Army Specialist Four Theodore N. Torchy, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas T. Torchy, 1589 Grouse Lane, Mountaineers, recently participated in a combined arms phase of the five-week 4th Armored Division field training exercises in the Grafenwohr-Hohenfels area of Germany.

mor and logistical support units to work together under combat conditions. Training of this nature is designed to maintain a constant state of combat readiness essential to a modern Army deployed to maintain the defense of the free world. Specialist Torchy, a small clerk in Company B of the division's 41st Infantry in New Ulm, entered the Army in July 1960, completed basic training at Fort Benning, Ga., and arrived overseas the following December.

its present stage, has created less sociological impact than that of the rapid march of industrialization... Man seems frustrated by the rapid changes to which he can scarce adjust himself.

League Approves Grant Of $4,000

The board of directors of the Union County Tuberculosis and Health League has approved a grant of $4,000 to support medical education and research on tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases.

This grant will be forwarded to the New Jersey Medical Research and Teaching Fund set up some years ago by the New Jersey Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Doctor Joseph A. Smith, superintendent and medical director of the New Jersey Sanatorium for Chest Diseases and president of the New Jersey Tuberculosis and Health Association, when notified of the League's grant, commented: "We congratulate the Union County Tuberculosis and Health League for its leadership in substantially increasing its share in New Jersey's support of medical education and research."

Last year the New Jersey Medical Research and Teaching Fund supported three research projects and one teaching fellowship with $16,594 in grants from 18 local tuberculosis associations.

Plainfield Water Co. Office To Serve Area Residents

Customers of the Elizabethtown Water Co. in Westfield, Mountainside, Fanwood, Scotch Plains and Garwood will be served by the facilities of the company's Division Office in Plainfield beginning Monday, April 2nd.

Elizabethtown's engineering department will remain in Westfield and will use the space vacated by the service and commercial department to enlarge the engineering activities of the company.

Carroll said that customers in this area who have been paying water bills at the Westfield office would now be able to make payments in person at the National State Bank in Westfield. There is no charge for this service, he said. Customers mailing payments would send them to the Division Office at 120 West Seventh St., Plainfield. Consolidation of Elizabethtown commercial and service facilities at the Division Office is a part of the company's continual improvement program, Carroll said. "There will be an increase in the number of experienced office personnel ready to serve customers, and the more extensive and complete facilities at the Division Office will ensure prompt, efficient service from all departments," he said. The company's telephone number for the area affected will be ADams 2-0282, Carroll said, and will automatically connect customers with the Division Office starting Monday. Customers bills will contain full information on making payments.

All Cigarettes, Tobacco, Fluid Milk and Alcoholic Beverages Exempt from Plaid Stamp Offer

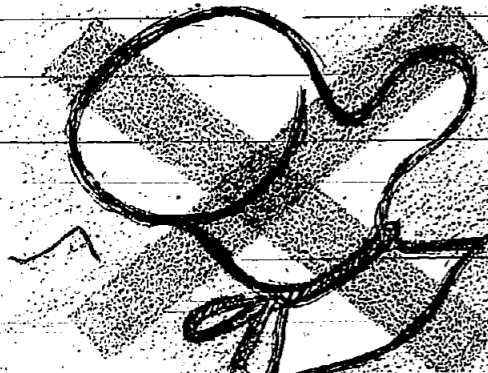

Sports Track Down

BY DICK SCHWARTZ

As if there isn't enough heart-ache and killing going on in this crazy world of ours, a few more doses of pain, grief and suffering were dealt out at Madison Square Garden last weekend in a welter-weight title match between Benny Paret and Emile Griffith before a cheering, blood-thirsty mob of semi-civilized citizens chewing on cigars, and painted women in mink who know as much about prize fighting as they do about the price of boomerangs in Australia.

Of course, the bums, illiterates, and mobsters who run the boxing game are getting the business from Albany since Mr. Paret's knees gave way after a vicious pounding at the hands of the challenger, Gov. Rockefeller wants to know the circumstances, and little old ladies from Staten Island to Seattle have their umbrellas raised in protest of "that vicious sport."

The feeling here is that this fight should never have taken place. The feeling here is that boxing in general should never have taken place.

