Flammer Fires Broadside At Republican Candidates

Committeeman Howard A. Flammer today sharply attacked the political opportunist candidate who has shown a wanton disregard for taxpayers' money and sacrificed all principles in personal and irresponsible assaults on anyone blocking their drive to obtain public office.

Flammer leveled his criticism at political candidates, Robert Hardgrove, Arthur Falkin and Fred L. Braun, for what he termed "an outright political scheme designed to imply that his residence did not qualify him to serve out his term as committeeman."

Flammer declared: "I have maintained a summer home for 21 years outside the township as some residents do. Prior to selling my Springfield home on August 8, I had already obtained my lease for an apartment in Springfield. When I was elected by the people of Springfield three years ago, I pledged to serve out my full term and it is my dedication and intention to do so."

"I believe every citizen has the right to move from their own home to the smaller facilities of an apartment when their family requirements are such that a home is no longer needed. I believe people who do make such a move should not be classified as second class citizens, as this political trio would have us think, or be denied the right to serve their community, or participate in civic endeavors."

"I have worked hard and diligently for many years both in my own legal profession as well as faithfully serving the people of Springfield and participating as fully as I could in civic endeavors of which I have been proud."

"The fact that when my present term expires on the governing body this year, I did not choose to seek re-election, is a fact due to my own concern to strengthen my physical health."

"I do not believe that it is right for political opportunist candidates to show utter contempt for the taxpayers' money by causing our governing body to unnecessarily defend a baseless and politically inspired legal action on the status of my residence when they could have found out the true facts merely by attending a meeting of the township committee or asking me directly."

"I am heartened by the many phone calls and personal acknowledgments of both Republicans and Democrats, citizens throughout the township, who have expressed their full support of my intentions to serve out my term in office, and who have also voiced their disgust over the tactics of Hardgrove, Falkin and Braun in causing taxpayers' money to be used as a result of their driving political ambitions to get into public office at any price."

Sullivan and Finnerty To Support Swim Club

Township Committee candidates Richard M. Sullivan and Peter Finnerty, declared today that an important plank in their campaign platform will be full support for the construction of a municipal swimming pool at the earliest possible date under a plan that would offer no financial burden to the township.

Sullivan and Finnerty stated that mere lip service to this program will not be sufficient to realize the ultimate construction of a municipal pool and they called for a time table for action on the project to be established as soon as possible.

"This should include," Sullivan and Finnerty said, "the information of a Citizens' Committee to help provide complete public information on the project, thereby paving the way for a referendum at a later date after the people have received all the facts."

The governing body candidates declared they are prepared to rally township wide support for the project as part of their campaign.

Sullivan and Finnerty stated: "We heartily support the Township Committee's plans to build a municipal swimming pool. The governing body is presently studying several financial plans for the project that would constitute no financial burden to the township."

"While the governing body is preparing its findings, it is our determination to keep the momentum of support going for the project by providing the fullest information to residents during our campaign as well as spearheading this support so that the project will be realized as expeditiously as possible."

"Springfield residents want a community swim pool, particularly under a program where there will be no financial burden on the township. The idea now is for the initiative to be taken in coordinating these efforts so that this program will not fall by the wayside for lack of drive and enthusiasm," they concluded.

Channel Co. Is Planning Bomb Shelter

Ben Charin, Channel Lumber Co. executive, is awaiting official word from Springfield's governing body to start construction on the first real bomb shelter for Springfield.

The specific location of the Channel Fall Out bomb shelter has already been accepted by the Township authorities and actual work will start as soon as Building Inspector Robert Pellegrino issues a building permit.

According to the information in the hands of the Building Inspector's office, the Channel shelter will be constructed in the rear of the main building, next to Sam's Farm on South Springfield Avenue.

As soon as the Channel authorities and Building Inspector Pellegrino decide on the exact specifications for this first bomb shelter, the permit will be issued. Mr. Pellegrino said early this week, "That the issuance of a building permit should be ready in the next four or five days."

Mr. Charin says the Channel shelter will be built in accordance with the best information furnished by the Civil Defense authorities and it is the hope of the Channel officials that this safety shelter will offer suggestions to others in this area who plan "to do something about the nuclear bomb threat."

Channel Lumber is one of the area's largest retailers of brand name merchandise and is located in Springfield, Route 22, just off South Springfield Avenue.

Mr. Charin and his Channel organization always participate in community and civic programs and Township officials are cooperating in the proposed Channel plan for this fallout shelter.

We Agree, Mr. Kern

Below is a letter, addressed to the Springfield Sun, and written by Herbert H. Kern of 224 Baluscol Avenue, Springfield.

Mr. Kern is not only an important executive with one of the largest banking institutions in Newark but is very civic minded and unusually articulate as his letter will prove.

We couldn't agree more with Mr. Kern, with his ideas of political campaigning and, we doubt, if it could have been written better.

His is a philosophy which might eventually attract more men of high calibre to participate in this challenging game of government, which is better known as "politics."

As it is now, the heat of a political campaign with the invectives, the accusations, the searching in the files for evidences of something sinister or even unproved corruption, keep qualified men and women from running for office.

Whether or not political antagonists can "walk down the street together" is something mer of good faith and reason can only hope for.

