United Fund Drive Is Suggested In Township

The suggestion of a United Fund drive in Springfield was introduced at the Springfield Township Committee meeting Tuesday, May 28th, in Municipal Building.

The idea was raised by John Griffio of 53 Mountain Avenue, who said that the residents of

Attorney Gives Resume Of Restaurant Decision

Township Attorney James Cawley gave a resume of the Zucker case at the request of Mayor Arthur M. Falkin at the regular meeting of Springfield Township Committee held Tuesday, May 28, in Municipal Building.

Denied permission to establish a restaurant in Mountain Avenue, Irving Zucker appealed the decision on three counts in Superior Court, Elizabeth.

Opinion of Judge Milton A. Feller was that the Board of Adjustment was justified in denying a variance by the amendment of 1960 excluding restaurants from the business zone was "unreasonable, discriminatory, and void."

The order was signed May 21st by the judge and has been filed with Superior Court in Trenton and a copy has been given to the clerk.

That section of the ordinance barring restaurants from the business zone is automatically voided, Attorney Cawley said. The case had been in litigation since last February.

Teen-Age Republican Dance To Be Success

At a meeting held on Saturday, June 1, 1963, at 7:30 p.m., it was stated by president Paul Penard that the Springfield Teen-Age Republican Club dance, the Star Stomp, is sure to be successful.

The dance, which is slated for Saturday, June 8, 1963, from 8:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m., at the American Legion Hall, will feature the dance band, THE ORIGINS.

The teen-agers wish to express their thanks to the following Springfield stores for contributing door prizes to their dance: Geljack Jewelers, Wesley Jewelers, Beacon Hill Stationery Store, Abbot Glass Co., Rappaport Spring Drugs, Springfield Hardware, B. Bruh and Son, and Kay's Stationery. They also wish to thank Scott Donington for the refreshments, Charles A. Remlinger for donating the cost of printing the tickets and the Republican Club for donating the cost of renting the American Legion Hall and supplying chaperones for the dance.

Tickets for the dance are now available and may be purchased from any Springfield Teen-Age Republican or Republican Club member, or at the door the night of the dance, for $1.00 each. On Monday, May 27, 1963, the TARS attended a meeting of the Springfield Republican Club.

The next meeting of the Springfield Teen-Age Republican Club will be held on Thursday, June 6, 1963 at 7:00 P.M. All members and other interested teen-agers are urged to attend. Refreshments will be available.

Springfield, as well as other sections of country, are all burdened with the different fund drives. Eight or 10 fund drives take place in the community as well as collections by other organizations, he said, and recommended that the possibility of a united drive be explored. Mr. Griffio pointed out that Millburn has been very effective with such a program and though Springfield might investigate that community's system.

Committeeman Robert Hardgrove told Mr. Griffio that many of the organizations themselves are reluctant to be included in a united drive. Committeeman Philip Del Vecchio added that the Chamber of Commerce investigated a united fund and the conclusion was that if there is not wholehearted co-operation there will still be a number of drives. Mayor Arthur Falkin said that the matter has been unofficially investigated and it was determined that where the united drives were successful was when they were directed by civic groups.

"This is not the function of the Township Committee," the mayor continued. Mayor Falkin added that Township Committee endorses the idea heartedly and suggested that the matter be referred to the Chamber of Commerce.

"If the Chamber of Commerce could form a nucleus for this and get the ball rolling, it would be serving us well," the mayor concluded.

Springfield Industrial Fair Today At Jonathan Dayton High School

The referee's whistle and the happy shouts of children at play will be substituted by the whir and clatter of machines and music as nearly 30 industries in Springfield take over the gymnasium of the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School today and tomorrow from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. for an Industrial Fair.

The subject of intense effort by the Springfield Industrial Committee over the past weeks, the Fair will show residents and everyone in and around Springfield the great contributions local industry continues to make to this well-balanced community. Admission to the Fair is free and both children and adults are welcome. Everyone is particularly welcome this evening to witness a colorful ribbon-cutting ceremony by Mayor Arthur M. Falkin.

As in many other progressive townships, Springfield's industrial leaders recognize that industry will not progress in a community where the atmosphere is apathetic because of disinterest born of a lack of knowledge. With the inevitable withdrawal of local industry under these circumstances, go jobs, tax revenue and much of the community's economic vitality. To help avoid this, the Springfield Industrial Committee under the chairmanship of S. Seymour Cohan, is sponsoring an industrial Fair that will be as informative as it will be entertaining.

Sidney Piller, President of Elkey Products Co. in Springfield, and Harvey A. Schramm, Industrial Sales Representative for Jersey Central Power and Light Co. were selected as Co-chairmen of a special Industrial Fair Committee. Their efforts have been successful in getting the cooperation of schools, businesses, local government and, of course, industry itself in promoting and presenting the Fair. Other members of the Springfield Industrial Committee are: W. Louis Ellis, Otto E. Fessler, Frank Gilbert, Willard D. Jayne, Walter Kozub, Dominick LaMorgese, Wilbert W. Layng, Robert Miller, Donald S. Rotwein, Moe J. Schlanger, Jack Stifelman, and May Weiss.

Student winners of a committee-sponsored poster and statement contest have been selected for awards of Savings Bonds, transistor radios, and Instamatic cameras. Third prize awards will be made tonight, second prize awards will be made Friday night, and first prize awards will be presented Saturday morning.

