Springfield Has Ratables Boost Of $1,874,100

Springfield, with an increase of $1,874,100 in ratables, is one of the leaders in Union County according to figures released by the Union County Board of Taxation. Springfield's ratables amounted to $45,839,831 as compared with the figure of $43,965,731 for 1959.

County tax ratables this year will clear the $900,000,000 mark for the first time in history, the Union County Board of Taxation announced. Reports from 20 municipalities put the figure at $907,409,083.

The tax board will convert the municipal ratables to true value, using a formula supplied by the state. The county tax rate will be based on the equalized value which is due by law on Jan. 25.

The Board of Freeholders has begun budget studies faced with the prospect of increased demands in almost all of the county departments. The size of the ratable increase is expected to be consoling to the hard-pressed budget makers.

All towns except Winfield have reported increases in ratables. Tax board spokesmen cited 1959 building booms as a central factor in the valuation rise.

The biggest increase was recorded in Summit, where ratables jumped $5,588,950. Union reported a $4,068,085 hike and Westfield listed a $2,696,968 increase.

Plans Under Way For Yearly Meet

The churches and synagogues affiliated with the Brotherhood Council of Millburn, Short Hills, Springfield will gather at Congregation B'nai Israel, Millburn Thursday, Feb. 11, at 8:15 p.m., for their 11th annual brotherhood meeting.

Judge Milton Freiman, Township of Millburn Municipal Magistrate, will be toastmaster. Details of the program, to which everyone will be welcome, will be announced soon. It is planned to open the Millburn synagogue at 7:45 the evening of the meeting to provide time for guided tour of the building.

Syndicate Buys Hanovia Land; Plans Being Readied

Announcement was made this week that the huge tract of land—known as the Hanovia Tract in Route 22, Springfield, has been sold to a syndicate of Union and Essex industrial developers.

The large piece of property, owned by the Englehard Industries since 1951, runs 700 feet on the south side of Route 22 and is 63.54 acres situated against the Union line.

The property will be the site of an industrial park and several nationally known firms have already announced an interest in locating here. Plans are already being prepared for such an industrial park and may be ready to be presented to the Springfield Planning Board at the next regular meeting.

This property, the largest piece of desirable industrial property in that area of Route 22, was purchased by the Englehard interests in 1951 but the Township authorities could never get the owners to consider either selling off part of it or announcing any building plans.

Two syndicates have pooled together to purchase the Hanovia 63 acres and the sale was closed this week through the real estate offices of Frank E. Cardinal, Inc. as brokers.—Frank Cardinal heads the syndicate of Union County men and Meyer Rubenstein of South Orange represented the Essex County group. No purchase price has been mentioned.

This Hanovia tract of land is zoned for general industry. The new owners say the plans call for the most modern of industrial parks and several national concerns have already inspected the property and indicated interest in locating their units here. Building restrictions in Springfield call for a minimum of 80,000 square feet for each industrial building.

Budget Passes; Questions Few; To Sell Bonds

Springfield Board of Education adopted its 1960-61 budget Tuesday evening in substantially its printed and advertised form following a hearing that lasted a little more than an hour and brought about no changes in the figures. The hearing was attended by only a fair number of townspeople, all being accommodated in the Board's meeting room. It had been planned prior to the session to move into the auditorium if the turnout of citizens was as large as expected. Among those present were Mayor V. J. Bonadies and some of the candidates for election to the school board on Feb. 9.

After the Board's finance chairman, Robert G. Smith, read the budget in full and commented on its contents, the questions began. Most of them had to do with the items that showed increases, such as teachers' salaries, teachers' supplies, the capital outlay items—and a few others.

Also the subject of several (Continued on Page 10)

2 Care About Spending Of $2,711,344.

Only two citizens, just two people of the six communities in the Union County Regional High School District attended the public hearing last week of the proposed 1960-61 school budget of $2,711,344. The hearing was held at the Jonathan-Dayton High School in Springfield.

The two people offered no objections, and asked no questions. It isn't even certain that they were taxpayers.

The budget is $458,328 higher than the current one. This is attributed chiefly to expenses connected with the scheduled opening in September of Gov. Livingston High School in Berkeley Heights. The budget will be voted upon Feb. 2 in Springfield, Mountaintop, Clark, Garwood, Kenilworth and Berkeley Heights.

The amount to be raised by taxation is $2,315,026, higher by $434,996 than the present year. This reflects a loss in state aid of nearly $100,000 due to an increase in the local "fair share" breakdown of from three to four mills.

