 than on a business day when many officials and home owners could not be present.

On Both Routes
 "This is a statement being made on behalf of the governing body of the Township of Springfield," Mayor Bonadies said.

"Springfield finds itself today to be the geographical hub of a network of highway systems presently being contemplated by the State Highway Department as part of a Federal Interstate Highway system.

"FAI 78 and the proposed improved Route 24 will join in the heart of Springfield and result in untoward damages to the Township of Springfield within one of its finer residential areas. While today's hearing is specifically intended to discuss only Route 24 it is impossible to present Springfield's position in regard to these highways solely dealing with Route 24 and of necessity our statement must include the effects of Route 78 on the Township of Springfield and more specifically, the joining of FAI 78 and Route 24.

"This map clearly shows the catastrophic impact of Route 78 and Route 24 on the Township. On this map are black lines, red lines, green lines, overpasses, underpasses, bridges, relocations of public municipal streets and other incidental changes to the otherwise suburban atmosphere of our community.

"This then is not a beautification program the State Highway Department has proposed for the Township of Springfield, a town that has a tradition that goes back to the prerevolutionary war days with a rich heritage earned by its contribution and shedding of blood in a war for freedom from oppression.

"Springfield, unlike the other communities along the route of 78 and 24, a community of less than 5 square miles, must bear the maximum brunt of a highway program and the maximum effect on the economic and social well being of its citizenry.

"Certainly when such devastation is brought upon a small community such as ours, cost considerations and other factors that have been repeatedly brought into these hearings should not bear the prime importance that have been accorded these formulae or theories when a town is being sacrificed at the cost of advancing these formulae and theories.

"The Federal Highway Act makes quite clear that although cost considerations are important, that planning, acquisitions etc. are to be accomplished at a reasonable cost with consideration being given to the local economic impact as well as respecting the sanctity of cemetery, church buildings and other buildings of public use.

"And it is apparent from the lack of response from the State Highway Department that this kind of consideration was never accorded to the Township of Springfield.

"Evidence of the further lack of consideration for the welfare of the community is the manner in which FAI 78 straddles the north side of Bryant Avenue and the southerly side of Tulip Road exposing the remaining sides of each of these municipal streets to a Chinese Wall, at an elevation of approximately 30 feet carrying commercial vehicles no more than 75 feet from the living rooms of these fine homes on Bryant

Avenue and Tulip Road.

"The intelligent approach certainly would be to move the alignment of 78 some 300 feet south taking all of Bryant Avenue and leaving Tulip Road unscathed. Such a move might very well save and regieve the need for condemning Section D of Troy Village with a resultant lower cost for the FAI 78 alignment. This recommendation however has met with no response from Highway officials.

"Before proceeding, however, on other major points of contention it is our desire that the record indicate our strong protest to the short notice given to the public and the Township officials in the setting of this public hearing so soon after the public revelation of the Route 24 alignment. Such short notice does not afford the municipalities involved, nor the public, adequate time to make studies or prepare engineering data to support our protests here.

Questions Legality
 "We further question the legal status of this hearing and the hearing of June 30, 1958 in the light that each of these hearings were dealt with FAI 78 and Route 24 as separate entities when in fact the joining of 78 and 24 are an integral part of the highway program in Springfield.

"The joining of these two highways creates in the heart of a residential area of our community a wide and devastating interchange. Since the engineers of Howard, Needles, Tammen and Bergendoff the firm responsible for the Route 24 alignment disclaim all responsibility for this interchange, it is not then part of this hearing. Since this interchange has not appeared on any previous maps nor was it part of the FAI 78 hearing on June 30, 1958, the Township of Springfield and its people are deprived of proper hearing dealing with this interchange and the joining of FAI 78 and Route 24.

"We seriously question the legal status of both this hearing and the June 30, 1958 hearing. There is no doubt that we shall pursue and seek a determination of this question and in fact here state that this hearing cannot have legal status for the reasons before stated.

