Books Course Starts Soon

The Free Public Library in Springfield announces that four leaders have been secured for its annual series of book discussions.

Milton Kappettler, a former member of Springfield Board of Education, will open the series Thursday evening, Feb. 25. The book for that evening will be "The Organization Man" by W. H. Whyte Jr.

He will be followed on March 10 by Mrs. S. Bryant Haas, who is well-known for her fine book reviews. Her evening will be devoted to "The Lonely Crowd" by David Riesman and others.

The two other evenings of the series will be in charge of F. H. Shimschook and A. R. Kropinich. Mr. Shimschook, director of America Fore Loyalty-Casualty Adjusters School of New York, will do "The Hidden Persuaders" by Vance Packard on March 24; Mr. Kropinich, a member of the English Dept. at the Regional High School, will lead the discussion of Aldous Huxley's "Brave New World" on April 7.

All meetings will start at 8 o'clock.

"WHAT IS THE AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE?" is the general theme of the series. Everyone interested in reading or discussions is invited to join all or any one of the groups.

In order to make enough books available, the library has purchased ten copies of each title for circulation. Many people already own copies of these books. The library has in addition to the circulating books, ten copies of each for sale. A complete set of four would cost $3.10.

NOTE: The library will be closed on Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22.

Governor, Mayor Laud Effort In Brotherhood

Last week-end the Youth Group of Shary Shalom, Suburban Reform Congregation in Springfield, was host to the Rev. Bruce Van Blair and 18 Youth Group members from the First Congregational Church in Paxton, Mass., of which the Rev. Mr. Van Blair is pastor.

All of the programming and co-ordination were done by Mrs. Lillian Guddlat with assistance from Mr. and Mrs. P. Ames, Mr. and Mrs. L. Gerber, Mr. and Mrs. H. Katz and Mr. and Mrs. Lanes, and the following families who opened their homes and hearts to the visiting Youth Group: Eisenstein, Aronow, Bachrach, Chayat, Bender, Katz, Alexander and Korcz, in Springfield, and Hyman, Gillin, Stein and Monastersky, in Union.

In connection with this week-end, Jack Heller, of Shary Shalom's Senior Youth Group received the following letter from Gov. Robert Meyner:

Dear Jack:

I am pleased to learn of the plans of the Youth Group of Temple Shalom to observe Brotherhood Week at a joint program with your counterpart organization in the First Congregational Church of Paxton, Mass.

I wish you would convey my personal and official greetings to our visitors from the Bay State. It is one of the faults of "news" as a commodity that the wrongdoings of a tiny minority of our young people get the widest kind of currency, while the good works of the great majority go relatively unnoticed. Personally, I do not hold with all the hand-wringing over the supposed dereliction of our young, and it's projects like your Brotherhood Week that sustain my position.

I hope your program is highly successful.

Sincerely,
Robert Meyner,
Governor

The Senior Youth Group of Paxton received a letter from Springfield's Mayor Vincent Bonadies, from which the following is an excerpt:

"Joining with the Youth Group of Temple Shary Shalom of Springfield in this conclave and absorbing the true spirit of 'Brotherhood Week' gives to all of us continued reassurance in the strength and hope of our youth for a brighter tomorrow."

Because this project was such a success for adults and teenagers, Shary Shalom's Youth Group is planning to visit Paxton, Mass., next Fall to continue the friendships that were formed this past week-end.

NOTE: The library will be closed on Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22.

Dayton Regional Student An International Figure

The past few months have seen a small trickle of letters from all over the world in the incoming mail-pouch of Dayton Regional High School in Springfield. Letters from Hungary, Germany, England, France and other places, bearing authentic postmarks, are curiously addressed to "Dr. Alan Chaiet or to Alan Chaiet, M.D."

On investigating one finds that this "Dr. Chaiet" is none other than Alan Chaiet, a Junior in home room 16 of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. The cause of all this renown is a paper published for the students in the British science journal MATURE for Nov. 27, 1959.

The title of Alan's paper was "Estimation of Vitamin C by Agar Diffusion", which represents the end result of a long science fair project that netted for the student a second prize of the local high school fair, the grand award at the Newark Science Fair and a second place prize in the National Science Fair held in Hartford, Conn. last year.

Since publication of his article, Alan has received letters of inquiry from scientists of various countries requesting (Continued on Page 2)

Springfield Population Jumps 114.9% In 1960

Even before the 1960 census starts, it has been estimated that the population of Springfield will show a jump of 114.9%—from 7,214 to 15,500 in the ten-year period between 1950 and this year. Some local sources say the latter figure will be proved low when the actual census is added up.

Other towns in this area also are showing big gains, as the following indicates:

Scotch Plains is expected to show a 98.4% increase from 9,069 in 1950 to 18,000 in 1960.

Berkeley Heights is credited with a jump of 116.4%—from 3,466 to 7,500 people.

Fanwood will show an increase of 117%—the population figure going from 3,228 to 7,000.

Mountaintop, with the largest percentage boost in the county—183.3%—is expected to show a population figure of 5,900 for 1960 as compared with 2,048 in 1950.

Other municipalities in the county with large increases are New Providence, 181% to 9,500; Clark, 152.7% to 11,000.

Lowest growth is expected in Winfield, 2.9%, and Roselle Park, 8.4%.

Elizabeth will continue to be the largest municipality in the county, but Union will take second place away from Plainfield.

The county as a whole is credited with having gained 120,000 residents in the ten-year span.

According to figures released by Shelby G. Fell, director for the U.S. Census Bureau for the county, the 1960 total will be 519,700—a 30% increase from 1950's 399,138.

General Tax Plan Hit By Regional Bd.

The proposed county vocational school was a subject of lengthy discussion at the meeting Tuesday evening of the Board of Education of Union County Regional High School District No. 1 at Jonathan Dayton School in Springfield.

Brought to the attention of his colleagues by Dr. Minor C. K. Jones, member of the Board from Mountaintop, an article in a daily paper two weeks ago was sharply disputed.

The news item stated that the Union County Council of Parent-Teacher Association had urged the Board of Freeholders to proceed "full-steam ahead" with plans for a free county vocational school, that the Council rejected the idea of placing the proposition before the people in a referendum and that the school should be financed from general taxation—rather than on a per capita basis by participating municipalities, an alternative advanced in many quarters.

There was no argument over establishment of the school, although doubt was expressed of the need for such an institution so far as the towns in the Regional District were concerned. The Board, agreeing with Dr. Jones's stand, objected to the method of financing. It was voted to send a letter to the county P.T.A. unit saying this.

