Rules & Regulations Set For Swim Pool

An ordinance establishing rules and regulations for the municipal swimming pool was adopted on final reading Tuesday night by Springfield Township Committee.

It was explained the quota was set because of safety and health reasons and it was found necessary, the facility could be expanded in the future.

An ordinance establishing a 42-hour week for paid members of Springfield Fire Department was adopted on final reading.

Credit For Pool Construction Belongs To Engineer Kozub

"If there's one man who deserves credit for the swim pool construction wise that is - it's Walter Kozub."

Those are the words of Recreation Director Edward Ruby, a man who should know.

And reports filter from all directions that the 36-year-old township engineer has wholeheartedly given his energy and talent to the job of seeing that the citizens of Springfield have a pool to be proud of.

Finding the engineer at the scene at 7:30 a.m., 8 p.m., and over the weekend was a common occurrence.

As his pretty blond wife Doris jokingly puts it:

"I was beginning to think a mermaid must be over there; work couldn't possibly be attracting his attention that long."

But Walter sheepishly replies, "The children still recognize me." He is referring to his two daughters, Linda, eight, and Karen, four.

Devotion to duty has paid off for the conscientious township official. He said, "I am satisfied with practically all phases of the work."

...And Then There Is Mr. Edward Schwartz

There can't be anyone more enthusiastic about the official opening June 30th of the municipal pool than the Swimming Pool Committee, and that especially holds true for Edward H. Schwartz of 26 Sycamore Ter.

(The 37-year-old real estate and insurance broker has been its chairman since its inception in 1961.)

A contract for the paying of a parking lot was awarded to Pressure Asphalt Inc., Union, at $3,338, the low bid. Other bidders were V. (Cone & Son, Springfield, $3,343; Della Pello Contracting Co., Union, $4,057; 70; Union Paving & Construction Co., Union, $4,285.80; Cova Contractors Inc., Madison, $3,802.87; and J. Cocuzzo & Sons, Maplewood, $4,384.

Announcement was made that the municipal pool will be open Friday, June 28 at 1 p.m.

A recommendation of the Planning Board for final approval of a subdivision involving six lots and known as the Forest Acres development was accepted by majority vote. Voting no on the application was Committee member Carmen Catapano. Action on a recommendation of the Board of Adjustment to grant permission to Houdaille Construction Co. to relocate on its property existing facilities, which will be claimed by the State Highway Department for Route 78, was deferred. The Township Committee also withheld action on a Board of Adjustment recommendation for a motel variance on Route 22. It was announced this last application would be considered at the July 9th meeting.

Township Attorney James Cawley was authorized to represent the township and building inspector who are defendants in the Baroff, Gross, et al case concerning Evergreen Lodge.

Request for a license for a coin-operated dry cleaning and washing machine establishment at 775 Mountain Avenue was granted.

Motion was made giving approval for the establishment of a change fund at the municipal pool so that the manager of the pool can make change for rentals.

Two Plaintiffs Give Personal Opinions On Lodge Addition

Two of the more outspoken residents opposed to the Evergreen Lodge addition proposed and approval in a variance by Springfield township committee are Irvin Bross of 65 Evergreen Ave., and Mrs. Leon Goodman of 16 Surrey Lane. Both have felt strongly enough about the issue to add their names to a list of five plaintiffs in a suit scheduled to appear before a Superior Court judge in Elizabeth in the near future. In phone talks with both Bross and Mrs. Goodman the following statements were obtained by the SUN:

Mr. Bross: "This thing has gone further than just the satisfaction of winning an argument. I feel that the important issue here is that Township Committee had their minds made up on the matter before the thing was thrown open for public debate.

"I have nothing against the man who now runs the Lodge. I'm a pretty fair person, and would not like to take away anyone's livelihood. All that I ask is that the Lodge should keep the appearance of the rest of the neighborhood. My daughter and our neighbor's child have picked up poison oak from the area. If these conditions are rectified I can't see why the neighborhood can't have good relations with the Lodge.

"I knew Evergreen Lodge was there when I bought my home... and I knew that I would have to live with it there. What I didn't know was that it was going to be enlarged. It seems to me that any enlargement of the property is bound to bring more traffic into the area. The organization has never given us a true breakdown on its membership."

SEARCH FOR A LODGE

An Elk Or Not An Elk... Will It Eventually Matter?

Apparent initial smooth sailing has turned into stormy weather for Springfield Lodge of Elks as it presses its case to secure a clubhouse in Old Coach Road.

Several obstacles have been put into the club's path to secure a special exception use so it can use a private dwelling in a residential zone for its headquarters.

One possible "immovable object" to appear on the scene is the city of Summit.

Other complainants are a number of rip-roaring residents of the area along with attorneys, all bent on blocking the BPOE's use of the building off Baltusrol Road.

The property in question is actually in both Springfield and Summit.

And the fact that the lodge applied only to Springfield seeking permission to use the site for meeting purposes probably hasn't enhanced its position with the city of Summit especially when citizens were flocking to Summit municipal offices protesting the plan.

When the question, why a variance was not also sought from Summit in conjunction with the proposal was raised, the BPOE's attorney, William Ancier of 26 Linden Avenue, replied: "The building is in Springfield and it is in Springfield's jurisdiction as to how the house is used."

The controversy came to light Tuesday, June 18th, at a regular monthly meeting of Springfield Board of Adjustment in Municipal Building.

The hearing became hectic almost from the start as William Gural, an attorney with offices at 1170 Liberty Avenue, Hillside, who resides in the area, sprang to the floor. He

HEARING SET FOR NINTH

Proposed Zoning Ordinance Would Greatly Change Laws

An ordinance amending the 1955 zoning ordinance was introduced Tuesday night at Springfield Township Committee meeting in Municipal Building. Public hearing on the measure was set for July 9th.

The ordinance, complex in nature, was not read in its entirety at the meeting, and after the session Township Attorney James Cawley reported it provides "tremendous" changes in the present law.

On its introduction at the session, Committeeman Robert Hardgrove said the ordinance was one of the steps in the updating of the zoning ordinance, which must be examined periodically as the township grows to give it some direction. Other steps are to come, he indicated.

The proposed ordinance would make restaurants a special exception use. They now exist as a permitted use in some zones, special exception use in other zones, and prohibits use in still other zones. The new proposal would establish uniformity of restaurants, it was pointed out.

It would also be necessary for an applicant if he wanted to occupy a building or structure for any use other than a dwelling to procure a certificate of use at a stipulated fee. Presently there is no express regulation of a change in use or operation of a premises.

MRS. DEL VECCHIO AT HOME

Mrs. D' Illustrates Modern Mom's Role

With seven children to look after, there's never a dull moment for Mrs. Philip Del Vecchio. And since April 25, when she twisted her left ankle, she has been managing her household on crutches. But she's had quite a lot of help from the children, who are: Philip, 17, a senior at St. Benedict's; Valorie, 16, a junior at Mount St. Mary's; Denise, 15, a sophomore at Mount St. Mary's; Peter, 11, who is going into 6th grade at Our Lady of Lourdes; Paul, 10, in 5th grade at Our Lady of Lourdes; Anthony, 5, who will enter kindergarten at the Edward V. Walton school, and Edward, 3, a great lover of Cheerios. Mrs. Del Vecchio has always been a very busy woman. A graduate of St. John's Teachers College, she taught third grade for two and a half years in Holms, Long Island. Then when the second World War came along, she couldn't resist doing her

Officials Maintain That Police Chief Acted Reasonably

As requested at the previous Springfield Township Committee meeting, Committeeman Robert Hardgrove Tuesday gave William Houdaille of 14 Joanne Way, Springfield, a detailed report of circumstances involving a news story concerning an accident from which his daughter, Kathleen, 5, was killed.

The township committeeman released the following statement at the Tuesday Township Committee meeting:

"At the last meeting of the Township Committee, Mr. Houdaille read a prepared statement in which a series of questions were asked concerning the information that was released by the Police Department about the accidental death of his daughter.

"Before continuing, I would like once more to extend the deepest heartfelt sympathy to you and the members of your family.

"To facilitate the handling of the questions raised in Mr. Houdaille's statement, each one will be read and then answered:

"As the father of the 5 year old girl your town truck ran down and killed May 28th, I would like to ask for an explanation of the statement released to the newspapers by the Springfield Police Department under Chief W. Sclander."

Request Residents Cease Sprinkling

A special request to residents to cease the sprinkling of lawns was issued by Committeeman Robert Hardgrove at the Tuesday night meeting of Springfield Township Committee. His announcement called attention to the low water pressure at Baltusrol Top which amounted to about 20 pounds. "This is not sufficient to put out a fire; in fact it isn't even enough to cause a trickling hose," he said.

The appeal was made in the form of a request for cooperation, but it was noted that if the situation persists without rainfall, an official order would soon be issued.

Pool To Be Open Tomorrow At One

From Town Hall comes the latest word on Springfield's new municipal swimming pool: The pool will officially open tomorrow at 1 p.m. with dedication ceremonies slated for Sunday, June 30 at 2 p.m.

Officials report that all membership badges that have not as yet been picked up may be obtained at the pool manager's office.

It is also noted that in accordance with Township rules, swimming pool members are permitted to wear swim suits to the pool PROVIDED an outer garment is worn.

BEHIND THE SCENES

Mrs. V. Schramm's Work Valuable To Library

The very important behind-the-scenes work of a public library is never known to the public, and yet without it no library could function.

