Residents Hear Bd. Candidates

Candidates' Night was held Monday in Gaudineer School, Springfield, with candidates for election to the Springfield Board of Education presenting brief talks followed by an audience-participation period of questions and answers. Co-sponsors of the program were the PTA and the League of Women Voters. Mrs. Russell Hillier, past president of Springfield Board of Education, served as moderator.

First speaker on the program was August Caprio, current Springfield Board of Education president, who cited the standards a desirable board member should possess. Among them he advocated an unselfish interest in the public schools, the community, and every child; a leader in his own occupation or community group; ability to think independently and objectively about a problem as well as to accede cheerfully to the decisions of the majority, and having the capability of recognizing and distinguishing the jurisdictional power and functions of the board and administration. Other prerequisites for being a good board member, he said, were courage and ability to explain and enforce a rule which might not be popular but proper and withholding judgment on critical issues until facts are available. The board president said that he felt he has met these various criteria and would continue to meet them.

Board member, Robert T. Jeffery said that the local school board has been forward looking and open minded and has attempted to keep pace with the changing times. "Our capable teachers and administrators have recognized their teaching responsibilities not only for the average child but for the gifted children and those requiring remedial instruction as well," he noted. "I'm interested in seeing that the continuity of this progressive attitude is maintained and for this reason, I'm desirous of continuing as board member," he continued.

Mr. Jeffery added: "Individual ideas must be initiated with some priority of importance weighed by proper timing and cost to the taxpayer. In evaluating the many factors necessary to equate this proper balance, I feel we are in need of additional classrooms today as well as a plan for the future expansion of our facilities to adequately accommodate the enrollment we anticipate in the years ahead." In addition, Board Member Jeffery pointed out that the salary guide was recently revised upward by which action, he said, it was hoped that the better educators would be attracted to and retained in the school system. He also advocated continued and expanded remedial instruction.

Howard S. Levin said that the emphasis should be put on "excellence". Not necessary "quantity" but "quality" should be the first concern. He stated that he was not satisfied that Springfield meets the average standards, but wants the system to "shine as a beacon of excellence in the county, state, and country." He noted that it was imperative that a foundation be provided for high school and college and the "utmost" should be done to give an education for the survival of a free society. An objective of education should be the making of a rounded individual, he said.

Robert T. Southward in his remarks said that he hopes the end has been reached in the increase in the cost of education, but didn't think it has. This is governed by the number of pupils and the amount of ratables, he said, which are beyond the scope of the Board of Education. Everyone wants good education for children, he noted, and pledged that if elected, he would "carefully weigh and analyze the money to be spent to ascertain that the goal was for good education and it was not expended on unnecessary 'frills.'" He also advocated increasing the team work of the Board of Education, the school administrators, the teachers, and pupils. "Good education is not the sole responsibility of the Board of Education," he said, "it is a community project and only by everyone working together can it be achieved." Parents can cooperate, he said, by taking an active interest in the affairs of the school and attending budget hearings and expressing their views as well as teaching their children to be well-behaved pupils. Teachers can cooperate by staying to help those who need extra help, the administration can investigate new ideas, and the Board of Education can establish and check the over-all policy, co-ordinate and do research.

Board Member Richard E. Werner commented on his observations during his past three years on the board. "We have a truly outstanding administration in our school system" he said, noting that it existed at the top with Superintendent of Schools Benjamin Newswanger and went "right on down" with excellent principals and teaching staff. In addition, he said, two individuals on the school board should publicly be given credit: -- Joseph Bender has been truly outstanding on the building and grounds committee and if the voters knew the number of dollars he saved on the Sandmeier School, they would be pleased. The other member was Alan Cunningham on the school government committee who has given many hours to this work, he said. Mr. Werner also called particular attention to the superior quality of teachers at Gaudineer School and said that credit should be given to the people who selected them: the superintendent of schools and the Board of Education. If elected, Mr. Werner said that he would like to select the same type of teachers the previous boards have.

First question from the audience was:
 How do you feel about a recent Supreme Court decision on keeping prayer out of schools and is there any application in our community? Answers were given as follows:

Mr. Caprio: I'm sure you never can resolve this question. The Supreme Court made a decision in this case, which a good many states do not support. I don't know what to say. If I had legal background, maybe I could answer it better.

Mr. Jeffery: This is not something that can be resolved overnight. I see nothing wrong with religion in schools. I think some should be in schools. The parents should make known their desires to the school authorities. I don't think there is any problem in Springfield.

Mr. Levin called attention to President Kennedy's idea on the matter advocating prayer in the home which he said he felt was one of the best suggestions. He also said that it might be appropriate to have a few moments of silence in the classroom during which time the pupils could pray in their own way. What the Supreme Court decides will be the law of the land as far as Springfield is concerned, he said.

Mr. Southward said that he believed it was proper to have a prayer in the school program. In the salute to the flag, we admit we are one nation under God and acknowledge Him as a Supreme Being. There can be a prayer which is appropriate for all. He added that he did not feel there was any dispute or controversy in Springfield.

Mr. Werner said that the board should support the New Jersey ruling on the matter no matter what the Supreme Court decides. If the New Jersey Board of Education has a policy, the board should follow it, he said. "There is a place for God in everybody's life regardless of religion," he said.

"There should be a prayer acceptable to all faiths and homage should be paid to the One, we all look up to so much," he concluded.

A question on the possibility of a summer school next summer brought the following replies:
 Mr. Caprio: We are receptive to any such program. Last summer the program was received enthusiastically by the board and was quite well received by the entire community.

Mr. Jeffery: I would favor one if the teachers are available and the plan has been investigated. I like the idea of summer teaching.

Mr. Levin: I like what I hear but I would need more information on it such as its costs and other details.

Mr. Southward: This is not something to which you say yes or no immediately. Do the people want it? Are they willing to pay the cost? They should let the board know their feelings.

Mr. Werner: This question should be asked of Mr. Mulvihill (Stewart Mulvihill, Gaudineer science teacher) who conducted the program this past summer. If there is enough interest, the teachers will again make themselves available.

When the question, what is being done to raise the level of teaching in the schools, was asked Mr. Caprio replied that the system is undergoing a re-evaluation and re-appraisal program.

Letter On School Board Budget

To the Editor:

Next month, on February 13, 1963 people of Springfield will go to the polls to vote for next schools budget, presented by Springfield Board of Education. The budget has been distributed in the town two weeks ago and all of us have received it. A week ago the Board of Education held a public hearing, to discuss the proposal.

