GOP Candidates Sweep Out Dems

Boy Scout Total Is Now $1571

Republicans recaptured Springfield in Tuesday's election all four of the GOP candidates winning after a spirited campaign with "taxes" as the leading "villain" in the contest.

After holding a majority in the Township's governing body for four years, the Democrats lost control Tuesday with one fell swoop, all four of the GOP candidates winning in a stunning political upset.

Arthur M. Falkin was high man in the local contest for Township Committee with a total of 3345 votes, defeating the Democratic leading vote getter, Richard M. Sullivan who polled 3031.

But the real leader in votes Tuesday, was Fred L. Braun who received 3443.

Philip Del Vecchio who ran for the unexpired term of one year because of the resignation of former Township Committeeman William Balentine, was next in the local vote for Township Committee with a total of 3292. Robert D. Hardgrove, Jr., the other Republican candidate was close to the others with a total of 3189.

Victory for the Republicans will give them a majority in the Springfield administration and many changes are expected to take place at the usual organization meeting held January 1.

Mayor Vincent J. Bonadies, titular head of the Democratic party in Springfield, is expected to lose his position as chief executive and the office of Township Attorney will also be a plum to be handed out by the victorious Republicans.

The tax collector's office will be taken over by Mr. Braun replacing Mrs. Tess Jones who ran for the office Tuesday and was defeated.

The Township Committee will be made up of two Democrats, Mayor Bonadies and Township Committeeman Russel Sibole, and the three newly elected Republicans.

Committeeman-elect Del Vecchio will serve only for the year of 1962 but, after his victory of Tuesday, it is certain that he will be a candidate for the full three year term next November. Mr. Sibole's term expires at the end of 1962.

Old Springfield Sun Building Is Bought By Nagel

The former Springfield Sun building, located at 262 Morris Avenue, Springfield, has been sold to Ernest Nagel, one of the Township's pioneer merchants who has operated a meat and food products establishment at 230 Morris Avenue for more than 20 years.

Title to the former newspaper office building was passed at the offices of former Magistrate Henry C. McMullen in Springfield last week, who appeared for the purchaser while H. Lee Sarokin represented the sellers.

The Springfield Sun and the other four weekly newspapers, known as the Watchdog Weeklies, moved out of the 262 Morris Avenue address early this summer and now occupy a new building, especially constructed for the editorial and advertising departments of the entire newspaper group.

The new newspaper building is located at 200 Morris Avenue, Springfield, opposite the General Greene Shopping Center in Springfield a half block from the Sun and Sun Restaurant on Morris Avenue, going towards Summit.

Mr. Nagel, purchaser of the old Sun Building, says he "has considerable faith in the future of Springfield" and has bought the property "as an investment."

The Springfield Sun purchased the property in 1956 which was then an old A & P Store.

The building was completely renovated with a Colonial front, new floors, ceilings, new heating system and full air conditioning. It was divided into two office suites, Dr. Marvin Gould occupying one half, and Mrs. Rose Olstead, an antique dealer, now in the offices formerly used by the Springfield Sun.

Defer Action On Power Substation

Action on the application of Jersey Central Power & Light Co. seeking permission to erect a new substation on the property of Houdaille Construction Material Inc. was deferred Thursday night by the Springfield Board of Adjustment at its meeting in the Municipal Building. The matter was held over so that the board can consult Houdaille representatives on the matter.

The power and light company presently proposes to construct the substation for reducing power on Houdaille land on the north side of Rahway Valley Railroad tracks. Its approximate dimensions would be six feet seven inches by 20 feet and would be for the use of Houdaille only.

Representatives of the power and light company explained that the quarry is now being served from property on the northeast side of Shumpike Road owned by Nicholas Angleton but all feasible access to it has been cut off by the latest extension of Troy Village, and the lease has not been renewed. Equipment is now being winched through Union County Park Commission property and across the railroad tracks for service. It was explained.

Two residents of Orchard Street, Summit, which is a continuation of Shumpike Road, objected to the proposed location of the new substation.

The board recommended for approval to Springfield Township Committee the application of Dobb's Auto Body Shop of 17 Springfield Avenue asking for permission to construct a garage addition at 10 Woodside Road on property one foot less than the building code stipulation.

Community Plumbing and Churn Dynasty were both given permission to erect signs at their business establishments in Route 22,

54 Homes Approved By Planning Board

Springfield's Planning Board by majority vote, agreed to recommend to Township Committee for approval the application of Isadore Sherman of 23 Londonberry Way, Summit for the subdivision of 18.5 acres of the side of Baltusrol Mountain into building lots.

The entire tract, known as Springmount, will contain 54 one-family homes 35 of which will be located in Springfield and 19 in Mountaintide.

The board has been considering the application a number of months and has also met jointly with the Mountaintide Planning Board on the matter.

Members of Synopsiope Civic Council of Mountaintide have appeared at planning board meetings in both communities charging that a traffic problem will be created on Mountaintide streets in as much as there is no access to the area from the Springfield side.

Also taken into consideration has been the problem of water draining down onto the Baltusrol

Name Hodes Chairman of Retarded Children Drive

The appointment of Frank R. Hodes of 56 Briar Hills Circle as the Springfield Campaign Chairman for this month's fund drive for the Union County Unit, New Jersey Association for Retarded Children, was announced today by Mayor Vincent J. Bonadies, county chairman.

Mr. Hodes, the owner of the Frank R. Hodes Company - a lumber concern, attended Newark University. During his three years of service with the 80th Infantry Division in the European theater of Operation, he was awarded the Purple Heart.

"Mental retardation is one of the most important health problems of the nation, and one of the most neglected," stated Mr. Hodes in accepting the chairmanship.

"There are 5,000,000 mentally retarded persons in the United States, and to bring this figure closer to home, there is an estimated 15,000 children and adults in Union County with some degree of retardation.

"If one considers family relationships, this is a serious personal matter to at least one out of every twelve persons living in our township, county or nation."

Between now and November, we hope to make every resident of Springfield aware of the needs of the retarded. Given education, training and adequate opportunities for recreation, 25 out of 30 mentally retarded can, as adults, be self-supporting. This has been demonstrated by the results of services provided by the Union County Unit, New Jersey Association for Retarded Children," continued Mr. Hodes.

"The mentally retarded must have a chance to lead useful lives. I would like to ask every adult and teenager to spare a few hours of their life in helping the November drive to be the most successful one ever conducted so that the residents of Springfield can say 'Yes, we gave them a chance.'" Mr. Hodes concluded.