Mrs. Viola Schramm letters books before they go on the shelves, restores them to serviceability when tired or torn, fits plastic jackets to books and is most ingenious in covering over-sized books for which no jackets are made.

The Schramms have always lived in Springfield. Her husband, Arthur, was born here, is connected with Andrew Wilson, Inc., and has been a member of the Volunteer Fire Department for 35 years and deputy chief for 19 years.

Mrs. Schramm came to Springfield from Hillsdale and before her marriage worked with the Prudential Insurance Co. In recent years, after her sons grew up, she worked at Newberry's. She is presently active in the Ladies Benevolent Society of the First Presbyterian Church, but for years assisted in the primary department of the Church School, and also with the Cub Scouts.

Park Playgrounds Are Now Active

Directed play activities will be offered children from 10:00 a.m. to dark, Monday through Friday, at six playgrounds located in various sections of the Park System.

These playgrounds will conduct programs that include a wide variety of activities for children, five to fifteen years of age, such as: pet and hobby shows, arts and crafts, doll parades, nature studies, sewing, dramatics, puppets, as well as tournaments in various athletic events.

The playgrounds under supervision are located at: Wheeler Park, Linden; Unruh Park, Garwood; Kawameeh Park, Union; Mattanc Park, Elizabeth; and two playgrounds in Warinanco Park (Playground No. 1, located in the Elizabeth Section of Warinanco Park; and Playground No. 2, located in the Roselle Section.)

Warinanco Playgrounds No. 1 and No. 2, in addition to being supervised daily, will also have a Playground Director present on Saturday and Sundays.

The Park Commission's playgrounds at Squier Island and Madison Ave., Rahway; Mohawk Drive, Cranford; Washington Ave. and Meisel Ave., Springfield; and in Cedar Brook Park, Plainfield; will be operated under the supervision of the municipalities in which they are located. Alfred E. Jakucs, Supervisor of Playgrounds, will direct the season's activities. He will be assisted by a staff of experienced male and female supervisors, who will direct the local playground activities.

Non-supervised playgrounds are located in Echo Lake Park, Westfield and Mountainside; the Watchung Reservation; Rahway River Park, Rahway; and Nomahegan Park, Cranford.

Dakota Mountains Hold a Mystery

By FRED W. MOORE United Press International — KILLDEER, N.D. (UPI) — The mystery of the Medicine Hole in the Killdeer Mountains in western North Dakota still keeps its secret almost 100 years after General Alfred Sully led his 2,200-man force into Dakota Territory to discipline 6,000 Sioux warriors.

His was a punitive expedition, to teach the warring Sioux, with all their squaws, children and dogs, a lesson. Sully's soldiers engaged the Sioux camped at the foot of the Killdeers on July 28, 1864. The entire camp fled in panic up the ravines into the Killdeers when Sully's forces attacked.

As night fell, Sully had a large band of Sioux surrounded atop one of the hills. The next morning the soldiers moved in to finish them off but they were gone! Where?

About a week later, Sully's army was miles west in the Bad-

The facts confirm the first engagement between Sully's troops and Sioux warriors. From their on record takes over a legend that has been embellished over the years because frontier soldiers of the latter half of the 19th century were known to be better fighters than historians. Legend says the trapped Indians escaped down the Medicine Hole — named for the smoky fog emitted on cold mornings. They are supposed to have traveled through a network of underground caverns underlying western North Dakota. The Medicine Hole actually is a small entrance to a narrow, little-explored cave that extends down into one of the high, steep hills in the Killdeer Mountains. Some support is lent to the tale by the fact that the Medicine Hole has been known to emit wind from its mouth.

Local Populace Asks About Singing Shell

Two articles of Springfield interest crossed our desks this week. Both concern the Evergreen Lodge proposed singing shell, and both are from residents living in the neighborhood surrounding the Lodge.

The first piece of news came in the form of a letter sent by "The Evergreen Local Fund Committee." "You are aware that a variance for a non-conforming use for the addition of a singing shell to Evergreen Lodge has been approved by the Township Committee over the strenuous objections of some residents of Springfield."

"How will the granting of this variance benefit the community? A satisfactory answer has never been provided."

"In spite of the vigorous objection of the people, the variance was granted. The will of the people has been defied by the Township Committee. In view of this action, what can we expect in Springfield next?"

"A local suit has been instituted to protect our rights as residents. We need as much financial support as possible. Residents are urged to send contributions to the Evergreen Legal Fund, 12 Surrey Lane."

"This may be an investment in your future."

And so the letter closes. The second piece of material "lodged" in our offices seems to have come from the same source. It is headed "WHY WERE THESE QUESTIONS NEVER ANSWERED?"

"Isn't it logical to expect that the financial investment made in the building of the shell and other changes carries with it the expectation of increased frequency and volume of use to repay the investment?"

"Isn't it a fact that with this variance granted, future requests for enlargements of Evergreen would be possible, whereas without this grant future enlargements of the Lodge would not be legal?"

"When there is obviously an honest difference of opinion about the amount of nuisance to be expected after the granting of the variance, why isn't the decision more protective of the neighborhood, as called for in the zoning ordinance?"

"4. Couldn't the Evergreen Lodge continue to function as a picnic grove and bar without the variance?"

"5. When there is concern on the Township Committee about the possible fire hazard of the lodge although minimum requirements have been met, shouldn't the focus be put on the adequacy of our present minimum for safety requirements?"

"6. Why is the Committee prepared to break the precedent of neighborhood protection set by the denial of the variance when Cardinal requested it?"

"7. How will the granting of the variance benefit the citizens of Springfield?"

"8. Is only a year ago the Township Committee gave full consideration to the objections of the neighborhood to the location of the swimming pool at the Evergreen site, why not to the objections of the neighborhood to the variance for Evergreen Lodge which is a business enterprise?"

"There can be little in anyone's mind that those folks over there by Evergreen Lodge are putting up a fight for what they believe in."

Then again, Township Committee has taken a stand, which, we believe, was made with a true regard for the future of the Township as these men see it.

Each will have their day in court in the not-to-distant future, and then an impartial judge will decide whether or not a shell is destined for Evergreen Lodge. When two opinions meet head on, with neither giving ground, something eventually has to give. We just hope that whatever does finally "give," gives in the best interest of Springfield as a whole.

FLO DWYER REPORTS

Filibuster May Slow Civil Rights Program

With the arrival of President Kennedy's civil rights program here on Capitol Hill—the word is that Congress can expect to remain in session for most of the year. The prediction is based, of course, on the likelihood of a lengthy filibuster by Southern Democrats, especially in the Senate, against such legislation.

Speaking for myself, I can say that I'm perfectly ready to stay here in Washington just as long as it takes to pass a law that will effectively enforce the Constitutional guarantees of equal rights and equal protection of the laws for all Americans. This is so basic a responsibility, it seems to be beyond reasonable dispute, I am convinced, too that a substantial majority of the House and Senate of both parties accept the urgent need for civil rights legislation. Opponents will try to talk the bill to death, as they have a right to do, but they can succeed only if we, the majority, permit them to succeed.

The defeat of the Administration's proposed expansion of the area redevelopment program by a narrow 5-vote margin—the biggest blow to the President's program this year—has been widely misunderstood. Because the expressed purpose of this program is to help make jobs available to people in areas of high unemployment, newspaper headlines tended to make it appear as though opponents of the bill were against helping the unemployed. Emphatically, no! News stories and interpretive pieces also tended to blame the bill's defeat on resumption of the Southern Democratic-Conservative Republican coalition sparked by southerners who wanted to "punish" the President for his recent decision to seek civil rights legislation. A highly inaccurate interpretation!

Certainly, there are those in the House who aren't interested in doing much about unemployment, just as there are those whose animosity toward civil rights outweighs all other considerations. But they do not make a majority, and their votes did not defeat the area redevelopment Bill.

RETIREES AFTER 26 YEARS

Superintendent Frey Heading Back To The 'Rock Pile'

Ed (Edmund) Frey of 291 Summit Road, Mountside, a pillar in the Regional school system, will retire from his post as superintendent of buildings and grounds June 30th after 26 years of service.

No other person has been with the system as long and he admits leaving Regional is no light task. The enthusiastic, energetic employee is regretfully retiring in compliance with a regulation that he resign by the time he is 63 years and 10 months old or forego some of his forthcoming benefits. He explained that if he works one day beyond the stipulated age he would lose social security as an extra benefit. Under the ruling, if he retires now he will collect pension and annuity funds as well as social security.

Those about him also rue retirement day and feel he could surely have gone on to 70.

Actually, Mr. Frey, as with the system before it, even began, so it has a special spot

Propagandist Preserves Own Image, Mars That Of Others

BY GEORGE KANZLER, JR.

Creating and preserving a favorable image of your own system and pointing out all the possible flaws in your opponents are the main jobs of the propagandist. This creates a problem for the artist with unpopular views in his own country.

Naturally this artist is unlikely to be accepted with open arms by the image makers of his own country and often his views are distorted by the propagandists of his country's enemies for political reasons.

This has already been noted last week in the case of Boris Pasternak and Evgeny Evushenko. Both of these Russian poets have been used by propagandists here as examples of growing discontent among the artists of Russia with their political system. The recent suppression and official condemnation of abstract art by the Soviet government has become more ammunition in the "Time" magazine expose of the suppression of the artist in Russia.

That most people who consider themselves good democratic citizens of this country don't care for abstract art and that many critics here have also labeled it decadent art facts not considered.

