

Help! Now First Aid Squad Needs Volunteers Help

Urgent need for additional members for Springfield First Aid Squad was made known today by Captain Robert Voorhees, who is in charge of squad operations.

Captain Voorhees said the total membership of the squad now stands at 26 volunteers.

The squad offers 24-hours-a-day service so it can readily be seen that the group is carrying a heavy load.

In addition, there are vacations to be taken into consideration and when they occur, other members are required to double up.

Although the squad maintains two ambulances, it has a crew for manning only one of them during the day.

A directive has been issued stipulating that all out-of-town transportation is to be done either nights or weekends until September.

The squad is working on "nothing" during the day with only two members on call for the ambulance. It was pointed out.

However, emergencies are always answered regardless of the shortage in personnel, it was stressed.

The situation will be slightly better in another month, Captain Voorhees said, but there is still a need for help. Ten new members would bring the squad right up to capacity, he said.

"People are willing to give money in support of the squad," he said, "but there is difficulty in finding people who are willing to give their time to the organization."

Women as well as men are gladly welcomed into the organization, Captain Voorhees said. "In fact, if it weren't for the women, we wouldn't have a day crew," he added.

Interested residents are urged to contact Captain Voorhees at his home by calling DR 9-4677 for further information.

Ask Reduction In Sale Price For Pool Site

Representatives of The Robbins Construction Corp. Union, owner of the "Jenco" property, proposed site for the municipal swimming pool, were informed that Springfield Township Committee feels the price of the property is too high, Mayor Philip Del Vecchio has announced.

This action was taken at a meeting between representatives of the Robbins concern and Springfield Township Committee August 14, which was held for the purpose of furthering negotiations for the sale of the property to the municipality.

The mayor said that the Robbins representatives were advised to set a figure more favorable to the community.

The Robbins price is presently set at $292,000 for the whole parcel. This comes to slightly more than $20,000 per acre, it was said.

Mayor Del Vecchio reported that the Robbins representatives indicated that their figures might be able to be revised.

Lester Robbins was reported in Europe on vacation, but his representatives are in contact with him, it was reported.

Representing Mr. Robbins at the August 14 meeting were Stanley Gruen, attorney, and Alfred Manito, vice-president of the firm.

Springfield Board of Health Fluoridation Report Summary

At the last meeting of the Springfield Township Committee, Robert D. Hardgrove, Springfield Board of Health President, was requested to prepare a summary of reports submitted previously to the Board of Health concerning fluoridation of the water supply.

This report was originally presented by Dr. Ralph I. Mond, the Physician Member of the Springfield Board of Health.

Dr. Mond's report was very comprehensive and quite voluminous. The subject matter supported the fluoridation of the community's water supply and conclusively recommended that Springfield avail itself of this method of preventing the disease most common to man - dental caries, commonly called tooth decay.

The report stated that fluoridation was simply the addition of fluoride in the water supply so that the content of this element is equivalent to one part in a million.

Exhaustive tests by medical and dental societies have proved that this amount of fluoride reduces cavities as much as 66% and has no deleterious side effects.

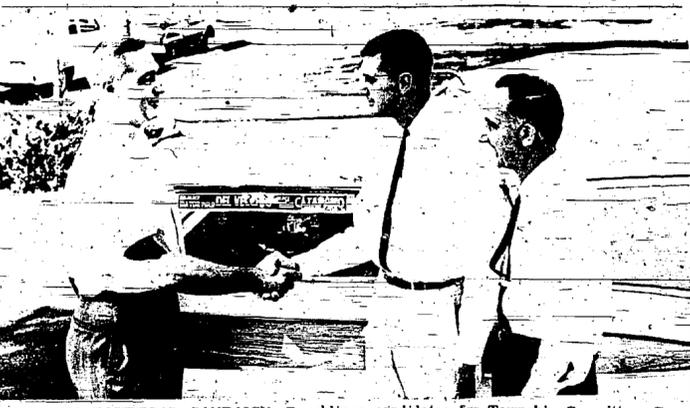

This report also revealed that some 45,000,000 people in the United States have a fluoridated water system that will prevent caries. These systems are either natural, similar to that of Colorado Springs or purposely functioning in this capacity such as in the case of Philadelphia.

This is broken down into 7,000,000 people with natural fluoridation and 38,000,000 with fluoridation purposely instituted. Dr. Mond further commented on this statement saying "400,000 people in New Jersey already have fluoride adjusted water, and Grand Rapids, Michigan which has fluoridated since 1945 reports up to 65% less tooth decay in children."

The report stated that there is unequivocal proof through a myriad of documented reports on the subject concerning this tremendous reduction in caries. Many surveys have substantiated the fact that there is no evidence of any kind concerning harmful effects from the ingestion of the recommended amounts of fluoride in potable water supplies.

This method of ingesting fluoride is not only the most effective, but the most economical

Township's Insurance Becomes Hot Political Campaign Topic

Koonz Named Campaign Manager for GOP Team

Mayor Philip Del Vecchio and Carmen S. (Mike) Catapano, Republican Candidates for Township Committee, announced the appointment of William T. Koonz as their campaign manager.

"Bill" Koonz, a life-long resident of Springfield, is sales manager for the local firm of Doggett-Pfeil Company, a formulator of agricultural chemicals.

He attended James Caldwell School, Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, and is a graduate of Seton Hall University with a degree in Business Management.

Koonz is an active member of the Springfield Lions Club and Knights of Columbus, and was chairman of the Fund-Raising Committee of the Union Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Bill, who lives at 110 Baltusrol Way, is married to the former Marlene Detrick, also a native of Springfield. They are the parents of three children, Patty Ann (4), William P., Jr. (3), and Barbara Jane (1).

Democrats Charge Present Policies Lack In Coverage

The Township's insurance may turn out to be one of the most explosive topics in the coming elections for Springfield.

Board of Education President Howard S. Smith and his running mate, Louis Ceithaml, for the two vacancies on the Township Committee, will ask Mayor Philip Del Vecchio, who is a candidate for reelection, to explain several matters regarding the insurance.

Smith and Ceithaml, in a statement released yesterday charged Mayor Del Vecchio with having placed the Township's full insurance program "without discussion by the entire governing body."

The statement further charged that "Candidate Del Vecchio publicly admitted on March 27 that the insurance agent had been chosen prior to January 1st at a caucus to which the minority Democratic members of the Township Committee were not invited."

Smith and Ceithaml, in their statement, charge Candidate Del Vecchio with "several improper and irresponsible acts in the placing of insurance."

"In an expenditure of approximately 19,000 they did not compare costs or coverage with the ultimate result that our insurance costs more and the coverage is not as adequate as could be obtained from that which was offered to them. Savings of $2,500 in premiums have been ignored."

"After having other proposals called to their attention on March 27 by Committeeman Bonadies and after Mr. Del Vecchio promised bills would be held up and action taken on the proposal nothing has been accomplished to date. Meantime bills have been paid and savings that could have been made are lost to the taxpayers."

"The insurance advisory committee appointed on January 1st in former years was not completed by Del Vecchio until late in July, long after the time this committee should have been functioning as an advisory board."

New Road In Rear Of Morris Avenue Stores May Be One Solution

A number of Morris Avenue merchants, concerned with the parking problem in Morris Avenue, presented their plight to Springfield Township Committee at its regular meeting August 14 in the Municipal Building.

The group was reminded that the municipality has under study the question of urban renewal for that area, but the merchants urged immediate assistance.

As a parking solution, Springfield Township Committee suggested the establishment of a road which could be constructed behind the stores on the north side of Morris Avenue from Walnut Court to Municipal Parking Lot #2.

Indication was given that the township would assume the cost of constructing such a road if under the plan, the expense of paving the parking lot on the land between the road and the stores would be paid by the merchants or property owners in the area.

Access to the proposal would be gained from the municipal parking lot, it was noted.

Mayor Philip Del Vecchio recommended that a joint meeting of the property owners and the merchants involved in the proposal be held in the near future.

He volunteered to approach the property owners on the matter in arranging the meeting.

At that time, he said with the assistance of Township Engineer Walter Kozub and Township Traffic Consultant Enstey Bennett - a plan could be drawn and presented for consideration.

Merchants speaking at the township committee meeting included Will Salesky and Wally Kleinman.

Regional High School Sets Aug. 27-31 For Registration

ROBERT F. LAVANTURE, Principal of the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, has set the week of August 27 to 31 as Registration Week for new students of high-school age who have moved to the district during the summer. All students from Springfield and Kenilworth attend the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. Students who have not been previously registered are to bring proof of their past school record in the form of a report card or a transcript to the Guidance Office between the hours of 8:30 to 4:00 p.m.

Both Sides Beat Starter's Gun In Political Race

In about ten weeks Springfield voters will go to the polls to select two Township Committeemen - in addition to a member of Congress, State Senator, freesholders and sheriff but the local contest is holding the center of the political stage.