Springfield, as well as other communities in this area, has its share of emotional and fist-shaking campaigns. But, compared with New York City and its mud slinging at such high levels, our politicians are rather tame.

However, the current campaign in Springfield has been sent on the launching pad with subpoenas, charges and counter charges, even before the proverbial starting date for election campaigns, Labor Day. It is already in full howl with everybody going to court next Tuesday, September, to answer some questions.

Head Of School Board To Resign

Howard S. Smith—president of the Springfield Board of Education, is planning to resign as head of the Township school system, according to information received from very reliable sources.

Mr. Smith, the reports state, will offer his resignation in time for another candidate to file for that vacancy in February. The resignation is expected before the end of the year.

This resignation will mean that four vacancies will be filled at next February's regular school board election.

Close friends of Mr. Smith know of the planned resignation but no one could volunteer the information as to what Mr. Smith's plans are after he leaves the School Board. He has been very active in building up Springfield's schools as a member of the Board of Education and has served the Township for many years.

He ventured into politics at the last primary but lost in his bid to become one of the Republican candidates for Township Committee, running as an independent and without the support of the local Republican organization.

Other political rumors this week have it that Mr. Smith has been under consideration for the third place on the Republican ticket, which was made possible by the resignation of Township Committeeman William H. Balentine.

The Democrats have already named John C. Pittney to take Mr. Balentine's place and, no doubt, become the candidate in November for the remainder of Balentine's term in 1962.

Urge Care In Driving Labor Day

Cooperation of all drivers using the New Jersey highways to make the Labor Day Weekend a safe one was urged by all chiefs of police in this area and Joseph Morecraft, Jr., Chairman of the Turnpike Authority.

"Labor Day marks the culmination of vacation for many and the traffic at the weekend is expected to be near record proportions," said the Chairman.

"Extreme caution in driving should be used, motorists should take their time and keep within speed limits, observe all traffic laws and make certain that the cars they are driving are mechanically sound."

He said that Authority will be prepared in all its departments to handle the anticipated traffic demands, and the Howard Johnson Co. and Cities Service Oil Co. will be ample staffed to provide prompt and courteous service.

"Driver alertness will be the objective," said Chairman Morecraft. "Drivers should refrain from tail gating by keeping several lengths behind the car ahead; they should use turn signals when they plan to pass in another lane, checking rear traffic carefully before doing so; and they should avoid lane weaving. Do not drive if you are drowsy, stop at a service area and rest."

'Playhouse 120' Has Premiere

A new off Broadway Show had its premiere at 120 Edgewood Ave., on Tuesday, Aug. 29.

An all Star cast, comprising Deborah Ziegler age 8, Kathy Johnson age 8, Mary Lutz age 10, Christine Scharfberger age 9, Patrice Demare age 8, Kathy Ziegler age 4, Sharon Johnson age 5, Gregory Johnson age 4, Randy Stec age 8 and Dale Yadolsky age 8, introduced the new musical, and the reaction of the audience, gathered together from all parts of Edgewood Ave., who incidentally paid ten cents each and brought their own chairs, was such that a long run is predicted for this new show.

The brilliance of the performance was exactly as expected by the producer, Mrs. Ann Ziegler, who says that all the credit must go to the children, as they devised the play by themselves.

"If drivers will observe these simple rules," he added, "we can be sure that the Labor Day Weekend will be a safe one."

3 Residents Ask Permits For Shelters

Springfield's Building Inspector Robert Pellegrino has three applications on hand for the construction of fall out bomb shelters in the Township but no permits have been issued for any construction until the local building department has more information.

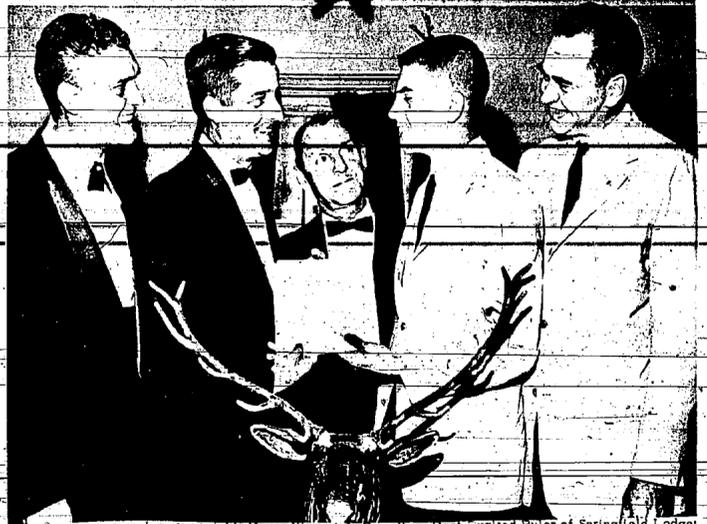

The Civil Defense authorities say there are already four type of shelters to be built; inside, outside, above or below the ground.

Springfield's Civil Defense Director Saul Freeman is cooperating with Building Inspector Pellegrino in helping residents make up their minds as to what type shelter they plan.

Springfield has joined many other municipalities in New Jersey in exploring the possibility of passing an ordinance that would allow homeowners to build fall out shelters without being burdened with extra taxes.