Griffith didn't put Paret in the hospital, Ruby Goldstein isn't to blame for the damage inflicted on the Cuban's brain, and even the objectionables who run the racket aren't at fault.

The fault lies with us! It is the American public who pounded that athlete to a pulp Saturday evening, because it is the American public who supports boxing and phoney wrestling!

We are the force behind those goofs with masks and flowing locks who are becoming millionaires via the wrestling ring. We are responsible for hooping at a fight when body blows and feints don't produce the blood of a good shot to the head.

Boxing isn't athletic competition. It is not, as some critics note, "a test of skill between two highly trained athletes." Boxing is a throwback. An anxiety and frustration pill that we, the public, swallow rather than throw dishes or tell the boss where to get off. It is cave man pastime in a streamlined world. But whatever it is, it certainly isn't a sport!

As is so often the case, something probably will be done now that a man battles death for no real reason. Keep your eyes on the papers. Head-gear will be introduced, referees will be governed by strict rules, doctors will be brought in after every round, and boxers will be ordered to keep within their weight class.

But boxing will, unfortunately, survive. Those dumb broods will still be seen at ring-side, and the cigar-butts-per-ise cleaned up by maintenance crews will not diminish.

It sort of makes us stop and wonder what kind of world this is? With so many, many things to do; with so many, many things to see; with so many things to worry about and be concerned over, man still finds the time to cheer for pain. To stomp his feet if there's not enough blood. To spend $50 for a seat to a slaughter.

Will we ever learn, or, is our only claim to be for the rest of eternity, that WE HAVE THUMBS!!

Maybe the questions were too difficult, the time-limit too short, or maybe we just don't have any readers. But regardless of what the answer is, not one person took a stab at the quiz run in this column last week. (So we'll take the subscription to Sports Illustrated for ourselves).

However, a promise is a promise so here are the answers...

(1) Minnesota, Chicago. (2) Gary Player, Arnold Palmer. (3) 22 games. (4) Cincinnati. (5) Pedro Ramos. (6) Fitzsimmons beat Corbett. (7) Second base. (8) Center. (9) Francis Oulmet. (10) Robins. (11) 14 hours, 31 minutes. (12)-1926. (13) Chicago. (14) Tom Zachary, Washington. (15) Riegel. (16) 12th round. (17) Brooklyn Dodgers. (18) Tigers. (19) Al Smith, Jim Bagby. (20) Dodgers. (21) 28 years old.

Are Little Leagues Doing The Job?

BY GENE FLINN

(Gene Flinn, our reporter in Scotch Plains submits the following article as food for thought for all area organizers of Little League activities. While Mr. Flinn's opinion does not represent our editor's opinion on the subject of Little League effectiveness, he presents some points which should be of concern to every Little League parent.)

Not long from now we will be hearing the cry of "Play Ball!" in the metropolitan area -- not only in the Yankee Stadium, but also in the Polo Grounds once again, as we welcome the coming of the Mets.

And not long after the New York openers we will have our Scotch Plains openers, as the hundreds of eager Little Leaguers, Recreation Leaguers, Small-Fry Leaguers, and young athletes with other sponsors give us the Big Leagues in miniature.

We feel the many men who volunteer countless hours to these Little League projects deserve a lot of credit. We have watched them at work and we have seen their patience and kindness from close-up when they were least aware that we were watching and taking mental notes. They give our kids a heck of a lot of time and understanding.

At the same time we have been disturbed about the general status of the Little League -- not in Scotch Plains necessarily, but throughout the country. In the enthusiasm for winning the game, coaches and boys alike have forgotten the basic reasons for playing the game -- to develop the body, to develop a sense of sportsmanship, to give little fellows a chance to learn the game by playing it.

We have seen too many cases where all of these concepts have been cast aside. We have seen too many little fellows sitting on the bench with very little chance to play; we have seen grown-ups more concerned with developing winning teams than with developing character.

Let us hope that with the coming of the 1962 season there will be more emphasis on Grantland Rice's insistence on "how the game is played" than on who wins or loses. Let us hope that the various Little League-type organizations find ways of letting more boys play. Let us have more emphasis on fair play and less emphasis on uniforms and other relatively unimportant trappings.