FRANK R. HODES

Springfield Loses One Of Its Leaders In Death of Lee Rigby

Springfield lost one of its leading citizens last week when Lee S. Rigby died at his residence, 206 Morris Avenue, after a long illness.

While he had retired from active political participation in the past few years, Mr. Rigby was long active in Springfield and Union County Republican affairs, was elected sheriff in 1935 for a three-year term. He had been an undersheriff, an appointive post, since 1932.

Mr. Rigby immediately in a de news on taking office as sheriff by banning the issuance of all special deputy sheriff badges and so-called "courtesy cards", although he later restored the latter practice.

CHOOSE OWN DEPUTY

He also opposed the then dominant influence in county Republican affairs by choosing his own undersheriff and ignoring the expressed wishes of the county committee.

He also installed a new bookkeeping system in the sheriff's office and insisted that all documents filed therewith be accompanied by the proper fee, thus abolishing the long-standing system of allowing credit to attorneys on the filing fees.

The amount due the county under the antiquated bookkeeping system ran into the thousands, the sheriff claimed, and promptly set about collecting much of it. Mr. Rigby, retired after one term as sheriff but returned to the political stage a year later when he sought and won a free holder nomination, again bucking the organization.

ELECTED FREEHOLDER

He was elected a freeholder in 1939 and re-elected in 1942, 1945 and 1948. He was defeated for the re-nomination in the 1951 primary when a new element in Union County Republican ranks opposed the "Old Guard". He again sought the nomination for freeholder in 1953 and 1955 without success.

Mr. Rigby had served at various times as president of the Sheriff's Association of New Jersey; as Springfield Republican chairman and as head of the Springfield Republican Club.

He was also for many years chairman of the Union County Youth Welfare Council.

Born in New Brighton, Pa. Mr. Rigby lived in Springfield more than 40 years. He operated a hardware store here for many years, and more recently, a gift shop.

He was a member of Continental Lodge 190, F & AM, and the Echo Lake Country Club Westfield.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mary Farrell Rigby; two sisters, Mrs. Calvin Beauty of New Brighton and Mrs. Lelia Tucker of Oakland, California.

Funeral services were held last Saturday at 2 p.m. at Smith and Smith-Surburban, 415 Morris Avenue, Springfield.

The Rotary Anns were organized on October 19 at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank Burstein, 71 Wentz Avenue. Township Couple Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klausmann of 87 Denham Road, Springfield were honored at the Clinton Hill Baptist Church of Union in celebration of their fiftieth wedding anniversary, on Thursday, October 26.

This program began with a devotional from the fifth chapter of Ephesians by Pastor Fissel, and with a word of welcome to all. Mrs. Harold Maylan, Chair-lady of the program committee wore a wedding dress fifty two years old and the other ladies of the committee were in dresses over fifty years old.

Mr. Klausmann was escorted to the chair of honor by Mrs. Harold Stout and Mrs. Klausmann by Mrs. Earl Seaman.

During the first part of the evening Mrs. Mayland's "Garden of Memories" reflected the wedding day of Mr. and Mrs. Klausmann which took place October 18, 1911, at the home of the bride on Farley Avenue of Newark.

Dr. Lydia Hauck, sister of Mrs. Klausmann, recalled the dresses worn by the attendants which were made of pink georgette with embroidered roses. She also reminded the Klausmanns that they were roasted at the wedding with water.

Miss Louise Jundt who attended the wedding fifty years ago sang "Because". Mrs. Martha Specht said that she remembered as if it were yesterday that the minister at the wedding said, "This ring has no beginning and no end, just as the love of God has no beginning and no end. May your love be as the love of God with no end."

Best wishes from another friend, who attended the wedding, but could not be present at this celebration, Miss Martha Schulte, was heard via tape recorder.

Mrs. Mayland in her Garden of Memories recalled that after the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Klausmann left for New York and then went to Washington D. C. which was probably the reason they selected Washington to spend their fiftieth anniversary. Mrs. Mayland also expressed heartfelt gratitude for the diligent way Mr. and Mrs. Klausmann have served the Lord all these years at Clinton Hill Baptist Church.

Several people offered up prayers of thanksgiving for the inspiration Mr. and Mrs. Klausmann have been to the people of the church through their work and their Christian testimony.

An anniversary gift from the people of the church was presented by Mrs. Flossie Fuchs. Six people who attended the wedding fifty years ago were seated at the table with Mr. and Mrs. Klausmann. They were Mrs. Martha Specht, Miss Louise Jundt, Miss Anna Jundt, Mrs. Mattie Teufel, Mrs. Harold Hauck and Mrs. E. Wagner.

A certificate of marriage printed by Rev. Fissel and signed by each person present, to show their appreciation for the many years of Christian Service they have given to Clinton Hill Baptist Church, was framed and presented to Mr. and Mrs. Klausmann by Mr. Harold Stout.

A few words of thanks for this affair were given by Mr. Klausmann. "At this time," he said, "three outstanding things had effected their married life and for which they were ever thankful and these were:

1st - Parents who brought them from early childhood to Sunday School and the fact that they had stayed with this same church throughout all these years.

2nd - That sixty-one years ago they were baptized at the same time and that they have continued to know and serve The Lord throughout all these years. "3rd - That every year has been blessed of the Lord."

Mrs. Klausmann also expressed her thanks for all the things that were said and done to make their anniversary a happy one.

After this Mr. and Mrs. Klausmann cut their wedding cake and delicious refreshments were served.

Rabbi Dressner Honored

Rabbi Israel S. Dressner of Temple Shalom Springfield, was presented with a citation last week, by the Union County Chapter of the American Jewish Congress, in recognition of his activities as a Freedom Rider for Negro rights.
In accepting the citation Rabbi Dressner recounted the experiences, some of them seriocomic, and indicated that the strongest incentive for his embarking on the Freedom Ride came from his religious faith which strongly condemns discrimination in any form.
The Rabbi said that it is everyone's job to do something to make possible the American dream of "man created free and equal".
Morton S. Stavits, attorney and chairman of the Commission on Law and Social Action of the N.J. region of the American Jewish Congress, presented the citation on behalf of the A.J.C. He spoke of the achievements of A.J.C. in fighting discrimination, and stated that integration is the most serious domestic problem facing the American people today. He stated that everyone in the audience who believe in the principle of democratic rights should be prepared to go to jail if necessary, as Rabbi Dressner did, to carry out these principles.

