 Road; Robert E. Ries, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ries of 49 Oakland Avenue, and Karl W. Rootger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Rootger of 618 S. Elm Ave., were given the trophy in the admirable history of the Troop. Previous awards were presented to Richard Bishop, Timothy Stewart, Alan Isley and Kit Kennedy, all of Springfield.

The God and Country Award is one of the highest and most sought after awards in Scouting. It is awarded only after a year's activity in the Church and completion of a prescribed course of study under the personal supervision of the minister. Scouting recognizes the basic importance of religion in the process of character building and gives strong incentives toward the attainment of spiritual ideals.

As a scout strives to achieve this award with the help of his minister he is strengthened in four important endeavors: (1) to be more faithful in his religious duties; (2) to deepen his devotion to his church; (3) to encourage a deeper study of the teachings, practices, policies and organization of his church; (4) to give practical expression to his religious convictions in service to his church.

100 Per Cent Increase; Census Figures Show

Mountainside's percentage of population growth in the last decade was a whopping 208 per cent according to tentative figures released by Shelby G. Fell, district census supervisor.

The figure for the 1960 census was 6,307 compared with 2,046 for 1950. Before the census started, borough officials figured that the tally would show about 5,900 persons dwelling in Mountainside.

The other four towns in the Watchung Weeklies finished fourth through seventh in the tally.

Fanwood showed a growth of 146 per cent — from 3,228 in 1950 to 7,951 in 1960. In fifth place was Berkeley Heights with a growth of 138 per cent. The township showed a population of 3,466 in 1950 while the current census indicated that there were 8,260 residents.

Springfield, number seven in percentage growth, showed a jump of 100 per cent, from 7,214 to 14,434. However, officials in that community have indicated that they are not satisfied with the results of the survey.

In sixth place was Scotch Plains which listed a 103 per cent population increase. The 1950 census showed 9,069 while the current census indicated that there are 18,434 residents in the township.

The figures released by Fell are subject to change, but indicate that they are quite close to, if not, the final figures.

Mountainside was the smallest community in Union County in 1950, but its huge jump shot it ahead of Garwood and Winfield. In 1950, Garwood had about twice as many residents as Mountainside but the current census indicates only a 37 per cent growth in Garwood.

Winfield was the only community to show a decrease in the county. However, many communities registered only modest gains. The figures do not include Elizabeth.

Fell is conferring with officials in that city. It is believed that the population count will fall substantially under the preliminary estimate of 124,000 for Elizabeth.

The largest gain in the number of new residents occurred in Scotch Plains where more

Regional High Junior Who Is Tops In Science

As reported in this paper last week, Barbara, daughter of Dr. Minor C. K. Jones, a member of the Regional High School Board of Education, and Mrs. Jones, of Far View Drive, Mountaineer, is the 17-year-old Junior at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, who won a fourth prize for girls in the 11th annual National Science Fair-International.

360 Complete
This event, the apex of high school science competition, was held in Indianapolis May 11-15. There were 360 contestants from all parts of the world and first prize carried with it top international honors in science.

There were four divisions at the fair: female physical; male physical; female biological; male biological. In each category there were first, second, third and fourth awards. Barbara was entered in the female physical classification.

Project In Math
Her project was a mathematical study entitled "The Geometry of Liquid Films and Equilibrium Figures." It included a study of the laws governing the formation of liquid films of bubbles on contact and a study of minimum equilibrium figures within liquid films, framed by immersing a closed wire geometrical figure in a two-surface tension soap solution. Critical angles were determined that will affect the formation of the equilibrium figures, and the effect of their continuous variation on the internal structure also was studied.

Illustrative photographs and diagrammatic material were included in the presentation. In Earlier Tests Barbara earned the privilege of competing in the international fair by her showing in the seventh annual Greater Newark Science Fair. In this competition, she received one of the grand awards given by the judges to the two top projects in the entire fair, disregarding divisions. She entered a mathematical project.

To Correct Electrical Violations At Runnells

The Union County Board of Freeholders has taken steps designed to correct electrical violations reported at the John B. Runnells Hospital.

Freemholder Edward J. Carlin, chairman of the board's welfare committee, said that funds from a $285,000 bond issue approved by the county board will correct all the violations.

The hospital will receive $166,100 of the money. The funds will be available June 1. Dr. Carlin said that the electrical work will cost about $55,000.