If a Little League or similar operation does not treat its players fairly and if it does not place the basic principles of good sportsmanship in the forefront, it does not deserve the support of the public. Surely we parents are not good examples for the younger generation when we show ourselves to be prima donnas.

Generally speaking our leagues for youngsters in Scotch Plains have been well run, especially the Recreation League.

Edison First Competition For Bulldog Nine

Qualifies For Meet

Doug Tallamy, 10, of Berkeley Heights has qualified for the YMCA Middle Atlantic States Sectional Swimming Championships, to be held at Annapolis, Maryland on March 31.

On March 24, in the Boys Northern Section YMCA Swimming Championships held at the Monclair YMCA, Doug, one of several boys representing the Summit YMCA Boys Swim Team, placed second in the 25 yrd. Breaststroke for 9 and 10 year old boys, with a time of 19.2 seconds, in competition with approximately 40 boys in this event from 19 New Jersey YMCA areas.

Only 3 Returning Letters Force Rebuilding Chore

By Arnold Minzman

On April 3rd, the Dayton Regional nine will take the field against Edison Vocational, beginning the 1962 baseball season. The Bulldogs, who sported a 9-4 record last season under Coach Ed Jasinski, will do battle 22 times this season.

Coach Jasinski is faced with the task of rebuilding a squad that lost all but three lettermen, Jack Apgar, Tony Fevola, and Danny Mascara. No pitchers are returning, and the Springfield mound corps is comprised of nearly all sophomores, Bill Kratzer, Frank Monticello, and Richie Bittle, form the nucleus of the staff.

While the pitching presents a major problem the eight other positions seem to be filled by capable hitters and fielders, as Reporter Minzman displays hefty swing during RRS practice last week. Ammie is an aspirant for a Junior Varsity spot.

Baseball Tryouts

Times and places for Springfield baseball league tryouts have been announced for this Saturday.

Youth League aspirants should be at the Meisel Ave. field at 10:00 a.m. To be eligible for Youth Leagues play the ninth birthday must be reached on or before June 30, 1962.

The Babe Ruth League tryouts will be held at the Gaudineer School field at 10:00 a.m. also. Babe Ruth League age qualifications are that members must not have reached their 16th birthday on or before June 30, 1962.

If rain postpones the tryouts, same times and places will be utilized on the following Saturday, April 7.

Green Fees Will Go

The green fees for golfers, who reside out of Union County and play at the Ash Brook Gold Course in Scotch Plains, and the Galloping Hill Golf Course in Kentworth and Union, will be increased, effective April 1, it was announced today by the Union County Park Commission.

Weekend Golfer's Paradise Just 1,200 Miles To South

By Cy James

(Cy James, our Berkeley Heights reporter is vacationing in Florida and sending us his views of the Grapefruit League. This is the third article of the series.)

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA. . . Are you one of the legion of weekend golfers who sweat out long waits on New Jersey's golf courses to get in a round of play?

Have you often dreamed of a golfing "Shangri-La" where you could play without the frustrating delays that are commonplace in the Garden State? And you've come to the conclusion that its only a dream that never will be fulfilled? Well, you shouldn't have!

We have found the weekend golfer's "Shangri-La," where golf can -- and is -- playable on Saturdays and Sundays without delay. It's located some 1,200 miles south of Union County, but it's only four hours away -- even less by jet -- by air.

Where? In St. Petersburg, Florida, the land of the weekend golfer. The "Sunshine City," it seems, is saturated with retired persons who flock to the golf courses from Mondays through Fridays but stay at home on weekends.

Operators at St. Petersburg's golf courses don't attempt to explain the phenomena but readily admit that the freak situation exists.

We discovered this unique situation in two visits to one of the numerous "Par 3" golf courses that dot Florida's western "Suncoast."

Our first visit was on a Wednesday afternoon and we knew as soon as we arrived we were faced with delays. The parking lot was overflowing with cars and large clusters of golfers were grouped about the tee areas for all holes in view. Play was slow, delays frequent. After playing only 15 holes in three hours we had to beat a hasty retreat to relieve the babysitter.

