

SPRINGFIELD SUN SOLD!

Announcement was made today that the Watchung Weeklies newspaper group (Springfield Sun, Mountainside Echo and Berkeley Heights Beacon) has been sold to a newspaper publishing syndicate from Linden, New Jersey, who will take over the running of the papers effective with the next issue.

A spokesman for the new owners stated that "every attempt will be made to expand the news coverage, to increase the size and scope of the papers and at the same time maintain the prestige and stature that is the Springfield Sun."

"We have every intention of continuing the name of the Sun and are relying heavily on the complete cooperation of all the residents, officials, businessmen and industry."

The establishment of the first Springfield Sun dates back to 1929, when Milt Keshen of Beacon Hill Stationers and his brother put together the first issue. Ownership of the paper changed hands a number of times and in 1950, Sam and Julian Sarokin purchased the franchise from the Summit Herald.

In 1959, Sam Sarokin, retired from active participation in the business and sold his shares to Herbert Axelrad and Henry J. Lally, two advertising men who had maintained a national advertising agency business for the past 18 years in Newark.

The principals named as the new publishers of the Springfield Sun are Murray Friedfeld and Herbert Jaffe. Both have extensive newspaper backgrounds; Friedfeld in advertising and Jaffe in editorial and news. They publish the Linden Leader and Garden State News, both Union County weekly newspapers.

Father Of Accident Victim Asks Twp. Investigate Police Chief

A citizen who identified himself as the father of the girl who was recently killed by a township truck appeared before Springfield Township Committee Tuesday, June 11th, in Municipal Building asking it to investigate the competence and integrity of Police Chief Wilbur C. Selander for allowing only statements made by a "prejudiced driver" to be released to the press. He added that he wanted an explanation at the next township committee meeting.

The father, William Huntley of 14 Joanne Way, whose five-year-old daughter, Kathleen, died after being in an accident May 28 with a dump truck, driven by John P. Silbernagle, 20, of 271 Mountain Avenue, Springfield, and owned by the township of Springfield, contended that the releases only gave the story of the driver indicating that "my child rode off the curb directly in the path of the township truck". An eye witness, he said, gave quite a different version of the incident indicating that his child was in the street at the time the driver came around the corner too fast and struck her.

Mr. Huntley reported that he "pleaded" with Chief Selander about the statement to the press and said that the chief told him that he should not worry about what was in the newspapers, that it could not affect any suit, and the chief advised him to forget about it. "I can't forget about it," the father said. He demanded to know whether the child was "slandered deliberately" or inadvertently and whether the township's reputation was being white washed at the cost of slandering a baby who can't speak for herself. He further made known that suit is being given consideration.

Committeeman, Robert Hardgrove promised that he would investigate the circumstances and asked for a copy of Mr. Huntley's comments. Mayor Arthur M. Falkin offered the condoteux of Township Committee and said that he was glad Mr. Huntley brought the matter to its attention.

Mayor Falkin told Mr. Huntley that two weeks was too long to wait for an answer and that he would like Mr. Hardgrove to get in touch with the father personally sooner.

Mr. Huntley advised the mayor that he wanted "the minutes to show it".

The day of the accident, which took place in front of 56 Colonial Terrace, the truck driver was arraigned before the police magistrate on a technical charge of manslaughter. He was released in the custody of Township Attorney James Cawley. Hearing has been waived and the case will be referred to Union County Grand Jury.

The youngster, who had been on a bicycle, was taken to Overlook Hospital, Summit, by Springfield First Aid Squad. She was pronounced dead at the hospital.

Evergreen Variance Is Granted Despite Residents' Opposition

Amid opposition voiced by a number of residents, Springfield Township Committee agreed Tuesday night in Municipal Building to accept the recommendation of Board of Adjustment to grant a variance for the erection of an addition to Evergreen Lodge. The variance was granted subject to the performance of 13 stipulations and with the understanding that final plans are to be approved by the building inspector before the issuance of a building permit and that a certificate of occupancy is not to be granted until compliance with all stipulations.

Those committeemen attending the meeting voted unanimously in favor of the action with Committeeman Vincent J. Bonadies absent from the

Springfield Industrial Fair Welcomes Capacity Crowds

Thirty one local industries and businesses played host to capacity crowds during the Springfield Industrial Fair held June 6th, 7th and 8th at the Jonathon Dayton Regional High School. Sponsored by the Springfield Industrial Committee under the Chairmanship of S. Seymour Cohen, this first Industrial Fair successfully accomplished its purpose of impressing local residents with the extent to which Springfield's industry contributes to a well-balanced community.

The adults and children who came gained first-hand impressions as to the variety of products manufactured and some idea of the number of industries in Springfield. They saw automation everywhere—in book-keeping, in communications, in the production of machines and in consumer goods. They heard the delightful music at Federated Purchasers booth, they scared each other with the air horns of Falcon Alarm Co., they rode the giant lifting jack and came away with samples of miniature Elkay-manufactured moving pads at that company's booth, they marveled at the life-size model of Telstar contributed by Victory Engineering Corp. and New Jersey Bell Telephone Co., they admired the exquisite gold chain work displayed by Lu-Max Mfg. Co.

They watched the hidden fingers of automation type out a business letter in moments at the Friden, Inc. booth; in short, they went from display to display gaining impressions, knowledge, samples and, above all, a greater appreciation of local industry's contribution to the life and vitality of Springfield.

Industry itself was certainly to be commended for the enthusiasm with which it participated in the organization and presentation of the Fair.

The Fair was also the occasion for awarding prizes to boys and girls of the Florence M. Gaudineer Junior High and St. James Schools who created the best essays—and posters on industry's role in Springfield. First prizes of $25-Savings Bonds were won by Anne Mulligan, 46 Milton St., Millburn, of St. James School, and James Cannon, 69 Wentz Ave., Springfield, of Gaudineer School, for their essays, and Sherry Moore, 89 Remer Ave., Springfield, and Harlene Schwartzman, 8 Archbridge Lane, Springfield, both of Gaudineer School, who combined their talents to capture first prize in the poster contest.

