on any group of customers.

High income as well as low income families trade with the neighborhood store, the chain store, the corner gas station, and the dime store. Janitors drive Cadillacs and bankers eat hot dogs. There are no "better" people; they went out with the "carriage trade."

DON'T USE TOO MUCH 'SELL'

Mr. J. C. Penney once described his success thus: "My advertising was hard-hitting, enthusiastic, but in today's phrase 'corney.' I talked with people in the newspapers just as I would in my store, or if I met a neighbor on the street. I just told what I had to sell—told all about it, and kept it honest and believable. . . . The fact is that retailers can't get along without advertising—and they'd better not try!"

SUNNING SPORTS

by VICTOR GOLDBERG

The title of this column seems to be a misnomer as of this writing, for as I look out my window, sun is one thing I am seeing little of, and a 'r sports' well, five-almost-forgotten-what school sports look like. Whether the sun will be shining by next week or not, I don't know, but I do know that the spring sports will begin. On Monday golf gets under way, and on Tuesday the baseball season begins.

The golf squad should improve upon last season's record of 8-9. Over 30 boys 'tried on' for the team this year. Returning from a last year's team are Norm Juller, Al Peinh rdt, and Lou Pignolet to take three of the four starting positions. The other spot is up for grabs.

The golf scoring system is not too difficult to understand. Each player has an individual match against someone from the opposing team. Each of these individual matches counts a total of three points-one each for the first nine holes, the last nine holes, and the total score. There are therefore, a total of 12 team points.

Due to the poor weather recently, it has been difficult to find out much about the baseball team. The team's chances seem to rest on the performance of Jerry Sabini, an All-County pick last year. Besides 'L'is, however, little can be said for certain.

The major league baseball season gets under way shortly. Columnists all over the country are making predictions as to how the teams will finish. Rather than being an exception and running the risk of being a non-conformist-God forbid-I advance, with

Springfield Wins Basketball Crown

SPRINGFIELD - The Springfield Recreation senior Minutemen climaxed a highly-successful basketball season by trimming Chatham 56-52 last Thursday evening in a special playoff at the spacious new Chatham High School gymnasium. Springfield and Chatham concluded their 1958 basketball schedule with identical records (7-1) with last Thursday's game scheduled to determine the champion.

Springfield gained a 19-14 first quarter advantage as Sandy Heard, Johnny Lies, Bob Shayer and Dan Lucy registered for the locals, then held off a determined bid by Chatham in the final three quarters to capture the coveted Suburban Recreation Basketball crown.

Dave Rugger, a slim left handed push shot artist kept Chatham in the ball game for most of the contest, fouling out with a minute remaining. Rugger scored 24 points, getting 11 on set shots, and 2 fouls for the top-scoring effort of the night.

Big Sandy Heard came up with most of the rebounds under both backboards to help the Springfield offense, scoring 9 points in the initial period 4 in the second, 7 in the third, none in the fourth. Aggressive Bob Shayer helped the recounding, with speed merchant Johnny Lies doing the backcourt work with Ron Bell.

Dan Lucy scored 13 points for Springfield, getting 7 points in a hectic third period which saw Chatham's little trepidation on our part, my 1959 predictions.

The National League:
1. Pittsburgh, 2. Milwaukee, 3. Cincinnati, 4. Los Angeles, 5. St. Francisco, 6. Chicago, 7. St. Louis, 8. Philadelphia.

The American League:
1. New York, 2. Detroit, 3. Chicago, 4. Cleveland, 5. Boston, 6. Baltimore, 7. Kansas City, 8. Washington.

For those who are trying to find some logic behind these predictions, have fun. But you'll be old and gray long before you reach your goal.

ham making a determined bid to overcome the visitors. Lucy's scoring percentage was exceptional netting 3 for 3 in a scoring flurry. The Springfielders were coached by Ed Ruby, Recreation Supt. who was pinch hitting for the vacationing Les Lawn.

The team was presented with a championship trophy by the Tournament Committee and is now on display in the Springfield Recreation office.

Expect 1920 In Bowling Tourney

MOUNTAINSIDE - Nearly 1,000 bowling pins will be topped Sunday, April 5, at Echo Lanes, -Mountainide, when the world's largest one-day bowling tournament will be staged.