LETTERS

Editor: Sun:
 After a lifetime of service to the community and to business, it is most unpleasant to be labeled "irresponsible" by Mr. Bonadies because we are willing to be plaintiffs in a suit to compel him and those dominated by him to obey the law. The resignation of Mr. Balentine effective July 31 was only received after service of our suit in the New Jersey Superior Court. We permitted the Township Committee two meetings prior in which to comply with their obligation to fill vacancies as required by the laws of New Jersey.

The same situation existed in the office of Tax Collector last year when upon demand, Mr. Bonadies refused to declare the office of Tax Collector vacant. We concur most heartily with his concern over the counsel fees to be charged by our Township Attorney. We can assure the people of Springfield that not only are we bringing this action without cost to them, but we intend to prosecute this matter to a conclusion so that Mr. Bonadies, Mr. Flammer and Mr. Balentine individually pay the costs of their defense which is politically motivated.

It would seem in good conscience that Mr. Bonadies and the Democratic Party should not attempt to saddle the people of Springfield with the cost of perpetuating Mr. Flammer in absentia government, or with the cost of their failure to fill Mr. Balentine's vacancy in a legal manner if as they now contend, the Democratic Committee knew of his vacancy and selected his successor before it was public. It is not up to the Democratic Committee to pick Mr. Balentine's successor. By law, it is the obligation of the Township Committee and if the chairman of the Township Committee delegated his power to the County Committee, it is an illegal act. It is suggested to Mr. Bonadies that he declare Mr. Flammer's vacancy and then his concern over counsel fees will be eliminated as the suit will be dismissed by the Court.

This historic Inn which dates back 1737, according to Kooluris, is part of a reconstructed Colonial village on Park Avenue, Scotch Plains, and is rapidly becoming one of the favorite spots for nice dining.

NJ Needs Increased Aid For Fireworks Fatalities To End Year

Unless New Jersey increases its state aid to county roads most insurmountable task in meeting its current and future needs for better highways in this fast-growing area, James Davison, county engineer, said this week.

"The Legislature's continued failure to provide a substantial increase in state highway aid to counties since 1947 has placed a heavy burden on Union County," Davison told a representative of the Highway Information Association of New Jersey, incorporated last December to promote better highways in the state, that road needs have become the No. 1 problem in New Jersey. The Association has repeatedly urged the mobilization of a statewide study group of civic, business, industrial and labor leaders to recommend an expanded, long-range highway program to the 1962 Legislature.

Davison said the new Interstate and other major highways now under construction in Union County will bring more problems to the county road system in the way of vastly increased traffic loads. This is making the need for widening and modernizing much of the 156 miles of roads in the Union County system more critical. About 60 per cent of the system still has two-lane roads averaging only 27 feet in width. Today, he said, these roads should be 40 feet in width with 10-foot shoulders on each side.

"Something must be done to relieve Union County property owners of the increasing road cost burden," Davison concluded, "or we will not be able to build the highways necessary for our country's future growth. The people in this county must be made aware of the situation so they can inform their legislators that Union County deserves and needs more state aid for its roads."

Davison and other Union County officials feel the situation is particularly unfair because between 1947 and 1961 the state's receipts from gasoline taxes and motor vehicle fees have quadrupled, from $50,000,000 to almost $200,000,000 a year. Union County has supported the efforts of the New Jersey State Association of Chosen Freeholders in its repeated attempts to get the Legislature to increase the $9,100,000 which has been allocated to the 21 counties annually since 1947 for county road needs.

"The state could double its allocation to Union County and we still wouldn't be able to catch up with our road needs," Davison said. "Our population from 1950 to 1960 has increased from 398,000 to more than 504,000 and we expect an even greater rate of growth in this decade. Unless we can get more state aid for our county roads, we cannot build or modernize the highways necessary to meet our needs. This will mean economic strangulation for Union County."

Davison agrees with the Highway Information Association of New Jersey, incorporated last December to promote better highways in the state, that road needs have become the No. 1 problem in New Jersey. The Association has repeatedly urged the mobilization of a statewide study group of civic, business, industrial and labor leaders to recommend an expanded, long-range highway program to the 1962 Legislature.

NJ Needs Increased Aid For Fireworks Fatalities To End Year

Fireworks on Monday night will conclude Olympic Park's 45th season, one of its most successful in postwar years. Robert A. Guenther, president of the 40-acre amusement area in Irvington and Maplewood, today credited the summer's good attendance to the public's appreciation of "wholesome entertainment."

"The off-color character of so many movies and plays today might give some people the idea that this is all the public wants," he commented. "There is happy evidence to the contrary in the enthusiastic response this year to the amusement parks' emphasis on family fun."

Olympic Park's basic format is almost unchanged in the past generation, exclusive of the addition of newly invented rides and changing tastes in refreshments. The circus, picnicking, a band, swimming, baby parades and talent contests are features installed years before by Mr. Guenther's father, the late Henry A. Guenther, who acquired the park in 1916.

The New Jersey State Safety Council estimates that ten lives are expected to be lost on New Jersey's streets and highways during the three-day Labor Day holiday weekend. The estimate includes the 78-hour period from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday. The Council also predicts that close to 60 other persons will be injured in traffic mishaps and upwards of 70 cars will sustain property damage in excess of $100 in the state during that period.