The school trustees made it clear they felt the vocational courses available in the regional school system were good and made a county vocational school unnecessary. They indicated that it was their belief that the towns in the (Continued on Page 2)

Paul Sherman, an onlooker in the audience, wanted to know what could be done about keeping the people informed of Board action and contemplated action so that the public "will not be hit with it at the last minute," such as was the case, Mr. Sherman said, on the fire-detection referendum.

It was pointed out that all Board meetings are open to the public; the meeting dates are known and the sessions are reported in the newspapers. Mr. Sherman told this reporter later that he was aware of these (Continued on Page 2)

Ready for Legislative Action
Our investigation disclosed that for many years the practice of using fictitious organization names as the reputed sponsor of campaign propaganda has become increasingly prevalent.

This is a quotation from a presentment handed down by the Union County September Grand Jury.
Anyone who ever has been connected with or has worked in a political campaign, knows how true the foregoing words are—and how vicious the practice mentioned can be.

Jerseyite on National Ticket?
One came away from the Union County Republican Lincoln Day Dinner last week with one overriding thought:

There is an excellent possibility that a New Jersey man—and a native Union Countyite, at that—may be a national candidate in next November's elections.

SUN Rays
If beauty in itself and the beautification of Union County mean more to you than just a passing sentiment, here is an opportunity to put your feeling into action.

This department had two more visitors this past week. While they could not compare in looks with the guest of the week before, they decidedly were as clean-cut, nice-appearing young men as one would find in a long, long search.

Larry Newcomb, who is president of Young Republicans of Westfield, dropped in to chat about how to go about making sure publicity about the YROW gets into the paper.

This visit was pleasing on two particular accounts. First, it gave me an opportunity to rectify some of those elementary principles of publicity writing I wish I could bring directly to the attention of all publicity chairmen with whom my work brings me in contact.

If any of you writers are interested in doing more than an "adequate" job and want further information, or something clarified, this column will be happy to oblige.

Getting back to Larry: his visit was pleasing for a second reason: it developed that we both know Carl Marggraf, the younger; George Gillette and a few other active Young Republicans in Bergen County.

The other visitor walked in and greeted me with a hearty "What happened to your mustache?" Which indicated that my guest had not seen me in quite a few years.

My visitor was Arthur Miller Jr. He lives in Springfield and is with the W. J. Sloan store in Millburn. Years ago he had folded papers for the weekly newspaper in Bergen County.

An afterthought: I hope young Miller does not send me a bedroom set or a roomful of wall-to-wall carpeting and get me involved in the "payola" investigation in Washington.

I was in hectic company one night last week. It was at the Lincoln Day dinner of Union County Republican Committee. I was seated at the press table.

worked on the New Brunswick Home News and a Washington, D.C., paper before joining Sun. Case, I forgot to ask him if Al Jones still works on the Home News. It struck me that Sam must be doing a darn good job for his boss.

At the head table was an array of Republican leadership seldom seen at one place at the same time: Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, Senator Case (I worked his election six years ago as a Bergen County newspaperman), Congresswoman Florence P. Dwyer, State Senator Robert C. Crane (a newspaperman—or ex-newspaperman—himself), County Chairman Charles P. Bailey, Freeholder J. Andrew Stemmer and some others.

Like so many others in the room, I was most interested in Secretary Mitchell. He spoke well. He makes a favorable impression. He is a native Unionite, having been born in Elizabeth. He told a story about the towns in this county in which he has lived—Elizabeth to Rahway to Union Summit to Westfield—saying that this indicated a "financial progression."

Mrs. Dwyer put it bluntly when she said that much of the speech-making in the House of Representatives (having for its purpose the formation of material to send to the folks back home) is "horse feathers."

Also new to me was the scene of the dinner: the Hotel Suburban. A lovely place. How come such a fine large hostelry in such a small town as Summit? A pal on the back to whoever was responsible: the public address system in the dining room worked well.

This is the time of the year when rocking chair politicians go in for predictions as to candidates for office. Any of you have any ideas on who's going to run for what in this neck of the woods?

Looking over several Union County newspapers in the two days following the school elections on Feb. 9, I was struck by the absence of women's pictures. Does this mean that there are few members of the district side on Boards of Education in these parts? If so—how come?

Mrs. Samuel Goldstein, of 28 Kipling Avenue, Springfield, recently was appointed chairman of the Speakers Bureau Committee of the State Council of the New Jersey Association for Retarded Children, Inc. Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis Clubs, women's groups, and all other organizations seeking a serious program in an important field would do well to arrange for a speaker through her.

Mitchell Given

ing everything an avowed candidate might be expected to do, intimated that he was speaking as U.S. Senator with no campaign thoughts in his mind.

Mrs. Dwyer has announced her candidacy for re-election and Senator Crane was re-elected last fall.

At a brightly decorated head table, against a backdrop of blown-up pictures of President Eisenhower and Vice-President Nixon, a silhouette of Abraham Lincoln ("the first Republican President, whose memory and statesmanship were being honored tonight") and reproductions of the GOP emblem, the elephant, Secretary Mitchell lauded the Eisenhower Administration, spoke highly of Vice-President Nixon and of his "human qualities," declared the defense position of the United States was "not second to any country."

Urges Rights Law
Mr. Mitchell, whose demeanor was that of a man in high position speaking in the name of the President of the United States, called for a civil rights program which would guarantee "equal protection under the law."

Said the Secretary: "Equal protection and equal rights under the law for any of our citizens remains only an empty fulfillment of our promise of freedom until assured to all our citizens. . . . One of the President's proposals, one that I consider of the greatest importance, is that to guarantee equal job opportunity for all workers on government contract work."

Senator Case commented on the President's "unparalleled popularity," cautioned against overconfidence on the part of Republicans, "certainty that the election is in the bag," lauded Congresswoman Dwyer for her efforts in Washington and praised the Republican leadership in Union County.

Overconfidence Hit
Mrs. Dwyer, too, sounded a note of caution against overconfidence, pictured Secretary Mitchell as one of the most able Cabinet members in the history of our country and one of whom Union County could be proud.

State Senator Crane took the opportunity to thank the people for their support last November, saying that Union County can be Republican when it makes up its mind to be and works hard at it. He added his words of caution against overconfidence to those of the other speakers.

The program was opened with recitation of the Pledge of Allegiance led by County Clerk General Henry G. Nutton and invocation spoken by the Rev. F. H. Harkins, pastor of St. Teresa's Church in Summit.

According to the student, this is a new approach at separating the basic amino-acid Lysine (a protein-like molecule) from other amino acids by much the same way that water softeners work in these areas.

The student has his sights on another top award at the forthcoming National Science Fair. He lives at 83 Cypress Terrace, Springfield, is an honor student in school and is interested in some field of chemistry as a life career.