By proclamation of Mayor Falkin, this week has been designated "Springfield Industry Week." Springfield Township is co-operating fully by holding an "open house" during the Fair at Township Hall Saturday, June 8th, from 1:00 to 4:00 P.M., to display the modern equipment and facilities that serve the community.

Many of the exhibitors have already announced what they intend to display, demonstrate and/or give away free at their booths. There exhibitors include Victory Engineering Corp. with a model of the famous Telstar; demonstrations of the latest advances in duplicating machines by A.R. Meeker Co.; a large display of precision made metal tube parts by General Electric; a colorful greeting card collection by Fravessi-Lamont, Inc.; material handling demonstrations and free "miniature" moving pads by Elkey Products Co.; a large display of products made and distributed by Universal Cyclops Corp.; demonstrations of new paints by E.L. DuPont De Nemours; free samples of macaroni products by Celentano Brothers; free food samples by Plumrose Inc.; demonstrations of office machines and equipment by Friden Inc.; The U.S. Post Office will demonstrate the proper way to wrap and pack parcels and give philately information, etc. Equally interesting displays and free souvenirs will be presented by: Richard Best Pencil Co.; Bundy Electronics, Commonwealth Water Co., Crestmont Savings and Loan Assn., Doggett-Fison Co., Federated Purchaser Corp., Lu-May Manufacturing Co., Murray Construction Co., Jersey Central Power & Light Co., National State Bank of Elizabeth, N.J. Bell Telephone Co., Powers Regulator Co., Public Service Electric & Gas Co., R & M Pattern Works, Springfield Tool & Die Co., U.S. Department of Agriculture, Springfield Chamber of Commerce, and the Springfield Industrial Committee itself.

HARVEY A. SCHRAMM, co-chairman of the Springfield Industrial Fair presents official decal commemorating Springfield's First Industrial Fair to Mayor Arthur M. Falkin. Decals state "I Am Proud To Live In Springfield, New Jersey" and denote, on scale, business growth and a balanced community. Pictured in photo (l to r) are Schramm, Sidney Piller, co-chairmen of the Industrial Fair, Mayor Falkin and Seymour Cohan, Chairman of the Springfield Industrial Commission. The Fair will be held tonight, tomorrow and Saturday at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

Property Purchase For Swim Pool Is Authorized By Twp.

Authorization was given by Springfield Township Committee Tuesday, May 28, for the preparation of an ordinance for the purchase of property from Commonwealth Water Co. desired in connection with the municipal swimming pool. Township Attorney James Cawley was directed to draw up the ordinance.

Committeeman Philip Del Vecchio explained that the land is needed to increase the size of the parking area and for planting screening shrubbery. The strip of property is 15 feet wide and 700 feet long and amounts to about one-quarter acre. It was reported that the water company was willing to sell the land for $1,500 as a "civic gesture" on the condition that the township erect a six-foot high, chain-link fence on the north and west property lines of the strip. Seven feet of the land is to be paved and eight feet of it is for shrubbery.

Township Engineer Walter Kozub was directed to advertise for bids for the paving of the American Legion parking lot. Plan is to pave the area adjacent to the Legion Hall which is for use of township employees during the day.

School Expansion Question Draws Suggestions At Public Meeting In Gaudineer School

A small but vigorous group attended the public meeting on the question of school expansion conducted by Springfield Board of Education Tuesday night in Gaudineer School with several citizens offering alternatives to the recently defeated referendum.

At the opening of the session, Board President August Caprio advised the gathering of some 60 citizens including board members and school officials, that the board "has made no decision whatsoever" in connection with the question and would weigh the forthcoming recommendations in making future plans.

Mr. Caprio said: "The meeting was called just to get suggestions. Then the board will act in its best judgment."
 The need for expansion was stressed by Board Member Joseph Bender. He explained that the population of Gaudineer School, originally built to service 600 children, was now 725 pupils and the plant would eventually be required to educate 1000. The all-purpose room is "outmoded and the art room, music room, health room, and office are inadequate. The cafeteria presently serves as a double classroom most of the day, when not used as a lunchroom. There are two "floating" classrooms with no desks. It was also brought out that a substandard classroom in the basement in Chisholm School has poor ventilation, inadequate lighting and overhead steam pipes. State approval for use of this room as a classroom, given through Dr. William West, Union County superintendent of schools, is needed on a year-to-year basis. Plans are underway to have a mixed third-fourth grade in Chisholm in September.

Edward Schwartz, a strong objector to the defeated referendum, said at the meeting he was convinced it (expansion) can be accomplished for less money." His initial objections were to two all-purpose rooms at Gaudineer, he said. The new high school proposed in Kenilworth doesn't have two all-purpose rooms, he pointed out. One of the proposed all-purpose rooms would be big enough, he contended. The plan to construct two separate wings—one for classrooms and one for all-purpose rooms—could be tied together as one unit he thought. He also recommended re-using the facilities abandoned: board offices be put into Gaudineer, present cafeteria used for a library, the gym for a cafeteria, and the existing equipment used in the new facilities instead of being duplicated.

Mr. Bender said his suggestions "deserve some thought." Another member of the audience suggested that Mr. Schwartz and other objectors should sit down with the board and lay out a concrete plan with cost estimates.

President Caprio replied: "We are the elected representatives of the citizens in town. To ask citizens to sit in with us is not the right way to do it. We are willing to listen tonight and weigh your opinions."

Mr. Schwartz introduced the idea of a citizens' committee. "There is nothing wrong with the board going to citizens such as architects for assistance. These men would probably be more than willing to cooperate," he said.