Fatigue during the hours of darkness, speeding too fast for conditions, and drinking and driving, according to the Council, are expected to figure prominently as factors in the expected fatal injury and property damage accidents.

The Council calls attention to the high rate of single vehicles involved in traffic mishaps in the records of holiday weekends in past years, and in the record of accidents to date in the state this year. "Run of road" and "struck fixed object" types of accidents to date this year accounted for 101 fatal traffic accidents and far outnumbered the total deaths resulting from "head on" and "same direction" types of mishaps.

Reporting Of Fraud Mrs. Dwyer Urges

Rep. Florence P. Dwyer (R-6th Dist.) urged Union County residents today to tell her of cases in which consumers have been victimized by fraud, misleading advertising or other harmful practices in connection with products in interstate commerce. She said the information would be helpful to her House Subcommittee on Intergovernmental Relations in its current investigation of Federal consumer protection activities. The Union County Congresswoman pointed out that the subcommittee expects to concentrate its attention initially on the more obvious areas of meat inspection, regulation of poisonous and harmful substances, and prohibition of false and misleading advertising, though all aspects of consumer protection will be studied. "The subcommittee intends to make this a thorough and constructive investigation," Mrs. Dwyer said. "We want to find out how well Federal agencies are doing the job Congress has assigned them of protecting consumers' interests, whether additional statutory authority is required, whether there is wasteful overlapping or duplication of functions, and whether Federal, state and local agencies and private organizations are adequately coordinating their efforts in the consumer protection field." She added "Since the ultimate judges of the effectiveness of consumer protection activities are the consumers themselves, we hope to hear from constituents whose personal experience can shed light on how these programs are actually working, or call attention to abuses which have not been corrected. While consumers do not have the technical equipment or information with which to test products and claims in advance, they can help protect themselves and others in the future by reporting instances of fraud to the subcommittee." The first phase of the investigation, Mrs. Dwyer explained, is based on a detailed questionnaire which has been sent to all Federal agencies having anything at all to do with protecting or advancing consumer interests. She said the questionnaire asks agencies to describe both direct and indirect consumer protection activities, the funds and number of personnel devoted to the work, and to indicate the type of consumer information programs and enforcement proceedings used by the agencies. Agencies are also asked to describe related activities of other Federal units, state and local governments and private organizations, and to state whether their overall resources are adequate. The subcommittee, she said, will publish the agency replies to the questionnaire together with a subcommittee analysis of them. Public hearings are expected to follow later this fall or early next year with government and industry witnesses testifying.

Sane Group Press For New Agency

The Disarmament Agency Bill hearings before the House of Representatives in Washington are being completed Aug. 24, 25, and 28. An urgent appeal has reached all local Sane groups as well as individuals and organizations dedicated to disarmament and prevention of nuclear warfare to write Representative Dwyer in Washington immediately asking swift passage (without weakening amendments) on this bill. "The Bill to establish a Disarmament Agency for World Peace and Security is necessary to: '1. Overcome the haphazard planning of the past for disarmament negotiations. '2. Put forward a symbol of American sincerity and concern which will be recognized throughout the world. '3. Answer the present crisis, not with force alone, but with long-range careful planning to end the arms race,' according to an informal analysis by Sam Tucker of Union County Sane. He recalls the occasion of the visit of 50 Sane members to legislators in Washington recently when he urged Mrs. Dwyer to support this bill. "She was rather non-committal," says Mr. Tucker in urging persons to write her, right away.

Williams Favors Basin Compact

Williams Favors Basin Compact Senator Harrison A. Williams (D, N.J.) today said it would be "tragic" if Congress fails to approve the Delaware River Basin Compact.

In a statement to the Senate Public Works Subcommittee this morning—Williams said in part: "We in New Jersey, and our neighboring states, have been waiting and working for years to bring order to what would otherwise be chaotic development of a river basin serving some 22 million people.

"The compact has the full support of all four states involved, and awaits only Congressional consent and approval. It would be tragic if this achievement of unity among the states were torn apart by the rejection of this bill.

"The welfare of the 22-million people affected by the development of this basin would be seriously impaired if this bill is not adopted. And I would like to add that it has been estimated that the present river basin population will increase to 30 million by 1980 and to 42 million by the turn of the century. In addition, industrial growth in the area is expected to double by 1980.

"This bill would make possible the establishment of an agency which would be able to facilitate the coordination of the operations of the 43 State agencies, 14 interstate agencies and 19 Federal agencies which now exercise powers in the development of the Delaware River Basin.

"I was deeply disappointed by the lack of favorable support for the compact initially displayed by the Federal agencies, but I understand that most of the disagreements have been worked out to the satisfaction of everyone concerned, and I earnestly hope your committee will give speedy and favorable approval to this legislation."

Dental Course Is Scheduled

Area residents are reminded by Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, dean of Union Junior College, Cranford, that September 15 is the deadline to apply for admission to a dental assistant's program to be conducted at the college this fall in cooperation with the Union County Dental Society.

Dr. Iversen said applicants must be high school graduates or hold equivalency certificates, be of post-high school age, and pass an aptitude test.

The year-long program will begin on October 3. Classes will be held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6:30 to 9 o'clock.