Some 1,920 pinners will compete in the eighth annual New Jersey Bell Men's Bowling Assn. tournament. If they can average three-game series of 520 pins far from an impossible task--they will approach the 1,000,000 pin mark.

A total of 384 teams from all parts of New Jersey will take part. This will surpass last year's record entry of 593 teams and set a new record for one-day tournaments, according to the American Bowling Congress, bowling's official governing group.

Although 64 lanes will be in use at Echo Lanes, the tourney will continue for more than 15 hours. The first ball will go skimming down the alleys at 9 a.m. and it will be some time after midnight before the last pin falls.

The tournament is part of New Jersey Bell's employee recreation program. It was initiated by the company's employees in 1952 and has attained spectacular popularity.

In past years, employees in remote parts of the state have arisen as early as 3:45 a.m. in order to arrive at Mountainide in time to register for the opening shift. Driving more than 100 miles to reach the tourney-site hasn't fazed the participants.

The bowlers' families-also give solid support to the tournament. Many pinners bring their families along as evidenced by last year's turnout of some 4,500 spectators during the day-long event.

A variety of prizes are offered for top net and gross individual team scores. Winners are determined by the tournament committee which, in past years, has required up to three days to tabulate the mass of score sheets.

The "Hackensack" Equipment team rolled a 2,700 series in capturing the net score title last year. The individual champion, Ken Knapp, captain of the Englewood Scripps, bowled a 590 series.

Union Co. CYO Track Meet May 9

ELIZABETH-The Union County CYO will run its 10th annual track meet at Williams Field, Elizabeth, on May 2, it was announced today by Norb Van Bergen, athletic chairman for the organization. The rain date is May 9.

There will be competition for grammar school-junior and intermediate boys in dashes, middle-distance runs, relays and two field events, a broad-jump and a high jump. There will be an invitational relay for grammar schools in the archdiocese, according to Van Bergen.

Entries for the outdoor event, the highlight of the CYO spring athletic season, must be in by April 20. Parishes are limited to five boys in each individual event, and not more than two teams in each relay event.

The grammar school class is limited to boys in county parochial schools. Events will include 50, 60 and 100-yard dashes and the field trials. Team relays also have been carded.

Abby Weinberg Rolls High 637

SPRINGFIELD - Abby Weinberg bowled his team right into second place in the Temple Beth Ahm bowling league with a league high series of 637 and a 253 game. It is now down to the wire with the first five teams within 3 games of the leading Serpif team, and with three of the four remaining days position hawling it should be any one's guess as to the leaders on the last day of bowling.

Raisin bread sandwiches with cream cheese and chopped walnut filling are a welcome surprise in the school lunch box.

Little League Roster of 24 Sponsors Now Complete

SPRINGFIELD—After reading last week's editorial titled "Support Little Leaguers" there should be no doubt in anyone's mind of the goals it is hoped to achieve. Success in 1959 necessarily requires financial support. Our business and professional men will be contacted by mail. Residents will be called on by our ball players. Each group of boys will be supervised by an adult. Contributions from both business and residents have increased each year since the inception in 1954. It is hoped that 1959 will be a banner year.

Under the chairmanship of Walter Becker, the roster of 24 sponsors for 1959 is complete.

Joe Schaffernoth Pitching Superb Ball For The Cubs

JOE SCHAFFERNOTH

Local folk, especially baseball fans, are greatly interested in the progress being made by former Regional High star athlete Joe Schaffernoth who has recently pitched 14 scoreless innings for the Chicago Cubs in exhibition games against major league competition. Last week Joe went seven innings against the Cleveland Indians, and Monday pitched seven frames against the San Francisco Giants and was credited with the win for the Cubs 10 to 8.

Any young ballplayer who has a record like Joe's at the age of 21 is certainly off to a good start. After turning in very creditable performances for minor league teams in the Cubs farm system, he has been given his chance in the big time and there is a good possibility as of now that he will make the grade. It is said that the Cubs' manager, Bob Scheffing, is impressed with the 6-4 1/2, 200 pounder from Springfield, and since the Cubs could well use another strong right-hander, Schaffernoth may become a permanent addition to the Chicago pitching staff.