What the new budget, presented and accepted by the Springfield Board of Education is and what it means to us, people.

The new 1963/1964 budget, AS COMPARED WITH THE ONE OF 1962/63 (which our tax burden so many points), represents raise in expenditures and raise in revenues, which come mostly and in 84% from local sources, viz. property taxes. The schools budget makes up 68% of the Township budget, which we feel as a heavy burden on our purses. 68% means that out of each dollar we pay in taxes, 68¢ goes to pay schools expenses. The 1962/63 raise in local taxes has been caused by heavy, everraising budget of the School System. Next year again the Board of Education wants more money, which means again higher taxes.

What causes and in what parts the school expenses will be (if we accept new budget on February 13) higher?

We have to educate our children. This budget we are now discussing (of the Board of Education) takes care of only 2300 (estimated) students. Last year similar budget took care of 2250 students. There is for practical purposes no raise in the school population; exactly only 2.2% (from 2250 to 2300 children). The 1963-1964 appropriation calls however for $1,289,550.00 in current expenses as compared to $1,214,200.00 of 1962-1963 actual expenses. The difference 75,350.00 represents 6.2% raise in expenses (to meet 2.2% raise in population). At the same time the State increases its aid 4.4% (1963-1964 State Aid-125,180.00 as against 120,180.00 in 1962-1963). To meet the increase in its budget the Board of Education anticipates increase from Local Tax Levy of abt. $94,000.- which will make increase from taxation 9 1/2% (1962/63-$987,676.00; 1963/64-$1,081,757.00). The Board of Education needs more 4.4% from the State and 9 1/2% more from the population to meet increase in the school population of 2.2%.

What the Board of Education needs higher taxes and more State Aid for? When we start to analyze the Board's Appropriations for Current Expenses, our eyes are attracted by 1-st lines: SALARIES. There is a raise in all expense items, however the raise in salaries, for:-

Administration up	$ 7920.-	or	15% higher
Instruction up	$47650.-	or	5-1/2% "
Health Service up	$ 25.-	or	" "
Transportation up	$ 200.-	or	4.4% "
Contracted Services	$ 3000.-	or	150% "
Operation up	$ 6300.-	or	10-1/2% "
Maintenance up	$ 1000.-	or	4.9% "
Fixed Charges	no raise

Tuitions (to other districts) (DOWN $2000.- or 29%)

Community Service up $ 1200.- or 24% higher

Because schools budgets make 68% of the all budget of the Town we may again expect raise in property taxes to satisfy the above raises. At the Board's meeting has been pointed out that Springfield spends to educate each high school student $561.- a year one of the highest rates in the State and almost the highest in the Country, so as far as the best education attitude is concerned our children are taken care very well of. However, the Board of Education is of the opinion that pupils have to be taken still better care of, IF THE RAISE IN SALARIES ALL OVER THE BOARD MEANS BETTER education.

At the Board's meeting no one from the audience expressed satisfaction with the increased budget. In the contrary, people openly and loudly criticized the proposal. Not a single person from among the people of Springfield defended the budget proposal, nevertheless the members of the board all voted "AYE" and accepted budget.

Now, it is up to the people of Springfield to go along with the Board, or to reject entire budget. There is no other way, but to reject entire budget, if we do not want to accept raise in local taxes. We have to bear in mind that local schools burden comprises of 68% of all Township's taxes. Moreover if we let the budget pass in its present amount, we shall invited Board of Education to go up and up each year and how far up? SO LET EVERYBODY GO ON FEBRUARY the 13, 1963 to the polls and vote. VOTE to approve the budget and new raise in taxes, OR REJECT IT, which will make easy going people from all kind Boards to think twice before they reach to peoples purses for increased expenses.

Hangout Deplored

Dear Sir:

I have just finished reading Robert Reed's letter regarding Mr. Zucker's Dog House Luncheonette and the "grocery-luncheonette" nearby and I say BRAVO: Maybe something can be done if more people complain.

Up to now I have hesitated writing because I do not live in the immediate area, but I do partrnize the stores there several times a week at approximately 12:45 P.M.

For those people who are unaware of the situation, I suggest they "see for themselves" what a HANGOUT that corner has become. Crowds of school students stand around outside, eating their lunches, making a racket, and then leave their lunch garbage on the sidewalk and parking lot. It's disgusting and unsanitary.

As for the parking lot, that is also filled with empty soda bottles, and the usual lunch litter and is crowded with cars of teenagers gulping their lunches and smoking.

It's obvious and necessary that a luncheonette is needed there which serves the food INSIDE to eliminate the mess and congestion OUTSIDE.

Something is definitely wrong with our Township Comm. if they refuse to allow a store to open which will be an asset, and yet allow the above mentioned situation to continue.

Very truly yours,
Gloria Sherman

Temple To Honor Falkin

Mayor Arthur Falkin's elevation to the position of Mayor of Springfield will be recognized during the Friday Night Service at Temple Beth Ahm on February 1st., according to Rabbi Reuben R. Levine, Spiritual Leader. The decision was made several weeks ago by the Executive Board and Temple President Meyer Biddleman to honor the fact that one of the congregation's own Vice Presidents has achieved the distinction of attaining the office of Mayor.

At the conclusion of Sabbath worship the Rabbi, whose sermon topic will center about "Religious Imperatives of Civic Responsibility" will call upon the Mayor for remarks. Many friends and associates of Mayor Falkin will also be present.

The service, as always, is open to the community and all are invited to attend.

Guild Sees Squad Film

Detective Art Magnusson of the Essex County prosecutors office (Pornographic Squad) was guest speaker at the recent meeting of St. James Mother's Guild. The women of the guild are now alerted to the fact that this is a major problem that could exist in our own community.

Farrington to Head Community Survey

Richard Bischof, president of the Springfield Junior Chamber of Commerce (Jaycees) this week announced plans for a community attitude survey in Springfield and appointed Paul Farrington, project director.