The new program will provide 90 hours of academic work, 90 hours of professional studies and 45 hours of on-the-job training, which will be arranged by the Union County Dental Society.

"There is a critical need for dental nurses. The dental profession will be unable to meet the nation's health needs without developing programs to train more dental nurses. Our program is designed to help meet this critical need," Dr. Stephen Dobranski of Linden, chairman of the Union County Dental Society's dental nurses' educational committee, said.

Applications and other information can be obtained by writing to: Miss Dorothea Wiersma, registrar, Union Junior College, Cranford, N.J., or by telephoning the college at BRIDGE-2600.

Senator Williams Aids Migrant Farm Workers

Migratory farm workers, much discussed but almost completely ignored by Congress in the last four decades, finally were remembered by the Senate in three bills passed last week.

To Senator Harrison A. Williams (D., N.J.), the Senate action was an historic, but overdue, step. He is hopeful of quick action in the House on these bills and others introduced in an 11-point program this year.

"You can name almost any area of social legislation, and you'll find that the migratory worker has been ignored until now," said the Senator. "I think it's about time that we give them protec-

3. Authorize up to $3-million annually in federal grants to stimulate and support local health programs in areas seriously affected by the seasonal impact of migratory farm workers.

Two other bills were held over for Senate consideration this week. One would establish a National Advisory Council to keep the President and the public informed about problems and progress among migratory workers. The other would set a minimum age of 14 for child labor outside of school hours.

Senator Williams, who is chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Migratory Labor, had introduced other bills as part of his 11-point legislative program on February 28. The migratory farm worker legislation would establish a minimum wage, provide better housing, give the migrants the right to labor bargaining rights, work towards a stabilized farm work force, and provide funds to assist states in establishing and operating day-care facilities for migratory youngsters.

"Each one of these bills," said the Senator, "would fulfill a definite need. I hope that there will be action on each in the Eighty-Seventh Congress."

The Senate Migratory Labor Subcommittee was established two years ago. Since then, Senator Williams has conducted hearings and field trips in Washington, D.C. and in eight states. Until this year, no bills had emerged from Committee for action on the Senate floor.

In the history of Congress, only two bills affecting the migratory worker have become law.

Denver Asthma Center Makes Name Change

A change of name is being effected by the Jewish National Home for Asthmatic Children at Denver, Mrs. Raymond Efrus announced after her return from the institution's 54th annual convention in Denver, representing over 100 volunteer supporting chapters across the nation.

The pioneer, total treatment and research center for childhood intractable asthma in our nation has made great strides in research in the field of allergy the past two years. Mrs. Raymond Efrus said. Because of its increased annual expenditures in the field of research, the Denver asthma center has made significant strides in the last two years in allergies research. Its Research Institute, the only scientific building in the world dedicated solely to asthma-allergies research, was completed in 1959 through a major appropriation grant from the U.S. Institutes of Public Health. The Denver Institute has received almost $500,000 in Federal health grants for various research projects in the field of asthma. In March, 1961, the institution published the unique Journal of the Children's Asthma Research Institute and Hospital, which is the only medical journal specializing in verbatim recordings of conferences and cases of intractable asthma. The Nation Home, through its new name of Children's Asthma Research Institute and Hospital, incorporated originally in 1957 under state law, is also the same child rescue center which accepted Flavio de Silva, 12, of Rio de Janeiro who was flown to the Denver asthma center July 7, 1961, through the interest of a national magazine's readers.

Known from its founding date in 1907 to 1954 as the National Home for Jewish Children, the institution changed its name to the Jewish National Home for Asthmatic Children, World known in over two decades of free, non-sectarian and complete asthma treatment of the severest childhood cases, the Denver center is represented locally by the Springfield League, Mrs. Jack Hager, president, 17 Archbridge Lane, and is a unique training center for foreign physicians from all over the world. In the last five years 24 of them from eight different countries have studied there. The Institute is also one of two in the nation certified by the United States Department of Health as a resident center for training of psychologists in asthmatic psychotherapy.

Maintained solely by voluntary contributions, the Children's Asthma Research Institute and Hospital is a free and non-sectarian local medical resource for the Springfield community for the severest asthmatics, age 6 thru 15.

VISITING—While Mrs. Efrus attended the convention at Denver for the Jewish National Home for Asthmatic Children she visited the home and welcomed the opportunity to speak with children under its care.

AT DENVER HOME—Mrs. Raymond Efrus, delegate from Springfield to the 54th annual convention of the Jewish National Home for Asthmatic Children at Denver, stops to chat with children from the Home.

Chorus To Exodus Opens Begin Rehearsals At Millburn

The Masterwork Chorus will open its 1961-62 rehearsal season on Wednesday evening, September 6, at 8 p.m. The initial rehearsal will be held at the Hillcrest School, Hillcrest Ave., Morristown, N.J., the regular meeting place of the chorus. Music Director David Randolph is in charge of the rehearsal which will last until 10:30 p.m.

This will be an "open" rehearsal, which may be attended by anyone interested, whether or not a member of the group. Guests are invited to sing with the chorus as it commences work on Handel's "Messiah" for a December performance in Carnegie Hall. There are still openings for singers in all voice sections, and anyone interested in joining the chorus may obtain membership information at the rehearsal, and also arrange for an audition.