The first violations, including 98 described as "hazardous" and another 100 "non-standard" conditions, reported by the Middle Department Associated of Fire Underwriters.

Dr. Carlin said that the group was hired by the board to make such a survey at the institution. He reported that of the violations first reported by the underwriters, about 60 percent have been corrected.

Frederick G. Sigler Jr., county purchasing agent, noted that many of the "hazardous" violations require only minor corrections. He said they include replacement of a flexible cord wiring on a fan, a soft drink machine and a hot plate.

In a report to the freeholders

In April 1959, 192 "hazardous" violations were reported. Half have been corrected and many improvements have been made, Dr. Carlin noted.

Student Receives Academic Honor

Ronald Wendlan, 64 Houshaw Avenue, Springfield, New Jersey, along with more than 300 University of Cincinnati undergraduates were recognized for scholastic achievement at the third annual Honors Dinner.

Invited as guests of the university were members of campus chapters of national and local honor societies. Dr. Walter C. Langsam, president of the university, presided. Dr. William S. Clark III, head of the university's department of English, was the principal speaker.

Evans Participates In Math Session

Bruce W. Evans, 41 Main Street, Springfield, a student at the Pingry School, is one of 50 students selected to participate in the summer mathematics program at Kenyon College sponsored by The National Science Foundation.

The four-week course, beginning June 26, will feature classroom instruction in logic, theory of sets, and probability theory, conducted by members of Kenyon's mathematics department.

TAKING CARE OF YOUR GARDEN

By Edward A. Cardinal

Those crawling creatures you find all over the place are Eastern Tent Caterpillars. At this time of year they migrate from those webs you see in fruit and shade trees. This caterpillar becomes abundant periodically reaching a peak of abundance every nine or ten years, and then declines for several years. The rise and fall of the insects is determined by the activity of a parasite enemy—that feeds upon the larvae.

Control should have started when the very young stayed close to the web. One spraying with any modern insecticide would have been sure death at this time. Now that they are migrating to new fields it is necessary to use stronger insecticides, and the entire foliage should be sprayed to be certain of control. Spray with DDT, lindane, malathion or lead arsenate. I prefer not to use lead arsenate because of its poisonous nature. Remember—the insects rarely kill a tree, but the defoliated plants look ugly.

Q: How can I prevent the tent caterpillar from getting to my trees?

A: If they have not already reached them, put a circular band of Tree Tanglefoot, which comes in a can or tube, around the tree trunk a few feet from ground level. This material is like a sticky typewriter which traps the insects.

Q: Every time I walk under my oak tree I run into a fine strand of cobweb. What causes this, spiders?

A: No. This is caused by the spring cankerworm, or inchworm. After maturing in the trees they spin the thread and drop to the ground to form pupae beneath the soil surface and continue the life cycle. Treat the same as tent caterpillar.

Q: Your last article mentioned milky spore disease to control beetle grubs. I have never applied chemicals to my soil, and wonder if I should use milky spores at this time?

A: Milky spore disease is spread through the soil by infecting the beetle grubs. This is accomplished in two or three years, so if grubs are abundant it is my advice to treat immediately with one of the popular grub-proofing chemicals, and supplement with the milky spore disease for permanent control. Cost of application is about twenty-five cents per hundred square feet.

