Skousen and Cunningham Undecided About Running Again for School Posts

Two incumbent school board members have filed nominating petitions for the February 14 election. Two others whose terms are expiring are undecided about running, according to some sources.

Howard Smith, board president, and Joseph Bender, who is completing a one-year unexpired term, have filed petitions and will seek re-election to three-year terms.

Loren Skousen and Alan E. Cunningham have not filed petitions and are undecided about running, they say.

As the January 5 deadline nears for filing nominating petitions, no contests have yet developed. However, sources close

Ed. Board Presents New Budget

Tess Jones Named Tax Collector

Conferences are being held by the five members of the all Democratic Springfield Township Committee to discuss the program for 1961, the agenda for the January 2 organization meeting and approximately 23 appointments to be made on that day for loyal and deserving Democrats.

The local school budget of $1,363,222.60 for 1961-62 was tentatively adopted at Tuesday evening's meeting of the Board of Education. According to Board figures, this figure is an increase of 21 points. This figure was reached by using estimated net taxables, of $45,630,000.

Santa Claus is going to make a special trip to Springfield January 2 when a total of 23 jobs will be distributed by the Township Committee at its organization meeting. Democrats will replace Republican in such important posts as magistrate, plumbing inspector and tax collector as well as numerous other jobs in the all Democratic controlled administration.

Town Committee Asks Residents-Clean Sidewalks

The problem of snow removal continues to harass the Springfield Road Department, the Police Department and the Fire Department. Last week's storm, plus the additional few inches that fell on Monday has made the situation acute.

The Springfield Town Committee today issued a statement to the SUN requesting that residents cooperate fully with the "12-daylight hour storm removal ordinance."

Property owners are required by the ordinance to clear a path along the stretch of sidewalk covering their property within 12 daylight hours after a storm.

Up till now, the police department has issued warnings to violators of the ordinance, but full cooperation on the part of residents has been lacking. In some areas of town, no attempts at all were made to comply with the ordinance.

The ordinance, when enforced, carried with it a $50.00 fine and the police department has been instructed to take more drastic measures when the next storm hits town. There will be no warnings given. Summonses will be issued on the spot.

Community Free Church Occupies New Building

Sunday, Dec. 18th was a memorable day for the Community Free Church of Springfield. On that date it occupied its beautiful colonial type church building at 240 Sunpike R., Springfield.

The congregation that has been meeting at the Florence Gaudineer school and at 24 Shelley Road for some time, rejoices in the reality of using their new building. The building that has been under construction for several months will serve people of all ages.

The first floor consists of the sanctuary, foyer, cloak room, and a sound proof mother's room which has a viewing window to the sanctuary. The basement consists of a secondary auditorium, classrooms, youth activities space, S.S. Supt. office, kitchen and rest rooms.

Pastor Harold S. Lundin and congregation wants to share with you these blessings by extending to everyone a most hearty and cordial welcome to come and worship with them in their new building. Schedule of services can be found elsewhere in this paper.

Finnerty Heads March of Dimes Children's Division

Peter X. Finnerty, 217 Short Hills Avenue, Springfield has been named chairman of the Children's Division of the 1961 Springfield March of Dimes Drive.

H. Lee Sarokin, Springfield chairman of the drive, announced Mr. Finnerty had accepted the position and that he would seek complete participation from every child living in Springfield.

The March of Dimes has always relied heavily upon contributions from school children. The Springfield Board of Education prohibits the use of the schools for this purpose. Therefore, it is necessary that the children be permitted to contribute in another manner. Because the March of Dimes is aimed primarily at children's diseases, it has been traditional for the drive to seek contributions from youth. Their participation has also provided an ideal avenue for the education of students concerning the diseases which the March of Dimes seeks to combat.

Mr. Finnerty has undertaken to the school board expect a last-minute rush of candidates. Recent years have seen a number of hot fights for school board seats. Last year there were 10 candidates.

Mr. Skousen indicated he does not expect to run but said if it appears there "will" be no contests, he may change his mind. He is chairman of the most active of the board committees, the building and grounds committee.

Mr. Cunningham indicated he probably will run. He served six years, was off the board for a year and a half and was appointed this year to an unexpired term. He will be running for the one year left of that term, if he decides to be a candidate.

One thing is certain and that is that Mayor Vincent J. Bonadies is certain to be named as the executive officer of the Township Committee, an honor which his colleagues say "belong to him because of the fine record made by the present administration in Springfield under his guidance and leadership".

A very ambitious program is being planned for the coming year in Springfield to be revealed in the annual message from the mayor. This program is being discussed at the conferences and several very progressive plans for the future development of Springfield is expected to be part of the Mayor's message.

The annual message will show, it is reported, that "considerable progress has been made in carrying out a great majority of the items contained in the Mayor's message at the beginning of 1960 and the coming year will see all these, and many new ideas, carried out."

Local Man Gets Navy Promotion

Attorney General David D. Furman administered the oath in Trenton. Mr. Abelson, 28, was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania and Columbia Law School. His wife held the Bible as the oath was administered.

Battle Hill Church Plans Xmas Candle Lite Service

The traditional Moravian Candle Light Service will be held on Saturday evening in the Battle Hill Community-Moravian Church of Union at 7 P.M.

This Service, dating back to 1756 in this country and 1747 in Europe, will feature the distribution of small beeswax candles to each person attending the Service. These candles, made of beeswax to symbolize the divinity of Jesus Christ because beeswax comes only from virgin bees, will be trimmed with red and white frilled paper to symbolize Jesus sacrificial love — the shed blood, and the purity he brings to all who accept him as their Saviour. The burning flame tells of the light he has given to every man to share with others. All of the candles in the Church will gain their light originally in the Service from a Master Candle on the Communion Table bespeaking the fact that all true light of mankind comes from the Christ and His love.

Afterwards, the program will feature Holiday Coiffures by Anthos Coiffures Magnifique. Members will serve as models for hair styles.

Holiday Spirits May Carry Away Buyers

Persons "carried away" by the holiday spirit may be carried away from a traffic accident for which they were totally unprepared warns Chief of Police W.E. Selander, after noting the nightly increase in local traffic as the result of Christmas shopping activity.

"I don't mean to sound grumpy," Chief Selander explained. "Actually, it's a merely sight to see all these people busy shopping to make Christmas a happy occasion for their families and friends. We welcome the shoppers to our shopping districts, and so far, I must say they have been a well behaved group."

The chief warned, however, that as the shopping period grows short, and the pace more hectic, some drivers and pedestrians could lose their good judgment and grow impatient in traffic — and that could lead to trouble.