Second prizes of Kodak Instamatic Cameras were won by Robert Sauerborn, 1257 Knollwood Rd., Mountainside, of St. James, and Neil Neubarth, 107 Briar Hills Circle, Springfield, of Gaudineer, for their essays, while Robert Tafel, 48 Tooker Ave., Springfield, of Gaudineer, won for his poster. Third prizes of Transistor Radios were won by Angelina Pacifico, 345 Mountain Ave., Springfield, of St. James, and Jeanette Kalem, 174 Henshaw Ave., Springfield, of Gaudineer, for their essays, while Karen Wasserman, 37 Cottage Lane, Springfield, of Gaudineer, won for her poster.

Said Mayor Arthur M. Falkin, "I am most impressed by the interest of industry and of the public in the Fair. I look forward to similarly successful exhibitions in the future. I particularly want to salute the young people who participated in the essay and poster contests and who attended the Fair in such enthusiastic groups. They left little doubt about a secure future for Springfield if interest and spirit are the criteria."

Exhibitors in the Fair included: Murray Construction Co., Chamber of Commerce, R&M Pattern Works, Public Service Electric and Gas Co., Crestmont Savings, Bundy Electronics, Fravessi-Lamont, Richard Best Pencil Co., A.R. Meeker Co., Celetano Brothers, Universal Cyclops Steel, Friden, Inc., N. J. Bell Telephone Co., Victory Engineering Co., American Red Cross, Commonwealth Water Co., Doggett-Fison Co., U. S. Post Office, Powers Regulator Co., Jersey Central Power & Light, Springfield Tool & Die Co., Federated Purchaser, Plumrose Inc., Elkay Products Co., E. I. Du Pont De Nemours, General Electric Co., U. S. Department of Agriculture, Lu-Max Manufacturing Co. and the League of Women Voters.

Also, the Social Security Administration, the Falcon Alarm Co., and the Springfield Industrial Committee.

Members of the Springfield Industrial Fair Committee under the Co-Chairmanship of Sidney Piller and Harvey A. Schramm, were: S. Seymour Cohen, Walter Kozub, Willard Jayne, Moe Schlanger, Wilbert W. Layng, Otto E. Fessler, Frank Gilbert, Max Weiss, Dominick LaMorgese, Louis Ellis and Jack Stifelman. Assisting the Committee were: Mrs. Grace Fox, Henry Siegel, Al Mauro and Lou Lamberg.

Mr. Kartzman replied: "You have never considered that it shouldn't be granted. You had made up your minds beforehand."

Mayor Falkin told him that

Letters To Editor

Dear Sir:

I wish to compliment you on your excellent little paper. We enjoy it very much.

Because of your articles of civic interest, maybe you could someday print an article on how the average person should show respect to his flag and also the singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

Recently I attended a school program in the auditorium where two small (12 yr. olds) children sang the National Anthem very beautifully during their play. Not one single teacher, pupil or principal made any effort to stand. Just one lone person stood throughout the singing. I admire her greatly for doing so. (not in Springfield School)

Later in discussing the situation I learned that most teachers had a horrible feeling in their hearts - just as I did.

Now were we right or wrong to sit? Because it was part of the program does it excuse us? What authority can you quote?

With Flag Day and 4th of July coming soon, can you help us to do the proper thing?

Sincerely yours,

Allison McGovern
 11 Cambridge Terrace
 Springfield, N. J.

ED NOTE:

We would certainly like to answer this letter and feel the only way to do so is to clarify our thinking on this matter.

First, and probably most important, we strongly feel that the school involved acted in bad taste by using the National Anthem as part of a play without first announcing what procedure should be followed by the audience. We cannot blame the audience who obviously was caught unaware of the situation and we feel that for the people to stand, in stages rather than as an entire body, would have caused considerable embarrassment to the children, who apparently didn't understand the thing themselves.

As for the lack of respect for the American Flag and the National Anthem, it is about time people started to show some good common sense about the entire matter. With the world situation the way it is, so many of us have a tendency to scream about the Cuban situation, attack the actions of our political leaders, condemn the government and in general "mouth off" without knowing what or why we are really doing so.

The American public has become so "patriotically lazy" that the situation is now deplorable. Possibly a half dozen or so flags are in evidence on national holidays and most of those are on public buildings with few displayed on private buildings, dwellings et al.

Are we ashamed of our heritage and our proud country? If this is the case, God Help Us! Minority groups are presently fighting the situation regarding religion and patriotic displays in school. Majority groups are lax in their own homes and places of business. All taken into consideration, what man, woman or child has the right to ignore his own personal responsibility and duty to his country and then turn around and attack his government leaders for what he feels is "wrong" with regard to international politics? Talk about gall!

We the American public have always been known to be chronic complainers and have acquired labels of mercenary, commercial, lazy etc. without, "We Complain", just cause. Well, let's just sit down and think for a moment.

How many merchants and places of business were operating on legal National Holidays? How many flags were displayed not only on Memorial Day but on other holidays of national import? Did you have your flag out or was it too much bother for you when you were planning your long week-end? Do you even own an American flag? Do you know how to display one? Do you know the meaning of the colors of the flag or why there are thirteen stripes on the American flag?

Let's just think about those few questions for a moment, and then let's ask ourselves, Do We Have The Right To Complain About Anything When We Ourselves Don't Even Have The Good Taste To Be Patriotic? Good Taste isn't even the proper phrase, it is more appropriate to say Decency and Allegiance!

Your obligations to the country which is feeding you, keeping you and providing you with a good place to live is far more than just a passing thing. We are supposed to be world leaders with a peace corps and foreign aid to under-privileged countries. Let's show them that we respect our own country before we ask foreigners to respect the U.S. Let's "clean up our own backyards" before we ask someone else to clean up theirs.