No Information
 "We further deny the complete lack of positive information coming out of Trenton during the past two years despite the continual efforts made by our governing body to ascertain the details of the highway program as it would affect Springfield.

"Our community during the past two years has become a field camp of engineers, surveyors, state vehicles and others trespassing in many cases upon private property and all moving about behind an iron curtain thrown up by Trenton officials.

"To no avail we have pleaded for information dealing with cost, engineering data or any information giving us some direction. Without the basic engineering data and cost analysis of the States' alignments of both FAI 78 and Route 24 it has been an impossible task for the municipality to properly keep its citizens informed and to adequately prepare and evaluate proposed alternates to the state's plans.

"However, despite our position we have made and submitted to the State officials several good and basic proposals which would materially reduce the economic and material impact on Springfield. All of our proposals to you are of such a nature as to give absolutely no justification to the present alignment of Route 24 as it threads its way through and into one of the finest residential areas of our community as it aligns and joins with FAI 78. There are available numerous ways of joining these two highways without Route 24 ever violating the residential tranquility of our community.

"It has been our contention throughout and continues to remain so, that FAI 78 should be routed within the Township of Springfield to join with Route 24 at the Summit-Springfield line in the western end of our community. And that FAI 78 should continue along the Summit-Springfield border on-grade just west of the Rahway Valley Railroad.

"This proposal has been made on several occasions and continually rejected on the claim of higher cost — a claim that has not been substantiated by engineering data or evidence or any study whatsoever made by the State. Obviously the position of the State is one which shows a complete lack of reasonableness, a disregard for the welfare of the community, and an abuse of discretion.

"If the cost is truly of prime consideration then circumstances existing today would dictate that the highway officials again give consideration to our earlier proposals. It is quite evident that with the need today of condemning Section D of Troy Hills apartments for a sum of well over $1,000,000, the displacement of West Bryant Avenue and Shumpke Road, and with the saving in length of about one-half mile of contemplated Route 24 roadway and several bridges, that the cost differential between our earlier proposal and the present alignment would now mean our proposals would certainly cost less than the State alignments for 78 and 24.

"Significant in your rejection of our proposals were not the engineering aspects of the problem since our proposal was highly feasible but merely the cost was raised as an objection. We feel then that you owe it to the people of Springfield, that proper engineering and cost analysis be made of our proposals moving 78 in a north-west direction joining Route 24 at the Summit-Springfield line.

Homes Uprooted
 "We contend that the over all highway program will have its most devastating effect upon the Township of Springfield more so than anywhere else on either FAI 78 or Route 24. And I should like for the records to indicate the full effect of this program:

1. Some 150 families of long standing in our community will be uprooted and forced to seek new homes under new financial arrangements, not compensated by the State, or the Federal Government.
2. We shall suffer the loss of about $5,000,000. of property values which on the basis of 1960 tax will increase the tax burden by 4.2% to cash home owner.
3. The joining of FAI 78 and Route 24 within the Township will deprive us of 20 acres of park set aside by the Union County Park Commission as a bird haven and a future scenic park.

4. The highway program will deprive Springfield of upwards of $10,000,000 of potential property development which on the basis of our 1960 tax rate would decrease the tax burden by about 12%.

5. And not withstanding the adverse effect of an elevated highway traversing the heart of the community creating a Chinese wall with overpasses and their usual attended police problems.

6. Included in this holocaust are a Revolutionary cemetery and certain church buildings.

7. A most serious impact of the Highway network will be the disruption of our normal zone processes and the creation of subnormal parcels of land. Such an impact will seriously impact the orderly planning for the area and create the need for extensive re-examination of our over all Master planning in the light of these highways consideration must also be made for school rezoning, police and fire protection and a multitude of new requirements imposed upon the community.

"There can only be one conclusion from this sorry picture — that the selection of both routes have been arbitrary and subject to the whims of engineers and officials whose pride of authorship blinds them completely without heart or soul for the life of our community.

"Because certain authorities have closed their minds and hearts to us and because of their palpable abuse of discretion we shall be forced to carry an eternal vicious scar across the face of our community."

 further park land.