One of the points stressed by Mr. Pfeiffer was that education is not only a teacher's job, but the responsibility of the parent as well. Also, children do not learn from text books only but from their contacts with everyday life, selected TV programs and field trips to various places of interest.

Mrs. Lucq Forsyth, principal, again stressed the point that parents must not call the police department to ascertain a emergency school closing because of inclement weather. On these days, there will be two short blasts on the fire whistle at 7:30 A.M. and 8 A.M., as well as an announcement on John Gambing's WOR radio program at 7:30 A.M.

SIS. JOSEPHINE ROSAIRE
 A High Mass of Requiem was offered for the late Sister Josephine Rosaire at the Chapel of the "Convent" of Mary the Queen in Yonkers, N. Y., Thursday, Feb. 11. Sister Josephine died Monday, Feb. 8, at the age of 89.
 A native of Springfield, the Sister was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rea. Sister Josephine had been dean for a long period of the College of Mount Saint Vincent in the Riverdale section of New York City.
 Teaching was Sister Josephine's profession for several decades. Before entering the Sisters of Charity 58 years ago, she was a public school principal, was active in settlement work and wrote for educational magazines. She attended Catholic and Fordham Universities, receiving her Master's degree from the latter.
 In all her work she manifested intellectual gifts and powers of organization. When Bishop

Charles E. Colton of New York, subsequently of Buffalo, heard of her entering the New York Community, he is quoted as saying: "New York is not big enough for Miss Rea!"
 Sister Josephine Rosaire awarded Kappa Gamma Pi, national honor society of Catholic women's colleges. Each year the society presents awards to Catholic students throughout the nation who are outstanding in character, scholarship and service.
 Surviving the late Sister Josephine are four cousins: Mrs. George Boyle of Hackensack, N. J.; Mrs. William Gannon and Miss Anne Boland, of Jersey City, and Mrs. Martha Pyle of Summit.

Introducing...

Your New Electric Service Bill

Beginning with our February billing, the electric service bills received by customers in JCP&L's Central Division will have a new look.

The new bill is the first step in our new billing procedure which will be expanded to include all our customers.

The change in the appearance is but a small part of the over-all story—a story that also includes new methods of printing your bill and posting and recording your electric service charges.

These changes, added together, make for more efficient operation, lower unit cost, faster posting of charges and greater capacity for future growth.

This is all made possible by the new facilities at our modernized and expanded billing center and is part of our continuing program of planning and building ahead to provide the best possible service at the lowest possible cost.

we found a house... quickly and easily!

Dear Mother,
Our house hunting problems were solved today. When Joe and I arrived in town, we obtained a list of the local Realtors, and selected one. He showed us houses from his file of Multiple Listings. It was so easy and smooth. He handled all the details... got us a satisfactory mortgage... and we'll be moving in about a month.
Love, Alice

Behind The Scenes In Industrial Arts Dept. At Jonathan Dayton HS

By E. KULAWIEC
 Interesting subjects of the entire There are some people at school curriculum. Still others Jonathan Dayton Regional High will argue for the first time. School who will disclaim any or the second, etc. knowledge of the existence of I went to see what was there, a ground floor there. A maor, other than the familiar cafe- ity will claim strongly that theteria, and found a nest of fer- ground floor offers the most in-vent activity, a veritable beehive of action. There, in four over-sized rooms with large windows looking for the most part, into a bare, Winter courtyard are situated the bulk of the industrial arts department's "territory", amidst the honest smell of wood shavings, printers ink and machine oil.

What's Down There
 For on the ground floor of the school (some may call it the basement) are the wood shop, the metal shop, the general shop and the printing shop. Mechanical drawing, a major offering of the industrial arts curriculum, is offered on what may be called the first floor apart from the rest.

Looking into each of these shops, I was greatly impressed by the orderliness and neatness that appeared everywhere: tools hanging on walls, (no metal) orderly arranged in little cubicles and machines carefully labeled. And the type and variety of the equipment was impressive enough to make me want to find out more about what transpires

What Is Available
 The biggest question one might be tempted to ask (as I was) of this aspect of the high school is just what kind of and how much vocational training a boy might get here at Dayton Regional. Lew Fredericks, chairman of the department, together with his teachers, gave the answers to these and other questions.

Industrial arts, in short, provide in the general education of a youth both practical and related knowledge about tools, machines, and processes of our industrial society and their effect upon daily life. A boy (for this is an area of the school curriculum not yet invaded by the all-pervading female) can take as much as for four years of industrial arts work if he has a strong desire and aptitude in this direction. The greater majority of boys usually take two years of work.

The Metal Shop
 In the metal shop, which is supervised by Richard Kahn, can be found such equipment as precision turning metal lathes, a milling machine, a power hack saw, a complete foundry unit, and complete sheet metal equipment, not to mention the usual hand tools. With this equipment and with expert supervision, students turn out finished tile-top tables, boxes, fishing tackle boxes, and small tools, such as hammers, chisel, etc. In graphic arts there is letter-press equipment, an offset press, stripping and layout equipment, rubber, stamp-making equipment, and a complete dark-room for photography students. Under Stan Grossman's direction students turn out first-class examples of printing for themselves in the form of memo and assignment pads, tickets, brochures and stationery. Many of Mr. Grossman's students have exhibited their samples at various fairs and conventions and have won some small renown for themselves and their school.

Mechanical Drawing
 There is a professional drafting table in the mechanical drawing room, along with a drafting machine and print reproduction machine with which to make authentic blue-prints. Students can elect up to four years of work, depending on their progress and ability as demonstrated in previous courses.

Al Rothbard, teacher of mechanical drawing, is a professional draftsman, and for the past two summers has been engaged in professional drafting work. In this way he manages to keep abreast of the latest trends and techniques of drafting. A recent project of mechanical drawing classes involved designing the furniture and equipment layout for the rooms in the new regional high school. And at last count, six Dayton Regional graduates were working at drafting at Bell Labs.

Scope Is General
 The general shop serves somewhat as an orientation to the industrial arts offerings. Its scope is more general, presenting an overview of the more specific offerings of the department. Usually, general shop serves as the first course for the student. There is an opportunity here to do art metal work.

A lapidary machine can be found here for cutting and polishing stones in the making of simple jewelry. Leather work is also a part of the course. Many students who have taken general shop have won prizes for their finished products in several state-wide competitions. More recently, one of the boys won an honorable mention at a national fair for a ring that he had made in his general shop. He teaches one of the mechanical drawing classes for beginning students.