NOT QUITE FAIR in our treatment of Russian artists we often look for signs of rebellion against the system and point them out where they do not exist.

Artists to serve as members of the first regional school board. Mr. Frey, in the capacity of president of Mountside Board of Education, was one of the original regional school board members.

A standard election for regional board members was held in 1935. Mr. Frey served as a member of the regional board until his resignation July 1st, 1937. Also, he was a member of the Mountside Board of Education for six years, from 1931 through 1937, during which time he was president of the Mountside school board four years, from 1934 through 1937. During his administration, the Echobrook School was built in Mountside. It was built in 1935 and opened in 1936, preceding Jonathan Dayton Regional by one year. Ground-breaking for Jonathan Dayton took place in 1936 and the school was opened in September, 1937.

Mr. Frey began employment July 19, 1937, as one of four original custodians for Jonathan Dayton. (All the others have since

House On The Hill

Once in a great while a situation pops up on the municipal horizon that is serious and yet still manages to have certain humorous aspects to it.

Such seems to be the case of the Springfield B.P.O.E. Lodge and the uphill fight this organization is having in its desire to move into new quarters on Old Coach Rd., a little rock-filled foot path with its boundaries in both Springfield and Summit.

Now we'd be almost willing to offer a prize to any reader who can honestly say that he knows where Old Coach Rd. and the proposed Elk site is located. This area is so far back, and so removed from the normal pattern of Springfield life, that it almost appears to be a scene from the backwoods of some forgotten hamlet in Vermont.

The surroundings are beautiful. Mr. Clyde Heath, owner of the Sayre Homestead, a tree shaded stretch with spacious grounds and an inviting lake, is the "country squire" of the area. Heath and his pup walk the grounds, talking of the hunting and fishing abundant in the area. He also speaks of the highway coming into the neighborhood which will slice away some of his land and about one quarter of his peaceful lake.

Mr. Heath is for the Elks. He says, "why not". It is his contention that the B.P.O.E. will "spruce up" the surroundings with an improved road and moved lawn. And Heaven only knows that Old Coach Rd. needs some physical sprucing up!

There are probably more rocks per square foot on that Road than in the entire Townships of Summit and Springfield combined! The humorous aspects of the controversy of course is the fact that a number of people both for and against the proposed move are true-blue ELKS! This poses an obvious problem, for where do loyalties lie? As an Elk, a man would want to see his lodge or a brother lodge prosper and advance as all Elks should. On the other hand, however, as a lawyer or township official it is this same man's duty to see that the law is carried out to the letter and that justice prevails over personal gain.

All we can say is that Old Coach Rd. needs some fixing. Even if it is "quaint" and the people who live on it wish to see it remain "quaint", as a street it deserves some maintenance and care. The Elks would give Old Coach Rd. this care and bring it just a little closer to civilization in a civilized way.

Springfields Compared

A new resident of this community has given us her views, impressions and comparison of this Springfield and her home town of Springfield, Ill.

Russian propagandists point gleefully at the Trumbo affair and ask how such a thing can happen in a "free" country. But the Trumbo affair is nothing compared to that of the folk singer Pete Seeger.

PETE SEEGER was extremely active in the left-wing socialist movement here in the late thirties and early forties. He was also a conscientious objector during the war and an outspoken critic of this country's civil rights policies and the treatment of minority groups here. In short, Seeger was an example of the man in a democratic society who could speak freely without fear because of rights guaranteed him by democracy.

Pete Seeger recently spent a year in jail for contempt of the HUAC, before whom he refused to testify. He has been mysteriously blacklisted on American TV and cannot appear on a show, Hootenany, devoted to folk singing.

If Pete Seeger were a minor talent he might not deserve to appear on TV anyway, but this is not the case. Seeger is generally regarded as the singer most responsible for the revival of folk singing which has swept this country in the last decade. He is so highly regarded by many folk singers, including Joan Baez, who

Between Covers

THE GREATER DARKNESS, By David Rubin -- A stimulating, novel about India -- written by an American with an above average awareness and talent for sounding like a native. The characters are English and American residents and the top caste of Indians as well. Informative, well done in word pictures and images.

THE DILLINGER DAYS, By John Toland -- A novel of the "shoot-'em-up" days in the mid-west in the 1930's. All the raw, bachelorette, power and the intrigue of the period are captured by Mr. Toland, who must have been there.

EHRENGARD, By Isak Dinesen -- The late Danish author wrapped up his final book on the parable of an artist in the midst of a more worldly world, and his reaction to such an unlikely relationship. Well written with many close insights to the sensitive personality of an artist in a world of brutal, cold, hard reality and its people.

The Battle Of Monmouth In 1778 Had One Of Worst Generals -- Charles Lee

GENERAL GEORGE WASHINGTON rebukes General Lee on the Field during Battle of Monmouth. This picture appeared in Harpers Magazine in June, 1878, from a steel and stylus engraving.

There is no denying that the poorest general to be commanding the advance American forces as they awaited the Battle of Monmouth on June 28, 1778, had to be General Charles Lee.

Vain, ambitious, openly contemptuous of Washington and possibly even traitorous, Lee long had vigorously protested against an open battle with the British. Such a move would be "insanity," he argued.

Yet there he stood at Monmouth, presumably ready to attack at dawn. He carried in his decision, or worse, until the rising sun ruined all chances of surprise. It was in the pattern of his life.

Born in England in 1732, Lee had served brilliantly, if erratically, in the British Army. His lean, dark face showed his strength, but even that was marred by a ridiculously long nose that earned him the nickname of "Naso."

Lee had fought with the British Army in America during the French and Indian War then had roamed the Continent as a soldier of fortune in Turkey, Russia and Poland. Never one to let good judgement interfere with peevishness, Lee always criticized everyone in sight—his army superiors, his government, his friends. He came to America in 1755 and promptly espoused rebellion. His caustic writings against the Crown earned him wide popularity, despite his wretched manners and slovenly appearance.

After expressing thinly veiled contempt that a Virginia farmer had been appointed commander in chief, Lee signed on as a general after writing a handsome sum of money from Congress.

Then began a strange interlude that surely bordered on treason. First Lee refused orders to bring 3,000 troops to support Washington's hard-pressed army on its retreat across New Jersey in November and December of 1776. He paused at the Widow White's in Basking Ridge on December 13 to write a letter attacking "acertain great man" as "damnable deficient." He meant Washington and didn't care who knew it.

Lee waited too long; a British force captured him at the Widow White's. As a prisoner, he opened his own peace negotiations with General Howe and at one point suggested to Howe a quick means of overwhelming the Americans.

Nevertheless, when Lee was exchanged, Washington received him graciously at Valley Forge in May of 1778. Soon after, General Clinton moved his British army out of Philadelphia and began the long march across New Jersey to New York.

Washington followed, with Lee ever urging caution. During a conference at Hopewell, Lee strongly opposed any attack but Washington ignored the advice and sent Lafayette forward with troops to harass the enemy. Lee turned indignant, insisting that as superior officer he should lead the advance force, thus asking for command in the approaching battle.

The inevitable clash came at Monmouth on Sunday, June 28. Lee was supposed to attack, but before the battle was fairly joined he called for a retreat. Troops fell back in confusion, although in fairness, not all the confusion was Lee's fault.

Washington rode up at about noon, confronting Lee, he demanded sharply: "I desire to know, sir, what is the reason, whence rises all this confusion?"

Obviously stunned and angered, Lee stammered an inconsequential answer. Washington took command and urged the Americans forward. The day ended in at least a draw, despite Lee's constant declarations that opposing the British in open battle smacked of insanity.

Lee wrote bitterly insubordinate letters to Washington, insisting that his name be cleared by court martial, if no other way. He got his wish: a court martial found him guilty of leaving the field of battle and suspended him for one year without pay.

Some historians believe that treason underlay Lee's actions, but there is ample evidence that vainglory and a lifelong history of insubordination—and indecision were the principle causes for his behavior.

The exceptionally sympathetic biography, "General Charles Lee, Traitor or Patriot?" by John R. Alden made a strong case for the propriety of Lee's tactics at Monmouth. But Alden, for all his evident sympathy for his subject, couldn't hide the ugliness and bitterness that marked Lee's entire life.

Lee died in 1782 and even in death he showed his scorn for society.

His will asked that he not be buried "in any church or churchyard or within a mile of any Presbyterian or Anabaptist meeting house; for since I have resided in this country, I have kept so much bad company when living, that I do not choose to continue it when dead."

Living or dead, Charles Lee made it clear that all the world was out of step—except Charles Lee.

Ashbrook Slated To Open Saturday

The Ashbrook Swim Club will hold its opening night next Saturday, June 29, and it should be a real swinger.

Adhering to the policy of providing the best in professional entertainment all season, Ashbrook inaugurates the 1963 season with three headliners: comedian Lou Menchell, singing stars Laurie Sisters and novelty dancing team Rollie and Bonnie Pickert.

Menchell, veteran Broadway performer who has run in New York's Latin Quarter as a top biller, is consistently funny, a talent lacking in so many other entertainers of the funny bone.

Most people at annual physical time are surprised to find they should weigh less than they do, insurance executives report.

Today's Swimming Suits Are Made For Swimming

"Hang your suit on a hickory limb but don't go near the water." This might have been good advice several years ago, but today fabrics for swimsuits are designed for swimming.

The main feature of the current styles in beach wear is color. Color and design have been combined successfully to flatter every figure for this season's swimwear.