"This Park Commission" said Mr. Kerstan, "stated its objection to taking park property for highway purposes when the first public hearings were held in Springfield on the proposed Route 78 but this objection was evidently ignored by the Highway Department."

The action of the Park Commission followed a report by I. J. Volpe, chief engineer, concerning the interchange of the proposed highways 78 and 24. These two roadways, he reported, would meet at an interchange located almost entirely on a large tract of land in Springfield. The Commission promised that it will make every effort to defend the park claim which the people of Springfield have established leave, he continued, that the state has the power of eminent domain over park lands.

Fashion, Sense and Economy Win Prize For BH Girl

A strawberry blonde, pretty as a fashion fair—Miss Gail Guenther, 12 East Ridge Drive, Berkeley Heights, just turned 18 and a senior at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Gail is the winner of this year's B. Altman Junior Advisory Board Fashion Contest.

Each of the thirty contestants, who represented 15 New Jersey High Schools, was asked to coordinate a spring outfit, within a certain price range, from the Short Hills store's wide array of clothing. The winner could keep the clothes she chose. The girls were judged on appearance, suitability of apparel, and pose while modeling.

Gail won the judges' approval and smile, and the first prize with her striking choice. Her $50 selection included a black and white check cotton suit, white sleeveless blouse, red straw hat, red leather bag and gold costume bracelet. Gail brought along her own red leather shoes, hose and short white gloves.

Gail and Jill Smyth, 2 Orion Road, also of Berkeley Heights, represent Dayton Regional in the Junior Advisory Board, which is composed of two girls from public and private high schools in the area. The members meet one month to discuss teen-age fashions, modeling, display and table settings. The advisor is Miss Mary Ann Ulrich, home economics chairman at Dayton Regional.

The girls' opinions are considered seriously in B. Altman's plans for teen-age fashions and in turn, the youngsters receive a training unavailable in the classroom.

Mrs. Harry Speicher, 1 Evergreen Avenue, has just returned from a short visit in Connecticut. Mrs. Speicher went to Lakeville to attend the graduation from the Hotchkiss School of her grandson Guyon, who will be entering Carnegie Tech in the fall. She then visited with the rest of the family in Southbury.

Camp Experience Valuable States Y's Hydorn

Sending a child to summer camp for the first time can pose greater emotional problems for parents than for the youngsters themselves.

This view was expressed by Frank A. Hydorn, Associate Secretary of the Summit YMCA, as boys and girls all over the country prepare for their annual summer-time camping adventure.

"Camping holds promise of new and exciting life. Almost every youngster looks forward to it eagerly," Mr. Hydorn stated. "But homesick parents can unconsciously produce a bad case of homesickness in their children."

"It is only natural for parents to miss their children," he went on to explain. "But many times they do the youngster a disservice by telling them how much they are missed, and how long it is to ground-the-houses-with-the-children away." Reminding young campers of the familiar things they have left behind is one of the best ways of insuring an untroubled time.

Mr. Hydorn based this observation on knowledge accumulated by the YMCA's 75 years of camping experience. It was three-quarters of a century ago that the first summer camp for boys in the United States was started by the YMCA at Pine Point on Orange Lake near Newburgh, New York. Seven boys attended that camp. Much progress has been realized over the years in YMCA camping. The summer of 1960 will climb to even greater success in camping.

Speaking of homesickness, Mr. Hydorn said that no mention should be made even of the possibility. "Homesickness is a very real thing. It is as painful as a stomach ache. Understanding parents realize that it is something almost all children go through. Resolving the problem of homesickness successfully is a step toward the independence necessary for self-reliant, mature individuals.

"Quite often," Mr. Hydorn pointed out, "it is the homesick parent which exposes the child. Letters from home should not say, 'Mother misses you so much. Dad misses you, and Tweety, the parakeet, misses you.'"