The wood-shop contains complete wood-working machines: circular and band saws, jointer, disc sander, jig saw and miscellaneous hand and portable tools. Students turn out such finished items as cedar chests, coffee end tables, book cases and other wood products. This year they have tarted using modern veners like formica in their projects. Horace McNab is in charge of the wood shop. This certainly is no complete picture of the industrial arts offerings. Brief mention is made of the two-way exchange program that is being conducted with the Arthur L. Johnson Regional School in Clark this year. Students from that school come to Dayton Regional to study graphic arts, while Dayton Regional students go there to learn machine shop techniques and automechanics. This exchange plan is open to any qualified Junior or Senior student of both schools.

More Than Tools
 Working with tools, machines and T-squares is not all that students do in the industrial arts courses, though it may be most of their activity there. In addition, group guidance is carried out to a great extent by the teachers involved. A bit of math is also taught, especially in mechanical drawing and sheet metal working. Also, some attempt is made at trying to develop consumer values in connection with the students' own projects.

It might be added that one of the most arresting facets of the entire department is the stress placed on safety. All courses are begun at the beginning of each new semester with a thorough program of safety instruction. All cutting machines are equipped with special safety real accomplishments of the industrial arts classes. Parents ought to encourage their children to look into these courses with the possible view of electing one or more of them in their course of study. A little practical learning in this area can be of real use later on in this age of do-it-yourself. And Dayton Regional has a variety of offerings.

"Minutemen" Stop Irvington

The Springfield Recreation "Junior Minutemen" gained a hard-fought victory over the Irvington All-Stars Saturday night, Feb. 13, the score being 50-47. The capacity crowd was treated to good basketball as the teams were well matched. The score was tied in the first, second and third quarters, with the Springfield combination gaining the victory by outscoring Irvington 10-7 in the final canto.

Rip Franklin, Bobby Haas and Marshall Anthony were the leading point-makers for the "Minutemen," with Steve Berger and Monticello coming through on defense as well as coming through with timely scores.

Irvington held an 8-point lead at the halfway mark of the second quarter, but Springfield rallied for a halftime 28-28 score behind Rip Franklin's great scoring drive which netted three baskets in the final minute of play.

The crowd enjoyed the battle as both clubs remained tied after three periods, but in the final quarter it was Springfield as Clei-Monticello pumped home two baskets, with Keith Neigel and Rick Multhaup dropping in one each to wrap up the big win.

The locals return to action tonight, Thursday, facing Linden here at the Gaudineer School gym, with game time at 7.

"Minutemen" face Linden P.A.L. tonight

The "Junior Minutemen" will face a strong Linden P.A.L. quintet at the Florence Gaudineer School tonight, game time at 7. The Linden squad is coached by Tom Sharkey and recently captured a Jersey City basketball tournament.

The "Minutemen" will line up with a squad of boys who are outstanding in the recreation "Ivy League" basketball program.

The game is open to the public; no admission is charged.

High scores in Small-Fry Basketball League

High scores prevailed in the Springfield "Small-Fry" basketball league program at the James Caldwell and Raymond Chisholm Schools. The "small-fry" basketballers have two more weeks remaining before they engage in a double elimination play-off, with the winner of the playoffs becoming the league champions.

In last Saturday's activity at the James Caldwell gym, the Aggies trimmed the Lakers, the Bullets stopped the Knicks, the Billikens defeated the Celtics and the Pistons clipped the Nats.

At the Chisholm gym the Indians tripped the Generals, the Lions defeated the Browns, the Bulldogs won over the Raiders and the Pirates stopped the Giants.

Royals and Hawks win over Warriors and Bells

The Recreation High School Basketball League continued its spirited play last week at the Gaudineer school gym, with the Royals and Hawks posting victories.

Sorrento, F. R. I. e. d. m. a. n. and Sussman were high scorers for their respective teams, with the Royals winning 50-47, although hard-pressed in the final period as Sorrento netted five baskets.

Jackie Aggar scored 35 points to spark the Hawks to a 58-53 win over the Bells. Larry Cyre helped with 16 markers, with Dennis Francis netting 13 to carry the scoring load.

Alex Bell and Mickey Lesser scored 45 of the 53 points posted by the Bells, giving their best showing of the campaign.

Princeton and Harvard win in Ivy League

Harvard posted a big win over Yale, Wednesday, Feb. 10, at the Florence Gaudineer School, knocking Yale from the unbeaten as Harvard's well-balanced scoring was too much for the blue. "Iggy" Gardella was the man of the hour for Harvard, coming through for three goals, all at crucial times to break the back of Yale's scoring threats.

Keith Neigel's nine points led the winners, with Faucher, Baker and Monticello chipping in 4, 3 and 6 points, respectively. Greenberg was top man for Yale, netting 12 markers, with Steve Berger getting 10 points.

No games will be played Monday evening, Feb. 22, as the Florence Gaudineer School will be closed because of the Washington Birthday observance.

Californian stops

Kentucky's unbeaten drive Basketball fans who are avid fans in the Recreation "State League" basketball program Saturday afternoons were treated to a display of good shooting and exceptionally spirited play Saturday, Feb. 13.

In the opening game of the four-game card, California came up with its best showing of the campaign to stop unbeaten Kentucky. The score was 22-21, with the outcome in doubt until the final whistle as both clubs battled furiously throughout.

Danny Eitzold, Bob Lester and Red Lawrence were the leaders for the Californians, with Jimmy Belliveau, Hanser, Siegel and Hartz, the leaders for Kentucky. California jumped off to a commanding 8-0 advantage to start the game, but Kentucky came roaring back in the final half to knot the count late in the final quarter. Red Lawrence made the key basket to provide the margin of victory.

Michigan had an easy time as it gained a 25-20 win over Illinois as Chadwick scored 10 points to spearhead the victory. Minnesota had too much height for Oklahoma and gained a 20-11 victory. Buczek scored 6 points for the winners, with Ginter best of Oklahoma.

Texas, sparked by Reese and Lies, tripped West Virginia 20-11, with Falkin and Gartlan outstanding for the losers.

Self-Help for Survival

A series of articles issued by Springfield CD-DC Council.

No. 2 Basic Survival Need Second in a Series

You are one of a large staff in a busy Springfield office. Or an insurance executive at the desk. Or a hardware buyer in a department store.

Your family, on a shady street in a Union County suburb, consists of an attractive young wife and three action-packed youngsters.

At ten minutes past 10 o'clock on a busy morning, there comes a bolt out of the blue—the announcement that a flight of menacing enemy aircraft is two hours distant and headed this way.

What would you do?

Almost without exception, says Saul Freeman, Springfield municipal director of Civil Defense, Springfield's family heads would drop their work and head for home. Was that the answer you gave?

If it was, it was the wrong answer.

Before probing into the reasons why that was the wrong answer, Freeman warned flatly that every family unit had better be prepared, when the bomb comes, to subsist for an indefinite period without the presence of the father.