Rev. John W. Collier, Jr. the Negro minister of Israel Memorial A.M.E. church in Newark, and also a fellow Freedom Rider of Rabbi Dressner, also spoke. He stated that freedom is everybody's business, and that American cannot be considered

Woman's Club Has Anniversary

Speaker of the evening was Mrs. Theodore Ossman who presented a program entitled "Make Your Home Say Merry Christmas" to members and guests.
Mrs. James D. Roberson, Seventh District, Vice-President of the New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs. Also honored were members and officers of the newly formed Sub-Junior Woman's Club of Springfield. Mrs. Frank Shiel of 96 Wabeno Avenue was introduced and welcomed into the club as a new member.

The Literature Department will meet on Monday, November 13 at Miss Eva Brown's home, 121 Meisel Avenue. Scheduled is a talk by Miss Rhoebe Briggs on the "original families" of Springfield.
American Home Department's meeting on Christmas Tree Trimmings will be held in the home of Mrs. Charles Miller, 112 Meisel Avenue on Tuesday, November 14. Co-hostess will be Mrs. Anthony Pilar, Jr.

The Drama Department would like to remind members and their friends to keep the date Friday, November 17 open for the play "Breath of Spring" by the Cranford Dramatic Club. Tickets can be purchased from Mrs. M. L. Kefauver.

Winter arrangements for shut-ins will be prepared by the Garden Department on Tuesday, November 21. Hostesses for this meeting will be Mrs. Louis Schneider and Mrs. Edward Backowski.

free as long as any segment of the population is denied their rights.

He recounted a conversation that he had had with Mrs. Roosevelt at a meeting in New York, in which Mrs. Roosevelt had tried to defend the situation in the United States regarding discrimination on the basis that only a few of the Southern states had it. Premier Khrushchev has stated that the United States as a whole is responsible for the activities in any part of the country, and that there could be no defending this situation. On this point Mrs. Roosevelt said she had to be quiet.

Rabbi Reuben Levine of Temple Beth Ahm remarked that the signs which are now posted on interstate buses outlawing discrimination in seating on buses are a result of the activities of the Freedom Riders.

Mayor Vincent J. Bonadies and Philip Ames, president of Temple Shalom, also spoke. Joseph Marzell of Springfield, chairman of the Union County Chapter of A.J.C., the sponsoring organization, presided.

PTA Membership Drive Is Success

Total PTA membership of 1462 was announced by Mrs. Robert A. Bell, membership chairman in giving her report on the membership drive of the Scotch Plains Junior High School at a meeting of the Executive Committee held Nov. 1.
Withers of the class room leads for the highest membership enrollment of parents were announced as grades 7E, Miss Rita Mazur, teacher, 8E, John Thornton, and 9D, Miss Elaine Toborowsky. Mr. Thornton and Miss Toborowsky's classes had 100% memberships including both parents. A special award will be made to Mrs. Betty Quigley's special class.

Mrs. Bell expressed optimism that the additional memberships still needed to meet budget commitments would be forthcoming.
Mrs. Walter H. Ott, president, reported on the N.J. State Congress of Parents and Teachers Convention which she attended last week in Atlantic City. Noted by Mrs. Ott were some of the innovations in school programming

Broda Stations Now Feature Econocar Rental Service

One of the more familiar sights on the fluorescent horizons of Route 22 in Union are the Al Broda & Sons Esso-Humble service stations which flank both sides of the super-highway and are always busy with the dispatched trucks, to help the motorist in need or supply service and gas, whatever the case may be.

Now, added to the many skilled and helpful services of the Broda stations is the Econocar System, a new service designed to accommodate not just the traveling businessman, but every driving member of the family, with low car rental rates, and the most in safety and comfort behind the wheel.

Mr. Broda, who has been in business for thirty-three years, and his three sons, Al, Jr., Joe, and Junior have made their trio of Esso stations (the other on Route 1 in Elizabeth) among the top in out put in the State, while never losing the knack of working together toward the goal of giving the motoring public the optimum in friendly, beneficial service.

Al, Sr., resides in Union, while Al, Jr., and Junior live in Mountainside and Joe lives in Scotch Plains. All four are devoted members of their communities, and each belongs to either the Lions or Kiwanis Clubs. Among their other civic activities, the Brodas are responsible for sponsoring car events at Old Bridge and financing a Little League team that plays under their name.

By incorporating the Econocar System into their growing list of services, the Broda stations have become exclusive per mile, well within the means of the housewife who needs transportation for the day, or the man whose car is tied up for repairs.

A subsidiary of the Great American Leasing Co., Econocar has begun in New Jersey with the hopes of eventually spreading across the nation. Econocar President, Lawrence Dixon, who has been in the car renting business for the past fourteen years, foresees his company as "attracting many of the ten million prospective car renting customers in this country. As of now only 500,000 cars are rented, and we feel that the reason is that prices have been too high for the average person. With Econocar we hope to bring the cost down to the hometown resident who will use our cars for the transportation requirements of daily living as well as special trips."

Overlook Volunteer Shows Determination

The sweet-smile and sparkling eyes of one of Overlook Hospital's Volunteers, young Nancy Carver, gave little clue to the inner strength and determination that are making her life normal and successful, instead of withdrawn and tragic. For Nancy, who is now 19 1/2 years old, was born deaf.

Today, Nancy is a living example of what intelligence, perseverance, and faith can do to remedy any situation. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Carver of 20 Great Hills Terrace, Nancy has lived in Short Hills for fifteen years. She has just started in Millburn High School this year as a special student, the first profoundly deaf student to be enrolled. Not only is she keeping up with her classmates, but she is achieving excellent grades. As one of her teachers commented, "Nancy is teaching us, instead of our teaching her. Her proficiency in lip-reading is absolutely remarkable."

Years of patient effort lie behind this proficiency. First came special training at the Lexington School in New York City. Next Nancy attended the Bruce Street School for the Deaf in Newark. Before coming to Millburn High this fall, she was graduated with honors after five years at the Clark School for the Deaf in Northampton. At her graduation she received awards for "Loyalty, Service, and Character," as well as in Dancing, Gym, Arts-and Crafts. In addition to these honors, Nancy was a cheerleader. At Millburn High, Nancy belongs to the Pep and Tri-Hi Clubs. Her favorite subject is mathematics. Popular with her classmates, she drives a car, dances and gives regular volunteer service at Overlook Hospital after school hours. Her voice is not new to Nancy. While in Massachusetts she also received an award, the Service Aid Bar, for her hours of service at the Cooley Dickinson Hospital in Northampton. Talented in other directions, Nancy also loves to sew and makes her own clothes.

