Crestmont Reports On Mortgages

Crestmont places $1 3/4 Million in Mortgages during June

A total of $1,220,750 worth of mortgages was placed in the month of June by Crestmont Savings and Loan Association of Maplewood and Springfield, the largest amount placed in any one month in the 19-year history of the institution, according to Loren F. Gardiner, president.

This amount was made up of $1,519,575 in purchase and building mortgages on 90 new homes and $201,175 on 10 existing homes.

"This record figure," asserts Mr. Gardiner, "warrants optimism for the building and allied industries for this year and indicates that the local area is experiencing an upswing even greater than that being experienced by other parts of the country."

Based on a total of $4,106,770 in mortgages placed by Crestmont during the first six months of this year, Mr. Gardiner predicts that the association will finance $10 million worth of homes in 1961 as compared with $8.7 million in 1960, representing a 27 per cent rise.

Robert R. Lackey, Fund Raising Chairman of the County, presented the citation. Mr. Lackey also paid tribute to the Chairman of Business and Industry, "Ike" Friedman of Springfield.

Approximately one hundred sixty guests attended the affair which paid tribute to the volunteers. Dr. Henry J. Konzelmann of Hiltside, Second President of the chapter, and Koiman G. Post Office Contract Brings New Building Closer To Reality

A "Quiet Agitator" Speaks Out On P.A.

The following piece was submitted to this paper by Richard Buel of Morristown. Mr. Buel, who regards himself as a "quiet agitator," has used his imagination and knowledge of the proposed Morris Jet Port to compose this satire on the financial situation of the Port of New York Authority.

Scene: Mr. and Mrs. Jersey Voter at home at an evening.

Mrs. Jersey Voter: What's the matter with this Financial Report? I can't make the figures add.

Mr. Jersey Voter (examining the report): They've printed all figures in round thousands. The Port Authority has so much money it leaves off the hundreds of dollars and the cents. Believe it or not, its Total Assets are over one Billion Dollars. Five years ago it had only half that. Five years from now it'll have Two Billion. Five years later....

Stop! You're making me dizzy. Is it going to be so big it'll gobble us all up?

It could happen - and within our lifetime. Already three quarters of a Billion of future projects are in the planning stage. Where does it stop?

The question really is: Can it it stop? In the old days private competitors fought over foreign trade. Now it's Port against Port, State against State....

You frighten me! We should all be frightened. Here we are playing with State Capitalism, and not stopping to think that's just what the Commies....

Hush!...Hush!....you said a dirty word....

Sorry. Let's just say that the Democratic Process is being smothered under a blizzard of Big Money.

But haven't we Constitutional Rights?

What are they against Two Hundred and Twenty Million for this Jet Port? Most people will figure the money's Too Big to Pass Up! Pi-ew.....the philosophy of the strumpet!

Sure. Pretty little State of New Jersey is to peddle her irreplaceable asset - the best land in Morris County - for High Living and a big rush from strangers, who'll snatch back most of the money for themselves, and leave her looking like the tramp they finally turned her into.

Tell me, is it true the Head of the Port Authority, Austin Tobin, gets ten thousand more than Rockefeller, and twice the salary of Governor Meyner?

Yes, and when the investigation subpoenas begin to fly, both Governors rush to protect him as if he was their Crown Prince.

Well, perhaps this Battle is for Giants, not for little folks like us. After all, who are we, fighting Big Money with No Money?

My Dear Wife, it's not money we need, but guts! We still have the Right of Free Speech. We have our conscience, our pride, our duty to Posterity. This may be our last stand against State run Enterprises. However, whatever battle will we ever win?

All right - let's fight them. Anyway, it's fight now or move later. Let's do what we can.

Construction of the new post office at Springfield, New Jersey, was further advanced yesterday with the announcement by Postmaster General J. Edward Day that a contract has been awarded to Lester and Diana Robbins, 1150 West Chestnut Street, Union, New Jersey, to build and lease the building to the Post Office Department.

"The signing of the contract represents another step toward implementing President Kennedy's program for the construction and modernization of postal facilities throughout the nation," Mr. Day said. "Under this program private industry will invest the capital to build new facilities for lease to the Department. In addition, continuing upon the availability of funds, the Post Office Department is going ahead with the modernization of postal space in Federal buildings."