"Every family must be ready to get into shelter and to live, eat, sleep, drink and keep warm for at least two weeks without any help from the outside," he warned.

The basic survival needs of the family unit have been carefully worked out by Civil Defense, planners, the municipal director said, on the premise that a bomb hit of any real proximity or seriousness might very easily render assistance impos-and essential part of the whole, Freeman said. He warned that shortcomings in any of the seven might disrupt family security with results that could be fatal.

Survival items cannot be obtained after the bomb hits, Freeman drily noted. He said they should be stored in the home shelter, or packed in a convenient place in the home so they can be quickly moved into the shelter when the air raid warning sounds.

And what about our working man, the head of the family? He couldn't get more than three or four blocks away from his office, Freeman said. Main arteries would be instantly blocked off for military routes, and others would be jammed by the invasion of the unprepared.

The family, once trained and ready, must be able to shift for itself, Freeman said. The head of the family will be directed to shelter in or near the place where he works. He may be assigned to emergency duties. If all goes well, and if the parents have seen to it that their family knows what to do to survive, the family will be re-limited only after the initial shock is over. (Next A Shelter In The Home.)

JAPANESE DINNER PARTY FOR FOREIGN STUDENTS

Midori Kawagoe of Hiroshima, Japan, and Vicki Tujaque, of Pembroke road, Mountainside, were hostesses at a Japanese sukiyaki dinner party Sunday evening, Feb. 7, at Vicki's home.

Miss Kawagoe prepared the dinner in Japanese style, at the table, for Eric Dietlin of Paris, France; Arthur Chem of Rangoon, Burma; James Carvalho of Belo Horizonte, Brazil; Thomas Crilly and Richard Barclay, of Westfield; Anne Deegan, Linda Ruth and Ken-who just don't know what to do.

The foreign students are Herald Tribune Youth Forum delegates here from their respective countries.

Daniel Webster buried his favorite horse, Steamboat, standing up and bridled under a stone on which he carved this epitaph in Latin: "Traveler, pause, a greater traveler than you stops here."

Talk On Cuba To Be Given Feb. 21

The Rev. Richard Smith, assistant minister of the Presbyterian Church in Westfield will speak at a meeting being planned by the Evangelism and Inter-Church Activities Committee of Westfield Council of Churches. He will give "A Report on a Trip to Cuba" in the chapel of the Presbyterian Church at 3 P.M. Sunday, Feb. 21; He will show colored slides. All are invited to attend this open meeting.

The Rev. R. L. Drew, minister of the St. Luke's Methodist Church, will be the moderator. Clifton Anderson, baritone, also of St. Luke's will be soloist.

REGIONAL CAGERS WIN THREE, LOSE TO SCOTCH PLAINS

last four outings to bring its season record to 11 wins against six defeats. Somerville, 61 to 58, and Rahway, 65 to 62, fell before the cagers before Scotch Plains ended the Regional winning streak at three. This loss was followed by a decisive triumph over Edison Township, 85 to 48.

Somerville entered the Springfield gym sporting an 11 and 0 record, but fell before the upstart-minded hoopsters. The "Orange and Blue" obtained an early lead, but lost it when the visitors and their star, Jim Shickora, got hot in the second period and swung into a 35 to 29 halftime lead. Shickora had 14 in that quarter to give him 19 for the first half.

Bill Franklin and Stu Chesler combined to hold him to a mere four points in the third period and blanked him in the final quarter. It seemed that as Shickora goes, so goes Somerville.

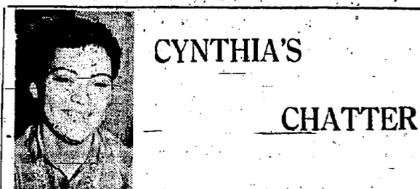

Tip Mock and George Phillips tried to take up the slack, but were unable to overcome the brilliant team effort led by Jay Gladstone, who hit five of five from the floor in the second half and added two fouls to give him 12 in the half and 17 for the game. Howie Rudominer and Chesler had 12 apiece for runner-up honors.

Rahway came back for a second try at defeating the Regionals and came closer, although they failed once again and kept alive the inability of "Indian" squads to defeat their Springfield counterparts. Tom Wahl of the visitors was the high scorer with 22 points, although Frank lin gave him a good battle and ended up two short with 20.

Scotch Plains overcame an early Springfield lead with a torrid third quarter in which a ten-point Regional lead melted and boiled into a six-point lead the other way at the end of that period. The final time allotment was too evenly played for the "Bulldogs" and they came out on the short end of a 66 to 59 score.

Springfield traveled all the way to Edison to prove that last year's rout wasn't a mistake and came back with the school scoring record of 85 points, although the varsity starters saw limited service. Franklin hit 27 to lead the Regional scorers and was ably supported by Gladstone with 12 and Chesler with 17. Insult was added to injury when Freshman scoring ace John Apgar got into the scoring column with a basket and two fouls for his first four varsity points.

"Carousel" Continues
Under musical direction of Mr. Edward Brown and dramatic interpretation by Mr. Joseph Trinity, "Carousel" rehearsals continue. The cast is a well-chosen one—hard working and industrious. Only a few more weeks before the first performance. As usual, there will be a matinee performance, and on March 4 and 5, Friday and Saturday nights, the two final showings.

Understudies have been chosen. They are: Ralph Kleinberg-Billy Bigelow; Pat Zatk-

Julie Jordan; Carol Bellweaver; Carrie Pipperidge; Jack Murray; Enoch Snow; Cynthia Harter; Nettie Fowler.

Sayonara Is Theme
This year's Prom, on April 1 will be strictly for Seniors because of the large number of students in the Junior and Senior Classes. The themes voted on ranged from Sayonara to a Southern Mansion to an Evening in Paris. Sayonara received the most votes, so Sayonara it is. The bids will be $10 per couple and the Prom will be held at the Martinsville Inn. Tickets will go on sale for only one week and at this time you may plan your seating arrangements. The Junior Prom also will be held at the Martinsville Inn, on May 6.

To Natlon's Capital
Our two foreign students Midori Kawagae and Eric Diellin left us Friday, and by now are enjoying Washington, D. C. After a wonderful visit with our Regional High School and its students, Midori and Eric will travel on to other parts of the states and then return home.

Art Classes Have Room For More
The first class of the children's art group was held at the Civic Center in Springfield, Thursday, Feb. 11. The class, taught by Mrs. Lillian Johnson of Springfield, was a complete success and is completely filled. Any child who is interested may still join the Saturday children's group, which meets Saturdays from 10 to 12 o'clock.

There also is room in the adult beginners class held Tuesday 9:30 a.m. to 12. For information call Mrs. Louis Schimoler, DR 6-6275 or Mrs. Ralph Mond, DR 9-4788. Arrangements will be made for make-up classes.

