Pool Applications Needed Charter Memberships Open

"Let's Pool Your Questions"

Since the applications for membership to the municipal swim pool have been mailed out, the switchboards at the Township building have been overloaded with hundreds of questions about the project, stated Marvin Straus and Lee Bono co-membership chairman of municipal swim pool commission.

The swim pool committee has pledged itself to keeping the public informed. In response to your tremendous interest and great support in this undertaking, we will attempt in this column to answer the most repeated pertinent questions. All answers will be based on the facts available at this moment and will be as candid as possible.

This column will be continued as a public service as long as the great interest and number of questions dictates the need for its continuation.

Question 1 Will the swim pool really be open by this summer and be available for swimming?

Answer Present plans call for the awarding of a construction contract on March 15, 1963. Based on a realistic construction schedule, weather permitting, this facility should be completed by June 20, 1963. The opening date is set for July 4, 1963. With the guidance of the best team of architects and consultants available, we feel fully confident that we shall all enjoy a delightful summer of swimming together.

Question 2 My husband and I are under 65 and have no children. Our cost is $60.00 a year—the same as a family with 3 or 4 children. How come is this fair?

Answer The family group is the fairest and most equitable method of apportioning the cost among the voluntary membership. The municipal pool idea has always been based on the family concept to encourage participation by members of all ages. Besides we also believe, as in the area of public education, that all residents should have an interest in the welfare, development and recreation of all children throughout the community.

Question 3 I have 3 children and my husband is not living with us. Can I substitute a mother or aunt to complete the family unit?

Answer No substitutions can be allowed. In order to be fair to all members, we cannot consider too many exceptions or special circumstances. Besides at $60.00, even a single membership is a real bargain.

Question 4 If my mother is staying with me for the summer, can she be considered as a resident and join the pool as a single member?

Answer No. The regulations clearly state that a member must be a permanent resident of the community.

Question 5 If I have out-of-town visitors with us for a few days, can we take them to the pool as guests?

Answer Guest membership will depend strictly on the support and subscription to the pool. Springfield residents must be considered first. If there is adequate room, then guest privileges will be considered.

Question 6 Is there any advantage to getting my application in early before March 6, 1963, or can I wait for the summer months to join?

Answer In order to be definitely considered for charter membership this year, it is imperative that you join before March 6, 1963. Over 500 applicants have already joined in and health and safety requirements may necessitate a limitation in the number of members.

Question 7 If I do not join this year, can I apply for membership next year?

Answer Yes, you probably can, but charter members should get first opportunity at applications next year in deference to their initial support of the project.

Question 8 I am 22 years of age, 5'4", have green piercing eyes, cat-like movements, measurements 38x30x34 Can I wear a bikini—and can my wife wear one too?

Answer No Comment!!
 Question 9 If my husband is permanently transferred to another town at the beginning of the summer and we are forced to move, will we get our $60.00 application fee back?

Answer Yes—if you are no longer a permanent resident of the community and cannot use the facility, then you are entitled to a refund of your money.

Question 10 Will there be trained lifeguards at the pool and will there be water safety and swimming instructions for all youngsters?

Answer YES there will be a full staff of lifeguards and swimming instructions will be avail-

License Suspension For Econ-O-Wash?

At a meeting Tuesday night, February 26, Springfield Board of Health in Municipal Building agreed to notify Econ-O-Wash launderette that unless an attendant is on duty at all times the business is open for operation its license will be suspended. The board decided to give the owner a one week notification and he must comply with the order by March 5.

Owner of the concern in the Echo Plaza, Route 22, is Universal Machinery Distributors, 200 South Grove Street, East Orange.

It was explained at the board meeting that the owner has been operating the launderette in violation of section 10 of the ordinance which stipulates "no launderette shall be permitted to operate unless an attendant shall be on the premises at all times during the hours of operation as enumerated in section 9. Section 9 designates that such businesses can't operate between 10 p.m. and 8 a.m. or on Sunday.

It was further reported that the owner has been lax in having proper personnel in attendance on the premises at all times and that this was called to the owner's attention November 29 1962 by the board secretary. It was also stated that a complaint had been made against the owners by the sanitarian and the owner appeared in municipal court and was found guilty and fined.

In addition the police department has made a dozen trips to the premises as well as the sanitarian, it was pointed out, and the owner still continues the operation a great number of hours of the day without an attendant.

Decent Literature Committee Named by Mayor Arthur Falkin

Mayor Arthur M. Falkin Tuesday night at the regular meeting of Springfield Township Committee in Municipal Building named three local residents to a Decent Literature Committee, which he said would work in conjunction with Union County and Prosecutor H. Douglas Stine.

Such a program has been envisioned in the township for some time, the mayor said, and remarked that in this evening's paper (Tuesday) County Prosecutor Stine has come out for such a drive.

Persons he named to the committee were Mrs. Edward Lilien of Warwick Cr., Mrs. Sonya Dorisky of Milltown Rd., and John Gacos of Short Hills Ave. The latter two are members of the Springfield Board of Education.