As to her life as a student in a regular high school and working with friends in outside activities like Overlook's Volunteer program, Nancy says:

"It is wonderful to be with other young people my own age. I am learning so much and everyone has been wonderful. It took a few days to catch on to different teachers' ways of speaking," she added, "but after that it wasn't hard at all."

One of her most satisfying activities, according to Nancy, is her work as a "Candystriper" at Overlook. "You have a special feeling for other people," she pointed out, "when you have had troubles to overcome yourself. There are so many little things that brighten the day for someone who is sick."

Science Notebook

BY HANS KLEIN

Most of us can be embarrassed if, out of a clear sky, someone asks us to define a word which we constantly use. The word SCIENCE would be no exception. Actually it is not as easy to define "science" as you would suppose. The American College Dictionary lists six categories under the word "science" and Merriam Webster gives three definitions. The first is "a branch of knowledge which is acquired by observation and experiment." The second is "a branch of knowledge which is acquired by observation and experiment." The third is "a branch of knowledge which is acquired by observation and experiment."

The three major branches of science to which all minor subdivisions are related are: physics, chemistry and biology. These major branches will be taken up briefly later, but further subdivisions are so numerous and inter-related that to discuss all of them would become a treatise in itself.

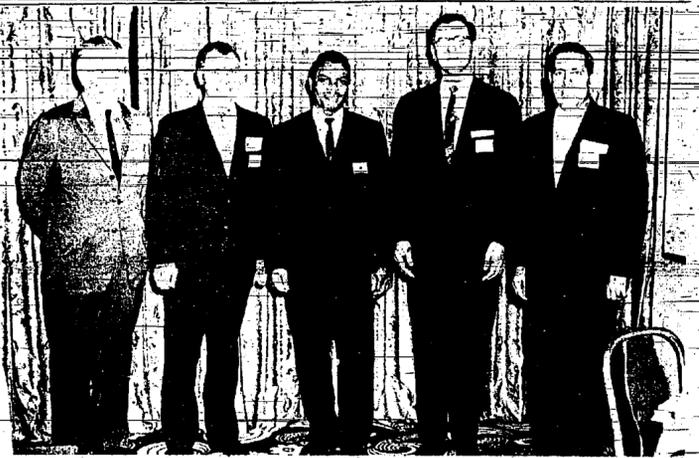

Can you think of any phase of science which has no relation to the three sciences mentioned above? If you can, let us know, since you may have discovered a new frontier.

What every high school student ought to know, but probably doesn't.

- 1.) Which one of the following is a chemical element: air, water, fire, or earth?
- 2.) What are bacteria: microscopic animals, protozoa, fungi, or non-living particles?
- 3.) Which displaces the most water a 100 lb. boat of iron, aluminum, wood, or cork?
- 4.) Which of the following is not a metal: iron, gold, calcium, or tin?
- 5.) What is the largest animal that ever existed?

CANUCKS COLLAR BULLDOGS

Sports Review

by Dick Schwartz

We feel qualified to discuss the subject of 'growing up' because we're still going through the stage, and because it seems appropriate in light of various sights noticed on area football fields these last few weeks.

While this column is written mainly for those high school students who represent their institutions on the gridiron each weekend, it also might apply to all adolescents, and we hope it does some good. ...RIGHT FROM THE HORSES MOUTH, you fellows can believe that the worst is yet to come both on the field and off. If life were measured from goal to goal, it's a sure bet that you'll be clipped, caught off-sides and penalized wrongly in the years to come. On the other side of the ledger, you'll receive many MVPs in your lifetimes, and hear the echo of cheers from somewhere in the distance on more occasions than one. The point we're trying to make is that you are not necessarily sitting atop the world right at the moment. If you feel exceptionally bloated with success and glamour, forget it, and look at things in true perspective.

Do some of you feel you're at the top of the ladder? You play a rather silly game of throwing a piece of leather around and trying to deter someone from grabbing someone else. Football is a great SPORT, but that's all it is—a SPORT. You fellows are representing your schools, but don't let that go to your heads either...other people represent your school also, and in some people's eyes, they're doing a better job of it.

The point is, and for it we'll go to a cliché, "It doesn't matter whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game." It is not our intention to teach, but we feel obligated to report what we see.

Some area players appear to be accepting the attitude that they're on a downhill joy-ride and can coast once in a while... if they feel like it. Some players apparently think they've reached some sort of goal with their 'X' amount of victories and 'X' amount of accolades, and can now quietly retire for the rest of their days to seats of greatness. Of course, we're exaggerating a little to make our point, and we hope you're getting the gist.

Just think, for instance, about being tackled by a Sam Huff and maybe your outlooks will shrink a little.

Losses don't really matter in the long run. Once again, it's how you play the game. To really make your marks you've got to shake the 'smug attitude' when, in reality, there's nothing at all to be smug about. There are so many hurdles ahead of you, that you're really only coming out for the second round. Nobody ever took a decision for looking good for a few seconds of one round, especially when the fight will number in the dozens of rounds.

Get out there and play football...TRY for victory, and if you lose, at least YOU'LL know you had different ideas. Coast now, and you'll never pick up enough momentum again.

Your obligations on Saturday afternoons (and mornings) really amount to nothing, and yet they amount to everything!

Hockey to Invade State this Month

The New York Rangers-Providence Reds clash at Baker Rink on November 29 for the benefit of the New Jersey Arthritis Foundation marks the first time big league hockey has been played in New Jersey in many years. However, the New Jersey Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation has been helping arthritis sufferers in New Jersey since 1952. The proceeds of the game will help expand its state wide program of research, rehabilitation, patient care and education for the approximately 400,000 New Jersey victims of arthritis.