The world's first organized baseball game was played in Hoboken 115 years ago between the Knickerbockers and the New Yorks.

Otto Preminger's production of "Exodus" film version of the international best-seller, had its Northern New Jersey premiere at the Millburn Theatre, 350 Millburn Avenue in Millburn, on Wednesday, August 30th, starting an exclusive unlimited engagement.

"Exodus" will play performances daily with no reserved seats. On weekdays, show starting times are matinee 1:30 P.M., evenings 8:15 P.M. Saturday matinees begin at 1:30 P.M. and evenings 8:30 P.M. Sunday matinees are 2 P.M., and the evening performance starts at 8 P.M. Prices are matinee, $1.75, evenings and all day Sunday, $2.50.

"Exodus" stars Paul Newman, Eva Marie Saint, Ralph Richardson, Peter Lawford, Lee J. Cobb, Sal Mineo, John Derek, Hugh Griffith, Gregory Kirov, Felix Aylmer, David Opatoshu and Jill Haworth. It was filmed on location in Israel and Cyprus in Technicolor and Super-Panavision. Otto Preminger produced and directed the film from a screenplay by Dalton Trumbo, based on the Leon Oris novel.

"The Innocents" Opens At Foothills Theater

August 30th marked the opening night of The Foothills Playhouse's next to last production of this fourteenth season "The Innocents," a chilling melodrama based on Henry James' psychological novelette, "The Turn of the Screw," promises to be another memorable production in Foothills' history.

"The Innocents" opens tonight with the arrival of a young governess to an English estate. She has been hired to take charge of two precocious, orphaned youngsters. She and the children are joined by a motherly cook and these four make up the household. That is, the human household, for terror, unspeakable terror, takes over when phantoms, shadows of giants and ghostly faces in the moonlight begin to haunt the household.

The governess and cook are terrified, but the young girl and boy are possessed by the spirits of the former caretaker and maid, both perverse, who had corrupted the souls of the innocents. In a final scene, which is a paroxysm of fear and terror, she learns that the two are now inseparable, the evil and the innocents.

William Archibald retains all of Henry James' portrait of terror in his adaptation, and those who like James, spine-chilling melodrama, will find "The Innocents" are sure to be overwhelmed with "The Innocents."

Playing the part of Mrs. Grose, the cook, is Ann Rottman, who has appeared in many Foothills presentations, including leading roles in "Uncle Harry" in 1960, and "Glad Tidings" and "Be Your Age" in 1954. She has appeared in such area productions as "Separate Tables," "MIDWINTER OF THE NIGHT," "Bell, Book and Candle," and "Light Up the Sky."

She played the leading role of Kate in "The Twelve Pound Look" in the Plainfield Area Little Theater Tournament, and won an individual acting award in 1957.

Dorothea Archer is a Foothills regular from Somerville. She has appeared in many Foothills productions, including the roles of Elizabeth Proctor in "The Crucible," as well as "Separate Tables," "Jane," "Therese," and "The Tender Trap." A student of Jane Inge, Plainfield, she has appeared in "Julius Caesar" and "Mary of Scotland."

Playing the parts of the innocents, Miles and Flora, are John J.D. Sheehan, the handsome twelve-year-old seen in this year's production of "Nude with Violin." Lovely Virginia Hughes, ten years old, makes her first stage appearance in the area in "The Innocents."

Roger H. Ahrens, director of "The Innocents" is a student of dramatics at Ithaca College, Ithaca, New York. Besides being Foothills' production manager, he has appeared as an actor in many Foothills productions, as well as college presentations. Last year he directed "The Crucible."

"The Innocents" will be performed Wednesday through Saturday nights for two weeks, beginning August 30, at the Foothills barn, Beechwood Avenue, Middlesex.

HELEN SABO

Newcomers to town are Mr. and Mrs. Irving Shatten of 13 Hilltop Court, is winding up a two month tour from coast to coast with grandmother, Mrs. Belle Davidson, of the same address.

Some highlights of the ladies' trip were visits to San Francisco, Disneyland, and Las Vegas, and Hollywood, where Nancy sat at a commissary luncheon table with Cary Grant at one end and Rock Hudson at the other. How's that for something to tell about in the Jonathan Dayton Cafeteria this fall!

Anniversary congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. Martin Sherman, of 23 So. Derby Road, who hit lucky number thirteen on August 22. Marty and Gloria celebrated with a delightful four-day stay at the Fallsview Hotel in Ellenville.

Mrs. Jack Goldberg, of 77 Laurel Drive, was guest of honor at a "whopping" big surprise party, last Saturday night, when she came home to find seventy-five guests gathered to wish her a happy birthday. Since it was also Jack and Irene's twentieth wedding anniversary and Son Norman's nineteenth birthday, the lawn party was festive indeed. Guests from Springfield were the Messrs. & Mesdames Abbe Greenberg, Jesse Rosen, Milton Wilman, Ben Writman, Saul Marder, Jimmy Ross, Nat Krowne, Norman Shapiro, Irving Starr, Larry Landau, Frank Hodas, Edward Fisher, Milton Moscovitz, Milton Steinhoff, Al Raskin, Leonard Nerkin and Dick Farkas. Sons Norman and Harvey helped mount the cake, and a gala time was had by all.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Burstein, of 71 Wentz Avenue, have returned from a week's trip through upper New York state. They spent four days in Rochester, where the doctor attended a conference at the University of Rochester Medical School on the newer developments in the field of ophthalmology, and visited the Bausch and Lomb installation, where the newest trends in frames and glasses were shown. They drove through the finger lake area and stopped at the Corning Glass Center and Cornell University, and wound up with a visit to son Leonard at Camp Stony Clove in Hunter, N.Y.