Usually, the summer is out of season for political campaigning but the election results this November carry with it control of the governing body in Springfield.

Which accounts for the doorbell ringing and spirited campaigning throughout the hot spells.

Howard S. Smith, president of the Springfield Board of Education, and Louis Ceithaml, the Democratic candidates for the two seats on the Township Committee have been doing a lot of the door-to-door campaigning and saying "hello" to neighbors at small-house gatherings.

The Republican candidates, Mayor Philip Del Vecchio and Carmen S. (Mike) Catapano are just about setting the fuse to their campaign which is expected to gather momentum from now on.

Both sides are mapping out fund-raising campaigns so that the party offers will have enough to carry out what looks like one of the most interesting political squabbles in years.

Smith and Ceithaml, the Democratic candidates, are preparing a series of charges aimed at the Del Vecchio-Catapano team, pointing to the "do-nothing record of the present administration, as good enough reason to turn over the affairs of Springfield to more capable hands."

The Smith-Ceithaml supporters expect to get considerable mileage out of the Springfield situation, the Good Humor license and the charges that the insurance coverage "has" exposed the Del Vecchio team to improper and irresponsible acts," according to a statement released this week.

Tax Exemption For Bomb Shelters

Springfield Township Committee has agreed to urge the New Jersey State Assembly to enact legislation to exempt from taxation civil defense measures such as bomb shelters.

It was pointed out that a citizen is not adding to his home in a tax sense but is providing a measure of safety.

A point in question was raised on the subject by Committeeman Vincent J. Bonadies who said that the normal intent, on tax exemption is for public use. He contended that tax exemption can not be used unless in public interest and said that such a measure is for the person's own family and self.

Mayor Philip Del Vecchio said this action was to advise the legislature of our local thinking on the matter. "Unless we tell the legislature what is in our minds, how will they know what we are thinking?" the mayor asked.

The resolution was made by Committeeman Arthur Falkin and seconded by Committeeman Robert Hardgrove.

Police Chief Selander's Son, Guy, Is Commended

GUY SELANDER
Graduated Army Medical Field Service School

Springfield's Police Chief Wilbur C. Selander is showing, with parental pride, a letter he received from Brigadier General James T. McGibony, Commandant of the Medical Field Service School at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, announcing that son, Guy, had completed his course of instruction and graduated.

Following is General McGibony's letter to Chief Selander: Dear Mr. Selander: The Faculty and Staff extend congratulations to you upon the graduation of your son from his course of instruction at the Medical Field Service School.

The purpose of this course is to train medical service personnel to perform effectively their duties as a part of the medical team. The instruction presented at this institution is geared not only to the present, but to our future needs. The training your son has just completed will be of immeasurable benefit to him while in the service, and in later life in any local or national emergency. He is now prepared to accept his responsibility as a member of the world's finest medical team.

You have every reason to be proud of your son's successful completion of this course of instruction. We of the Medical Field Service School know you share with us pride in your son's achievement.

Sincerely yours,
JAMES T. MCGIBONY

major insurance policies," the statement continues, "will show that the Comprehensive Public Liability policy, under the present wording, protects against property damage committed by town employees and town equipment.

"The proposed insurance coverage policy would provide broader protection for property damage to citizens of Springfield as well as other people than the present insurance offers."

"The proposed insurance which would have been available to Springfield offers broad and blanket protection for the Rahway Valley Railroad crossing in Springfield while the present insurance policy does not cover railroad crossings.

"On an insurance section devoted to mal-practice, the present carrier restricts protection to only a doctor, nurse or professional attendant. The proposed insurance coverage protection to only a doctor, nurse or professional attendant covers each and every employee in Springfield.

"Another important section is the Limits of Coverage. The present insurance protects up to $100,000 per case protection. The limits of coverage for all employees and police department are, under the present insurance, $100,000, while the proposed insurance limit was up to $500,000.

"For instance, water leakage damage to the library, garage, municipal building and recreation rooms is not covered at all by the present insurance program, but the proposed plan would have offered total coverage.

"On the important question of Automobile Liability, property damage under the present insurance program there is no coverage for town employees' personal injuries while using Township vehicles but the proposed insurance would have offered protection. On contracted services would have covered the Township on damage from contractor's equipment.

"Even on Workman's Compensation the proposed insurance program would have additionally provide in excess of $1,500 savings in credit premiums as the result of favorable compensation experience during the past three years.

"A general comparison of the above policies indicate that the present carrier has written major policies on accident basis, that is, not all contingencies covered. The proposed insurance program, which Candidate Del Vecchio pushed aside without any consideration, offers major policies on occurrence basis, covering contingencies and accidents over long periods of time on any town project causing damage by erosion, decay, etc.

"The matter of placing insurance may not be as exciting as other campaign charges," the statement concluded, "but there could have been a saving of $2,500.00 in premiums if other insurance programs were considered with much better and broader coverage.

"We intend to ask Mr. Del Vecchio to explain these charges from now until election day. It is important to taxpayers both in the matter of lesser premiums and better policies."

6 Year Old Youngsters Stage Marriage Ceremony

In a mock marriage, carried out with all the precision and pomp of a real ceremony, Jane Staehle, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Staehle of 74 So. Maple Ave., Springfield was "married" on August 13, 1962 to James Edwards, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards of 190 Hawthorn Ave., Springfield. The "bride" was given in marriage by her brother, Robert Staehle.

The "Tom Thumb" ceremony was performed in the garden of the Staehle home by Rosebud DiPalma, A "Lollypop" reception immediately followed.

Miss Paula Cather of 80 So. Maple Ave., was honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Anne Burkhardt of 72 So. Maple Ave., and Miss Marie DiPalma of 52 So. Maple Ave. Miss Joelle DiPalma was flower girl. Timothy Sommer of 62 So. Maple Ave. ushered.

William Gras of 140 So. Maple Ave. played "Here Comes the Bride" on his accordion. The maid of honor and flower girl were dressed in yellow crepe paper dresses and carried baskets of green flowers. The bridesmaids were dressed in green crepe paper dresses and carried baskets of yellow flowers.

The "Bride" wore a white silk dress with a lace overskirt. The "groom" was dressed with rhinestones and pearls. Her shoulder length veil was nylon tulle. She carried an old fashion bouquet of sweet peas and orange blossoms.

The "Bride" is a graduate of James Caldwell Kindergarten. The Groom is a graduate of Raymond Chisholm Kindergarten.

Both are alumni of the kindergarten department of the Presbyterian Sunday School and will enter the Primary department in September.

Before departing in their surrey (with tin cans attached), the bride threw her bouquet to a throng of more than one hundred out stretched female arms. The young miss who caught it is still unidentified.

The couple was palmed with rice as they made their get-away.

Asks Township To Remedy Drainage

A communication received from Saul Ring of 24 Norwood Road, Springfield, and complaining about a drainage ditch in the rear of his property, was ordered referred to the township engineer by Springfield Township Committee August 14 at its meeting in Municipal Building.

Recommendation was made for an investigation with a report to be made to the Township Committee on the matter.

New Street Lights Authorized Rt. 22

At the August 14th meeting in Municipal Building, Springfield Township Committee authorized the installation of additional street lights in Route 22 in the vicinity of Channel Lumber Co. in accordance with a survey conducted by Jersey Central Power and Light Co.

This action was taken inasmuch as it was reported that an agreement with Channel Lumber Co. concerning the matter has been culminated.

Replies To Letter Objecting To "Mock Wedding"

By CAM COOK

An interesting human interest article appeared in the Newark News recently, with a three column photograph, showing two six year old Springfield children in a mock marriage.

A letter to the editor found fault with the whole idea as follows:

Parents and Children To the Editor: Six in Tuesday's News I could not help but notice an article entitled: "Childhood Sweethearts Wed-They're 6, and it's for fun."

One question: Does "fun" refer to "childhood sweethearts" or to "parents"? Children of 6 have no concept of marriage, and would prefer to play their own games.

A close inspection of the photo indicates the only spectators seeming to have "fun" are the older ones. As another example, there was the story of a baby beauty contest in Kearny. Did the contestants beg their parents for the privilege of competing or did the parents pressure—the children to enter?

Must adults inflict their own ambitions, drives and tensions upon children unprepared to accept them, or even worse, use them for special advancement? Today we have a bumper crop of nervous disorders. Why sow the seeds for more?

KENNETH FOSTER, ONLY MAKE BELIEVE

Will someone please explain the morbid reaction of Kenneth Foster (Letters to the Editor, Saturday, August 18) to the Newark News' charming feature story on the Springfield mock wedding?

Apparently Mr. Foster and I received different editions that night, because his caption read

"Childhood Sweethearts Wed-They're 6, and it's for fun." Mine went "Toy Ring and Lollypops."

Although it seems obvious that reader Foster objected to the heading he quoted, I gather his main point is that "Children of 6 have no concept of marriage, and would prefer to play their own games."

Well, then, what are "their own games"? You guessed it—the world of make believe, or "let's pretend."