Mr. Hydorn offered several other suggestions to parents who are sending their children to camp this summer. Parents, he said, should have a clear idea as to what they hope camp will do for their child. "It is always good to discuss with the younger campers the reasons for going to camp and his aim should be recognized, and encouraged. Parents should not reveal any of their doubts or concerns.

Most camps furnish a list of recommended clothing and equipment to bring and they vary little from camp to camp. The most important items are raincoat, rubbers, and long trousers—all needed to maintain good health, but the most overlooked by parents. Every single article of equipment and clothing should be marked with sewed-on name-tape or indelible and the games were still scoreless; they all went to Evergreen Park and had picnic lunches. Garner pitched Kiwanis to a 7 to 2 victory over American Legion, Muller, Krowne, Tompkins, Morsines and Finnerty collected two hits apiece. For the Legion Cohen, Frank, Halper and Scanock each got in the hitting column.

On Monday night Rotary edged out a 4 to 3 victory over the Kiwanis in the last-inning of a game played at Washington field. Hartz pitched good ball in relief while Haydu and Kurtz each collected 2 hits each. For Kiwanis Azarewicz, Pomkins, Krown and Besch each collected a hit. Morsine's catch in left field was sensational.

A single by Shubert of the P.B.A. in the bottom of the sixth inning drove in his teammate Elliott with the run that beat the Kiwanis 4 to 3 in Irwin Field June 9, 1959. Both Falkin of the P.B.A. and Azarewicz of the Kiwanis pitched themselves in and out of trouble in the course of the game, which proved to be an exciting struggle to the fans and players. Levitt and Zorn of the P.B.A. and Garner of the Kiwanis each whacked out two hits for their respective teams.

On Monday the Lions dropped a close 6 to 4 game to the P.B.A. at Irwin Field. Hitchings pitched a good ball game for his fourth win of the season. Meyer of the Lions just recently brought up from the Minor League also pitched well. Levitt and Greenberg of the P.B.A. and Rosenthal of the Lions each had two hits in this game while Hansen of the Lions had

Battle Of Springfield Is Model For New Swingles

Swingles-Diner, Route 22, Springfield, has announced plans to remodel their present building, using the Battle of Springfield as the motif. The three men, Dallas, Joe, and Fred did a great deal of research about the Battle in order to give the diner the "right feeling".

Utilizing the Early American theme and antique pistols, rifles, and hand-carved beams, the Diner will strive for a colonial atmosphere.

The present building will be torn down and the new one will be a showplace for the company's claims of "diner" which now extends to Florida. The opening of the diner will celebrate the company's third anniversary.

Dallas, Joe, and Fred have been in business in Springfield for 1 1/2 years. Dallas lives in Scotch Plains, Joe makes his home in Westfield, and Fred hails from Mountaintop.

Robert J. Buns, Mountaintop, Secretary of the Corporation, is responsible for the many new changes in the design of the new building.

Over New York City, 80 per cent of all lightning bolts travel up from the spires of tall buildings, not down, because Manhattan is super charged with electricity.

About 70 years ago 12,630 brands of chewing tobacco were sold in the United States at one time.

LETTERS

Editor, SUN:

Two weeks ago your newspaper printed an item explaining the intention of the Springfield-Civil Defense to mail questionnaires to all residents of the town. The mailing is now complete, and the cards are in the hands of our residents.

I would like to thank the Springfield First Aid Squad for their prompt and courteous assistance in Mr. Brettler's case.

It is most important that we have the information asked for, as the completed cards will enable us to plan ahead for any emergency that may occur, and will allow us to do a much better job of preparing for the protection of the people of Springfield, for in this troubled world, under the threat of war, cold or hot, we would be negligent in our responsibilities if we do not plan for any disaster, natural or man made.

Sincerely,
Saul Freeman,

 Father Richard Nardone congratulated the Scouts and their Leaders for the fine work and the many badges they had received. He hoped they would continue to live their lives in their daily lives and in this way better serve God and their Country. Father Nardone presented Mrs. Robert Planer, leader of Troop 740, with a certificate from the Catholic Youth Organization for having 89 percent attendance from her troop at the Holy Hour Services on Girl Scout Sunday. This is one of the first certificates to be presented to any Scout Troop.