A question was raised as to whether the Gaudineer proposal as a separate question on the referendum might have been accepted. Mr. Caprio replied, "Some of the board members, individually thought of it."

Another idea expressed was the possibility of reversing the roll of Gaudineer with that of either Walton or Sandmeier and erecting an addition to whichever of the latter two schools was selected to serve as the upper elementary grade school. With this proposal, Gaudineer would provide a large building for the lower grades along with the small Chisholm plant in the central and heavily concentrated area of the township.

Loran Skousen, a former board member, in discussing the Chisholm question said it was his understanding that the state does not want schools on less than five acres. For this reason, a previous board giving consideration to expansion on Chisholm property abandoned the idea and it never reached the referendum stage. He said plans led instead to Walton and Sandmeier with the intention of building additions onto both of these schools for future expansion and using the building already on Sandmeier property for board offices.

Mr. Skousen stated, "The past proposals have been thrown out the window. Planning should have continuity with previous years so that we don't spend so much money."

Leonard Best, a resident of Summit with a business in Springfield, warned: "The time is pressing on you (the people) and the work should be done as soon as possible. If you don't do a good job (in education), Springfield children will have a difficult time getting into college. The problem is not picking who to take but who to turn down."

I am convinced that this is a sound program and if they (the people) allow this thing to drag, they will pay for it in a number of ways."

One member of the audience advocated double session so that the classrooms would be used a greater portion of the day. Others on hand protested against this and Mrs. Theima Sandmeier, Gaudineer principal, who attended the session, told him "four hours of schooling will never replace five hours" and "double session is part-time education."

Board President Caprio at the close of the meeting indicated that another public meeting on the question might be "in the offing" and reminded the citizens that the board offices are open at all times for information and urged everyone to attend board meetings, held the third Tuesday of every month in Caldwell School.

garding a parcel which Caldwell was carrying, one of the soldiers raised his musket and shot him, killing him instantly. The soldier, whose name was James Morgan, was seized and held for trial. After some delay, it was held in the Presbyterian Church in Westfield, on January 21st, 1782, and Morgan was convicted of murder. He was hung, eight days later, on "Gallows Hill", on the eastern edge of Westfield. It was suspected at the time that he had been bribed by the enemy to kill Mr. Caldwell, but Morgan would not admit his motive for the crime.

Caldwell's body was taken to the home of a Mrs. Noel, in Elizabethtown, and the news of his death, as published in the "New Jersey Journal" (then being printed by Shepard Kolloch, at Chatham N. J.) and in the "New Jersey Gazette", of Trenton, is given in Hatfield's History of Elizabeth. Funeral services were held on November 27th, "the whole town suspending all business and gathering in uncontrollable grief at the house of Mrs. Noel. The Reverend Alexander McWhorter, of Newark, conducted. An opportunity was given to the people to view the corpse, in front of the house, in the open street."

Homes were found for the nine orphans left by the Caldwell, of whom five were girls, and they all grew up and married. The eldest son, John Edwards, was placed in the care of the Rev. Dr. McWhorter, of Newark, until the end of the war and was then adopted and taken to France by the Marquis de La Fayette, where he was educated. At the outbreak of the French Revolution, he returned to America, married and was one of the founders of the American Bible Society.

Another son, Elias Boudinot, was adopted by the distinguished citizen for whom he was named; graduated from the College of New Jersey and became Clerk of the U. S. Supreme Court. He was also one of the founders of the American Colonization Society and his name was given to one of the towns of Liberia, as his father's name had been given to one of the towns of Essex County, New Jersey.

Baseball Team Cited By Mayor

"Hitting" the sports page is nothing new for this year's celebrated baseball team at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, but "popping up" at meetings of Springfield Township Committee is!

Special attention was called to its 20-straight-win record by Mayor Arthur M. Falkin May 28th.

"Springfield is getting a very nice press, all across the board," the mayor proudly pointed out.

John Heller, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Heller of 55 Mountain Ave., Springfield, passed the Federal Aeronautics Association flying test on May 21 and received his license as a private pilot. Heller learned to fly at Chatham Aviation, Morristown Airport and made his first solo flight in May of last year. He plans to make commercial flying his career.

Mt. Carmel Guild Auxiliary For Mentally Retarded Dance Termed Success, 300 Attend

A capacity crowd of approximately three hundred people attended the fourth annual dance of the Union County Auxiliary for the Mentally Retarded, Mount Carmel Guild, on Saturday Evening, May 18, 1963, at the Rahway Knights of Columbus Hall.

Each year the Auxiliary holds this affair to raise funds for the furtherance of its activities for the benefit of retarded children.

From all outward appearances this affair proved to be financially as well as a social success; it always has enjoyed.

Highlights of the evening were a "balloon dance and a limbo dance contest", which was enjoyed by the onlookers as well as the participants.

Thirty eight door prizes were distributed in addition to ten special prizes which were raffled off on the premises.

The main prizes raffled off were a 19 inch Portable Television, Coffee Table Stereophonic, Golf Clubs and Bag Set, Ladies Luggage, Electric Broom, Corning Ware Set, Fishing Rod and Reel, affiar Mixer, Electric Shaver, and a Transistor Radio.

The affair was attended by the Reverends Francis Lo Bianco, Director of Special Education, Mathew Pesanjello, Director of Training and Placement Services, Mount Carmel Guild, and Pierce Byrne, Moderator of the Auxiliary Group.