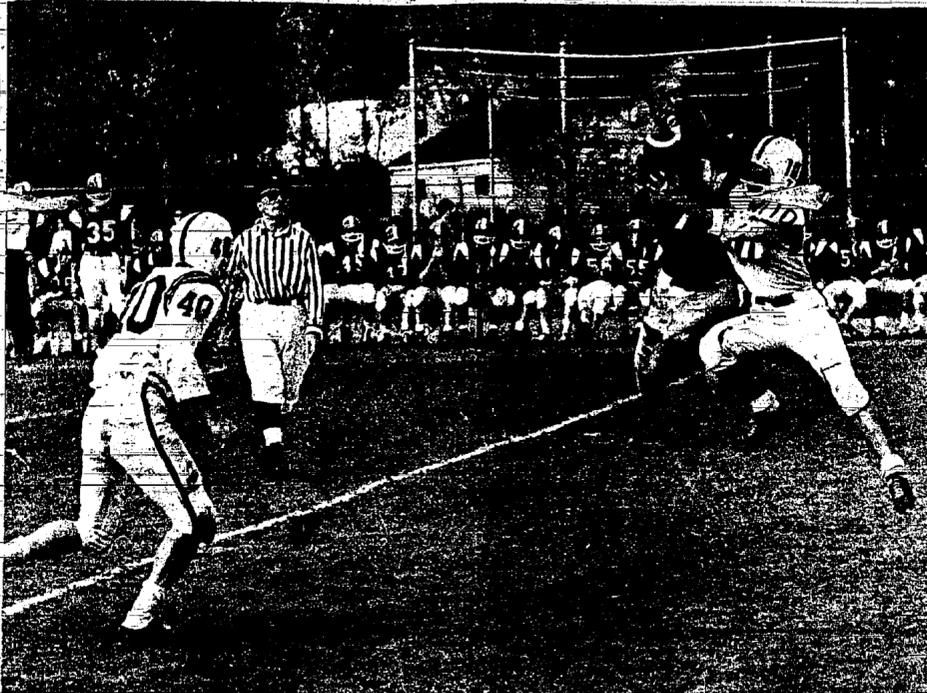

Highlanders Gunning For Hillside Victory

Folled in heartbreaking fashion in the final minutes of play in its bid for an upset of Metuchen High School last Saturday, Governor Livingston High School's battling football team will be striving for an upset of lesser proportions this Saturday when it travels to Hillside.

Beaten by Metuchen on a 61-yard pass play in the final two minutes, 19-14, the Highlanders are hoping to snap back at the expense of the battered Comets, the only Union County opponent on the Highlander schedule this season.

Both teams will carry 4-3 records into Saturday's contest at Woodfield Stadium in Hillside. And both will be nursing assorted bumps and bruises accumulated in rugged contests last week. Hillside, an early season power in Union County and Watchung Conference circles, has had its championship hopes shattered the past three weeks in meetings with three of Union County's strongest teams, Cranford, Scotch Plains and Westfield.

Westfield, the country's only unbeaten, untied eleven and co-leader of the Watchung Conference with Cranford, demolished the Comets, 38-0, last Saturday.

BREAK UP—Regional's Larry Stickle was the intended receiver of this Appar pass, but Ray Foland (10) of North Plainfield came up fast and broke up the aerial attempt. Looking on is Larry Watson (40) for Canucks.

Raiders Top Rahway With Passing Might

For the second time in as many weeks, the Scotch Plains Blue Raiders took to the airways as they bombed the Rahway Indians at home before a nice crowd, 41-0. The contest was a Watchung Conference league affair.

Tom Rutishauser, Plains field general, combined with end Bill Lott in scoring three tallies and went over with one by himself, as the Raiders kept pace with Cranford and Westfield, league leaders, who remain undefeated in loop play. The "should" be quite a battle when Cranford and the Plainsmen lock horns before the season is over. The first time Coach Chuck Nelson's wards had the pigskin Saturday, they moved 70 yards for a score on one play as Rutishauser found Lott alone on the Rahway 30, and pitched to him for a six pointer. The extra marker followed off the toe of Bob Pfundheller.

In the same quarter, Dave Difore advanced the ball from the Indian 25 to the 10 yard line and for the second time, Rutishauser found Lott and the score stood 14-0 after the extra point.

The second quarter remained scoreless, but the beginning of the last half, saw the Raiders move the ball from their 49 to pay dirt. Rutishauser got into the actual scoring act as he rolled out and went over himself from the one yard line.

With the score 21-0, the outcome was apparent, but the Raiders weren't through yet. On the kickoff after the 21st point, Bruce Thompson recovered an Indian fumble on the 29 and the Rutishauser-Lott duo clicked again on a scoring pass that led to a 28-0 lead.

In the fourth stanza, the scoreless Indians lost the ball again via the fumble route, this time on their 19. Haywood Gipson scored his touchdown for the afternoon on a 37-yard gallop after his team had been penalized 15 yards.

The final Scotch Plains six-pointer came on a run by sophomore Sam Finn from the 8 yard line. The score was set up on an intercepted pass by Cornelius Jones. Jones kicked the last extra point making the score 41-0.

Larry Bath recovered a Metuchen fumble following the kickoff but the Bulldogs held for downs on their 19. From there Meyers exploded for a touchdown and a successful kick made it 7-7.

The Highlanders bounced right back with a second touchdown as the first period ended. Art Thomas returned the kickoff to the Highlander 38, Fish's passing and Russell's running moved the ball to the Metuchen 25 from where Russell went off tackle for the touchdown. Russell added the point on a line smash.

Fish intercepted a pass to set up another Highlander threat in the second quarter. Frank ran the ball back 20 yards to the Metuchen 20, Russell went over for a touchdown on an 11-yard burst but a clipping penalty nullified the score. The Highlanders eventually lost the ball on downs at the Metuchen 14.

This costly penalty, along with another infraction in the fourth period that prevented a Highlander first down on the Metuchen 13 were to prove the undoing of Governor Livingston.

After Meyer's second touchdown dash, the Highlanders, on the running of Flint and Russell primarily, moved to three first downs in a row. Russell rammed for another first down at the Metuchen 13 but a penalty offset the gain and Metuchen got the ball. Two passes then sup up Metuchen's victory.

The Highlanders had one more chance, Fish, following the kickoff, completed first-down passes to Lynn Nesbitt and Bob Clarksen. A fumble, however, ruined Governor Livingston's hopes of pulling out a victory. Russell's 14 points gave him a total of 46 for the season and moved him up into seventh place among Union County scorers. Ben is only eight points back of the second highest point producer, Lee Nordstrom of Cranford.

Orange And Blue Shutout In First Loss Of Season

14-0 Blank Gives Regional 4-1-1

Springfield Regional's chances for an unblemished season of football victories went by the boards last Saturday afternoon off a shoulder of Route 22, as the North Plainfield Canucks whipped the Bulldogs 14-0, in a fashion that left little for the visiting forces to cheer about. Regional looked bad.

It was hard to believe that the same squad that rolled over Somerville, Caldwell, Scotch Plains and Clark, was the contingent fielded for the North Plainfield battle. Defense, offense, and desire for victory appeared to be sorely lacking in the Orange and Blue camp, and from the performance given, one could almost surmise that the Bulldogs did not deserve to win. They didn't.