The evening's entertainment was given by the Scout-Troops. Troop 739 presented a song, "Make New Friends But Keep the Old." Troop 740, "How You Know You're Really Happy." Troop 756, "Top Notch Song." Troop 887, "Grow Little Girl Scout." Troop 747, "The Subway Song."

Solo by Bernadette Kordulak, "I Believe."
 Skit by Diane Wreher, "The Teenager." "A Baseball Game."

The program closed with the singing of Taps by all and refreshments were served by Scouts of Troop 853. Booklets on badges, paintings, handicrafts, hand made pet animals, etc., were on display by the various troops.

England's Queen Elizabeth I, when she found her red hair growing paler and thinner, had some 80 wigs designed in shades of auburn, orange and gold.

Report to the People

By FLORENCE DWYER

Once again the House of Representatives is confronted with the need to clean its own house. The revelations last week of apparent carelessness in enforcing house regulations governing members' expenses cannot and I am sure will not be brushed under a rug, even though only a small minority of members are involved.

The situation here is similar to the unfortunate situation two years ago when it was learned that a handful of Congressmen were using Government funds to pay rent for front-porch offices and salaries to relatives who spent very little time on the job.

In the present case, a number of Congressmen have been charged with billing the Government for their families' transportation and hotel accommodations and their own personal and non-government expenses. Ironically, most of these abuses have occurred during Congressional committee trips, the purpose of which has been to investigate waste and inefficiency and excessive spending in various Federal programs.

Public Interest Foremost

The public indignation aroused by these reports is understandable. The office of Senator or Representative is one of the highest honors and greatest trusts the American people can bestow on a few of their fellow citizens. The decisions which Congressmen are required to make on behalf of the people they represent involve hundreds of billions of dollars and the lives and welfare of millions of people. The people, therefore, have a right to expect that their representatives will take these responsibilities seriously and conduct themselves, and the public business, in a manner befitting the high office they hold. This means placing the public interest foremost and refusing to permit one's private concerns to interfere with performance of public duty.

Lapses from this high standard of public behavior not only arouse public indignation but, more seriously, they also contribute to a growing public cynicism about politics and politicians—a suspicion and distrust of officeholders that tends to undermine public confidence in the integrity and usefulness of representative government.

For this reason, I have written to the Speaker of the House and to the Minority Leader offering my support for any effort to improve existing regulations.

Creating Issues

As Congress moves closer and closer to adjournment, there is more and more talk about "creating issues" for use in the national elections this fall. Inevitably, however, the more issues there are created, the fewer problems there are solved.

Instead of creating issues, I rather imagine that people expect Congress to resolve issues, by working out through the legislative process effective solutions to important public needs.

A case in point is the Area Redevelopment Bill, which was passed by Congress and vetoed by the President, a later attempt to override the veto failed in the Senate.

The defeated bill called for a $251 million program of aid to areas where unemployment has reached a specified level. The standards in the bill were too loosely drawn, however, that 40 major areas and 103 smaller areas would have qualified for help, including such prosperous industrial areas as Detroit, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Buffalo and Louisville, where unemployment is largely temporary rather than chronic.

In his veto message, the President pointed out that the whole idea of distressed area legislation was to assist those areas which have lost much of their industry and where economic conditions are truly and chronically depressed, like the coal-mining regions of West Virginia. To spread the help too thinly would mean to take it away from those which need it most.

A very good compromise bill is now pending before our House Banking and Currency Committee, introduced by our neighboring Congressman, William B. Widnall, with the cooperation of the Administration. Among other provisions, it would authorize $100 million, compared with the original Administration proposal of $53 million and the vetoed figure of $251 million. And it would concentrate the assistance in those long-term pockets of poverty and unemployment.

If those who voted for the first distressed area bill are as truly concerned about local unemployment as they have professed, then we can still obtain workable and badly needed legislation this year. People without jobs would appreciate this more than an issue.