When you buy a bathing suit for this season, look to the labels for color information. Solution—dye—rays and acetates such as Chromspun, Celapern, and Colorspun, are your assurance that the color will hold.

In this process the color is part of the fiber before it is spun and not just applied after the fabric is woven.

Look for variegated labels for cotton swimsuits if this is your fabric choice.

Regardless of the fabric, you must be aware of the fact that high-fashion colors such as coral and turquoise will show some degree of fading by the end of summer.

The color life of a bathing suit depends largely on the care you give it. Color fastness is improved with plain water rinsing after each wearing along with an occasional dip in sudsy water.

Chlorinated or salt water perspiration and some sun tanning lotions can cause permanent fading or damage if left in the fabric.

When looking for a new swimsuit, look for new fabric names too. Suits made of Vylene or Lytra fibers will be a big improvement over the old familiar Lastex fabrics. Newer fabrics will be light to wear, yet have a good degree of figure firming ability.

These fabrics keep their elasticity because they resist body acids, perspiration and heat.

Non-plasticized suits, knitted mailots of Orlon and Nylon, as well as cotton and wool will also be featured in the current crop of fashionable beachwear. In selecting a swimsuit, it is well to remember that the fit of the suit is a factor in your overall appearance.

Suits that are one or two sizes too small are not going to "give" the way old Lastex suits did. In newer fabrics the stretch factor won't relax but seams are apt to "give" if the fit is too snug.

Ice Cream, Milk Summer Favorites In Varied Styles

On a hot summer day there's nothing like a frosty ice cream dessert to top off a meal, or a cold-milk drink for a quick refresher. Ice cream and milk are favorites of young 4-H cooks because they are inexpensive and easy to get. But it has taken billions of dollars and years of research, plus American business and scientific ingenuity to produce that scoop of ice cream or that malted milk.

And it takes 4-H Club members to tell their friends and neighbors of the nutritional value of dairy foods and how to make appetizing meals and snacks.

The national 4-H dairy foods program, which was primarily a demonstration project, now includes more exploration into "why dairy foods are essential to growth and health, and 'how' the rich content of vitamin A, protein, calcium and other elements can best be utilized.

Its sponsor, the Carnation Company, encourages young people to make the project outstanding by offering incentive awards.

Said a Carnation spokesman: "In the rapid pace of today's eat-and-run living, we must not lose sight of the vital importance of dairy foods in our daily meals."

He went on to say that the current 4-H program has been broadened to highlight more of the scientific developments in the preparation and safe handling of well-known and new dairy products.

The demonstration of making a dairy dish or drink is still high on the list of things to do. The planning, practicing and presentation develops in the younger self-confidence, poise and ability to think and talk before an audience, say 4-H Club leaders and extension agents who work with the girls and boys.

For members who qualify, there are four different awards: medals for county winners; a handsome engraved wrist watch for the state winner, six $500 college scholarships (an increase of $100) for national champions. Educational literature for both local leaders and members is provided free.

This year six sectional awards have been added, making a total of 18 expense-paid trips to the National 4-H Club Congress. All will be guests of Carnation at the annual 4-H dairy foods banquet held during the congress, Dec. 1-5, at Chicago, Illinois.

Water Supplies Still Excellent, Problems Will Be Small Ones

With summer just starting, the Elizabethtown Water Co. had good news for its customers today: water supplies are excellent; there are no difficulties ahead and customers can use all the water they want.

According to chief engineer Chester A. Ring, 3rd, the company's facilities are all in top condition and several new units added since last summer will provide an even greater margin of supply over demand for days that lie ahead.

Ring said the cleaning and cement lining of Elizabethtown's big 36-inch transmission main from Bound Brook to Linden would "increase considerably the amount of water that can be moved in that direction."

Elizabethtown is also putting into operation next week a new 10,000,000 tank at Oak Tree in Edison which will greatly increase storage facilities. The new steel tank is one of the largest water storage units in the United States.

Water supplies, both from the company's wells and from surface waters, are in good shape, Ring said.

Although several new load records were set during 1962, there were no difficulties and no shortages of water were reported at any time last year, Ring said. "We are confident that we can maintain similar service this summer," he said.

In 1962, peak demand occurred on July 11 when 85.2 million gallons were sent into the pipelines, compared with a peak of 81 million gallons in 1961. In the early evening hours of July 11, 1962, a peak flow at the rate of 135.7 million gallons daily was registered. During the May-August period last year, total water pumped was 770 million gallons higher than in 1961, an increase of almost 10 percent.

Elizabethtown Water serves 27 communities from Union to Somerville and serves six others on a wholesale basis. The company, which has served this area since 1854, also operates the Princeton Water Co. in Princeton.

Union County Net Tourney Continues

The Union County Ladder Tennis Tournament is now under way at the Warinanco Park Tennis Courts. It was announced today by George T. Cron, superintendent of recreation for the Union County Park Commission.

The tournament is open to all men residing in Union County. Matches will be assigned weekly to each player until August 24. There will be a men's singles division and a men's doubles division.

The names are placed on the ladder in the order they are received and each player can advance up the ladder as matches are won. Applications are now available at the Warinanco Park Tennis Courts.

Philadelphia-born Marlan Anderson recently was given an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree by Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital. It was her 25th honorary degree.

W. Ruban Appointed District Director By Regional Board

Warren C. Ruban, 49 1/2 623 S. Springfield Ave., Springfield, a native of that community has accepted appointment as director of maintenance and operations for the Union County Regional High School District presently involving the Governor Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights, the A.L. Johnson Regional High School, Clark, and the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield. Dr. Warren M. Davis, superintendent, reported the action.

Ruban has been president for three years of the Springfield Volunteer Fire Department. In recent years he has been head custodian of the A.L. Johnson school. He will begin his new duties July 1.

Ruban will succeed Edmund Frey, 63, of 291 Summit Road, Mountside, who will retire July 1 after 26 years of service as the only superintendent of buildings and grounds the district has had to date. The board changed the title when it named Ruban.

Frey, a former member of the Mountside Board of Education, was a member of the original committee that formed the Regional District in 1933. He later was one of the first members of the Regional Board of Education.

George Wirth, who has been fire custodian at the Johnson School, will succeed Ruban as head custodian at the Johnson building.

Custom-made pool covers to fit any size pool are being made in a polyethylene fabric for in and out-of-season use by pool owners. The netting-like fabric is designed for exposure to sun and water. Collins and Alkman, Albemarle, N.C.

Goerke Sponsors Shakespeare Play

The R. J. Goerke Company, of Elizabeth and Plainfield, will sponsor the outdoor productions of Shakespeare's comedy "The Taming of the Shrew," which will be presented in the Union County Park system this season.

The Shakespearean play will take place on a lawn area behind the park commission's administration building in Warrinanco Park, Elizabeth and Roselle, on Friday, July 26 and Saturday, July 27 at 8:15 p.m. each evening.

The same comedy will also be played on the lawn area adjoining the Shakespearean Garden in Cedar Brook Park, Plainfield, on Friday, August 9 and Saturday, August 10, also at 8:15 p.m. each evening.

Bleachers will be set up for the audience and admission is free. The productions will be presented by the Woodbridge Summer Drama Festival and are now in rehearsal under the direction of Henry W. Glass of Westfield. Mr. Glass also directed the Shakespearean plays which were presented in the county parks in 1961 and 1962. In 1961 "As You Like It" was presented and because of the success of the play, two shows were presented in 1962. "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and "Romeo and Juliet" were played to "standing room only" audiences in Warrinanco and Cedar Brook Parks.

These programs were also made possible through the joint efforts of the R. J. Goerke Company and the Union County Park Commission.

Jerseymen Invited To Help Compose Tercentenary Song

All Jerseymen were invited by Governor Richard J. Hughes recently to help write a New Jersey song for its 80th birthday celebration in 1964.

Governor Hughes said that a New Jersey Tercentenary Song Competition is being held among all amateur and professional writers in the State and that the winning song, through use and general acceptance, may become the official New Jersey State Song.

The Tercentenary Song Competition will be held in two stages: Stage I will be for words only with faculty members of the English Department at Montclair State College judging; Stage II will be to set the winning lyrics to music with faculty members of Westminster College, Princeton, selecting the winners. It was Dr. Lee H. Bristol, Jr., President of Westminster Choir College and a member of the Tercentenary Commission's Advisory Performing Arts Committee, who suggested that a two-stage competition be conducted; he said this procedure might produce both words and music of a higher caliber than have past competitions.

Deadline for submitting Stage I entries is August 31, 1963. Any number of lyrics may be submitted by each entrant but they should be "new" in the sense that they have not been previously published. Entries in the first stage should be lyrics only, not music.

Winners of Stage I will be announced by October 15, 1963; they will be selected anonymously by a Jury of Awards consisting of faculty members at Montclair State College. Harold C. Bohn, Chairman of the English Department, will head the Jury; other faculty members on the Jury are: John A. Almqvist, Steven C. L. Earley, Margaret P. Peterbend, Beatrice Hanson, Russell Krauss, Charles I. Leavitt, Morris G. McGee, James P. Pettegrove, Herbert E. Reaske, John P. Roberts and Frederick H. Young.

Winning lyrics will be reproduced and made available upon request to all who wish to enter the second stage of the Competition that will be for music only.

Conditions of entry and judgment may be obtained by writing to: Tercentenary Song Competition, New Jersey Tercentenary Commission, State House, Trenton.