Wednesday, Feb. 24, at 8:30 p.m., at the Gaudinier School, there will be an important and interesting program presented at the meeting of the Art Center of Springfield. The public is invited.

Public Relations Civic Club Topic
"The Importance of a Public Relations Program to a Community Hospital" was the topic of the evening at the Shumpke Civic Association meeting at Baltusol Golf Club, Tuesday, Feb. 9.

Mrs. Margaret Dwyer Rogers, director of public relations at Overlook Hospital in Summit, pointed out the interdependent relationship between the community and the hospital.

"Today's hospital is big business," said Mrs. Rogers. "Overlook represents an investment of almost $8,000,000; its annual budget is more than $3,000,000 and almost 600 people are on its payroll.

"Unlike a business, however, Overlook is non-profit and non-tax-supported," she continued. "We all expect the finest of medical care and service when we are in a health emergency. Overlook is dedicated to meeting these standards, aware that it holds life and death in its hands.

"While the hospital tries to operate on a balanced budget, it is an obvious fact that improvements in the physical plant—such as the new nine-story wing—and latest scientific equipment, must be met by interested citizens in the community."

She stressed the growth in patient usage, doubled from Springfield in the last decade, as from other surrounding communities. Almost 1,000 Springfield residents used Overlook's facilities in 1959.

The need to present the hospital's story to the public through the press was outlined, as well as other phases of public relations. These included patient relations, hospital-publications and the tour program currently being presented every Tuesday at 8:15 p.m.

Groups or individuals interested in a behind-the-scenes medical-tour of Overlook were invited to make arrangements by calling the hospital's public-relations department, CR 3-8100, Ext. 238.

Several Springfield Young Folks in Cast
The production of "Carousel" to be presented March 4 and 5 in the auditorium of Jonathan Day's Regional High School in Springfield has several Springfield students in leading parts.

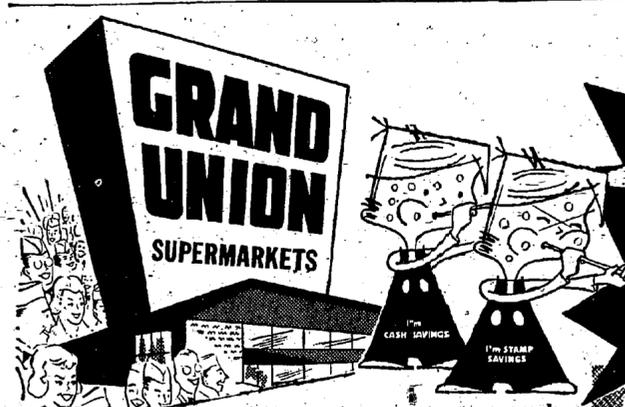

Elise Lindauer, a Junior, has the part of "Julie Gordon"; Cathie Silance, a Senior, has the part of "Carrie Pipperidge"; Mark Bidelman, a Junior, will play "Jigger" and Cynthia Brande, a Sophomore, will play "Nettie." All are Springfield young folks.

Ted Davis of Plainfield has drawn the part of "Billy Bigelow" and Gardner McBride of Berkeley Heights will play "Mr. Snow."

Joseph Trinity is dramatic coach and Edward Braen is choral conductor. Tickets are available from any member of the cast at $2.

MICHAEL ADICKMAN IS BAR MITZVAH

Drive Under Way To Aid 'Dron Garden

A campaign to raise $25,000 for a rhododendron display garden in the Watchung Reservation, Mountainside, will be launched next month by a Union County area citizens committee, it was announced today by Mrs. Charles R. Haag of Cranford, chairman.

A site on both sides of W. R. Tracy drive in the Watchung Reservation has been made available by Union County Park Commission, which will plant the rhododendron and maintain the garden.

The Union County Rhododendron Garden Committee, which will conduct the fund-raising effort, released today its plan for the long-range development of the site. It was designed by John Jennings of Summit, landscape architect. The plan blends the natural woodlands of the area with the rhododendron and azalea beds.

"The purpose of the garden will be to educate the general public and to promote an interest in and appreciation for rhododendron in particular and gardening in general," Mrs. Haag said. "It also will enable members of the society and other horticulturally minded persons to study and compare cultivars under local growing conditions as well as beautify the site in the Park Commission's Watchung Reservation."

Mrs. Haag said a campaign committee is now being organized throughout Union County to conduct the fund-raising effort. She said all persons interested in gardening and in the project who wish to work on the campaign should contact her at 711 High Street, Cranford. The committee also will arrange to send speakers to any organization wishing to be better informed on the project.

Clerks Run G.U. Stores

Management of The Grand Union Company, from the president and officers to the store level, will rest for one day Tuesday, Feb. 23, in the hands of some 1,600 store clerks chosen by their fellow workers as "most likely to succeed."

The annual "Clerk's Day" program, being observed this year for the tenth time in the Eastern food chain, aims to strengthen the understanding of store personnel of the managerial and executive functions of the company; to emphasize to employees the varied opportunities that exist within Grand Union and to demonstrate management's confidence in the people associated with the company.

Grand Union, the nation's second oldest food chain, currently operates 450 markets in ten Eastern states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. One of the country's ten largest food chains, Grand Union sales are currently running at the rate of more than $600,000,000 a year, a figure which represents a growth in sales of almost 450% during the past decade.

On "Clerk's Day" the winning clerks will replace and perform the functions of departmental and general managers of Grand Union's markets; will exercise supervision as district managers and will replace the top executives at the food chain's general headquarters in East Paterson in each of the company's ten division headquarters along the Eastern seaboard from Waterford, N. "Thunder Rock" To Be Played

The Pilgrim Players of Union Congregational Church, Upper Montclair, will bring their presentation of Robert Ardrey's drama, "Thunder Rock," to Community Presbyterian Church of Mountainside Thursday, Feb. 25, at 8:30 P. M.

"Thunder Rock" concerns a cynical man who withdraws from the world and denounces society. Through a succession of experiences as keeper of the lighthouse at Thunder Rock, he is able to regain his faith in the future and in mankind.

The Roman legions remained in England 350 years. In the London Museum there is a jug dug from a London cellar inscribed "Londini ad farum Isis," which means "the shrine of Isis in London." There was a shrine to the Egyptian goddess Isis in London 1,800 years ago.

They will also be sold at the door Thursday night.

"Thunder Rock" will star Churchill Clark and Jon Baisch. Mr. Baisch is the director of The Pilgrim Players, who have performed before more than 25,000 people in their 18 months of activity.