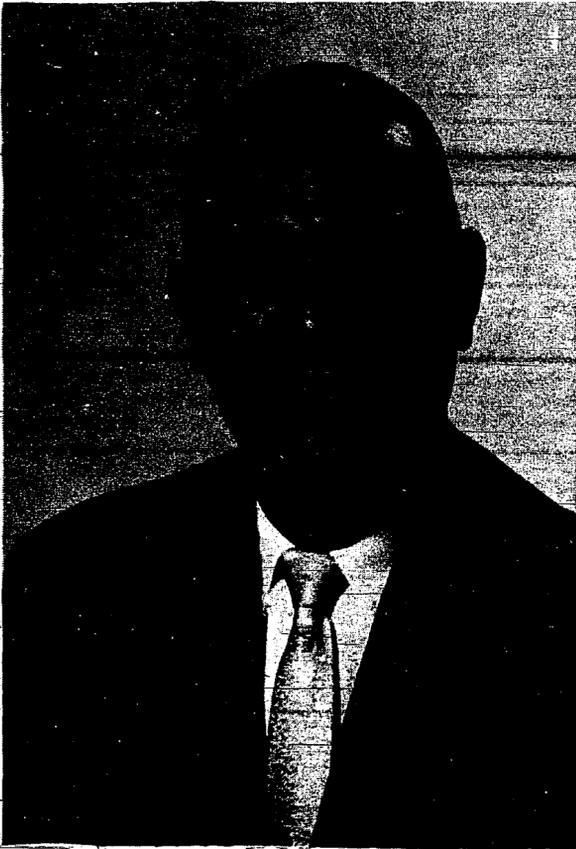

Mayor Falkin said that these persons he named have shown an interest in the subject and that he expected to add other names to the committee. Any others interested in serving with this group were urged to contact him. Committeeman Vincent J. Bonadies suggested that it might be appropriate for the Chamber of Commerce to be asked for recommendations, and be given opportunity to place a couple of people on the committee. Mayor Falkin said that this was a "worthwhile suggestion".

The mayor said that the prosecutor is calling a meeting for tomorrow (Wednesday) at 2 p.m. and it was the mayor's intention to contact him and determine whether a member of the committee should be in attendance. Efforts will be made to coordinate the program with that of the prosecutor's and the rest of the county.

Mayor Falkin named Committeeman Robert Hardgrove to serve as member ex-officio of the group so that the Township Committee can be kept abreast of the group's progress. The cooperation of the shopowners is also expected to be sought.

Eckels Appointed Chief Lending Officer At Bank

ANDREW C. ECKELS

Raymond W. Bauer, President of Union County Trust Company, announced that the Board of Directors has appointed Andrew C. Eckels, Senior Vice President, as chief lending officer of the bank. Mr. Eckels succeeds Mr. Edward I. Kemper, Senior Vice President, who has resigned effective March 15, to accept the position of President and Director of The Bank of Bloomfield, which was recently organized by a group headed by Philip J. Levin, a director of Union County Trust Company.

Mr. Eckels started his banking career as a messenger with Elizabeth Trust Company in 1925, and moved through all departments to the position of Vice President and Director. In 1948 Elizabeth Trust Company merged with Union County Trust Company, and Mr. Eckels was named vice president of the latter. He was named a senior vice president of Union County Trust Company in January, 1963.

Mr. Eckels is a graduate of Battin High School, Elizabeth, American Institute of Banking, New Jersey Banker's Association, School of Public Relations, Princeton, New Jersey.

He is a member of the Kiwanis Club of Elizabeth, Chamber of Commerce of Elizabeth, advisory board of Salvation Army of Elizabeth, Manasquan River Golf Club, Brielle, New Jersey, Elmora Country Club, Elizabeth, and Washington Lodge F & A M #33. Mr. Eckels is also treasurer of the Executive Committee of Community Welfare Council of Eastern Union County, and past President of Union, Somerset, Middlesex Banker's Association.

The Springfield Public Library is seeking for its files back issues of the SPRINGFIELD SUN from September 28, 1945 to December 25, 1947.

It would be appreciated if anyone owning such papers could telephone the Library at DR 6-4264.

Township Committee Seeks Swim Pool Bids

Springfield Township Committee Tuesday night authorized the township engineer, Walter Kozub, to advertise for bids in conjunction with the proposed municipal swim pool. The bids will involve eight separate contracts for the following: concrete swimming pool, electrical work for swimming pool, bathhouse and park lighting; chain link fencing, sanitary sewers, waterlines, roadways and parking areas; bathhouse, plumbing work-bathhouse, and landscaping. The bids are to be received March 12 at 8:45 p.m. in Municipal Building.

Authorization was also given for an agreement to be consummated with the American Legion whereby the township will pave about 1,000 square yards between the Legion building and the township garage, which it uses for township employee parking during working hours.

services so that the squad can continue to operate at its high level and so that the service does not fall short.

The Committee agreed and said the squad is doing a fine job and wanted it known that the governing body is behind it 100 per cent.

Permission was granted for the purchase of gold badges for five members of Springfield Volunteer Fire Department, who are completing 20 years of active duty. Committeeman Robert Hardgrove reported that the presentation of the badges will be made at a dinner the firemen will have sometime later in the year. The committeeman said that the volunteer department provides a great service to the community and saves the township many thousands of dollars a year. "It does a tremendous job and these men especially should be congratulated", he said.

The Volunteer Fire Department members slated for the awards were announced as: Robert Briggs, William Thompson, Fire Chief Ormond Mesker, Warren Ruban, and John Decker.

An exchange was voted for $20,000 worth of U.S. Treasury bonds with a maturing date of August 15, 1963, and collecting a 1/2 per cent interest per annum to similar bonds with a maturing date of February 15, 1967 to collect 3 and 5/8 per cent interest.

Announcement was made by Mayor Falkin that the Township Committee and major department heads will be available to answer questions on the municipal budget at an informal session Saturday, March 2, at 10 a.m. in Municipal Building. Citizens are welcome to ask about the budget, he said, and also noted that copies of the budget will be available at Municipal Building.

First Aid Plaudits

Special commendation was given to Springfield First Aid Squad by Springfield Township Committee at its regular meeting Tuesday, February 26, in the Municipal Building.

The subject was introduced by Mayor Arthur Falkin who produced a current newspaper clipping reporting that a stricken citizen found it necessary to wait a half hour for an ambulance in Elizabeth with another nearby community finally answering the call. In this regard, the Springfield mayor announced the citizens of this township should be very grateful for the fine work of the local first aid squad. "We are fortunate to have such a fine service available and many people of the community have benefitted from it", said Mayor Falkin.