"We now have more than 36,000 post offices throughout the country, carrying a volume of 65,000,000,000 pieces of mail a year. In 50 years it will be double that figure. It is clear, therefore, that we must redouble our efforts, not only in the construction field but also in devising new postal techniques to meet the demands of our growing population."

Under terms of the Department's Commercial Leasing Program the successful bidder will construct the new building on a 7,800 square foot site on the West side of Mountain Avenue, 275 feet north of Henshaw Avenue and lease it to the Department for 20 years, with one ten-year and four five-year renewal options, at an annual rental of $17,820 for the basic term. A total of eleven competitive bids were received by the Department's Regional Real Estate Manager.

The Department's capital investment is limited substantially to postal equipment, while the building remains under private ownership with the owner paying local real estate taxes.

"This formula," Mr. Day said, "utilizes the resources and investment funds of private enterprise for needed postal building."

The new post office at Springfield will be constructed on a site containing 27 1/2 square feet. The building will have an interior space of 7,470 square feet and ample paved areas totaling 16,682 square feet for parking and movement of postal vehicles.

The new building will replace the structure at Morris Avenue opposite Satter Street which is now being used. This building which is on 2,700 square feet was rented by the government in 1949. The government also rents space in the VFW building.

Temples To Hold Joint Service

Rabbi Reuben R. Levina

Rabbi Israel S. Dresner

Temple Sharey Shalom and Temple Beth Ahm will hold a joint Tisha B'Av service on Saturday evening, July 22. This is an annual event or the two Temples, who take turns being hosts. Services will be held in Temple Beth Ahm this year at 8:45 p.m. Rabbi Reuben Levina, of Beth Ahm, will conduct the service, while Rabbi Dresner of Sharey Shalom, will deliver a sermon entitled "Eichmann and Titus". Tisha B'Av is the day on which Jews commemorate several of their greatest misfortunes. It is the day that the first Temple in Jerusalem was destroyed and also the day when, in 1492, 100,000 Jews were expelled from Spain.

Your Library

"What have you new?" "Any good books?" "What books did you enjoy?" are questions frequently heard in the Library. The readers need to choose from among the books they are examining. They also need suggestions about other books which are "out", because at any given time from sixty to eight percent of the new books are "out", and readers wonder which of these they would like.

To help these people the Springfield Library has started a new service. A black loose-leaf notebook has been placed on the main desk. In it are many lists of new books. Many of these lists are fiction because the novels are often snapped up first and the readers wonder what new stories they can get. So, "Mystery and Detective Stories", "Suspense Stories", "Popular Favorites", and so on have been listed. A Science Fiction list is being worked on and there is a four-page section naming all the "Outstanding Fiction of 1960". This section has notes after each title to help the reader decide whether he will like the book or not.

For people with special interests other titles have been collected. These are "What's on the Menu" (books on cooking), "The Fine Arts" which covers architecture, sculpture, drawing, painting and general works; and hobbies which contains titles of books on gardening, handicrafts, photography, games, and collecting. Books on "United States Foreign Policy", "Religion", "Science" and "Education" have been recorded separately for people with these special interests. Another popular list is "Psychology, Psychoanalysis, and Mental Health". If someone wishes to find out if the library has a certain book he always can look in the card catalog under author or title. In addition, sections of cards name subjects. There are sections on the books on "England", "Golfing", "Geometry", "Sun" and so on. To be sure that these will not be confused with names of books, the top line on subject cards is always typed in red. The Card Catalog has many uses, but the new notebook has a special function. Its purpose is to suggest titles of books, especially new books, to people who are looking for "something to read".

Camp counselors and instructors are there to teach—temporarily—how to improve the serve, how to dive and swim better, throw, kick, and handle a football and how to grow up and become a real person.

Linda, the best second-base woman according to Irwin Street playground director Al Hector, has a sure eye and a long, hard throw. She was playing against the Sandmeier playground team last Friday afternoon.

Work on the building will start as soon as the lease is signed and the transfer

Tax Assessors Complete Course

Wilbert W. Layng and Harry E. Monroe local members of the Board of Tax Assessors have successfully completed the eighth Annual Conference for Assessing Officers conducted by the Bureau of Government Research at Rutgers University. The course is a requirement for all Assessing Officers and was attended by Assessors from all parts of New Jersey.