Paper Mill On Parade

A procession of performers will participate in the first "Paper Mill on Parade" show at the Paper Mill Playhouse this Saturday night, February 20. These performers, the musicians and others connected with the production are donating their talents and services to benefit the Playhouse fund-raising campaign for its 1966 season.

Dorothy Sandlin, whose performance as Anna in "The King and I" is remembered by Paper Mill audiences, will sing favorite songs from the most popular shows staged at the Playhouse. Miss Sandlin has flown in from California to sing "Street Scene" at Music York's City Center tomorrow, Feb. 19 and to appear at the Paper Mill on the 20th.

Other notable singers in the first show include Irené Mocdan, who began as a member of the Paper Mill chorus, her political opera; Janet Parker, whose soprano voice brightened the Paper Mill production of "Brigadoon" last year and who has won a Rockefeller grant to study music in Europe; and Edwin Steffe, whose robust singing is remembered from "Paint Your Wagon" and Ben Greenberg were treated by their wives when the five couples went to New York to see Majority of One on Broadway. However the boys did reciprocate with an after theatre snack at Chandelers.

Newcomers to Springfield are Mr. and Mrs. David Katz, who have moved from Irvington to 264 So. Springfield Ave. Other member of the family is 3 1/2 year old Judith. Mr. K. owns a dry cleaning business in Newark.

Some of the gals in Springfield 37 Hemlock Terrace was the scene of a gala party on Saturday afternoon, February 13th, when Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wasserman, Carl Klarfeld, Nat. Adickman played host to some five year old sister Sharon. Dad at a luncheon in honor of the Bar Mitzvah of son Michael.

Welcome to Springfield to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Armstrong and one year old Thomas Dean, who have moved from Bryn-Mawr, Pa. to Troy Village. We hope they'll be very happy in Springfield. Mr. Armstrong is with the Remington Rand Company in New York City.

Best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Deane of 252 Short Hills Ave. on the birth of Mary Katherine, who arrived at Overlook Hospital on February 5th. Bel Mom gets lots of help from 2 1/2 year old Patricia Ann.

Another new addition to the feminine population of Springfield (small fry division) is Mary Joan Esposito, born at Overlook on February 7th. The proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. David Esposito of 595 Morris Ave. Brother Edward is one year old.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Krautblatt of 14 Sycamore Terrace are still sporting the beautiful sunburns they picked up during a two week stay in Miami Beach. To quote Mrs. K "I wish I was there right now." — To which I can only add "Amen" for we palefaces.

Among the families moving here from Union are Mr. and Mrs. William Sanders and 2 1/2 year old Holly. Their new home is at 69 Meisel Ave. Mr. Sanders is with Sears Roebuck in New York.

Some of our enterprising younger citizens put on a pre-holiday variety show last Thursday afternoon at the Katz domain at 29 Cypress Terrace. Participating were Fran and Gary Katz and Barbara Schwartz. At two cents a head the audience included Karen Levin, Donald Richard and Barbara Lan, Marcia Katz, Judith Kendler, Susan Traister, Marlene Chajet, Peter May, Pam and Robby Fish, Hal Wasserman, Barry Fink, Joanne Schwartz and Peter Gelwag. Mothers accompanied by children were admitted free.

Birthday congratulations to five year old Larry Zeller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Zeller of Briar Hills Circle, whose big day was February 13th. The Saturday afternoon party had to be called off because, — Mom had the flumps! — But rain checks for this coming Saturday were extended to Jeffrey Gold, Howard Osbahr, Carol Gould, David Lippa, Laura Speer, Dori Nisencoren, Mark Jacobs, Alysa Dorkot, Debbie Sherman, Marc Parlier and brother-Ricky.

The newest addition to the family of Philip Del Vecchio of 11 High Point Drive is son David, born on February 5th. Bet he gets lots of attention from brothers Philip, Peter, Paul and Anthony and sisters Valerie and Denise. Heartiest congratulations to the whole family.

On Sunday, February 14th, Shirley and Phil Kurnos of 21 Cypress Terrace were two of the conspirators in a surprise party to celebrate the wedding anniversary of Shirley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Buckler. Loved ones gathered at the Chanticleer to toast the Bucklers on forty years of wedded bliss. A wonderful time was had by all on this most nappy occasion.

If you'd like to treat your children to a delightful audience participation show this coming Saturday, February 20th, take them to the Connecticut Farms School in Union, where The Revelers are putting on "The Clown Who Ran Away." Sponsored by The Plymouth Cooperative Nursery School in Union, there are two performances; at 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. The donation is $75 a ticket, and the show is recommended for children from pre-school to twelve years.

Chinese School Men Coming To Observe Here

The Board of Education of Union County Regional High School District No. 1 was informed at its meeting Tuesday evening that two Chinese educators were coming to the Jonathan Dayton School in Springfield to observe administrative methods.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Warren M. Davis told the Board that he had a letter from County — Superintendent of Schools William H. West saying that Pei Tseu Hsu and Tang-Yeh Tse, both from Taiwan, Republic of China, would be at Dayton Feb. 23 and 24 to visit classrooms and study American methods of administrative organization and guidance.

Both visitors are connected with the educational system in their home country.

The year 1965 will be the Chinese "Year of the Snake."

Student At Dayton Gets High Honor

One of the highest honors that can be bestowed on a high school student in this country was presented recently to Allen E. Woslerberg, 58 Delmore Avenue, Berkeley Heights. The student, now a senior at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, was selected in the Honors Group in the 19th annual science talent search for the Westinghouse science scholarships and awards.

From this list of 448 honor awards representing every state, 40 students are being chosen as winners of the special Washington trip. This list will be announced later. All boys and girls awarded honors in the science talent search are considered so outstanding that any institution of higher learning will be justified in considering their abilities carefully.

This honors list is distributed to all universities and colleges of the United States, utilizing a list furnished by the American Council on Education. Eleven students were accorded the honor in the state of New Jersey. Allen's winning project report was on the chemical spectroscopy.

This is the sixth time in the 19-year history of these awards that a Jonathan Dayton Regional High School student was recognized.

Some basic facts about Saint Barnabas

...THE REVOLUTIONARY "HOSPITAL OF TOMORROW" WHICH WILL SOON BE HERE—AND WHICH NEEDS YOUR HELP NOW!

Sometime this year, one of every eight people who read this page will need hospital care. And any community hospital you call upon, if you are one of those in need, will do its best to care for you, and to make you well again as soon as possible.

Old Short Hills Road in Livingston. This month, people you know and respect are hard at work to make sure the funds necessary for Saint Barnabas' completion are made available as quickly as possible.