The motion of commendation was made by Committeeman Robert Hardgrove and seconded by Committeeman Vincent J. Bonadies, who pointed out that the squad has been finding it difficult the past year to maintain a full force especially during the daytime hours and urged members of the community to step forth and volunteer their

Dr. Mooney Addresses League of Women Voters

"Territorial Disarmament - A New and Hopeful Approach", was the title of a talk given by Dr. Melvin Mooney before the Springfield League of Women Voters last Tuesday afternoon. Dr. Mooney, a retired physicist, set the background in his statement that "complete and general disarmament has become the accepted United States Policy." He compared the United States and Soviet plan for disarmament, implying that each was self-serving. He urged presentation of a territorial plan to the U.S. Arms Control Agency similar to the one put forward by Professor Louis Sohn of Harvard University, where countries are divided into zones, and disarmament of zones chosen at random continues progressively.

This method also implies the establishment of a World Peace keeping organization with its own military force to supervise inspections and disarmament and the maintenance of peace in a disarmed world.

$55,000 Additional State Money If Assembly Bills Go Through

TRENTON—If 15 Assemblymen have their way, Springfield would receive an additional $55,000 in state money next year for current expenses in local schools.

Two bills already introduced in the Legislature would give this community a total of $165,675 in state school aid. This compares with the $110,450 now expected in the district for 1963-64. If either bill becomes law by June 10, the added money would be used to reduce local property of the New Jersey Committee for School Support.

The bills, entered in the Assembly as A-517 and in the Senate as S-182 have grown out of recommendations made in January by the State Tax Policy Commission that formulas which provide state school aid be updated. The present formula for operating expense aid is based on $200 per pupil. The updated formula would be based on $350.

Another change in the formula would further equalize property taxes throughout the state, so that districts with many children and few wealthy properties could tax at more nearly the same rate as districts with few children and many wealthy properties. The equalization provision would increase a community's local fair share of school costs to .8 per cent of the true value of its property. The present fair share is .5 per cent.

So that every district gains at least some state aid under the proposed formula, the bill increases minimum aid—the least amount any community can receive -- to $75 per pupil. Presently it is $50.

Drafting of the bills was largely prompted by State Sen. Wayne Dumont Jr. (R. Warren), sponsor of the Senate bills with Sen. John A. Waddington (D. Salem). Dumont is a member of the State Tax Policy Commission and chairman of the Senate Education Committee.

Assemblymen Fredrick Hauser (D. Hudson), chairman of the Assembly Education Committee, Clifton Barkalow (R. Monmouth) and William Hiering (R. Ocean) are the chief sponsors of companion bills in the Assembly. The other Assembly sponsors include James M. McGowan (D. Union), and Mrs. Mildred Hughes (D. Union), F. J. Werner (D. Camden), G. Edward Koenig (D. Burlington), Benjamin Rimm (R. Atlantic), Harry L. Sears (R.

Route 22: A Reader Laments

To the Editor:

I noticed a suggestion in a recent issue of your good paper that there should be more letters and thus I am emboldened to coin a new word which history will credit to your publication.

The word is "Speedacious" and I thought of it initially while riding along Route 22, which is part of the traffic-life-blood of our towns. It came to my mind while trying to push my jalopy fast enough to keep out of the way of tractor trailers and coal trucks and at the same time keeping a wary eye on my rear vision mirror to avoid fly cops loaded with speeding tickets.

For Route 22 is in a class by itself. I've driven all over the United States (and in Europe too) and I've never witnessed the condition, both physical and mental, that overtakes a driver on 22. Be he ever so gentle on, say, Garden State or 24, the very aggregation of the two 2s does something to his psyche, which is another word for bicycle.

It seems that speed becomes an essential to movement. One should not toy the road; one should blast it. Try to outrace a jigger carrying pipes 30 feet long, its wash almost too much for your compact. But you do not need rain or snow to make the problem a live one; even on the driest, clearest day in June the speed mania overcomes the driver. Thank heaven, in the majority of cases, the man or woman at the wheel holds on for dear death and usually nothing happens to land them on Page One!

I remember thinking that the swish caused by the passage of the car past the concrete divider might have something to do with the obsession to move faster than required. But the predisposition to race came long before these dividers were installed.

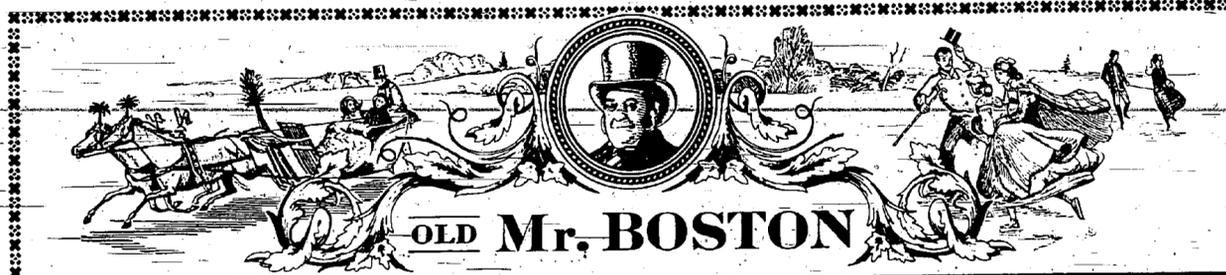

I guess it's just a mental condition, either on the part of other drivers or me. In closing I just want to say that the other evening, at dusk, I was going to attend a meeting at Town Hall near the Mountainside Circle, you know, where the cars swing around a 50 degree curve before resuming their way East. I had parked my car and, having time to kill, I stood watching the cars swoosh by.

It would take you breath away! Tyre was hardly any diminishing of speed as they approached the Circle, no car further away from the one in front than, say, 15 feet. "Do they know how fast they're going?" I asked myself. Every truck and car looked as if the atom bomb had just been exploded behind them. A few moments later I got into my car, started conservatively, but soon found myself racing like all the rest.

I ask you, what is there about Route 22?

Local Hikers Report On 50 Mile Excursion

Bobby Kennedy and his entourage, the U.S. Marines and others may take note that they are not the only ones who have taken cognizance of the President's Physical Fitness Program which includes that new 50 mile hiking fad.

Four 16 year old juniors at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School not only completed a 50 mile hike on Washington's Birthday, but the four Springfield youths are claiming a new record of 9 hours and 10 minutes for the tedious trek.