Is the average Christmas shopper prepared for an accident? The chief noted "no course not. He is unprepared psychologically, because having an accident is the farthest thing from his mind. Who wants to think about accidents at Christmas time?"

"In the second place, he is unprepared financially. At this time of year there are expenses enough without the added overwhelming expense of having an accident."

Yet the very element of unpreparedness is what invites most accidents, the chief pointed out particularly when drivers and pedestrians are unprepared to face the cold fact that accidents do happen, and could happen to them.

"In the interest of finding the Merry Christmas we are shopping for, I'm asking all our citizens to think seriously about holiday season safety rules," Chief Selander said, and listed them as follows:

1. Postpone shopping trips when bad weather prevails, especially if the family car is not fully equipped for snow, sleet or ice driving — from the properly aimed headlights and strong windshield wipers in front to the rear wheels when needed.
2. Drive with special alertness in heavy traffic, being very careful for bundle-laden pedestrians.
3. Start early, giving yourself plenty of time to shop calmly and without undue, frantic haste.
4. Do your window shopping from the sidewalk, not from behind the steering wheel of a moving car.
5. Stay sober behind the wheel whether shopping or celebrating.
6. Don't double-park, or block busy intersections.

Your Library and The Party Season

"Tis the season to be jolly," and the time of the year to gather around the punch bowl, linger under the mistletoe, or "ring out the old and ring in the new."

And prior to the Christmas season, Chanukah, too, has brought forth festivities. It is an old custom to have a festival dinner on the Night of the Fifth Candle, bringing scattered members of the family together, where such traditional dishes as Roumanian Eggplant, Gribenes on Crackers, Mushroom-Barley Soup, Potato Latkes and Pineapple Fritters, and on Chanukah Sabbath, Chopped Liver, Goldene Yoick with Noodles to garnish the Roast Goose.

One of the best books the library has to offer to help plan these dinners is "The Jewish Festival Cookbook" by Fannie Engle and Gertrude Blair. This book is designed as a guide in the preparation and serving of traditional foods. It includes authentic family recipes given against a brief background covering the history and observance of the festival through the years.

If there are teen-agers in your family you are most certain to be confronted with either a Christmas or a New Year's party. One very good book is "Party Cues for Teen" by Florence Hamsher, a complete guide for the junior hostess. It emphasizes the teen-agers responsibilities in such undertakings. There is a chapter on "Christmas Open House" and one on the "New Year's Party," covering games, dancing, and refreshments. Another good one is the "Abingdon Party Parade," by Bernice Hogan. However, this is helpful for the sub-teen crowd, going into candy cane parties and Christmas tree salads.

This is the season for the women of the household to display all their culinary arts to the very utmost. "The Holiday and Party Cookbook," by Sadie La Sueur, hostess of the Centennial Club of Nashville, Tennessee. There are fabulous recipes and menus, glamorous table decorations, and unusual garnishes, selected for color, taste and visual appeal. High-style entertainment suggestions for Christmas "Open House" Parties and New Year's Eve Buffet Suppers are carefully outlined.

Other good books are, "Gifts From Your Kitchen" by Yaklan and Thomas. This is an excellent book for every woman who takes a generous and genuine pride in her cooking. It includes such delectable recipes as Mincemeat, Montana, Champagne Strawberries, Cranberry Bread and Swedish Apricot Loaf. Arthur Depew's, "The Cokesbury Party Book" covers 52 completely planned parties for both children and adults, including many unusual children's games, i.e. Christmas Bell Exchange, Christmas Bell Hidden, and Christmas candle relay, as well as Christmas Charades for the older crowd.

Books containing more illustrative pages include "Holiday Candy and Cookie Cook Book" by J. H. DeGros, and "Foodarama Party Book," by Joan Adams, with food decorations, and games in beautiful color, concerning Christmas Eve and New Year's celebrations. And lastly, perhaps for the most celebrated of all the party books, we can always turn to the "Good Housekeeping Party Book," a comprehensive guide to many successful parties for grown-ups, teen-agers, and children-including details of organization, menus, recipes, decorations and games. This volume is more commonly referred to as the "Homemakers' Bible."

The staff of the Springfield Public Library wishes you all a happy and hearty holiday-party season, filled with fun, good food and cheerful gatherings.

JOBS

Layng's temporary appointment followed the resignation of Tax Collector Charles H. Huff who retired after many years of service in the governing body.

Mrs. Jones has been a very ardent and hard worker in the Democratic organization and members of the Township Committee feel she is very qualified to fill the job as head of the tax office. Mrs. Jones is expected to run for election next November for the full three year term as tax collector.

Another definite appointment is the renaming of Robert Pellegrino as Township Building Inspector. Mr. Pellegrino has been Building Inspector since when Wilbert Binder resigned to accept a position with private industry. Mr. Pellegrino has been doing an excellent job and his re-appointment comes as no surprise to those who have watched his progress while in that office.

The Township Committee is considering a long list of the Democrats to fill all the available positions but no other names have leaked out. Announcement is expected to be made as to the other appointees before the organization meeting January 2.

"The most important group of appointments in 50 years will be made at the Township Committee's organization meeting January 2, according to Mayor Bonadies," said a Newark News article. "A total of 23 pots must be filled, probably putting Democrats in almost every township post."

Rhodes Scholar Candidate Youth Loses Cadet Foster No 'Egghead' Privilege of Driving

Edward Samuel Foster, Jr. Rhodes Scholar Candidate. Edward Samuel Foster, Jr., the Norwich University senior who last Wednesday was nominated as one of Vermont's two candidates for a Rhodes scholarship, won the honor on the solid basis of accomplishment, a review of his college career indicated today.

As Cadet Colonel in the Regiment of Cadets, Foster commands the 950-man Corps at the military college, and that's a very demanding job in itself. But he didn't achieve his Regimental rank at the cost of his studies, since he has been the top man academically in the whole Corps each of his first three years at Norwich, and has ranked No. 1 in his class for five of the six semesters he has completed. He slipped to second place one semester.

No marks are yet available for the first semester of Ed's senior year, but in the preceding three years he took a total of 31 courses, for which he earned "A's" in 28, and "B's" in the other three.

College was not easy sledding for Foster financially, but he qualified in his freshman year for substantial help from a General Motors scholarship established at Norwich, and has continued to qualify each year. In addition, Cadet Foster was the first recipient, last June, of a new cash award established in memory of Eugene F. Syms, a Norwich graduate in 1935. It goes to the Cadet who wins the rank of Cadet Colonel.

The clean-cut, five-foot-eleven senior, who wears the gold star of a top Deans List student above the pocket of his uniform blouse, is taking a liberal arts course, majoring in education, but is aiming ultimately for a Regular Army Career. As a designated Distinguished Military Student under R.O.T.C. regulations, Foster has just been notified of his acceptance for active commission in the infantry at graduation next June.