The next holiday or the next occasion you have to attend a public function, look for and respect the flag of our great country and the National Anthem of the U.S. Display your own flag on your own premises. Be Proud To Be An American and Show It!

I wish to convey my sincere thanks to the Springfield ROTARY for their courtesy and thoughtfulness on Tuesday, June 4th. On this occasion as their guest I had the opportunity of speaking on the subject TOTAL COMMUNITY ADVANTAGES OF THE SPRINGFIELD BLOODMOBILE PROGRAM.

One excellent point brought out by a question from ROTARIAN Dan Murray is that all families in Springfield are covered by the program and that plasma and derivatives such as gamma globulin are available free of charge or credit to all residents (including industry) simply by phoning the local Red Cross Chapter at Drexel 6-1676.

It was a pleasure to present ROTARY with the new BLOOD AS A MEDICINE chart and a copy of the new booklet titled FOR THE GOOD OF ALL.

Sincerely,

Sincerely,
 Henry S. Wright, Chairman
 Blood Program

Dear Sir:
 The Union County Regional High School District Board of Education wishes to thank the editorial staff and the reporters of the Springfield Sun for the clear, factual presentation of the issues involved in its recent referendum for the school in Kenilworth. Because the people were informed, the Board will be able to proceed with its plans to build for the ever increasing demands on its educational program.

The presentations made in the Springfield Sun were direct, informative and timely, and thus performed a true public service.

The thanks of the Board are also extended to the voters of the Regional district for the support given to their fifth step in the district's expansion program.

Sincerely,
 Helen R. Smith
 Secretary

his remarks were presumptuous and he was "grossly in error." Others registering concern about the matter included Mrs. Ruth Hillard and Mrs. Selma Porter. The latter described the traffic as "unbearable" with cars parked at her home three blocks away and noise coming from the establishment late at night. "It serves no good purpose as far as the community is concerned," she said.

Members of the audience speaking in favor of the proposal were Henry Wright, who noted that Evergreen has agreed to make improvements and it will be a betterment to the community, and Otto Schoenheit of New Brook Lane, who said he was giving municipal officials "100 per cent credit" for their action. The mayor explained, "What we are trying to do is bring about an improvement in this particular locale."

Earlier in the meeting additional opposition was registered against the lodge when the liquor license of Jas. Brescia along with 12 other licenses, which expire June 30th, came up for renewal. During the public hearing on the renewal of eight plenary retail consumption and five plenary retail distribution licenses, Irwin Bross spoke from the audience saying he wrote asking for a denial of a license and wanted it read. The letter was given to Mr. Bross and he was permitted to read it, wherein he said the license should be denied on the grounds of a traffic hazard, disturbing noise, run-down condition and deplorable parking conditions. Mr. Bross said that it was not his purpose to put Mr. Brescia out of business but he believed that Mr. Brescia should be permitted to relocate in the business zone. Other letters of opposition in connection with the liquor license were also received from Mr. and Mrs. S. Gan of 55 Smithfield Drive, David Auslander of 8 Surrey Lane and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Singer of 51 Smithfield Drive.

Attorney David Surav serving in place of Township Attorney James Cawley, who was absent, was called upon to make a ruling in the matter. Attorney Surav said that the objections were not sufficient grounds to deny the license. The only grounds for a denial under ABC law were sale to a minor, using premises for immoral purposes and selling below the minimum price set by the state. If the license in question was denied, the attorney said that it would be appealable to the state ABC.

Academy Appointments Exams In Plainfield

WASHINGTON—Rep Florence P. Dwyer (R-6th Dist.) announced today that a competitive civil service examination will be held in Plainfield on Monday, July 8, 1963, for Union County candidates for appointments to the Military, Naval, Air Force and Merchant Marine Academies in 1964.

Mrs. Dwyer urged interested high school students, and other young men not yet 21, who reside in Union County to submit applications to her office as soon as possible. She also asked public and private secondary school principals to help her inform their students about the opportunity to compete for appointments to the service academies.

She explained that in 1964 Union County (the 6th Congressional District of New Jersey) will be entitled to one appointment to West Point, one to Annapolis, and one to the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs. For the Merchant Marine Academy at King's Point, ten nominees from Union County will compete for the ten appointments allotted to New Jersey.

Under her competitive, merit system of making appointments, Mrs. Dwyer emphasized, all applicants must take the civil service examination. The successful nominees—the four top candidates for West Point, the six top applicants for Annapolis, the six highest for the Air Force and the top ten for the Merchant Marine—must compete further among themselves for each appointment by means of the academies' entrance and physical examinations and their overall evaluation of candidates' potential as officers.

"In this way," the Union County Congresswoman said, "all boys have an equal opportunity to compete. No favoritism of any kind is possible. And the academies are assured of obtaining the young men best qualified for future military careers."

For further information about the academies and details of her nominating procedure, Mrs. Dwyer invited interested young men to write to her Washington office, 1631 House Office Building, Washington 25, D.C. Information has also been distributed to every secondary school in the area.

One of the first Members of Congress to adopt a completely competitive system of making appointments to the academies, Mrs. Dwyer believes the system has been especially successful. She points to the unusually large number of young men who compete for appointments from Union County and the high proportion of Union County cadets who win places on the honor rolls of the academies.

Senator Clifford P. Case

Civil rights has become the most urgent domestic issue. Actually, civil rights has been an urgent issue for a long time. The resentments, frustrations, indeed almost the despair, of Negro citizens long denied equal opportunity and equal protection under law, have been building for years. That these long pent-up feelings should seek expression in demonstrations, sit-ins and the like, ought not to have been a surprise. They are discomfiting for they jar the conscience. But this is itself a measure of the need we have failed to meet. It is no longer possible to ignore the basic issue of providing more effective protection for the rights of all our citizens.

I hope we will get legislative action to this end in this session. To secure legislation will, however, require strong leadership by the President and bipartisan support in the Congress.

The President has already been assured of support from those of us on the Republican side. At a meeting of all Republican Senators, it was agreed to issue a statement formally setting out our support "for further appropriate legislation required to help solve the problems of our Nation in the field of civil rights."