Sessions were held each day and evening during the week of June 19 to 23, and the members were required to live at the college, in order to participate in all meetings. The new laws concerning personal property and exemption for age 65 were discussed and explained as well as all other matters which affect the assessment of property. Several panels were held with leading figures in State Government taking part in the discussions as well as some members of the Senate and Legislature. The Course ended on Friday, the 23rd with a written examination which the Assessors are required to pass in order to receive their completion certificates.

After receipt of the certificates the Local Township Committees are notified by Rutgers that the members have completed the required course. Mrs. Marianne Oakes, clerk in the office of the Board of Tax Assessors has also successfully completed a fourteen week extension course in Municipal Assessment conducted by Rutgers at Montclair State Teachers College.

of property is completed. The basic plans for the post office were prepared by an engineer in the post office department. Certain specifications must be followed by the winning contractor; he may though, add to the design. According to Postmaster A. V. Del Vecchio, the government will ask for an extension of its lease at its present location to cover the time between now and the date the new facility will be ready for occupancy.

Federal Aid Seen Needed

Exactly 6,483 teachers taught in New Jersey classrooms last year while holding substandard certificates. Of these 370 taught in Union County.

Federal aid to education could help reduce this number, says the New Jersey Education Association, the professional organization for the state's teachers. "School districts could offer teachers higher salaries, without raising local tax rates," explains Dr. James M. Lynch, Jr., Glassboro, N.J.E.A. president. "Professional salaries will attract professional, fully certified teachers. In fact, the teacher shortage will end when teachers receive realistic salaries." Of the 6,483 who taught in the state last year with substandard certificates, 4,807 held provisional certificates and 1,676 emergency certificates. Teachers who hold provisional certificates have college degrees but lack sufficient studies in how children learn and how to teach. Teachers who hold emergency certificates do not have college degrees.

Observes the State Department of Education: "Conditions of employment for teachers must be made such that well qualified teachers will be attracted to New Jersey schools and remain in them."

Here are the county totals of teachers who held substandard certificates last school year: Atlantic 180; Bergen 619; Burlington 446; Camden 481; Cape May 65; Cumberland 139; Essex 531; Gloucester 252; Hudson 172; Hunterdon 181; Mercer 256; Middlesex 608; Monmouth 662; Morris 485; Ocean 233; Passaic 249; Salem 129; Somerset 247; Sussex 108; Union 370; Warren 120.

Springfield's Colonial Past Rich In Noted Descendents

The town of Springfield is fraught with history; historical sites, monuments, are to be found in various places about town. If famous happenings took place in Springfield, there were eminent people who created these events. When the First Presbyterian Church in Springfield was founded in 1745, the Rev. Timothy Symmes was called in to be its first pastor. Many people in Springfield know of this, yet few residents are aware of the importance, in both local and national history, of some of Reverend Symmes's descendents. This family was such a group of eminent people.

The Rev. Timothy Symmes was a great-grandson of the Rev. Zechariah Symmes, of Cambridge University, England, 1620-11, who came to Charlestown, Mass., in 1634 and died in 1671. Timothy was the fourth son of his grandson William Symmes (1679-1764) and his wife Ruth Conway, of Woburn, Mass. He was born at Scituate, Mass., in 1715 and graduated Harvard in 1733. On Dec. 2, 1736 he was ordained first pastor of the Congregational Church of Millington, Ct., serving until 1743. He supplied the church of Upper Acqueogue, Riverhead Long Island, and subsequently filled vacancies in West Jersey.

A Presbyterian church, separate from that of Elizabethtown, was organized in Springfield in 1745. This Springfield church united with the church of New Providence in calling the Rev. Timothy Symmes as pastor. The latter church records that he was installed at New Providence Oct. 16, 1746, and that he "preached alternately with us and Springfield, and was dismissed from us the 26th of December in the year 1750."