Regional never penetrated past the Canuck 25 yard line, a strong defensive wall with standouts Bryan Hondra, Bob Andronici and Jack Freeman, made this possible.

Regional's hopes took a turn for the worse following an opening kick-off fumble. However, the Springfield line held in this first Canuck effort and Coach Herb Palmer's team managed to carry the ball to the home team's 25 before Larry Watson intercepted a Jack Appar aerial and pranced back to his own 25. After three line plunges by North Plainfield, Watson latched onto quarterback Ray Foland's handoff and went around the left side for a 46 yard touchdown romp.

Springfield received the ensuing kickoff and couldn't move the pigskin more than three yards in three plays, as Hondra and Don McKenna put the defensive whammy on Tuffy Hartz.

The Canucks drove for their second and last score in the second quarter, beginning from mid-field and culminating the attempt with a ten yard pass play for a six pointer. Marty Sica, Regional standout, had something to say about that second touchdown, momentarily halting the Canucks on the Springfield 7 with some spirited tackling, but the Plainfielders were not to be halted.

The second half saw a slight upsurge in the Regional camp as the boys from Springfield and Kenilworth seemed to be moving in the right direction, but they never did get there 'fastest with the mostest.'

The only occasion for jubilation from the visitor's bench came in the third period: Watson could not get a punt off after a bad snap from center and Bill Goghegan claimed the loose ball on the Canuck 41. A pass from Appar to Ron Fuorro set the Bulldogs up on the 30, and after two abortive aerials, Appar finally hit Hartz on about the 5 yard stripe, but a personal foul against Regional nullified the threat and four plays later they were forced to kick after Appar got caught for an 8 yard loss.

Regional now sports a 4-1-1 record with three games remaining on the card. It will be Roselle this Saturday at 10:30 a.m. away, a make-over engagement with Summit on the 15th and then the Turkey Day tilt with Rahway on the Meisel Avenue field. Bulldogs can still perk up and ear their turkeys over a 7-1-1 total, which if not perfect, is still a worthy showing to say the least.

COMING DOWN—Governor Livingston halfback, Skip Flint (with ball) is about to have a landing made on him by Metuchen defender. Action took place in second half of game that saw the Highlanders drop a close one, 19-14.

Soccer Squad Looks Toward State Title

Wadsworth's goal that brought Coach Rass Hunchak's team the Union County championship with a 2-0-2 record in UCC play.

Wadsworth took a pass from Gordy Marshall with less than four minutes to play and booted a swift kick into the net. It was his 14th goal of the season, putting him one up on Summit's Frank Berta in the race for the county scoring title. It also added to Wadsworth's school-scoring total, one that will be tough to match in season to come.

Wadsworth's 13th goal, minutes before his winning boot, had lifted the Highlanders into a 1-1 tie. He had treated the Blue Hawks from the second period, a rare experience for Governor Livingston this season.

Wadsworth also had a hand in Governor Livingston's second goal of the season over arch-rival Springfield-Regional, 3-1, on October 31 at Springfield.

Wadsworth's goal was one of the Highlanders' three goals. Since this was the second meeting of the teams this season, it did not count in the UCC standing.

Marshall and "Chat" Kelly tallied Governor Livingston's other goal against Springfield. It was Kelly's fourth of the season, making him the Highlanders' second highest scorer. Marshall scored for the first time.

Worthy Foes

When the Harlem Globetrotters invaded the Elizabeth Army on Monday night, Nov. 27, they will be facing a formidable opponent in the Honolulu Surf Riders. The Hawaiian squad, coached by Ronnie Kim, is one of the best rounded up in the "Paradise of the Pacific" for this series scheduled with the redoubtable Trotters.

Six-foot-four Ronnie Holt of English-Hawaiian extraction starred at Waialeale High on the island of Kauai for four years and one season at Willamette University in Oregon before joining the Surf Riders. He's a three-year veteran.

Star of the squad is Robert Stoermer, 6-6, who averaged 22 points a game at University of Oklahoma and now is in his second season with the Surf Riders. Another big man is Jerry Lester, a 6-7 product out of Oklahoma Baptist University now in his third season.

Other prominent figures on the squad are Robert Akeo, Roger Taniguchi, Roger Potts and Dave Kissinger. The latter set a Harvard-Simmons University mark last year with 543 points.

The game here is being sponsored by Bayway Post 260, American Legion.

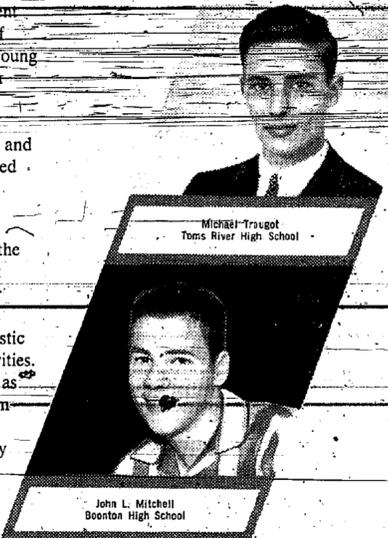

Congratulations to the SEVEN TOP SCIENCE STUDENTS

Attending The National Youth Conference on Peaceful Uses of the Atom

For the third consecutive year, a delegation of outstanding high school students, accompanied by two teachers, is being sent to Chicago under the sponsorship of the Jersey Central Power & Light Company and New Jersey Power & Light Company to attend the National Youth Conference on the Peaceful Uses of the Atom.

These seven boys, from seven different counties in New Jersey, will be part of a group of more than three hundred young men and women who will be given a picture of the peaceful atom through conference sessions and visits to the research reactor in Argonne, Illinois, and to the first full-scale, privately-financed atomic power plant in America at Dresden, Illinois.

This year's New Jersey delegates to the conference will once again represent our State in the finest tradition of her outstanding high schools. They were carefully selected on a basis of scholastic achievement and extracurricular activities. The interest of fine young people such as these in the peaceful uses of the atom gives us all a sense of faith and confidence in the future of our country and of the world.

"Bells Are Ringing" At the Meadowbrook

"Bells Are Ringing", and they make a lovely sound at the Meadowbrook Dinner Theatre, Route 23. Starring Julia Meade, television's most gracious lady, this show will ring a rich and melodious bell in your memory.

Some skeptics didn't know how Miss Meade would fare in a role made famous by Judy Holliday. However, when they left the theatre all were convinced of Miss Meade's talent.

