Springfield Merchants Plan Sales Day Program In March

PLANNING SPRINGFIELD SALES PROGRAMS—Over 100 merchants will participate in united selling effort in March. Details will be announced in a few days. Moving ahead with plans to improve business conditions in Springfield, the Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce announced this week that more than 100 retail establishments in town would be invited to participate in an unprecedented, unified "SPRINGFIELD SALES DAYS PROGRAM."

Will Salesky, Chairman of the Merchants Committee, stated, "There is no reason in the world why the business community of Springfield should be less ambitious than those of neighboring towns."

"The residents of Springfield are fine people. They are Springfield conscious. They are willing to give our merchants first choice if our merchants will give them better values than they can get elsewhere."

"A business community either moves ahead or drifts backwards. There is no standing still. Our Sales Days Program, effectively merchandised and broadly supported, will show Springfield that it's business community wants and merits it's support."

Set for the middle of March, Springfield's first Sales Days Program will feature an ambitious Springfield Shopper, a twenty-four page digest in color, designed to provide local merchants with a low cost advertising medium.

Its prices have been set, just to meet operating expenses. It will have a circulation of more than 10,000 families and cover not only all of Springfield, but areas of Union, Summit, Millburn and Short Hills.

It will unify the Sales Days Program and will enable local Springfield merchants, on a low cost basis, to advertise and compete effectively with the larger stores surrounding our area.

Participating stores, at no extra cost, will also be supplied with "Shop in Springfield" banners and large "Shop in Springfield" buttons.

The Chamber of Commerce, and Saul Freeman, Executive Secretary of the Chamber, both of whom have been active in planning the program of this Committee agreed that this first "Sale" will be the hardest.

"If this is successful, however, the entire program will be that much easier to accomplish," they stated.

The Springfield Chamber of Commerce urges the entire business community of Springfield to support the Shopper and join with each other in strengthening the co-operative business activity of the township.

Springfield Dedicates New P.O.

Springfield's new post office was officially dedicated Saturday afternoon with United States Senator Harrison A. Williams, representatives from the Post Office Department in Washington and Township officials participating in the ceremonies.

Congresswoman Florence P. Dwyer, who always is on hand for such events and was slated as speaker for both the dedication ceremonies and the evening banquet at Baltusrol Country Club, could not attend either affair because of illness in her family.

Despite the inclement weather during the afternoon the dedication ceremonies attracted a fine crowd with Leonard E. Best, general chairman of the committee on arrangements, presiding over the program. Postmaster A.V. Del Vecchio introduced Mr. Best who, in turn, presented Springfield Mayor Philip Del Vecchio for an address of welcome.

U.S. Senator Williams delivered the principal address of the day and formally presented the new flag to Postmaster Del Vecchio.

Flag raising exercises were conducted by members of the Continental Post of the American Legion, the Battle-Hill Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Springfield Boy Scouts participating.

Scouts serving as guides. One-day's program was concluded with a testimonial banquet at the Baltusrol Country Club Saturday evening.

Business Good

Business in the 1962 dog licenses has been very active in Springfield, according to Township Clerk Eleanore H. Worthington.

"Applications and distribution of the dog tags, so far," said Mrs. Worthington, "has been higher than any other year."

Dog licenses are due this month and those who have not procured the tags before the end of this month will be subject to a fine. Police will be instructed to enforce the dog license law.

When Joe Signals "Stop" Traffic Really Does Stop!

THAT SIGN MEANS SOMETHING—Joseph Morris, directing traffic at the Regional High School crossing, Mountain Avenue and Caldwell Place, keeps vehicles and the school kids in line. Former Marine handles traffic at that busy point with authority and no one has any difficulty knowing what his signals mean. (Photo Dick Schwartz)

There's no doubt about it, you know where to go when you get the signal from Special-School Officer Joseph Morris of 31 Colonial Terrace, stationed in front of the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield.

Giving snappy signs on the same spot in Mountain Avenue for the last four years seems to come natural to this 51-year-old former Marine, whose only formal instruction in municipal traffic direction came the first day on his "beat."

Add to this military experience gained during almost 13 years in service and you have a man who keeps his mind on his business — protecting the lives of the hundreds of school children who cross his path each day.

To keep the high school crowd in tow, Officer Morris says he usually just gives them "that look."

"A lot of times they step off the curb," he says, "and I usually call, 'hey, does your mother have your life insurance paid up, I never growl at them because, as a general rule, they are a good bunch of kids. They just don't think. They are in a hurry and have a short lunch period."

"I like kids. I have two of my own. I try to make them mind and try to impress on them that the cars have as much right on the road as people walking."

Highway 78 Engineers In Township

New Jersey State Highway Department engineers have been in Springfield for nearly two weeks exploring and surveying in all sections of the Township preparing for the start of actual work on the new Federal Highway No. 78.

Problems confronting the engineering corps include the Main street diversion, and surveyors have been spending considerable time taking measurements along Morris Avenue, especially in the Blacks Lane and Linden Avenue section.

There are evidently other problems in the large vacant property in the rear of the north side of Morris Avenue, known as the former Jenco property, and Tuesday, the Highway Department engineers spent considerable time in the area of Morris-Road.

The Springfield Township Engineer's office hasn't yet received official notification on the construction schedule but Highway Department officials have passed the word along to the Township that they "expect to get going right after July."

Township Engineer Swenson said he believed that the news he has received would indicate that the Highway Department is aiming at getting a contract awarded as soon as possible so that work on the new Route 78 may start in September.

Virus Cases

Reports of an unusual number of virus cases in Springfield were denied Monday by Superintendent of Schools Warren Davis at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School who said there was "no outbreak here."

Absenteeism at the high school was no higher than normal, he said, and noted that 93 per cent of the enrollment attended school on that day which was a good attendance for this time of the year, he said.

On the elementary school level, Mrs. Elsie Blanchette, school nurse, reported that absenteeism has been normal for this time of year with no great rise noted.

Max Sherman Accepts Job As Head of Heart Fund Drive Here

Max Sherman, 303 Alden Road, Springfield, will again head the Heart Fund Drive in Springfield, with "like" Freedman, well known Morris Avenue merchant in the Township as his Business and Industry Aid.

Mr. Sherman, who led the most successful Heart Fund Drive in Springfield last year said he knows "the residents of that township showed their awareness of the urgency and magnitude of the heart problem," and echoed the sentiments of the Future Role Committee of the American Heart Assn., which was composed of a group of independent prominent business men from all over the country, who said:

"An urgent need continues for increased voluntary support of cardiovascular research despite the expansion of government appropriations for this purpose. We praise the association for the priority given to research support and call for higher relative expenditure in this field."

Mr. Sherman, a graduate from Rutgers University Law School, practices law in Newark. He was Municipal Attorney of Springfield for six years, and has been active in many fund raising drives including that for Overlook Hospital, Summit. Married to Martha Jane Sherman, the couple have two children who attend Springfield schools.

aign, which is being held during the month of February. The same procedure as last year will be followed this year, which minimizes the detail work of fund raising.

A neighbor to neighbor drive will be held and envelopes will be passed from one to another residents throughout the entire town.

Mr. Sherman asked that for the sake of expedience, when the envelope reaches the home of a resident that they be passed on as soon as possible in order that no one would be held up from making their willing contribution. "Although we were very successful last year we are hopeful of going over the top this year, since the County Chapter has appropriated the sum of $50,000.00 to assist St. Elizabeth Hospital in the establishment of a Cardiac Diagnostic and Treatment Center, which will be available to all county residents, regardless of ability to pay," Mr. Sherman added. "We ask each one to be as generous as possible to help their hearts and the hearts of those they love."

March Of Dimes Drive Here Is Now Over $2,200

Incomplete returns from the Mothers' March and other fundraising committees in Springfield show a total of more than $2,200, up to last Monday, according to Peter Finnerty, Chairman of the Township campaign. "This total of $2,200 includes only part of the Mothers' March and what has come in the mail. The Mothers' March—returns amount to approximately $1,700, but more block captains have still to report.

"Reports are still to be made by the Industries, Professions, Merchants and the other committee leaders, which should increase the Springfield total considerably."

Mr. Finnerty stated that he hoped to have the final reports ready within a week or two.

"We are especially pleased with the results of the March of Dimes campaign in Springfield," said Mr. Finnerty. "As usual the residents of the Township have responded generously."

His first enlistment into the Marine Corps was in 1929 and he served as a rifleman until his discharge eight years later in 1937. He enlisted into the Marines again in 1944 during World War 2, serving as a rifleman a second time and making private first class.

He was overseas on Guam and participated in the siege on Iwo Jima, where he was wounded and received the Purple Heart. He was attached to the 9th Regiment, Third Marine Division.

After discharge in 1946, he again signed for the inactive reserve in 1947 and returned to inactive duty in 1950 for the Korean War.

This time, he didn't go overseas, however, but was attached to a motor transport in this country until April, 1951, when he was discharged because of the illness of his wife, Elizabeth. He received a "hardship discharge" and was disqualified from joining the Marine Corps again, he said. Mrs. Morris died in September, 1959. Living with him

Demand Haydu Explain $80,000. Surplus In School Board Budget

Frank W. Haydu, Jr., who is seeking reelection to the Springfield Board of Education next Tuesday, has been asked to explain why the $80,000 surplus in the School budget was not properly applied and retained for two years.

The demand for an explanation was made in a letter from Township Committeemen Russel W. Sibole and Vincent J. Bonadies who charge that the "proper application of that surplus in 1961 would have avoided the 18 point rise in the tax burden."