Two measures are key, in my opinion, to speeding peaceful progress in civil rights. The first is to empower the Attorney General to sue in behalf of citizens deprived of civil rights. This year I again joined in introducing a bill to give him this authority. Under it the Attorney General could go into court to require that, for example, Negro children and young people be admitted to public schools and colleges without regard to their color. To take another example, he could also bring a court action to assure that public facilities are available on an unsegregated basis.

Giving the Attorney General this specific authority to seek a civil, as against a penal remedy, was first proposed by the Eisenhower Administration in the 1957 Civil Rights Bill. It has long been the central recommendation of the Civil Rights Commission established by the Congress, as well as of most groups and persons concerned with progress in this field. It would allow the Attorney General and the Courts to act before the event to secure peaceable compliance with the law. Thus, it would provide a preventive and not just a punitive approach. Had the Congress acted favorable on this proposal in the past, situations like those in Birmingham and the University of Alabama need never have arisen.

A measure covering public accommodations, also seems essential to me, and earlier this year I joined in sponsoring several bills to this end. Exclusion from lunch counters, restaurants, libraries, theatres and the like is a constant affront to a large number of citizens. I know of no area where segregation is more insulting, and constantly irritating, to the individual. Hence, I believe, the growing impatience and refusal to accept such restrictions. There are reports that the Attorney General has been surprised at the depth and strength of the resentment against such practices, but is it really surprising? It has become

Going Lake Bathing In New Jersey This Year

Going lake bathing in New Jersey this year?

If so, the State Department of Health suggests you look for places which post a sign provided by the Department which reads: "This Bathing Lake meets standards of the New Jersey State Department of Health."

In cooperation with local health officials in lake bathing areas, the Department has begun evaluation of lake bathing places for the 1963 season. Lake bathing plain, I believe, that we must provide a way to redress these legitimate and long-standing grievances.

Additional legislation must be enacted promptly. Meanwhile, I hope the Executive Branch will use existing authority to prevent the use of Federal funds for projects and programs operated on a segregated basis.

I have in mind such programs as aid for schools in Federally impacted areas, Federally assisted housing, the United States Employment Service, apprenticeship and worker retraining, and the like.

And more than governmental action is necessary. Each one of us—in the North as well as the South—has a responsibility, a part to play, in reaching peaceful solutions to this national problem.

St. Stephen's School Donates To Missions

The Board of Governors of St. Stephen's Nursery School, meeting last week, moved to send a check amounting to $800. to the Bishop of the Diocese of Newark for use in mission work. This is in accord with the understanding of the Board of Governors that in the event that there is a year-end surplus, the money will be contributed to projects in their aid beyond the Church. In addition to the gift to missions, the Board of Governors has established four full scholarships to the Nursery School.

It was further announced at the meeting of the Board of Governors that Irene Mittlesdorf, teacher of music at the Elizabeth Morrow School in Englewood, will teach a music session at St. Stephen's School each Monday morning in the 1963-64 year. Mrs. Mittlesdorf, who has been active in the field of nursery school music for 25 years, was formerly with The Tisdale School in South Orange, and taught at Carteret for 18 years.

The decisions of the Board of Governors are subject to approval of the Rector of St. Stephen's Church, which has final oversight of all parish functions. It was announced at the Governor's meeting that there is a full enrollment for the 1963-64 year. Directress of the school is Mrs. Irma Thomas. She is assisted by Elizabeth Walling. At the Monday meeting, Mrs. Barday A. Kingman was elected chairman.

forcement officer of the zoning ordinance. The resident was promised that Building Inspector Otto Fessler will investigate the situation and if the condition continues "necessary action will be taken."

Township Attorney James Cawley explained that if a violation of the zoning ordinance exists, a complaint can be filed in magistrate court.

Mr. Schoenheit told Township Committee that the rats run around like "little dachshunds" in the area. In connection with the welding company, he said that he wanted the backyard cleaned up and the back door kept closed.

Another member of the audience called Township Committee's attention to a 72 inch storm sewer at the Smithfield Drive Evergreen Avenue intersection. It was pointed out that the open sewer when filled with rain water could cause a tragedy with children playing in the area. Township Engineer Walter Kozub reported that the township sewer at that location is on Union County Park Commission property. It was agreed that a letter should be sent to the park commission, seeking its recommendation on the matter.

Irwin Bross of 65 Evergreen Avenue asked about the Evergreen Lodge case and Mayor Arthur Falkin explained that Board of Adjustment had not yet remanded it to Township Committee and indicated that it would be on the agenda of the June 11th Township Committee meeting.

RE-VIEWING THE PAST

By Don Palmer

The report follows:
Fearing for the safety of West Point, Washington set off on the 21st of June, with the main body of his troops towards Pompton; while General Greene, with Maxwell and Stark's brigades, Lee's dragoons and the militia of the neighborhood, remained encamped on the Short Hills, to cover the country and protect the stores at Morristown.

Washington's movements were slow and wary, unwilling to be far from Greene until better informed of the designs of the enemy. At Rockaway Bridge, about eleven miles beyond Morristown, he received word on the 23rd, that the enemy were advancing from Elizabethtown against Springfield. Supposing the military depot at Morristown to be their ultimate object, he detached a brigade to the assistance of Greene, and fell back five or six miles, so as to be in supporting distance of him.

re-embarkation of the troops at Staten Island had, in fact, been a stratagem of Sir Henry Clinton to divert the attention of Washington, and enable Knyphausen to carry out the enterprise which had hitherto hung fire. No sooner did the latter ascertain that the American commander-in-chief had moved off with his main force towards the Highlands, than he sallied from Elizabethtown five thousand strong, with a large body of cavalry, and fifteen or twenty pieces of artillery; hoping not merely to destroy the public stores at Morristown, but to get possession of those difficult hills and defiles among which Washington's army had been so securely posted, and which constituted the strength of that part of the country.