NJA Club Urges Travelers Check On Immunizations

If you're planning a trip abroad, make a careful check on the immunizations you will need for the areas in which you are to travel. Advises the New Jersey Automobile Club 9-2440.

"This becomes increasingly important in these days of typhoid and shingles, and George Schofield, International Travel Director, and especially when Amtrak's air service turns more and more into new areas where disease may be prevalent."

He noted that American travelers' care requirements in these small-pox vaccination requirements entering the United States. Failure to have the vaccination can lead to delay of departure, possibly a period spent in quarantine and a fine for violation.

"Special immunizations are urged for certain areas," he declared. "Cholera shots, for example, are recommended for travel in Thailand and Pakistan. Yellow fever inoculations are suggested for travel in some jungle areas."

Schofield urged the traveler to check with his physician with the U.S. Public Health Service for immunizations recommended for specific areas. The Public Health Service has a series of folders giving detailed advice about healthful travel in various parts of the world.

Fischer Now Stands Alone As Adult Loop Leader

Travel Agency 9 Still Undefeated

After the conclusion of the fifth week of competition in the Springfield Adult Softball League, Fischer Bros. Travel Bureau stands alone at the top of the standings, as the remaining undefeated team.

Fischer Bros. Travel maintained their unblemished record by taking the measure of Morris Avenue Sinclair by the score of 14-5. The Fischer team hit well throughout this game and as a result over-powered the Sinclair team.

Katz handed Wesley Jewlers their first defeat of the season by downing them 4-3 in a very closely played ball game. This was a game lacking in hitting and few runs were produced by either side. The game saw Katz take an early 4-1 lead and held this margin until the final inning. In the last inning Wesley challenged but their rally fell one marker short and they tasted defeat for the first time this season. Bob Robous, Katz pitcher, held the Wesley team to a scattered 6 hits throughout the game and was particularly effective in the final inning when the Jewlers loaded the bases. Leslie Cohen contributed two hits to the Katz victory, while Herb Krablat connected for a triple. The lone hitting star for the Jewlers was John Jornd, who collected 3 hits and scored 2 runs.

The Muller Jaycees rebounding from a defeat the prior week took the measure of the Publication Printers by the score of 15-7. Felix Lafond celebrated his return to the league by leading the Jaycees' attack. Felix cracked out 4 hits including two long home-runs. This was La Fond's first game since being sidelined with a severe leg break in last year's play. WEL-COME BACK FELIX! Gabe De Paio and Ted Sorrente, the key-stone combination, also shared in the Jaycees attack by gaining three hits apiece. One of Ted's hits was a booming home-run. Ken Lancaster, who hurled a no-hitter for 5 innings, was credited with the victory for Muller. Vin Palaia picked a few hits in the late innings for the Publisher's team.

Ehrhardt Electronics won and gained a tie for third place in the league standing. The Ehrhardt team downed A.R. Meeker Co. by the score of 11-5. Billy Ehrhardt lead the way for the victors with 4 hits. Ron Gocher, of Davron Studio fame, also contributed heavily to the attack as he belted out a long home-run. Other outstanding performers in this winning cause were Lou Sancelone and pitcher Stan Cornfield. Cornfield, one of last year's leading pitchers, has regained his form of the past season and has been quieting the bats of the opposition of late.

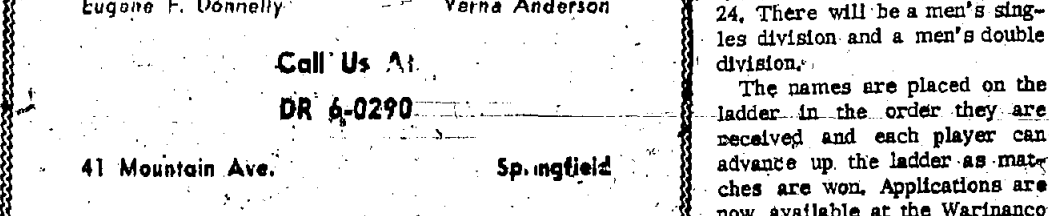

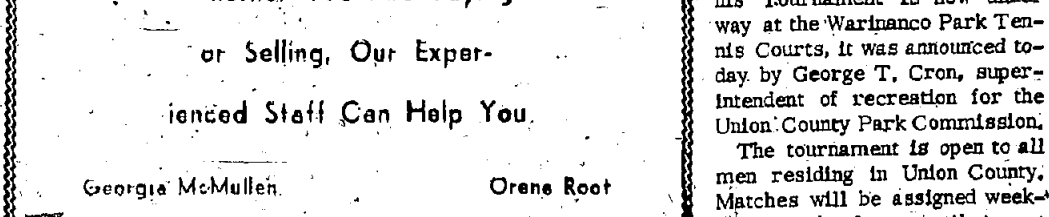

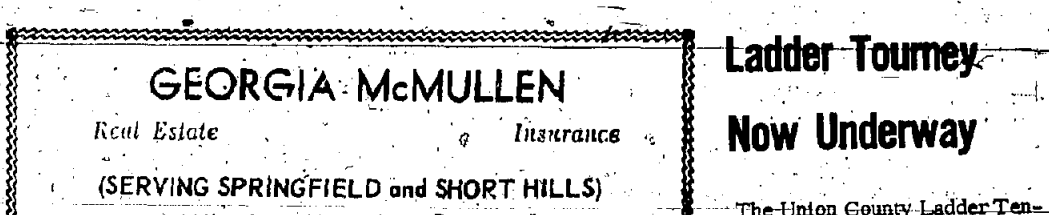

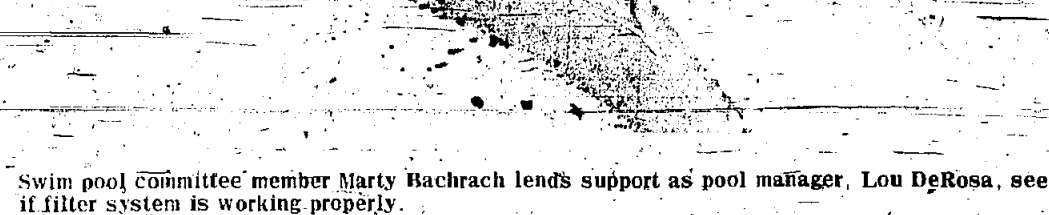

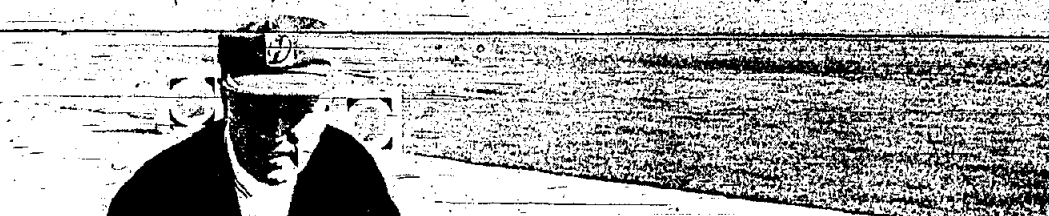

Springfield Travel Service continued its winning ways by defeating Holly Hill Builders by the score of 12-2. Again leading the Travel Service attack were: Norb Wroblewski, Vin Caprio, Sam Calabresse, and Jim Crowley. Springfield Travel Service, a door-mat last season and continue to remain near the top in the league standing.

A full schedule of games is planned for this Sunday, June 28, at the Washington Avenue, Meisel Avenue, and Sandmeier School Fields.

The opening game of the World Series was played on Thursday with a strong Elkay team, led by Bob Vaughn, Matty Eaton, Keith and Scott Prussing, Eddie Brueck and Gary Gleim, Walloping Nyllic, 13-4. Nyllic put up a good fight for two-innings, with Pete Stoke and Bob Nockerson hitting and pitching the American Leaders to a 2-2 tie.

The second game and third, if necessary, were played Monday and Tuesday of this week. The annual picnic was held yesterday night when the awards were given to the winning team.

Lies Hurls Way In Motor Triumph

Morris Ave., Motors beat Haydu 13 to 4 behind the fine pitching of Dennis Lies. Big guns for the Motor team were Frank Haydu, Bobby Belliveau and Glen Cole. Stu Falkin pitched good ball for the losers, but the Morris-Ave., power was too much for his defense. Falkin and Randy Sarokin were the guns for the Haydu team.

On Friday, Motors topped Channel 13 to 5 behind Glen Cole's pitching. Frank Haydu had two doubles and a single, while Bobby Belliveau slammed a home run. Defensive stars were Kent Campkins, Belliveau, Steve Hartz, Danny Ginter and Denny Lies. Harold Hansen and Billy Hrank hurled well for the victims, and Joe Jupa had a home run.

Angleton downed Motors on Saturday, behind the hurling of Bobby Blythe and Ronald Azarowitz. Blythe and Cesaur Brown powered the Angletons to their win. Hartz, Ginter and Lies starred in the losing cause.

Wednesday saw Channel remove all championship hopes by the Elks, by downing them 17 to 3. Jupa pitched a good game and drove in five runs with timely hits. Steve Rosenthal, Hansen and Tom Swan also starred for the winners.

The Elks rebounded from their loss by beating Haydu 7 to 1, behind the two hit pitching of Bobby Garland. Garland helped his own cause with two hits, and Mark Mueller and Dick Scalon also excelled for the winners.