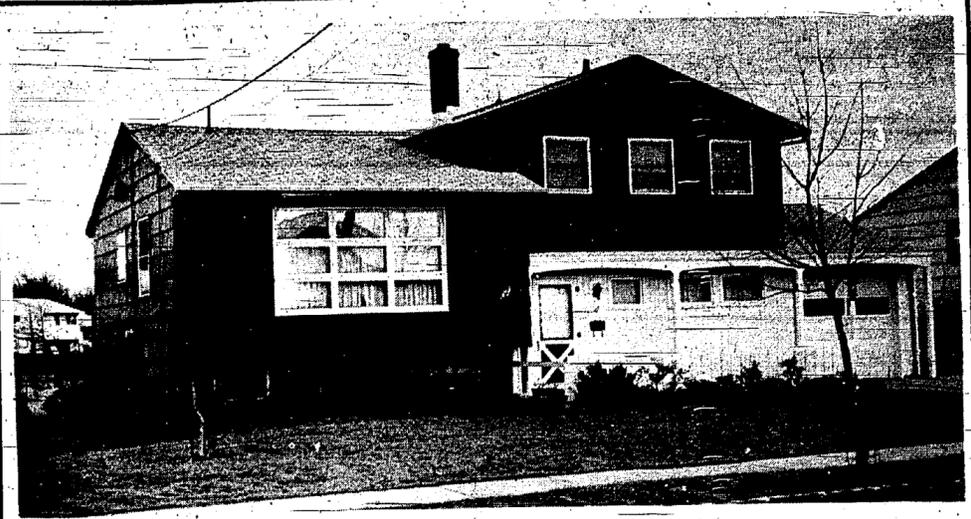

The survey, the first of its kind to be undertaken in Springfield will begin on Saturday, February 9 and continue for three weeks.

Residents of forty-four neighborhoods, representing a cross section of Springfield will be personally interviewed by members of the Jaycees and will have an opportunity to express their opinion of such things as Traffic Regulations, the Springfield School System, Library Facilities, Garbage Collection and the Effect of the new Route 78. In addition, residents will be asked what they consider are the most important things which need to be done to make Springfield a better community.

Results of the survey will be presented to the Township Committee and to all local civic organizations and will serve as a basis for the Springfield Junior Chamber of Commerce 1963-1964 Community Development Program.

On Utility Bills Springfield, N.J.

24 Main Street
Springfield, N.J.
January 14, 1963

Mr. Dick Schwartz, Editor
Springfield Sun
200 Morris Avenue
Springfield, New Jersey

Re: Payment of Utility Bills
Dear Mr. Schwartz:

While on vacation recently, I had occasion to pay our utility bills. Since I am formerly from Morristown where there are utility offices for all the utilities, I was surprised to find that I had to pay a fee of 10 cents each for the "privilege" of paying my gas and water bills here. I felt that this was unfair and discriminatory for the people of this area, so I called the Summit Office of the Public Service Electric and Gas Co. and spoke to Mr. Becker, the Manager. I explained how I felt, and he told me that many utilities charged the customers a small fee for the privilege of providing a convenient local collection agency. He pointed out that if I paid by mail, I would have to pay for mailing, plus either a money order or a checking account. He also said the practice of charging a fee for the convenience of customers had been going on for years all over the country, and he felt it was perfectly proper. I explained to Mr. Becker that since other utilities, such as the Telephone Company and the Jersey Central Power & Light Co. didn't charge the customer a fee, that the action by his company in allowing anyone to charge a fee for this service was not in the public's best interest and should be changed. I pointed out to him that the Public Service Electric and Gas Co. didn't charge residents in the Madison Area a fee when they paid their bills at a real-estate office. Mr. Becker explained that they formerly had an office there and that they still rented desk space, so no charge or fee was ever instituted. I ended the conversation by stating that the practice was undeniably discriminatory to the people in this area and amounted to the fact that we here are subsidizing their operation by paying for their collection costs in this area while other customers aren't forced to.

Following my conversation with Mr. Becker, I wrote to the Public Utilities Commission in Newark, N.J. and asked them to investigate and correct the situation. A week or so later, I received an answer from the Public Utilities Commission stating that they had investigated. Then the letter proceeded to explain that it would be too expensive for the utility to absorb the cost of setting up collection offices, and since the utilities involved in this type of collection didn't receive the fee itself, that no further action was in order.

The Commission Investigator completely ignored the fact that the customers in Springfield, and probably other areas, were paying themselves for these collection agencies which already exist, and that this amounted to an arbitrary increase in many already high utility bills. Regardless of who is receiving this extra fee, you, the customers in this area, are paying it. After receiving this reply, I called the Public Utilities Commission Office and spoke to Mr. Hardigan. I explained my feelings to him, and explained again that justice in this situation could only be obtained by the utilities themselves reimbursing the already existing agencies. I said to him that if the companies had to raise all the rates due to this, that it would be more fair than the present practice. Mr. Hardigan stood by the original answer, and said that I had recourse to try to reverse the ruling by doing the following:

1. File a petition stating my position.
2. Send a petition and $25.00 to Trenton.
3. Attend a meeting in Trenton and if I won, my money would be refunded. But, if I lost, the $25.00 would be collected for costs. I imagine this goes a long way towards discouraging anyone from appealing a decision.

I then asked Mr. Hardigan to mail me a letter of instructions on how to properly file my petition (should I desire to do so) and give me the address I was to mail it to. He then attempted to give me the address on the telephone, and when I explained I was at my job and again asked for a letter of instruction, Mr. Hardigan told me flatly that "I would not receive any further correspondence from their office." I asked Mr. Hardigan if he would send me a letter of instruction if I asked for it by mail, and he again answered "No." Getting angry at this point, I said I would write a few letters to my Assemblyman and N.J. Senators, and he said "I don't care who you write to, I will not send a letter as you requested." My own opinions are these. When an employee paid by the people of the State of New Jersey can answer the request of a citizen in such a manner and even imply that he would disregard such a request, from our State Officials, than how can we ever expect justice from such an agency for individual citizens such as you and I? There is only one way, and that is joint action. You and I, as citizens, must alert our officials to a situation like this and ask for a full investigation.

Sincerely yours,
Vincent B. O'Brien

Springfieldites at Republican Rally

Springfieldites Mrs. Amy Bandomer and Henry S. Wright were among some 300 Republican Party leaders from all over the State who attended the Municipal Chairmen's get together at the Hotel Stacy Trent, Trenton, on January 26. Guest speakers were U.S. Senator Clifford P. Case and State Senator William E. Ozzard.

Case said the Republican National Committee had reviewed the 1962 congressional campaign and that "it takes more votes to get a Republican elected than it does a Democrat." The reason: A high percentage of Republicans come from over populated congressional districts which he said need to be reapportioned.

State Senate President Ozzard predicted Republicans would strengthen their hold on the Trenton body by three additional seats in the November election.

Mothers' March Scheduled 31st

An army of women will be knocking on every door in the county Thursday evening January 31, in the 25th Anniversary March of Dimes Mothers' March.

James M. McGowan, general chairman for the Union County March of Dimes Drive, today said that final details have been agreed upon.