The Manny Meyers 108 Mapes Avenue, are about to welcome home their son Lenny, who spent the entire summer at the Diamond J Ranch in Connecticut. There he won several ribbons in riding competitions. Plans upon his return, call for an all day fishing trip with Max and Arnold Mareeh; a day in New York at Yankee Stadium with Ted and Stephen Kirsch, and finally, just before school opening, a cookout for his friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bruner and family have moved from Elizabeth to their new home at 43 Smithfield Drive. Younger members of the family are Linda, Caroline, Charles and Michael, who are fourteen, thirteen, ten and eight years old respectively. Mr. Bruner is an orchestra leader.

Mr. & Mrs. Henry F. Ruban of 248 Hillside Avenue, welcomed the arrival of their son and daughter - in-law, Mr. & Mrs. Milan Havala of Michigan who, with their children are visiting relatives in New Jersey. The Havala's have 2 sons, Steven and Michael.

Reading Program

The Summer Reading Program is nearing its close. The last day to claim presidential stickers will be on Friday, September 1. Although the pressure was put upon some children to read from required reading lists, others have done their own selecting and write excellent reviews. Some of the book reviews handed in by children who have read many interesting and challenging books will be found at the end of this report.

A number of the boys and girls have done outstanding work on their charts. They had filled in approximately half the spaces by the middle of the summer. Their names follow: Susan Ng, Theresa Ng, Daniel Olin, Gary Peltan, Bernard Perlman, Terry Schwartz, Eileen Smith, Mark Spal, Howard Spielman, Virginia Steinbach, Ruth Weiss, Barbara Frost, Cathy Gacs, Julie Haberberg, Robin Hausman, Lucille Hardegrove, William Keller, Charla Haas, Buddy Haas, Elizabeth Dewey.

The three book reviews that follow are among the more interesting ones submitted.

Edna Chandler - Cowboy Andy

"I like this book because it tells how a town boy named Andy wanted to be a cowboy very much. He would play cowboy and dress up in a cowboy suit. He watched cowboy movies everyday. One day his father said that he could go to Cowboy Sam's Ranch to become a cowboy where he earned to ride a pony. He wanted to be in a rodeo, but Sam said he would have to learn stake racing and calf riding. The next day he was put into a rodeo when there were many, many people. Stake racing was about to start, his father being the first one he knocked down the fourth stake. But in the calf riding Andy was really the first one. Then the rodeo man said, 'Andy is the winner!'"

Eula Long - Pirate's Doll

In far away China in the first part of the seventeenth century, Meenah and her mother were on a ship. The ship carried treasures that were guarded by Meenah's father. But before they reached their destination, they were attacked by pirates. Meenah was among the treasures stolen. Her mother had put her in a chest to hide her from the pirates. Meenah was sold by the pirates to Captain Sosa in Mexico. Captain Sosa took her to his home in Mexico. The Sosas took good care of Meenah.

Stuffed shirt or stiff shirt?

Have you ever acted like a "stuffed shirt" because you were wearing a stiff shirt? The discomfort of an improperly starched shirt can be most annoying and even change your personality for the moment.

There's no reason why you should tolerate over-starching of your shirts, or under-starching. Starching can be carefully controlled so that your shirts are done exactly the way you want them.

We at Pan American separate your shirts into the following categories: No Starch, Little Starch, Medium Starch and Heavy Starch. How would you like to have your shirts done? Well, drop them off and we'll be happy to see that you're satisfied.

Robert Walter Tours With Summer Stock

Robert Walter

On July 27, 1953, Robert Walter, 12 Kipling Road, Springfield, was stricken with Bulbar Polio, a most severe form of the disease. The right side of Robert's body was completely paralyzed. At first Mrs. Walter tried to give Robert the necessary physical therapy, but soon the task was too much for her to handle. A doctor suggested that Robert take dancing lessons as a type of therapy to help him with coordination. Mr. and Mrs. Walter sent Robert to Miss Bunny's School of Dance.

On August 1, 1957 Robert was pictured on the front page of this paper. The dancing lessons had helped a great deal and he was then nearing full recovery. He had talent too; he had won a gold cup and a scholarship at Miss Bunny's.

On August 28, 1961, just three days ago Robert walked into the SUN office, living proof that he had done the almost impossible; he has recovered from Bulbar Polio. And dancing, first recommended as treatment for a disease, has now become an important part of Robert's life and future plans.

Last June at a recital at Miss Bunny's school, a talent scout from Talent Time, part of the Charles Sells Foundation, chose Robert to play with the summer stock company of "Seventeen." The Charles Sells Foundation was founded to raise money to pay the medical expenses of a Bloomfield High School graduate who lost a leg in a railroad accident in 1950. Money was raised through the production of a show the proceeds of which went to the fund. Since that first year the show has become an annual affair and each year the group helps a needy person. But because of a depleted treasury the group is unable to help anyone this year. Still it looks toward the future with the hope that it will be back on a sufficiently solid footing to name a beneficiary next year.