Four days later, on a bright, sunny Sunday afternoon with the temperature in the low 80's, we returned for another try. You can imagine our amazement at finding the parking lot half empty and the course virtually deserted. Playing at a leisurely pace, we finished off 18 holes easily in two hours.

After finishing up our round, the highlight of which was a near hole-in-one by our better half, we questioned the pro, Augie Boyd, about the scarcity of golfers.

That's when we found out about the strange golfing habits of St. Petersburg residents. Boyd assured us the practice was not unique to "Par 3" golf courses but was true of regular courses as well.

Personal observation certainly indicated similar conditions at the nearby Pasadena Golf Club which was the site of last year's $20,000 St. Petersburg Open.

For the benefit of frustrated weekend golfers in Jersey, Eastern and National Air Lines have daily flights to St. Petersburg -- Tampa Airports. Better make your "golf weekend" reservations early.

Mets Suffering From Comparison, Competition. Going through their paces down here in St. Petersburg, Florida, the fledgling New York Mets have been hit hard by comparison (with the New York Yankees, one of their predecessors here) and competition (from other sporting events as well as sunshine city festivities).

A headline in the St. Petersburg Times, the city's largest daily newspaper, clearly points up the Mets' biggest headache in the coming season. It read simply:

"Yankees Sizzle, While Mets Fizzle."

Now obviously no one with a sense of fair play should be making comparisons of a world championship team like the Yankees and a patchwork team like the Mets which was assembled from castoffs and over-the-hill veterans made available by other National League teams.

There is no fairness in such comparisons but don't think for one moment they won't be (and are being) made.

Everything the Mets do down here is being compared to what the Yankees did previously and are doing this year. And unfortunately for the Mets, the Yankees, notoriously slow spring starters, have gotten off to a whirlwind start.

And what is happening in St. Petersburg and other parts of Florida is only a forerunner of what the Mets can expect in New York throughout the season.

The Mets also have been hard-hit by the competition of other events since setting up shop at Miller Huggins Field here. First it was the district and state basketball championships, then the world championships of the "Flying Dutchman" yachts, followed by the St. Petersburg Open golf tournament.

The week-long "Sunshine Festival" stole the spotlight from the Mets last week and still ahead is the St. Petersburg Invitation tennis tournament.

As a result, the Mets have hit the sports page head lines only once in four weeks in St. Petersburg. And that's a headline they would rather forget all about:

"Dodger B's Befuddle Mets, 9-4."

Can't help wondering how Casey Stengel who lorded it over the Dodgers for many years in the pin stripes of the Yankees felt about managing another team outfitted in pin stripes bowing to a bunch of Dodger rookies and antiquated veterans.

East Nips West In Dream Game

The East defeated the West "All-Stars" 36-30 last Monday evening before a large turnout of parents, adults and fans, with the outcome of the game in doubt until the last minute of play as both clubs were evenly matched. The annual dream game, pitting the cream of the Springfield Recreation Commission "State League" provided a fitting climax to a highly successful season for the youth of the township. Players who were active in the State League show considerable promise and with another year of play should develop into outstanding players.

The Florence Gaudineer School gym was the site of this contest and the fans were treated to a good game, the first half ending in a stalemate 15-15, the score 25-24 at the three-quarter mark, the East leading, with the contest going into the final minute of play, two separating the clubs, Richie Cohen tossed home two baskets to open the game as the West led, but speedster Freddie Title came through with two baskets on give and go plays that brought the East into a tie, baskets by Gary Kurtz and Fred Vollherbst giving them a 10-7 advantage at the quarter. In the second period Timmy Sommers tossed home three baskets to spearhead the West drive, Richie Sherman two fouls to draw the red-shirted West to a 15-15 tie at halftime.

In the last half Richie Cohen again scored two field goals and a foul to end the evening with a 10 point total, but the East showed good team work as Gary Kurtz scored three baskets and two fouls to give the winners the edge with another 10 point total. Freddie Title also scored five points in this quarter.

Johnny Eys, who was the scoring leader for Texas in the Championship game earlier in the evening, was content to pass off from the pivot, also doing the rebounding to help set up the Eastern offensive.