Joe's older brother Charley, a catcher, now in service; also has shown promise in a short career in organized ball. It is possible that in time local sport fans may see a battery composed of the two brothers on the same big league team.

Springfield Bowl Takes All Three

SPRINGFIELD—Playing in the Springfield Municipal League on March 30, the second place Springfield Bowl won all three from Beckman's Market, but gained no ground as the leading Springfield Market also swept their series with Parkview Atlantic, who still hold third spot. Bunnell Bros. lost two to Legion No. 2, but hold onto fourth place.

Mario Latella of Springfield Bowl was top man with a 244-589 series. Field followed with a 220, Dick Bunnell was next with a 219, Gregory had a 214 and Jones 211.

Decorator's Diary

Dear Ruth Dietz:

I have been thinking of buying an antique mirror for my hall. While rummaging through my attic the other day, I came across an oval picture frame, tarnished but otherwise undamaged. Is it ever practical to have a mirror made from an old picture frame?

Mrs. G. D. D.

Dear Mrs. G. D. D.:

If your picture frame is the right size and shape and in basically good condition, it can be made into a perfectly beautiful mirror. Take it to a good frame shop and let them estimate its cost. I think you'll agree, if you've been shopping around, that it will be much less expensive to re-do an old frame and the satisfaction is terrific!

Everyone loves a bargain and in every attic there are treasures. With a bit of ingenuity, forgotten pieces of furniture and bric-a-brac can be transformed. They can be changed from something tired and unattractive to something useful and quite lovely.

One of the most successful halls it has been my pleasure to design was decorated with attic treasures. The table which just happened to fit in the right niche, was taken from a dusty attic and restored to a gleaming useful piece of furniture. The lovely oval gilded mirror above it once framed a picture of great uncle Ezra. The lamp with its touches of gold and soft gold shade was once a little used vase.

Let's all start an attic hunt. It's economical and so very rewarding.

Rose Fence Can Add Fashionable Touch to Home

If you like a fashionable touch to your home property add an everblooming-rose fence. Everblooming roses have two heavy blooming periods, one in spring or early summer and the other in the fall, usually with many flowers and lavish color, in between these seasons. The modern-rose blooms for an extraordinarily long period every year, longer than almost any flower that can be named.

The rose fence can be particularly lovely and fashionable and it requires only a moderate amount of care. One can have red, orange, white, pink, yellow, lavender and in-between shades.

Roses of different colors may be mixed, or the fence may be solid with one color.

In planting your rose fence, select your varieties wisely. Climbing red roses along a white fence can afford a brilliant contrast. Other colors may also be used. Climbing roses may be preferable where they have support, such as a masonry wall or wood or wire fence. Thick-growing rose plants such as Rosa Multiflora are suitable as a rose fence for small home places.

Floribunda and grandiflora roses will grow into a living fence of striking color without support. Plant them close together, about two feet apart, using approximately 50 plants for a hundred foot fence. Your nurseryman can recommend varieties to grow to any desired height.

A fence of roses growing on a trellis can form a lovely background for the family swimming pool, at the same time giving privacy. The rose blooms are reflected in the water of the pool, making it even more inviting.

Young Misses Prefer Straw Hats Tailored

Despite an array of dressy hats on the market, the feminine Tailored Young Lady Look is all important this season.

Hats for youngest misses feature a simplicity of line—therefore, textured straws... imported Swiss brands... bread and ribbon combinations... toques straws and even a few Panama straws help give emphasis to Empire and other new stylings.

The cloche and Breton roller tie for first place in all their many adaptations although bonnets and sailors are also style leaders.

Trimming are used sparingly, but help to create the effect of smartly-styled youthful elegance.

Wide varieties of grosgrain and velvet bands offset spring straws. Ripple brims, field flowers and ribbon trims are important style touches for this season.