Eavesdrop on any 6-year-old kids playing in the back yard and you'll hear, "You be the Daddy and I'll be the Mommy, or 'Now I'm the Doctor and you have to be my Nurse!'"

Even without the two sexes involved you'll hear the same joy of play acting. "I'll be the Cowboy and you be the Indian," and if we have a third little boy around he's pretty apt to declare, "And I'm the Sheriff!"

Across the country you will find recreation department, cub scouts and church schools giving outlets to these natural childhood emotions, with pictures in the local papers to record the exciting events.

Mr. Foster's final triumphant argument is that, "Today we have a bumper crop of nervous disorders," and "Why sow the seeds for more?"

I hope this conscientious reader will let us know if, along with the rest of us, he was nurtured on such harrowing tales as "Peter Pan" and "Little Red Riding Hood," and if he honestly thinks all this make believe accounts for our bumper crop of nervous disorders.

Springfield Rabbi Loses Appeal as Freedom Rider

Rabbi Israel Dressner, spiritual leader of Temple Shalom in Springfield, has been in the news these past few weeks, an article in the New York Times stating that he was one of the organizers of a group of ministers and rabbis who will hold a prayer vigil for integration on the streets of Albany, Ga.

The Times story said that forty to fifty ministers and rabbis would leave Wednesday (yesterday) to hold a prayer vigil for integration on the streets of Albany, Ga.

The group left in a bus from Metropolitan Baptist Church, Seventh Avenue and 125th Street, after a street rally at 3 P.M. Wednesday. The organizers of the pilgrimage, besides Dr. Roy, are Rabbi Dressner of Temple Shalom in Springfield, and the Rev. John Collier of Israel Memorial A.M.E. Church in Newark.

Its purpose, they said, is to highlight the fact that racial segregation is primarily a moral and religious problem and not just a legal, political, economic and psychological one.

Rabbi Dressner was among 10 white and Negro clergymen whose convictions for unlawful assembly were upheld by a circuit court judge in Albany, Ga.

The clergymen were arrested as freedom riders last year at the Tallahassee Municipal Airport. City Judge John Rudd sentenced them to $500 fines or 60-day jail terms, pending an appeal.

3 reasons why you enjoy the world's best phone service

Research

Bell Telephone Laboratories is constantly working to increase America's lead in communications. For example, the transistor and the solar battery were invented right here in New Jersey, by the people at Bell Labs. They are now working on tomorrow's communications devices that send thousands of phone calls over beams of light—communications satellites—and many other things that were just science fiction a few years ago.

Manufacturing

Western Electric engineers work closely with experts from Bell Labs to build the telephone equipment you use at home—and the hundreds of behind-the-scenes communications products that give us advances like nationwide Direct Distance Dialing. It's a big job—employing nearly 20,000 people in New Jersey alone. Their production skills help hold down the cost of telephone equipment—and your phone bill.

Service

New Jersey Bell brings the benefit of this research and manufacturing skill right into your home. And it's quite a benefit: phone service so good that everyone takes it for granted. Everyone, that is, but the men and women of your telephone company, Western Electric, and Bell Labs. They're working together as a team to make your phone service better still.

New Springfield Homes Offered Up To $60,000

A 15-home luxury community, called Sagamore at Springfield, is being inaugurated on Juniper Way, off Baltusrol Road (Summit Road) in the Baltusrol hills section of suburban Springfield by Will Getter, building as The Getter Company.

Featured here will be customized homes of split level and ranch design priced from $32,490, as well as custom built homes up to $60,000. This new community will offer fully improved, wooded 90 x 150 ft. heavily wooded sites with all city utilities including water, sewers, curbs, and dead-end paved roads with cul de sacs.

Being displayed initially is a 67 ft. ground entry split level model of contemporary colonial design with a brick and hand split cedar shingle exterior.

An outside front portico leads to the oversized entrance gallery with double door guest closet, 14 ft. science kitchen with bay window dining area, formal dining room with parquet flooring, den or maid's room, 20 ft. paneled recreation room with sliding glass doors leading to the 20-ft. open porch, and powder room—all on the first level.

For formal entertaining, the 15-1/2 x 24 ft. cathedral ceiling living room with multi-pane picture window is on a level by itself with stairways leading either to the dining room which the living room overlooks, or to the sleeping wing.

The upper level shows four full-sized bedrooms with family bath and master bath with stall shower. Abundant storage and clothing space includes eleven closets as well as a full basement, and oversized two-car garage—all included in the $32,490 price.

Sagamore at Springfield is located just 30 minutes from downtown Newark, and 45 minutes from New York via auto or bus; and with the completion of the new Interstate Route 78, it is estimated commutation time will be sliced by 30%.

Public and parochial schools, churches of all denominations, swim and country clubs, suburban branches of New York department and specialty stores, restaurants, etc., are all in the immediate vicinity.

In addition, a riding academy is within walking distance, and the Watchung Reservation is five minutes away.

Will Getter, son of a Long Island home builder, has participated in the development of a score of New Jersey residential communities in New Jersey during the last ten years.

Moore Announces Pageant

Freeholder Raymond Moore, Chairman of the Union County Fair Association announced today that one of the features of the final week of the Fair will be a beauty pageant.

Mr. Moore explained that the Mayor of each of Union's 21 communities has been asked to select a beauty contestant who will appear in the semi-final Monday night, October 22 at the Elizabeth Armory.

Winners of the semi-finals will take part in the final on Tuesday, October 23 and one will then be chosen Miss Union-County Fair. She will serve as hostess for the exposition at the Armory for the rest of the week.

Local contestants must end by October 15. Qualifications are that contestants be between 18 and 28 years of age and be a resident of Union County.

Anyone desiring more information can write to the Fair Association offices, Union County Courthouse, Elizabeth, N. J.

The search is on for the best pictures of New Jersey people and scenes.

Entry blanks for the New Jersey Tercentenary Photographic Competition started going out this week; contestants must submit entries from September 15 through December 14.

All amateur and professional photographers living in New Jersey were today invited to enter the contest by Clifford C. Anthes, general chairman of the Competition and first vice president of the New Jersey Federation of Camera Clubs. Entry blanks can be obtained by writing to: Photographic Competition, New Jersey Tercentenary Commission, State House, Trenton.

Tercentenary medallions and ribbons will be awarded to thirty-six winners; winning photographs will be eligible in the final selection of pictures for a 1964 New Jersey Tercentenary Calendar and for the exhibit at the New Jersey Tercentenary Pavilion at the New York 1964-65 World's Fair.

The Tercentenary Photographic Competition is being sponsored by the New Jersey Federation of Camera Clubs as part of the State's 300th birthday celebration. It will be conducted in the following six categories:

1. New Jersey Historical Buildings and Sites.
2. New Jersey Landscapes and Seascapes.
3. New Jersey Commerce, Industry and Agriculture.

4. Recreation in New Jersey.
5. New Jersey's People.
6. New Jersey Miscellaneous.

A series of twelve competitions—six in black and white photographic prints and six in color slides—will be held. The three best black and white prints and the three best color slides will be selected in each category. A panel of qualified judges will anonymously select the winners, according to an announcement by Federation President Len Evenson of Oceanport.

Conditions of entry established for the Competition are: All pictures submitted must be taken in the State of New Jersey and properly identified with name and location of subject matter. No entrance fee is required and contestants may submit up to four prints and/or slides in as many categories as they wish. All black and white prints must be mounted; prints cannot be smaller than 8 x 10 or larger than 16 x 20. Overall dimensions of mounted slides are limited to 2 x 2 or 2-3/4 x 2-3/4; all slides in one entry or category must be of the same size.

A special Tercentenary Competition Committee has been named by the New Jersey Federation of Camera Clubs; members include General Chairman Anthes of Union; Assistant Chairmen H. Dunsier, Mead of Nuzlee and Roy J. Bohlen of South Orange; Print Chairman Edgar L. Kelly Jr. of Denville; Color

Bunyan Film Is On Tap

Outdoor enthusiasts of all ages will enjoy the film "The New Paul Bunyan," to be shown at The Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center, in the Watchung Reservation, on Sunday, August 26, at 3:00 p.m.

This film, in technicolor, brings out the panoramic beauty of the trees that form that timberland and also shows shots of the wild creatures that live in the forests.

The film revisits, also, the modern methods the lumber industry uses to play, develop, and harvest these vast tracts of timberland.

On Monday, August 27; Tuesday, August 28; Wednesday, August 29; and Thursday, August 30; at 4:00 p.m. each day, Miss Irma Heyer, educational assistant at Trailside, will conduct daily one-half hour nature talks for children. The topic

Miss Fiorellino Engaged To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Fiorellino of Kipling Avenue, Springfield, announced the engagement of their daughter Mary to Richard Margeton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Margeton of Lincoln Drive, Kenilworth on August 11, 1962.