The four, Mike Gilligan of 175 Milltown Rd., Don Calabrese of 29 Shunpike Rd., Marty Menkin of 65 Keeler St., and Kevin Sheehan of 64 Briar Hill Cr. started their journey from the First Presbyterian Church of Springfield at 7:15 a.m. on Friday morning, Feb. 22.

Heading up Morris Ave., the youthful hikers, members of the Chatham Athletic Club, began the 25 mile journey to Mt. Freedom, encouraged by their parents but still aware of the skepticism of their friends and associates.

The quartet dressed warmly in heavy, woolen underwear, hooded outer garments and work shoes encountered numerous chiding remarks, helpful hints and curious stares along the route, but continued on undaunted, except to stop for brief rest periods and short snacks, including candy bars which they carried along.

Toughest part of the trip was the uphill climb into Mt. Freedom's mountainous regions and the last five miles of the return trip, according to their report. The rest stops in Chatham and Morristown on both legs of the hike were the most enjoyable part of the trip, the boys added.

They said that while they felt "conspicuous", they remained very happy and maintained their humor throughout their journey. They added, the triumphant feeling of completing the 50 mile jaunt more than compensated for their fatigue at the end of their hike.

When asked if they would be willing to try it again, the four concluded they would but "not in one day". The Springfield youths issued a challenge to any and all to try to beat their record, especially along the same route.

Probably the highest point of the day was achieved when the boys got to their respective homes, into hot baths and retired for 6:30 p.m. Mike, Marty and Kevin all reported slight stiffness on Saturday but no other ill effects.

From Testor Corp., Rockford, Ill., comes a Master Palette Paint 'n Frame kit, a paint-by-letter outfit which includes suitable frames so the artist need not wait to display his work once completed.

Lottery: Lucrative Lucre!

By Grace Lubman

In a recent issue of a popular daily paper there was a large section with pages devoted entirely to big business in Union County and in the state of New Jersey. However, there were no ads placed for one of the biggest of businesses in this state. I am referring to illegal lotteries, necessarily an undercover, unadvertised operation. Lotteries are not seasonal. They are a 12-month, year-round enterprise, therefore more remunerative than horse racing. I maintain that lotteries should be legalized and run by the state.

In 1962 State Police conducted 14 gambling raids in New Jersey. Ten involved numbers operations, one a dice game and three on bookies. The fact that more raids were not undertaken is greatly due to a U.S. Supreme Court decision. The high court banned the use of illegally seized evidence in state courts, just as it had formerly banned its use in federal courts. The result being that much greater documentation is required today before the courts will issue raiders a search warrant. Raids that once took a few weeks work to set up now take as long as three months. I've learned that a Central Office or bureau is being readied to check on bits of information and the general whereabouts of racketeers in their travels from city to city, etcetera. This costs a great deal of money! Why not take over this big business and stop playing cops and robbers? We are living in the year of 1963 and this still sounds like the "Untouchables"! The legislators must behold people as they are in a human and realistic sense, not from a mid-victorian ascetic sense that is perhaps more flattering but certainly not factual. The Irish Sweepstakes takes millions of dollars from our state each year with tickets selling at $3 each. I'm sure that the legislators must be aware of the thousands of persons who crowd weekly bingos all over the state; and view in the summer the multitudes that play the wheels at the seashore plus the citizens who patronize the daily illegal numbers lotteries. They all must be recognized as very real voters and that gambling is a principle inherent in human nature. What is their answer to these facts?

Additional sources of revenue are needed by the state for increased per capita aid for localities. The purpose of a state conducted lottery is to divert the untaxed millions of dollars now being siphoned off by the underworld into the state treasury. Regardless of how the tax situation works out, if it is income, sales or the newest method of using Turnpike revenues, we seem to have an ever increasing demand for state monies. If we have a referendum on the seven hundred fifty million dollar bond issue, we should then have a referendum on the lottery because the interest, to the tune of five hundred nine million dollars needs paying starting in 1964. The money must come from somewhere. We are thirty five million dollars short for the 1963 budget.

creasingly important services of the Red Cross Blood Program and the Learn-to-Swim program as well as all other projects in the Springfield local program. In our age of tensions and international crisis upon crisis, it is good to be a part of the Red Cross through which men of all nations, creeds, races, ideologies, and languages can cut across these boundaries and misunderstandings to serve all mankind the world over through compassion for the sufferings and tragedy of disaster. I am confident the people of Springfield will join in this drive, contributing generously, to put Red Cross on top of the goal set."

TEEN TALK

By EDIE BELL

On Thursday, February 21, the Regional band, under the supervision of Mr. Romeo, its director, held its annual cake sale. Cakes were supplied by the band members and their mothers, who helped in selling the cakes. Thanks to the efforts of these people and the responsive student body, the cake sale was a big success.

At 7:15 on Friday morning, four sixteen year old juniors from Dayton Regional, Mickey Gilligan, Marty Menkin, Kevin Sheehan, and Don Calabrese left from the Presbyterian Church on a fifty mile hike to Mount Freedom. They returned to Springfield at 6:30-tired, hungry, and footsore. When asked why they made the trek, Kevin Sheehan spokesman for the group replied, "for kicks."

Friday night, February 22, a party was given by Bill Doherty at his home in Kenilworth. Among these who attended were Chris Mende, Don Stewart, Edie Bell, Dave Bonislowski, Nancy Smith, Leo Ubuleon, Chris Yucuala and several others. The music and dancing provided for a swingin' time.

Twelve girls from all four classes in Regional went to Columbia High School for a playday on February 26. Several other schools from the area also participated. The sports played were volleyball, basketball, and swimming. It proved to be an enjoyable afternoon for all those involved.

Congratulations to Jeff Karlin and Tom Venice of Kenilworth who carried home the honors for Regional at the district wrestling tournament, held Saturday, February 16, at Springfield. Both of them went on to the Regionals, which were held the following Saturday at Hillside. Congratulations also go to John Gardella and Rich Lucariello, who came in second in the districts. Nice going boys!