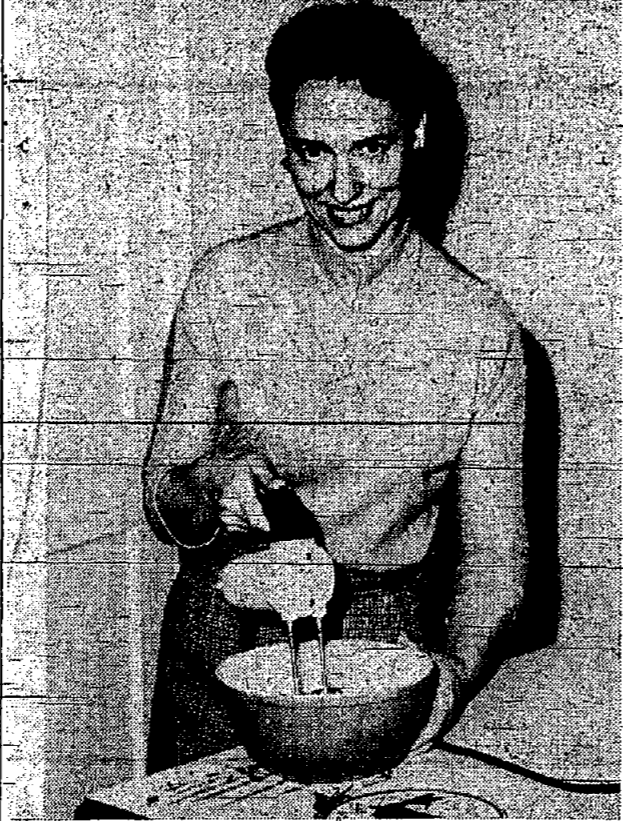

White, off whites and aspired pastels are favored all though brilliant colors continue to be shown. The happy combination of unadorned line with a touch of gaiety is the mark of children's hats for Spring 1959.

WHITE CAKE/FROSTING
Mix together until smooth:
1 cup milk
6 tablespoons flour
Cook slowly, stirring constantly, until it thickens. Cool.
Cream together:
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup vegetable shortening
1/2 cup sugar

Combine two mixtures and beat together thoroughly, adding any flavor you wish (melted chocolate, dry cocoa, coffee, shredded coconut, etc.). Mrs. Petrelli suggests one teaspoon vanilla or two tablespoons peanut butter. (We found it particularly delicious when we added one package of frozen raspberries, defrosted and drained.)

through brilliant colors continue to be shown. The happy combination of unadorned line with a touch of gaiety is the mark of children's hats for Spring 1959.

Dessert Habit Is Hard To Break

But You Can Combine Nutrients With Dessert Calories

By AUDREY CHASE-WALTERS

If you have a family that feels somewhat insulted (if not greatly amazed) if the meal ends without dessert, you may be interested in increasing your file of dessert recipes. Desserts can be a problem because too often they add calories without adding much in the way of nutrients. Puddings are a good aid in getting over this hurdle. A simple pudding can become an exotic dessert when served with an unusual sauce.

Here is a recipe for a pudding that contains many nutritious foods that hold the calories in good balance. Heat two cups of milk in top of double boiler until it is on the verge of boiling. Combine a quarter of a cup of sugar and two tablespoons of cornstarch with some of the hot milk to form a smooth paste. Stir into hot milk and continue stirring until mixture thickens. Place the cover on the double boiler and let mixture cook 15 minutes. Beat three eggs well and add an eighth of a teaspoon of salt. Pour the eggs slowly into milk mixture, stirring vigorously until well-blended and let cook two minutes. Remove to a bowl (use electric mixer if you wish) and beat in two tablespoons of unflavored gelatin dissolved in a bit of water and then fold in two cups of cottage cheese.

Refrigerate pudding overnight or from morning until dinnertime. Serve with any sauce given below.

Here's a little trick with baked custard that takes it out of the list of ordinary desserts. Make a syrup by combining a quarter cup of sugar with a quarter cup of water and boiling it five minutes. Remove from heat and stir in one teaspoon corn syrup. When it has cooled, stir in two tablespoons brandy. Place one tablespoon of syrup in each custard cup and proceed with your regular custard recipe.