The Rev. Timothy married in 1741 Mary Cleaves, daughter of John Cleaves and his wife, Mary Hallock, who were married at Southold, Long Island, in 1717. They had two sons: John Cleaves Symmes and Timothy Symmes. After the death of Mary, the Rev. Timothy married Eunice, daughter of Francis Cogswell. He died at Ipswich, Mass., April 6, 1756 at the age of 41.

The elder son, John Cleaves Symmes, was born July 10, 1742 and died Feb. 26, 1814. He was raised at Southold by his maternal grandfather, and in early manhood became a school teacher and land surveyor. On Oct. 30, 1760 he married Anna, daughter of Henry Tuthill, of Southold.

In 1770 they removed to a farm in Wallpack Township, Sussex County, N.J. Here his wife died July 25, 1776, leaving two daughters, Maria and Anna, who was born July 25, 1776. His second wife was Mrs. Mary (Henry) Halsey, sister of Col James Henry of Somerset County, and widow of the Rev. Jeremiah Halsey, of Lamington. His third marriage was to Susanna, daughter of William Livingston, New Jersey's noted Revolutionary War governor. There were no children by these later marriages. Daughters Anna Symmes was reared and educated by her grandfather, Henry Tuthill of Southold. In a deed, dated Dec. 20, 1781, conveying land at Wallpack to his younger daughter, Symmes is described as of Morris County, and his daughter Anna as residing on Long Island.

During the Revolution her father served as colonel of the Third Battalion, Sussex County troops. He participated in the first battle of Springfield on Dec. 17, 1776 and "his sketch of Col. Oliver Spencer is the best detailed account of the battle extant. He resigned his military commission on May 23, 1777, in order to accept the appointment as justice of the Supreme Court of N.J. It was in that capacity that he presided at Westfield during January, 1782, at the trial of James Morgan for the slaying of the noted patriot, Parson James Caldwell, which occurred at Elizabethtown Point on Nov. 24, 1781. Morgan was hanged for this crime on Jan. 29, 1782. In 1789 Symmes was also appointed by President Washington as federal judge of the Northwest Territory, and continued as such until 1803, when the State of Ohio was admitted to the Union.

John Cleaves Symmes was head of a group of prominent Jerseymen who became interested in the settlement of the Northwest Territory after the Revolutionary War. They bought a large tract of land in Ohio, known as the Symmes land purchase, on part of which the present city of Cincinnati is now located. Matthias Denman, of Springfield, was one of this group.

In 1788 Symmes left New Jersey for the West. His daughter Anna, "a very pretty young lady," accompanied him. He arrived at North Bend, on the Symmes purchase, in early February 1789. Here he erected his residence, and here his daughter Anna was married Nov. 27, 1795 to Capt. William Henry Harrison, then a young army officer in command of neighboring Fort Hamilton. Her husband, the son of Governor Benjamin Harrison of Virginia, had a distinguished military and political career. In 1811 he gained the important victory of Tippecanoe over the hostile Indians led by Tecumseh. In 1813, as commanding general of the northwestern army, he defeated the British at the battle of the Thames. He served as governor of the Indiana territory and also represented Ohio in Congress. In 1840 he was elected president of the United States; his grandson, Benjamin Harrison, was also elected to that high office.

President William Henry Harrison is noted for having the shortest term in American history. He caught pneumonia from exposure at the inaugural ceremonies, and died on April 4, 1841, a month later. His wife, Anna Symmes, long outlived him, dying Feb. 25, 1864. This story has been printed for the enlightenment of those people living now and for its own sake. It should be known as a part of Springfield's and the United States's heritage, something which has affected all people in some way.

To renew artificial fruits, wash carefully and quickly with luke-warm mild soapsuds, rinse and dry well. Then rub a small amount of Vaseline petroleum jelly on the hands and gently coat the fruit with a thin film by rolling between the fingers. This will give the fruit a natural and beautiful appearance.

The High Light of the busy five days is the banquet of July 27 to be held at the International Amphitheater in Chicago.

Speakers at the Convention will be Pauline Frederick, N.B.C.'s expert on the United Nations and general reporter; G. Mennen Williams, Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs; and Dr. William B. Walsh, President, The People-People Health Foundation.

No Cost For HS Students

When the doors of Convention Hall, Asbury Park open at 3:00 p.m. on Sunday, July 30, 1961 for the Miss High School of America Beauty Pageant they will admit high school students holding guest tickets free of charge.