It was early on the morning of the 23rd that Knyphausen pushed forward toward Springfield. Besides the main road which passes directly through the village toward Morristown, there is another, north of it, called Vauxhall road, crossing several small streams, the confluence of which forms the Rahway. These two roads unite beyond the village in the principal pass of the Short Hills. The enemy's troops ad-columns, the right one by the Vauxhall road, the other by the main or direct road. General Greene was stationed among the Short Hills, about a mile above the town. His troops were distributed at various posts, for there were many passes to guard.

At five o'clock in the morning, signal-guns gave notice of the approach of the enemy. The drums beat to arms throughout the camp. The troops were hastily called in from their posts among the mountain passes, and preparations were made to defend the village.

Major Lee with his dragoons and a picket-guard, was posted on the Vauxhall road, to check the right column of the enemy in its advance. Colonel Dayton, with his regiment of New Jersey militia, was to check the left column on the main road. Colonel Angell of Rhode Island, with about two hundred picked men, and a piece of artillery, was to defend a bridge over the Rahway, a little west of the town. Colonel Shreve, stationed with his regiment at a second bridge over a branch of the Rahway east of the town, was to cover, if necessary, the retreat of Colonel Angell. Those parts of Maxwell and Stark's brigades which were not thus detached, were drawn up on high grounds in the rear of the town, having the militia on their flanks.

There were some sharp fighting at a bridge on the Vauxhall road, where Major Lee with his dragoons and picket-guard held the right column at bay; a part of the column, however, forded the stream above the bridge, gained a commanding position, and obliged Lee to retire.

The left column met with similar opposition from Dayton and his Jersey regiment. None showed more ardor in the fight than Caldwell the chaplain. The image of his murdered wife was before his eyes. Finding the men in want of wadding, he galloped to the Presbyterian Church and brought thence a quantity of Watts' psalm and hymn books, which he distributed for the purpose among the soldiers. "Now," cried he, "put Watts into them, boys!"

The severest fighting of the day was at the bridge over the Rahway. For upwards of half an hour Colonel Angell defended it with his handful of men against a vastly superior force. One fourth of his men were either killed or disabled; the loss of the enemy was still more severe. Angell was at length compelled to retire. He did so in good order carrying off his wounded, and making his way through the village to the bridge beyond it. Here his retreat was bravely covered by Colonel Shreve, but he too was obliged to give way before the overwhelming force of the enemy, and join the brigades of Maxwell and Stark upon the hill.

General Greene, finding his front too much extended for his small force, and that he was in danger of being outflanked on the left by the column pressing forward on the Vauxhall road, took post with his main body on the first range of hills, where the roads were brought near to a point, and passed between him and the height occupied by Stark and Maxwell. He then threw out a detachment which checked the further advance column of the enemy along the Vauxhall road, and secured that pass through the Short Hills. Feeling himself now strongly posted, he awaited with confidence the expected attempt of the enemy to gain the height. No such attempt was made. The resistance already experienced, especially at the bridge, and the sight of militia gathering from various points, dampened the ardor of the hostile commander. He saw that, should he persist in pushing for Morristown, he would have to fight his way through a country abounding with difficult passes, every one of which would be obstinately disputed; and that the enterprise, even if successful, might cost too much, besides taking him too far from New York, at a time when a French armament might be expected.

Before the brigade detached by Washington arrived at the scene of action, therefore, the enemy had retreated. Previous to their retreat they wreaked upon Springfield the same vengeance they had inflicted on Connecticut Farms, the whole village, "excepting four houses, was reduced to ashes. Their second retreat was equally ignoble with their first. They pursued and harassed the whole way to Elizabethtown by light scouting parties and by the militia and yeomanry of the country, exasperated by the sight of the burning village. Lee, too, came upon their rear-guard with his dragoons, captured a quantity of stores abandoned by them in the hurry of retreat, and made prisoners of several refugees.

It was sunset when the enemy reached Elizabethtown. During the night they passed over to Staten Island by their bridge of boats. By six o'clock in the morning all had crossed, and the bridge had been removed - and the State of New Jersey, so long harassed by the by the campaigns of either army, was finally evacuated by the enemy. It had proved a school of war to the American troops. The incessant marchings and counter-marchings; the rude encampments; the exposure to all kinds of hardship and privation; the alarms; the stratagems; the rough encounters and adventurous enterprises of which this had been the theatre for the last three or four years, had rendered the patriot soldier hardy, adroit, and long-suffering; had accustomed him to danger, inured him to discipline, and brought him nearly on a level with the European mercenary in the habitudes and usages of arms, while he had the superior incitements of home, country and independence. The ravaging incursions of the enemy had exasperated the most peace-loving parts of the country; made soldiers of the husbandmen, acquainted them with their own powers, and taught them that the foe was vulnerable. The recent ineffectual attempts of a veteran general to penetrate the fastnesses of Morristown, though at the head of a veteran force "which would once have been deemed capable of sweeping the whole continent before it," was a lasting theme of triumph to the inhabitants; and it is still the honest boast among the people of Morris County, that "the enemy never was able to get a footing among our hills." At the same time the conflagration of villages, by which they sought to cover or revenge their repeated failures, and their precipitate retreat, formed an ignominious close to British campaigns in the Jerseys.

June 23rd will be the 183rd anniversary of the Battle of Springfield and, in commemoration thereof, we offer the detailed account of the battle written by the famous author, Washington Irving, in 1857. It is re-printed from Volume IV of his "Life of George Washington" and is generally regarded as the clearest and most accurate of the various reports available. General Washington was here, in Springfield, from June 8th, 1780, the day following the first British invasion, during which they burned Connecticut Farms and advanced as far as the Rahway River bridge, until a day or two before the second attack was stopped here. At this point, Irving's account picks up the sequence. While he was here, Washington wrote many letters, mostly relative to the disposition of his troops and to supplies for them, he reveals the desperate attempt he was making to out-guess the British high command and be prepared for whatever they might decide to do, as indicated in Washington Irving's report.