The former Ridgewood, N. J. resident has an actresses' field day as an answering service girl who can't stop being kind to everybody. She radiates charm throughout and sings and dances to perfection.

Stewart Rose does a most competent job as a frustrated playwright who falls in love with the answering service operator. Before their romance is fulfilled the Meadowbrook show's course takes them through 15 of the juiciest and most popular song hits, gets them tangled with police detectives, racetrack bookmakers, mobsters and trysts in parks and subway stations.

Allen Kass, well-known for his work in "High Button Shoes" and "Damn Yankees", scores as a bookmaker who instructs his customers to place their bets through the answering service by means of a code. The names of famous composers come into play and a high spot of the wonderful show is when the chorus, rehearsing the code, are thrown Handel and chant back "Haleah" as if they were singing the immortal "Alleluia" chorus.

Honey Sanders, Peggy Ann Watson, Ted Erwin, Arthur Whitfield, Lou Cutell, John Ann, Walter Murphy, Harry Stanton and Judith Hanger add to the show's tingle.

Miss Meade does beautifully on "It's A Perfect Relationship", "Is It A Crime?", "Hello, Hello There" in which she is joined by Mr. Stewart and the ensemble. The leading pair stop the show with "Long Before I Knew You" and "Just In Time". But the big Jules Styne number "The Party's Over" is the capable offering of Miss Meade.

Shearing To Hit Millburn

The George Shearing Quintet, which has played every important Jazz spot from Birdland and the Embers in New York to the jumpingest spots in Tokyo and South Africa, will come into the Paper Mill Playhouse on Sunday evening, November 12 for two Jazz Concerts at the P. A. P. Mill at 6 and 9 P.M.

Shearing has won every trade and disc jockey poll of any importance, some as many as seven times, and has been named No. 1 pianist in a dozen nations, including the afore mentioned, Australia, Germany and France.

Born totally blind in England in 1919, Shearing began his professional career at the age of 16 playing the piano in a neighborhood pub. From there he went on to club dates, writing arrangements for the BBC and recording for English decca.

By 1946, Shearing had headlined all the top clubs in London with his own groups and was in his 8th year of recording for

Paper Mill Will be Busy

The Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn, in line with producers' Frank Carrington, Henry T. Weinstein and Laurence Feldman's theory that "theatre should have something for everyone" will jump like a Mexican jumping bean on a hot stove next weekend. Between 11 AM Saturday morning and 11 PM Sunday night there will be seven (count 'em, seven) performances with something for everyone

English Decca. He has always wanted to visit the U.S., however and came here with his wife for a visit. The visit lengthened into successful engagements and the formation of the Shearing Quintet. The rest is American jazz history.

Shearing, his wife and two children now live in Old-Fappan, New Jersey. It was here in New Jersey that he achieved a life-long dream. He became a naturalized American citizen in Hackensack in 1956.

The theatre will close off for a few hours after the children buzz off -- until 6 PM, that is. At that time, Bert Parks will bustle on stage in "The Music Man", the Meredith Willson whistler that has audiences stomping in cadence to "76 Trombones" at certain each night. There will be another show again at 9 PM for late diners. The Paper Mill will take a quick snooze until 3 PM Sunday afternoon when travel buffs will settle into their seats and roam "Hawaii", a Burton-Holmes travelogue in full color.

Gage Poultry Farm Has Made Success Of Retail Business

"One of the most fertile merchandising fields in our whole nation is in the market for top quality poultry products." So says James Richelo, Gage Poultry Farm, Springfield, Jim knows. He sells quality and service, it's his business!

Jim's 1 1/2-acre farm, located on S. Springfield Ave., produces 10,000 broilers a year and more than 500 dozens of eggs each week. In addition, he markets about 1,000 turkeys yearly for an old school friend. What's more, these products are sold at retail right from Jim's own 20 x 36-foot sales building located a few steps from his home and his poultry plant. No products are delivered to customers. But that's only part of the story for each sale is a cash transaction and the products, flavorful eggs and broilers, command premium prices from steady customers. Sales have increased from 18 percent to 31 percent since opening the sales building. The demand exceeds the supply for in spite of wide-spread discussion on the subject of quality poultry products, truly superior quality is not too generally available.

Once a family experiences the delicate flavor of a truly top quality egg, it returns to a dependable supply source. Jim and Mrs. Richelo make each customer welcome when he enters the store and each is usually greeted by name. Incidentally, just as Jim collects cash for his products, he follows through by paying cash for his feed, his started pullets, and other supplies.

90% SOLD ON ORDER

Gage Poultry Farm sales are heaviest on week ends. Ninety percent of the poultry is sold on order. Customers telephone or stop in with their requests. They specify whether the birds are to be whole, split, cut up, or quartered; how many, the size desired, and when they'll stop by for them. Store hours are 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., with the exception of Sunday, when it is open only for a few hours in the morning. Most of the turkeys are sold in a special holiday package. Last year one shop took 146 for its employees. The turkeys were frozen, placed in polyethylene bags, and individually gift boxed. Jim designed the large road sign featuring a single egg and Gage Poultry Farm is easily located. The design of the sign is reproduced on egg cartons and stationery. Wide driveways make access easy from the busy highway, and there is plenty of parking space.

Jim starts retailing his baby broilers when they weigh 1-3/4 to 2 pounds alive. He endeavors to maintain a constant supply of broilers, fryers, and roasters weighing from 2-1/2 to 6 pounds. At times he has capons weighing up to 12 pounds alive. Poultry is frozen only when requested by customers.

"SOUP" or "SALAD" FOWL As layers reach the point of no return, Gage Farm features "soup fowl" if the weather is cold. When temperatures are high, "salad fowl" is available and most of the birds being replaced move to customers at retail prices. This further illustrated Jim's thought, "Retailing offers salvation for the poultryman who wants to be an individual, do his own thinking, and survive."

So that he might do a better job of dressing his birds, Jim attended Rutgers University for a course designed for state meat inspectors. He is licensed as such by the State Board of Health and his killing and dressing room is licensed as a slaughter house. Because these facilities are adjacent to his sales room, he designed a galvanized sheet metal killing cabinet insulated to muf-le any sounds as the birds are being killed. Removable funnels, used while the birds are being bled, are metal to permit easy cleaning. Birds are eviscerated in a sink with hot and cold running water in a built-in porcelain tub located at a convenient height, and later surrounded by chopped ice in the sales case. There, with quality sticking out all over, they catch the eye of customers. They have been handled carefully and swiftly to make them as flavorful as any broilers or roasters obtainable. QUALITY EGGS, TOO Jim has been purchasing starred pullets for the last two years, with a batch of 20-week-old replacements arriving every three months. This program provides eggs of all sizes throughout the year from a constant inventory of 1,500 layers. They are housed in 20x20-foot pens with never less than four square feet per bird.