Newspaper offices, radio or TV stations and retail merchants who would like to help distribute them can receive a supply if they will write to Miss Nancy at the Newark address asking for them. A large supply has been sent to Convention Hall office, Boardwalk, Asbury Park.

New Jersey will be represented by Miss Sharon Letts of Lakewood High School and Miss Andrea Silver of Columbia High School, Maplewood, N. J. Sharon tap dances like a Broadway veteran and Andrea sings and accompanies herself with her guitar. You can bet both these girls are practicing for the show. Guest stars Richie Dennis, the Singin' Menace and "The Angels" who, by the way, includes a former Miss High School of N. J., semi-finalist discovered by Miss Nancy, and a beautiful dance exhibition will be presented by the Arthur Murray Dance Studios of Red Bank.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor:
Dear Sir:
I would like to add my small voice to the discussion on nuclear testing which appeared in your last issue. May I state opposed to the resumption of nuclear testing for many reasons.

First - as a parent I am sure I echo the sentiments of all parents when I say that we all want a peaceful world for our children. To resume nuclear testing and to develop newer and deadlier bombs is not the way to peace.

Second - to resume nuclear testing would be much more of an advantage to the Soviet Union than to the United States. It is generally conceded that Russia is far behind us in nuclear know-how, and since they have announced that it would resume testing if we did, it would give them the opportunity - very definitely to catch up.

Third - for the United States to be the first to resume testing would serve only to increase the fear and suspicion in which we are held in many sections of the world; we would be branded as an aggressor in a world full of tension, a world-hoping and praying, not for further military measures, but for relaxation of our fears and tensions.

The U.S. and the Soviet Union between them have enough nuclear bombs to kill everyone on this planet several times over. What is the sense (or nonsense) of further testing? Is it, as the rumor goes, that we want to develop a neutron bomb which would kill everything in its range, but spare buildings? This is too horrible to contemplate.

Let us continue to negotiate endlessly, patiently, tirelessly for a thousand years, if necessary to keep the peace. Let the United States take the initiative for leadership in peace, not in war. It is better to fill the air with words than with bombs.

Yours truly,
Joseph Marzall

Your Inquiring Reporter

Today the world faces a crucial point in history. Survival is the issue. Through a failure to understand one another, nations could fall into a final, horrible war. Without constant communication and mutual understanding between the peoples of the earth there can be no peace, no hope for the future.

Understanding is the purpose of the People-to-People program. It is this organization's aim to bring Americans and the peoples of other countries into true communication in the interest of peace.

The Program is non-governmental and non-partisan. People-to-People Committees, private industry, organizations and individuals, seek to achieve the objective of the Program through massive contacts with people all over the world.

International friendship is promoted in many ways by many people in many places. In recent years the effort to achieve greater harmony and understanding has been stimulated by the People-to-People Program. In the autumn of 1956, President Eisenhower invited to the White House fifty leaders in various fields of American life. He emphasized the need for a program to bring the peoples of the world closer together in the interests of peace. He told them: "There is no problem before the American people - indeed, before the world - that so colors everything we do, so colors our thinking, our actions, as does the problem of preserving the peace and providing for our own security."

At that time the President called for a massive program of communication between Americans and the peoples of other lands, to establish two-way relationships to build better understanding.

Out of this White House conference came the People-to-People program. It is directed by 33 committees, non-partisan and outside of government control. One of these is the Civic Committee, with which the American Municipal Association works closely to develop the Town Affiliation Program. The Committee on International Municipal Cooperation of the American Municipal Association is deeply interested in furthering the Town Affiliation Program.

WHAT IS A TOWN AFFILIATION?

When an American community of whatever size or character joins with a community in a foreign land for the purpose of communicating, of learning more about each other, of knowing each other better, the two may propose a formal affiliation. The ideal affiliation is a sister arrangement which involves a large number of citizens and organizations in both communities which engage in continuing projects.

WHY HAVE A TOWN AFFILIATION?

A Town Affiliation helps you make friends for your country and helps it to promote world peace.

1. You help demonstrate how your ideals are reflected in your way of life;
2. You help bring about a better understanding of what your country is doing to bring peace and understanding in the world today;
3. You help combat the distortions of Communist propaganda.