Last minute preparations are now taking place for the musical presentation of "One Upon A Mattress" to be given by the musical and dramatic departments of Dayton Regional on March 8 and 9 at Halsey Hall. Tickets may be purchased from all members of the ticket committee and members of the cast.

If you have any news, please call me at DR 9-2919.

Parkway Workers Make Road 'Click'

One of the biggest ingredients in the Garden State Parkway is people—people driving it and people operating it.

The driving people run in the millions; the operating people number around 570, mostly maintenance men and toll collectors.

Some of the Parkway personnel are residents of this local area. They are employees of the New Jersey Highway Authority, the agency created by the State Legislature in 1952 to complete and operate the Parkway as a toll road.

The Authority, whose Administration Building is in Woodbridge, built and maintains all but some 20 miles of the 173-mile Parkway. Those 20 miles, which comprise the three original sections including the 13-mile stretch between the Raritan River and U.S. Route 22 in Middlesex and Union Counties.

Bloodmobile Visit Set for March 18th

Plans were finalized at the Blood Program meeting on Thursday evening at the Cannonball House for the Township's third Bloodmobile visit set for Monday, March 18, from 1-7 p.m. at the Presbyterian Parish House on Main Street. This is the date to be employed by all residents and employees of Springfield to serve as Red Cross volunteers and Blood donors.

At the February 20 meeting Mernadette Walsh and Edward Deutsch, executives of the New York Regional Red Cross Program, met with the Springfield Red Cross Directors, the Township Blood Program Committee, and interested persons and representatives of participating organizations to get the ball rolling. Mrs. Lee Beno, Leo Newman, Wallace Callen, Harry Prussing, and Toby Auerbach serve on the Blood Committee representing the member groups—the joint PTA's, Temples Sharet Sholem and Beth Ahm, the Volunteer Fire Department, Saks 5th Avenue, and the Red Cross Community group.

Henry Wright, chairman of Springfield's Red Cross Blood Program announced, "Since its inception in March 1962 the local Blood Program has helped directly 15 Springfield families, and aided indirectly in several cases in the neighboring communities." Mr. Wright reminded the group, "The actual blood is NOT held by Springfield nor do we deliver it to the hospitals in time of need. What we DO is authorize credits for blood donations through the Regional Blood Program, much as a commercial bank does with money, and these credits are immediately available in time of need from the Regional Bank. As the blood itself is free, the gift of the donor,

Jonathan Dayton Council Has "Foreign Student Day"

On February 21, the Student Council of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School sponsored a "Foreign Student Day." Three students staying in towns adjacent to Springfield were invited to participate in a discussion in an assembly program, attend a luncheon prepared and served by the Foods Department, and visit classes with several Regional students as guides. The visiting students were Gabriel Penhiero from Brazil who is attending The Pingry School, Dorothy Zbinden from Switzerland who is attending Westfield Senior High School, and Rene Mahlow from Germany who is attending Union High School. Amos Sawyer from Liberia, and Irena Spanidou from Greece, the two exchange students attending Regional for three weeks, also participated in the all-day program. Regional guides were Roger Timpson, Elaine Bouchard, Carol Devinsky, and Arlene Resnick. Richard Arends served as moderator for the panel discussion.

The visiting students voiced their opinions on topics from the dancing styles of the American teenager to the development of the American educational system as compared to that of Europe. The general viewpoint was that American teenagers are much like those all over the world and that the pre-conceived ideas foreigners have of the United States are often distorted. They felt that Americans are not as shallow and ill-mannered as they are often painted and that the ideological and cultural gap between the United States and other nations is not as wide as it often seems.

Since most of the schools in their respective homelands are small, private institutions, the students felt that the educational standards are far higher than those of the large public schools in the United States. The demands placed upon the students are more stringent than those placed upon the American teenager. No vocational electives are offered in their schools and when the students graduate, they have received more complete academic preparation than their American counterparts. However, the number of students who actually graduate is small. In Brazil, for example, only thirty per cent of any class receives a diploma. When this percentage is compared to the vast majority of illiterate or poorly educated youth in the entire nation, it seems insignificant.

Despite differences in mores and manners, each student expressed his hope that through such programs as the American Field Service and the Herald Tribune Foreign Exchange Program, the youth of all nations would come to understand each other and further the goal of world peace.

Springfield Girl Scouts

On February 10, Troop #280 Leaders: Mrs. A. C. Roth and Mrs. J. Phillips, presented a World Association and Thinking Day Program for their mothers. After the opening Color Ceremony, Maureen Hickey was invested as a new member of the troop; pins and membership cards were distributed and second year stars were given to the following scouts: Bonnie Baldwin, Gwen Bevan, Jill Gecker, Laurie Greenberg, Barbara King, Maurine Phillips, Anne Rilley, Nancy Roth, Candy Schwartz, Francine Ship, and Lisa Wasserman. Guen Bevan gave a short talk on the meaning of the World Trefoil and Girl Scout Thinking Day. Mr. Oscar Velasquez, a Concert Pianist from Peru, then played some selections. The girls then served cookies they had made from recipes from foreign lands. There were delicious samples of American, Welsh, French, English, and Swedish cookies.

PARTICIPATING IN last Saturday's Americanism program of the Springfield Elks and Americanism program of the Springfield Elks and American Legion Post 228 were (left to right) John Grifo, Loyal Knight of Springfield BPOE 2004; Saul Freeman, Exalted Ruler; Mrs. Terry Salesky, who sang the Star Spangled Banner; Springfield Mayor Arthur M. Falkin; Fred C. Black, speaker at the program; James Cawley, Township Attorney and Cmdr. Thomas Dougherty of American Legion Post 228.

A combined and moving service was held by the Springfield Elks and the American Legion Post 228, on Saturday, February 24. The service was on Americanism, a theme which both organizations are dedicated to foster in an age where most people take their country for granted, where most people forget the great heritage bequeathed to them by such great men as Washington, Lincoln, the famous names of the Revolutionary wars, even up to the great names of modern times.