Winning Essays In Springfield First Industrial Fair Contest

The following essays won prizes in contests sponsored in conjunction with the Springfield Industrial Fair held last week. They are representative of the over 500 entries submitted by 6th, 7th, and 8th grades of the Florence M. Gaudineer Junior High School and St. James School and are reproduced here to indicate the scope and interest of Springfield youth in community affairs:

Anne Mulligan, St. James School, 1st Prize "Industry brings Springfield people and money. With industry comes an exchange of ideas between old and new residents. Established businesses prosper and new ones begin. More taxes available bring improvement to schools and public recreation. Industry helps by putting money into circulation, different organizations flourish." Jimmy Cannon, Gaudineer School, 1st Prize "Industry not only helps the people of Springfield but also serves as an example of the American system of free enterprise. It is a necessity to the growth, wealth and stability of our town. Industry contributes socially, economically, and politically to our modern society by offering opportunities for employment, shouldering some of the burden of local taxes and supporting public utilities."

Robert Sauerborn, St. James School, 2nd Prize "Industry helps Springfield by providing jobs for the people, by helping to pay some of the taxes, it helps keep the people who work in the factories and plants in Springfield to shop. It raises the town's budget without raising the taxes. It brings greater wealth and commerce to Springfield, and it helps make Springfield a better community."

Neil Neubarth, Gaudineer School, 2nd Prize "Industry helps Springfield because it gives more people jobs and helps by providing needed taxes to build better schools, recreation areas and support the township. It helps the local merchants by bringing shoppers to Springfield and provides for more wealth and commerce within our community. It helps to make Springfield a better place to live."

Angelina Pacifico St. James School, 3rd Prize "Industry affects all kinds and classes of people in home and daily life. Its taxes contribute to help build better schools, parks, roads and other facilities which our town needs. Industry gives employment to many Springfield residents. Those who work here also have the convenience to shop here. This is my opinion how industry helps Springfield."

Jeanette Katem, Gaudineer School, 3rd Prize "Industry, as defined by Webster, is any labor or work which produces a product. But in reality we can see that this little work "industry" signifies more than just the production of articles; for in a small township like Springfield, industry may be called the backbone of prosperity. Among the numerous advantages of industry are the lowering of taxes, the providing of jobs, and the rise of social and economic status for the community."

Mayor Terms Fair Success, Catapano, 'Tremendous Thing'

Announcement was made by Mayor Arthur M. Falkin at the Springfield Township Committee meeting Tuesday night in Municipal Building that 3,500 people visited the recent industrial fair held at Jonathan Dayton Regio-

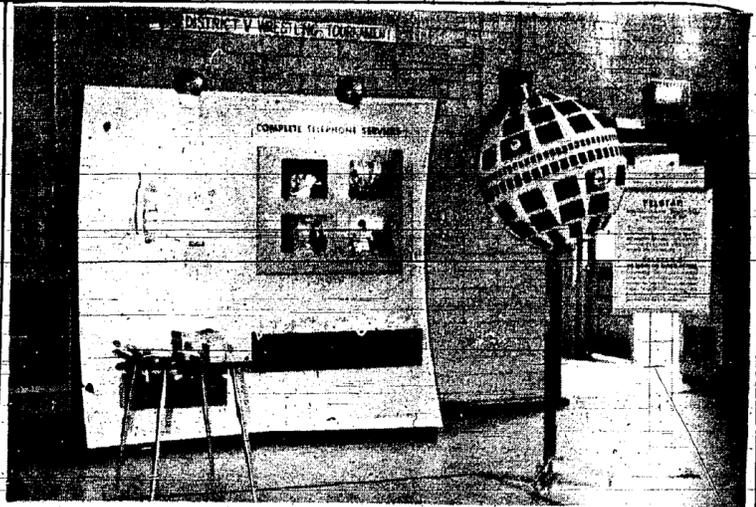

Committeeman Carmen Catapano pointed out that the fair was a "tremendous thing" and said a debt of gratitude was to the Chamber of Commerce, the Industrial Committee and Mayor Falkin, who all played a big part in the presentation of the affair. Order was given for a letter of commendation to be sent to the Industrial Committee, who sponsored the fair.

Senior Citizens Success Group After One Year

A wonderful success story lies behind the Senior Citizens Group of Springfield which celebrated its first anniversary last month. The organization - a slow starter - has, through the perseverance of Recreation Director Edward Ruby, blossomed into a unit of 60 men and women and new candidates continue to come from all directions.

The group, chuck full of congeniality, never has a dull moment when it meets twice a month in American Legion Home. Meetings are held on Wednesdays, the second and fourth.

"One of the toughest jobs was getting them together: now they can't be kept apart," said Director Ruby. Municipal sanction was also needed for the proposal. The club started with 26 members on May 16, 1962.

Director Ruby in serving as co-ordinator gets as much kick out of the sessions as anyone else. He is especially proud of the 10 to 12 men in the group. Mrs. Ann Lisa, secretary in the Recreation Department, dons an apron and joins in the fun too.

The meetings in the hall begin about 11 a.m. and end around 2:30 p.m. Members bring along a sandwich and someone donates the cake. Everyone is anxious to bring dessert and there is always too much! Dues of 25 cents take care of coffee and milk and also might cover a bus trip in the future.

Not only fun and frolic is derived from the meetings but also many worthwhile benefits. The group took a bus trip to New York to see the Mona Lisa, a Bell Lab representative told them about Talstar, and a member of the income tax bureau attended a session and answered many of their questions, which was very helpful. Other interesting speakers have included Dr. Moldenke of Trailside Museum, Watchung Reservation, and representatives of the Springfield police and fire departments.

Enthusiasm runs high at the gatherings: members are delighted to get out and talk to one another. A favorite activity for the group is bingo with the members donating the prizes and Director Ruby taking over the role of "caller."