"All of the volunteers in the March of Dimes Mothers' March know how important the job is, even though it will take only about an hour," Mr. McGowan said. "Every woman realizes that her efforts will help people to give for the life of a child.

"The Marching Mothers have had a chance to meet some of the patients afflicted with birth defects, arthritis and polio who will be helped by the March of Dimes," Mr. McGowan said.

"Every Marching Mother also knows that the research program financed by the March of Dimes means a great deal to every family in this country. Every mother knows that the March of Dimes research program produced two polio vaccines, which are right now protecting her children against this crippling disease."

This same research program, he pointed out, has been expanded to include support of the Salk

Institute for Biological Studies, being built in San Diego, Calif. The Institute, to be directed by Dr. Jonas Salk, developer of the first effective vaccine against polio, will be a center where world-famous scientists will live and work, seeking basic information which may be applicable against a variety of human ailments, ranging from the common cold to cancer.

"Just about every person in this county will be visited by a neighbor Thursday evening, January 31st, between the hours of 7 and 8. Please put your porch light on and welcome your marching mother. Be generous. Give for the life of a child," begged Mr. McGowan.

Importance Of Music

Have you ever considered just how important music can be to your daily living? Music may even make some decisions for you. For example, in planning a trip for your summer vacation, perhaps just the hearing of a recording of French songs may put the idea of seeing France in your mind—and the decision to travel through France is made without your realizing it.

Catchy musical commercials on television and the radio sell products to us. No—I don't think that we deliberately buy a sponsor's product because we like his song, but I do think that we tend to listen more carefully to the words of the announcer when we are "reached" by a catchy tune.

What is all this leading up to? It seems to me that music ought to be more of a part of our consciousness, rather than just in the background of our lives. We should explore some of the avenues of music on which we have never travelled before, and find out what we may be missing.

It is through knowing that we can really accept or reject something new.

Woman's Club To Meet

Mrs. William Blosser, 7th District Chairman of American Home of the N.J.S.F. of Women's Clubs, assisted by Mrs. Harold Stoddard, Art Chairman, and Mrs. Paul Hartman, Garden Chairman, will hold an "Achievement Day" for the district on Wednesday March 13 at 1:30 p.m. at the East Orange Womens Club, 56 South Clinton Street, East Orange. Each will present a program and there will be a display of work done during the year. All Club members are invited to attend.

Vice Admiral Hyman G. Rickover

My dear sir:
I agree with you that teachers receive more wages than the average person. You disgrace yourself, however, not the Parent-Teachers Association, when you speak against the organization made up of parents, teachers and school management whose sole purpose is to aid the children.

The definition of the educated man is "One who understands first the emotions of an individual and works with it, then develops his intellect."

What is done by Parent-Teachers Association is to help the school build: Prayerfully, Emotionally, Socially, Physically, Educationally, well adjusted children. The Christmas play you mention so indifferently is the basis for our Christianity.

Maurice Samuel Will Lecture

The joint Adult Institute of Springfield this week announced that the second in a series of three lectures will be given in Springfield by Maurice Samuel, world-known writer, on Sunday evening, February 10, 8:15 p.m. at Temple Sharey Shalom, So. Springfield Ave., Springfield. The lecture series, entitled, "The Meaning of Jewish History", began on January 6 and was enthusiastically received at that time. The third in the series is scheduled for March 3.

Scholar, traveler, familiar with many lands and cultures, lecturer, novelist, translator, Maurice Samuel has devoted his many gifts for some forty years to Jewish affairs. Born in Roumanis in 1895 and educated in England, he came to the United States in 1914. Then he served two years with the American Army, eighteen months of which he spent in France. Immediately after the war he acted as interpreter at the Peace Conference, and still later with the Reparations Commission in Berlin and Vienna.

Associated for more than forty years with the upbuilding of Israel, to which he is a frequent visitor, Mr. Samuel has also been in contact with "practically every Jewish Community between Jordan and the Golden Gate, between Manchester and Cape Town." He has said that he travels in order to check against constant personal observation what he reads about Jewry in every part of the world. His extensive writings have been devoted chiefly to the presentation of Jewish values to the English reading public, Jewish and non-Jewish. In 1944 the Saturday Review of Literature awarded him the annual prize for "The World of Shalom Aleichem", which it considered the best contribution of the year toward improving inter-group relations.

A fourth lecture in the series is scheduled for April. The speaker will be Cantor Edgar Mills of Temple Oheb Shalom, South Orange. Tickets for the balance of the series are available, for the price of four dollars, at either temple or by calling DR 9-9386.

Guild Dance

The Mother's Guild of St. James Church, Springfield, has rescheduled its Barn Dance for Friday, February 15 at 8:30 p.m., to be held at Evergreen Lodge. Ticket Chairman Mrs. Dorothy Zeiser says tickets will be limited. She can be reached at MU 6-5751.

Leonard E. Best Gets 1963 Fairbanks Award

Leonard E. Best, President of the Richard Best Pencil Company of Springfield, has been given the 1963 Fairbanks Award by the Middle Atlantic District of the American College Public Relations Association. The award was made at a dinner on January 21 at the Pittsburgh Hilton.

Mr. Best's award citation read as follows: "As chairman of the Citizens Committee for College Opportunities in New Jersey, he provided outstanding leadership for the campaign which secured passage of the $6,800,000 bond issue to provide physical facilities for New Jersey's public colleges. Successful passage of the 1959 bond issue not only made it possible for New Jersey to double its facilities for higher education, but also generated increased public awareness of the state's long range needs in this field."

A chemical engineering graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Mr. Best has been active in the cause of education for the past 20 years. Among other posts he has held has been chairman of the Educational Planning Committee of the New Jersey Education Association, and Chairman of the New Jersey Citizens Committee for Public Schools.

The Fairbanks Award was named for its first winner, Wilson L. Fairbanks, former education editor of the New York Times. Other winners of the award include Gerard Piel, Thomas E. Dewey and Arthur S. Flemming.

Zip Lemmerman Promoted By Good Deal Store Firm

Samuel Aidekman, president of Good Deal Supermarkets, has announced the promotion of three executives to key posts in the firm. Zip Lemmerman, vice-president and general manager, has been named executive vice-president; Saul Paul, meat department buyer, has been appointed a vice-president; and Fred Kardos, assistant to the president, has been named secretary of Good Deal.

Mr. Lemmerman, who resides in Springfield with his wife and two children, has been with Good Deal for over 25 years, having started as a delivery boy and general helper when he was barely into his teens. He has worked in the Good Deal organization as produce clerk, grocery clerk, assistant store manager, store manager which was followed by his appointment as vice-president and general manager.