Commander Thomas Dougherty began the proceedings by asking for the Legion Color Guard, and this most impressive part of the service, led by Herbert Quinton, where the American Flag is displayed in reverence, set the theme for Mr. John Grifo, of the Springfield Elks, to lead the assembly in the Salute to the Flag. The singing of the Star Spangled Banner, led by Mrs. Will Salesky, completed the opening phase of the service.

Dougherty introduced Mayor Arthur Falkin, who expressed sincere appreciation for the exemplary work done by both the Legion and the Elks in their community projects, and especially for being invited to be present at the Americanism service. Mayor Falkin said that Americanism is vital to the continued growth of our country, and stressed the fact that patriotism must start at an early age, that it must be instilled into our children through our schools, and must be practiced by adults. Commander Dougherty spoke of the fine work done by the Legion and the Elks, and of the close cooperation of the two organizations, working together for the benefit of the community.

Saul Freeman, Exalted Ruler of the Elks, analyzed the movement of great civilization from bondage to greatness, and how that greatness was reduced to bondage again through selfishness, through a lack of patriotism, through a complacency engendered by prosperity, and expressed the thought that the greater a country becomes, so much greater is the need for a rededication of the principles of loyalty, of patriotism, so that what has been gained, should not be lost.

James Cawley, Township attorney, and a member of both the Legion and the Elks, active in many more local affairs, read some amusing anecdotes pertaining to the Revolutionary period, then moved into a serious speech in which he exhorted each and everyone to uphold the principles of Americanism, to teach Americanism to our children, to practice Americanism in all walks of our daily lives, for Americanism is Patriotism, and Patriotism is the backbone of a country.

Exalted Ruler Freeman invited all present to partake of refreshments to be served at the Elks Home, an invitation which everybody accepted.

Witnesses Meet in Metuchen

Ministers and Bible students from 21 congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses will assemble in Metuchen for a weekend of Bible instruction and fellowship March 15, 16 and 17, according to Marshall DeCristofaro, presiding minister of the Springfield Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses. The assembly, first in a yearly series of three for New Jersey Circuit No. 5, is being sponsored by the Watchtower Bible & Tract Society of New York.

Mr. DeCristofaro said that the purpose of the assembly is education in Bible principles, thus equipping the delegates to help others make their minds over to what is pleasing in God's sight (Romans 12:2). It will be attended by entire families. "Community improvement is the by-product of this work," he explained.

Friendly visits during the weekend will be made on area residents to answer their questions about man's future according to Bible prophecy. The delegates will thus prove themselves the "right kind of ministers" (1 Timothy 4:6), which is the assembly theme.

Mrs. Laurino Selected in First National Checker Test

Mrs. Marie C. Laurino, 28B Troy Drive, Springfield, a checker in the First National Supermarket at 1301 Springfield Avenue, Irvington, was selected to compete in the First National Stores Divisional Checker of the Year Contest.

Nominated by Grocery Manager R. Romanelli, of her store, Mrs. Laurino was in competition last week with six other check-out women representing 171 stores in the firm's New York Division. Contestants completed routine examinations and worked at checkout stands under simulated store conditions. Each was scored on such factors as efficiency, friendliness, poise and accuracy. Judges were executives of the Company's Sales Department.

Winners will compete at First National's headquarters in Somerville, Mass., against checkers representing the Company stores throughout New England, New York and New Jersey for the "Finest 1963 Checker of the Year" crown. Then, in turn, the winner of the Company-wide contest will be the First National Stores entry in the 1963 International Checker of the Year Contest to be held in Chicago by the Supermarket Institute and National Cash Register Company.

Springfield As 1801 Saw It

In its October, 1958 edition of "The Bulletin", the Springfield Historical Society, an organization devoted to the study of Springfield's history had this report for its members.

The account, by Stewart C. Fulton, is a well-written description of "Springfield in 1801 As It Looked To A French Visitor."

The account follows: Sometimes we find local historical items in most unexpected places. An interesting reference to Springfield is found in "VOYAGE DANS LES DEUX LOUISIANES" by M. Perrin du Lac and published in 1805. M. du Lac arrived in New York from France in 1801 to tour this country and the Louisiana. France thought that her American colony should know more about the neighbors and the surrounding country. Opportunities for improving trade should be uncovered and exploited. This was M. du Lac's objective and in the two years that followed he traveled extensively and made detailed studies. Fortunately for us he published the results of his visit, although the original purpose of his study vanished with the Louisiana Purchase in 1803.

Chapter five of the book is our present concern; for in this chapter the writer tells us about Newark, the Passaic Falls and the country around Newark and Elizabeth.

He left New York after a short stay. An epidemic of yellow fever threatened to become serious. It was customary for many New Yorkers to move to Newark when these epidemics occurred because as M. du Lac states: "... situated on the slope of a hill which commands the view of an extensive plain, Newark is noted for the healthfulness of its air and hospitality of its inhabitants. . . . Soon there wasn't a home that hadn't taken someone in."

At that time Newark numbered about 2000 people. While M. du Lac was here he made excursions into the surrounding country. During one of these trips he passed through Springfield. "... a few days after my return from Paterson I was invited to make an excursion into the interior of Jersey. I was told that the family who invited me lived in the richest part of the country and the country we had to pass through deserved the close attention of a curious traveler. We left Newark on November 2nd and traveled through the pretty village of Springfield, the principal place in Essex county. The little stream (Spring) from which it takes its name flows clear water the year round. The fields bordering the stream produce hay in great abundance and of excellent quality. Turkey (New Providence) and Bedminster, the first place five miles and the latter fourteen miles from Springfield offered nothing exceptional. However, the lands along the road are cultivated with care and the numerous well built houses make evident the wealth and industry of the farmers. The chief commerce of these little places is in salt meat which is sent to Trenton, Brunswick or New York for export. . . ."

Letter From March Head

To The Editor;

The Mother's March for the National Foundation has ended. The final totals have not been compiled, but I do not anticipate satisfaction with the results. More of that in a moment. First, I would like to express my sincere thanks and gratitude to those who gave so generously of their time and effort for this worthy cause.