Mr. Haydu is the Finance Chairman of the Springfield Board of Education and the letter which follows was addressed to him:

Dear Mr. Haydu:
We note with great interest your budget report indicating a 14 point reduction in school taxes for the year 1962.

We note also, that a 1960 surplus of $80,960 contributed substantially to this reduction, as members of both the previous Township Committee and Finance Committee, we have a special interest in this particular item of surplus.

Being a Finance Chairman, we hope that you can appreciate the tremendous effort which goes into making up a sound budget, whether it be the local school budget or the municipal budget.

In light of the substantial increase in the school budget for 1961, we took every possible step within our power to minimize the effect of your increased budget on the taxpayers of our community.

We even went so far as to set aside some urgently needed and worthwhile municipal projects.

Because of the austerity fostered out of necessity in our municipal budget, we find ourselves closing out the 1961 budget year in the extremely embarrassing position of having to impose upon our new colleagues on the Township Committee, an emergency appropriation to cover our 1961 commitments.

It is not our intent to lay our difficulties at another's door, but at this point we cannot help but feel that had the $80,960 "Free Balance" from your 1960 budget been properly applied to last year's budget, we would not have experienced the aforementioned difficulties with the municipal budget.

More significantly, the tax load on our citizens could have been reduced by approximately 18 tax points.

In view of the foregoing, we believe that we and all of our taxpayers are entitled to an explanation of your action with regard to holding, over a two-year period, the surplus in question.

We will appreciate your usual splendid cooperation in this matter.

Very truly yours,
Vincent J. Bonadies

Springfield Library

The dedication of the new Post Office brings to mind the enormous number of letters sent through the mail each year. They, also, are one of the types of literature that the ordinary citizen composes during his lifetime.

In the eighteenth century letters were carefully written, both in the sense of handwriting and of composition. They were passed around to friends, read and re-read, and in some cases, collected and published. Those written by Lord Chesterfield, Horace Walpole, and Benjamin Franklin are famous.

In a certain sense, letters in that century spread information, a type of communication now fulfilled by the daily papers and scientific journals. Even so the present generation could unquestionably profit from taking pains to improve their literary style.

Libraries, naturally, have many books of letters and letter writing. The Free Public Library of Springfield is no exception.

Books on letter writing begin in the Children's Section with "The First Book of Letter Writing". Advice to adults is found in "Take a Letter Please", "How to Write Letters for All Occasions", "Plain Letters", and "Handbook of Business Letters".

Letters To Editor

Editor-Springfield Sun

On February 3, the people of Springfield dedicated their new Post Office and had a dinner to express their appreciation of the part the postal service pays in our personal and community life.

As chairman of the arrangements committee, I want to express my sincere thanks to all who joined in this project. Not only those who took part in the ceremonies, but also those who in many other ways contributed to the success of the day.

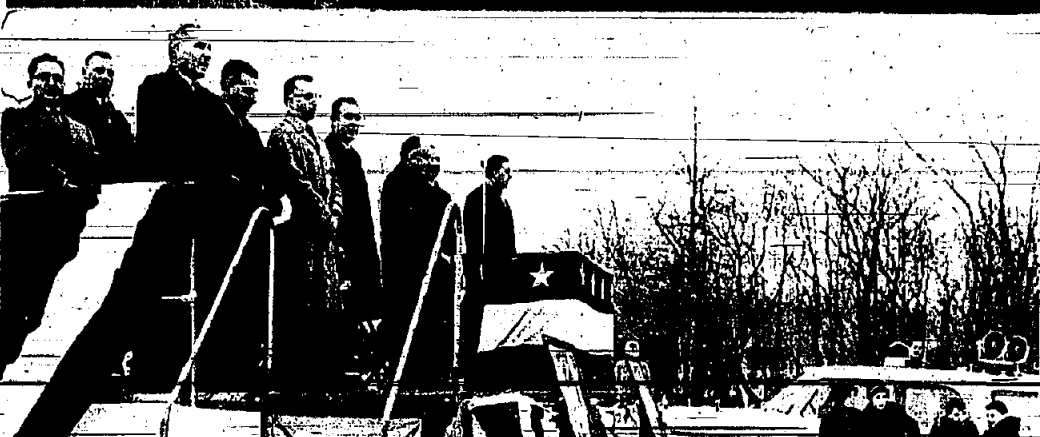

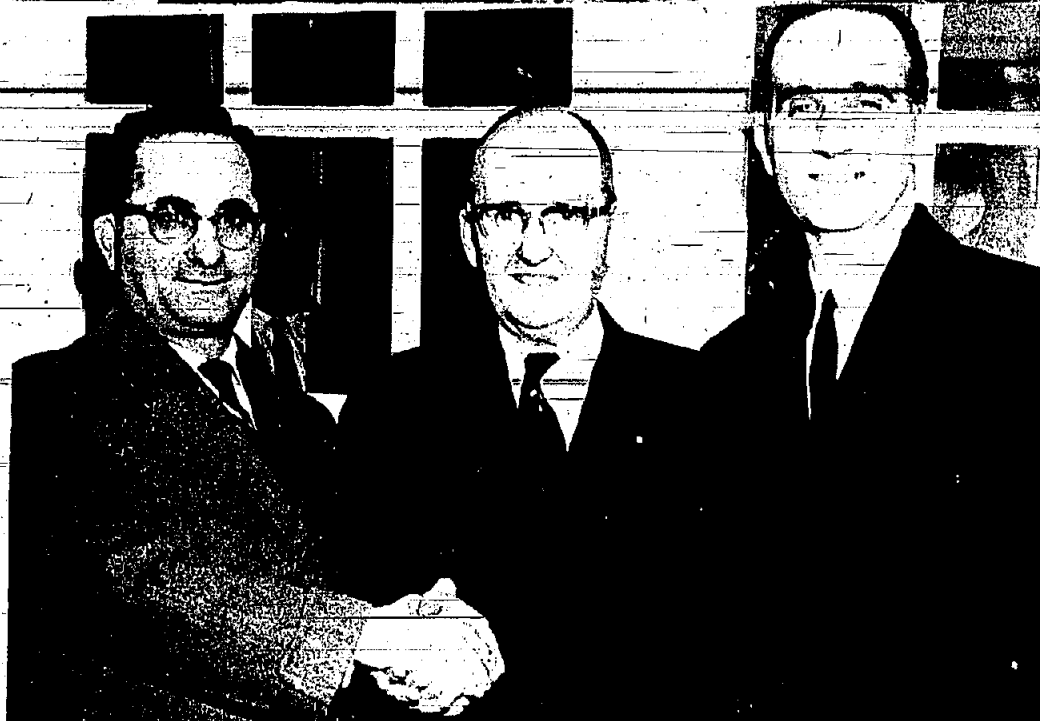

This must include the Regional High Band which we had to cancel out at the eleventh hour because of the forecast of rain, the members of the local Chamber of Commerce, with an especial recognition of Mr. Saul Freeman, to Baltusrol Golf Club for allowing us to take over a large part of their facilities on re-opening night, and to the Springfield Sun for publicity.

This was a fine expression of community spirit—we can be proud of our new post office and of Springfield too.

Sincerely yours,
Leonard E. Best

Stamler Will Run For Senate

Assemblyman Nelson F. Stamler, (R-Union) formally announced today that he was a candidate for the office of State Senator, the vacancy caused by the resignation of Senator Robert C. Crane because of illness. Assemblyman Stamler issued the following statement today announcing his candidacy:

"The people of Union County regret the resignation of Senator Robert C. Crane. He has attained the utmost respect in public office due to his impartial, capable, and dedicated service, and his broad vision of legislation.

NELSON F. STAMLER
Assemblyman announces his candidacy for State Senate vacancy.

"Announcing one's candidacy for Union County's Senate seat in this context is not easy. Many men and women whose counsel I respect and trust have urged me to run for the State Senate, and even more important, have pledged their assistance to my campaign. With the hope that I can count on the sound advice and experienced leadership of my fellow Republicans, and the enthusiasm and energy of the Young Republicans and every citizen in Union County who believes in good government, I make this announcement of my candidacy for the State Senate.

"Having served the citizens of Union County in the General Assembly for the past two years, I have a full awareness of the problems of our growing state, its many needs, and its political complexities. I am proud of my legislative record.

"I ask the people of Union County for their help in working for a positive and progressive Republican program, and I pledge my best efforts in their behalf."

Mr. Levin explains that a teaching machine is a question and answer device that takes a student through a subject at a pace matching his ability to comprehend and absorb the subject.

"Some of the machines are actually not machines at all but are special types of text books or cards.

HOWARD S. LEVIN

School Board Candidate Urges Teaching Machine

Howard S. Levin, candidate for the Springfield Board of Education, calls for action by the Board on teaching machines.

Mr. Levin refers to reports just completed by the National Education Association and Stanford Research Institute. The NEA report on teaching machines states, "Enough has been uncovered to convince many hard-headed educators that programmed learning and the accompanying devices have a great—some say revolutionary—potential for education."

Mr. Levin states it is the Board's responsibility to explore

"This new method is based on sound principles in the psychology of learning—recognition of individual differences, active participation of the learner, and immediate knowledge of results," he stated.

"Some parents fear that machines may diminish or even replace the role of the teacher in the education process. But if these techniques are successful, they would relieve the teacher of drudgery to allow her time to do the things that she can do better than machines."

Ernest R. Hillgard, Professor of Psychology and Education at Stanford University explains, "Much of the SCIENCE of teaching is taken over by the machine, the ART of teaching will again come into its own, residing where it should, in the teacher as a person."