The tax amount will be apportioned among member municipalities according to their equalized property evaluation. Berkeley Heights will bear about 25 percent of the cost, according to estimate; Springfield 24 percent, Clark 20 percent, Kenilworth and Mountaintop, each 13 percent, and Garwood five percent. The new figures will represent an approximate hike of about six per cent for Berkeley Heights—and a decrease for the other municipalities except Kenilworth, which will remain the same.

The average tax rate of $1.72 this year is not expected to rise above a $2 average in 1960-61, at the regional board estimated. Most items which make up the (Continued on Page 10)

Mrs. E. Laible Recruiting For Senior Citizens Show

Mrs. Elizabeth Laible, of 18 Glenview Drive, Springfield, has been named recruitment chairman here for the 11th annual "senior citizens' hobby show. The exhibit, which is sponsored by the Newark Council of Social Agencies and the Soroptimist Club of Newark, will be open to the public during store hours on the seventh floor of Kresge-Newark Feb. 15 through 20. There is no admission or exhibit entry fee.

For the past three years Mrs. Laible has been a participant in the hobby show. She has won four ribbons, one representing first place, for crocheting centerpieces and sewing and crocheting clothes for a doll. This is her second year to serve as recruitment chairman.

Now 71, Mrs. Laible has many active interests but the spirit of the hobby show drew her back year after year. New acquaintances, Mrs. Laible explained, are made and old ones renewed among the "golden age set who thrive on the drive of friendly competition. It is healthier to keep busy," she further stated. Mrs. Laible would like to interest other Springfield residents in entering their hobbies in the show to be held next month.

Any hobby which can be displayed is eligible, added Mrs. Laible. Past exhibits have included everything from glass-blowing to toothpick construction. A committee assigns each entry to a specific category for judging purposes. "Every imaginable hobby is classified," said Mrs. Laible, "with the help of a 'miscellaneous' category."

The hobby show has been growing in popularity with both hobbyists and spectators. To further interest potential hobbyists, the hobby show committee will schedule several demonstrations to run concurrently with the show in the exhibit area.

Show requirements are few. The senior citizens must be 60 years of age or older and the entry for exhibit must have been completed within the past two years. Entries are being accepted now through the Council of Social Agencies, 795 Broad St., Newark. Prospective entrants can get full details by telephoning Jacob W. Feldman at Market 3-6030.

Your Co-operation Solicited

The life of a weekly newspaper editor is not easy. If he is desirous of turning out an easily readable and well-written paper, he will spend many hours editing and re-writing material submitted for publication by the publicity chairman of organizations. While in many cases those who prepare copy for newspapers do a workmanlike job, there are some who would like to do so but do not have the technical knowledge.

For the benefit of the latter group, here are some suggestions which, if followed, will lighten the work of the editor and help him in his ambition to produce an accurate and readable paper.

In sending news items to this paper, please TYPE your material if possible, triple or double spaced. Start off by typing your name and phone number in the upper left corner. Leave a liberal space before beginning your story. Original copies always are preferred.

Spell names correctly, making sure to include full first names and the proper designation, Miss or Mrs. NEVER strike over a letter. It is better to XXXX-out the word and re-type it.

This is of the utmost importance and it applies to everyone who is responsible for getting news into the paper:

PLEASE FORGET EVERYTHING YOU HAVE BEEN TOLD ABOUT DEADLINES AND GET YOUR BODY TO US AT THE VERY EARLIEST MOMENT POSSIBLE.

Thursday morning we start getting material ready for the following Thursday's edition. By Monday we are inundated, and by Tuesday we are swamped.

May we ask you—may we URGE you—to send in your reports IMMEDIATELY after the meeting or affair being reported takes place. Where a news release does not depend on the time element of a meeting or an event, please do not hold it for Monday or Tuesday. It will be most welcome Wednesday, Thursday or Friday.

Well-Known Missionary Speaks At Methodist Church Here Sunday

The Reverend Inman U. Townsley, of Pico, California, and of Wembo Nyama in the Belgian Congo, Africa, a missionary of the Methodist Church, will be the guest speaker at the Methodist Church in Springfield, January 24, at 11 a.m.

Mr. Townsley will speak on his experiences during twenty years of service in the heart of the Congo.

Since his ordination as a minister of the Methodist Church by Bishop Arthur J. Moore and Bishop John M. Springer, Mr. Townsley has served in both educational and evangelistic work in the central Congo—being stationed at various times in Wembo Nyama, Lodja—and Tundra; three of the principal (Continued on Page 10)

CHANGES TAKE EFFECT

This column hailed the New Year as a time of stock taking — and the Free Public Library has been doing just that. On the last day of the year, Dec. 31, it is compelled to close in order to finish the report in time for the town meeting on Jan. 1.

However, in a kind of general summing up, changes can be given. In all but one or two areas the library has moved ahead and is looking forward to an even more active 1960.