Last summer, during his R.O.T.C. summer camp training at Fort Knox, Ky., Foster was rated top man out of 1,100 cadets taking the course.

But Ed has been neither a "grind" nor an "egghead" in his Norwich career. A staunch member of the Norwich Outing Club, which makes good use of Vermont's mountain terrain and rugged winter weather in the arts of skiing and mountaineering, he has also taken the military college's exacting mountain and cold weather training. He is one of the four seniors who make up the elite element of Norwich's famous mountain rescue team.

In fact, one of his reasons for choosing Norwich for his college education, after graduating with honors from West Orange High School in 1937, was the opportunities it offered for winter sports and training.

Nonetheless, honors, both academic and military, have piled up on him, and his list of medals, awards, citations, and ribbons is too long to list. They include both freshman and sophomore academic medals for highest class averages, Superior Cadet Ribbons, the Thomas Medal for highest general average, and the coveted Burch and Wheatley Medals, won as a consequence of being named Colonel of the Cadet Regiment at the end of his junior year. He also will be listed in this year's "Who's Who in American Colleges."

In the regimental life of the Corps of Cadets, Foster has also compiled an outstanding record. Freshmen are ineligible for Cadet rank, but Cadet Foster held the rank of corporal during his sophomore year, was the Regimental Sergeant-Major as a junior, and topped the whole Corps as a senior when he was chosen as this year's Cadet Colonel.

His administration of his Cadet responsibilities has been described as firm but fair, and through three years of subordinate Corps responsibilities, he has learned the good officer's ability both to take and to give orders.

Youth Loses Privilege of Driving

A Westfield youth was fined and had his driving privileges suspended for six months. This past Monday evening in Springfield Municipal Court for speeding 75 miles an hour in a 50 mile zone of route 22.

Herald Hofbauer, 18, of 51 Hoyt Street, Westfield, pleaded guilty to the charges.

Magistrate Henry C. McMillen fined Joseph Needham, 21, of Irvington, $50 when he admitted racing in Route 22.

Selected Scriptural reading will be augmented with traditional Christmas carols, all culminating in the bleau of the manger scene. Special music will be sung by the Girls' Choir, under the direction of Charles Sills, organist and choir director. Members of the Westminster Fellowship High School group will portray the holy family and also serve as ushers.

The worshippers will attend in attention is extended to all members of all ages. A cordial invitation is extended to all members of the community to attend this traditional Christmas Eve Service.

Methodist Church Presents Pageant

On Sunday evening December 18, a cast of more than 40 members of the congregation and church school of the Springfield Methodist Church presented a beautiful Christmas pageant entitled "Miriam's Vision."

A capacity audience was on hand to witness this production which carried the Christmas message in a most inspirational manner.

One of the highlights was a manger scene which pictured the Holy Family as they were visited by the angels, shepherds and wise men on the first Christmas.

It closed with an impressive candlelighting ceremony before a large illuminated cross and explained the significance of Christmas in the present day.

Dr. E. W. Gilbert, pastor, then invited all of those present to dedicate or rededicate themselves as Christians and to up their prayers, their presence, their gifts and their services. The entire production was under the direction of Mrs. E.W. Gilbert with members of the congregation helping with properties, costumes and special lighting effects.

Christmas at Overlook

Patients at Overlook won't miss their visit from Santa if the Hospital can help it!

Christmas 1960 will be the first to be celebrated in Overlook's new wing. To be absolutely certain that Santa will be guided correctly, therefore, the new Overlook flag on the rooftop will be spotlighted all night, with a lighted tree signaling Santa at the very top of the flagpole.

For added help, Overlook's chimney, which is twelve stories high and eight feet in diameter, will also be floodlighted and circled with a welcoming Christmas wreath - no chance to miss the route to Overlook, thanks to its Engineering Department.

Throughout the hospital there are gaily decorated windows, with Christmas scenes painted by the staff. Added wreaths, trees, decorations, and favors have been provided by volunteer groups and civic organizations. Seven different choral groups will be caroling through the hospital. Christmas dinner will be turkey with all the "fixings" and Santa Claus, himself, will take time out from B. Altman's to visit small patients in Pediatrics, as well as big patients who would like a cherry hello from St. Nick.

First Doctor In History A Lulu

The first doctor in recorded history was a Lulu! The fact can be verified by an exhibit which has been on display in Overlook Hospital's Medical Library, loaned to them by Ciba Pharmaceutical.

According to the earliest references, found on a Sumerian clay tablet dated 2200 B.C., the first recorded physician was named Lu-Lu-A-Zu, which translated means Dr. Lulu, the characters a-zu meaning "doctor" and Lulu being his name.

The exhibit also shows an original clay tablet 4000 years old, which lists the world's oldest known prescriptions derived from plants, animals, and minerals as are many of ours today.

Other photographs depict the excavations where these Sumerian artifacts are discovered.

Stay Sober Stay Alive

Chief of Police W. E. Selander, whose advice on safe winter driving has become a familiar and welcomed annual event, and an important part of the good life in this town, today issued a warning to celebrants of the year-ending holiday season.

"I appeal to all our citizens to help end the old year, and start the new, in a safe and sane manner," Chief Selander said, "and if anything I say can help bring that about, I'm certainly willing to say it."

The chief referred to a survey published by the National Safety Council concerning motor vehicle deaths over the 1959 New Year weekend. It showed that 274 lives were lost throughout the nation—the "highest 3-day total ever recorded for New Year, almost equalling the 1951 and 1950 4-day death tolls of 375 and 377 respectively."

"If a repeat of that performance is due, I certainly hope that our city, at any rate, will have no part in it," Chief Selander commented.

He pointed out that the council's survey named unsafe speed as a factor in 52 per cent of the accidents. "Certainly improper speed should have no place in our New Year driving plans—and particularly if a bad turn in the weather should cause hazardous road conditions," the chief emphasized.

Drinking was cited as a factor

Weekly Editors Quiz Governors

Governor Robert B. Meyner covered a wide range of subjects in his press conference for editors of weekly newspapers.

Bingo and Games of Chance. Asked about criticism of the Games of Chance Commission, the Governor made it clear that he has confidence in the way the members of the Commission are carrying out their duties. He said he had had practically no complaints about the supervision of bingo and raffles for a year and a half.

"Every state that sets out to establish a bingo law comes to New Jersey," the Governor said. "The Commission has worked out a system so that if you want to conduct bingo, it must be done by members of a group. There has been developed the concept of a neighborhood type of game."