Miss Fiorellino a graduate from Jonathan Dayton Regional H.S. is now employed at CIBA, Summit. Her fiancé, also a graduate from Jonathan Dayton Regional H.S. is presently employed at the Almar Bakery, Kenilworth. Mr. Margeton served three years in the United States Navy.

Her Choice

NEW YORK (UPI) — Louise O'Brien, pretty vocalist on Mitch Miller's "Sing Along" television program, went to Hollywood but avoided the motion picture studios. Instead, she concentrated on getting into radio and television. Later, she was booked by Art Linkletter, Bob Crosby, Red Skelton and others.

Explanation

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bob Banner, producer of the Garry Moore television variety shows over CBS-TV, says he believes the series' popularity is due to the fact that "we don't try to compete with specials."

"We try to be a family show and if Ma and Pa and the kids like us, that's all we can ask," Banner said.

Nancy Bischof Marries G. Brandle on Saturday

Miss Nancy Claire Bischof, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Bischof of 6 Remer Avenue, Springfield, became the bride of Mr. Gary Charles Brandle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Brandle of 3 Warren Pl., Murray Hill.

HE'EN SABO

Congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. David R. Thompson, of Grand Turk Island in the Bahamas (recent landing piece of the astronauts) on the arrival of their first child, Douglas Robert, at Overlook Hospital on August 18. The proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Thompson of 15 Owatssa Avenue, Springfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Frankenfield of 1061 Sunnyslope Drive, Mountainside.

Springfieldites Helen and Dave Gordon of 25 Lyon Place; and Town Prosecutor Joe Seidel and his wife Lari, have returned from a gay week-end in the foothills of the Catskills. The two couples ate, drank and made merry at Sha-Wan-Ga Lodge (with yours truly and spouse.)

A son, Steven Douglas, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Palmater, of 230 Plainfield Avenue, Berkeley Heights, on August 9 at Overlook Hospital. Big sister in the family is two-year-old Mary Catherine. On the welcoming committee were grandmothers Mrs. Albert Lay of Gillet and Mrs. William Palmater of Dunellen.

Money Matters

Donald N. Shaferman

One of the interesting signs of recent times on the financial scene is the tremendous increase in number of mutual fund shareholders. At the present time their number runs into the millions with total holdings of approximately twenty billion dollars. This record of growth is fully consistent with our better that in future years, the average family unit will be as likely to hold mutual fund shares as they now own life insurance. These shares will form the basis for their living objectives—college education for children, retirement, etc.—and with very good reason. In addition to the age-old desire of making money with money, there are many cogent reasons for using mutual funds as the financial vehicle.

To illustrate what is possibly the most important advantage to the investor in owning fund shares, we might draw an analogy to modern ocean liners. No matter how many safety devices they employ, there is always some risk. This is why they are constructed in compartments so is a leak develops in one section only the cargo located there will be damaged. With the ownership of even one share of a mutual fund, your investment is spread over many companies in different industries. Even if one company should go out of business, the over-all effect would be slight.

The experienced investor with ample time and money to subscribe to the various financial services can, if he wishes, study the market and attempt to manage his own investments. Alternatively he can employ an investment counsel firm to do this

Miss Barbara Adams, of 245 Midway Avenue, Fanwood, was one of a group of young American teachers who recently left for Africa. Miss Adams, who is a graduate of Wheaton College in Boston, Mass., will be teaching Grammar in Northern Rhodesia.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Martersteck, Jr. of 331 Briar Patch, Mountainside, announce the birth of son William David on August 8 at Overlook Hospital in Summit. The new arrival, who weighed in at seven pounds, twelve ounces, joins a family that includes brothers Kem, John and Michael, who are four, three and two years old respectively.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Karp, of 10 Newbrook Lane, Springfield, have returned from Meadville, Pa. where they spent several days visiting with old friends Dr. and Mrs. Harry Manning. The younger members of the Karp family are enjoying themselves at camp, daughter Susan at Camp Speers in Dingman's Ferry, Pa. and son Alan at Camp Kittatinny, near Newton, N.J.

Louis Jacobson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jacobson of 145 Wentz Avenue, Springfield, has been awarded an Associate in Applied Science degree at Rochester Institute of Technology.

Mrs. Harry Spelcher, of 11 Evergreen Avenue, spent last Wednesday in Englewood, where she first attended a birthday party for her niece, Mrs. Camille Norgaard, formerly Grace May, star skater at the Hotel New Yorker, and then visited with old friend Mrs. Mary MacFadden, former wife of Bernard MacFadden.

A son, Thomas Stowe, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Calvert Schlick, of 194 Springfield Ave., Berkeley Heights, on August 8 at Overlook Hospital. The Schlicks are also the parents, for him, mutual fund shareholders have the benefit of a full staff of professionals who do all the details for them.

For many people, the fact that they receive four dividend checks a year is of prime importance. The funds receive many dividend and interest checks during the year from their investments. After management and operating expenses are deducted, each shareholder gets his proportionate amount. In addition, if the fund makes a profit from buying and selling during the year, you will get another check.

As any fund shareholder knows, his shares are excellent collateral for a loan at any bank. Furthermore, shares may be sold without any red tape on any business day. The selling price will depend upon the market at that time, but fund shares should only be purchased as part of a long term objective and not for trading.

The underlying reason for buying mutual fund shares is to put our dollars to work in the hope that they will grow faster than inflation can cut into them. Over the years there is every reason to hope that this objective will be achieved. Of course, there are many types of funds, and it is important to select the fund, and method of purchase, most suitable to the individual investor.

of Calvert, Jr., age 8, and seventeen-month-old Susan.

A post card arrived this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Zabalski, 59 Battle Hill Avenue, Springfield, with the postmark "Space Needle", Seattle, World's Fair. This card was from their sons, Brian age 11 and Bruce age 9, who had left Springfield on June 20th for a camping trip with Grandfather Alfred Dambros of the same address and Cousin Donald McFall of Union, who is a boy scout leader.

The foursome has traveled extensively through the North West, Canada and Alaska. Thus far they have put over 12,000 miles on the car; 5,000 being in Alaska alone. The group pitched their tents at Yellowstone National Park, Mount Rushmore in South Dakota, in the Badlands of North Dakota, Jasper National Park, in the Canadian Rockies, at Glacier National Park and at Lake Louise in Banff, Alberta, as well as numerous other places.

Of special interest to the youngsters was "panning" for gold in the Yukon territory and visiting Santa Claus' home, postmark reading "North Pole".

After spending some time visiting Uncle Edward Dambros and his family they went through the Seattle World's Fair and according to present plans, will soon be heading back for Springfield.

Paying For College Through Insurance

Many parents of young children are turning to "college insurance" policies to finance part or all of their children's college education, according to Rick E. Vernola, New Jersey Regional Manager of Allstate Life Insurance Company.

"People of all income levels no longer view insurance solely as a source of burial expenses. Today, modern parents are using 'college insurance' policies to build-up the funds they will need to finance the cost of their children's higher education," he said.

College plans offered by most life insurance companies are really money saving plans and not costly drains on income, Vernola emphasized.

Advantages of the college plans cited by many parents, according to Vernola, are the regular, forced savings features, the protection afforded in case of death, and spreading the savings period over a long period of time. Also, these plans are less expensive when the child is young, they are more convenient than various investment plans, these plans help assure the child's education, and the savings are safe.

"The importance of a college education cannot be minimized. In monetary terms alone, a college education adds an average of $100,000 to your child's lifetime earning potential.

"We in the insurance business are proud of the fact we have devised policies which will help parents save toward their children's education," Vernola said.

For example, one College and Career policy provides a tailor-made plan to help finance a child's education. It features three-way flexibility when the child reaches his 18th birthday.

First, the policy can be cashed in at its anniversary date nearest the child's 18th birthday and the money used to help pay for his college education.

Or, second, it can be continued as regular career life insurance in an amount several times its original face amount by continuation of the same premium payments, or premium payments can be stopped and the policy continued as paid up insurance for an increased amount -- without requiring a physical examination at age 18 to secure the additional insurance protection.

As a third alternative, it can be used both ways -- the parents can keep the policy in force as career insurance in an amount several times its original face amount by continuing to pay premiums, and can make a loan against the cash value to help pay for the child's college education.

This policy is available for children shortly after birth through the age of 10. The minimum policy has a guaranteed cash value of $1,000 at the policy anniversary date nearest the child's 18th birthday.

Should the child die any time before he is 18, the beneficiaries receive the face amount of the policy, which is double the cash value at age 18. For example, in the case of the minimum policy, the face amount of the policy is $2,000.

"I urge every parent of young children to examine the college education policies offered by life insurance companies. I am sure every thoughtful parent will agree that the insurance business is offering great assistance in helping see that college education are more readily available to their children," Vernola concluded.

13 New Priests Have 13 Different Stories

By CLAIRE COX
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) - Thirteen young Paulist seminarians were ordained to the Catholic priesthood today by his Eminence Francis Cardinal Spellman.