At a St. Patrick's Day party, John Buckley of 112 South Maple Avenue (born in Ireland) had everybody doing the Irish jig. The Christmas party was a smashing success with Claus on the scene. At the Easter meeting a highlight of the program was an Easter parade; while the record player gave forth with "In Your Easter Bonnet the members marched around in home-made "crazy" hats. Everyone had wine and honey cake during the Passover season thanks to the thoughtfulness of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Siegel.

Consideration is always expressed by members for the meetings and at a recent get-together, one of the male members remembered to bring along a bunch of lovely lilacs for a table bouquet. Everyone wants to help.

Most of the members consist of retired couples, widows and widowers, in their 60's and 70's. Special attention is paid to birthdays and anniversaries. The group has observed the 50th wedding anniversary of both Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilson of 78 Washington Avenue May 7th and also Mr. and Mrs. Albert Scheerer of 44 Rose Avenue April 23. The celebrants dance to the anniversary waltz and all the members sign a card of congratulations.

Spark is given to the meetings by the many "live wires" in the group. Mrs. Hannah Shawcross at 87 has the honor of being the oldest member of the organization.

She is said to be "going is annoyed when she can't go to day and night". She is Mr. Ruby's both landlady and according to the Members of the organization recreation director she often has include: Mrs. Edna Allen, Mrs. two places to go in one day and Katherine Bauer, Mrs. E. Brazu-

For a bright future... saving makes the difference

Having money to spend or invest when you need it is the key to success. Here are a few good rules to help you save.

1. Keep your eyes on your long range goals; college, a business of your own, marriage, a home.
2. Make saving a habit. Pay yourself first by putting something aside regularly out of your allowance and earnings.
3. It does make a difference where you save. Put your money in an Insured Savings and Loan Association where it earns excellent returns and is safe... insured by a U.S. Government agency.

Know Your Library Mrs. Ann Kitzing Does Bookkeeping & Records At Free Public Library

Mrs. Ann Kitzing

Mrs. Ann Kitzing, who does all the bookkeeping and the statistical records for the Springfield Public Library, started out originally as a volunteer in 1959. She joined the Staff in 1961 when her two children were well established in school.

Mrs. Kitzing lived in Queens before coming to Springfield in 1949. She attended the Franklin School of Business, New York City. Before her marriage Mrs. Kitzing had worked in N.Y.C. as an underwriter with a large insurance company. Her husband, Anton is the cake foreman at D. Silver's Inc. He is an enthusiastic golfer. Her mother, Mrs. Hoffmeister, has recently come to live with them at 141 Henshaw Avenue.

The two Kitzing children are Paul 11 years, and Ruth 10 years old, and both attend the Chis-holm School. The family belongs to the Presbyterian Church where Mrs. Kitzing was a kindergarten teacher for six years before taking over her present position as Superintendent of the Kindergarten Dept. Of course, making clothes for the children does not leave Mrs. Kitzing much free time. However, her long-standing hobby is painting; at first in tempera but now in oil. She would like very much to do landscape painting.

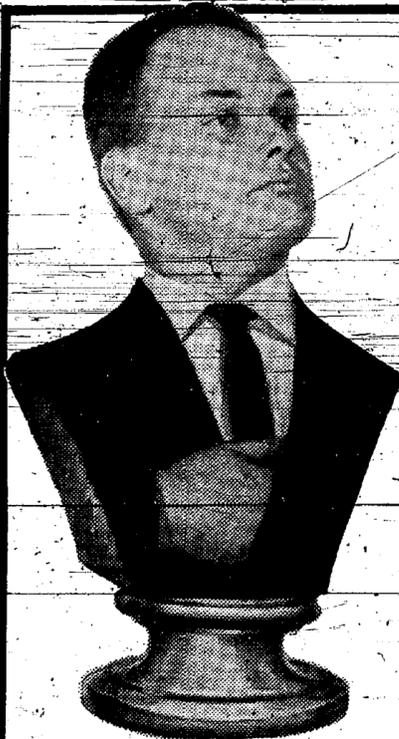

Mrs. Kitzing said "and if the weather does not permit painting, there is nothing like reading a good book of historical fiction."

Progress Of Greek Church

Rapid progress is being made in the establishment of a Greek Orthodox Church in suburbia and land in the general area of Springfield is under consideration.

Members of the Greek Orthodox Church in this area, desirous of a more localized building, are diligently working to accomplish this end and have already established a board of trustees for the purpose and started a fund drive. The need for a suburban structure was stressed by the fact that the closest churches of the Greek Orthodox faith are two in Newark, one in East Orange, one in Perth Amboy and one in New Brunswick.

The fund drive, opened May 1st, has already realized more than $30,000. A goal of $100,000 has been set and spokesman for the program said, "We are very optimistic." Some 350 to 400 families in the area are expected to be approached with the idea.

Negotiations are now underway for one of two pieces of property. Preliminary sketches have been formulated but final plans will be withheld until the site has been selected.

Objective is to accomplish the building program in three steps: Step 1 would be to construct an all-purpose room and 12 classrooms, step 2 would be enlarging the school facilities and building the church, and step 3 would be building a rectory.

Intention is to conduct a Greek School twice a week so that pupils could learn the Greek language and receive religious instruction.

The board of trustees has been established with the following officers: President, Peter Gianacakes of Murray Hill; vice president, John Gacos of Springfield; treasurer, George Karras of New Providence, and secretary, Chris Chaggaris of Summit.

Frank Collins

Frank Collins, of 94A Wabena Ave., Springfield, died Sunday, June 9, in Overlook Hospital, Summit, after a long illness. He was a retired assistant chief engineer with the Commonwealth Water Co., Canoe Brook station, where he worked for 36 years.

A native of Glasgow, Scotland, where he was a marine engineer with the Union Castle Ship Line, he came to the United States in 1928.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Catherine Coyle Collins; two sons; Frank L. of Somerville and Edmund M. of Windsor, Conn.; two sisters, Mary Mc Tavish and Mrs. Margaret Ryan, both of Glasgow, and 10 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday, June 12, from Smith and Smith Funeral Home with a Solemn High Requiem Mass at St. James Church.