Mr. Paul, a resident with his family in Livingston, is well known for his aggressive merchandising and buying abilities. Mr. Kardos, who lives in Irvington with his family, was in the construction business for almost two decades before coming to Good Deal. He was in charge of construction of Good Deal's Passaic store in 1961. In charge also of construction, equipment buying and maintenance, Mr. Kardos later became head of Good Deal's security department, real estate and financing.

"Sheriff's Sale" Held by Republican Club A Success

About sixty five items were auctioned off by Mayor Falkin at the "Sheriff's Sale" held by the Springfield Republican Club. The well attended meeting was considered a fine success for the second year running. Some of the items auctioned were: A pair of Borgesi statues, a Gilbert chiming grandmother clock, moose and squirrel ash trays, camping lanterns, a pair of oil paintings, a leaf rake, a surray, fig leaf, roller skates, conch shell and assorter jewelry and ash trays. In all it was great fun with refreshments served afterward.

In the business part of the event, the regular January meeting at the Legion Hall, Charles Remlinger, outgoing President thanked all the club workers for their help in the past year and wished incoming President, John Grifo success.

Urges President Explain Need

"Explaining how a test ban treaty would enhance American security is the major task of President Kennedy," said Dr. David Frost, chairman of the New Jersey Committee for a SANE NUCLEAR POLICY at a meeting in Plainfield last week. In a letter he urged the President to begin to explain the need for a test-ban treaty. He also urged support of the recent announcement of a moratorium on testing while negotiations continue on the test-ban.

The Plainfield biologist, joined Dr. Homer Jack, executive secretary of the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, in urging the President to use the vast powers of his office to point out that a treaty would help stop the spread of nuclear weapons to additional countries.

The chances of an agreement have been improved recently by the Soviet acceptance of a new on-site inspections a year.

A recent study estimated that 11 more countries, including China will be in a position to launch "at least a primitive program for nuclear weapons in the near future," the two men noted in the appeal to Kennedy. The study, by Christoph Hohemser of Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., is included in "Disarmament: Its Politics and Economics," a volume published in 1962 by the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

"There is no more compelling reason to redouble our efforts to end the arms race, through inspected disarmament, than this impending spread of nuclear weapons," Drs. Frost and Jack maintained.

Four countries - the United States, the Soviet Union, Great Britain, and France - today possess nuclear weapons.

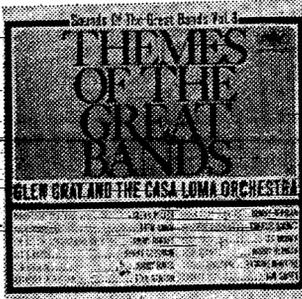

"A nuclear test ban agreement also would restore confidence in the ability of governments to solve the complex problems of the nuclear-missile age," the two Sane leaders declared.

Sherman Named Heart Chairman

The Union County Heart Association has announced that Max Sherman of 303 Alden Road was again appointed as Chairman of the 1963 Springfield Heart Fund Drive. Union County Fund Raising Chairman Ralph Oriscello commented, "We are most pleased that Mr. Sherman has accepted this chairmanship for the third consecutive year. In the past, under his direction, the Springfield volunteers have always done an outstanding job in obtaining funds with which to fight heart disease."

Mr. Sherman indicated that he was most gratified to again be appointed to this position and stated, "Many previous Heart Fund volunteers have already responded and have agreed to work in this year's campaign that will continue throughout February which is annually designated as 'Heart Month'." He also commented, "Service as a Heart Fund volunteer is a satisfying way of helping our Heart Association fight the nation's #1 health enemy. Contributors appreciate the health-saving information the volunteers distribute, and this we know since for the past three years our community has been in the top three in per capita fund raising gifts for this drive. People find it simple and gratifying to help in the heart crusade by merely inserting a donation in the special envelope presented by the volunteer, sealing the flap and returning the envelope. The size of the gift remains confidential," he explained.

Mr. Sherman graduated from Rutgers University Law School in 1937 and was admitted to the bar in New Jersey in 1938. He has practiced law continuously in Newark since that time.

3 From Library Attend Meeting

The Tercentenary Year for the State of New Jersey is rapidly approaching. Various organizations around the State are taking an active interest in the celebration of our three-hundredth anniversary. In order to be prepared, three librarians from the Free Public Library in Springfield attended an All-Day Conference at the New Jersey Historical Society in Newark on Saturday.

This Conference was sponsored by the librarians and teachers of social studies of New Jersey. Separate groups studied geography, history, or bibliography in the morning; and reported to whole group in the afternoon.

Dr. David S. Davies, Director of the Commission in charge of the celebration, spoke in the afternoon. Dr. Roger H. McDonough, State Librarian, spoke about "Books on Our Shelves" which would be used by people interested in the Tercentenary. Mr. John Cunningham, the author of books on New Jersey, was chairman of the afternoon session.

Miss Phoebe Briggs, Miss Helen C. Reyner, and Mrs. Helen

C. Francis were the representatives from the Springfield Library.

Members of both the Board of Trustees and the Staff of the Springfield Library have also been busy attending meetings which were offered with the idea of improving library service. On Thursday, January 24 Mr. Elliot Lichtenstein, Vice President of the Board, escorted Mrs. Joseph Bender, Mrs. Ben Paul Yuckman, Mrs. Helen C. Francis, and Mrs. Joseph Manuel to a workshop meeting in New Brunswick. This workshop was sponsored by the State Library, the Trustees Association, and New Jersey Library Association to help libraries to study and to prepare their annual budgets.

The previous Saturday three Staff members: Mrs. Joseph Manuel, Mrs. Walter Schmitt, and Miss Helen C. Reyner joined a group studying to improve methods of cataloging.

Club Display At Library

Currently on display in the Museum of the Springfield Public Library is a model of "A Colonial Library is a model of 'A Colonial Bedroom for Today's Living.'" Made by members of the Springfield Woman's Club it is completely glassed in and measures approximately 18 x 17 x

9 inches built to the scale of one inch to a foot. The room is one-twelfth actual size and its furnishings are in exact proportion accordingly.

This charming colonial interior was entered in a State-wide Competition of the New Jersey Federation of Woman's Clubs held in Atlantic City in May of last year. The "room" placed first in the 7th District and took third prize in the State. It has been on exhibition throughout the State until now.