YK LEADERS CALL ON CONGRESSWOMAN DWYER—Union County Young Republican leaders visited their Congresswoman, Rep. Florence P. Dwyer (R-6th Dist.), this week in connection with the five-day Young Republican Leadership Training School being held in Washington. Covering such matters as political policies, strategy and organization, the school this year attracted more than 500 young leaders from across the country, twice the total of the largest previous session. Congresswoman Dwyer, shown here reviewing some of the pictorial highlights of the Capitol, was host to the Union County group which included, from left to right: Robert McCluskie, 324 Poplar St., Roselle; Lawrence Newcomb, president of the Union County Young Republicans, 225 Watchung Terrace, Scotch Plains; Joseph F. Bel, 501 Chester Ave., Roselle Park; Peter Johnson, 18 Riverside Dr., Cranford; Mrs. Dwyer, Miss Nancy Stears, 440 Sheridan Ave., Roselle Park; and Miss Frances Johnson, 248 Parkway Village, Cranford. Joseph Gonzalez, 11 Compton Ave., Plainfield, joined the group after the photo was taken.

the effect of these machines on the bright child, Eugene Galanter, Professor of Psychology at the University of Pennsylvania states, "The only effect that the teaching machines seem to have on the (bright) children is to enlarge their vision.

"In addition, the machines have the advantage of returning to the child the opportunity for private and independent study..."

Pilot use of these new techniques has already begun in Newton, Massachusetts; Denver, Colorado, and New York City."

Mr. Levin points out that teaching machines should be neither rejected nor accepted without careful evaluation and in-school tests.

Mr. Levin, a member of the Institute of Radio Engineers, plans to attend an Institute Symposium in April on "Pros and Cons of the Application of Teaching Machines to the Learning Process."

Dr. Milligan Is Improving

Dr. Robert S. Milligan, 73, of 42 Elm Street, Summit, who has served as health officer in Springfield for many years, was reported Tuesday in "still critical condition but improving" at Overlook Hospital, Summit, from injuries he received last Thursday (Feb. 1) when he lost control of his automobile in Summit.

Dr. Milligan suffered fractured ribs and a fractured leg, hospital authorities reported.

According to Summit police, Dr. Milligan's auto smashed into a pole at 4:05 P.M. as he was making a turn into fire headquarters in Broad Street in that community and his foot hit the accelerator instead of the brake. The automobile, blocking the firehouse door, prevented firemen from using the ambulance and the doctor was taken to the hospital in a police car.

Dr. Milligan has been health officer in both Summit and this township many years.

World Trip Coffee Topic

Next meeting of the Summit YWCA Kaffeeklatsch on Wednesday morning, February 14, will take members on a guided tour around the World via slides and dialogue. Traveler is Mrs. Haas Starz, long a resident of Summit after living for some years in South America, who recently returned from an extended tour. Her journey took her to Hawaii, Japan, Formosa, Hong Kong, South Vietnam, Cambodia, Thailand, Malaya, parts of India, Pakistan, Cairo and Luxor in Egypt, and Germany. Mrs. Starz has culled from her larger collection of slides the "highlights" of the trip. Coffee will be served from 10 to 10:30 o'clock and the hour long program will follow. The usual concurrent dance and rhythm classes for children 3 years and over as well as baby sitting for infants over 18 months are available for youngsters whose mothers are attending the program.

APPOINTED—James J. Savarese of 325 Timberline Rd., Mountainside, has been appointed Assistant Chief Engineer of the Elizabethport Works of the Singer Mfg. Co. In 1958 he became Engineering Supervisor of the family machine division. Last year he went to the Works Manager's Office as Administrative Assistant and Chairman of the Cost Improvement Committee.

Accepted In "Who's Who"

Miss Elizabeth Koster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Koster of 1470 Woodacres Dr., Mountainside, recently has been accepted in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Miss Koster is a graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High and is presently attending Seton Hall University, majoring in Nursing and will graduate in June.

The University nominating committee for Who's Who, selected Miss Koster on her scholarship, her participation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities, her citizenship and service to her school and her promise of future usefulness.

During the past four years, Miss Koster has participated in numerous school activities. She has served on the Executive Board of the Student Council for four years, holding the offices of Treasurer, Corresponding Secretary and Parliamentarian. She has been a member of the Glee Club and was elected President and Vice President of this organization. In her sophomore year, she represented her class in the Guidance Council and was also a member of the Sodality.

For four years, she has been a Representative to the Federated Student Government, which consists of students from the five main divisions of the University, who work toward the unification and better communication between the colleges of the University.

Along with other activities, Miss Koster is a member of the recently formed Basketball and Swimming Club. Previously, she was a member of the University College-Newspaper Staff, and at present is a member of her professional organization, the New Jersey State Student Nurses Association.

After receiving her Degree in Basic Professional Nursing, Miss Koster plans to work in the nursing profession and then study further in her chosen field.

Definitely un-sooted!

We heard the other day that the soot fall for some parts of Manhattan is about 100 tons per square mile. Air pollution is a very serious problem that deserves all of our attention.

Soot frequently discolors and damages fabrics. Some soot resists both washing and drycleaning... requiring special handling. This is where a skilled Spotter is worth his weight in gold. He knows the chemistry of "dirt" and eliminates it without discoloring the garment.

The Spotter once had a relatively easy job, but with the advent of new fabrics and dyes it has become rather complex. Therefore, we are most fortunate in having one of the finest Spotters in the country at Pan American.

So if you've picked up a load of soot or a lipstick smudge, let Pan American help you out of the spot. Remember, after a spot has been pressed, it's almost impossible to take it out. Don't be a do-it-yourselfer when you can call upon our experience and service.

Open 7 A.M. to 7 P.M. Mondays through Saturdays

A Flared Skirt For Springtime

The flared skirt is a spring style feature. The way you handle and sew a flared skirt will make the difference between one that is graceful or one that sags and puckers.

To assemble the skirt, pin gores together at the top and bottom first. Then pin at notches, matching them exactly. Ease remainder seam lines together, being careful not to stretch the fabric. Place pins at right angles to the cut edge for a smoother seam.

Expert Predicts Tree-Boom Due To City Growth

The growth of super-cities envisioned by municipal authorities during the next several decades will increase the urban dweller's demand for trees and shrubs and other forms of arboreal beauty to boom proportions.

Signpost Too Much For Auto

Springfield police reported that an auto driven by Patrick L. McCafferty, 38, of 13 Waverly Place, Madison, while going west in Morris Avenue last Saturday night, was in collision with a State signpost at the Meisel Avenue intersection, which caused severe damage to both the post and the automobile.

According to police the auto was driven on the shoulder of the road approximately 30 feet before hitting the sign, which was broken into two pieces. The front right side of the car was completely smashed and a hole was made in the car roof where the sign fell on it.

It was reported that McCafferty told police that when he applied his foot to the brake, he found it did not work. Examination of the brake indicated that the pedal went down to the floor, police said.

A summons for careless driving was issued to the driver by Patrolman Samuel Calabrese, who investigated. McCafferty is scheduled to appear before Police Magistrate Thomas A. Argyris February 19th.

M&R Signs Agreement

M & R Refractory Metals, Inc., formerly known as Metals & Residues, Inc., has announced the signing of a license agreement with the Universal-Cyclops Steel Corporation of Bridgeville, Pennsylvania.

Under the terms of this agreement, Universal-Cyclops has been licensed exclusively, but solely for its own consumption and only within the Continental United States, to use the Supro Process in the manufacture of molybdenum and tungsten metal powders. M & R has retained rights under which it will continue to manufacture these powders and under which it, exclusively, will continue to sell them to industry throughout the world.

The initial facility will be engineered by M & R and will be installed in Universal's Refractory Division at Bridgeville, Pennsylvania.

The Supro Process, which was invented and patented by Lester D. Supro, president of M & R, produces molybdenum and tungsten metal powders by reducing the respective compounds at a rate which is many times more rapid than that obtainable by conventional procedures. Universal-Cyclops chose this process after a thorough evaluation which proved conclusively that the process produces molybdenum and tungsten powders of superior pressing and sintering properties. Moreover, the Supro Process produces these superior powders more economically than other existing processes produce conventional powders.

HOW Water Works

DO YOU KNOW...? WHY SOME CLOUDS ARE WHITE AND OTHERS BLACK?

The difference is caused by the size of the water particles in the clouds, as well as by the amount of sunlight striking on them. When the water particles are small, they reflect sunlight and the cloud is white. When the drops of water are larger, they absorb light instead of reflecting it and the cloud appears dark.

Ellie Elephant's 2nd Chance

by Geldt Mallay

Ellie Elephant crashed through the brush making a terrible noise. "Why aren't you more careful, Ellie," scolded her Mama. "You'll bring the hunters here, making so much noise."

"I don't care!" said Ellie. "I wish they would come!"

The older elephants looked down their trunks at Ellie. "You wouldn't be so frisky if they did," said one.

"Would you like to be chained and work all day?" asked another. Ellie swayed her trunk. "I think it would be jazzy!" she said and crashed off to the lake, splashing in with a squeaky trumpeting.

"I'm sorry," said Ellie's mama. "I don't know what to do with that child!"

Just then a shot was fired. The elephants raised their heads. "She's done it again!" they trumpeted. "We're off to safety. You coming?"

"I can't leave my baby," said Mama.

Ellie's father came into the clearing. "The hunters are coming!" he called. "Run for safety. I'll get Ellie." He nudged Mama along with the others.

"Ellie! Ellie!" he trumpeted. "We're leaving for safety."