Robert, a dancer in the "Seventeen" troupe, toured with the players. Beginning August 13 they performed at the Walkhill Country Club in Walkhill, New Jersey; Morris Plains and Cedar Grove were among their other stops. The company ended their season with four performances at Bloomfield South Junior High School, August 23 through August 26.

Among Robert's plans for the immediate future are four performances with Miss Bunny's School at the East Orange Veteran's Hospital. Bette White, choreographer for "Seventeen", has also set up various engagements for Robert for individual performances. Among these are appearances at the Kessler Institute, the East Orange Veteran's Hospital, and the Red Cross.

His coaches feel that Robert should be sent to a dramatic school for further training, but Mr. and Mrs. Walter insist that Robert, now going into his sophomore year at Jonathan Dayton High School, finish his schooling and possibly attend college before he embarks upon a dancing career.

Greenwood Swim Club: A Place for Family Fun

FUN IN THE SUN—Relaxing at the poolside of Greenwood Swim Club in Florham Park area. (Vito Agosta, Springfield; Margaret, Paul Rubin, Springfield; Audrey Teack, Livingston; Fran Ricci, Irvington; Vera J. Folomey, Springfield; Esty Schiewone, Short Hills; Ann Rapisardi, Short Hills; standing—Carol Amato, Short Hills; Harriet Levitt, Springfield.)

Swim clubs have come into their own. Unknown a few short years ago the clubs are springing up all around the suburban areas—and in cities, also.

Many theories have been advanced for the popularity of the clubs: home air conditioning has eliminated the need for seashore and mountain retreats; families wish to remain in the area during the summer months; Americans have more leisure time, and the multitude of activities that can only be found at the clubs.

One of the most popular swim clubs in Morris County is the Greenwood in Florham Park. Built six years ago, the club easily accommodates its 900 members on its well-planned, spacious 17 acres off Greenwood Avenue.

There the club offers something—and more—for each member of the more than 400 families which belong.

The first attraction which meets the eye when entering the club is the huge 200-foot circular pool, split into five separate swimming areas.

Surrounding the pool is a genuine sandy beach, which only Greenwood features.

Beyond the pool the play zones abound; tennis, basketball, volleyball courts, shuffle boards, softball diamonds and others, all for the sports-minded.

Trained personnel of the day camp take charge of the youngsters, freeing mother and dad and giving them the opportunity to enjoy themselves. And the teenagers have their own group activities, which keep them out of mischief.

Activities vary during the week. There are bingo games, bridge tournaments, dance lessons, swimming contests and races, and even arts and crafts for all ages.

In the air-conditioned clubhouse on weekends, top rated headline talent entertains. A new innovation this season has been the presentation of shows from off-Broadway theatres.

The attraction which is getting plenty of attention this hot summer is the picnic area. Hubby comes directly to the club after finishing work. With the wife and children they enjoy a leisurely picnic in the cool grove, complete with a last dip in the pool before starting home.

George Finer is athletic director at the club. A resident of Millburn who teaches science in the Millburn Junior High School, Mr. Finer plans activities which keep members active.

Mrs. Florence Flaster of West Orange, who is on the staff of the Fairleigh Dickinson University in Madison, heads the Day

Camp which keeps the youngsters busy during the day and out of mothers' hair.

For Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Jacobs, who own and operate the club, the best testimonial to the popularity of Greenwood is the fact that year after year the same families return each summer—many of whom entice their best friends to join with them.

Rutgers Plans Urban Renewal Conference

Rutgers University announced today (Aug. 31) its first Urban Renewal Conference scheduled to meet on the New Brunswick campus Saturday, September 23.

Co-operating with the State University in conducting the all-day meeting in the Institute of Microbiology are the Middle Atlantic Region of the National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Organizations, the New Jersey State League of Municipalities.

Designed for mayors, members of governing bodies, planning boards, and redevelopment agencies, the Urban Renewal Conference will be opened at 9:45 a.m. by Dr. Jason W. Gross, president of Rutgers.

He will be followed by David L. Yuntch, president of the Greater Newark Development Council who will discuss "The Needs and Goals of Urban Renewal."

During the morning session, Sidney L. Wilfitts, chief of local and regional planning of the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Economic Development will analyze the "Results of the Urban Renewal Survey," and David M. Walker, former U.S. commissioner of the Urban Renewal Administration, will describe "The Tools of Urban Renewal."

The afternoon will be devoted to Perth Amboy's experience in urban renewal, and to a panel discussion on "Community Resistance to Urban Renewal."

George Chranewycz, urban renewal area supervisor of the Newark Housing Authority, will describe Perth Amboy's experience with renewal, while Daniel M. Sheehan, New Brunswick commissioner of Parks and Public Property, Robert R. Johnson, staff writer for the Perth Amboy EVENING NEWS, and Dr. Max Wolff, consultant on Urban Redevelopment Problems, New York City, will participate in the panel discussion, with Dr. Wolff serving as the moderator.