The Governor noted that the members of the Senate Investigating Committee did not agree among themselves in their report.

Port of New York Authority. In response to questions, the Governor reaffirmed his conviction that the Port of New York Authority has done a creditable job in handling a wide range of responsibilities. These have included rehabilitation of the piers in Newark and Elizabeth, the operation of four airports, and the building and maintenance of bridges and tunnels.

He noted that persons making accusations against the Port Authority personnel have immunity and cannot be cross-examined. He also expressed curiosity about the amount of money that has been spent on the probe by the Celler committee, taking into consideration time lost by persons and agencies that are being examined.

Need for Broad-Base Tax? The Governor, in answer to questions, said the State has been "scraping the bottom of the barrel for seven years" to find sufficient revenue to run the State government and demands for State services are ever increasing. However, he pointed out, he ran for Governor twice in campaigns in which platforms of both major parties called for new broad based taxes.

"I am interested in living up to the pledges I made in 1953 and 1957," he said. "But we can't do much about reducing taxes at the local level unless there is more state aid."

Election Investigations. The investigation of the outcome of the Presidential election in New Jersey will have no effect on New Jersey's electoral vote," the Governor said in replying to another question.

"Any kind of investigation will show we have a reasonably well administered system of conducting elections in New Jersey. I think it is always proper for people to look into how an election

Find Veto Confusing

He noted that faculty members and many citizens supporting higher college salaries were confused by the veto in November of a bill which was designed to increase college payrolls last July. "The college salary issue is very much alive and will be a major problem for the 1961 Legislature," Mr. Raichle insisted.

"The faculties have been represented at every college budget hearing that has been held during the last month, and they have made strong pleas for larger budgets for all the state-supported colleges and the state university. We are confident that last week's veto does not mean that the Governor is not sensitive to the problem the state must face this year."

"Students are already crowding our colleges and the university, and we must be ready for them. The State has approved a bond issue to provide additional buildings. But the key to quality education lies with the faculties. Unless New Jersey takes steps to make positions at our state college and the state university more attractive, it will not be able to hold the high calibre teacher it has, much less bring in the additional teachers we will need as our colleges grow."

The bill which the Governor just vetoed, Mr. Raichle explained, was passed by the Legislature last June to provide the college salary increases for the current college year as recommended by the State Board of Education and the college faculties. It would have been the first step of a two-year salary program. . . . Failure of the Governor was conducted, but there must be an end to it some time. Impressions of South America. Governor Meyner also commented upon his recent trip to Argentina and Brazil with other U.S. governors. He said Brazil had built its new capital city—Brasilia—at the price of considerable inflation and the average worker has paid for this. He said at the present time, the new capital can be reached only by automobile or by plane and most of the government workers are still in Rio de Janeiro.

Asked about his personal preference for a Democratic nomination for Governor, Governor Meyner said he was meeting with party leaders in an effort to agree on one candidate and so avoid a primary fight.

"The Governor was also quizzed about his plans after his term expires in January 1962. He said that he had had some informal offers of later employment, but he did not specify what they were.

"I would like to save that announcement until the day my successor is sworn in," the Governor said. "Meanwhile, I have every intention of being a full-fledged Governor for the year or so that remains of my term."

The warmth of our wishes for your happiness in the holiday season would quickly melt the biggest snowman ever made. Have a merry Yuletide!

Suburban Planning Topic Scheduled for NY Confab

Land zoning topics of particular interest to New Jersey farmers as well as municipal and court officials will be presented at a conference in New York December 27-30.

Twenty or more authorities will appear in a symposium sponsored by the agriculture section of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in the Billmore Hotel.

The chairman of the section, Dr. Firman E. Bear, professor Emeritus of soils at the College of Agriculture, Rutgers University, recommends attendance by anyone interested in helping to solve some of the complex problems existing and developing in New Jersey.

There will be sessions on rural land zoning, suburban planning, community planning, recreational and forest planning, and the role of government as a land owner and redistributor.

Among New Jersey participants besides Dr. Bear will be William Miller of Princeton, adjunct professor of law, New York University, and Herbert H. Smith, president of Community Planning Associates, Trenton.

Christmas-Time Is Budget-Time For Most School Board Members

Christmas may be coming in stores and in classrooms, but members of school boards must be at their most Scrooge-like this month. This is the time when they are paring down the requests of their teaching staffs to meet the hard realities of local taxes, as they prepare budgets for the school year that will start next July.

Enrollments Increasing
Most school boards are facing greater demands than ever. One big reason is the number of additional pupils the y must provide for. Since 1950, school enrollments across New Jersey have been increasing almost 40,000 a year, and they will continue to grow at about that rate for the next four or five years.

This has meant many new teaching positions, and in many school districts acute building problems. School building at the rate of nearly $100,000,000 a year has become common in our state, and it is expected to continue. Many of the buildings needed these days are high schools, and high schools cost more than elementary schools.

The new teachers — and the ones boards already have — may well cost more. Most local teacher groups are making urgent requests for salary increases. This is a natural result of inflation and of the teacher shortage, which is very real. Many boards would like to reduce the number of teachers with substandard certificates they still have on their payrolls.

Besides needing new teachers and meeting demands for salaries, boards are facing pressures for more administrative and other non-teaching positions. One young and inexperienced teachers who, educators agree, need more supervision if they are to do good work and succeed as teachers. Another reason is the pressure of parents for more guidance, more remedial teaching, and more special teachers for art, music and even foreign languages in the elementary schools. Few New Jersey schools meet Dr. Conant's suggested standard of one guidance counselor for each 300-250 students.

Following such recent reports as the Conant studies on high schools and junior high schools, many communities are facing public pressure for teaching additional subjects during an expanded school day. Such proposals inevitably call for more teachers on high school faculties.

The costs of textbooks, supplies, and heating is steadily mounting, just like costs outside the schools.

Public Views Budget

Soon after Christmas, when the school boards have finally reached what they regard as the best possible compromise between what they would like and what the community can afford, they will make the new school budgets public, hold hearings upon them, and then, in most communities, submit them to popular vote early in February. On the basis of past experience, as many as one budget in ten may be rejected by tax-burdened voters. But if the boards have been as conscientious as usual, they will be unable to make many big reductions in the original budgets. In several communities last year the decreases were less than the cost of a second election.

It can be predicted that the final budgets for school districts all over the state will be $30,000,000-$40,000,000 higher than the ones adopted a year ago. Under our New Jersey system of low state school aid, this increase will fall almost wholly onto tax bills. Since word of the rise in local taxes will get around next spring, just about the time when the two political parties are choosing candidates for Govern-

HANUKA FESTIVAL OF LIGHTS

By RABBI ISRAEL S. DRESNER, of Temple Sharey Shalom, and RABBI REUBEN K. LEVINE, of Temple Beth Ahm

Jews throughout the world began celebration of Hanuka on Tuesday, December 13, at sundown. The eight day festival of lights will end on Wednesday, December 21, at sundown.