Solving Problems

Much the same deadlock confronts education legislation. There is every reason to believe the President would sign a bill similar to that passed by the House last week—which is limited to school construction assistance and combines features of his 1957 and 1960 programs. The danger, however, is that those who want an issue more than a program will insist on certain controversial features that could kill the bill.

The House bill is an honest compromise—disappointing as it may be to those who were more recently by a Westfield PTA leader who showed that per pupil costs of education in Union County have risen from $250 in 1959 to $450 today. To pay for education in Westfield, home owners contribute $6 to the $9 property tax per $100 of evaluation. Federal aid would help support education more equitably. It would be a pity, I believe, to sacrifice such opportunities for genuine progress on the altar of partisan political issues.

There will be rides, balloons, games and prizes. Come and see the Strawberry-Queen. Food will be served at noon. There will be lots of hot dogs, saucages, french fries, pizza, soda.

Remember the Girl Scout Strawberry Festival, Saturday, at Raymond Ghisholm School grounds. It will take place beginning the hours of 11:30 A.M. and 6:30 P.M.

There will be lots of fun for everyone. See you at the Festival.

Our apologies to Mrs. S. McConkey and Mrs. W. Finney for forgetting to mention the balloons last week.

Details Decided For 4th Of July Celebration

The newly elected officers of the 1960 Fourth of July Committee, Inc., are very hard at work planning another Fourth of July Celebration for the residents of Springfield.

The new officers are: Theodore Schuss, president; Michael Healey, vice-president; Louis Pignolet, treasurer; and Mrs. Lee L. Andrews, Jr., secretary.

The following chairman have also been appointed: Mrs. Will DeLeonard and Mrs. Thomas Smith, Baby Parade; Frank Harlow, fireworks; Michael Healey, entertainment; Fred Bowman, entertainment; Max Sherman, legal advisor; William DeLeonard, publicity; Theodore Schuss, Jr., baseball; and Leslie Lawn, finance.

The Union County Park Commission has granted permission to the committee to hold the Baby Parade and the athletic events directly behind the high school in the morning. The fireworks and the baseball game will be held in the evening on the Meisel Avenue field.

Meetings are held each Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Lee L. Andrews, Jr., 150 Meisel Avenue, Springfield. If anyone is interested in joining the group or wishes to offer constructive criticism, the committee will be very happy to hear from them.

Senior Faculty Member At NYU Leads Commencement

Professor A. Earl Manville of 79 Colfax Road, Springfield, led the 39th commencement procession at New York University on June 8.

As senior member of a faculty of some 4,300, Professor Manville carried the five-point sterling silver NYU torch emblematic of the light of learning. Traditionally, the torch bearer moves at the head of the academic column as it winds through the open-air colonnade of the Hall of Fame for Great Americans and across the University Heights (Bronx) campus.

Professor Manville, who is now chairman of the department of business writing and speaking at the school of commerce, Accounts, and Finance, joined the NYU faculty in 1921. "If my memory serves me right," he says, "I've missed only two graduation ceremonies—since then."

Even before that time, in 1919, he marched in the procession. That year he received a bachelor of commercial science degree. He was present in the dual role of faculty member and graduate at two other commencements. In 1923, he received a bachelor of science degree and in 1932, a master of commercial science degree.

The NYU professor is a co-author of two books, "Advanced Business Writing" and "Practice Book in Business Writing." He is also a member of the American Business Writing Association.

Professor Manville was born in Albany, New York and will be 63 years old in November. He was an undergraduate at NYU when the United States entered World War I and for a time he left his studies to serve with the Field Artillery.

The torch which Professor Manville carried was made by Tiffany's and presented to the University in 1911 by Mrs. Finley Shepard, daughter of Jay Gould. It has been carried in commencement processions since 1922. It bears a simple pattern of oak leaves about its crest and has a handle engraved with the University seal. The design was inspired by the beacon of the Statue of Liberty.

Ogden son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ogden 42 Carman Road, Fanwood, Saturday. Rev. Richard E. Craven performed the marriage.