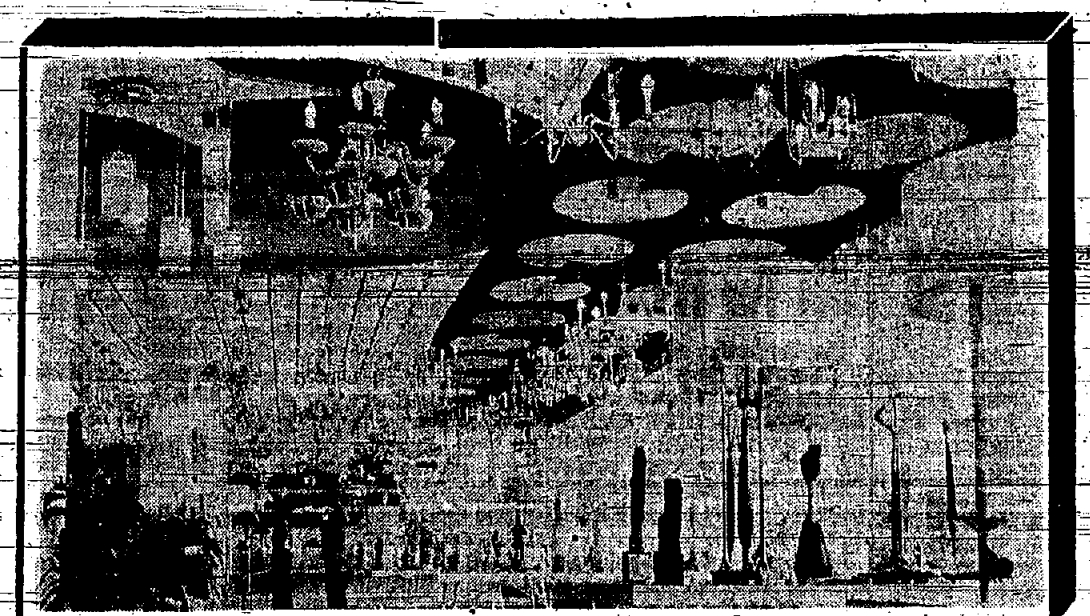

Q: My roses, hydrangeas, and many other plants are infested with lice. What should I use?

A: These plant lice are aphids. There are many kinds and colors, and control is the same for all. Nicotine sulphate

This Legal Column is prepared under the supervision of the NEW JERSEY STATE BAR ASSOCIATION AS A PUBLIC SERVICE. IT IS DESIGNED TO INFORM CITIZENS OF THEIR RIGHTS, DUTIES, AND OBLIGATIONS UNDER OUR LAWS RATHER THAN TO ADVISE CONCERNING SPECIFIC LEGAL PROBLEMS.

TO HAVE OR NOT TO HAVE
The question is always asked - Who is entitled to the engagement ring and engagement presents when lovers quarrel and sever their relationship? The right of a rejected suitor to recover an engagement ring which he has given to a woman has been the subject of much litigation.

woman upon the consummation of the marriage. If a man, however, breaks off the engagement without any explanation or is guilty of a fraud, then this gift becomes absolute. This, of course also works in the reverse; that is, if a woman without legal justification breaks off the engagement, she must return the ring. If both parties mutually agree to call it off, the ring is to be restored to the man.

LEGAL ASPECTS OF PLEDGES
We are called upon on many occasions by benevolent, educational, and religious institutions to make donations. Many of these institutions will request that we become subscribers so as to aid them in carrying on their work. As a general rule, a mere promise to donate money for a charitable purpose is gratuitous and therefore unenforceable.

How many of you have pledged a certain amount to your church groups or other religious organizations, and when the end of the year rolled around, you find that you were just a little too generous when you made the pledge, and besides at the time your neighbor was listening over your shoulder? What is the legal effect of these subscriptions?

From a moral standpoint, promises of this nature should be held binding where the beneficiary has gone ahead relying upon the agreement of pledge. For example, where a college received a pledge from a donor if the college would perpetuate the name of the donor, the court held that this constituted adequate consideration to sustain recovery of the amount pledged. The trend seems to be that subscribers will be held accountable where a subscription carries with it an implied or express request to the one to whom the promise is made to render services or incur liabilities on the strength or reliance of these subscriptions.

Woman's Club News

New members of the Springfield Woman's Club were guests of honor at a tea held on May 14 in the American Legion Hall. Mrs. Robert Hordgrove, Jr. and Mrs. Vincent Bonadies poured. Flower name cards, designed by Mrs. George Rau helped new members get acquainted with each other and the Executive Board. Each new chairman discussed her department's plans for the coming year, and expressed hopes that new members would join some of the many group activities offered with the Springfield Woman's Club. The Music Department plans to make May 26 a special evening to wind up its meetings until September. At 6 p.m. the group will meet at Mario's in Milburn for dinner, then proceed to the Paper Mill Plaza to attend a performance of "The Great Waltz." A tea will be given in the home of Mrs. Herbert Kern, 224 Baltusrol Ave. on June 6 for members of the 1960 Junior Volunteers Program, a project sponsored by the Springfield Woman's Club. Pins will be awarded to the girls in recognition of their services as Nurses Aides at Overlook Hospital. The next Executive Board meeting will be held on Wednesday, May 26 in the home of Mrs. Charles Miller, 112 Meisel Ave. Co-hostess for the evening will be Mrs. C. V. Meentzer. We hope all members will attend Club Night on Wednesday, June 1. Speaker for the evening will be Mr. Eugene Whitlock, Jr., commercial unit manager for the National Broadcasting Company. His topic for the evening will be "Television—Good or Bad?" Mr. Whitlock is a member of the Speakers Bureau of NBC and has served in this capacity for the past three years. He has given many interesting speeches to various organizations on different aspects of television production and programming. Since television is a communication medium that affects almost everyone, whether it is watched for pure entertainment or general information, we are sure you will not want to miss Mr. Whitlock's talk. Mark your calendar now—June 1—our final Club Night until September.