Hanukah commemorates the successful struggle for religious freedom of the Jewish people of two thousand one hundred and twenty five years ago, against the religious intolerance and oppression of the Seleucid emperor, Antiochus Epiphanes. Under the dedicated leadership of Mattathias, his son Judah the Maccabee, who lost his life in the struggle, and his four Maccabean brothers, the Jews of ancient Judaea succeeded in winning their revolutionary struggle for religious liberty, for religious pluralism, against the legions of ancient totalitarianism who would impose a conformist stamp upon all men.

The foreign oppressors were expelled from Jerusalem, and the Holy Temple, which had been desecrated by the forces of Antiochus, was cleansed and re-dedicated, hence the Hebrew name for the festival—Hanuka—which means "dedication." The eternal light which burns before the holy ark was rekindled. According to legend the oil for the lamp which was sufficient for only one day, burned for eight days, hence the practise in Jewish homes of kindling the Hanuka menorah (candelabra) each evening of the festival. Each night an additional candle is lit so that on the last night of the festival all eight candles are kindled by the "servant candle" (Shamash).

We, at Elizabethtown Gas, salute the John Brennans everywhere who keep the home fires burning. And to our many friends and customers, a heartfelt wish for a joyous Christmas and a New Year filled with peace and plenty.

Grand Jury Members To Be Picked Jan. 3

A new Union County grand jury of 23 members will be drawn from among 35 county residents January 3 before Superior Court Judge Water L. Hetfield III.

Names of the 35 men and women were picked before Union County Judge Milton A. Feller.

Residents from this area include: Springfield—Kenneth R. Hetel, Jr., 9 Essex Road, president and general manager; Mountaintide—Howard R. Dederick, 4 Greenwood Road, manufacturer; Beropka—J. Sussex Road, research bacteriologist; Scotch Plains—Russell P. Patterson, 4 Clydefield Road—sales manager.

Parents who drive their children to and from school should park well away from the school, says the Allstate Safety Crusade.

This eliminates congestion around school entrances which could conceal a child about to run into the street.

A stopped school bus should represent an automatic-stop signal to cars from all directions, according to the Allstate Safety Crusade.

Motorists will avoid the hazard of youngsters rushing to or from the bus by waiting until the bus leaves.

Want White Christmas? Here's How To Do It... Little drops of water in little bowls of soap suds make a dream come true for dreamers of white Christmases. With "suds-snow" you may produce your own snowdrifts in the corners of window panes.

To create an old-fashioned effect on modern picture windows, just attach black construction paper or friction tape to form the outlines of small early American window panes. With a wide paint brush or a long-handled spoon, drift on suds-snow by whipping up several cup's of packaged soap or detergent with a little water. Beat with a hand or electric mixer until the suds have the texture of stiff-meringue. That's when suds become snow.

Angel Hair Plus—How About A New Coiffure For Snow Flammable—A Different Way Of Relaxing

The National Fire Protection Association warned today that a combination of certain Christmas tree decorations could cause fire.

The association said that if some artificial snow were sprayed on a glass wool decorating material marketed as "Angel Hair," only a touch of flame was needed to cause a burst of fire.

It said the materials, labeled non-flammable, might be used separately with safety under normal conditions.

However, for some reason not yet determined, the "combination of the two on a Christmas tree or other decorating materials apparently created a highly hazardous condition," the association said.

With the holiday season almost upon us our minds are filled with various problems—what to buy Aunt Sybil whom we haven't seen in ten years but who always remembers to send a useless gift; what to serve all those unexpected guests who drop in on Christmas and New Year's Day; have we bought enough Christmas cards to take care of those people who send us one, but whom we either forgot or crossed off our list.

All our thoughts are not problem thoughts, of course, but there is a great deal to be accomplished and never enough time to do, all you want. The women, though, seem to take the brunt of the work during this season. They do most of the shopping and the cooking, and usually all the decorating. They reserve some time to relax, but again "just don't have the time." There is, and time they should find to just sit back, think of nothing, and relax.

One of the best ways for a woman to relax is go to the beauty parlor and have her restyled in a new, different way.

I had the fortunate opportunity to have my "coiffure" done free of charge by Mr. Adrian of Antoine's of Saks Fifth Avenue.

Styled "just for me," it was one of the most thrilling events in my life and most relaxing after a hectic week. After he told me he had styled the hair of one of the Gabor sisters and some of the most prominent Fifth Avenue matrons, I figured if they were satisfied, why shouldn't I be. So I just sat back, completely relaxed and let him do what he thought best.

And satisfied I was. Mr. Adrian was the first to come out for shorter hair last January. To show how much foresight he had, Paris has just recently taken the same stand, but Mr. Adrian was more than eight months ahead of Paris. Another reason why I didn't worry when he started cutting away.

Mr. Adrian believes in styling hair in the way in which it grows. If a wave is definitely going to the right, he does not try to make it go in another direction. He believes in simplicity and the softest of waves. Permanents should give the hair body; you don't walk out of his salon with small, tight ringlets all over your head. You walk out with the look of natural waves, something all women with straight or almost straight hair are continually trying to achieve.

So... with just a few days left before the BIG DAY; how about making an appointment to have your hair restyled. And then just sit back and relax and forget all your worries...

YUL BRYNNER & ROSEDA MONTEROS appear in "The Magnificent Seven," an action film set in Mexico. The United Artists release, filmed in Delacolor and Panavision, starts Friday at the Rialto Theatre, Westfield.

The National Safety Council says that more college-age people are killed each year by accidents than by all diseases and other causes combined. Motor vehicle accidents account for 70 per cent of the fatalities in this age group, or more than 9,000 deaths a year.

Youngman Heads Meadowbrook Christmas Comedy Review

CEDAR GROVE—There's always something new at the fabulous Meadowbrook Dinner Theatre.

Having completed its second highly successful year of Broadway musical comedy presentation, the Route 23 show place will be the scene of real holiday merriment.

Starting Thursday, December 29, and through New Year's Eve, the Meadowbrook will have an all-star revue headed by the formidable Henry Youngman.

Youngman, currently appearing in Chicago, will fly in for his Meadowbrook engagement. He has appeared at the top 20 nightclubs in this country, on the countless TV and radio programs and in motion pictures. The fiddle playing comedian will be ably supported by such talent as the Magid Triplets, a great song and dance set, and the musical comedy singer, Lorain Wilson.