BUT—it is important for us to be realistic and foresighted. The simple truth is that the fast-growing communities we live in are critically short of modern hospital facilities—and will continue to be so until the new Saint Barnabas is in operation. Authoritative sources estimate that the 20 communities Saint Barnabas will serve need at least 650 additional hospital beds now.

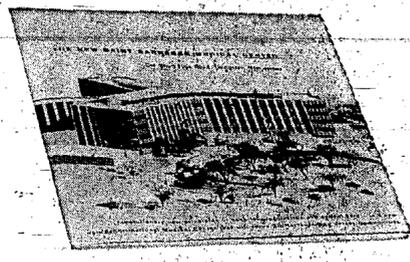

HOW MUCH IS NEEDED? Not much—by customary standards of hospital drives. The great "hospital bargain" of all time, Saint Barnabas already has $7,000,000 available—can complete all planned basic facilities if just another $3,000,000 is forthcoming.

Just as soon as Saint Barnabas opens its doors, two-thirds of this need will be met—and by a hospital so modern and efficient that its concept has won international recognition and acclaim.

YOUR CONTRIBUTION TO SAINT BARNABAS IS NEEDED NOW. And if you will make the maximum contribution you can afford (which need not be paid all at once, but which can be pledged for payment over a period of years and under a variety of attractive plans) you will never regret it.

For 10 years, dedicated men have been at work on the plans for this new Medical Center. Since the Fall of 1959, land grading and foundation construction have been underway at the Center's 60-acre site on Any day you wish, you can see your contribution at work in the essential job of giving northern New Jersey a vital new hospital which will also be America's most advanced in patient-care techniques and operation methods.

There is a new 24-page brochure which will give you complete facts about the new Saint Barnabas. You can request your copy via the form on this page. You can also use this form to initiate your contribution.

We hope you will be in touch with us without delay. Saint Barnabas needs you, and all of us need Saint Barnabas.

Saint Barnabas will serve these communities...

If you live in any one of the 20 fast-growing communities listed here, you have a very real and personal interest in the successful and early completion of the new Saint Barnabas Medical Center. Its 60-acre site on Old Short Hills Road, in Livingston, is easily accessible to each of these communities. The Medical Center will provide critically needed additions to the other hospital facilities now available in this area, and will offer many services nowhere else available in New Jersey hospitals.

"In Peace and Harmony" is the subject of a talk by Floyd De Hart to be given by the Summit Nature Club at Lincoln School today at 8:15 p.m.

Mr. De Hart combines a lifelong interest in nature study with an interest in photography. The result is a photographic record of New Jersey wild life with an accent on native wild flowers and some of the more interesting insects associated with them.

A field trip to Jamaica Wild Life Refuge has been changed to a trip to Brigantine Wild Life Refuge. Meeting at Lincoln School at 8 a.m. on Saturday, February 20, the group will meet at the Brigantine parking lot at 10:30 a.m.

The Brigantine Refuge, north of Atlantic City, is a 13,000-acre tract of marshland and scrub growth. Huge dikes have been built to keep salt water out of

Agrimony, Also Known As Cockleburr, Has Long History in Medical Art

by Bill and Ursula Babcock

Agrimonia Eupatoria is the botanical name of an herb that has been used medicinally for centuries. As it is an inhabitant of three continents, its use has been widespread. The common name for this herb is Agrimony — also Sticklewort or Cockle-burr.

During the summer months you may find this plant growing in fields or in woodland borders. Its small yellow flowerettes which have an agreeable aromatic odor, are borne on two- to three-foot hairy stems, arranging themselves one above the other. The seeds are formed in rough heads and attach themselves to anything passing by. This is nature's way of assuring a wide distribution. The spikes are ornamented at the base with large interperdy pinnate leaves which give the plant a bouquet-like appearance.

The word "Agrimony" was given to this herb by the ancient Greeks, who called it "Arge-mone" because of its use by them in the treatment of catarrhs of the eye. The second part of the botanical name, "Eupa-

Construction To Start Soon

The Rev. Gerard J. McGarry, pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Mountside, reported today that pre-construction plans for the new church were moving along rapidly.

Father McGarry noted that an announcement could be expected in the near future on the exact date when construction would commence.

He again declared that the returns on a recent fund drive were "most gratifying," and that late returns had pushed the total over the $200,000 mark.

Father McGarry said a final report on the drive would be forthcoming soon.

The parish plans to construct a church and school on Central Avenue near the Deerfield School. The buildings will cost about $800,000.

The church, modern in its styling, will be of brick and glass construction and will seat 700. Also slated for construction are a four-classroom school with an all-purpose room.

The parish, which has more than 600 families, now uses the Deerfield School facilities as a church.

Father McGarry had said earlier that he hoped that construction would get under way in the spring. Indications are that the pastor will meet his schedule.

He pointed out that there still were certain details to be worked out before builders could start their work.

Tea, "Husbands Night" Are Successful Events

Held at the home of Mrs. Richard Kapke, 5 Westover Court, Mountside, Wednesday evening, Jan. 27, the tea for new members, and members of the executive board of Mountside Woman's Club was well attended. Hostesses were Mrs. Howard Rhodes and Mrs. Woodrow Kimmorelli.

New members attending were Mesdames Frank Romberger, Grant Lennox, Walter Stegall, John Vogel, Lawrence Nigro, James Hugh and George Riggo.

Following a short discussion during which officers and department chairmen explained their duties, Borges-Christensen, local baker, was presented.

He demonstrated the art of cake decoration.

Mrs. John Vogel won the door prize, a decorated cake.

Saturday (Jan. 30) evening's "Husbands and Wives" night proved to be all that the entertainment committee had hoped for. This committee included Mesdames Douglas Beam, Vincent Warkala, Richard Kapke, Alfred Ott, George Stillwell, with Mrs. Charles Lester as chairman.

The evening of games at Mountside Inn was climaxed with a buffet supper.

The club has announced that soon a date will be set when volunteers will fill 3,500 envelopes for the Easter Seal campaign.

Garden Club Hears Plant Care Talk

The January meeting of Foot-hills Garden Club of Mountside was held at the home of Mrs. William Grau.

W. Phil of the Men's Garden Club of Westfield gave an interesting and descriptive talk on care and propagation of plants. Mr. Phil is a member also of Trailside Garden Club and New Jersey Orchid Society.

It was voted to undertake the registration of flowers in the horticultural division for the Trailside flower show this fall.

A letter of appreciation was received from the Janet Memorial Home for the $150 contributed and the Thanksgiving and Christmas decorations made by the organization. The money will be applied to the special fund for children.

The members were reminded of the next meeting, at which flower arranging will be demonstrated by Mrs. Frank Urner, who will talk on water gardens and Japanese gardens.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. William Grau and Mrs. Otto Bohnerberger, hostess and co-hostess, respectively.