Peoples of other nations want peace as much as we do. A Town Affiliation gives your community an avenue to dramatically explain on a people-to-people basis the truth of our way of life, our firm belief in the brotherhood of man, and the efforts we sincerely exert in helping strengthen international amity. Your community has the opportunity to take an active role in world affairs.

A Town Affiliation helps you and your overseas neighbors know each other better. When you exchange ideas with a sister-city, the news of the day has a new meaning.

WHO TAKES PART?

Everyone in the community can take part. A well-organized Town Affiliation committee should represent a true cross-section of your community, such as: educational, cultural, technical, business, professional, social, women's clubs, civic, service, veteran, religious, labor, youth, hobby groups, newspapers, and many more.

Those readers interested in the People-to-People idea as it might pertain to their community should contact this paper at DR 9-5000 for further information.

QUESTION:
DO YOU THINK BERLIN IS WORTH FIGHTING FOR?

Joseph Cuccinello of New Providence, shopping in Berkeley Heights: "I sure do. As a veteran of World War II I think losing Berlin would be a direct slap in the face in front of the Communist world. Berlin means a great deal to the German people, both East and West, and to the rest of the free world people. East Germans, when entering West Germany, come from poverty to richness and see what the free world has to offer. Again I stress - I certainly believe Berlin is worth fighting for."

Mrs. Elizabeth Vilet, Fanwood housewife: "Yes, I believe Berlin is worth fighting for. We cannot keep giving up and going backwards. We pledged our word there at one time and we should keep it."

Mrs. William J. Meyer, Scotch Plains housewife: "Yes, we must fight for Berlin in order to keep it safe for all of us. We must protect the free world and those countries which may go communist."

Mrs. Boyd Sutherland, Scotch Plains housewife: "We are fighting for a principal, not just a city. Russia is overstepping herself and we cannot permit her to do so. She is fast reaching her goal of spreading communism throughout the world and we must take a stand somewhere."

History Displayed

Historical items, data, and statistics featuring the Westfield Post Office have been arranged by Mrs. Evelyn Mott, artist and designer, in one of the windows of Barrett & Crain, Realtors' office at 43 Elm St., Westfield. A small post office from a general store at Padapack, N.J., owned by Mrs. G. L. Quinn of 93 Chestnut Street, is shown with old letters and postcards. It is similar to the first Westfield Post Office which was located in Charles Clark's store at Clark and Broad Streets 1856-1861. The first Westfield mail delivery was started in 1901 with four carriers. Today, the Post Office has 54 carriers. Also of interest are the population figures in 1900 of 4,328 and of 1960, 13,447. Today, the population is 31,447 and there are 916 homes.

cock of 27 New Providence Road, Mountainside, has loaned some beautiful sabers, one of which was owned by Lt. Commander MacKenzie in 1838 on the Big Summers upon which the only mutiny in U. S. history occurred. Some old Springfield rifles, a carbine and a pistol were loaned by Jim Barry of 126 Harrison Avenue. Dr. Pallini of Scotch Plains has contributed to the exhibit some cavalry guns and a Spencer repeating rifle of the 1800's.

A fine display of model replicas of Revolutionary field guns from the collection of Gregory Green, age 15, of 763 E. Broad Street, is also shown. Gregory was recently awarded first prize in the New Jersey Craftsman Show and first prize in the Eastern Sea Board Contest and is now entered in the National contest in Washington, D. C. Other contributors to the windows are Mrs. E. W. Rice and Mr. H. Willard Richter with items of the Civil War period.

61 Local Witnesses Plan To Attend Bible Meeting

About 61 delegates from the Springfield Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses are preparing to leave on Friday for their semi-annual Bible convention being held in Plainfield this week-end assembly, which is sponsored by the Watchtower Society of New York, will be attended by over 1600 Witnesses from the central New Jersey area. It will run through Sunday.

Among the ministers from Springfield who are making plans to attend is Milton Johnson and his family of seven, of 335 Milwain Road. Commenting on the increased attendance of children, not only at the conventions, but also at the congregation meetings of Jehovah's Witnesses, Mr. Johnson said, "The family group is a basic unit established by God. For this reason, according to the scriptures, religious teaching begins at home, by the parents. However, the program at this convention is designed so that both young and old can learn Bible principles and enjoy Christian fellowship.