The Magid Triplets have had 21 guest TV spots and also have appeared on stage in the major theatres throughout the country. Miss Wilson, an expressive actress as well as an outstanding singer, recently concluded a run at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City.

Helga & Gary McHugh and Carl Sawyer, producers at the Meadowbrook, feel that a revue, such as the Henry Youngman Show, is more-in-keeping with the New Year's type-entertainment.

Lisiecki Starts Training At Dix

ROY J. LISIECKI

Roy J. Lisiecki, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lisiecki, 90 Kipling Ave., Springfield, has been assigned to M Company of 3rd Training Regiment for eight weeks of basic training in conjunction with the 1935 Reserve Forces Act.

During his training, Lisiecki will receive instruction in general military subjects as well as character guidance programs under the post chaplain.

Under the RFA program Lisiecki will serve on active duty for six months of training and then be transferred to hometown duty with an Army Reserve or National Guard Unit.

After the initial eight weeks, he will receive a two week leave and then enter eight weeks of advanced individual training; be enrolled in one of the specialist schools, or be sent to another Army post for training.

A graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, prior to his arrival at Fort Dix he attended Fairleigh Dickinson University.

Ed. Board Offers Resolution On Fire Detection

The Springfield Board of Education adopted the fire detection and installation resolution at its meeting Tuesday night. This resolution will appear as a separate proposal on the annual school election ballot in February.

The proposed cost for the fire detection and fire protection systems is $28,150.

If this resolution is adopted, it will increase the tax rate 8 points, bringing the total tax rate to 29 points. The total school budget tentatively adopted at the meeting was $1,363,222.00.

Robert Van Wagner, a teacher at the Florence Gaudineer School submitted his resignation to the Board. He has accepted a principalship in Eldridge Park Elementary School in Lawrence Township, New Jersey.

The Board discussed in considerable detail the problems which arouse due to the last week's snow storm. The police department was swamped with phone calls from parents, asking if school would be in session. At one particular time, the police had over 400 calls. Parents are asked to listen to WOR and WNEV for information.

The Board is considering a recording device which the telephone company might install. By calling a certain number, parents would know immediately if schools would be open.

UJC Library Open to All Area Co-eds

Area students home from college for the holidays were invited today by Dr. Kenneth C. Mackay, president of Union Junior College, Cranford, to make use of the college library in the new Nomahegan Building.

The UJC library will be open from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Wednesday, December 28; Thursday, December 29; and Friday, December 30, for use by UJC students and by area residents home for the holidays from other colleges.

"We know many college students find it desirable and necessary to spend at least part of their vacation studying. Our 18,000 volume library will be available and valuable to many of them," Dr. MacKey said.

Union Junior College's new campus is located off Springfield avenue in Cranford, opposite the entrance to Nomahegan Park.

Senate President Harper Backs Dumont For Jersey Governorship

The president of the New Jersey Senate, George B. Harper, announced today that he has endorsed the candidacy of Senator Wayne Dumont for governor. This decision was made at a meeting of the Senators and other members of the Republican Party in Sussex County. Senator Harper's support follows Dumont's announcement two weeks ago that he would seek the gubernatorial nomination.

Senator George Harper is one of the Republican Party and as president of the Senate, he is second only to the governor in the state government. He has distinguished himself as chairman of the Sussex County Republican Committee. Through organization and hard work, Sussex County carried large majorities for the Republican Party and Nixon in the last election.

This is an important step towards the governorship to re-elect Wayne Dumont, in the previous primary for governor, Senator Harper had endorsed Senator Malcolm Forbes. In making this announcement, Senator Harper said: "Wayne Dumont deserves the governorship because of his unusually high principals and his outstanding record for the people of New Jersey. I feel that the voters of New Jersey would welcome the opportunity to elect a man of this caliber."

The truest mark of being born with great qualities, is being born without envy.

Where To Go For Winter Sports

The Park Commission recently announced that with the coming of the winter sports season, ice-skating will be permitted on twenty-six lakes and ponds throughout the park system, a 1 1/2 mile within reach of Union County residents.

Some of the areas, including Lake Surprise in the Watchung Reservation, and lakes in Cedar Brook, Echo Lake, Rahway River and Warnance Parks, the flooded areas at the Galloping Hill Golf Course, and the Woodruff Section, Elizabeth River, will offer protected skating, when the ice is thick enough.

On some areas, floodlights will be erected to allow skating until 1:00 p.m., and heated shelters will be available. In addition, the maintenance department is prepared to scrape the ice daily in the protected areas to insure good skating.

When snow conditions permit, coasting areas at the Galloping Hill Golf Course, Echo Lake and Green Brook Park will be in use. In addition, two ski slopes, one at Galloping Hill, and one in the Watchung Reservation will be opened.

The ice-hockey rink in Rahway River Park is also being readied.

Attend Science Seminar At UJC

Four students from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, are participating in the Union Junior College Science Seminar for academically talented high school students.

The high school students participating in the ten-lecture program are: Stephen Bender of 21 Ann Place, Alan Chaiet of 33 Cypress Terrace, Richard P. Johnson of 147 Pitt Road, and Sanders Smith of 454 Meisel Avenue, all of Springfield.

The series opened last Thursday evening with a lecture by Dr. Albert E. Meder, Jr., vice provost and dean of Rutgers University, on "Mathematics: Trick or Treat."

They are among 118 students from 47 North Jersey high schools who are participating in the series designed to challenge them intellectually and to create an interest in science and mathematics.

Union Junior College is sponsoring the series under a grant from the Merck Company Foundation. Each of the hour-long lectures will be followed by a discussion period under the direction of trained discussion leaders.

The next speaker on January 5, 1961, will be Dr. John R. Pierce, director of research for the Bell Telephone Laboratories, Murray Hill, whose topic will be "Satellites As An Example of Electrical Communication."

BY Z. SPOUTER

The END Of A Game

The clock on the score board shows very little time remaining in game 1960. As we surge down the homestretch, it is always too late to look over our shoulder and see what we left behind.

With my not too retentive mind, I remember...

That the Yankees were beaten in a wild World Series.

That the United States took a sound thumping in the Olympics that brought consternation to officials.

That the United States were eliminated for the first time in 24 years from the Davis Cup Finals.

That Governor Livingston managed to win 6 football games in their first year.

That Casey Stengel was fired as manager of the Yankees.

That Floyd Patterson regained his Heavyweight Title earning many greenbacks and the "Fighter of the Year" award.

That Ray Robinson demonstrated "That Ole Sugar Ray Ain't What He Used To Be".

That if I had a million dollars, I could start a professional football, baseball or basketball team.