Jayne Club Rolls To Major's Title

The last week of the Springfield Youth Major League season saw Jayne roll to its fifth and sixth consecutive victories, thereby wrapping up the championship. American Legion and Rotary, the teams that ended the season in a tie for second, were able to win only two of their last six games each, while Jayne was compiling its six game winning streak. P.B.A. also ran into trouble during the late stage of the season, winning only one of its last six games.

Crestmont and the Lions showed late strength, the Bankers taking four of six, and the Lions three of six. Crestmont's strong finish enabled it to tie the P.B.A. for fourth place in the final standings.

The managers, coaches and players voted the Baltusrol Sportsmanship Award for the Youth Major League to David Cohen of the Lions. David will receive a trophy presented by the Baltusrol Golf Club. Trophies will also go to all personnel of the Jayne team and to Jayne Motor Freight, the sponsor of the champions.

Fifty-two players of the Youth Major League completed their eligibility this season, and will move up to the Babe Ruth League next year. Boys from the Youth Minor League who aspire to fill the vacancies in the League next season are urged to participate in the baseball program this summer that will be sponsored by the Springfield Recreation Commission. Details of this program will be announced shortly.

Lions Clobber Park Drug 9 Before Crowd

After two play-off games with the tough PARK DRUGS team, the LIONS CLUB battered its way to a decisive 8 to 1 triumph over that team last Monday night, before a large gathering of parents.

For the LIONS CLUB, it was by far the best team game of the season. Jeff Hitchings, pitching his final game in the Babe Ruth League, limited PARK DRUG to four hits and one run. He was backed by the brilliant catching of Pete Davenport and a solid defense, both in the infield and out-field.

In the hitting department, second baseman Rich Mayer, blasted one of the longest home runs seen all season, and "Chuck" Bontempo aside from his usual hitting, made excellent defensive catches in centerfield. Al Silverman at short Steve Squirlock at third, and Craig Matice at first turn in first rate defensive jobs, giving nothing to the opposition.

A tribute to PARK DRUGS team can be seen in the fact that it took three straight games.

KAY WEINER WITH HOME EXHIBIT

Kay Weiner Surprise Drill Held Exhibits Art At Swim Club At John Runnells Hospital, B. Hts.

Kay Weiner, of Mountainside, has the distinct pleasure of breaking mirrors on purpose. And since her husband, Herbert, is in the glass and mirror business in New York, she can afford to weld her little hammer and let the pieces fall where they may.

This attractive young artist, mother of three children, Debbie, 8, who attends Beachwood, Laura, 6, who attends Deerfield school, and Brad, age 3, finds the time to teach 120 women the art of adult crafts and creations at the Spring Garden Swim Club at Florham Park.

Her classes consist of glass fusing, ceramics, mosaics, clay work, broken mirrors, colored cement, shell collages, etc.

It was a distinct pleasure for this Springfield SUN, Mountainside ECHO reporter to interview Mrs. Weiner in her home, and to see the beautiful displays consisting of copper enameling, seed mosaics, art work of rocks, gravel, peas beans and rice, burlap, linen, etc. She has created lovely jewelry, dishes, wharpoons, etc., and her studios filled with all kinds of creative work.

A "Surprise Operation Alert" was called at the John E. Runnells Hospital for Chest Diseases, Berkeley Heights, N.J., on Thursday, June 20, 1963, at 10:00 a.m. The simulated disaster was a bus and ambulance accident near the Hospital area. The purpose of the unannounced alert was to gauge the reaction of the hospital staff. Complete secrecy as to date and time was maintained. Thirteen members of the Evening Membership Department of the Berkeley Heights Woman's Club served as "casualties". They were transported from the scene of the disaster to John E. Runnells Hospital by hospital vehicles and Red Cross station wagons. Red Cross personnel from Summit and Plainfield participated in the drill.

Mrs. Helen Sinclair was the driver of the Plainfield station wagon and Colonel Ray A. Tarr, Executive Director of the Summit Red Cross, provided the Summit station wagon. Mrs. Sara Lucas of Berkeley Heights, County Red Cross Coordinator for Runnells Hospital arranged for the pick-up of victims of the crash. The thirteen casualties, spaced along Valley Road, Watchung, were picked up by Red Cross and Hospital vehicles and brought to a central emergency treatment and dispersal station on the Hospital grounds.

From this checkpoint the Hospital doctors, nurses and emergency personnel quickly moved the would-be patients to the Hospital Auditorium. This second stage holding area was also staffed by doctors and nurses in order that the initial receiving point would not become overcrowded with incoming casualties and already treated victims. From here casualties would be moved to a permanent treatment area. The exercise terminated at 11:05 a.m. This is the third disaster alert drill to be held at the hospital. The semi-annual drills are a requisite for hospital accreditation.

Each drill presents a different problem to the hospital staff and adds to their knowledge and experience. The hospital administration expressed satisfaction with the manner in which all personnel responded to this surprise alert.

Exterminators Urge Mosquito Control

The Union County Mosquito Extermination Commission wishes to emphasize strongly the important part that all residents of the county can play in the mosquito control operations this summer.

At this time of the year, the house mosquito is laying her eggs in any kind of standing water that she can find.

It is up to each homeowner to make sure that there is no standing water available for this egg-laying operation.

It is important to check wheelbarrows, trash cans, rain gutters, rubber tires, pails for other metal containers, swimming pools, row boats or out-board motorboats standing in a yard for any length of time without being covered, and low areas in a yard that will hold water for some time after a rain. These are all excellent breeding places for the house mosquito.

Robert W. Helm, Superintendent of the Mosquito Extermination Commission of the county, states that by taking a few moments once a week to check these breeding places, the residents of Union County can add greatly to their personal comfort.

Elizabethtown Water Says Water Supplies Excellent

With summer just starting, the Elizabethtown Water Co. had good news for its customers today: water supplies are excellent, there are no difficulties ahead and customers can use all the water they want.

According to chief engineer, Chester A. Ring, 3rd, the company's facilities are all in top condition and several new units added since last summer will provide an even greater margin of supply over demand on the hot, sticky days that lie ahead.

Ring said the cleaning and cement-lining of Elizabethtown's big 36 inch transmission main from Bound Brook to Linden would "increase considerably the amount of water that can be moved in that direction."

Elizabethtown is also putting into operation next week a new 10,000,000 tank at Oak Tree in Edison, which will greatly increase considerably the amount of water that can be moved in that direction.

Elizabethtown is also putting into operation next week a new 10,000,000 tank at Oak Tree in Edison which will greatly increase considerably the amount of water that can be moved in that direction.

Edison which will greatly increase storage facilities. The new 100 million gallon tank is one of the largest water storage units in the United States.

Water supplies, both from the company's wells and from surface waters, are in good shape, Ring said.

Although several new lead records were set during 1962, there were no difficulties and no shortages of water were reported at any time last year, Ring said. "We are confident that we can maintain similar service this summer," he said.

In 1962, peak demand occurred on July 11 when 85.2 million gallons were sent into the pipelines, compared with a peak of 81 million gallons in 1961. In the early evening hours of July 11, 1962, a peak flow at the rate of 135.7 million gallons daily was registered. During the May-August period last year, total water pumped was 770 million gallons higher than in 1961, an increase of almost 10 percent.

Elizabethtown Water serves 27 communities from Union to Summitville and serves six others on a wholesale basis. The company, which has served this area since 1854, also operates the Princeton Water Co. in Princeton, N.J.

First Exhibit Mrs. Weiner displayed her first exclusive exhibit over the weekend at the Spring Garden Swim Club, where over 70 pieces of her works of painting and art objects were enjoyed. Although she had presented her works on exhibition with other displays, this is her first prize showing.

Kay Weiner has a fine background as an artist and decorator. She attended the University of Southern California majoring in interior decorating. She studied at a mosaic studio in California, the Crafts Students League in New York, and is presently studying under Joe and Christine Loeber at the Summit Art Center. Some of her work has been on display in New Jersey shops.

When asked if her husband, Herbert, is interested in her work, she quickly replied, "Oh, yes. I couldn't do without him. He makes all my frames. Besides encouraging me, does all the dirty work."

Needless to say, her 120 students from all over this part of New Jersey, are quite proud of their teacher, and her fine display this past Saturday and Sunday.

Summit Red Cross Helping The Blind

During the past year the Summit Area Chapter of the Red Cross working for the N.J. State Commission for the Blind has recorded 13 books which are being used by blind high school and college students in their course of study. The books cover a wide range of subjects from Biology to English Literature, Government, etc.

Among the volunteer readers who come to headquarters once a week on schedule, are several young mothers who read while their children are at school. Each week a reader will generally record both sides of two discs. This year 697 discs were recorded and 19 reels of tape.

Two emergencies were met this winter when one student required a special textbook immediately. Mrs. E.S. Willis of 10 Hickory Road, Chairman of the program, set aside everything on her calendar in order to record the entire book in four days.

Another crisis was the immediate need of a geology book for a Rutgers student in order that he might start the course with his classmates. Mr. Harry Dampman, of Lavilla Court, N.P., recorded the five hundred page book in 3 weeks. The students received the first recorded tape 24 hours after the readers received the book to record.

NIELSENS TO SAIL

Township Will Be Losing Popular Residents

Mrs. Nielsen, Ellen and Mr. Nielsen pack for their move to Denmark.

One of Springfield's most prominent families will leave July 19 to make their home in Copenhagen, Denmark.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Nielsen and daughter, Ellen, 20, 36 Clifton Ave., will sail on the "Stavanger" for Mr. Nielsen's home in Denmark.