The entire game was well played and Coaches Jerry Title and "Chuck" Kessler, also Coaches Frank Haydu and Carmen Catapano deserve a lot of credit for getting both squads up for this fine contest.

Frank W. Wehrle Heads Shunpike Association

Frank W. Wehrle was elected President of the Shunpike Association Springfield, at a meeting held at his home, 22 Shunpike Road, on March 22, 1962. Other officers elected were Irving A. Lynn of 117 Warwick Circle, Vice-President, and Milton Zisman of 303 Warwick Circle, Treasurer. Following a discussion of the fatal accident involving Patrolman Joseph Roessler, the Association passed a resolution recommending the use of heavier police cars. It was noted that vehicles used by the State Police and many communities were of a heavier type which gave them greater stability particularly under pursuit conditions. The membership expressed its sympathy to the family of Patrolman Roessler and approved the award of a condolence gift to his widow. Mr. Milton Zisman, a member of the Township Pool Committee, briefed the membership on the current status of the Committee's efforts and measures being taken to assure earliest construction of a township pool. He stated that a broad base of support was essential and that volunteers were needed to undertake a poll of community opinion. Several members offered the services. A dinner-dance to be held May 19 was also discussed and voted upon. Membership in the Association is open to all residents from Shunpike Road, Warwick Circle, Kew Drive, Windsor Drive, Norwood Road, Aron Road and East Road.

How WILL They do the Laundry in a Space Ship?

LOS ANGELES — Space travelers will face a bewildering array of day-to-day problems not met with propulsion or navigation.

For example, how will a space traveler keep clothes clean? How does one bathe in a weightless atmosphere where water will float?

The answer to one question is a laundry room in the space capsule, says Romaine Fielding, an executive with a laundry and dry cleaning equipment company.

"The social problems of space travel are still relatively unexplored," said Fielding, "but cleanliness will be a major one."

The space craft will have what amounts to a laundry room, including a small laundry machine and dry cleaning unit.

The equipment, he believes, will be modified versions of the normal home laundry machines.

"Because of weightlessness, some form of an air lock will be engineered into the units so that the traveler can insert garments into the machines, and remove them, without allowing water to float through the air," Fielding said.

The problem of bathing is one which still perplexes researchers. Fielding feels a possible solution would be to anchor a big plastic bag, force it full of water, and then climb in.

These small semi-wet clothes used today by travelers to cleanse their face and hands probably won't work in space. The clothes, Fielding said, contain alcohol, which if inhaled in a closed atmosphere could result in intoxication. You could wind up intoxicated without having a drink.

"Personal cleanliness is really quite important," says Fielding, "and it must be maintained in order for travelers to preserve their dignity."

Forty per cent of the nation's families have more than one income, the Institute of Life Insurance reports.

Education Role Along CHICAGO (UPI)—Following a month's trial use of two mobile classrooms, the Chicago Board of Education approved plans to spend $1.3 million for 150 of the units.

The units are expected to be in operation by May, relieving crowded classrooms, double shifts and meeting needs of a shifting school population.

Handy NEW YORK (UPI)—The fed for feminine wigs has created a whole new business—making something in which to carry the "second heads."

Joyce Christopher, one New York specialist in wig making and setting, has styled wig boxes to keep a set from being crushed. These boxes you can buy in pettin point cover for $130; in alligator, for $275.

Meadowbrook Offering Stars Dody Goodman

Darling Dody Goodman is nothing short of delightful in the Meadowbrook Dinner Theatre's second musical comedy production of the year, "Wonderful Town."

Producers Helga and Gary McHugh, Carl Sawyer and Richard Scanga have once again surrounded the star of the show with outstanding talent. In addition to Miss Mylroie there's handsome bass-baritone Henry Michel; the comical Alex Alexander, Wallace Engelhardt and Austin Colyer.

scaged is a huge credit to scenic director Al Furst and director Lawrence Kasha. They utilize every facility in making "Wonderful Town" a superbly wonderful production.

Many people do not realize how far behind a postal employee is economically, compared to the rest of America. For example, take home pay for a United States letter carrier is approximately $63.00-per week. Is this a fair amount for a man, with so much responsibility, to economically care for a wife and children?