The floor was made from a piece of plywood, grooved and stained to resemble floor boards. The molding on the blue and white walls came from a matchstick blind. There are two windows in the room, one single door and one double door. Through one window may be seen a view of Springfield's historic church, a miniature oil painting done by one of the Club members and fastened behind the window frame. The mantelpiece over the fireplace is the only thing not hand made. This had to be purchased in order to conform to the rest of the wall treatment, which at that end of the room is paneled.

However, all the fireplace ornaments were ingeniously contrived from such things as earrings for a fender, andirons from pencil caps and collar studs, and the bed warmer was fashioned from a button attached to a piece of molding. One hurricane lamp above the mantle is electrified and the fireplace and windows light up. The only casualty in transit was the loss of the other hurricane lamp.

The colonial furniture including four-poster bed, highboy, table, chairs, night stand and grandfather's clock were all made from balsa wood and bits of molding. A link bracelet provided hardware on drawers which open. The face of the clock was found in a magazine. Miniature framed pictures and a mirror hang on the walls and a tiny cat sits by the hearth. As though someone had just left the room, unfinished knitting lies in the wing chair. And on the table beside it is a vase of dried flowers while on the night stand is a Bible with actual pages and a book mark showing. Added to this cozy atmosphere are floor-length draperies at the windows matching the bed hangings. The bed itself is covered by a crocheted bedspread with tiny fringes. And as a final touch the rugs on the floor have been made of petit point.

Mrs. Evelyn Buffington planned and made many of the furnishings but some of the Club members also contributed ideas and handiwork too. Among these were Mrs. Trudy Bracht, Mrs. Jetty Bonadies, Mrs. Rita Brownlee, Mrs. Medeline Ceithaml, Mrs. Helen Ganley, Mrs. Helen Humer, Mrs. Jean Kroeger, Mrs. Millie Levson, Mrs. Jane Lonney, Mrs. Rose Miller, Mrs. Ellen Moore, Mrs. Tillie Rackowski, Miss Gertrude Sala, Mrs. Marge Schubert, and Mrs. Mary Tatusko.

If Wide-Track is as hot as Pontiac says, why don't they put it in their Tempest?

They just did.

We can take a hint. When people are as happy with something as Pontiac owners are with Wide-Track, we're willing—nay, eager—to let everybody else in on it. That's why Tempest has a Wide-Track of its own this year. It's why you get to choose between a lively 4 and a 326-cu. in. V-8*, too. We aim to please—and if we do say so, we're pretty accurate. *Optional at extra cost.

Burstein

Serious injuries encountered, Dr. Burstein said, include scleral rupture, intraocular hemorrhage, lens dislocation, and retinal detachment.

A healthy eye rarely has a retinal detachment; a diseased eye or a highly myopic one very often will detach, he notes; therefore, people with severe myopia or diseased eyes should not be permitted to box. "I'll go a step further -- people with only one good functioning eye should not engage in any contact combative sport -- the danger to the good eye is too great."

Scleral rupture, intraocular hemorrhages, dislocated lens, and their complications are difficult to treat," he said, and "the end result is usually a blind eye."

Discussing the vulnerability of the eye in boxing, Dr. Burstein said:

"The eye is protected in its body orbit by the overhanging margin of the orbit above, the cheekbone or zygoma below, and by the additional factor that the eyeball has some ability to retreat into the orbit padded with fat tissue. But because of the short lateral orbital wall, the eye is not defendable from the temporal side."

When the eye is struck with a thumb instead of a blow, the resulting injury can be severe, he noted.

He recalled having repaired a severed levator muscle suffered by a well-known heavyweight contender of the 30s, who developed a slight ptosis as a result of the injury.

"This particular case points up several things," Dr. Burstein said. "We all know that some boxers cut more easily around the eyes than others -- we use the term 'bleeders' quite freely. The lids contain very little subcutaneous fat and, when pressed against that overhanging superior orbital margin, actually explode. I am of the opinion that lacerations of that type are more often caused by head butts than by blows. As a matter of fact, head butts usually cause more severe damage than blows."

One hazard of boxing seldom mentioned, Dr. Burstein said, is that of infection. He told of having seen a fighter knocked to the canvas in a corner of the ring where rosin had been dropped.

Took Terrific Beating
"As he rolled over, he got some in his eye. He got back to his feet with one eye shut, and took a terrific beating because he couldn't open the eye. It took me an hour after the fight to remove the substance, and he had an irritated eye for weeks. A ring canvas should have all dust removed."

Infection can also be transmitted by dirty gloves, he noted. "Boxers with conjunctivitis can infect opponents. In some countries, trachoma has been transmitted during boxing bouts. No boxer with an eye infection should be permitted to engage in combat or training."

Among other safeguards against eye injury in boxing, Dr. Burstein recommended the wearing of protective helmets during training; the use of large gloves, 8 to 10 ounces in weight; proper hand taping; cultivation of a good defense; and setting of a visual acuity minimum of 20/40.

Bulldogs Can't Maintain Lead Against Clark

By ARNOLD MINIMAN

Once again the Dayton Regional basketball team failed to hold on to a slim fourth quarter lead, and as a result of this, the Bulldogs fell at Clark, 54-50, after leading by a 50-49 mark. The loss imbedded Springfield in the lower haunts of the Watchung Conference with a 2-6 mark.

The game was extremely close with neither team gaining more than a four point lead, and the score was deadlocked at the end of the first, second, and third periods. Frank Monticello, Jack Apgar, and Bill Kretzer were outstanding in the Springfield attack, but the Clark defense held Bulldog scoring ace Dave Bonislowski to seven markers, his lowest output since we can remember, and the Bulldogs were forced to play without the services of Denny Francis.

Both sides had a hot hand in the first period, as Bonislowski hit on a jumper to begin the scoring, and Monticello made a similar shot to end it, but Clark never was more than three points down, and the score stood at 16 all going into the second quarter. Baskets by Apgar and Bonislowski gave Springfield its biggest lead, 20-16, at the opening of the second period, but Clark rebounded to tie the game at 22-22, on a jumper by Ric Curry. Apgar then added four points to the Dayton total, but a jumper by Dennis Chinchar, and two foul shots by Bill Prish tied the game once again, 26 all at the half.

Clark threatened to pull substantially ahead in the third period, but the consistency of Apgar and Kretzer, plus a crucial layup by Keith Neigel, held

Clark to another deadlock going into the final eight minutes. Both sides hit two jump shots early in the final period, but two foul shots by Frank Monticello, and a jumper by Kretzer gave Dayton a 45-41 advantage. Don Staeger pulled the Crusaders within two points, but Kretzer scored again to make it 47-43. Curry hit to pull Clark within a bucket again, and Monticello's fould shot gave Springfield a three point lead, which quickly became a one point advantage for Clark on buckets by Chinchar and Prish. Apgar's set shot put Springfield in front for the final time, 50-49, and Jim Buoni's jump shot proved the deciding shot.