SHAVUOT HOLIDAY IS EXPLAINED

The Jewish festival of Shavuot, also known as the Feast of Weeks, or Pentecost, will be celebrated beginning at sunset Tuesday, May 31. One of the most colorful holidays on the Jewish calendar, Shavuot marks the handing of the Ten Commandments to Moses on Mount Sinai. In Biblical times, the holiday was an agricultural festival, celebrating the wheat and barley harvest and the appearance of the first fruits following the Spring planting. The term "Pentecost" is used because the festival is observed on the 50th day following the first day of Passover. Recalls Ruth — In addition to the Ten Commandments, which tradition teaches were handed down to the children of Israel just 50 days after the Exodus, Shavuot also is associated with the Book of Ruth, with its rural setting and story of a woman who voluntarily converted to the Jewish faith. This biblical tale is read during synagogue services celebrating the day. Once a major pilgrimage festival, when worshippers brought their offerings to the Temple at Jerusalem—the influence of Shavuot as a major holiday waned considerably during the passage of centuries. In recent years, however, the festival has enjoyed a revival of importance, since it marks the time of religious dedication for boys and girls who have completed their elementary religious education. Ceremony colorful — With colorful ceremonies, particularly associated with temple confirmation in Reform Jewish life, the young graduates lead a service of special prayers and songs. They present a floral offering at the temple altar and speak together the words of the Decalogue. At the conclusion of the services, the young people are blessed by their spiritual leaders and vow to lead their lives according to the principles of Judaism. Started in Germany — The service of confirmation, coming at the conclusion of the Ninth or Tenth Grade of Religious School, was originated in 1831 in Germany. When first introduced by Reform Jewish leaders in America, confirmation was bitterly contested by non-Reform Jews. At the present time, the ceremony is observed by Conservative as well as Reform congregations, and the holiday of Shavuot has returned to a position of prominence in the religious calendar of American Jews.

GRADUATING—Miss Anita T. Doherty, 34 Washington Avenue, Springfield, will receive a Bachelor of Arts degree in mathematics from the College of Saint Elizabeth, June 1. The daughter of Mrs. Thomas F. Doherty, she is a graduate of Springfield Regional High School. During the past year she has served as president of the Athletic Association.

YIPES! 60 PERCENT OFF ON ELECTRICITY?

"THEY'RE TELLING ME THE COST OF ELECTRICITY'S GONE DOWN?"

"Don't I know it. Me, with four kids and a wife who likes to do things the easy way? Every time I turn around, she's using something electric. Can you imagine, if the cost of electricity had gone up like everything else has? With all the electric appliances we use every day? Who could afford half of them?"

JCP&L Jersey Central Power & Light

ACTUALLY, THE AVERAGE PRICE PAID PER KILOWATT HOUR FOR ELECTRICITY BY OUR CUSTOMERS HAS GONE DOWN APPROXIMATELY 60% IN THE PAST 25 YEARS!

Regional Summer Session Expected To Draw Over 900

Three successive years, in which summer enrollment has doubled each year, have proven to the satisfaction of the Board of Education of Union County Regional High School District the student's estimate of the value of summer sessions.

The 1960 Summer Session is expected to draw more than 900 students seeking to advance themselves during time normally given over to more leisurely pursuits. The 1960 summer sessions at Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School in Clark and Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield are fully approved by New Jersey State Department of Education.

Special emphasis is placed on the subjects for original study in the summer session. Original study means that the student need not have taken the subject in the regular school but is free to elect among many subjects to be taken for credit toward graduation, primarily intended for self-improvement of the individual student.