Ellie did not hear. She was standing on her head doing tricks. Her father plunged into the water and turned her right side up, spanking her with his trunk. He could hear the hunters' voices.

"We'll go out the other end of the lake," he whispered, pushing Ellie.

"Mama! Mama!" squealed Ellie, pointing her trunk toward the clearing. There was her Mama, standing quietly while the hunters tied her so she could not run away.

"See what happens when you don't obey scolded Papa." "We cannot leave your Mama there alone. We'll all be captured." He spanked Ellie ashore with his trunk.

Ellie was not afraid. She wanted to give the hunters a shower but Mama held her trunk down.

"Behave yourself," scolded Papa. Elephant. "Do you want these hunters to use their guns? It's better to be captured than killed."

So the elephants let the hunters tie them and lead them to their camp where they were locked in a big stockade and given some food.

"This is fun!" said Ellie, grabbing the food.

"Don't take such big mouths, Ellie," said Mama. "If you hadn't been naughty we wouldn't be here. Whatever will happen now?"

"Don't worry, my dear," said Papa. "We're together and alive. This grass is delicious. Try some."

Next day many men came to see the elephants.

"I want that huge elephant to work for me," said one, pointing to Ellie's Papa.

"That Mama elephant is just right for my zoo," said another.

"I'll take the baby for my carnival," said a third.

The men took out their wallets to count their money.

For the first time Ellie was afraid. If only she had another chance. She crawled underneath her Mama trying to hide, wishing hard that something would happen so they could stay together.

Mama Elephant felt very sad. She didn't want to go to a zoo. Papa Elephant was angry. He stamped back and forth swinging his trunk. The first man to come near them he would throw high into the air. And the next, and the next. And every man!

Just then a little boy ran to the stockade.

"Daddy!" he cried. "Here is a baby elephant! And the Mama and Papa!"

"You're right Bill, answered his Daddy. "An elephant family! They can do a family act together." He turned to the hunters. "Here is my money," he said. "I need all three in my circus."

The other men began to argue, shouting at each other. Papa elephant listened carefully. Suddenly they all stopped arguing while the hunters spoke to Bill.

"If the baby elephant likes you, we'll let your Daddy buy them all for his circus," they said, opening the gate just far enough for a little boy to get in.

Ellie squeezed out from under her Mama and went to Bill. She patted him and hugged him with her trunk and rubbed against him trying hard to be friends so her family could stay together.

"You've won!" cried the hunters. "Anyone can see that a little elephant is just right for a little boy!"

SCIENCE NOTEBOOK

Hans Klein

Scientists have made rather good estimates on the size of molecules, atoms, and even on subdivisions of atoms. But if no microscope is powerful enough even to come close to making atoms visible, how is it possible to measure their size?

Let us illustrate with methods which might have been practical even for the ancient Greeks. Suppose we wish to measure the thickness of pages in a book; the best measuring instrument available is a ruler marked off only to sixteenths of an inch. How can we measure beyond the accuracy of our instrument? Simply count the pages measuring an inch in thickness. To make it easy, assume the paper to be quite thin with 1000 pages to the inch—the thickness of each page is obvious.

Now let us try to find the diameter of a molecule of oil. A drop of oil on a large surface of water could spread conceivably until it formed a layer only one molecule thick—certainly not less. It is not difficult to find the volume of the drop of oil. If need be, we could count the number of drops to make up one cubic centimeter. A cubic centimeter is slightly less in volume than a cube measuring a half inch per side. Next, we determine the area to which the oil spreads over the surface of the water.

The area times the thickness is equal to the volume of the oil. By knowing the area and the volume, we can calculate the height, if the oil has spread into a single layer of molecules, the thickness calculated is the diameter of an oil molecule. One hundredth of a cubic centimeter of oil spreads out on a water surface to an area of 10 square meters or 100,000 square centimeters. Should you wish to figure the diameter of an oil molecule divide the volume, .01, by the area, 100,000. It should be apparent that the number you get is quite small: A single oil molecule might contain 50 or more atoms depending on the particular oil, so an atom is appreciably smaller. More intricate, though similar, methods are required to make atomic measurements.

SCIENCE QUIZ

1. What is the best proof for the existence of atoms, through: visual, electron microscope, mathematical, or chemical evidence?
2. Which is the usual means through which we understand what a million dollars amounts to: by counting, by seeing, by inference, by sensing its value?
3. Which of the following words is not Greek origin: atom, proton, science, or energy?
4. Under identical conditions, a given volume of which of these gases contains the most molecules: oxygen, hydrogen, carbon dioxide, or all the same?
5. Which contains most atoms one gram of: steam, ice, water, or all the same?

ANSWERS

1. Mathematical. There is some proof in chemical evidence, but the best evidence is derived mathematically.
2. By inference. The concept of a million of anything depends somewhat on the person. Our senses certainly do not grasp the exact significance of so large a number. This does not prevent us from dealing accurately with such numbers by special reasoning processes.
3. Science. The word is from the Latin root, "scire", to know.
4. All the same. According to Avogadro's principle, equal volumes of gases under identical conditions contain equal numbers of molecules.
5. All the same. The weight of a substance actually depends upon the weight of the individual atoms times their total number.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1962

The strength of our democracy is no greater than the collective well-being of our people. The vigor of our country is no stronger than the vitality and will of all our countrymen. The level of physical, mental, moral and spiritual fitness of every American citizen must be of constant concern.

Words of President Kennedy directed to the schools of our country on the subject of the physical fitness of our youth. Now, more than ever before, America is becoming "health conscious." The great need to develop our bodies in quest of stronger, healthier minds is predominant in many athletic and exercising classes around the U.S.A.

One need go no greater distance than Springfield's Regional High School to see President Kennedy's wishes carried out in a well planned program of physical fitness.

Under the direction of Athletic Director Herb Palmer and his qualified staff, Regional students are currently undergoing what has come to be regarded as the "annual fitness period."

In the course of four weeks each gym class at Dayton will have the opportunity to practice various skills on the apparatus in preparation for a final two week period devoted to the testing of a list of exercises in keeping with the requirements of the American Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation Youth Fitness Test.

Through the results of these tests, each Regional student will be able to determine just how he stands among those in his classification tested throughout the nation. It should be added that Dayton Regional students have always ranked above the norm since the school adopted the program three years ago.

The tests, while simple, still show just how much a person has in the way of physical prowess, and just how far he might have to go to "catch up" with the rest of the nation's youth.

The A.S.H.P.E.R. Test includes the following categories: Sit Ups, Pull Ups, Modern Pull Ups, the Shuttle Run, Broad Jump, 50 Yard Run, Softball Throw, and 600 Yard Run.

While most of these classifications are done right in the R.H.S. gymnasium, the dashes and softball throws have to wait until Spring before they can be executed on the athletic field.

Palmer, his staff, and the students at Regional are quite enthusiastic over the program. Aside from receiving patches after completing the tests, students get the opportunity as Palmer explains it of "getting the chance to excel. Of becoming apt gymnasts and establishing personal records which they find themselves breaking after a few weeks of practice."

"Not every boy can be a Varsity ballplayer, but every boy can get the satisfaction of starting with 25 sit ups and increasing the number to 225 after three weeks. The whole program boils down to a challenge that must be met if we are to remain socially, mentally and physically healthy," Palmer concluded.

The Dayton coaches are quick to point out that other activities have not gone by the wayside as a result of the stress on fitness. As one coach commented: "We like to see the kids working out on the apparatus, and preparing themselves for the fitness test, a combination that can only prove to their advantage, but we are trying not to emphasize one phase of physical education at the expense of another."

"There used to be a time," the coach continued, "when gym meant all games and nothing else. Then there were and are systems that dwell chiefly on the apparatus and marching drills. What we at Dayton are trying to do is keep an even blending between the two. While personal fitness is of great importance, one must remember that our country was built on a team effort, and our boys must also learn how to be part of the 'team' through a program of competitive games."

One outgrowth of the fitness program this year will be that five members of the high school will travel to Newark State Teachers to compete with other students in the US Marine's Physical Fitness Program.