Apgar hit 20 points to gain scoring honors, and Kretzer added 12 for Springfield. One major factor in the loss was the Dayton foul shooting, 6-19.

Devrons Win Easily Browns Top Giants

Good basketball exhibitions featured play in the Springfield Recreation Senior Basketball League last Wednesday night at the Florence Gaudineer School gym.

In the opening game of the twin bill the Devrons showed tremendous scoring power as they toyed with the Blackhawks to win 44-28. Eddie Reese tossed home 20 points to spark the good balanced Devrons, most of these scores coming on outside sets. DiPaolo and Bell the best for the Blackhawks. The final game looked like a rout for the Meekers over the Mountaineers, gaining a 10 point lead at halftime, but the final score was 31-30, with the losers missing on two good opportunities in the final half minute of play.

The Browns walloped the Giants 24-2 to open a three game Small-Fry cage card at the Sandmeir School gym last Saturday with Fred Gold and Dave Straymeyer sparking the winners to an easy win. In the middle game the Indians tripped the Lions 9-7 with Richie Falcone and Bob Garner the leaders for their respective teams. The Raiders won 9-5 over the Pirates in the closing game as Jeff Morris provided the spark for the Raiders by tossing home 6 points.

Record Thievery

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Max Carey, former Pittsburgh outfielder, led the National League in stolen bases 10 straight seasons from 1913 through 1925.

Union High won its first basketball game of the season, and Dayton Regional preserved its losing streak, at the Springfield gym Friday night. The final score was 45-41, and Union gained the victory on the strength of a 16 point final period, while Dayton was scoring but nine points.

Steve Kaye starred for the Farmers, hitting seven crucial foul shots in the final eight minutes plus, while three Bulldog starters were in the process of fouling out. A foul shot by Tom Gawley gave Union a 1-0 lead at the outset of the contest, but quick buckets by Dave Bonislowski and Jack Apgar gave Dayton a 4-1 advantage. Union pulled ahead 7-6, and 9-7, but a jumper by Bill Kretzer tied the score at 9-9 to end the quarter.

A layup by Apgar, and two Bonislowski buckets gave Regional a six point bulge, but four consecutive foul shots by Sandy Kartzman pulled Union within two before Dayton could score on a jumper by Keith Neigel. Springfield gained a 21-17 lead on the strength of four foul shots, but two fouls by Don Keibler made it Springfield 21, Union 19, at the half.

Jumpers by Keibler, and Kartzman pulled the Farmers ahead, 23-21 in the third period, but Regional regained the lead on a foul shot by Bonislowski, and a layup by Frank Monticello. Kartzman's set shot made it 25-24, Union, but layups by Neigel and Kretzer made it 28-25, Regional. Kretzer then converted two foul shots, and Monticello's layup gave Regional its biggest advantage of the night, seven points and a 32-25 lead, but Union wouldn't concede, and scored four straight points to pull within three at the start of the final period.

Monticello's jump shot gave Springfield a commanding five point bulge, but the fouling by Dayton reached a head, and Union slowly closed the gap, until it led 37-36, on two free throws by Jack Schiner. Dayton pulled ahead again on two foul shots by Frank Monticello, but a couple of Kaye's charity tosses gave Union a 39-38 advantage which it refused to relinquish.

Kartzman paced Union with 15 points, and Keibler added 12, while Bonislowski and Monticello had 11, and 10 points respectively for Springfield. Dayton now had a 3-9 mark, and a seven game losing skid.

The Dayton junior varsity defeated the Union juniors, 49-41, in the preliminary contest. The Farmers managed to stay in front in most of the first three periods, but Alan Greenberg, Dave Dropkin, Steve Arnold, and Gary Wood, combined to crush Union early in the final quarter.

Kretzer:--Only A Dayton Jr.

Graduates of Dayton Regional, who come back to Springfield on a Friday night in order to watch the Bulldog Cagers in action, are known to exclaim these days, "When is that giant going to sink a foul shot!" They can only mean one person, 6'6" Bill Kretzer. Big Bill, Pole, or whatever you want to call him, is one of the tallest persons to stalk the halls of Johnathan Dayton, and while he is running back and forth across the basketball court scoring his ten plus points per game, you can almost hear Coach John Swedish think, "...and he's only a junior."

Kretzer, who sports a B average when it comes time to open the books, is one of the bright spots on the Regional athletic scene. Not only is he a veteran center in Union County circles, but Bill earned his letter, and a 6-3 record for Coach Ed Jasinski's diamond nine last year. Kretzer also gained a fantastic reputation as a batter, which is one of the reasons why Coach Jasinski doesn't hesitate to give Bill the take sign with a 3-2 count.

A liberal arts major, Bill would like to enter some phase of business after graduating from college. Kretzer, a transfer from Hanover Pennsylvania, and formerly out of Georgia, has his eyes open for a good Southern school where he could also get in some basketball. So keep your eyes open Knickerbockers, for this big man with a big future.

Edna Skinner of "Mister Ed" set her sights on show business at age six, when her mother was secretary to Mary Pickford.

Springfield Junior Ball Set for 1963

The organizational meeting of the Springfield Junior Baseball League was held on Thursday January 10. The meeting opened on a sad note when retiring Director Bob Witisch announced the passing of Equipment Manager John Ellsworth last summer. John had been a faithful member of the group since its start, having been Equipment Manager for the past five years and prior to that had held the post of Babe Ruth Major Director. He was greatly admired and did a commendable job.

Officers of leagues for the 1963 season were elected from a slate offered by Bob Woods and his nominating committee. New officers are:

Del Tompkins, Director of Business Administration; Spencer Cannon, Secretary; Frank Sammond, Treasurer; Mike Catapano, Director Babe Ruth Majors; Douglas Mattice, Director Babe Ruth Minors; Jack Williams, Director Youth League Majors; Bob Bevan, Youth League Minors; Roy Gieb, Equipment Manager and Sal Falcone, Publicity Director.

Preliminary plans for the 1963 season were made by the Executive Committee with definite plans to be made at some future date. The League is still in need of more umpires, coaches and managers. Anyone interested in helping in any of these capacities should contact either Del Tompkins, DR 9-2490 or Bob Bevan, DR 9-5634.