First there have been changes on the Board of Trustees. Mrs. Loren Skousen, who had served faithfully for seven years, felt she should retire because she had given all the time she could afford and someone else should have the experience of working with the Library.

Mrs. Mildred Schneider also felt the demands on her time were too heavy. Robert B. Potter has moved away from Springfield, and therefore was automatically excluded. These last two had served only a short time, but managed to contribute a great deal.

In their places we have welcomed Kenneth R. Hetzel Jr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Bender, and are looking forward to meeting Mrs. Jeanette Abrahamson. The trustees of Springfield Library are well-known for the serious consideration and the amount of time they give their duties and for their faithful attendance at meetings.

CIRCULATION GROWING

Circulation and reference questions in the library itself continue to grow. Of particular interest is the number of teenage readers. It has further been noted that the behavior of this group has been better than a year ago. Mrs. Sandmeier's cooperation in this field is appreciated.

Turning to the staff, Mrs. Frederick Schumacher retired to study art. Due to the increase in work and the peculiar hours, it was necessary to replace her by two part-time people. These are Mrs. A. G. Hegarty and Mrs. Victor Ferguson.

The page girls who work part-time after school covered themselves with glory. All three who graduated won college scholarships besides prizes. These were Patricia Durand, Katherine Slipka, Judy Vance, Virginia Barnwell, Deborah Powers, Eileen Wagner, Carol Bellevue and Gail Kymer have come to take their places and will have to work hard to equal their records.

Mr. Palmer, as usual, arranged interesting exhibits and every day there are people looking at them. Many of the children notice the exhibits on their way to return books in the opposite room. Later they bring their parents to take them into the Museum.

So much for personnel. To turn to the materials, some new furniture has been ordered. It is hoped that this will make the library more convenient and eliminate a couple of bottlenecks at the circulation desks. This will be delivered in January.

MORE BOOKS ADDED

Many of the new books have been listed in this column from time to time and will be described in the future. To mention briefly the most important: The "World Book Encyclopedia" and the "Americana" have been brought up to date. A new set of "Compton's Picture Encyclopedia" and the "Britannica Junior" have been ordered for the Juvenile Room in order to help the children with their school work. Microfilm and a reader for microfilm have been added to help adult readers.

One of the things which we might call a failure is the Community Calendar. People do not record enough events or consult it often enough. However, we will try to stir up interest in it again.

A number of very fine gifts have been received during the past year. Several people gave large number of books; some gave choice single volumes. Some national organizations have sent publications which have proved useful for reference work. "The Advocate" has been presented to this library the mother of one of the Story for a number of years. This year four children gave a bound copy of "Boys' Life" and is presenting a subscription for 1960.

Another magazine, "The Children's Friend," was an additional gift given to the children. The painting of the Cannon Ball House is an outstanding gift and has been mentioned previously in The Sun.

hberg house that can be occupied by the school board to the Board of Education. The plan is to move the school office from James Clark School and convert the empty space to classrooms.

Miss Marhan will replace Miss Florence Gaudinier when she returns at the end of March. Miss Gaudinier, long associated with the local school system, will be inquest of honor when the annual school board election is held next month.

It was announced that the 1960 budget is about 17 percent higher than the 1959 budget. Board President Smith announced that it was the practice of the board to spend money carefully and that the increase in the budget did not mean that any great amount would be spent in 1960.

Congresswoman

(Continued from Page 1) Speaks To Lions In an address before Springfield Lions Club at Mountain View Inn, Friday, Jan. 15, Mrs. Dwyer said that "national leaders from the ranks of both management and labor have expressed their support of a national labor-management conference which could explore and discuss problems common to both groups."

Neither side," she added, "is in a position to make realistic plans for such a conference or to initiate the necessary arrangements." These arrangements must be made by groups which are genuinely neutral, which will not be involved in substantive issues, and in which both sides have confidence.

"The Government, especially in view of its successful mediation of the steel strike should be in an ideal position to extend the necessary invitations and provide the essential assurances. Since the Government represents all the American people, and the American people have such a tremendous stake in improving labor-management relations, then the least the Government can do is to help bring the two together. It need not and should not, of course, interfere or otherwise seek to dominate such a conference."

Lands Labor Law Congresswoman Dwyer expressed confidence that the new Kennedy-Landrum-Griffin labor reform law could "do much to improve industrial peace in America by strengthening the democratic control of labor unions by their memberships."

Bob Sayle Back On Court For College

Bob Sayle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Sayle, 67202 Linder Avenue, Springfield, is still being bothered by an early season injury which forced him out of basketball action at David Lipscomb College in Nashville, Tenn.