They will be making the acquaintance of their new grandchildren, the son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Binau of Copenhagen. Mrs. Binau is the former Mrs. Nielsen of Springfield. Her husband will be a change student here. She is a graduate of Jonathan Day Regional High School.

Mr. Nielsen's mother, one of the happiest to welcome the Springfields to Copenhagen. She will celebrate her 93rd birthday anniversary in August. Mr. Nielsen has many relatives in Denmark. Mrs. Nielsen's parents also had a number of relatives there.

The Nielsens have resided in Springfield for the past 16 years, during which time they have led active and useful lives as part of this community. Mr. Nielsen, an electrical contractor, is a former past commander of the American Legion Post 147. Mrs. Nielsen has been active in the American Legion Auxiliary. Both have been quite active in the Danish Folk Dance Group here. Mrs. Nielsen has been a member of the Danish Sisterhood, and Mr. Nielsen with the Danish Brotherhood. The family attends Holy Cross Lutheran Church.

Their daughter, Ellen, is an honor student at Jonathan Day Regional High School, where she has completed her freshman year.

Nielsen Are Given A Farewell Party By Church Group

Mr. & Mrs. Hans Nielsen who are leaving Springfield in July to reside in Denmark, were given a surprise farewell party at the regular monthly meeting of Holy Cross Lutheran Church Couples Club which met at the home of Mr. & Mrs. John Haselmann, 37 Meisel Ave. on Sunday night, June 23rd.

Members present included Mrs. Edith Holmberg, Kipling Ave. Springfield, Mr. Hal Alsd, Murray Hill, Mr. Art Boehm, Summit, Mr. & Mrs. Ed. Casey, Mr. & Mrs. D. Cline and Mr. & Mrs. Lester Luetecker, Chatham, and the Rev. & Mrs. Lester Messerschmidt.

The Nielsens were presented with silver bowl inscribed as a remembrance of their happy association with the Couples Club.

Reports On Wage Data

Eric, the only boy in the family, is a graduate of the Springfield High School and is currently employed by the Home Delivery Service in Springfield. Eric is undecided whether to go to Denmark with his family now or wait until a later date to join them.

Recently, the Nielsens took part in the celebration honoring Mayor Urban Hanson of Copenhagen, who was a visitor in this city. They turned out with flags for the occasion, attended a party in the Denmark office in honor, and their daughter, Ellen, dressed in national costume, presented a basket of fruit to Mayor Hanson.

Last Thursday evening, known as "Hans Nielsen Night" at Legion Hall, when a large group of honorees gathered to part past commander of the Legion Auxiliary will attend a similar honor to Mrs. Nielsen, the occasion to be known as "Florence Nielsen Night."

Bill W. Jones, 811 S. 1st St., Springfield, has received a report from the Internal Revenue Service regarding the reporting requirements for the third quarter of 1963. The report states that the tax return must be filed by the 15th day of the month following the calendar quarter in which the wages are paid. To be correct, the return must show the employee's name, social security account number, and the total wages.

Getting the correct name and account number from the employee is the responsibility of the employer. If the employer does not have this information, it is the employer's responsibility to obtain it. The report also states that the employer must file the return with the Internal Revenue Service by the 15th day of the month following the calendar quarter in which the wages are paid.

When an employee is paid less than $50 in cash wages during the calendar quarter, another is where a son or daughter employs a parent. The third exception is where a parent employs a son or daughter under age 21. Amounts paid in these cases are not covered under social security and should not be reported. Jones added that his office is always glad to furnish information on reporting requirements, as well as forms for the initial report. Subsequent forms are furnished automatically by the Internal Revenue Service with reports and tax remittances already made to that agency. For further information, call at phone or write the Elizabeth Internal Security District Office, 208 North Broad Street. The telephone number is 351-3200.

New College Planned By N.J. School

Fairleigh S. Dickinson of the Board of Trustees of Fairleigh Dickinson University announces that Edward Williams College, a two-year college affiliated with Fairleigh Dickinson University, will be established at University Park, Hackensack, N.J., across the river from the Teaneck campus. The college will have its own classroom building, designed by Roland A. Wark, architect, of the office of Fellheimer and Wagner. The college will use the library and athletic facilities of the university.

Three quarters of a million dollars will be given by Mr. Dickinson and his mother for the new building.

Plans are under way for the first class, of 100 students, to be admitted for the semester beginning in the fall of 1964. Maximum enrollment will be 400. Edward Williams College will offer a liberal arts program, it will be an autonomous unit, free to develop its own experimental programs, but, as an affiliated school of Fairleigh Dickinson University, it will enjoy all the benefits incident to such a connection. Its students will have contact with the faculty of the university and with many outstanding men and women who visit the university.

The new college will have as its primary function the development of the capacities of the students for intellectual and social leadership. By regarding the student as a member of an intelligent, cooperating group made up of students and faculty, the college will try to help him fit himself for the responsibilities and privileges of his personal, civic and academic life. The college will endeavor to utilize whatever the student has already developed by way of initiative, resourcefulness and originality in the realization of his academic objectives.

The faculty of Edward Williams College will be deeply concerned that all students should become thoroughly aware of what is happening in contemporary society, both for the sake of their own insight and that they may be able better to interpret the changing social scene to others. Students will be encouraged to take a firm stand against both unreflective rushing into social and political action, on the one hand, and sideline isolation on the other.

It is the plan to make experiences at Edward Williams College co-extensive with life. The curriculum will be organized with reference to that group of persistent problems which is inescapable in the life of every individual.

Propaganda Has Many Advantages

is currently the most popular singer in the field, that many of them have blacklisted the TV show Flotemany in retaliation for its blacklisting of Seeger.

"ALL I WANT to do is sing John Henry," commented Seeger recently in disgust over his blacklisting. "not start a socialist rally or sing communist songs."

Afraid of destroying its image in the world, this country's propagandists are doing exactly that by suppressing Pete Seeger—whose freedom to criticize could be extolled as a democratic virtue.

They are also suppressing a great artist and depriving him of his audience. Whether or not Pete Seeger is a socialist, pinko or communist, he is still a great folk singer and deserves to be heard.

Kozub's Work Is Rewarded At Pool Site

has been with the project since the first week in March, when clearing of the land began. His work has involved inspections, layout such as staking of property to indicate building locations, expediting and co-ordinating the work program.

He points out that it was quite a job just getting the contractors to get together. "With eight contractors working on a job, they just naturally ran into one another," he added.

Actual design of the project was done by Spar Inc. of Livingston, architect and pool consultants. According to their contract, their concern will still be available for recreation and pool management matters.

Among the various temporary snags the engineer encountered during construction were underground problems in excavating the area. Old fill, involving large stumps and concrete blocks, had been dumped into the land over the years. The location had been filled in about 15 years ago or so when work was being done on the Garden State Parkway, he explained. One minor problem of drainage was quickly handled by digging a ditch, it was said.

Other little problems arose, one on top of another, but to mention them would be superfluous, the engineer said.

Ironically, the past couple of weeks have been the roughest as far as Engineer Kozub is concerned. In the beginning it was easy to see progress with the location constantly in change. These past few weeks, however, have been devoted to cleaning up and tying up of "loose ends" and it seems as if nothing is being accomplished, he stated.

After Saturday, the project is then all up to the Recreation Department, Engineer Kozub declared. It will then be that department's job to maintain and keep it in shape. Only occasion for the township engineer to be called in on the scene would be in connection with possibly some new improvement at the location such as paving a parking lot or curbing a parking area, he said.

"And after Saturday they can have it," Engineer Kozub said with a smile.

Mr. Kozub readily admits that the pool project has been his biggest job since taking over the reins of township engineer last summer.

However, since coming to Springfield in 1955 as assistant township engineer he had worked closely with former Township Engineer Alfred E. Swenson. When Mr. Swenson retired in April, 1962, Mr. Kozub was ready.

This latest duty also helps to prepare the engineer for other big things ahead: namely, the ponderous engineering task in connection with the proposed state highway roads coming through the township in the near future.

Participation in all this outdoor activity has made one thing quite obvious: the township engineer has already beaten all the Springfielders to a beautiful sun tan!!!!

Superintendent Frey Retiring After 26 Years At Regional

ed a "litter lifter." There are roughly 30 pieces of mobile equipment distributed throughout the three schools in the district to keep things "ship-shape."

During his term of employment, Mr. Frey recalls several tense moments caused by terrific storms and especially vividly remembers one back in 1947. It began with a snow storm and was followed by an ice storm knocking out all the power at Jonathan Dayton except one line. With this he was able to hook up a temporary, small motor to keep the coal stoker working, thus preventing a possible serious freeze-up. This particular storm was just after Christmas vacation and caused the school to be closed another week, he added.

One of his most cherished memories is having the class of 1947 - 10 years after the school was opened - dedicate its year book in his honor.

Another happy experience was the retirement dinner the Regional school board just tendered him June 11th at Stouffer's Restaurant, Short Hills. Thirty-two persons including board members, school officials, and wives attended. Members presented him a gift certificate on the occasion.

The board also honored him at a recent business meeting by passing a resolution "in gratitude of a lifetime of work expended in the cause of good education for the youth of this district."

The resolution expressed the hope that Mr. Frey and those who are near to him enjoy full measure a long and well-earned retirement. It cited the fact that the superintendent "has constantly and with single purpose worked for the good of the regional district and his specialized knowledge and abilities have been applied to the on-going success of the district and to task or duty assigned to him—has been diligent and conscientious in his efforts to carry through successfully to completion and in the various phases of his duties in the district he has been associated with the regional schools for a longer span of years than any other person."