It was just a simple announcement informing the public that 13 new Roman Catholic priests were ready to serve the church and the Paulist order, which is dedicated to "the conversion of America."

Who were these young men whose paths had crossed in religious service? Behind the single sentence announcing their ordination lay 13 stories, all different.

There was the Rev. John G. Howard, 30, of Waterbury, Conn., for example. He was an honor graduate from college and played third base on an all-star baseball team.

The Rev. Richard L. Mirold, 27, of Colorado Springs, Colo., kindled a passion for the priesthood long before he started down the road for the priesthood. His high school, he was student body president. Then he worked as a hamburger chef in a highway diner, a brakeman on the Pikes Peak Railroad and a hodcarrier.

Before he began to study for the priesthood, the Rev. Edward D. Wroblewski, 31, of Buffalo, N.Y., was a professional magician. He had served with the U.S. air force in the Korean War and had been an honor graduate from an air force radio school. Art, painting, sculpture and photography have been his hobbies.

Two years as an examiner for an insurance company preceded theological study for the Rev. Peter G. Shea, 30, of New York. Two of his brothers and a sister also belong to religious orders, while one brother is a policeman, one a detective and another a machinist.

Upon graduation from high school in New Bedford, Mass., the recently ordained Rev. William A. Brimley, now 36, served as an army air force corporal in the Mediterranean theater. Then came five years at Harvard College and six years of working as a civilian for the government. His decision to enter the priesthood was regarded as a "delayed vocation" for which he trained at several schools before entering the seminary. Last June he received a master's degree from St. Paul's College in Washington, D.C., with a thesis on "Sex Education and the Pre-Adolescent."

The Rev. Bernard J. O'Keefe, 28, of Toronto, originally planned to become an accountant, but after completing two years of a five-year course, he decided to become a priest. Earlier he had qualified as a Red Cross swimming instructor and was a skilled hockey and baseball player.

These new priests and the others in their group now are at work as summer replacements in Paulist parishes. All eventually will undergo a year of pastoral training at the Catholic Information Center in Boston, under the supervision of the Rev. Francis X. Ryan, superior of the center and director of the pastoral year program.

The Very Rev. William A. Mitchell, superior general of the Paulist Fathers, regards the year of training as an internship during which the men get to know the practical side of the priesthood.

All the new priests have been trained extensively in radio and television work. They have appeared on television programs and have written radio and television shows. One, for example, appeared on more than 160 radio programs and 50 television shows during his six years in seminary.

Modern communications techniques are regarded as an integral part of their mission, which is to inform the American people about Roman Catholicism.

Great Duo (UPI) - Bette Davis and Joan Crawford appear together for the first time in "What Ever Happened to Baby Jane?"

Busy Bob (UPI) - Robert Wagner is co-starring with Sophia Loren in "The Prisoner of Altona," which will be filmed in Hamburg. He just finished "The Longest Day" for Darryl Zanuck.

STATIC

Emmy Award-winning comedienne Carol Burnett will star in "Calamity Jane," a 30-minute musical comedy special to be presented on CBS-TV this fall. "Calamity Jane" she will portray a "rootin', tootin'" young woman of the Old West with a penchant for buckskins and tall tales. Show was first produced on the musical comedy stage at the Starlight Theatre in Kansas City, Mo., in July 1961, with Miss Burnett in the title role. Based on the original Warner Bros. motion picture, it encompasses the original motion picture score by composer Sammy Fain and lyricist Paul Francis Webster, including the Academy Award-winning ballad, "Secret Love," plus six additional new songs.

NBC reporter Roy Neal's book about the "Minuteman" missile, "Face in the Hole," will be published by Doubleday September 11.

Choreographer June Taylor estimates she'll have to audition over 500 dancers to select the final 16 girls who'll be the June Taylor Dancers featured on "Jackie Gleason's American Scene Magazine," which starts on CBS-TV, Sept. 29. Miss Taylor is currently touring the country with Gleason auditioning dancers. The final auditions will be held in New York City early next month.

LOOK/LISTEN: Mighty Mouse, star of "The Mighty Mouse Playhouse" on CBS-TV, is being joined by popular singer Steve Lawrence and musical comedy star Mary Martin in promoting the 1962 Halloween "Trick or Treat" drive for UNICEF (United Nations Children's Fund). The stars appear in a special 15-minute public service program, "A Mid-October Night's Dream," which will be distributed by the United States Committee for UNICEF to radio stations throughout this country and Canada.

John Bruno's "Pen & Pencil" Steakhouse, on East 45th St., New York, is closed for three weeks and will re-open for its 25th season on Tuesday, Sept. 4. Restaurant is being redecorated to the tune of $50,000.

Songstress and actress Jean Martin, after a lengthy absence from show business, returns to performing commencing Sept. 7 at Jack Silverman's International on Broadway. A graduate of the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, Miss Martin has previously starred on TV in "New York City" and "New York Confidential" as well as on her own variety series on TV.

SIGHTS-Sounds: "The Interrogator," color broadcast drama set against the years of tragic conflict that preceded independence for the Mediterranean island of Cyprus, will be seen at an NBC-TV "Du Pont Show of the Week" Sunday, Sept. 23. The adaptation by Don M. Mankiewicz of Troy Kennedy Martin's original teleplay, presented last year in England on the BBC-TV network, will be the first of at least seven color dramas to be produced for Show of the Week by Louis Freedman.

Because Kathy Nolan has ex-ited from "The Real McCoys,"

Dick Crenna will play a "widower" on that show next season. Crenna will also get much bigger billing next season.

Johnny Mathis and the McGuire Sisters share top billing on Ed Sullivan's CBS-TV show Sunday, Sept. 2.

Robert Earle has been named as the new moderator for "G-P College Bowl," weekly Sunday series on CBS-TV. He'll succeed Allen Ludden when the intercollegiate question and answer program, now in summer hiatus, returns for its fifth season Sunday, Sept. 23.

Robert Goulet will make his second appearance on CBS-TV's "Talent Scouts" program Tuesday, Aug. 28, when he presents his understudy in the musical comedy "Camelot," Bob Peterson to the TV audience.

RADIO-TV NEWSREEL: Pat Fontaine, popular St. Louis TV personality, has been chosen as the new "Today Girl" on NBC-TV's early-morning "Today" show, and will be seen on a regular basis.

Frank Nugent will write a new ABC-TV series, tentatively titled "Land of the Wild," which Larry Lansburgh will produce for fall scheduling.

It will be Gene Barry, and not Robert Cummings, who'll play the leading male role in "The Perfect Setup," with Angie Dickinson and Jan Sterling as his co-stars. Show opens on Broadway on Oct. 24. Barry went from the Broadway stage to stardom on TV in the Western series "Bat Masterson."

That's all for now.

Before hanging a heavily starched article on the clothesline, cover a small portion of the line with waxed paper. Next time you hang clothes, the line won't be stiff or sticky.

Shakespearean Tragedy Scheduled For Warinanco

"Romeo and Juliet," a Shakespearean tragedy, will be presented in Warinanco Park, Elizabethtown and Roselle, on a lawn adjacent to the Administration building of the Union County Park Commission, on Tuesday, August 28, and Wednesday, August 29, beginning at 8:15 p.m. each evening.

The play will be performed by the Woodbridge Summer Shakespearean Festival under the direction of Henry W. Glass of Westfield, and is sponsored by The R.J. Goerke Co. of Elizabethtown and Plainfield, with the cooperation of the park commission. Bleachers will be set up for the audience and admission is free.

This group recently presented Shakespeare's comedy "A Midsummer Night's Dream" to a standing-room-only audience in Cedar Brook Park, Plainfield, and at Woodbridge High School Park; and last year also played to a large audience in their production of Shakespeare's "As You Like It." Both of these plays, when presented in Union County, were also sponsored by The R.J. Goerke Co.

Mr. Glass received his master's degree in drama from Pennsylvania State University and taught drama at the University's School of Theatre Arts. For the past eleven years, Mr. Glass has directed community theatras in London, Livingston, Plainfield and Woodbridge, and also directed the previous Shakespearean dramas that were presented in the parks.

Anthony Provenzano, Woodbridge, will play the role of Romeo. He is a graduate of Villanova University and has played in various productions of the Circle Players of Woodbridge as well as with a drama group at Villanova. Mr. Provenzano is employed as a parole officer.

Playing the role of Juliet will be Marion Glass of Westfield.

Gardeners Show at Fair

Visitors to the Morris County Fair have a treat in store for them at the Industrial Mall this year. Interspersed among the industrial booths are the prize-winning exhibits of eight Northern New Jersey Garden Clubs.

First place winner is the Chatham Township Garden Club, their attractive "Shady Nook" plans the Science Show tent where Tel Star, the new communications satellite, is exhibited.