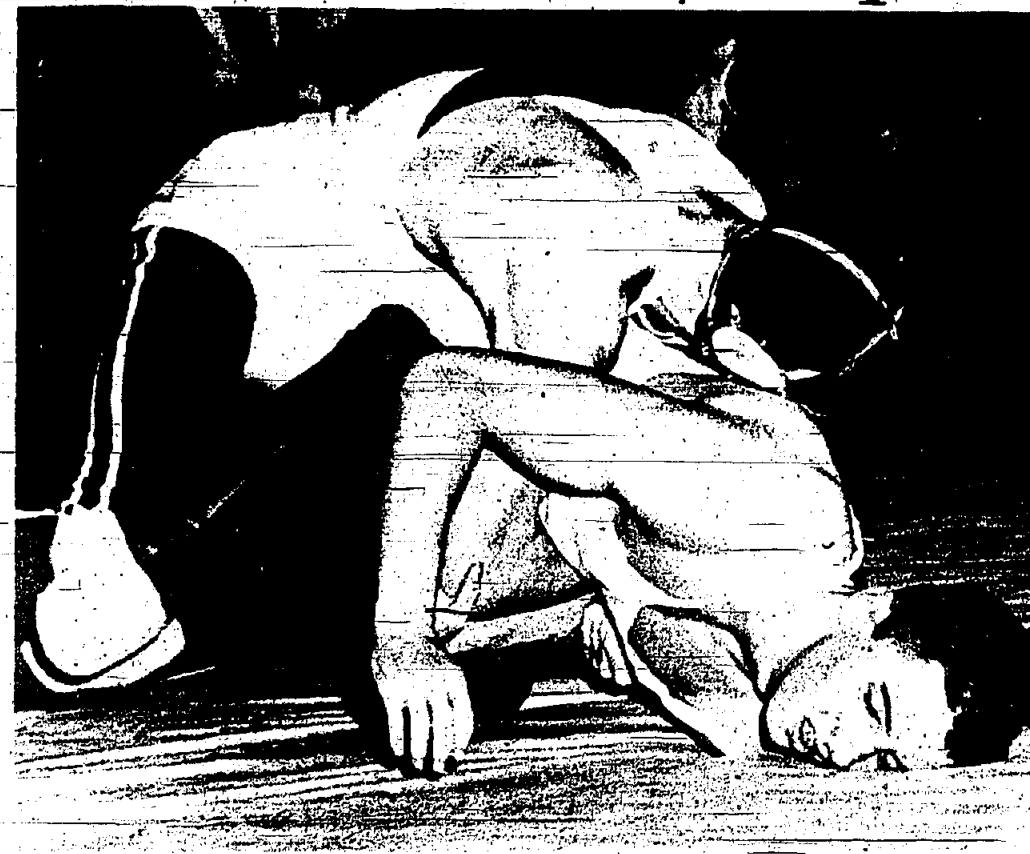

Coach Palmer reports that competition is keen for a berth on the team. An incentive that has helped the program a great deal. This corner welcomes any questions regarding the fitness program from interested parents, and will forward them along to Mr. Palmer for answers. Address any inquiries to: Dick Schwartz, Watching Weeklies, 200 Morris Avenue, Springfield, N.J.

STUMPED???—Springfield Regional wrestling coach Herb Palmer looks around for an answer during Bulldog's match against powerful Union High. At this point Union was six points ahead in the match. Palmer attributed Union's overall strength to their intensive training program in the lower grades, and felt his boys generally made a good showing despite the lopsided 36-5 score. (Dick Schwartz)

Bulldogs Scalp Indians

The Rahway Indians invaded Springfield Regional's gym last Friday in a Union County basketball contest, and the visitors came out on the short end of a 63-38 decision.

A jump shot by Ted Schuss put the Bulldogs out in front as the game began, and after an exchange of buckets, Rahway led 7-4.

A beautifully executed layup by Jack Appar pulled the score to within one, 7-6, and a foul competition by Dave Bonislawski tied the game at 7. A jump shot by Schuss and layups by Dave Kretzer and Bonislawski made it 13-7 before the Indians could manage to score again.

Two fouls by Schuss made it 15-9 at the quarter.

A layup by Schuss on a tap play started the second period off with Springfield increasing its lead, 17-9. A set by Bonislawski and a layup by Kretzer on an in-bounds play increased the Bulldog spread, 21-11. A Schuss jumper repeated two more times in the next few moments gave the home club a 27-13 margin. Schuss then converted his eighth consecutive point to give his team a 29-17 halftime lead.

Rahway scored first as the second half began, but a foul conversion by Kretzer made it 30-19. The Indians then pulled within six points before Bonislawski finally put the Bulldogs back on the offensive track with a foul shot to push the count to 31-24. Schuss finally hit a field goal to score 33-24 with 3:50 left in the quarter.

Then Springfield struck hard and an Appar to Bonislawski TD pass for an easy score, gave the home fans something to cheer about as the Orange and Blue held a 45-30 lead at the third quarter's huzzar.

It was no contest in the final stanza, and at times it appeared to be no basketball as well. Both teams scrambled for points with a great deal of sloppy play dominating the hardwood. Don Jacoby of the second team gave the Bulldogs their final four points and a 63-38 victory as the game ended.

Schuss led all scorers with 26 points followed by Bonislawski with 15.

Colantone Holds Lead

Colantone Shoes held a two game lead in Springfield Sports League play this week as they won two from Coral Stamping. Conte's Deli moved into a 2nd place tie with the V.F.W. as they continued on their winning skein by taking all three games from Bond Electronics.

Milton's Liquors have extended an eight game winning streak by taking three from the slumping Sam's Amoco.

V.F.W. won two of three from P.B.A.

Well Drilled Union Mauls Bulldogs 36-5

"We came up against a team who, on that particular day, were better than we were." That is how Springfield wrestling mentor Herb Palmer summed up his team's loss to Union 36-5 at the Bulldog gym last Friday afternoon.

"It should be said, however," continued the Coach, "that Union has always been tough, and probably always will be. Those kids knew their fundamentals from top to bottom, most likely because of the terrific amount of training all Union youngsters receive in athletics on the grammar school level."

"Our districts in the Regional system, by their geographical layout alone, can never hope to equal the concentrated training lower grades in Union receive coupled with Union High's athletic program."

The Friday match proved a disaster for the Bulldogs who were 6-2 before they ran into the Farmers.

Undefeated 97-lb. Rich Lucarello began the festivities with a 0-0 draw with John Young. Both boys displayed excellent wrestling knowledge in this well-paced duel.

Pete Puntigam followed Lucarello for RHS and dropped a 2-0 decision after Jim Burke of Union pulled a last period reversal.

Dave Gleitman of the Farmers gained a 6-0 decision over Barry Becker of the home team, and Sam Flori tripped Regional's Ron Puorro 8-3 in a very spirited match. Puorro showed a great deal of hustle and poise in the last period, but was too far down at that point to turn the tables on the outcome.

In the 129-lb. class, Jack Willis, captain of the Farmers, outpointed Tom Baker, 6-1. Bill Croekmur of the visitors gave Union its first pin of the day when he ended his match with Joe Scelfo at 5:46.

Dick Krupinski toppled Bob Haas in the 140-lb. match, 5-0 and Garry Olson defeated Tuffy Hartz in a tight 2-1 battle. Tuffy returned to the mat after recovering from a pulled back muscle.

The high three game series in the boys' division was rolled by Joe Casternovia who had a score of 456. Jerilyn Goodman's three game series of 338 was the highest in the girls' division. Dave Gibbins and Marilyn Morzell won top honors for high single games of 174 and 134 respectively. Runners up and alternates to the State tournament were Mike Rekorn and Ruth Smith.

Youngsters Cop Prizes

Joe Casternovia and Jerilyn Goodman paced the field of 32 contestants in the Jaycee Junior Bowling Tournament, sponsored by the Springfield Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The tourney was held at the Echo Lanes on Saturday, Feb. 3, and play was governed by the rules of the Junior American Bowling Congress.

The contest was open to Springfield boys and girls in grades 7, 8 and 9. The winners have been entered in the New Jersey State Jaycee Junior Bowling Tournament in Fanwood-Scotch Plains on Saturday, March 17.

The high three game series in the boys' division was rolled by Joe Casternovia who had a score of 456. Jerilyn Goodman's three game series of 338 was the highest in the girls' division. Livingston Matmen Hopeful As Season Reaches Finale

A winning season for the team and an undefeated season for John Wadas, 129 pounder, these were the principal objectives of the wrestlers of Governor Livingston Regional High School as they awaited their final two matches of the regular season.

Carrying a 5-4 record into the final matches with Rahway High School here last Tuesday and with Springfield Regional next Tuesday afternoon in Springfield, a winning season certainly seems to be within reach of Coach Ray Higgins' squad.

The Highlanders were favored to defeat Rahway this week and rate at least an even choice to whip the powerful Bulldogs of Springfield.

Wadas sported an 8-0 record going into the Rahway match and is rated an excellent chance of being the first Highlander grappler to wind up with an undefeated season. Wadas scored two easy victories last week as the Highlanders trounced Hanover Park Regional High School, 37-13, and then had their four-match winning streak snapped by strong Scotch Plains High School, 25-20.

Wadas and Len Semon, the Highlanders' 168-pounder, loom as the team's top threats for district championship honors. Semon has an 8-1 record after scoring a pin and a decision last week.

As has been their custom, the Highlanders spotted both Hanover Park and Scotch Plains big leads in the early matches. With little Phil Hof sidelined with an ear injury, the Highlander lightweighters were even further weakened. Two different boys handled Hof's assignment in the 98-pound class and both were pinned.

Hanover Park led Governor Livingston 10-0, but the Highlanders stormed back to win nine of the last 10 bouts and post their easiest victory of the season. After six bouts, Hanover Park still led 13-11. Then Frank Christensen gave the Highlanders a 14-13 lead with a decision and Bud Conte, Frank Fish, Semon and "Chuck" Whitford followed with pins to give Governor Livingston a 34-13 lead. John Carvellas wound it up with an easy 14-2 decision.

Scotch Plains won the first three bouts, with two Highlander regulars sidelined, to take an 11-0 lead. Governor Livingston battled back to a 20-18 deficit on Semon's decision victory, but "Chuck" Whitford battled to a tie and Carvellas lost a decision to highly rated John Rannels to assure Scotch Plains of victory.

The Governor Livingston-Scotch Plains match was one of the closest of the season. It was marked by three draws, with Conte and Fish joining Whitford in settling for a tie. These three ties, all involving Highlander standouts, proved costly to Governor Livingston.

Senior men (18 years of age and over) may participate in a 440 and 880-yard speed event.

Appropriate awards will be made to the first three place winners in each event.

Entry forms are now available at the Warnanco Park Ice Skating Center and at the offices of the Park Commission.

WINNERS—These youngsters took the honors in the bowling tournament held last week by the Springfield Jaycees. Standing are John Allen, Bob Henry, and Richard Bishop, organizers of the event. Kneeling are the winners by John Casternovia, Jerilyn Goodman, Marilyn Marzell, and Dave Gibbins. (Dick Schwartz)

Post Season Opportunities Bright For Cagers

TUSSLE—Play moves to the floor in Ridge, Berkeley Heights last week. Heights won, 64-49.