That if I had any ability I could play for a professional football, baseball, or basketball team.

That the "Eagle" and the "Dancer" were the best thoroughbreds in horse-racing.

That I never made money betting on them.

That I never made any money this year, not only on betting.

That I'm thoroughly disgusted with every team I root for... the Knicks, the Rangers, the San Francisco Giants, and the football Giants.

That Willie Mays is still better than Mickey Mantle or anyone else.

That Willie Jones, Walter Rice and Herb Ertold received the Watching Weekly trophies as the Most Valuable Football players.

That I have no use for Little Leagues.

That I have a use for organized recreation.

That Herb Plamer will be the football coach next year at Springfield Regional.

That Winfield Park will not be granted a major league baseball franchise.

That Vince Broyla is a complete nebbish as general manager of the Knicks.

That I got a real charge going to the Yankee Stadium for baseball and football games.

That bowling leaves me with a big nothing feeling.

That golf leaves me with a feeling of ineptness and frustration.

That boxing is filthy, disgraceful, and un-American.

That Dick Nixon will have plenty of time to devote to his Washington Senators.

That Ike is shapening his golf game to play the summer circuit.

That there were too many upsets in college football this year to make any money.

That Springfield, Gove, Livingston and Scotch Plains should be very proud of their head coaches.

That the Springfield Board of Education should get with it and get with a football field all their own.

That I have enjoyed writing this column.

That I have enjoyed working with the 3 school systems that helped in putting together this sport section.

That the minute hand has reached zero on the scoreboard clock.

That the fans are leaving.

That Z. Spouter is leaving.

That Game 1960 has ended.

Bumper Turnout For Youth Cage In Springfield

3 Leagues Include 9-14

Ed Ruby, Springfield Recreation Director, reported 352 registrations for activity in the Springfield Recreation Youth Basketball program. The activity is open to all Springfield boys 9 thru 14 years of age. The entire program is organized in various age groups—Small-Fry League (ages 9 and 10) State League (ages 11 and 12) and Ivy League (ages 13 and 14).

The Small-Fry and State League will be active on Saturday afternoons, with Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings devoted to Ivy League and High School play. The Florence Gaudineer, James Caldwell, and Thelma Sandmeire Schools gyms are reserved for play. Teams play once each week, with a league schedule designating starting times and gym locations. Uniformed referees officiate the games, with the results and standings published in the Springfield Sun each week.

More Leagues. — Mr. Ruby plans to organize a 4-team basketball league for high school boys, this dependent on the interest shown for this activity. The league will be open to Springfield boys, not active with the High School varsity and junior varsity squads.

The basketball program was introduced to Springfield youngsters 10 years ago today at the James Caldwell School gym, with less than 20 boys active. The program has grown rapidly with each successive year and is now considered by many to be the most efficient in the area if not the state. No effort is being made to over-emphasize the sport but to provide a healthy outlet for the youth of the community. Boys attend three or organization clinics in an effort to absorb fundamentals of the game as well as assignment to teams on the basis of their age, size, and ability.

Interested parents who have a basketball background have been invited to serve as coaches under the supervision and guidance of the Springfield Recreation Commission.

Mr. Ruby considers the program a developer of character, sportsmanship, and good community spirit, plus exposing the boys to the competitive game itself.

Y Organizes 6 Team Loop Starts Jan. 5

A six team high school boys basketball league was formed in the Fanwood-Scotch Plains Y.M.C.A., last night at a meeting of representatives with physical director George W. Hoffman. The league will play on Thursday and Friday nights at the Y, with first games scheduled for January 5th at 8 P.M. Officials for the league will be Mr. Arthur Terry and George Hoffman.

Two of the teams are returnees from last year's league. They are the Willow Grove Presbyterian Church and the Y.M.C.A. team. Representatives present from the teams were David Reed, Peter Huggar, Carl Sicora, Steve Felmeister, Bob Jensen and James Lyons.

The teams will play two com-

Dettmar Sees Good and Bad in Raiders First Win

Raiders Show Promise In Copping Season's Lid-Lifter

Mandy's Return Ignites Raiders To Westfield Win

Right — Bill Lott (23) Scotch Plains forward, a rebound. This time Lott got good position and is out-rebounded on this particular play as Dave Taylor (43) Westfield, comes down with the ball. Above — Once again Lott battling Taylor for Devil's 28. (Photo by Fred Keesing)

Keggler's Korner

When a team is primed for title contention before they even don a pair of sneakers, things can become a wee-bit uncomfortable during the season.

Loomed as one of the leading quintets in the area, Chuck Dettmar and his Scotch Plain Raiders are already experiencing the tribulations of a front runner. Their opposition is given a physiological lift with the incentive to beat them and move up in the ratings.

Mel Allen 25th Dinner Toastmaster

The 25th anniversary "Hot Stove League" Baseball Dinner will be held on Tuesday evening, January 17, 1961 at the Singer Recreation Hall, Second and Trumbull Streets, Elizabeth at 6:30 p.m. The dinner is an outstanding annual sporting event sponsored by The Union County Baseball Association and The Union County Park Commission through the cooperation of the Singer Manufacturing Co.

Mel Allen, Yankee sportscaster will serve as toastmaster. The program will also include major league baseball stars as guest speakers, the film of the World Series of 1960, the awarding of trophies to the outstanding players and teams in the Youth and County Baseball Leagues, entertainment and novelties. Miniature baseball bats and pencils will be distributed to those who attend.

HALL OF FAME — The names of the men elected into the Union County Hall of Fame will be announced at the dinner. The Hall of Fame, instituted in 1932, pays tribute to those men who have made outstanding contributions to the development of baseball in the County. To date, 31 men have received this coveted honor.

The balloting is now underway for the Most Valuable Player in the Union County Baseball League during the 1960 season. The player selected will be awarded the Joseph A. Brophy Memorial Trophy at the affair. The F. S. Mathewson Trophy will be awarded to the champions of the County League.

REBOUNDING GOOD — When Dettmar praised his team's rebounding job, he had sound reasons. The final statistics showed that the Raiders pulled down just one less rebound than the taller Westfield crew. The Raiders got 27 rebounds to the Blue Devils' 26.

POOR BALL HANDLING — The most distressing part of the Raider offense was their ball handling. According to Dettmar, this most definitely improved upon when they are faced with top-draw competition.

Ice Skate Exchange Sat. — The annual Recreation Commission sponsored Ice Skate Exchange was held on Saturday, December 17th at the Columbia School Cafeteria, from 2:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. This activity is held to enable residents to trade old, new, or a pair of skates that is no longer of any use to a family for another pair that will be of value. In some cases, trades are made that are considered even. In some cases, trades are made that involve some cash. In other cases, trades are made that may be of different values. But The One Who Is Involved In Any Of These Trades Ends Up With A Pair Of Skates That The Family Can Use.