Eggs are gathered on a regular schedule four times daily, 9:00 and 11:00 a.m. and 1:00 and 3:30 p.m. All soiled eggs are washed in a sanitizer-detergent. A square washer and square egg baskets are used. Eggs are placed on plastic filler flats, then go into the 8x10-foot walk-in refrigeration room where they are held at 49 degrees and 80 percent relative humidity. After they have been candled and sized, they are boxed in Gage Poultry Farm cartons. Every effort is aimed at keeping the eggs under ideal conditions from the time they are laid until placed in the customers hands.

The egg marketing program is on a level with the broiler merchandising. The store bulletin board lists prices for a single dozen eggs and special prices for some sizes when two or three dozens are purchased. Cracked eggs (there aren't many) move at prices comparable to generally quoted prices in other markets for sound eggs. Any eggs with blood or meat spots are sold as "eggs for pets."

PRODUCTION GEARED TO MARKET

The Gage Farm production program is, of course, geared to its quality market. Starting with the best strains of broiler chicks and started pullets, Jim feeds high quality feeds and works closely with his feed company advisor, Harold Raynor. Jim follows approved practices carefully. His broilers receive the recommended sizes of granite grit—starter, grower, and developer—the size of grit being increased as the birds grow. His layers are always supplied with oyster shell and layer size granite grit, free choice.

Ventilation is observed as eggs are gathered and while feeding the flocks. If changes are necessary, they are cared for at once. The compactness of the entire operation permits almost constant observation of all its production and marketing features.

Jim and his wife have evolved their present program since taking over the farm when Jim's father, George F., retired in the early 1950's. Prior to that the older Richelo had produced and sold hatching eggs, baby chicks, table eggs, and Leghorn broilers in season.

Monday's Trouble

by Geldt Matlay

Monday was an awful day! Brother and sister went to school. Daddy went to work. Mommie had to go to the office and had to play all alone. And they always get into trouble. After Monday it wasn't so bad. They were used to playing alone.

"If you could only talk, Buff," said Buster, "You could tell me something to play."

Buff barked. He grabbed Buster's Panda and ran around the room with it.

"You can't play with my panda," cried Buster. "You'll tear it."

Buff dropped the Panda and grabbed a truck. He could not lift the truck so he bumped it across the floor.

"Please don't bump my truck, Buff. It might break."

Buff sniffed the toy chest. He found a ball and flipped it up in the air. It hit the lamp and made a scary noise.

"Stop playing rough," called Mommie from the basement.

Balls are for playing outside with somebody bigger. Buff explained. Buster. "And there's nobody bigger to play with us today."

Just then a growly noise sounded outside. Buster and Buff ran to the window. A steam roller and a tar machine had stopped there. They were chugging and smoking ready to work.

"Let's watch," said Buster. The man on the tar machine pulled a lever and out came some sticky tar.

"Oh, boy!" cried Buster. "If we were outside we could smell it, couldn't we, Buff?"

"Wool!" barked Buff.

Buster and Buff ran downstairs.

"Mommie," called Buster, "Can we go outside and play?" Mommie was coming up from the basement. She smiled at them.

"Yes," she said. "The sun is nice today." She helped Buster with his jacket and cap. "Remember, don't go outside the yard."

Buster and Buff hurried out. They did not care about the sun. They ran to the front yard. Buster stood on the bottom rail of the gate and looked over the top. Buff looked between the posts. Buster took a big breath. He liked the smell of the tar. The tar machine turned around dropping some tar on the sidewalk by mistake. It looked oozy.

"Ooooh," said Buster. "I'd like to touch that oozy stuff."

Just then the gate suddenly opened swinging Buster outside the yard. Buff looked at the opening where the gate had been. He ran outside to find Buster. Buster was already at the spot of tar. He touched it with his finger. It was warm and sticky and would not come off.

Buff sniffed the tar. Some of it got on his nose. He tried to lick it off but his tongue could not reach it. He tried to brush it off with his paw. He jumped up and down barking and stepping in the tar. His feet made little black spots on the sidewalk. Buff bumped into Buster and knocked him down in the tar.

"Stop, Buff!" cried Buster. "See what you've done."

Buster backed away from Buff. He backed right into the gate. It reminded him of what Mommie had said.

Buster felt dreadful. He looked at the tar on his clothes. He looked at the tar on Buff. Maybe they could wash it off.

"Come on, Buff," said Buster. They ran to the back door. "Be real quiet," whispered Buster, "so we can surprise Mommie." They tiptoed into the kitchen. Buster held Buff's collar tight as they went up stairs.

Kiddie Shows Success Hikers Will "Ah Wilderness"

Keep Going

The Saturday Morning Children's Series at the Paper Mill Playhouse is such a hot ticket that the weekly trade that extra shows have been added. "The Shipper's New Clothes" set for November 11, and "Puss and Boots" set for November 25, have both added a 1:30 performance in addition to the regular 11 AM shows.

The shows were almost at the top when Buster heard a growly noise from the basement. He looked back. Every step had spots of tar on it. Mommie went into the kitchen.

"Whatever is on my floor," she said.

Buster and Buff ran into his bedroom. There was no time to wash off the tar now. They crawled under the bed and looked out black tar spots were all over the pretty blue rug.

What would Mommie do now?

On Sunday, November 12, members of the Union County Hiking Club will pick up where they left off last weekend in their annual trail clearing expedition.

The club, as members of the New York, New Jersey Trail Conference, must maintain about 18 miles of the Appalachian Trail and side trails in the Ramapo-wood Lake section of Northern New Jersey.

The group, under the direction of Fred Dlouhy, Union, will meet at the Administration Building, Warinanco Park, at 8:30 a.m.

Four performances of the Eugene O'Neill comedy "Ah Wilderness" will be presented by the Upsala Footlight Players next week at the Upsala College Theater, East Orange.

Evening performances will be given at 8:30 on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, November 9, 10, and 11. There will be a matinee on Saturday, November 11, at 2:30.

"Ah Wilderness" is a nostalgic comedy generally considered to be one of O'Neill's best works. It is quite different from the dark probings of his drama, and has been described as "good natured and unpretentious" and "a sympathetic insight into the foibles of mankind."

Tickets may be purchased in advance through the Footlight Players, or at the door prior to each performance.