The hopes of Governor Livingston Regional High School's Basketball team for post-season bids to the Union County Conference and New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association tournaments skyrocketed last week.

With impressive victories over Ridge High School of Basking Ridge, 64-49, in Basking Ridge, and Bridgewater-Raritan High School, 72-61, here last Friday, Coach Don Wodock's team finally is beginning to flash the form he had anticipated before the season.

The pair of triumphs boosted Governor Livingston's season record to 6-7, with a return meeting with Piscataway High School last Tuesday in Piscataway offering the Highlanders an opportunity to even their season record.

Governor Livingston defeated the Braves of Piscataway in the season opener here. Although the Braves only have a 5-3 record, they figured to be tougher on their home floor than in their visit here.

Governor Livingston faces another vital test tomorrow night when it journeys to Hillside to meet the strong Comets of Hillside High School. Hillside currently holds third place in the strong Watching Conference with an 8-3 record, trailing only Cranford and Westfield.

Since the Hillside game is the last for the Highlanders before the Union County Conference seeding committee meets on next Monday night in Westfield, the game is a big one. Pending the results of their games with Piscataway and Hillside, the Highlanders could present the seeding committee with an 8-7, 7-8 or 6-9 record. An 8-7 or 7-8 mark might be enough to qualify for the UCC tourney since a good number of UCC teams are sporting below .500 records.

A win over Hillside would do much to assure the Highlanders of a UCC bid. The cagers of Wodock are still looking for their first victory this season over a county rival, they have bowed to New Providence (twice), Summit and Rahway.

While the Highlanders were boosting their bid for tournament invitations, Lynn Nesbitt was solidifying his "already" potent claims to all-county and all-state recognition.

Lynn, the Summit Area's top scorer with 285 points in 13 games, scored 26 against Ridge and 29 against Bridgewater-Raritan to boost his scoring average to 21.9 points per game. His 29-point showing against Bridgewater was just one short of his school record of 30 set last season against Bound Brook.

It was, however, his biggest output of the season.

Nesbitt swished in 10 points in the first period against Ridge to boost Governor Livingston into a 14-7 lead it never relinquished.

The Highlanders boosted their margin to 25-16 at halftime and wrapped up the victory with a 22-point third period for a 47-30 edge entering the final period.

Wodock used two full teams but Ridge never threatened. Nesbitt finished with 10 goals and six fouls. Jack Wetts also hit double figures, scoring 10 points. Reserve Ken McCown tallied eight.

For one of the few times this season, only five players were utilized by Wodock against Bridgewater-Raritan, the third-place team in the Somerset County Conference behind undefeated Somerville and Bound Brook. Two regulars, Jerry DiPasquale and Bob Heuer, were out of action.

Bulldogs Beat Raiders, 79-67

BY ARNIE MINIMAN

The Regional High School cagers put together two consecutive wins for the first time in ten games as they smothered Scotch Plains, 79-67, Tuesday afternoon at the Springfield gym.

The Bulldogs maintained a balanced attack throughout the game as they tallied their highest offensive output of the season.

The Raiders managed to pull ahead 4-2 early in the contest but two free throws by Dave Bonislowski and a set by Jack Aggar gave RHS the lead for good.

With Ted Schuss and Jack Aggar combining for 14 points the Bulldogs led 17-10 at the end of the first quarter.

In the second period Springfield displayed perhaps their finest team effort of the season as they took good shots and played heads-up on defense.

In the second half a complete change took place as both teams broke heavily into the scoring column. The Bulldogs tallied 50 points in the half while Plains managed 48.

With Dave Bonislowski playing in top form, Springfield increased its lead to a 53-34 margin at the end of the third period.

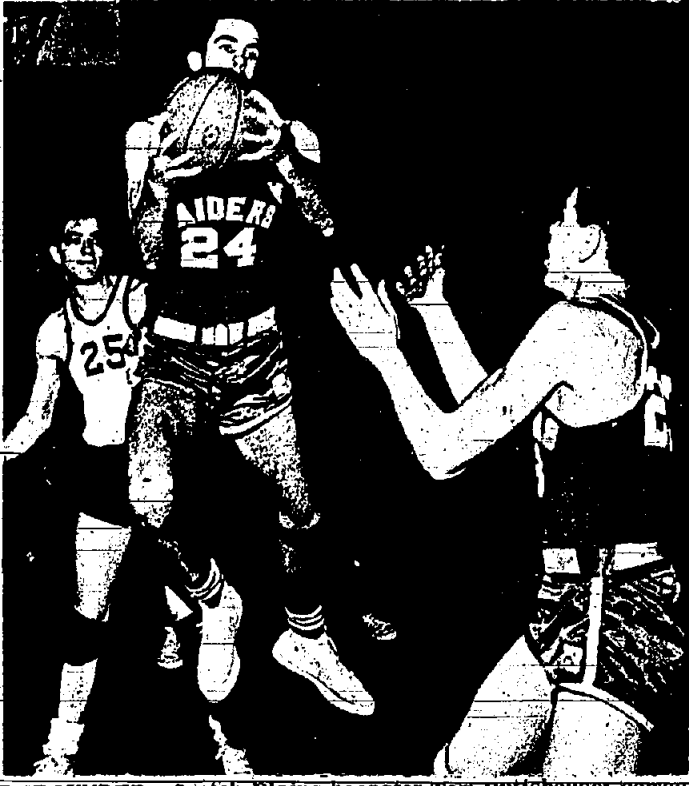

While Scotch Plains presented an outstanding backcourt player in Tom Rutishauser, Jack Aggar completely controlled matters. Aggar displayed the ability during a tight all-court press by the Raiders—and often went all the way for great layup shots.

With Dennis Francis hitting four consecutive field goals, the Bulldogs took a commanding 66-45 lead with 5 minutes remaining in the contest. Soon thereafter, with the count 77-37, an entire new squad came in for Springfield. For two minutes the substitutes failed to penetrate the visitor's press, and the high game against Caldwell of 77 points looked as though it wouldn't be broken.

However, with less than a minute left, Harold Bell converted a Bill Nelson pass into an easy layup.

Dave Bonislowski tallied 23 for Regional with Ted Schuss close behind at 20. Aggar and Francis managed 16 and 10 respectively and Bill Kretzer completely overshadowed his 8 points with another outstanding defensive performance. Besides grabbing many rebounds, he held the Raider's Bill Lott, a high scorer, far below his 18 point average.

In the Junior Varsity game that followed, Scotch Plains came out on top by a wide margin.

REBOUNDER—Scotch Plains hoopster Tom Rutishauser comes off the boards with a rebound against Plainfield last week, and looks as though he's ready to unload the apple to Rich Smith.

Ehrhardt Clings To League Lead

Ehrhardt Electronics retained their 1/2 game lead over Springfield Bowl in Springfield Municipal League play, by taking three from Evergreen while Springfield Bowl was doing likewise to Francis Auto.

D'Andrea has really come alive these last few weeks, winning 14 out of 15 and jumping from 16th place in the League to 6th spot.

JV Club Shines In Rahway Win

A 64-43 victory over Rahway's JV cagers gave Coach Ray Yanchus' Bulldog club a long awaited second victory of this current hoop campaign.

The junior version's starting lineup of Steve Berger, Frank Monticello, Bruce Ledig, Steve Arnold and Gary Faucher ran the visitors into the ground with some sparkling offensive and defensive play.

The boys ran fast breaks at every opportunity, and the pace showed in the third quarter as the Springfield forces only managed a nine point output, but the damage to Rahway had already been done.

The game had no individual standout point-wise, all members of the squad showing what a team effort can do. Faucher and Ledig did bag 12 for the victors.

Somerville Club Takes Bulldogs By 77-53 Count

Springfield Regional's hoop squad met Somerville on the local court last week, and the visitors took the contest 77-53. The Regional Junior Varsity also lost.

A set by Jack Aggar put the home team ahead 2-0. Both clubs took many shots with little luck on either part and with 5:30 remaining in the first quarter Somerville had recaptured the lead, 3-2.

Another Aggar set made it 4-3 and an Aggar layup also added to the Springfield cause, but some fine outside shooting by the visitors made the count 12-6.

The Orange and Blue had trouble holding onto the apple and Somerville had a 16-6 margin before Ted Schuss made a jump shot. Another jump by Dave Kretzer made the score 18-8 and still another contribution by Schuss halted the score at 20-12 at the quarter.

Three quick outside shots gave Somerville a 26-12 edge before Dave Bonislowski hit on a jumper. A Schuss foul and jumpers by the center and Kretzer made it 31-19. A combination of Regional offensive punch pulled the score to 37-29 at the half-way mark of the contest.

Two foul conversions by Bonislowski and a set by Aggar kept Springfield within 9 at 44-35 in the third period, but Somerville slowly but surely pulled ahead to a 51-35 lead at the end of the third quarter.

After the fourth quarter began, the visitors never relinquished their hold on the lead and it was 77-53 at the buzzer. Schuss led the RHS club with 21 markers for the afternoon.

Lakers, Nats Unbeaten

John Reilly's Lakers and Hal McGraw's Nationals continue to remain undefeated in St. Barnabas' Cage Loop in Scotch Plains. The Lakers downed the Hawks 19-10 in the National League while the Nats triggered the Bulls 10-4 in the Midwest League.