Pfc. John P. Delia In Caribbean Team

Marine Private First Class John P. Delia, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Delia of 63 Sherwood Rd., Springfield, is participating in an extended training cruise in the Caribbean involving an air-ground team comprised of units of the Second Marine Division and the Second Marine Aircraft Wing. Holly Hill Builders	0	3

Up-sets highlighted last week play in the Springfield Adult Softball League. Previously unbeaten Katz was surprised by the previously winless Sun Publishers. The Sun team showed hitting strength as they rolled up 13 runs in the first two innings. These runs were made to stand up as they defeated Katz 13-1.

Although Katz by losing was knocked from a first place tie, the top spot continues to be shared by two teams. Wesley Jewelers and Fischer Bros. Travel retained their unbeaten status by defeating Springfield Travel Service and Ehrardt Electronics respectively.

Wesley Jewelers turned back a strong Springfield Travel Service team by the score of 10-2. Springfield Travel was held to two hits by the Jeweler's tight defense. The Wesley Jeweler attack was paced by Vin Altieri with three hits and Mike Pisano with a long home-run. Jack Morris fielded with brilliance at the short stop position for the Westey team. Sam Calabresse turned in a fine pitching performance for the losers, while Vin Caprio sparked at third base. Norb Wrobeski chipped in with one of the loser's two hits, and scored a run.

Fischer Bros. Travel continued their winning ways by defeating Ehrardt Electronics 8-4. Bud Savarin and Carmen Perarorra paced the victors with three hits each. Bud Savarin's hitting was very effective, as his three hits accounted for half of all the Fischer runs. Bill Savarin pitched and was credited with his third victory of the young season.

The Muller Jaycees, representing Muller Chevrolet of Maplewood and the Springfield Junior Chamber of Commerce, continued their up-surge and gained a tie for second place in the league standing. The Muller Jaycees turned back the Holly Hill Builders by the score of 7-5. Bert Jones twirled four excellent innings for the Jaycees and was credited with the victory. Ted and Rick Sorriente, along with Fred Puorro, contributed hard hitting to the Jaycee attack. Ken Lancaster, who took over for Bert Jones on the mound, turned back a late bid by the Builders. Holly Hill, who has a strong team, as yet to win a game, but pity the team they play when it comes their turn to break

Union, Livingston Sink Bulldog Title Hopes; JD Regional Finishes 23-3

Consecutive losses in the State Tourney and GNT have eliminated the mighty Bulldog diamond nine from further competition. Union High, behind the two-hit twirling of John Merton defeated Richie Bittle, 2-1 at Linden last Wednesday. 24 hours later Dayton played its final game of the year against Livingston in the Greater Newark Tournament. The top seeded Bulldogs were stopped by Bill Fox, 8-2. Thus a team that set a Union County regular season mark of 19-0, and came with in one game of tying St. Benedict's State mark of 23 consecutive wins, ended with a 23-3 mark.

Denny Francis and Steve Berger managed the only hits against the Farmers. Francis' blow was a well hit double to center, and he eventually scored on two infield outs to tie the game at one all. But a sixth inning base knock by Don Fuko drove in the winning loose. The Builder's team is much too strong to remain winless.

run off Bittle. A last inning rally by Dayton, which included a walk to Butch Bell and Berger's single, fell short, and Dayton was out of the State tourney. Union went on to eliminate Westfield, 7-2 behind Merton, and is now in the section finals.

Fox and Bill Kretzer battled through five frames of a one all game, but two Livingston runs in the sixth game gave the Bulldogs a deficit that was never made up.

The Lancers scored in the top of the first on a single, stolen base, Kretzer's error and an infield out, but Dayton came right back in the bottom of the inning on Jack Appar's single, a balk, and Francis' base hit.

Livingston scored four more times in the seventh, for a 7-1 margin. Joe DiMario's fence clearing homer in the bottom of the frame gave Regional its final run of the year.

So Dayton ended the year on a poor note, after having terrorizing the opposition for most of the season. The team did win the Watchung Conference crown in its first attempt, and became the second team to go undefeated in the Conference, first in a 14 game season.

It is my opinion that individuals on the team should be accorded post-season honors. Just how high we'll have to wait and see. One of these individuals is outfielder Dan Mascaro. Danny led Dayton with a .385 batting average, despite a painful leg injury. Ronnie Urquhart, the fleet right fielder was close behind with a .365 mark, after having led the team for most of the year. Ronnie was hampered at bat by a deep cut in his hand, but still managed 31 hits, tops on the team.

Bobby Rahnenfuhrer, the go-get-em centerfielder hit .312 in his first varsity year. Bob didn't lead the team in anything except most times name misspelled, but he had 23 runs, three doubles and as many triples. Denny Francis, the best glove-man at first base we've seen in Union County circles, was a better than adequate no three hitter. Denny led the team in doubles and triples with four in each department. Jack Appar could have had a better all around year, but the little lead off man got the job done, as is shown by his 30 runs scored, best on the squad.

Big Joe DiMario should rank high among area receivers. Joe developed into a fine hitter this year, and he contributed 23 hits to the Dayton attack. Butch Bell led the team with three homers, but even more important was his ability to meet the ball towards the end of the year. The same held true for second baseman Steve Berger, who cut down on strike outs and was hitting the ball to all fields towards the end of the year.

Big Bill Kretzer led the mound corps with nine victories, and 68 strike outs in 78 innings. Frank Monticello was 6-0 for the best record, but Richie Bittle had the best earned run average, 0.82. Bittle was 4-1, Kretzer, 9-2, Dick Freedman, 3-0, with a 1.50 Tera, and Jack Kulaga was 1-0, with 19 ky's in 11 innings. All the hurlers will be back next year, but the only fielders that are returning to Coach Ed Jasinski's nine are Berger and Rahnenfuhrer.