This recipe never fails to make a smooth, solid custard. Scald three cups of milk, using one cup undiluted evaporated milk and two cups whole milk. Beat three eggs and add one-third cup sugar. Slowly pour on the hot milk, stirring constantly. Strain this liquid and pour into custard cups. Set the cups in a pan of hot water and bake at 350 degrees F. about one hour or until knife comes out clean. If desired, a half teaspoon of vanilla may be added to mixture.

When baked with syrup in bottom of cup, chill thoroughly, loosen custard and invert on serving dish.

Scald two cups of milk, using half a cup undiluted evaporated milk and one and one-half cups whole milk. Beat one egg slightly and mix with one-half cup flour, measured after sifting, and one-quarter cup sugar until you have a smooth paste. Pour the hot, scalded milk slowly into flour mixture stirring constantly, then pour mixture into baking dish that has been buttered and dusted with sugar. Sprinkle in one-half cup stewed prunes that have been pitted and very well drained. Bake in slow oven (250 degrees F.) for one to one and one-quarter hours. Serve with sauce.

Here are the sauces suggested for these puddings and for topping plain baked custard.

Dissolve one-half cup cranberry jelly in one-half cup sherry wine over low heat. Add one-quarter cup broken walnut meats.

Mix half a teaspoon cornstarch with a bit of water to make smooth paste. Boil half cup of sugar and half cup of water five minutes. Add cornstarch and boil until mixture clears. Add one tablespoon grated lemon rind and one-third cup Maraschino cherries, chopped. Stir these well into sauce, then remove from heat. Add one tablespoon flaked toasted almonds and one tablespoon liquid from cherries.

Mix together one-half cup white wine, the grated rind and juice of one-half lemon, one-third cup sugar and two egg yolks. Place in double boiler and beat with wire whisk over hot water until it thickens. Beat two egg whites until stiff. Pour hot mixture over the egg whites, blending well.

Marshmallow is good served with a great variety of desserts and it is easy to make at home. Beat an egg white stiff but not dry. Add one-quarter teaspoon cream tartar then add sugar until you get the consistency you want. Then add one-quarter teaspoon vanilla a little at a time.

REPORT TO THE PEOPLE FROM YOUR CONGRESSWOMAN FLORENCE P. DWYER

Seldom if ever in recent years has the general public indicated such an intense interest in the details of Congressional office organization...

cult to pull it apart and decide which items are not justified. This problem doesn't exist in the case of a Congressional office. One doesn't have to be an expert to question the practice of paying young sons big salaries for part-time work...

The highly unorthodox way in which some members of Congress have used the funds entrusted to their care has, of course, been responsible for the continued insistence on full disclosure. Here in the House of Representatives this has been easy, since House rules have required for years that such details be available to the public...

No Need For Secrecy I think this interest is a good thing. People tend to distrust what is kept secret from them especially when there's no good reason for the secrecy. And rightly so, since there is always a temptation to abuse a public responsibility when there is no public check or control.

I suspect, too, that a major reason for this interest stems from the people's concern with Government spending in general. But the incredible complexity of a Federal budget which approaches the astronomical figure of eighty billions of dollars makes it difficult to deal with honestly...

Public confidence in their Government and in the people who represent them in the Government is an essential element in our political system. It is important, therefore, to strengthen this confidence by dealing frankly and honestly with the people we represent. I feel very fortunate in having this kind of relationship with the people of Union County. Many thousands of you have seen at first hand how our Congressional office functions and how the people who help me serve from it. But for those other thousands who have not had occasion to see it in action, this may be an opportune time to explain how things work here.

But an office without people would be barren and useless. And the best thing about our Congressional office is the people working with me. I know of no Congressman with people more capable, loyal and interested, or with people who work longer and harder for their District. The problems of a Washington office are multitudinous. They require people who know the Federal Government, how it operates, who is responsible for what, and where to go for answers - in any of the hundreds of agencies here. They range all the way from providing hospitality and information for visiting constituents to the conception and execution of complex legislation.

Wanted: Skillful People The skills and talents an office needs are endless. Stenography, typing, filing, the use of office machines - these are the obvious but essential ones. Other hard-to-find skills are these: the ability to write well; a knowledge of law and administrative procedures, a facility for analyzing legislation, an awareness of the economic and social problems of our country which requires a background of history, political science, economics and international affairs, a wide acquaintanceship with top officials of Government departments and agencies, and the kind of reliable judgment that can separate the worthy case from the unworthy, the possible from the impossible, and the kind of experience that can find the way to obtain results.