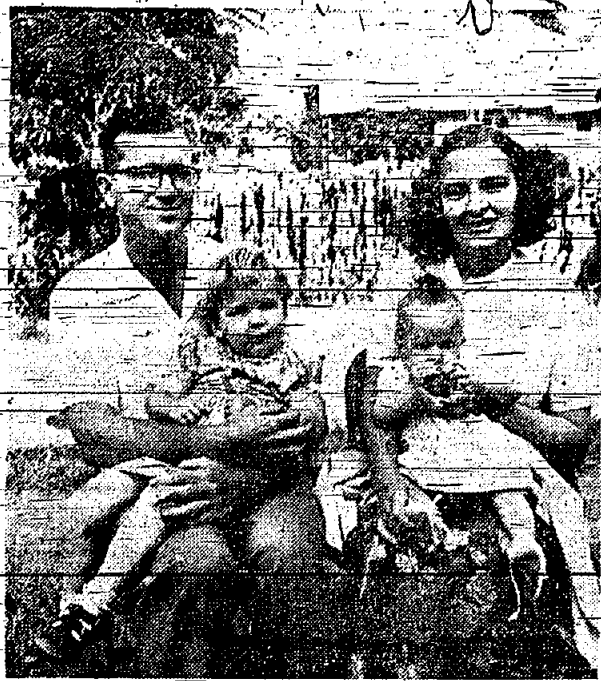

Most of the original study of the original student, however, are now in their third year and have proven their value by the ever-increasing numbers of new students enrolling. Such specialized study areas as accelerated reading, college study hints, personal use typing, shorthand (a phonetic system of note taking), introduction to college composition and term paper preparation, are being offered to assist students in better preparing for the new kind of study that is expected of them once they begin their college career.

The creative talents of students are being developed through such courses as public speaking, creative art, creative writing, music harmony, theory of music, summer band workshop and drama workshop.

In addition, specialized study programs in the social studies area covering the history of New Jersey and United States History II are being offered, complete with field trips to outstanding points of interest, to provide a fully-rounded program of study for the students with strong interests in social studies.

The students whose interests run toward the industrial arts area will find opportunity to take shop work, mechanical drawing and printing during these summer months.

In addition to the specialized subjects listed, every subject taken in the regular school also is offered on a review basis for improvement of a grade already earned. Regional High School District residents will be accepted without charge and residents of other school districts may be accepted on payment of tuition.

Vocational School Program Outlined

The Union County Vocational and Technical Schools will offer an educational program consisting of full-time day secondary vocational and technical courses, full-time day technical institute programs, part-time apprentice courses and part-time trade-extension classes.

This statement of policy was announced today by Eugene I. Caffrey, of Westfield, President of the Union County Vocational and Technical Board of Education.

"This program is in line with those being offered on other counties in New Jersey and is designed to meet the various vocational and technical needs of Union County citizens," Mr. Caffrey said. "We will now be able to begin detailed educational planning and selection of vocational advisory committees. A further analysis of surveys will be necessary before making decisions on specific courses, but sufficient data is available to determine our general needs."

The full-time day secondary vocational and technical courses will be for 10th, 11th and 12th grade students—both boys and girls. In the field of skilled crafts, this program might include courses in metal trades, beauty culture, automotive trades, building trades (carpentry, masonry, plumbing, electrical) and dressmaking and design. In the technical area, programs could include: electronics, drafting, laboratory technology, laboratory technology and instrumentation.

Most vocational and technical school boards in New Jersey offer some courses for post-high school, Mr. Caffrey said.

"Since New Jersey has more research facilities than any other state, there is a great need for advanced technical training. Certainly Union County has more than its proportionate share of these research facilities and an accompanying need for highly-trained technical personnel," the Board President said.

GETS MD DEGREE Neal M. Nadler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Nadler of 48 Garden Oval, Springfield will receive his M.D. degree in June from the Chicago Medical School. A graduate of Weequahic High School, Drew University, Nadler will intern at Morristown Memorial Hospital. He is the recipient of $1,500 research grant.

5th Baby Born On Parkway Feted

Joy Debra Hirsch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Hirsch, 196 Lelak Ave., Springfield, was recently honored with sixteen other children with birthday party given by The Garden State Parkway Stork Club at the Cheesequake Service Area restaurant on the New Jersey Parkway. Joy, born May 17, 1956, was the fifth baby born on the Parkway.

The club members and their families joined Commissioners Katherine E. White, John B. Townsend, Sylvester C. Smith, and other Authority officials at the celebration. Gifts were donated by operators of Parkway restaurants and gasoline stations.