The Morris County Fair presented cash awards to the four place winners: $100 1st prize, Chatham Township Garden Club, Chatham, Mrs. C. F. Lanzara, president; $75.00 2nd prize, Atton Gardeners, Florham Park, Mrs. William Lesser, president; $55.00 3rd prize, Cactus and Succulent Society of New Jersey, Alayne Appel and Al Kuehn, Morris Plains; $25.00 4th prize, Whipponing Gardeners, Whippany, Suzanne L. Lund, president.

Ribbons were awarded to: 5th place, Garden Club of Wharton, Wharton, Mrs. Gladys F. Larison, president; 6th place, Chester Mixers 4-H Club, Chester, Mrs. Elmer H. Grube, president; 7th place, Paterson Chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

Judges of the Garden Club Rocks were Mrs. Ester Moulton, Rockaway Valley; Mrs. Shattuck, Mountain Lakes; Bruce Van Dyke, assistant agricultural agent of Bergen County, and Warren Monroe, assistant agricultural agent of Union County.

Mrs. Glass received her master's of art degree from Pennsylvania State University and has performed in summer stock in Vermont, New Hampshire and Pennsylvania as well as being active with the Community Players of Westfield and the Circle Players of Woodbridge. She has appeared in feature roles in the other Shakespearean productions last year and this year.

Mercutio, a friend of Romeo, will be played by Jon Barry Wilder, Westfield, Mr. Wilder is managing director of the Lakeland-Little Theatre, Lakeland, Florida.

Tybal, the cousin of Juliet, will be played by Robert O'Keefe of Cliffwood Beach, Mr. O'Keefe attended the New Theater School in New York and has appeared with the Circle Players of Woodbridge. He played the role of Demetrius in "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

The role of Juliet's nurse will be played by Marge Greenberg of Woodbridge, a newcomer to the festival.

Friar Lawrence will be played by William Tait of Iselin, Mr. Tait also appeared in last year's production of "As You Like It."

Benvolio, the cousin of Romeo, will be played by John McGarry, Scotch Plains, Mr. McGarry is a graduate of Villanova University and is employed by the Humble Oil and Refining Co. He has appeared with the Scotch Plains Players, groups at Villanova, and with the Circle Players, James Crawford, Westfield, will play the role of Lord Capulet, the father of Juliet. Mr. Crawford is active with the Community Players of Westfield, and is also a baritone soloist with the Second Presbyterian Church of Elizabethtown. He is employed as a special agent with the American Fore-Loyalty Insurance Group.

The role of Lady Capulet, the mother of Juliet, will be played by Wanda Crawford, Westfield. Mrs. Crawford also played with the Westfield Community Players and the Foothill Playhouse, Middlesex. She is an editorial assistant with Fortune Magazine.

Court Paris, the suitor of Juliet, will be played by Philip Koch of Elizabethtown, Mr. Koch did some comedy work while in service and is employed as a salesman with the Halco Chemical Co., Kenilworth.

Other members of the cast include: Bud Pierce, Paton, as Lord Montague; Charles Leonard, Linden, as Abram; Mark Silverman, West Orange, as Balthezar; George Howard, Fords, as Sampson; Joseph Pagano, Jersey City, as Peter; Douglas Hooper, North Plainfield, as Gregory; and Sharon Kaufman, Woodbridge, as Rosaline.

Typical Investor

Do you own stock, and if so, are you a typical shareholder? According to Elsa Wagman of Springfield, a customer's representative in the Newark Office of Richard E. Kohn & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, the typical investor is a woman, 35 to 54 years old; a high school graduate, probable with some college training; has an annual household income of between $5,000 and $10,000; and is a housewife. More than one-third of the nation's shareholders are housewives, the broker observed.

Mrs. Wagman's comments were based on a survey made recently by the New York Stock Exchange.

Rubinoff Experiences Personal Interest In Music New To Violin

When Dave Rubinoff appears in his popular concert in Springfield at the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Auditorium on October 24th, he will perform as violin solos the full scores of Chopin's Polonaise, the Warsaw Concerto, and Rhapsody in Blue. The American public has grown to love these numbers arranged for piano and orchestra, but Rubinoff feels they lend themselves to violin equally as well.

version. Mr. Addinsell felt after hearing Rubinoff play the Concerto that it was a new revelation in depth of feeling as only the violin could express it.

You may purchase tickets at Bunnell Bros., 8 Mountain Ave. (next door to the Bank), or from any Lyons Club member, and hear these premier performances on the violin.

Bundy To Go International

Bundy Electronics Corporation, Springfield, is now in the process of selecting a firm to represent it in the European Common Market, according to an announcement by Harry Schwartz, Bundy President.

He said a number of firms have expressed interest in handling Bundy's line of toroids, transformers, and filters, adding that a heavy volume of requests for information from European manufacturers forced the company to consider on-the-spot representation.

Schwartz said the various proposals are now being studied. A Bundy executive will go to Europe in January to consummate the final selection.

Our know-how and ability to produce and deliver on time is going to mean considerable export sales. We also are able to deliver at price which European manufacturers can not beat, he added.

Social Security Question Box

Q. Several years ago I called at the social security office in the Missouri town where I then lived and they told me as long as I was earning over $2080 a year, I need not apply for benefits until I was 72. My friends tell me there has been a change in this. Please explain.

A. A change last year in the social security law makes it possible for many more older people to work and still be paid some social security benefits. Under the law as it stands now, you can earn $1200 in a year, you give up $1 of benefits for every $2 you earn between $1200 and $1700. For every $1 you earn over $1700, you give up $1 of benefits. As you reside in Union County, ask the Elizabeth Social Security Office for the (free pamphlet, 23¢) which shows how much you can earn but still receive some social security checks.

Q. I keep hearing on the radio that even though a person is working, he should visit his social security office if he is 65, or over. I always thought you couldn't get payments if you were working; please explain why it is necessary to visit the social security office.

A. The reason you are asked to see your social security office is to keep you from losing benefits that may be payable to you even though you may be working. Last year's changes in law permit some payments to you even though you earn more than $1200 a year.

Q. I am 66 and still work fairly steady. Would there be any social security payments for me at this time?

A. That's difficult to answer without knowing more details about your earnings. This is one of the reasons it is best for you to visit the social security office as soon as possible. Because our applications are retroactive only for one year, you may lose benefits if you delay your visit to the office.

Q. How is it possible for people over 65, who are still working, to receive some of their monthly social security payments?

A. Last year's amendments to the social security law make it possible for many older people to work but still be paid some social security benefits. People may now earn well over $1200 and collect some of their social security benefits for the year. You should visit your social security office soon. A delay may mean loss of some benefits.

Wave Recruiter Is In Elizabeth

Master Chief Yeoman Frances A. Calnan, USN, will be at the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station, Union County Court House, Elizabeth, New Jersey on Thursday August 30 between the hours of 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., to explain Wave career opportunities to any interested young women.

Miss Calnan, enlisted in the Navy in May 1945 and received her basic training at Hunter College, New York City. At present she is attached to the Navy Recruiting Service in New York City as a touring representative of the Navy Waves, Chief Calnan's previous duty stations include San Francisco, California; Glenview, Illinois; and Paris, France. She recently came to New York from Headquarters, U. S. Naval Forces, Europe, in London, England.

Chief Calnan states that the Navy offers many fine opportunities for young women for training, education and travel. For information on the Wave program, phone or visit Chief Calnan at the Navy Recruiting Office, Union County Court House, Elizabeth, New Jersey on August 31, between the hours of 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

Myrna Loy To Star At Mill For 2 Week Stand

Myrna Loy will play a two week engagement at the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn in "These Must Be A Pony". The play, opening on Tuesday instead of the usual Monday opening, will be seen for thirteen consecutive performances, including a special 8:00 P.M. performance on Sunday, September 2.

Myrna Loy will be recalled by many as one of the brightest stars in the movies. After many melodramas and a memorable stint as the daughter of Fu Manchu, Miss Loy was cast opposite William Powell in a light little mystery entitled "The Thin Man". The combination was unbeatable, and the two stars became a world-famous team. As motion pictures began to take on more dignity and depth, so did the career of Miss Loy. She starred with almost every famous leading man in Hollywood, including Leslie Howard, John Barrymore, Clark Gable, George Brent, Spencer Tracy, James Stewart, Walter Pidgeon, Tyrone Power, Melvyn Douglas, Frederic March, Cary Grant, Robert Mitchum and Rex Harrison.

A stunning example of how far she and films had come since the days of "State Street Sadie" in the 1946 production, "The Best Years of Our Lives", one of the great films of all time. Others featured with Miss Loy in the past are Donald Woods, Peter Helm, G. Wood, Jan Miner, Mary Patton, Adelaide Klein, Sam Greene, Barbara Mostel, niece of Zero Mostel; Ted Terry, Harlan Tuckman and Ed Tesser.