All three priests made short addresses and acknowledgements of "thanks" to the group.

Reverend Pierce Byrne, was especially congratulated on the occasion of his tenth anniversary in the priesthood, presentation of a token of appreciation was made to him by Tyson Berkheimer, President of the Auxiliary Group. Thomas Brady, Springfield, New Jersey, was cited for his efforts in the raffle ticket sales.

A copy of a dance journal was distributed as a memento of the affair; to all who attended. Midnight, saw a pizza party and a "sing-a-long".

Interest was such that no one wanted to end the evening, the orchestra provided additional time and tunes and the occasion officially subsided at two a.m.

The following committees were attended at the dance:

U.C. Legionnaires Complete Plans For Annual Convention

Representatives from the twenty-three American Legion Posts and twenty Auxiliary Units in Union County have completed plans for the annual Convention of the County organizations being held in Union on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 6-7-8.

General Chairman Henry C. Pfeifer of Mountainside, stated the extensive planning for the past three months is bringing gratifying results with the subcommittee chairmen reporting their functions will surpass the operations of any previous convention.

Tercentenary Tales

Ashes of the Brave

By John T. Cunningham

PERAMBULATING THE ISLAND

Confederate prisoners arriving at Fort Delaware, where more than 2,400 died and were buried in Finn's Point Cemetery in Salem County.

Today they sleep beneath a tall and slender obelisk in Finn's Point National Cemetery, for there are the remnants of ghostly remnants: the 51st Alabama, the 7th Texas, the 21st Carolina, the 1st Virginia. Here they sleep in New Jersey soil, more than 2,400 reminders of the savagery of the Civil War, or all war. Memorial Day has poignant meaning in this Salem County cemetery near the southern end of the New Jersey Turnpike. Here is observed both the May 30 Memorial Day begun in 1869 to honor men who died in the Civil War and the two memorial days still commemorated in some of the South -- Confederate Memorial Day, April 26, and Jefferson Davis' birthday, June 3.

Here in New Jersey lie the bodies of Southerners who died not in battle but rather as victims of indifferent or calloused treatment at the military prison on Pea Patch Island in the Delaware River. Walls of the prison can be seen from Finn's Point. Pea Patch Island first came into prominence as a site for Fort Delaware, built to ward off expected Confederate naval attacks. The seaborne assaults never came, but in the spring of 1862 Fort Delaware became an infamous Union prison.

First prisoners to arrive were 200 of Stonewall Jackson's men captured at the Battle of Kearnstown, Va., on March 23, 1862. Eventually some 12,000 Confederate existed in shocking misery at the island prison, occupying space where not more than a fourth of them could be properly housed.

More than 2,700 Confederates died, from malnutrition, from disease and from neglect. The first few were buried on the island, but as deaths increased to a dozen or more each day, Union officials looked to the mainland.

They chose Finn's Point for their burying ground. The fat bulge of land had been the spot where Swedes and Finns built Fort Elsborg in 1943 to bring Dutch ships under control. A dozen years later the fort lay in ruins; and was forgotten for more than two centuries. Then the government bought 104 acres at the point after the Civil War broke out, possibly to erect a fort.

But Finn's Point was not destined to be the scene of fortification. Rather, the 104 acres say that long trenches were dug to receive bodies in bulk and without ceremony. Others report that each body was placed in a wooden box and laid reverently to rest.

Nevertheless, there was little individual identification. Burying more than 2,400 men in less than 18 months meant interring an average of more than 130 every month. Many of the dead were smallpox victims; haste, not sentiment, came to be the order of the day.

Peace brought floods of requests for information from Southern relatives concerning those known to have died at Fort Delaware. Limited records showed that bodies had been removed from the island cemetery and re-interred at Finn's Point and that even within the cemetery the dead had been moved about without notation.

Despite the evident difficulties, government searchers definitely traced 2,436 men and boys to burial at Finn's Point. The Confederates are still there, more or less, although three of the bodies are said to have been claimed and removed to Southern cemeteries.

The exact number is really not important, and in 1912, 50 years after the first Southerners arrived at Fort Delaware, the U.S. Government raised an 85-foot-tall obelisk above the cemetery. On its sides are the names and military units of the known dead, 2,436 of them.

Finn's Point is not reserved for Confederate soldiers. Near the Southern graves lie the bodies of 135 Union soldiers, many of them also victims of the disease and squalor of Fort Delaware. Elsewhere on the grounds are the graves of another 127 soldiers from other times and other wars.

Present, too, is the "unknown soldier." Actually, there are 30 unknown Union soldiers buried in the "federal section." Another "unknown" was added in December, 1944 when oystermen found a body in Delaware Bay. He could not be identified beyond his American Air Force uniform.

Death has room for all. Finn's Point also contains the bodies of 13 Nazi prisoners who died at Fort Dix or other nearby detention camps during World War II. Three Russians are buried with them. All of these foreign soldiers were buried in uniform and with proper service.

No effort is made to link these varied soldiers; the periods in which they fought and the causes for which they died are far too diverse for that. Still, at the entrance to the cemetery a small marker bears a verse from Theodore O'Harra's poem, "The Bivouac of the Dead." The sentiment of the marker somehow seems to knit together all of the dead at Finn's Point:

"Your own proud land's heroic soil
Must be your fitter grave;
She claims from war his richest spill:
The ashes of the brave."