The party marked the fifth anniversary of both the start of full Parkway operation and the opening of the Parkway's first permanent service area—the Cheesequake site.

The 17 guests are banded together in an informal but exclusive organization formed by the Authority, The Garden State Parkway Stork Club, established 1958 after births on the 12.5-mile superhighway began to mount.

Euonymus Scale Found Common In Local Areas

By William Calnan
Forester, City of Summit

Euonymus scale, one of the most common pests of the United States, wherever its hosts occur, attacks pachy-sandus and bitersweet as well as euonymus, both evergreens and deciduous. The scale increases quite rapidly to soon give the infested plant a scurfy appearance. Heavy infestations may kill twigs, branches and even the entire host plant within a few years.

Life History
An adult female resembles the watershell scale, flattened, pear-shaped and grayish brown in color, about 1/16 inch long. The adult male is snowy white, slender and smaller than the female. The males are usually so abundant that they give the host plant a snowy appearance. Males overwinter as full grown, or nearly full grown scales. Eggs are laid under the female.

male scale to afford protection. Nymphs or crawlers begin emerging about late May or early June, a second generation late June to July. The third generation about August to October, giving three generations a year. Once the young crawlers settle down to feed, they become immobile or attached and soon secrete a waxy covering or scale.

Control
In heavy infested plants, pruning and burning will give partial control depending on the value and condition of the plant. Careful timing and spraying will provide adequate control. Do not spray before the buds open with a scaleicide or dormant superior oil. In March and April, will produce an effective control. CAUTION: always spray when the temperature is above 40 degrees and has a two hour drying period before the temperature again goes below 40 degrees. Dormant spray: Six tablespoons of dormant superior oil to 1 gallon of water. Summer spray: Four tablespoons malathion 25% W.P. or 2 teaspoons of 50% E.C. to a gallon of water. Repeat in two weeks or in July and August if necessary.

Free Stumps Held Danger To Buildings

Carpenter ants, termites, heartwood rots and other wood-decaying fungi will eventually turn a stump to organic dust. But the process can be mighty slow. It may take several years if the stump is of an oak, elm or maple, or other hardwood tree.

Meanwhile, says Dr. Rush P. Marshall, director of the Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories, the wood-destroying termites and ants and the fungi multiply to become hazardous to nearby healthy trees and wooden buildings.
Minor breaks in the bark and soots of these trees ordinarily heal over. But fungi present in abundance from closeby stumps invade these points and soon healthy trees decline. Even houses and other buildings are not immune from such invasion by termites and ants.
It is highly desirable to remove stumps as soon as possible and destroy breeding places of dangerous insects and development of fungi. Mechanical stump-removers or, grub-

Krueger Receives "Journal" Award

Sidney Krueger, a teacher at Central High School, Newark, N. J., has been awarded a Fellowship for journalism study this summer by The Newspaper Fund. Mr. Krueger lives at 227 Lelak Ave., Springfield, N. J.

The fellowship is among 340 granted teachers from 49 states who teach journalism or advise high school publications. It was given under terms of a gift from The Wall Street Journal.

Don Carter, executive director of The Newspaper Fund, said the Fellowship recipients were selected from more than 850 applications. This is the second year that summer fellowships for journalism study have been offered by The Newspaper Fund. The grants are part of a program designed to bring more talented young people into journalism.

Through assisting the high school newspaper adviser and journalism teacher, the Fund hopes to stimulate more interest in newspaper careers among students, Mr. Carter said.

The party arrived in Switzerland May 5. The next day it was met in Basle by representatives of GIBA's parent company which is located there.

The travelers visited the parent company's plant and in the evening each returned to the home of a GIBA-Basle employee.

The group came from GIBA plants in Summit, Toms River, and Fair Lawn, N. J., and field offices. This was the first time the company offered such an

Report to the People

By FLORENCE DWYER

In the perspective of last week's Summit Conference with the President just two days before he left for Paris has taken on added significance.

The occasion was breakfast at the White House to which the President invited a small group of Congressmen. As it turned out, we were among the few Congressmen to talk with the President after the U-2 spy plane affair and before his departure for the Summit Conference that evening.

The President seemed completely relaxed and in excellent health. Somehow, his pictures never fully reflect the warmth of this man. His extraordinary vitality, and his alert, instant responsiveness to ideas and observations.