In other games Jimmy Degroatis scored 12 points as the Generals mastered the Stags 18-6 and Steve Ritters 6 points were outstanding as the Royals swamped the Celtics 27-9.

averaged 16 points per game. When Governor Livingston opened in 1960, Lynn transferred and Wodock was named basketball coach.

As a sophomore last season, Nesbitt flipped in 240 points and combined with Howie Rudominer to give the Highlanders one of the most potent scoring duos in the county. Lynn set a school record with 30 points against a strong Bound Brook High team last season and also set a school mark of 10 successful foul shots in the same game.

Lynn's 30 points in a game still is a record, but he tossed in 11 fouls against Chatham High earlier this season to break his own mark. Rudominer holds the season scoring record with 324 points (in 18 games). Nesbitt tallied 230 in his first 11 games this season and figures to easily surpass Rudominer's mark.

What is Nesbitt's secret for success? Wodock cites several things. "Lynn has very quick hands, he gets his shots off very fast and this makes him very hard to stop. His favorite shots are jump shots from the corner and outside the foul line but he also scores frequently on rebounds. The jump shot though is his real forte.

"There are two factors in Nesbitt's outstanding rebounding. He positions himself well under the backboard and, of course, he has tremendous jumping ability."

On a team plagued by poor shooting much of the season, Nesbitt has been a notable exception. According to Wodock's "book," Lynn is shooting at a 43 per cent clip and is averaging 71 per cent on his foul attempts.

There is another feature of Nesbitt's play that Wodock admires. He commits a "minimum" of personal fouls and thereby is in little danger of fouling out during a game.

Until the second meeting with New Providence, Nesbitt had scored between 17 and 27 points in every appearance. He tossed in 22 against the Pioneers the first time around, but had his only "off" night of the season in the other New Providence game when he was limited to 10 markers. Lynn has scored 20-27 points in six different games.

That's quite a record for a basketball player who looks more like a football player with his solid build and the 202 pounds he sports on his six-foot frame. Maybe that's because he is a football player too. He played offensive end and defensive line-backer for the Highlanders last season. Lynn plays baseball, too. He was third baseman for the Highlanders last spring and wielded a big bat. He was one of the team's leading hitters and its biggest long-ball threat.

Quite a boy this Lynn Nesbitt, and quite an athlete. Certainly one who deserves all-county and all-state recognition, but one who may not get it unless his team gets in the tournaments. Let's hope the Highlanders do!

Springfield Recreation Round Up

BY GARY FALKIN

One of the best scoring exhibitions of the season was displayed in the State League last Saturday afternoon at the Gaudinier gym. In the opening contest North Carolina gained a "sudden death" victory over the Texas five. Mike Catapano provided the two points to break the 20-all tie. Howard Goldhammer and Bob Catapano also helped in the victory. Dave Rich, Bobby Ferrigno and Johnny Eva were the top performers for Texas.

In the second game Minnesota stopped a West Virginia scoring spree and suppressed them by a score of 24-20. Rich Cohen, Rich Sherman, Gary Haydu and John Schoch paced the losers while Rich Campbell, Dave Cash, Joe Sarno and Howard Spielman were the standouts.

In the third game of the afternoon Florida showed much improvement by topping Kentucky 20-16. Fred Vollherbst, Bill Aggar and Keith Brink were the standouts for the winners while Fred Title led the losers.

In the next game, Wyoming had an easy time in beating Utah with Gary Kurtz, and Tim Sommer's providing the margin. Don Cubberly, Ken Braxeman and Don Bueher topped the losing five.

In the finale, Oklahoma triumphed over California 17-14 in a hard fought battle. Enge Zoern, Bill Murphy, and Gordon Cunningham were the leading scorers while Joe Bucc, Dale Liles and Bob Fitzsimmons paced the Californians.

In the Tuesday-Thursday Ivy League, several exciting games featured play. On Tuesday night Columbia nipped Harvard 33-31 as Jimmy Belliveau, Ron Hazeldmann, and Bobby Gartland sparked the winners. Kerry Tompkins, Gregg Paulsen, Dan Ginter and Steve Hartz led the losers.

In the nightcap Cornell clipped Yale 38-37 as Louis Clark and Bob Shubert sparked the victory. Harold Hansen, Andy Besch and Jay Rosenberg were the top performers for the losers.

On Thursday Princeton showed great scoring power as they gained a 47-39 win over Dartmouth. Ernie Erskine scored 18 points for the winners with Glenn Cole assisting with 13. Pete Lawrence, Bob Belliveau, Ron Azarewicz and Steve Selgel were the best for Dartmouth.

Spirited play featured Small-Fry activity at the Caldwell School last Saturday. In the opener the Bulls defeated the Pistons with Jacob, Gottlieb, Ryder and Janukowicz the sparks. In the next contest the Knicks defeated the Aggies 18-14 with Stokes getting 10 of the points. D'Andrea and Beck were the losing standouts. The Lakers defeated the Billkens.

In the finale the Nats walloped the Celtics 22-6, with May and Lewis the standouts for the Nationals. Gary Mayer topped the Celtics.

In the Sandmeier School, the Indians posted a top-sided 17-1 victory over the Raiders as Gary Ginsberg, Rich Falkin, and Steve Atkin provided the scoring punch. Keith Brownlie, Steve Dorsey and Joel Millman paced the Raiders. In the next game the Lions gained a 12-5 win over the Browns as Bob Ralph, Frank LaMotta and Bob Sternbach led for the losers. Warren Danziger and Jackie Gargano topped the winners.

In the finale, the Pirates gained an easy 12-7 win over the Giants as Dave Margolies, Bruce Gerstein and Rich Tali provided the needed touch. Ralph LoSanno and Bill Schwartz were the top men for the Giants.

FDU's Madison Cage Quintet Stand 7-2 At Halfway Mark

The Madison-Metropolitans, FDU's basketball quintet have compiled an impressive 7-2 record for the first half of the 1961-62 campaign. The Madison Metropolitans in their second year of inter-collegiate basketball copped their last three games.

The second half of the schedule includes 11 contests and features a closing six game home stand at the Mets newly renovated gymnasium.

Making steady progress since their opening game, the Madison FDU squad should have little difficulty finishing the season with a relatively successful record. The opening half of the season was highlighted by two new single game Madison-FDU scoring records. John O'Neill of Elizabeth (N.J.), set a new individual performance by dumping in 42 points against Pace College of New York, to surpass Ken Dumber's 37 point total set last year against Shelton College, Madison Met's also ran up 110 points against Philadelphia College of Pharmacy to set a new team mark.

The Mets have victories over Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science, Rutgers of South Jersey, Rutgers of Newark, Brooklyn Poly, N.Y. State University-Long Island, Bloomfield College, and Pace College. The losses suffered were at the hands of East Stroudsburg State College and once beaten Monmouth College, the only New Jersey team to beat the Mets.

The Madison-FDU's junior varsity contingent in their first year of intercollegiate basketball have run their record to five wins against three defeats, playing one less game than the varsity.

Heavyweights In Elizabeth

The scheduled appearance of eight heavyweights has added unusual interest in the semifinal program of the New Jersey Golden Gloves tournament tomorrow night in the Elks Club auditorium. Action starts at 8:30 P.M.

Four of the big boys will swing leather in the novice division and four more experienced heavies are awaiting duty in the open division. Featherweights, lightweights, welterweights, middleweights and light heavyweights also have been summoned for action.

The heavyweight list is topped by Herman Callands, Jefferson High School basketball star from Elizabeth who is the 1961 Gloves open champion, and John White of Newark, who lost to Callands in last year's final. White, a 6-8 giant and one of the tallest boxers in N.J., Golden Gloves history, won the 1959 novice championship and captured the open title in 1960.

Beacon on Sports

BY JAMES

When the basketball team you're coaching is under the .500 mark in wins and losses some five days before the Union County Conference tournament committee sits down to seed the county's top eight teams and select eight others for tournament play, the average coach wouldn't be too concerned about playing in the tournament.

We don't know whether or not Don Wodock, coach of Governor Livingston Regional High School's cagers qualifies as "an average coach," as that's a rather non-descript title, but we do know that Don is quite anxious to have his Highlanders compete in the Union-County Conference tournament at Upsala College in East Orange later this month.

It's more than likely that Don has no illusions that his team can win the UCC championship. In fact, it would be surprising if the Highlanders were selected to play if they progressed as far as the second round.

It's certain that Governor Livingston would be paired off with a seeded team in first-round competition and therefore it would require an upset of varying proportions to propel the Highlanders as far as the quarter-final round of play.

Wodock realizes this, but still he wants "in." Why? Well not because he is looking forward to a trip to East Orange. The Highlanders have done enough traveling during the final weeks of the season (five of the last six regular season games were played on opponents' courts).

Well, why then? Because of Lynn Nesbitt! For the benefit of the uninitiated, Lynn Nesbitt is a basketball player for Wodock's Governor Livingston Regional team. What's more, he's quite a basketball player.

Certainly he's tops in the Summit Area. He leads all Summit Area players in scoring, field goals, fouls, average number of points per game—and most important—rebounding!

For all his scoring ability—and it's tremendous—Lynn deserves special mention for his rebounding work. By present-day basketball standards for schoolboy players, Lynn is barely of average height. He stands just an even six feet, but he is blessed with springs for legs. Lynn can jump. In fact, he's gotten off his feet enough this season to haul down an average of 20 rebounds each game.

And he has rebounded consistently despite playing against cagers who were from two to six inches taller than him. That's quite a feat. And doing this heavy-duty rebounding and still finding time to average better than 20 points a game also is quite a feat! And that's what Lynn has been doing.