"My Three Angels" Came, Were Seen And Conquered Crowd of 700 at JD Regional High School Last Friday

"My Three Angels" came to Dayton Regional High School last Friday in a three-act comedy under the sponsorship of the Dayton Teachers Association. They were seen by close to 700 people who were conquered with rib-tickling ease by the droll antics and professional acting of Walter Garwacki, Robert Meyer and Joseph Trinity in the starring roles.

The spontaneous laughter, the hilarious reactions, and the tremendous applause that greeted the characterizations of the "Three Angels" gave added credence to the many comments that were made after the show that the performances of these three talented teachers matched or even improved on the original cast of Slezak, Cowan and Mc Gavin. They were sensational!

Mr. Alex Krepinicki made his acting debut as the horrendous "Henri" a roaring success as he played the insidious and terrifying character with blustering and flawless brilliance.

Perfection describes the supporting cast. Edward Novak as "Felix", Stella Bialecki as "Emilie", Lucretia Hart as "Mme. Parole", Edward Gallagher as "Paul", Theodora Gallagher as "Marie Louise", and William A. Herring, Jr. as the Lieutenant gave real top-notch acting efforts.

Mr. Herring announced that special thanks and credit should be given to: Ed and Terry Gallagher for costumes, Ed Metz for sets, Shirley Pantini for make-up, Ed Novak for props, John Swedish for publicity, Theresa Doherty and Charlotte Singer for tickets, Cumberland Trio for music, Emma Jahn for furniture, printing by the Dayton Regional Print Shop, Peggy Kropnicki as prompter and Thomas Speake, John Dorn, and Robert Thiele as stage crew.

Mention must be made of the after show celebration held at the Swedish Rathskeller in Linden where the amazing Mr. Walter Garwacki regaled the cast with tales and anecdotes of his performances as the "Count of Warsaw" concluding with a concert of songs made famous by his idol, Jan Kiepura, the Polish Metropolitan Opera Star. Garwacki's rich baritone voice raised the speculation that the Dayton Teacher's Association might present a musical version of the "Three Musketeers" as next year's teacher attraction. Whom would you cast in this feature?

For a bright future...saving makes the difference

Having money to spend or invest when you need it is the key to success. Here are a few good rules to help you save.

1. Keep your eyes on your long range goals; college, a business of your own, marriage, a home. Make saving a habit. Pay yourself first by putting something aside regularly of your allowance and earnings.

2. It does make a difference where you save. Put your money in an Insured Savings and Loan Association where it earns excellent returns and is safe...insured by a U.S. Government agency.

G. McKay Stevenson Memorial Fund Reports New Progress

The G. McKay Stevenson Memorial Fund has received over $5,000 from some 200 friends of the late Dr. Stevenson, it was reported today by Donald H. McLean, Jr., Chairman Pro Tem of the Fund's Advisory Committee.

Dr. Stevenson, well known Summit surgeon and former president of the Medical Staff at Overlook Hospital, died late last March.

The Stevenson Memorial Fund has been established to continue Dr. Stevenson's dedicated work in the field of medicine. The Advisory Committee determining the policies of the Fund is considering several constructive plans for its use. Another meeting is scheduled for early July.

Although various suggestions have been made for the use of the fund, the ultimate decision will depend upon the wishes of Mrs. Stevenson and the total amount received. There is agreement that the use of the fund should be related to the health of the community and that whatever is done should serve as a continuing memorial to Dr. Stevenson.

The Stevenson Memorial Lectures are still under consideration. This plan would bring outstanding medical authorities to give public lectures on the latest findings in the fields of cancer and health.

An annual award to a person or an organization in Summit for a distinguished contribution to the health of the community is another idea under serious consideration. This might be a member of the medical staff, a nurse, any other employee of Overlook, or a volunteer. The award might go to a person or an organization not necessarily connected with the hospital but interested in the health of the community.

"The feeling is that Dr. Stevenson was interested in maintaining high professional standards in the community and in Overlook, and himself made a distinguished contribution to the health of the community. A recurring annual award, which probably would not include a financial stipend, would not only serve as a continuing memorial to Dr. Stevenson but would also serve as a stimulus to others in the performance of their duties," commented Mr. McLean.

Contributions are tax-deductible and should be sent to P.O. Box 232, Summit, New Jersey, made out to "Overlook Hospital-G. McKay Stevenson Memorial Fund." In the future the Memorial Fund will be handled by the Board of Trustees of Overlook Hospital on the advice of the Advisory Committee.

Clifford D. Walker Completes 40 Years Service With Bell

He is a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers and a licensed professional engineer in New York State.

Mr. Walker and his wife, Elsie, have lived in Springfield, since 1930. They are members of the First Presbyterian Church in

Crestmont Appoints E.E. Mishell Counsel

Mr. Edward E. Mishell of 23 Colonial Way, Short Hills, has been appointed counsel for Crestmont Savings and Loan Association according to an announcement by Loren F. Gardiner, president of the Maplewood financial institution.

Mr. Walker, a member and past commander of the Springfield Post of the American Legion, served in the Army Air Corps during World War I. During the Second World War he was a first-aid instructor and helped to organize civil defense first aid squads.

Mr. Walker was a member of the Springfield Board of Education from 1940-50 and served as vice president and president. He formerly served on a Springfield Boy Scout troop committee.

Edward E. Mishell

The Walkers plan to maintain their home in Springfield and his future plans include continued community service and travel in the United States, Canada and Europe.