Understandably, the breakfast-table conversation was focused primarily on international affairs. Khrushchev's response to the spy plane flight over Russia, and the prospects for the Summit meeting.

He had no illusion about any major progress at the Summit, the President told us then, but he emphasized his belief that patience and good will could lay a groundwork for future improvement in East-West relations.

I was especially impressed, I remember, by the President's confidence that some good could be accomplished at the Summit Conference, despite Khrushchev's angry reaction to the U-2 flight.

This responsible and constructive approach, it has since become obvious, was not shared by Mr. Khrushchev. Whatever the reasons, he chose to bring the world's hopes for the Summit tumbling down to earth.

What now? Is the question being asked here by everyone. It may be a question without a precise answer.

Mr. Russ Bauer of the entertainment committee introduced Mr. Henry Blatz, Jr., Manager of the general adjustment bureau in Newark, who gave a report and instructions for the handling of claims that come to the bureau.

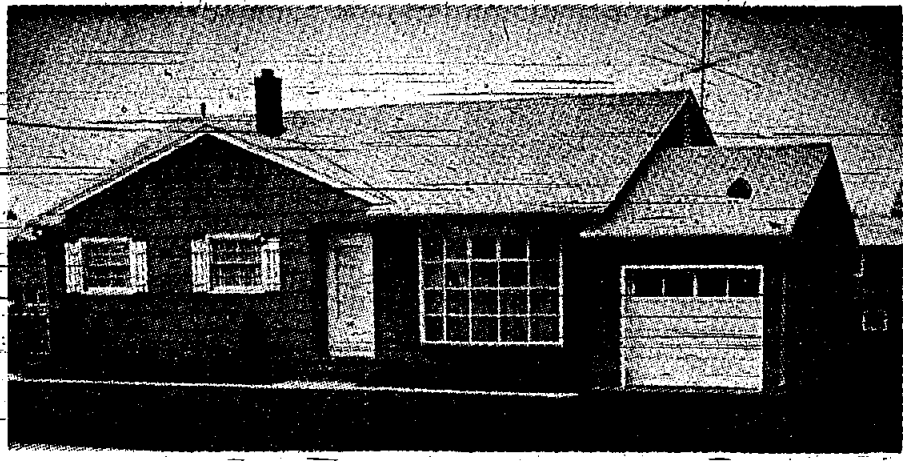

Another guest at the meeting was Mr. Walter Grisee, of SELF MASTER, in Millburn, N.J. This organization, which has 700 branch offices throughout the United States, for the removal and cleaning of homes and business establishments after fire or smoke damage has taken place.

Approximately 50 members of the Association attended this meeting.

Lions Club Presents 15 Students With Awards

An innovation which may become an annual feature on the club's calendar of activities was introduced at the Friday evening, May 20, meeting of Springfield Lions Club.

Fifteen top seniors at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School who live in Springfield were presented with certificates of achievement. Twelve of the boys and girls were supporters of the club and received their certificates in person from David Brobst, club president.

Guests Listed

The honored young folks, all in the top quarter and six among the top ten academically in the graduating class at the high school, were (those marked with an * being the absentees): William Henry Franklin 3rd, class president; Donald Bryant Gibbins, Jay Robert Gladstone, Bruce Ira Goldstein, Joyce L.

high academic achievement, leadership qualities and record of service to school and community.

In each instance he recited the achievement history of the boy or girl about to receive a certificate from Mr. Brobst: clubs belonged to, honors won, extra-curricular interests, class offices held, college plans, etc.

Each of the honored guests thanked the club for being present and added some details about himself or herself not mentioned by Mr. King.

Thus it was revealed that Donald Gibbins had decided to go to the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. In the story in The Sun last week announcing that his appointment to the Academy by Congresswoman Mrs. Florence Dwyer, it was reported that Donald had been accepted at Cornell University also and had not made up his mind where to go.

At the Lions Club supper he let it be known he was going to allow Uncle Sam to take take of his future. Speaking for the entire group of honored guests, Donald extended thanks to the administrative staff and faculty at Jonathan Dayton for "making it possible for the group to win the honors" credited to each one.

Iverson Its Speaker

Carol Marano proved that, in addition to being an honor student she has a talent for singing popular songs. She gave out with several solos and would have been kept at it much longer had time permitted.

Clyde Stauffer, a member of the faculty at the high school and coach of the speakers and debaters who have brought many honors to the school, was introduced as a guest.