Bob suffered with a badly sprained ankle nearly a month before the season started and has yet to regain the start position which he won last year as a Sophomore. Bob sparked the Bisons to a post-Christmas comeback last year and won all conference honors. He also emerged as the team's high scorer.

Sayle played high school basketball at Livingston High School, where he won an All-State honorable mention award.

RECREATION SPORTS ACTIVITIES

"SMALL-FRY" BASKETBALL

The "Small-Fry" basketball program officially opened play last Saturday afternoon, with action at the James Caldwell and Raymond Chisholm Schools. Both gyms were the scene of spirited action, with the scores low because of the over-anxious play by all teams. League standings in this league will be made available in next week's issue of the Sun. In the "State League," Michigan remained unbeaten by posting a 17-11 win over California, Oklahoma stopped West Virginia, with Illinois nipping Texas 14-12.

In the finale of the four-game card, Kentucky came from behind to trip a good but hard luck Minnesota combine.

Not Too Much Success Expected From Efforts To Reduce Deer Herd

The State Fish and Game Commission is engaged in trapping deer in the Watchung Reservation in an attempt to cut down the deer population which has done thousands of dollars of damage to property owners near the reservation.

However, as predicted in some quarters, the trapping program does not seem to be making startling reductions in the deer population.

Wire Traps Used
The animals are being caught in a large wooden and wire traps. During the month of December the traps were put out, baited with apples and left open.

Some unfortunate deer got in the habit of using the traps as free lunch counters. However, now when the deer nibble they pay the price.

The animals are being taken down to more deserted areas in South Jersey, where the deer population does not menace property owners.

The trapping started after the Association for the Control and Welfare of Wildlife protested that the size of the herds had risen to too large a point.

Several persons suggested that an open season be permitted to reduce the size of the herds, but expected objections from animal lovers helped the County Park Commission to choose the trapping method.

The state had declared an open season on deer in December.

Interest In Health Jobs Given Push

'Health Careers,' a program sponsored by the National Health Council, has come to this community. Since early Fall, a committee of women sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of Overlook Hospital has been engaged in furthering the purpose of this program.

This purpose is to publicize the alarming acute shortage of personnel in the health field and to attract more people to the varied and interesting positions available.

Few people realize that there are more than 150 different careers in this vital field of endeavor, many of them developed within the last ten years, some within a hospital such as Overlook with its newly expanded facilities, some in industry, others in schools and elsewhere.

Through the schools in Overlook area, this committee, headed by Mrs. Stanley Lewis of Forest Drive, Short Hills, has sought to encourage students in considering careers in the health field.

Mrs. Lewis and her committee have invited the principals and other representatives of each high school, junior high, private and parochial school in the area served by Overlook Hospital, to come to the hospital for a guided tour, with special emphasis on those departments where health careers find their place.

The tour will take place today, Thursday. It is hoped that each school will be represented.

The 'Health Careers' committee for Overlook consists of members from several of the towns in the Overlook area.

Representing Springfield are Mrs. William Konrad and Mrs. Charles Heard.

Phone Company May Take Away Service From Party Liners

A hearing was asked to determine whether telephone service should be taken away from two women who allegedly refused to terminate a conversation so that a doctor could make an emergency call on a party line.

The request was made to the Public Utility Commission by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company.

The company proposed that the board decide if the alleged refusal violated the company's regulations on file with the state agency.

Under the state law and the company's tariffs, anyone who fails to relinquish a telephone party line for an emergency call is held to be a disorderly person. The action involves Mrs. An

Public Garden Planned For Mountainside

A spot in Mountainside may one day be the site of a nationally known rhododendron display garden. Following an inspection tour of the woodland location in the Watchung Reservation last week in the company of Union County Park Commission and Union County Rhododendron Display Committee officials, Dr. J. Harold Clarke of Portland, Ore., president of the American Rhododendron Society, approved the spot.

Lands Local Groups
Money is being raised by the society to start the garden on a quarter-acre portion of the area. The floral display, with walks, eventually would be expanded to cover four or five acres. Seven or eight years may pass before the plans mature sufficiently to make a good showing.

Little cost would accrue to the county, according to F. S. Mathewson, general superintendent of the Park Commission. The county would be responsible for walks, planting and maintenance.

Dr. Clarke commended the Union County groups co-operating with him and said the garden should provide considerable beauty and benefits for the general public and, in particular, for flower lovers.

Guests at Reception
Dr. Clarke was honored at a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Russell Haag, 711 High street, Cranford. Dr. Clarke discussed the rhododendron test garden in Portland, man., said the garden would contain more than 2,500 varieties and display newer and plants of 650 varieties valued at more than $50,000. Slides of the horticulturists, garden were shown.