This has not been a particularly happy season for Wodock, but what pleasure he has derived from it has been provided by Nesbitt. New Wodock is anxious that Nesbitt should get the recognition he deserves in the form of selection to all-county and all-state teams to be selected next month.

And that's why Wodock is so eager for Governor Livingston to get an invitation to the Union County Conference tournament. It will present Nesbitt with at least one opportunity to show his ability to the many coaches and fans who have heard about him but have never seen him in action.

Because of difficulty in scheduling other county teams, many of which have previous commitments due to conferences and leagues with which they are affiliated, Governor Livingston will play only four Union County schools this season—Summit, New Providence, Rahway and Hillside. As a result of this, few Union County coaches, who cast ballots in selecting all-county teams, have seen him play.

Wodock fears this unfamiliarity with Nesbitt's playing ability may cause other coaches to overlook him. A top-notch performance in a UCC contest could do much to change this.

Wodock and Nesbitt have had parallel careers. Lynn played freshman basketball at Springfield Regional under Wodock and Meadowbrook's 1962 curtain-raiser on Tuesday night, February 20. The show will be the Irving Berlin-Howard Lindsay-Russell "Crouse success, "Call Me Madam".

During recent weeks, the building, owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Thumann, has undergone renovations. Many conveniences have been added for patrons. These include comfortable new seats, elevated tables and partial removal of obstructions.

When, in 1959, the once famous home of the big name bands was converted to a dinner-theatre, skeptics said it couldn't be done. However, producers Helga & Gary McHugh, Carl Sawyer and Richard Scanga proved they could give a 3-in-1 entertainment package of dinner, a musical comedy and dancing at popular prices and survive. The Meadowbrook not only has survived; it has prospered!

The magic Meadowbrook formula has been great entertainment headed by leading stars of stage, screen and television to thousands and thousands of dinner-theatre goers.

Over the last three years the Meadowbrook has presented 28 musical comedies, countless dinners and liquid refreshment to thousands and thousands of dinner-theatre goers.

This year's parade of stars at the Meadowbrook will open with Maggie Whiting in "Call Me Madam" and be followed by many more great performers including Marion Marlowe.

Individual and group tickets to "Call Me Madam" and other Meadowbrook shows are on sale at the dinner theatre's business office. Special discount rates are available to organizations. Phone CLifford 6-1455 for details and reservations.

Will Revise Mechanical Drawing

As a result of a recent survey of engineering schools, the Union County Regional High School District is revising its program in mechanical drawing to better prepare the students who are planning a career in engineering. The study conducted by Donald Hoagland, Coordinator of Industrial Arts and Vocational Education for the Regional District, was designed to reveal which areas of mechanical drawing are of greatest importance to the pre-engineering student. With this as a guide, all of the mechanical drawing courses in the Regional High Schools have been revised so that pre-engineering students will spend proportionately more time in those phases of the subject that the colleges have indicated as being of greatest importance.

The Engineering Graphics Division of the American Society for Engineering Education found the survey to be of sufficient importance to have included it in their current issue of "Journal of Engineering Graphics", official organ of the society.

In the new program at the Regional High Schools increased emphasis will be placed on orthographic projection, dimensioning, lettering and pictorial representation. Additions will include a half year of descriptive geometry, work in graphing and additional types of machine drawing.

Group Plan For NJ Auto Club

Catastrophe Accident and Sickness Protection is now available to members of the New Jersey Automobile Club (AAA). It was announced today by F. Kenneth Schultze, General Manager.

The group plan, offered to persons aged three months to 69 years, and continues until death, contains two distinct policies: 1) catastrophe hospital and nurse expense, and 2) catastrophe hospital, nurse, Medical and Surgical expense. Both have $100, $300, and $500 deductible schedules.

Schultze said that the first policy covers expenses actually incurred for hospital room and board, incidental fees for treatment in the hospital and 75 per cent of expenses for the services of a graduate or licensed nurse—all up to $5,000. The second policy provides, in addition, a maximum of $10 daily for physician's medical expenses during a patient's hospital stay plus a surgical schedule ranging up to $500.

The Automobile Club Underwriters Agency has been designated to represent both the Firemen's Fund Insurance Company, the underwriter of the group plan, and Club members, Schultze said.

Three Ladies Will Star In Meadowbrook Shows

Three fabulous women of the theatre will headline the first three productions of the 1962 season at the Meadowbrook Dinner Theatre, Route 23. The lineup of stars includes Margaret Whiting, Dody Goodman and Marlon Marlowe.

Producers Helga and Gary McHugh, Carl Sawyer and Richard Scanga announced the signing of the trio who will appear in three outstanding Broadway musical comedy successes.

Miss Whiting will begin the parade of talent in Irving Berlin's "Call Me Madam" starting Tuesday evening, February 20th. Starting March 20th, Dody Goodman, of Jack Paar television fame, will star in "Wonderful Town," and following the Leonard Bernstein musical, it will be Marlon Marlowe in Irving Berlin's "Wonderbar" musical, "Kiss Me Kate".

The Meadowbrook appearance will be Miss Marlowe's first since her triumph as Elsa in "The Sound of Music". She made her Broadway debut in the Rogers & Hammerstein success after outstanding performances in night clubs and television, notably on the Arthur Godfrey Show. Miss Marlowe was seen on the Godfrey Show for five years and has also appeared in London in "Sauce Tartare" and on other TV programs.

As the fiancée of Theodore Bikel in "The Sound of Music", the lovely soprano made popular the melody "How Can Love Survive?". In the Meadowbrook production, opening April 24th, Miss Marlowe will handle seven Berlin songs.

In all three musical comedies the leading ladies will receive outstanding support from all-star Broadway casts.

Reservations to the first three Meadowbrook offerings of 1962 may be made by phoning CLiford 6-1455.

Theater To Be Utilized

The forthcoming repertory season at McCarter Theatre, Princeton, has been included in the adult education programs of many New Jersey communities for the term beginning February 5.

Following consultation between local directors of adult education and Mr. Milton Lyon, Executive Director of McCarter Theatre, plans have been drawn up to permit live theatre to become a part of the adult curriculum.

McCarter is presenting from February 24 to April 8 a repertory season of great plays from the late Elizabethan period of English drama. The plays are Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice" and "Macbeth," Ben Jonson's "Alchemist," John Webster's "Duchess of Malfi," and Beaumont and Fletcher's "Knight of the Burning Pestle." Classroom discussion of the plays and period will be abetted by attendance at performances in the theatre.

It is anticipated that the course will be very popular with students. In the New Brunswick area, for instance, local directors have designated the drama course as "course of the year" in their adult curriculum.

Adults interested in enrolling should contact local adult education offices, or check locally published notices of time and place for registration. Special rates have been made available by McCarter to schools, for adults enrolled in the great plays course.

Eat Well But Spend Less Is a Worthy Family Goal

Spending more for food need not result in better meals. And spending less for food could mean health needs would not be met. With the full knowledge of the family's nutritional needs as well as likes and dislikes you can help them eat well but pay less. But you also need information in regard to food shopping to get the most for money spent.

First rule is to check your daily menus with the basic food groups and seek economical buys within each group. The four basic nutritionists recommend a meat, milk, vegetable-fruit, and bread-cereal. Dairy menus should include food from each group.

The meat group includes red meats, poultry, fish, eggs, and dry beans, dry peas, and nuts as alternates. Allow two or more servings of these for daily use. And economize when you shop by watching for items in heavy supply or on special. Always consider cost per serving rather than cost per market unit for true economy. Among fish offerings, canned salmon and tuna are usually good buys because there is no waste.

The milk group includes milk, cheese, and ice cream. Nutritionists say we should have 2 cups of milk or more or its equal for daily use. Sometimes you economize on fresh milk purchases when you buy at the store.

And remember to include whole grain or enriched bread and cereals on your market list. Since any one type of cereal may come in several container sizes, compare relative cost per ounce when you buy.

But to control food costs be a good judge of food quality, both of food as purchased and food as served. Read labels for net contents rather than judge by package exterior.

Social Security Figures Released

Last year, more than 46,200 people in Union County received about $3,250,000 dollars in old-age, survivors and disability insurance benefits under the Federal social security program, according to Ralph W. Jones, District Manager of the Elizabeth office.

Nationally, there are now almost 17 million persons receiving more than one billion dollars a month in benefit checks. This is an increase of 2 million persons and 1 billion dollars over 1960 figures.

Mr. Jones said that over 10,000 applications for benefits were filed at the Elizabeth office in 1961. These included 4225 from persons retiring, 1068 from disabled individuals, and 5675 from wives, widows, children and other dependents. There were over 500 applications filed as a result of a 1961 change in the law permitting men to retire at age 62. Additional claims also resulted from a liberalization in the amount of work needed to qualify for benefits.

Mr. Jones urged anyone who is interested in receiving information concerning social security benefits

Purchase Film On Tuberculosis

A new film entitled "Merry-Go-Round," produced by the National Tuberculosis Association, has been purchased by the Union County Tuberculosis and Health League and is available for county groups. It was announced today by Frederick T. Vansant, chairman of the League's program committee.

The 25-minute, 16 mm. sound film dramatizes current problems in tuberculosis work and some of the obstacles which need to be overcome before the goal of eradication of the disease can be achieved.

Mildred Dunnock, Broadway and television actress, plays the part of Doctor Jennings in the film. Miss Dunnock appeared in the stage version of "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" and in the movie "Butterfield 8."

Writer of the screen-play "Merry-Go-Round" is Mildred Lampell, author of the best-selling novel, "The Hero" and of the play "The Wall."

Partial financial support for the production cost was given by E. R. Squibb and Sons