The Walkers have three children -- Clifford Walker, Jr. of Schenectady, N.Y., Mrs. Dorothy Uhrich of Lancaster, Penna., Mrs. Lois Hansen of Lake Lenape, N.J. -- and six grandchildren.

A graduate of New Jersey Law School (now Rutgers University Law School), Mr. Mishell has practiced in Maplewood since being admitted to the New Jersey Bar in 1926. He is a specialist in real estate law, and has worked in the legal department of Fidelity Union Title and Mortgage Insurance Company. Voters of Union County Regional High School District on May 28 approved a $2,850,000 bond issue, 1835 to 342, more than 5-1, to build a fourth regional high school. The building to be constructed in Kenilworth is planned for an initial student capacity of 900.

RE-VIEWING THE PAST

By Don Palmer

REVEREND JAMES CALDWELL

One of the most colorful figures in the Revolutionary War scene, in this area, was the Reverend James Caldwell, Pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Elizabethtown, Chaplain of the New Jersey Brigade and Deputy Quartermaster General of the Continental Army. Known far and wide as the "Fighting Parson", he was thoroughly hated by the British and Tories for his powerful influence in aiding the patriot cause.

James Caldwell was born in April, 1734, in a wilderness settlement in the southern part of Virginia, and was the youngest of seven children. He was prepared for college by a Rev. John Todd, a graduate of the College of New Jersey, which later became Princeton College, and was then located in Newark. Todd's enthusiasm for his alma mater gave young Caldwell the desire to study there also and he came up from Virginia to enter. He graduated in September, 1759, continued with theological studies and was ordained by the Presbytery of New Brunswick a year later.

The congregation of the Elizabethtown Church had an opportunity to make his acquaintance when he occupied their pulpit on four occasions during the summer of 1760, following the resignation of their regular minister. However, the Presbyterian Synod sent him to supply vacant pulpits in Carolina and it was not until March, 1762, that he could answer their "call" and be installed as their pastor. Just a year later, he married Hannah Ogden, of Newark, whom he had met while in college. Her father, John Ogden, and her mother, Hannah Sayre, were both direct descendants of original settlers of Elizabethtown, in 1664. Eventually, the Caldwells had ten children, one of whom died in infancy.

Parson Caldwell's military career began in April, 1776, when Colonel Dayton's Regiment, of the Jersey Brigade, which had been stationed in Elizabethtown during the preceding winter, was ordered to the support of the northern army then besieging Quebec. As most of the officers and many of the privates were members of Mr. Caldwell's congregation, an urgent request was made for his services as their Chaplain. This was granted, both by the Church and by Caldwell himself, and he accompanied Col. Dayton to join the Regiment, at Albany, on May 11th. The Jersey Brigade was stationed in the Mohawk Valley during the summer and Caldwell stayed with the Regiment until early fall, when the presence of a large British army on Staten Island and the continuing disasters to General Washington's army made it imperative that he return home to look after the safety of his family. Upon the retreat of the American army across New Jersey and the advance of the British army, in November, 1776, Caldwell took his family to a safer location in the village then called Turkey and now New Providence.

Hatfield's History states that during the year 1778, Mr. Caldwell resided in Springfield; in the summer of 1779, he removed to Connecticut Farms, in order to be nearer to his people. It was not safe for him to stay any closer to Elizabeth. His life was constantly in danger and it is said that when he could get away from his military duties to preach there, his cavalry pistols were laid on either side of the pulpit and sentries were placed at the doors to warn of approaching danger. After the murder of his wife, he purchased a small house at Turkey and resided there until he himself was murdered.

Caldwell was responsible for the placing of the signal beacon and cannon on top of Hobart's Hill. At a meeting of the Council of Safety, held in Princeton on the 17th of November, 1777, the Governor of New Jersey, who presided, read a letter sent by the Rev. Mr. Caldwell to General Dickinson, who had been requested to suggest proper locations for alarm signal posts. As a result, the Council decided "to remove the piece of cannon now lying at Princeton to the mountain that nearly divides the space between Elizabeth and Morristown (Springfield), to be put under guard of the man who lives where the said cannon is to be fixed, and a few of his neighbors, who ought to be exempted from military duty; that it would further be proper to erect a pile on the hill near where Mr. McGee formerly lived, whence the Guard from said mountain may see the fire or smoke and by that means know that the guns fired at Elizabethtown are intended for an alarm and upon that signal, fire the cannon on the mountain. The Council agreed that Mr. Caldwell be desired to carry the above plan into execution and to transmit to the Council an account of the expenses attending the same."

The story of the death of Hannah Caldwell, at Connecticut Farms (now Union), on June 26th, 1780, during the first advance of the British Army toward Springfield, has been told countless times, but it may not be amiss to repeat it once more, as given by Washington Irving, in his "Life of Washington": "It so happened that to this village the Reverend James Caldwell had removed his family, as to a place of safety, after his Church at Elizabethtown had been burnt down by the British, in January. On the present occasion he had retreated with the regiment to which he was chaplain. His wife, however, remained at the parsonage with her two youngest children, confiding in the protection of Providence and the humanity of the enemy.

When the sacking of the village took place, she retired with her children into a back room of the house. Her infant of eight months was in the arms of an attendant; she herself was seated on the side of a bed holding a child of three years by the hand, and was engaged in prayer. All was terror and confusion in the village; when suddenly a musket was discharged in at the window. Two balls struck her in the breast and she fell dead on the floor. The Church and parsonage were set on fire, and it was with difficulty her body was rescued from the flames."