He is raising a fund which will finance a trip to San Diego, Cal., in June by three top school speakers and an adult. It is hoped the group can go to California to take part in a national speech competition.

Introduced by Warren W. Halsey, club members and former principal of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, the evening's speaker was Dr. Kenneth Iverson, dean of Union Junior College at Cranford.

Dr. Iverson, who said if he would want to be a Lion, outlined the history of Union Junior College from its founding in 1933 as a W.P.A. project and spoke of its growth through the years and its recognized high standing in the community.

He said the importance of the community college is gaining as the difficulty and expense of attending away-from-home colleges increases year after year.

Invitation Extended

Contrary to the widespread belief, Union Junior College has no connection with the County of Union, is not financed by the county or state, is a private institution of learning depending on tuitions and public support in the same way as do all private colleges and universities.

It is located in Cranford and in 1959 moved "into a beautiful new building opposite Nomenegon Park." It was described as a non-profit, non-sectarian and co-educational school which has given instruction to more than 12,000 persons—its present enrollment is about 900.

In closing his informative and often humorous talk, Dr. Iverson invited all his hearers to visit the college and see for themselves how it is administered and how it serves its community.

The following events were held, and the winners were: Baseball Throw, Billy Chisholm Den 6, 1st; Bobby Multhaup Den 6, 2nd and Billy Jensen Den 6, 2nd and Billy Jensen Den 6, 2nd; Standing road Jump, Don Cubberley Den 6, 1st; Bobby Multhaup Den 6, 2nd and Billy Chisholm Den 6, 3rd; Sack Race, Kenny Lynch Den 6, 1st; Gary Shotwell, Den 5, 2nd and Jimmy Kunc Den 6, 3rd; 50 Yd. Dash, Gary Shotwell, Den 5, 1st; Bobby Multhaup, Den 6, 2nd and Billy Chisholm, Den 6, 3rd; Wheel Barrow Race, Don Cubberley and Billy Chisholm Den 6, 1st; Kenny Lynch and Jimmy Kunc Den 6, 2nd and Gary Shotwell and Geoffrey Eaton Den 5, 3rd; 3-Legged Race, Kevin Keler and Brian Zabelski, Den 7, 1st; Glen Carson and Billy Jensen, Den 8, 2nd; and Kenny Lynch and Jimmy Kunc, Den 6, 3rd; Base Running, Gary Shotwell, Den 9 and Billy Chisholm, Den 6, 1st for 1st and Don Cubberley, Den 6 and Kenny Lynch, Den 6, 2nd for second.

In between the events—a baseball game took place, and the boys enjoyed their cookout of hotdogs and hamburgers. The boys of Dens 1, 5, 6, 7 and 9 presented a gift to their Cubmaster, Edward Smith of 35 Profit avenue.

The Council of Pack 172 held its final meeting of this year on Thursday evening, May 12th. Plans were discussed on the Cookout, the Memorial Day Parade and the Gold Star Inspection on June 4th in Union. Mrs. Roger Nitele, who will be a new den mother in the fall, was introduced. From the notices sent out in the schools, approximately 55 boys' names have been phoned in, who are interested in becoming Cub Scouts. Mrs. Henry Huneke, Council Secretary, Edward Smith, Cubmaster and Mrs. Edward Smith, Den mother are working to organize these boys in the various dens. The first fall Council meeting will be held on Thursday evening, September 15th.

Den 5 Mrs. G. F. Eaton-Jr., den mother and Mrs. Henry Huneke, assistant, the boys in Den 5 enjoyed a recent afternoon and evening at Bowcraft in Scotch Plains. They had a picnic supper there. Last week they spent an afternoon bowling at Echo Lanes.

Den 6 Mrs. George Kunc, den mother, on Friday, May 20th Mrs. Kunc drove the boys up to Phifers' Animal Farm in Gilette. The boys saw many different animals and birds. However, the biggest disappointment of the afternoon happened when it was time to come home and Mrs. Kunc wouldn't let the boys bring home baby kittens and puppies. They were so cute it was hard for Mrs. Kunc to say "no".

Den 9 Mrs. Benj. Colandrea, den mother. The Cubs in Den 9, accompanied by Mrs. Colandrea will visit the Nike Base in Watchung on Saturday, May 28th. A cookout will be held in the near future in the Colandrea's backyard to end this year's events.