Peter Helm, the very young man who will play Miss Loy's teen-aged son in the play is a veteran of three Broadway productions. He made his debut in Burgess Meredith's "Enrico the Fourth", and went on to "Gomesa Day", with Judith Anderson, and "There Was a Little Girl" with Jane Fonda. Mr. Helm, who began acting at twelve, has also appeared in two motion pictures, "Holiday for Lovers" and "The Longest Day". Miss Loy and director John Stix spent weeks of arduous searching to find just the right young man for this role. Canadian-born Peter is the middle of three talented Helm children. His older sister, Anne, is a well-known actress.

Donald Woods is a familiar face to movie goers, having appeared regularly in such films as "Tale of Two Cities", "Louis Pasteur", "Frisco Kid", "Anthony Adverse" with Frederic March; "Watch on the Rhine" and "Night and Day" with Cary Grant. This too will be Mr. Woods' Broadway debut.

John Stix, the director, began an early association with Helen Hayes when she asked him to stage her ANTA Theatre production of "Mary Rose". He then staged the entire Helen Hayes Festival, which resulted in a nation-wide tour of "What Every Woman Knows".

Talulah Bankhead, currently at the Paper Mill in the comedy "Here Today", will close on Saturday, August 25.

Olympic Park Aqua Show

An elaborate aquatic show Saturday afternoon at the Olympic Park pool will mark the "graduation" of hundreds of children in the 1962 "learn to swim" program sponsored by the Newark Red Cross and the Irvington-Maplewood amusement park.

Virtually every community in northern New Jersey is represented among those attaining varying degrees of water safety proficiency. Many will qualify as life guards and instructors.

By popular demand, Olympic will have another 10-cent day next Wednesday, with admission, parking and rides reduced to a dime. This positively will be the season's last, according to Robert Guenther, park president.

A North Bergen couple, Harry and Harriet King, will offer a hand-balancing acrobatic act in next week's free circus. Top billing in the show due Monday, however, will go to Les Offels, famed French trapeze stars. Lona and her Pals, trained poodles, round-out the show, which will hold through Labor Day.

Olympic will end its '62 season that night.

Y Registration

Registration for out-of-towners for the fall term for boys gym and swim instruction classes will be held at the Westfield YMCA on Wednesday, August 29th, starting at 9:15 a.m. Registrations are on a first-come, first-served basis.

Swimming instruction classes will be held once a week for the ten week period for boys of all abilities in grades 1 and up who are at least 49 inches tall.

Boys in grades 5 to 9 may also register for gym classes. Registrations will be accepted at the main desk of the YMCA.

Senior Net Play At Union Park

The Union County Senior Tennis Tournament, sponsored by the Union County Park Commission, will be played at the Warminster Park Tennis Courts, Elizabeth and Roselle, beginning Saturday, September 8, at 10:00 a.m.

The tournament is open to all men over 40 years of age who are residents of Union County. Men who will reach their 40th year in 1962 are eligible to compete in this event.

Dr. Richard Cohen, Plainfield, won the 1961 and 1962 championship by defeating Cephus Monnet, Rahway. Mr. Monnet won the championship in 1957, 1958, and 1959.

United States Lawn Tennis Association rules will govern all play. Entries close at noon, Tuesday, September 4, with George J. Cron, superintendent of recreation, the Union County Commission, P. O. Box 275, Elizabeth, N. J.

Art Fund Getting There

Mrs. James K. Moss, President of the Summit Art Center, announces the Building Fund campaign achieved 2/3 of the goal on August 18th. The funds are for the direct purpose of refurbishing the Art Center's recently acquired 2-story building at 17 Cedar Street in Summit. The full amount of $45,000 is needed to complete the new Art Center, and to retire the small mortgage on the building.

More than $40,000 of the purchase price was on hand in the Art Center's bank account, raised through various events in the last dozen years.

Basic reconstruction and new wiring is to be finished by Labor Day. Decorating inside should be done before classes start, September 27th. Exterior painting is the last item, as this can be done without disrupting classes and exhibits.

The Summit Art Center runs the largest community art school in New Jersey. Fall Term, to take advantage of the two separate studios, members and friends are urged to participate in completing the new Art Center. For information, call Mrs. Moss at CR 7-3412, or write to the Art Center, 17 Cedar Street, Summit.

SCIENCE NOTEBOOK

BY HANS KLEIN, UNION COUNTY REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOLS. Fluoridation will reduce cavities in children's teeth up to two-thirds make the teeth stronger—and more attractive.

Q: One of these days within the next decade we'll hear a frenzied interview something like this: Q: Are you happy to be back? A: Each never looked so good. Q: What are your feelings about revisiting the moon? A: (Astronaut heitates) I'm not the one to decide. Actually, it was a tremendous adventure, but let me add—it wasn't exactly my idea of a pleasure cruise.

Q: I can imagine. Tell me, how did the moon look? A: Ghostly. Q: Ghostly? How do you mean "ghostly"? A: It struck me as being a dead planet—colorless. Q: When the "bug" put you on the surface, how did it look? A: A pale, glaring landscape—I would say something like the Dakota badlands. The dust surprised us. Especially when the landing rocket stirred it up and the dust settled almost instantly, like water splashing.

Q: By the way, is there any water there? A: I don't think so. We saw no evidence of it when circling, or when we landed. Q: You say it was pale and glaring—afterwards did you see any color? A: Not much. Cool colors such as greens and blues were infrequent. We took color photographs, they'll tell you more. I'm anxious to see them myself. Remember, we didn't have much time for leisurely sightseeing—we had about two hours.

Adults Can Register By Mail

These of you who are making plans to keep yourselves stimulated this fall by taking one or more courses at Jonathan Dayton Regional High, will be glad to know that you can now register early by mail in order to assure a place in the class of your choice. This early registration is important not just to make sure that there is room in those classes with limited enrollment, but also to insure the fact that the course you are interested in, will be given.

Named Teacher: Roger Smith of 121 Henshaw Ave., Springfield, has been engaged by the Board of Education as a teacher of social studies and the language arts in the seventh grade for the next school year.

For the sake of our children let us proceed to discuss fluoridation in Springfield so that we can spearhead similar action in our neighboring communities.

Dr. Moud's report to the Springfield Board of Health concludes that the fluoridation of water ranks with the chlorination of water and the pasteurization of milk as one of the great accomplishments in the field of environmental health.

Fluoridation will reduce cavities in children's teeth up to two-thirds make the teeth stronger—and more attractive.

The family dental bills will be substantially reduced and this safe and effective method can be obtained for a cost of ten to fifteen cents per year per person.

In a final comment, Dr. Mond and Committee—Hardgrove jointly stated that they support fluoridation and it is their desire to see Springfield spearhead the drive for fluoridation of the local water supply.

Mr. Hardgrove added that the Commonwealth Water Company supplies Springfield as well as 10 other communities which all must agree to fluoridate before Springfield can accrue the benefits outlined.

When Dr. Boylston then proceeded to vaccinate his slaves and a few other people he became so controversial that he was threatened with hanging.

Luckily—the epidemic abated and the good doctor's life was spared. Smallpox vaccination, soon acceptable (even in Boston), has eradicated this dread disease from this country and from most areas of the world.

A century later, Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes of the same city had a major that puerperal fever, a theory cause of death in childbirth, was due to the careless hygiene of the doctors in attendance.

Another public health measure that would eventually save millions of lives was born. Quinly?—No, Controversial?—Yes. Dr. Holmes' ears ran with the scorn and rebuke of his colleagues. Holmes' theory was proven scientifically in 1847 by Dr. Semmelweis of Vienna.

This proof was pretty conclusive, but it was controversial too—because preformed opinions are hard to change and outspoken—hard-nothings—are present in every society.

Within the past decade the introduction of Salk vaccine for the prevention of poliomyelitis was greeted by the same outcry from the hollow voices of gloom and doom.

Many parents were afraid to have their children inoculated with the new vaccine. Needless to say, the Salk vaccine, approved by competent scientific authorities proved to be both safe and effective.

Oh, how sad that the world controversial had to be revived and smuggled into a discussion by the Township Committee of the value of fluoridation.

Fluoridation is nothing new, daring, or even imaginative. It's been used for decades across our country, in thousands of communities and by millions of people. It's easy, cheap, safe, and it works. It will prevent cavities in children by as much as 65%.

Years ago sister Communities like Newburgh and Beacon, New York offered to test the fluoride adjustment of their public water supplies as a preventive of tooth decay. This voluntary community effort proved how valuable young teeth fluoridation can be. So did all other similar tests leading to fluoride adjustment by more and more towns and cities in the U. S. A.

This list includes Our Nation's Capital where a committee of the Congress studied the problem and then proceeded to have fluoride added to the water of the District of Columbia.

How fortunate for two new occupants of the White House, Caroline Kennedy and her little brother.

For the sake of our children let us proceed to discuss fluoridation in Springfield so that we can spearhead similar action in our neighboring communities. But let's leave out that terrible word—controversial. It just isn't so.

Yours very truly, Ralph I. Mond, M. D., Physician Member, Board of Health

Named Teacher: Roger Smith of 121 Henshaw Ave., Springfield, has been engaged by the Board of Education as a teacher of social studies and the language arts in the seventh grade for the next school year.

A graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, he has a B.A. degree from Lipsala College.

Springfield Pioneers Have Anniversary

One run-away marriage which is giving every indication that it will last is that of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Briggs of 668 Morris Avenue, who have just completed a half century of wedded bliss!

Capping off the celebration will be a belated honeymoon—something the couple skipped 50 years ago.

Their children presented them with the gift trip—a surprise garden party August 5th at the home address.

The spritely Springfield pair plans to participate in a 19-day tour which will take them to California, Hawaii, and Nevada sometime in October.

Mrs. Briggs recalls that they were married August 2, 1912 by the Rev. William G. Ivie in Grace Episcopal Church, Brooklyn.

"It was a Friday," she vividly remembers, and refers to the old wives' tale admonishing that it is bad luck to be married on that day. "For us, it was anything BUT!" she laughs.

Mr. Briggs is descended from old-time Springfield families, who settled here in colonial days. One branch of his forebears came to Springfield as early as 1717. Names such as Drew, Stites, Denmark, Mulford, and Parkhurst, pop up in his ancestry.

A great-grandfather was George Mulford Sr. whose home in Morris Avenue still stands (now next to Jo Jan's photography studio).

His grandfather, George Mulford Jr., better known as Squire Mulford, built his home in 1859 in Short Hills Avenue and it remains there today as the oldest house on that street.

On his father's death, Squire Mulford moved to the Morris Avenue home, where as municipal judge he conducted court for many years. The squire held office in the township from the time he was 26 years old until his death when he was about 70. Other positions which he filled at various times included township committeeman, tax assessor, and overseer of the poor. Washington birthday suppers were also held in the Mulford Morris Avenue home annually for the benefit of the Methodist Church until the new church building was raised providing space for the affairs.

Mr. Briggs himself received his early education in the township and then attended Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, from which he was graduated with the class of 1911.

Mrs. Briggs, who was 60 years old on July 31st, was married at 17. She was the former Anna M. Van Nostrand of Jamaica, N.Y., and the couple lived the first nine years of their marriage in that community, where Mrs. Briggs was born and raised. The last 41 years they have lived in this township, moving into the dwelling at 668 Morris Avenue when it was a new home.

Retired the last four years, Mr. Briggs just observed his 72nd birthday August 17th. He was employed for 30 years as a chemist by the William R. Warner Pharmaceutical Co., New York, and then for 10 years as a book-keeper by a local concern. He is now an inactive member of the Springfield Volunteer Fire Department, in which he has been interested over the years. His wife is a member of the Springfield Woman's Club and Battle-hill Auxiliary 7683, VFW, of Springfield. The Briggs are a well-known family in the community with members presently residing in five homes here: Robert M. Briggs, a son, who operates the Springfield Garage in Morris Avenue, resides at 670 Morris Avenue next to his parents. Another son, G. Harvey Briggs, who is in landscape and garden work, lives in Morrison Road.

The elder Mr. Briggs' sister, Miss Phoebe M. Briggs makes her home in Tooker Avenue and is a part-time employee of Springfield Free Public Library, and his brother, Albert Briggs resides in Short Hills Avenue with three sons—Albert, who is in the moving business, James and Arthur, a married daughter of Albert Briggs, Georgia, lives out of town. In addition to Robert and G. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Briggs have another son, Richard W. Briggs of Berkeley Heights, and two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Swanson of Livingston, who is a school teacher in that municipality, and Mrs. Marion Kowalski of East Brunswick, and 13 grandchildren, including a set of twins. The wedding of the first grandchild took place this year.

According to Mrs. Briggs the greatest happiness to be gained in later life comes from the grandchildren and she maintains the most important ingredient to a successful marriage is the ability to "give and take a little." "There shouldn't be a boss!" she declared.

Friends and relatives to the number of 125 attended the recent anniversary affair. One friend came all the way from Denver and others visited from Long Island. The couple was showered with many gifts, mostly in the form of money and flowers. One present was a framed display of 50-cent pieces and other coins dipped in gold and arranged in commemoration of the event. The only immediate relative missing for the celebration was a grandson, Bruce E. Briggs, 22, of Springfield, who is serving with the National Guard in Kentucky.

PUBLIC SERVICE ELECTRIC AND GAS COMPANY

This is a School?

Indeed it is. The Jersey Central Power & Light New Jersey Power & Light Linemen's Training Schools at Allenhurst and Whippany are among the most exacting schools we know of. Here, under the careful tutelage and watchful eyes of skilled instructors, themselves veteran operating men, budding linemen learn the skills they will soon use on the job.

That job, of course, is helping to provide you with the best electric service possible.

On completion of their training, they will join the almost 3,000 other JCPL-NJPL employees whose jobs are serving you, whose knowledge and experience is combined daily with the most modern equipment and facilities available to bring to you, the customer, the best electric service possible.

Wesley-Fischer Advance;

Ditto For Katz & Davron

WESLEY
FISCHER
DAVRON
KATZ

BULLETIN

Both Davron and Katz have advanced to the semi-final round of the Springfield Adult League Playoffs with victories over Ehrhardt Electronics and Reinert respectively. It will be Wesley or Fischer against Davron or Katz in the final game scheduled for this Sunday at 1 p.m. at the Washington Ave. Field.

In other action last week, the Mets opened a determined Legion nine as Springfield's answer to Casey Stengel's headache found themselves on the short end of a 7-1 score before erupting for 4 runs in the 3rd, 4th and 5th innings. The final count was Mets 13, Legion 9.

The Mets displayed some lusty hitting, collecting 16 hits which included two homers off the bats of Henry McCann and Joe Blanda. In a direct turnout from previous games, the Mets displayed a sound infield and outfield.

Legion also showed themselves to be a much improved team. The alertness of Tom Dougherty, flashy fielding, sharp hitting first baseman was the high point of the game. Dougherty keenly observed a Met batter running out of the batters box to hit one of Roy Schram's offerings. His observation came immediately after the Met batsman crossed first base. As was pointed out by the umpire, the batters box is "automatic" and therefore the batter is out.

Bob Reeves, a converted outfielder was the winning pitcher and Roy Schram was the loser. Wesley Jewelers moved into the semi-finals as they erased whatever hopes the Mets might have had for going all the way. The Jewelers took the contest 8-4 as Joe Pepe hurled a nifty four hitter.

Dave Monroe was the hitting star for the winners, as he collected three hits. Fischer Bros. Travel Bureau hung in there as they downed the Jaycees in a hard hitting affair on August 20. Carl Maling, Carmen Pecoraro and Rich Agne all contributed to the 11-10 victory called at the end of six frames because of darkness. Maling went 3 for 3 with a triple, double and single. Pecoraro had a double and single and Agne contributed a triple and double.

All told, these three accounted for 9 of Fischer's 11 runs.

Fischer now tangles with Wesley in their bracket for a final berth, while Davron will take on Katz on the other bracket.

Boy Scouts Attend Camp

Anyone who despairs of modern youth should have been with Troop 270, Springfield, B.S.A. this weekend when they joined with Troop #64 of Union, N.J., at the Basica Falls, Pa. Scout Reservation of the Philadelphia and Valley Forge Assn. These camp sites cater to 650 scouting youth in the heart of the panoramic beauty of the Pocono Mountain-resort area. Contrary to the trend of modern youth to delinquency for "kicks", the boys here take to the 2 modern built in swimming pools on a hot afternoon tackling each other for a giant watermelon in the middle of the 'cool blue' water. Jumping in fully clothed in a Naval dunnage uniform, White hat and all, and turning the outfit into inflatable life preservers may turn out in later military life as "good fun well learned."

LADY OF LEISURE — Susan Smith, 9, couldn't go swimming and enjoy her ice cream cone at the same time, so she went around the rule of "no swimming after eating" by jolling in salt water pool at Palisades Park, N.J., in a tube.

This 16 hundred acre Reservation has every modern facility for scout camping, from the immaculate and precision Quartermasters Stores, where any and everything can be obtained by the boys.

Leukemia Society Calls For Help

An urgent call for both seasoned campaigners and newcomers has been issued for this year's Northern New Jersey Leukemia Society appeal. The Society reported a shortage of volunteers at present.

Persons who can devote some time to fund collection and other duties during September should make known their availability, the Society urged.

"Our research programs can proceed only as fast as public support allows," Mrs. Antoinette R. deVilliers, Leukemia Society president, stated in connection with the September appeal. "We urge all persons sympathetic with the plight of leukemia victims and their families to volunteer their help."

Would-be volunteers can obtain information by contacting any of three Leukemia Society offices in Northern New Jersey. Numbers to call are MA 2-2833 for the Newark office, 833-1130 for the office located in Teaneck, and LI 9-6327 for the Metuchen office.

The Leukemia Society is the only national voluntary health agency devoted exclusively to the fight against leukemia.