The tragic fate of Mrs. Caldwell produced intense excitement throughout the country. She was connected with some of the first people of New Jersey, was winning in person and character, and universally beloved. Knyphausen was vehemently assailed in the American newspapers, as responsible for this atrocious act. The enemy, however, attributed her death to a random shot, discharged in a time of confusion, or to the vengeance of a menial who had a deadly pique against her husband, but the popular voice persisted in execrating it as the wilful and wanton act of a British soldier. Whatever the motive, the tragedy had a far-reaching effect on the American public and many who had previously been more or less half-hearted in their support of the Revolutionary cause now became ardent patriots.

Caldwell's active participation in the battle, in Springfield, on June 23rd, is well known and probably he was largely responsible for the little publicity it received. If it had not been for the story about his bringing out an armful of hymnbooks for the militia to use as wadding, it is quite likely that most historians of the period would have completely ignored the battle, instead of merely relegating it to the status of an unimportant engagement. Most of the early history was recorded by New Englanders, who magnified the importance of such encounters as Lexington and Concord, Bunker Hill and Bennington, and belittled everything else. But the account of the parson and the hymnbooks caught the public fancy and was carried on, taking the Battle of Springfield with it. On the 24th of November, 1781, Mr. Caldwell went to Elizabethtown Point, to meet a young lady who arrived on a sloop from New York, under a flag of truce. Her family had befriended American prisoners in New York and Caldwell felt obligated to show her some courtesy. There were American soldiers on guard on the dock and on the sloop and, during some questioning re-

Landscaping Award To New Westfield Store

It has been announced by the Garden Club of New Jersey that Hahne & Company in Westfield has received a Certificate for Civic Achievement in Landscaping Design.

Mrs. Laurence R. Hubbard, Awards Chairman, who resides at 226 Edgewood Avenue, Westfield - and Mrs. Vaughn Waite, Department Chairman, who resides at 545 Forest Avenue, Westfield - of the Garden Department of the Westfield Woman's Club, presented the award to Junior C. Buck, President of Hahne & Company at the Westfield store.

With an aim to stimulate beautifying New Jersey for the State's Tercentennial this year, the Garden Club of New Jersey for the first time since 1957 decided to again present landscaping awards. All affiliated clubs in the State, numbering 169, were asked to look with a critical eye on the landscaping in their area. Any building -- industrial, business, religious or public -- was eligible to be nominated for an Award of Civic Achievement. The criteria of judging was based upon suitability of design, attractiveness, compatibility to area, imagination and details of composition, color and construction, plantings, lighting, parking facilities, signs, ease of maintenance, and the distinctiveness of the overall effect.

The Hahne & Company store located at 609 North Avenue, Westfield was recommended by a number of New Jersey clubs including the Westfield Woman's Club.

The landscaping was planned and installed under the direction of Roy H. DeBoer, assistant professor of ornamental horticulture at Rutgers the State University. Plantings indigenous to New Jersey's climate and in harmony with the Colonial character of Westfield and the beautiful Georgian architecture of the building were carefully selected.

Fifty year old spectacular American Holly trees tower 20 feet at the four corners of the building. Favorites with the Garden Club members throughout the State, they came from nurseries in southern New Jersey. Artistic 18 foot Red-leaf Japanese Maple trees in the front -- and very rare Red Cut-leaf Weeping Japanese Maples with exotic gnarled and twisted branches and delicate foliage at the sides -- create a beautiful effect against the white brick building.

Shademaster Honey Locust trees line the North Avenue frontage and give a fitting frame of beauty and form to the building's architecture. Compact spreading Yew hedge runs the entire length of the property. Masses of pink (rosebud) azaleas with a border of Littleleaf Holly plants and a great carpet of Pachysandra cover the ground in front of the structure.

Ornamental Cryptomeria evergreens -- tall, graceful and columnar with unusual billowy texture decorate the side of the building and back of the large parking area. The side entrances are flanked by specimen Yews -- and their low spreading shape complements and emphasizes the beauty of the graceful, tall white Colonial columns at the store's entrances.

Mr. Guck in accepting the award said "We are very happy to accept this award on behalf of all of those who worked so diligently in designing, building and landscaping our new store in Westfield. The design of the building and landscaping was created to achieve an elegant, simple and tasteful effect in harmony with the Colonial character of Westfield."

ARE YOUR MARTINIS TOO STRONG?

If you like martinis extra dry but not extra-powerful... switch to 80 proof gin.

If you like full gin flavor but don't want too much alcohol... switch to 80 proof gin.

If you like martinis but think you're spending too much... switch to less expensive 80 proof Old Mr. Boston Dry Gin.

FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT MARTINIS:

| Using Standard 35 Proof Dry Vermouth | Using 80 Proof Dry Gin | Using 80 Proof Dry Gin (or Vodka) |
|--------------------------------------|------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 3 — to — 1 (Traditional) | 76.5 Proof | 69.0 Proof |
| 5 — to — 1 (Dry) | 81.0 Proof | 72.6 Proof |
| 8 — to — 1 (Extra Dry) | 84.0 Proof | 75.1 Proof |

(The "standard" proof for today's bottled Martinis is a moderate 67.5 proof!)