"There is no leaving the youngsters at home for me," continued Mr. Johnson. "I consider these conventions too important spiritually and educationally for my children to be left out."

In a world beset with the problem of increasing juvenile delinquency, Jehovah's Witnesses say they have found the answer in systematic Bible teaching. The highlight of the three-day seminar will be on Sunday at 3 p.m. when James A. Hinderer, district minister for the Watchtower Society, delivers the public Bible lecture, "The Twentieth Century in Bible Prophecy." All sessions of the convention are free and open to the public.

Threading one's way through crowded traffic or moving along at a breezy clip on a fast expressway can be safer than driving on a quiet back road with hardly another car in sight, according to the Institute for Safer Living. Under the latter conditions mental and physical reflexes are freed from alertness, and the car may stray off the road along with the driver's attention.

Brazil Girl At Hospital

The Springfield League, J.N.H.A.C. and C.A.R.H. wish to announce that 12 year-old Flavio Da Silva of Rio de Janeiro arrived as an emergency patient at the Jewish National Home for Asthmatic Children at Denver.

The June 16th issue of Life Magazine ran a story "Freedom's Fearful Foe: Poverty" which describes the living conditions of the Silva family in the slums of Rio de Janeiro. Flavio, the eldest of eight children, is a victim of intractable asthma. The July 7th issue of Life on page 15 has printed a letter from Arthur B. Lorber, president of the Denver Home and Research Institute (Jewish National Home for Asthmatic Children and Children's Asthma Research Institute and Hospital) offering rehabilitation treatment to Flavio. It is one of many letters expressing sympathy and help for this family.

Social Security Changes

In my first article on the new amendments to the social security law, I described the provision which gives men the option to retire between 62 and 65 with reduced benefits.

In today's article, I want to cover another important change in the law - the one which reduces the length of time a person must have worked under social security to receive retirement benefits for himself or to qualify his family for survivors' benefits in case of his death.

Some 160,000 older people will become eligible for cash benefits because of this change in the law - older men and women workers, their wives or dependent husbands and the widows, dependent widowers and aged dependent parents of workers who have died. First payments to newly eligible persons can be made for this month of August.

Under the new law, a man reaching 65, or a woman reaching 62, this year will need social security credit for only 2 1/2 years of work under social security, instead of the present requirement of 3 1/4 years. A man who reached 65, or a woman who reached 62, before 1958 needs only a year and a half of work under social security to be eligible for social security retirement benefits.

The survivors of workers who died before 1958 may also become eligible for benefits under this change in the law if the worker before his death had earned social security credit for at least a year and a half.

I should point out that credit for work under social security is counted in three-month "calendar quarters". Therefore, a person need not have worked for a continuous period of 2 1/2 or 3 1/4 years, as the case may be. Social security credit for calendar quarters earned at any time since 1936 can be counted toward the amount of work he needs to get retirement benefits for himself or to qualify his family for dependents' or survivors' benefits.

If you believe that you or someone in your family may now be eligible for benefits because of this change in the law, get in touch with your social security office promptly.

You may have inquired soon after the law was changed by Congress in September 1960. But to so again, this is a new change that makes it possible for people to receive benefits with less credit for work covered by social security. As before, however, no one can become entitled to benefits with a total of less than a year and a half of work in employment or self employment covered by social security.

Y Camps Report Large Enrollment Holds Assembly

Camp Mindwaskin and Ranger Camp, two of the Westfield YMCA day camp programs, reported the largest enrollment of campers for the second period this year since the post-war history of the camp operation.

There are 152 campers participating in the Camp Mindwaskin Program and 34 youngsters in Ranger Camp, making a total of 186 boys that are now attending summer camp.

Mr. Walsh, Director of camping services of the YMCA, attributes the success of the camp to the outstanding job that is being done by the counselors on the camp staff.

As 60% of the camp counselors currently employed by the YMCA were employed by the camp last year, Mr. Walsh feels that these leaders on the whole are more qualified to do the job than they were a year ago. The majority of the counselors now have the confidence in themselves and have a better understanding of the program which is essential to do an effective job.