Without the able assistance of Janet Lawit as Mother's March Chairman, there would have been no Mother's March. I also thank the other committee chairmen, Ken Lancaster of Lancaster Electric and Doctor Howard Rosenbaum, Co-chairmen of the Merchants and Industry Committee, and Franklin Schoner, Administrative Assistant at the National State Bank of Elizabeth, Springfield Branch, for his able service as Treasurer.

I would also like to express my thanks to all those who served as District Leaders; Sally Bryson, First District; Doris Logan, Second District; Terry Salesky, Third District; Marsha Wright, Fourth District; Mrs. Smith, Fifth District; Mrs. Finnerty, Sixth District; Ruth Schwartz, Seventh District; Helen Freedman, Eighth District; Irma Josephson, Ninth District; Bunny Sobin, Tenth District; Mrs. Danziger, Twelfth District; and Mrs. S. Bloom in the Thirteenth District. And to all those who volunteered their time to march.

Unfortunately, there were too few of the latter; that is, of Marching Mothers, and of course without as great coverage of the town as possible, the maximum cannot be collected for the most worthy cause. I do not wish my comments to be construed as a chastisement, certainly of those who could not help and not even of those who could have and refused. For, almost without exception, the reason given by the latter group was that the requests for their services by national and local charities was approaching harassment.

I think that it is time Springfield at least experimented with a United Fund. Having given the idea considerable thought and having heard objections from many people, I still believe that it would benefit the town, its residents, and all the charitable drives.

He added that the company grew 67% in engineering and production staff to meet the increased demand for these products. He went on to say that the announcement of new products in the month of February 1963 and thereafter will assure increased sales to continue growth at the average rate of 50% a year.

The stockholders, representing 234,000 shares in person and 14,220 by proxy equalling 80% of outstanding shares, elected 6 directors for a term of 1 year. Five incumbents were reelected.

School Superintendent Has Helped Since 1948

The nation's largest organization of school superintendents has suggested a code of ethics for its members and philanthropic foundations in the field of education.

The American Association of School Administrators, (AASA), holding its annual convention at Atlantic City, released a report, which implied that foundation-supported educational research, while valuable, has not been of uniform high quality.

This, plus the growing weight given to foundation activities, led to formation of an AASA Committee on Foundations, which today released a study report called PRIVATE PHILANTHROPY AND PUBLIC PURPOSES.

Carrying the subtitle, "An inquiry into the relationships between foundations and public education," the report said the committee's function was "neither to condemn nor to laud," but merely to "make accurate observations and to draw sound and unbiased conclusions."

Chairing the committee of school superintendents and college administrators which produced the report was Dean Roy M. Hall of the school of education at the University of Delaware.

Their findings led to the formulation of a 30-point code of ethics. The Committee also suggested the formation of a joint committee of foundation representatives to get their support for an ethics code.

Highlights:

There should be no pressure from the foundation on a researcher to do anything but search for objective truth—not search for facts to bolster a preconceived notion or attitude of the foundation.

Research results should not be announced until the facts are complete. There should be no conclusions drawn from incomplete research.

In appointments to education posts, school boards and trustees "should not be unduly influenced by foundation officials."

The report did not name any foundations as examples of code violators.

The AASA report also suggested setting up a clearinghouse of information about educational research in order to avoid duplication of research already done. A clearinghouse is also needed, the report said, on which school systems may report basic local data on standard forms. At present, education researchers may seek statistics in a form not readily available from the local systems.

"Perhaps the AASA should take the lead—along with the U.S. Office of Education, leading graduate schools of education, some state education department heads, and representative school systems—in developing comparable systems of statistical reporting, in identifying the kinds of data to be collected, and in designating selected agencies as repositories of such reports."

Under a plan such as this, the report said, the schools would have to make just one report—instead of one for every research study—which would be filed in a clearinghouse where it would be readily available.

In all, the report said, there are about 15,000 foundations in existence. Of these, 757 have assets of $1 million or more. About a third of these are believed involved in work in education.

Although foundations date from the 1800s, it has only been in the last 20 years or so that their growth has become "startling." Today, the private philanthropic foundations have assets of $12 billion, and make grants each year amounting to $700 million, the report says.

Over a period of many years these funds have provided "significant aid in bringing about improvements in the construction, organization, and operation of schools."

The report discounts "the view that foundations are public trusts employing the 'public's' money," just because a substantial part of foundation funds comes from their tax-exempt status.

The report says that generally the foundations spend so much of the income they get from interest on invested capital that there would be little "profit" to tax. Even if the foundations were granted no tax exemptions on interest many of them would still not have to pay heavy taxes. Much more important to them is the tax deductions allowed contributors.

But even though foundations are tax-exempt, this does not mean the public would have the power to determine how foundation money is spent, any more than the public has control over how churches, schools or hospitals spend their tax-exempt funds, the report.

The foundations do have the obligation, the report says, to serve the public interest.

The Bloodmobile

the blood bank program eliminates most of the cost to a patient of a blood transfusion. The local and National Red Cross pays for the cost of processing the blood from the donor to the Blood Bank. The patient recipient of a transfusion is responsible then for the charges of administering the life saving blood into his veins.

"Our present tally," continued Mr. Wright, "stands at 40 blood credits available from use by March 26, 1963 at which time they will expire. Only eighty additional credits are available until October 15, 1963 when this remainder will expire. With the size of Springfield, and our growing needs for blood as the program becomes better known, we need to have a full turnout and support of the March 18 Bloodmobile visit to build our credits to capacity."

Statistics from the two previous Bloodmobile visits revealed the following: Out of 228 donors 148 were men and 80 were ladies. Of the 46 two-time donors 34 were men and 12 were ladies. The bloodtype description showed: O positive—88, A positive—81, B positive—26, AB positive—10, A negative—6, B negative—9, O negative—8, AB negative—0.