In my own case, I would have preferred to follow my predecessor and use the rooms he had in the Elizabeth Post Office, which were larger and better furnished than any available for $1200 a year. But the Post Office had urgent need of the space, so I was forced to find something in a private building. As those who have been there know, there's nothing fancy about Room 227, 286 North Broad Street, Elizabeth (Telephone: Elizabeth 5-0400), but there's room enough for desks, filing cabinets, and work - for this is a working office. It's open and staffed six days a week throughout the year, except holidays, for one purpose: to make it as convenient as possible for people to get the help or information they need from their Congresswoman.

It isn't a political headquarters, a law office or an insurance company. It's your office, conducted exclusively in your interests. It's open to everybody - regardless of the conditions of your politics or your purse. But an office without people would be barren and useless. And the best thing about our Congressional office is the people working with me. I know of no Congressman with people more capable, loyal and interested, or with people who work longer and harder for their District.

Empire Is Spring's "Must"

Empire here and Empire there - the Empire theme is everywhere in fashion's scheme for an exciting spring and summer wardrobe.

What is it? It is a soft, feminine handling of detail that focuses attention at the top of the figure and revolves around the raised waistline. Just under the bust or just above the natural waistline, fashion points up the Empire look with such detailing as belts, scaming or sashes; again it may be delineated with arched set-in bands, obi ties, drawing string handling or cummerbunds.

Dropped shoulder seams, wide cape-like collars and puffed sleeves all help add top width and further give illusion of smaller waists and hips.

In dressier lines, the classic Empire tradition is defined with a bit of a bodice, lifted waist and a soft gentle flow of skirt that is bell-shaped, cone-shaped or fluted with all the grace of a classic Greek column.

In its many fanciful variations, there's an "Empire" just right for any figure, any occasion and every fashion-conscious woman.

Long-Lost Waistline Is Welcomed Back Again

Designers round the fashion world in the United States and abroad have switched their "foreign" policy! They've made a bid for goodwill and normalcy that's destined to win approval from the American male, his spouse and daughter who could not or would not accept some of the more recent fashion innovations.

So goodbye, chemise, trap-eze and variations on the "no-look" look! Hello, waistslines, shape and femininity! Yes, once again women are going to be wearing the kind of clothes that are more attractive to the majority of figures and may stay in style for more than a season!

Big news in the couture collections in New York and abroad late last year was the Empire silhouette. It was snugly and more simply been modified for Spring '59!

In most cases belts are still higher than normal, but the natural waistline is once again defined with a gentle clarity. Skirts have enough room for walking with ease, sitting with comfort and moving with grace.

Hemlines cover the knee and gentle flares give fluidity for less-than-perfect figures.

SHORTER JACKETS

In almost all cases, suit jackets are shorter—loose and straight—rounded lightly or bloused—detailed at the high-waistline or not—but all in all they are far less severe in line.

Suit skirts are still most often slender but they are tailored with more ease through the hipline and with a slight taper to the hem.

The brief jacket is the Number One jacket except in the notable and smart exception of the walking suit—which has a three-quarter length jacket—ideal as an extra coat!

LOTS OF COSTUMES

Destined for real popularity is the dress-and-jacket costume. The dress is usually a modified and gently defined sheath with a brief and easy jacket.

A long coat over a simple dress—plain over print or other—is another costume favorite. In the costume mod, suits with blouses to match jacket linings and other coordinate themes are also highlighted.

SHIRTWAIST IS NEW

Although the classic shirtwaist dress never leaves the fashion scene, however extreme styles may become—this season, these California-inspired basics are the rage.

Done in all fabrics, in dozens of variations from slender skirted styles to full-flaring ones, there's a shirtwaist for everyone, and every possible occasion.

Best of all—women who like their waistslines to be defined—whether of glamour measurements or not—are sure to be in good fashion again!

Always cover yeast dough that's set aside to rise, and be sure it is not in a draft.