LIPOSKY 638 MIDDLETOWN A — Joe Liposky rolled 203-242-638 and Harry Devine 213 to lead John's Bar to a double win over Brigadoon Village. Luke Logan rolled 204 and Ed Matuszewski 201 for the losers.

SPRINGER AILING — Dettmar is well aware of the fact that his Raiders will not be given the liberties against the likes of Roselle and Hillside as they were given against Westfield. He knows that the offense must be sharpened up, that his defense must improve and that he needs Bruce Springer's scoring punch in the lineup.

Following the doctors orders, Dettmar probably won't be using Springer until the middle of January. Fortunately, the meat of the Raider schedule won't be coming up until after the Christmas holidays.

A Christmas present that Dettmar would appreciate with deep gratitude would be a healthy Springer.

Wrestlers Prep For 61 Opener

Palmer To Be Tested Again With Inexperienced Team

Herb Palmer has been conditioned to winning at Springfield. His opponents have been conditioned to accepting a Palmer-coached team as a well-drilled, physically trim, and aggressive combination.

His wrestling team in the past have gained respect. His football team has coped with the top teams in the county.

Now, faced with the task of molding an inexperienced wrestling squad into a contender, Palmer will be put to the test again. Skepticism reigns when he sent his warriors out to take on Rahway. But skepticism was quipped as were the Indians.

Palmer Confident — Never one to sell his players short, Palmer voiced a strong vote of confidence in them when he said, "I have over 30 boys on the squad... most of them are underclassmen which makes our future look bright. But what I have on hand makes me feel that this year's team will be as successful as any other team I've coached."

Just how much "stock" can you put in Palmer's confidence? — He has lost all of last year's starters except Ron Leucariello who was runner-up in the 97 lb. division. He lost the state title on a split decision.

But that was last year. Now, how about this year? — There is what Palmer considers the nucleus of his squad.

97 lb. Class — Richard Leucariello, brother of last year's runner up champion, will try to fill his kin's shoes.

110 lb. Class — Right now Palmer has Bobby Brent, a novice champ last year at 97 lb. battling with Tom Leucariello. One of these two will get the title.

122 lb. Class — Bob Gasdella seems to be alone in this class. He won the novice championship last year.

135 lb. Class — A toss-up may have to decide this division. Palmer has two of his football reliable Tommy Venice and Art Tether to pick from.

167 lb. Class — Lou Pfeifer in his practice efforts has convinced Palmer that he can get the job done.

177 lb. Class — Bill Geuhagen, a line backer in football has earned the job in this division. Heavyweight — Once again Palmer has derived a benefit from the school split. Frank De-remi, a standout letterman at Clark will give Palmer a sound performance in the big man division.

Split Hurt — It is difficult to determine if the school split hurt or helped Palmer. He did pick up Rica and Parenti from Clark, but in the same breath he lost John Wadus and Walt Rice to Governor Livingston.

But Palmer accepts the split with a positive outlook to his squad's future. "Even in our recent years of wrestling we managed to compile a 3-7 record. I'm sure we will be a good wrestling team this year."

Union To Be Tops — Union is regarded as the team to beat in the County. Last year, individually Leaycraft of team No. 14 was high man for the week with 191, 194 and 236 for a 621. Others who had high games were Jones 234, N. Meye 224, Herman 213, LaSota 211, Evers 21, Oakman 210, Schenk 209, Bischoff 204, Dapero 202, and Schmidt 200.

High series were turned in by H. Seroff of 586 on games of 207 and 212. And the other-high series was rolled by H. Cohen a 572 with a 212 game. L. Sarokin rolled a 200 game and then came right back with a 213 after missing a few weeks. Rounding out the day were the following high games: Blake 223; S. Wortzel 200 and P. Moliuso finished the last game off with a fine 200 effort.

The Star Bowling Alley's donated four turkeys for the four top bowlers and the following men won in the order of finishing: H. Axelrad; H. Cohen; N. Penkin; and H. Seroff. The winners were awarded the turkeys on the basis of hitting down the most pins over their respective averages. With the true Holiday spirit each bowler donated their prizes back to the League, who in turn will donate them to some needy family in town.

SPRINGFIELD CHURCH LEAGUE — Larsens No. 4 team although losing three to Stewart's No. 12 is still in first place, but sharing it with LaSota's No. 3 who lost two to Douglas No. 11. Douglas and Slight are in third place, only one game behind. The three teams tied for tenth place are only four games out of first.

Palmer's novice team finished runner-up to Union in the state tournament. His team won four championships, but lost out on total points.

On January 3, Palmer and his contingent after over two months of training in a room that reads 120 degrees on the thermometer, will test their skills against Plainfield.

If Palmer can start 1961 as he finished 1960, the temperature will be a lot higher than 120 for the Bulldogs opponents.

Highlanders Show Potential In Two Losing Efforts

Buoyed by a strong but unsuccessful showing in their debut last Friday against Summit High, the Highlanders of Governor Livingston High face a busy pre-Christmas week of basketball.

Hoping to rebound from a 67-59 loss to Summit in the first basketball game in the school's brief history, the Highlanders invaded Somerset County yesterday for a meeting with the perennial powerful Crusaders of Bound Brook High.

MAURO GETS 39

This year proved to be no exception as the Crusaders got a 39-point effort from Mike Mauro setting a school record which helped his team romp to a 104-78 win.

The Highlanders hung on for the first period trailing by only 7 points, but then Mauro took matters into his own hands and by the time the half ended the score was 54-33.

Never quitting which has become the Highlanders trademark, they battled back in the fourth period, outscoring the Crusaders 26-20, but it was too late.

RUDOMINER EXCELS

Little Harry Rudominer, 5-8 forward, the only Highlander cager with many previous varsity game experience, did his best to carry Governor Livingston to victories over Summit, and Bound Brook.

LOSES TOUCH

In the Summit game, the Highlanders had the shooting range and then for some unaccountable reason lost the touch. While Governor Livingston was scoring only one goal, Summit romped for 13 quick points to take a commanding 51-42 lead.

The Highlanders never quit trying, but never could overcome the big bulge. Rudominer finished with 21 points, while sophomore Nesbitt added 16. Klein and Jerry DePasquale each accounted for nine points.

HOME OPENER FRIDAY

With two rough games under their belts, the Highlanders are looking forward to getting back on their home grounds tomorrow night against Watchung Hills. This will be the first basketball game played at the spacious Governor Livingston gym.