Caldwell Winners

A record-breaking scoring show by the Pistons featured Small-Fry basketball activity at the James Caldwell School last Saturday. In the opening game of a four game card the Bullets nipped the Lakers 10-8 as Gary Fox sparked the victory by posting 7 points. Bob Vaughn and Gary Jayne were the top performers for the Lakers. The Aggies scored a 15-6 win over the Billikens as Danny D'Andrea showed the way with a 9 point scoring outburst.

The Knicks scored a hard fought win over the Celtics, the score 12-9.

Close Games Are Recreation Keynote

Close games featured play at the Gaudineer School gym last Saturday with three of the five games decided by one field goal or a single point. Several player changes were made in an effort to balance the power of the league, two teams suffered losses as their key players were absent due to illness.

Table Tennis Play Active

In recent New Jersey Table Tennis League games, the Union Jrs. pulled farther into the lead by a lopsided 9 to 1 win over Eatontown. Harvey Gutman and Jeff Swersky of Union won all their matches plus the doubles. It was a rough night for state champion John Kilpatrick of Eatontown who lost twice. This is probably the first time in the history of the League that Kilpatrick has suffered two defeats on the same evening.

A hot Murray Hill team paced by their number one player, John Elliott defeated Springfield 7 to 3. Springfield sorely missed the services of Al Noehenson the captain who is out of play with a back injury. The win by Murray Hill brought them 10th place to 8th place and put them ahead of the Union, Sr.

In a match which went just about the way one would expect, a favored Newark team defeated the Union, Sr. 6 to 4. Bill Cross of Newark contributed 3 wins, while Ken Brause furnished 2 wins and Cross and Brause took the doubles match.

Bloomfield took the measure of Jersey City by a 7 to 3 score. Armand Yannoni of Bloomfield provided the winning punch by taking 3 matches and upsetting Raoul Kamel of Jersey City in a tight contest.

Only four team matches were played as the entire Colonia team is incapacitated by injuries and sickness. Elias Solomon of Irvington still has the best individual record having only one loss and is followed by Bill Cross (4), John Kilpatrick (6), Harvey Gutman and Jeff Swersky (7), and Raoul Kamel and Martin Buki (8).

In Common
NEW YORK (UPI)—Pitcher Ralph Terry of the New York Yankees and linebacker Ray Nitschke of the Green Bay Packers have something in common — they each won a sports car. Terry received his for being voted the outstanding player in the '62 World Series, while Nitschke was voted tops in the National Football League championship game.

Minnesota won the opening game by a single point, nipping Florida 16-15 in a hard-fought tussle that wasn't decided until the final moments of the contest. Howard Spielman and Big Ralph LoSanno provided the scoring punch and rebounding strength to spark the victory, with Bobby Catapano the top performer for the Florida five. North Carolina came up with its best scoring show of the season to wallop West Virginia, 20-8 as Jensen tossed home 12 points for the winners. The Oklahoma-Texas game was a toss-up from start to finish, here again the deciding basket came in the last half minute of play. The score was all tied up after three periods, with Oklahoma the eventual winner 13-11 as Kurnos came up two key field goals in the final period to spark the win.

Wyoming won 10-8 over California with Gary Ginsburg doing a good job of rebounding for the Cowboys to help control the backboards. Utah scored an easy 19-9 win over Kentucky as Hrank showed a good scoring touch to lead the Utes to victory.

Columbia Classy

Columbia continued to exhibit good ball control and a classy floor game to gain a 29-23 over Cornell last Tuesday night at the Florence Gaudineer School gym. The combination of Bobby Gartlan and Steve Hirschorn shows the value of good pass-work and control of the game as both boys are small and lack the ability to battle the bigger boys off the backboards, but when it comes to setting up plays for other teammates, these kids have the answer. LaSota scored 12 points for the winning Columbians to spark the winners, Gartlan scoring 11, with Hirschorn six.

Sam's won two from Bond, while Carol Stamping won two from Conte's Deli.

Doctor Local Ophthalmologist

Burstein Writes on Lenses For Athletes

Dr. Burstein, a Springfield ophthalmologist with offices at 485 Mountain Avenue, recently wrote an article on contact lenses which appeared in the January 4th issue of the Medical Tribune. The SUN thought that perhaps Springfield residents might be interested in the findings of the doctor in the realm of "glasses for sports." The doctor's article follows:

Dr. Frank Burstein, a Springfield, N.J., ophthalmologist, flatly opposes the use of contact lenses in boxing and has grave doubts about their appropriateness in other contact sports.

The subject is controversial, said Dr. Burstein, who is connected with the eye services of Newark's Beth Israel Hospital and American Legion Hospital -- in the former as associate attending surgeon, in the latter as chief attending surgeon. One authority, for instance, believes that ordinary corneal contact lenses are good for all sports except swimming, boxing, and football, he said.

"I don't agree," Dr. Burstein declared. "I don't believe contact lenses of any type should be used in boxing. I have seen corneal damage of a severe nature occur when a patient was inserting a corneal lens. Imagine for yourself the injury to the eye from a direct blow on the glove shielded by such a lens."

As to contact lenses in other sports, he said that persons who wear them in swimming should use a scleral type of lens and should not open their eyes too widely or the lenses might be lost. For contact sports such as football, he believes the lenses, if used, should be "larger, steeper, and tighter" to insure their retention in the eye.

On the question whether contact lenses protect the eye from injury in sport, he said that he could not answer from personal experience and that the literature was of little help.

He cited reports of two cases in which nearsighted water-polo players were said to have suffered damage to ocular adnexa during play but none to the eyeballs because they were wearing contact lenses; but he commented: "I don't believe this was definitely proven."

"I'm not in agreement with those that advocate contact lenses in combat sports," he declared.

In a paper delivered at the annual meeting of the American College of Sports Medicine here, Dr. Burstein said:

"Eye injuries sustained in sport are generally of the same type as those suffered in accidents -- usually a severe contusion of the globe owing to the impact of a blunt object -- a ball, a stick, a fist, elbow, or foot."

Such accidents, he said, are "relatively common" in football, rugby, cricket, hockey, baseball, tennis, skiing, lacrosse, and other sports requiring body contact, the use of a hard or semi-hard ball, a propulsion implement, or any combination.

While eye injuries are particularly common in boxing, he noted, they are seldom accidental. "In boxing the injury is inflicted with a purpose -- to disable an opponent and gain a victory," he pointed out.

"In the mid 30's and late 30's when boxing flourished, and especially in my part of the country, I was fortunate in being able