80 PROOF... EXTRA DRY... BUT NOT EXTRA STRONG
80 proof gin makes Martinis drier... without making them stronger. Twenty years ago, the 3-to-1 Martini was standard. Today with the trend to drier Martinis, they're made 6, 7, even 8-to-1. And as you can see from the chart on this page, the modern Martini has climbed from a smooth 76.5 proof to an overwhelming 84 proof! Solution? Mix with 80 proof gin. Gives you the same full, dry gin flavor, but returns the Martini to its original, more moderate proof.

80 PROOF BRINGS OUT FULL GIN FLAVOR
Now you don't have to sacrifice Martini smoothness to get good gin flavor. Alcohol itself has no flavor. The pleasant taste you like in gin comes entirely from the herbs with which it's distilled. The more gin in a Martini, the more gin taste.

Now mild 80 proof lets you get more of that flavor... in drier (not stronger) Martinis.

80 PROOF COSTS LESS
Gins are taxed by the U.S. on their proof or alcohol content alone. The lower the proof — the lower the taxes — and the lower the cost to you. When you buy an imported label, you just add the cost of shipping and duties, which pushes the price even higher, without giving you 80 proof quality.

BUY OLD MR. BOSTON GIN. IT'S AMERICA'S FINEST
Old Mr. Boston Gin is vacuum distilled at an unusually low temperature in special glass-lined stills. Only at such a low temperature is it possible to capture the most delicate essence of the herbs. This is one reason for Old Mr. Boston's flavor distinction. It's America's first and largest-selling 80-Proof Dry Gin!

"INTELLIGENCE IN THE PURCHASE... MODERATION IN THE ENJOYMENT."

SPRINGFIELD, N.J.

Dick Freedman's 5-Hitter Beats Cranford; Defeat Clark 5-4 In Conference

Dick Freedman pitched an impressive five-hitter against Cranford Friday, downing the Cougars by an 8-1 score, and Jack Kulaga came on to save Frank Monticello's 5-4 victory over Clark just 18 hours later. Immediately after, the weary Regional team travelled to Rahway where they saw their 22 game win streak go up in smoke, as Westfield won the Union County Conference Tourney, 5-1, in 10 innings.

Freedman was at his best against the Cougars, as he won his second game of the season. The Bulldogs lashed out nine hits, and garnered four third inning runs to sew up the contest. Dayton managed only one hit in the first two frames, but singles in the third by Freedman and Bobby Rahnenfuhrer were followed by Denny Francis' three run homer. Ronnie Urquhart reached first on an error, and big Joe DiMario tripled him in. Dayton scored three more runs in the fourth. Steve Berger reached base on an error, Jack Apgar walked, and both runners were doubled home by Rahnenfuhrer. Bobby scored on an error. In the sixth, Rahnenfuhrer got his second double and third hit of the contest, and he scored on Urquhart's single.

Freedman allowed three of the singles off him in the seventh inning, when Cranford scored its lone run. He struck out five and walked only one.

Clark, a team that went 10 innings before falling to Monticello 1-0 in April, pounced on Frank in the first two frames to capture a 3-0 lead. Dayton scored a run in the bottom of the second without the aid of a base hit, and pulled within one run in the third on a walk, sacrifice and Francis' single.

The Bulldogs scored three runs off Bill Stadlander and relief pitcher Frank Spaziani to gain a 5-3 lead. Bell walked and scored on Monticello's two out triple. Apgar and Rahnenfuhrer then drew walks, and Spaziani gave free passes to Francis and Urquhart to force in two runs.

Clark scored again in the fifth and threatened to tie the score. Jack Kulaga was brought in with one out, and promptly ky'ed the next two batters to retire the side. Smilin' Jack pitched hitless ball for the next two innings, and Springfield had a 13-0 Conference record.

Westfield's 10th Inning Spurt Ends Bulldog Win Streak At 22

A tenth inning outburst by Westfield High, ended a 22-game winning streak by the Dayton Regional nine, and gave the Blue Devils a 5-1 victory in the Union County finals. Bill Kretzer pitched nine excellent innings, but tired in the tenth, and was the victim of the uprising. On Tuesday, the Bulldogs finished their regular season undefeated, downing Rahway 2-1 in the Watchung Conference for a 14-0 Conference mark, 23-1 overall.

On Saturday afternoon Dayton played its third game in 24 hours, but battled the spirited Westfield nine through four scoreless frames. In the fifth, Joe DiMario scored the long Bulldog run on singles by Butch Bell and Steve Berger, but the visitors tied the count in the sixth.

Both teams had numerous scoring opportunities in the game, but tight defenses, and crucial double plays by Westfield, caused the affair to go into an extra inning.

Dayton, playing without slugging star Dan Mascaro, had no hitting punch, and collected only five hits off Westfield. Mascaro had been out since May 28, with a sprained ankle, and Regional sorely missed his .398 batting average.

Coach Ed Jasinski spread the mound chores among Frank Monticello, Jack Kulaga, Dick Freedman and Kretzer against Rahway, with Kulaga picking up the win. Dayton scored both its runs in the bottom of the first, after the Indians had gotten an unearned tally off Monticello. Mascaro, who had two hits in his first appearance since last week, and Ronnie Urquhart had crucial hits in the inning. Kulaga is now 2-0. The win gave Dayton a clean sweep of its 19 regular season contests.

Dayton was scheduled to meet Union in the State Tourney at Linden yesterday, and Livingston (finally - after two postponements) at East Orange in the Greater Newark Tournament today.

for American Legion, a double loss for Rotary and two game splits by P.B.A. and Jayne. Jayne's loss was to previously winless Lions Club which threatens to make still more trouble for the championship contenders.