In comparison to last year's performance, the Westfield YMCA camp enrollment is 15.5% above last year's enrollment.

The staff of the Westfield YMCA is extremely proud of camps in the New Jersey area are operating behind their enrollment quotas for this year.

Youngsters from Westfield or the neighboring communities who are interested in participating in either the Westfield YMCA Day Camp programs for the 3rd or 4th period may apply for registration at the YMCA.

For more detailed information concerning the camp program, parents of prospective campers may call Mr. Walsh at Ad 3-2700.

Mr. Casimir V. Bork, Director of the school announced the events of the following week: Wednesday July 19 - Concert, Abraham Clark H.S., Roselle, 8 p.m. presenting Orchestra III Orchestra IV, Band IIIA, Band IIB, and Band IV.

Natl. Foundation Advises Salk Shots

The National Foundation fervently hopes that the recent controversy over the relative merits of polio vaccines will not discourage parents from seeing that their families are given a full series of Salk shots immediately. This is the critical time for year when the unprotected are most exposed to the polio attack. The Salk vaccine is available now. It is more than 90 per cent effective in preventing paralytic polio. Those who have not been vaccinated are gambling against the possibility of being crippled for life through their own negligence.

Whether or not the Sabin live-virus vaccine is a better vaccine than Dr. Salk's is a matter for scientists and physicians to decide - later. The National Foundation, which financed all the research leading to both vaccines with funds contributed to the March of Dimes, gives the only sound advice which parents can follow. It points out that, since no live-virus vaccine has yet been licensed for distribution, since the present polio "season" will be over before mass production, licensing and distribution of the live-virus vaccine are complete, there is only one course of action for conscientious parents to pursue. Get your family started on a full series of Salk shots TODAY. Millions of pre-school children and young adults are still without protection. These are the age groups most open to attack.

Tuberculosis Count On Rise In U.C.

Twenty eight new cases of tuberculosis were reported in Union County during the last three months according to statistics from the recently compiled quarterly report of the Union County Tuberculosis Case Register. Almost half of these cases were from the city of Elizabeth, with three quarters of the cases being reported advanced when reported.

While the largest number of the 690 cases in the register are from Elizabeth, each municipality has tuberculosis patients distributed as follows: Berkeley Heights, 10; Clark, 8; Cranford, 18; Elizabeth, 257; Fanwood, 5; Garwood, 5; Hillside, 22; Kenilworth, 5; Linden, 58; Mountainside, 3; New Providence, 7; Plainfield, 84; Rahway, 27; Roselle, 34; Roselle Park, 11; Scotch Plains, 20; Springfield, 13; Summit, 29; Union, 43; Westfield, 25; and Winfield, 6.

During this quarter, 17 tuberculosis patients died; 7 from the disease and 10 from other causes. The Case Register maintained by the Union County Tuberculosis and Health League was instituted last year in order to keep a closer surveillance over the tuberculosis problem in this county.

Mr. Robert M. Crane, President of the League, commented, "With an intensive national effort being made to eliminate tuberculosis in this country, the situation in Union County is one of grave concern to the League. In an effort to improve local health services in this county, the League sponsored a meeting in May of 1961 with the Mayors and Health Officers of Union County to discuss the need for expanding municipal health services. Without adequate, trained personnel to supervise the tuberculosis patient and the persons with whom he has associated, it is impossible to check the spread of infection in Union County communities," Mr. Crane pointed out.

The Case Register report also shows that 43% of all active cases in Union County are not hospitalized. 67 patients are under no medical management and 167 patients are now overdue for re-examination. This last figure represents a 7.1% increase over the report for the preceding quarter. Active cases not hospitalized and unsupervised pose a constant threat not only to the individual but to the persons with whom he comes in contact thereby creating a serious community problem.

It is estimated that for every case of tuberculosis, there are 10 persons who have been in close contact with that case. In Union County this would mean that there are 6,900 contacts of the 690 patients in the current file of the case register who should be receiving periodic medical check-ups.

During the year, the League hopes to establish a TB contact file as an adjunct to the central case register. This file would help to ensure that contacts have adequate medical supervision with regard to tuberculosis control.