"It is especially vital that we have a listing of all blood types within our donor files," urged Mr. Wright, "for we must be prepared to have access to whatever type is needed in an emergency. The case in point for type B negative described in the January 17 issue of the SUN exemplifies this requirement. Therefore I especially urge volunteers of the negative blood type to donate during our March 18th blood drive."

First State Data Center

The First State Bank of Union was very pleased to have its official opening of the Data Processing Center recently, when over 100 Industrialists, City and County officials viewed the automated machinery. As a result of this showing and the conducted tour that was made for these Industrial, Municipal and County officials, a new service was announced by The First State Bank of Union. This new service consists of one-check payroll banking. In turn the individual account of the employee is credited to either a checking or savings account.

Rhode Island Returns to New Jersey To Commemorate Part in 1780 Battle

Rhode Island, which fought beside New Jersey in 1780 returned Sunday to take part in the Battle of Springfield commemoration, held at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, and sponsored by the Inkeepers of the Thirteen Colonies.

The New England state, whose men played an important part in the Revolutionary battle, was represented by Leonard J. Panaggio, chief of the publicity and recreation division of the Rhode Island Development Council.

Other dignitaries participating in the ceremonies included representatives of the telestar program, the township of Springfield, the Inkeepers, and U.S. Senator Harrison Williams.

The occasion, designated as Battle of Springfield Commemoration Day by Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders, included the presentation of the flag of the state of New Jersey and the 13 star flag to Church and Cannon Chapter, D.A.R., of Springfield by Senator Williams, who flew here from Kansas City to attend the program. On behalf of the DAR chapter, Mrs. Christian Oehler, chapter regent, received the flags, which are to fly over the small D.A.R. Revolutionary War cemetery in Mountain Avenue near the General Greene Shopping Center.

Similar flags were also given by Irving Welber, director of the ground station of Telestar, to the Rev. Bruce W. Evans, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Springfield. These were designated for the Revolutionary cemetery of the church. In conjunction with the presentation, Mr. Welber expressed the hope that telestar was the start of a revolution in communications and said that he liked to think of the effort as a "weapon for peace."

Co-ordinator of the program was Fred C. Black of Millburn, president of the Inkeepers foundation, who said the purpose of the observance was "to stimulate current interest in early history and strengthen the moral fiber of contemporary citizens." "It is the plan of the Inkeepers to spotlight historical sites," he announced.

In view of the changing weather, entertainer Rudy Vallee, scheduled to be master of ceremonies, was directed by his physician to withdraw from the exercises, it was announced.

Fred P. Wertheimer of Trenton and Newark, a public relations consultant, substituted in Mr. Vallee's absence.

The program was opened by the presentations of colors by members of the New Jersey National Guard and also the New Jersey Blues. After the singing of the National Anthem, Rabbi Reuben Levine of Temple Beth Ahm, Springfield, delivered the invocation.

Springfield Mayor Arthur M. Falkin gave a brief address explaining that the ceremony was in honor of the men who fought in the Revolutionary battle and in honor of the principles for which they stood. It was a "Rededication of the Revolutionary principles upon which the country was founded, to the valiant principles history and heritage have taught us," he said.

In his remarks, Senator Williams applauded "those who put so much of themselves into this historic occasion." He continued, "We are fortunate Americans to be daily close to the links which forged this nation. Everything should be done to keep these links alive. It is important to the years to come."

A highlight of the program was the talk given by Mr. Panaggio of Newport, R.I. The visitor from New England told the audience the role the Rhode Island troops played in the Battle of Springfield—holding up the enemy troops 40 minutes, long enough to defeat the latter's plan to cut off General George Washington.

Mr. Panaggio reviewed the events of the past and the people involved in them including Col. Israel Angells of the Rhode Island 2nd Infantry and General Nathaniel Greene. In giving a resume of Brig. Gen. Nathaniel Greene's life, he reported the soldier was born in Warwick, R.I., lived in Coventry, and died in Georgia. He declared that the officer was second only to Washington in military importance during the Revolution and fought in more battles than any other. Mr. Panaggio displayed a picture of General Greene's house, which he said is called the Mount Vernon of the North. He announced the hours the home can be viewed and said he intended giving photographs of it to both Church and Cannon DAR Chapter and the Springfield Historical Society.

THE CANNONBALL HOUSE

This is one of four houses in the village of Springfield which the British failed to burn on June 23rd, 1780. During the battle, a cannonball went through the west end, and for many years the hole was visible, but it was finally closed up because birds built nests in it and made so much noise that it disturbed the occupants.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Built in 1791, on the site of the church burned by the British during the battle. The bell in the steeple is the original one placed there when the Church was built; the clock was added in 1891, when the Church was 100 years old. On the front of the church, next to the center door, is a tablet bearing the names of Springfield men who took part in the War of 1812. The statue on the corner is that of a Continental soldier in full uniform (not a "Minute Man"). It was placed there in 1905 by the State of New Jersey in commemoration of the 125th Anniversary of the Battle of Springfield. The land on which the statue stands is the smallest New Jersey owned state park - occupying a plot of ground just 60 inches by 60 inches.

REVOLUTIONARY CEMETERY

East side of Flemer Avenue, opposite the Municipal Parking Area. This little plot is all that remains of a much larger cemetery which covered the surrounding area until about 1910, when Flemer Avenue was constructed and many graves were moved to the Presbyterian Cemeteries. It contains the grave of William Stites (spelled "Stits" on the stone), one of the first settlers of Springfield, and the graves of Captain Jacob Brookfield, who was in the Battle of Springfield, Captain Joseph Horton, Anthony Swaim, who lived in the oldest house in Springfield, and a few other early residents. The large monument to the heroes of the Battle was erected by the Sons of the American Revolution in 1896. Under it is a vault containing the bones of unknown soldiers whose graves were uncovered in 1910.

The Merchants Committee of the Springfield Chamber of Commerce will hold a meeting on Wednesday, March 6 at 8 p.m. in Colantone's Shoe Shop, 245 Morris Avenue.

Purpose of the meeting is entitled "Let's Start Moving", "Springfield Shopper" and "New Ideas".