The resolution was ordered spread upon the board minutes and a copy given to the retiring employee.

The future means "teaching chair retirement" if Mr. Frey lets his say. He announced the former Marlboro Mayor of Westfield who celebrated their 42 anniversary June 22 and have always done things together, are right now head-over-heels in the study of rocks and minerals.

This hobby took precedent over fishing for them ten years ago, and they have been at it ever since. Mr. Frey captured a so-cond prize after collecting only two months, and they have since frequented mines and quarries all over New Jersey and in Pennsylvania, New York State, and Maine. At Mt. Norway, Me., they walked one mile and went up 2,000 feet.

"This is not a sissy hobby," Mr. Frey is the first to emphasize. It is hard work breaking rocks apart and not without its hazards.

European Linen Still Popular Among Fashionable Americans

Linen is riding the crest of popularity as a fabric of the season.

Even though the United States produces many fine fabrics, most of the linen used today is made in Ireland or Belgium.

The climatic conditions that exist in Europe are more favorable for finer flax production than in the United States. The art of weaving the flax into fabric is a craft that is proudly passed down by European families through the centuries.

One of the most familiar terms is that of Irish linen. About half of all the piece goods and three-fourths of the damaskable linens come from Ireland.

The fine reputation of Irish linen rests on the painstaking skill of expert weaving. The label "Made in Ireland" is assurance of a good quality product.

Belgium linen is also famous as a fine product, too. Belgium soil and climate are good for raising fine flax.

Most of the novelty-weave linens, such as heavy-textured-to-sheer casement draperies and slip covers, are made in Belgium. Like Ireland, Belgium produces fine dress fabrics, too.

The term "Imported linen" may be either an Irish or Belgium product. The country of origin is not designated if the fabric has been printed, embroidered or finished elsewhere. A well-known example is "Madeira linen." This has been woven in either Belgium or Ireland, then finished or embroidered in Portugal.

When buying linen either by the garment or by the yard, quality is always determined by its "hand" or feel. Soft linens are rated higher than stiff ones. Many imitations of pure linen are available. Such materials may be called "Linen or Linon" or by other names that sound like linen. Usually these fabrics contain little, if any, real linen.

LIKE FAIRY TALE

Huckleberry Experiments Led To Present Success

It reads like a fairy tale—the cultivation of the luscious giant blueberries from little wild swamp huckleberries.

About fifty years ago, the United States Department of Agriculture sent out many helpful bulletins under the prosy title of "Experiments in Blueberry Culture."

One of these fell into the pioneering hands of Elizabeth White, who with her father, cultivated and marketed cranberries. The Whites had often discussed the possibility of cultivating for market wild swamp huckleberries that grew around the margin of their cranberry bogs.

Women can dream and Elizabeth White did—of large rich and juicy berries. The little bulletin pointed the way from dream to talk to achievement.

After exciting, joyous, painstaking years of experiment with guidance from Federal researchers, the modern blueberry was developed.

From White's bog the cultivation of blueberries has spread from New Jersey to certain sections in Michigan and North Carolina where soil and climatic conditions are favorable. In these three states, a blueberry growers association protects cultivated blueberries from the bush to your kitchen.

SUSAN C. WHITE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex White, of 15 Kipling Ave., has been awarded a $300.00 scholarship by the University of Rhode Island. Susan is entering the University in September and will major in chemistry. She received a Letter of Commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Corp.

Susan is a graduate of St. James School, Springfield, and Archbishop Walsh High School, Irvington.

Regina Company Perfects Brush For Housewives

The Regina Corporation, which in 1929 produced the first twin-brush floor polisher, today announced another major development in home floor care—a "flo-thru" scrubbing brush which carries cleaning agent directly to the floor area being cleaned.

The new brush is scheduled to bow at the July National Housewares Manufacturers Show, according to Regina's manager of marketing, Earl W. Setz.

Designed to work in conjunction with Regina's internal, gravity-feed dispenser, the new scrubbing brush has a slotted back which allows through-the-brush cleaning action. This means detergent solution is fed directly to the area being cleaned giving longer-lasting results and virtually eliminating splashing on walls and baseboards.

Mr. Setz pointed out that the new scrubbing brush will become standard equipment on polisher models R4-1, R6-1 and R510-1. In addition, it can be used with all other Regina polishers equipped with the gravity-feed dispenser.

Metropolitan Businessmen Ask For Waterfront Study

A group of New Jersey and New York officials and businessmen on June 20 urged Congress to appropriate $95,000 for a study this year of a proposed Port-wide waterfront cleanup project.

The study, which would be made by the United States Army Corps of Engineers, would determine the feasibility of broadening the Corps' present drift collection program to include removal of derelict piers, abandoned scows and other debris from the New Jersey and New York shores of the world's greatest port.

Representative John M. Murphy, whose district includes Staten Island and a part of Brooklyn, headed a delegation which presented testimony before the Appropriations Committee of the House of Representatives. Representative Murphy also appeared on behalf of Representative Charles A. Buckley of The Bronx, Chairman of the House Public Works Committee, which has responsibility for authorizing the civil works programs of the Corps of Engineers.

Senator Harrison A. Williams Jr., of New Jersey headed a similar group appearing before the Senate Appropriations Committee on June 21.

Those appearing before the two committees included Representative Florence P. Dwyer of Elizabeth, New Jersey; Leonard N. Cohen, Deputy Commissioner of the New York City Department of Marine and Aviation, representing Mayor Robert F. Wagner; Kenneth H. Creveling, Director of the Division of Resource Development of the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Economic Development; and Francis J. Barry, Chairman of the New York State Chamber of Commerce Committee on the Harbor and Shipping, The Port of New York Authority, which initiated the proposal, was represented by its Acting Director of Port Development, Hayden B. Johnson.

The Port cleanup project would reduce navigational hazards and damage to shipping estimated by the Port Authority at over $8,000,000 annually. The 4,000 commercial harbor craft serving the Port of New York suffer about $2,000,000 in annual damages to hulls, rudders and propellers, and another $2,000,000 in increased insurance premiums and loss of operating time, as a result of floating debris. Last year some 5,000 of the 200,000 pleasure boats in the port incurred damage by collision with drift, at a total direct and indirect cost of over $4,000,000.

As a by-product, the cleanup project would greatly improve the appearance of the ocean gateway to the United States.

The Corps of Engineers now carries on a program of driftwood collection from the harbor waters and channels, which cost $453,879 in fiscal 1961 alone for collection of over one-half million cubic feet of driftwood. The existing program, however, does not extend to the removal of the source of the serious debris problem. As long as derelict piers and waterfront structures, and deteriorating wrecks are permitted to remain in various parts of the harbor, debris will continue to find its way into the navigational channels.

P.G. Petrelis One Of Many Bell Graduates

Peter G. Petrelis of 281 River Bend Rd., Berkeley Heights, was one of 140 young Bell Telephone Laboratories engineers who this month received master's degrees in engineering from New York University. They had completed a two-year program at N.Y.U.'s graduate center at Bell Laboratories in Murray Hill, N.J.

The N.Y.U. - Bell Laboratories graduate center was opened in the fall of 1957. This year's class is the fifth to receive degrees under the unique cooperative program.

The center is staffed by faculty members of the N.Y.U. College of Engineering and is financed entirely by Bell Laboratories. Participants in the program receive full salary from the Laboratories while studying and working part-time in the company's technical departments.

The young engineers take courses designed to develop a strong background for careers in creative work in communications. Their studies lead to N.Y.U. master's degrees in electrical engineering, mechanical engineering, or engineering mechanics.

Springfield 'Racer' Comes In Second In Union Events

While he didn't win it at Indianapolis, George Keppler of 31 Betar Hills Circle is still very proud and happy over his third place finish in the Union Optimists' Club Soap Box Derby held in Union on June 9. Young Keppler, son of Mr. and Mrs. George V. Keppler, maneuvered his home-built non-motorized racing car to a top-of-a-second finish behind second place winner Roger Brooks of Union. George was the only Springfield representative to finish 'in the money,' winning a trophy and a $25 bond for his third-place finish.

George built the car over the winter with the help of his dad. He's a sixth grade student at St. James School.

"Sure I was happy with the third place finish," said George, "but next year I'll be gunning for that first place berth."

Two Boro Students Awarded Certificates

Rickel Stores To Handle All Parkway Line

The nationally known Parkway Industries announced recently that Rickel Supermarkets will handle their complete line of swimming pool filters and accessories for backyard pools.

Mr. William Ryan, general manager of Rickel Supermarkets, said "the addition of the Parkway line is in keeping with our continuing program of improving the quality of our merchandise while retaining the lowest possible prices."

Anthracil pool filters have been proven the most economical way for the average family to comply with local ordinances which require filtration of swimming pools no matter what size. The special feature of the Parkway models, which has made them exceptional in acceptance is the simplicity of assembly and operation. Lower priced than competitive lines, Parkway filters are designed to offer maximum performance with minimum maintenance. Once the filter is installed only sporadic care is required.

Salesmen at the Rickel Supermarkets have been thoroughly trained in the use and application of the Parkway line.

Included in the complete line of accessories is the new Parkway Automatic Top Pool Skimmer, which fits any size above-ground pool and attaches to the intake hose. It cleans floating and surface debris, and is molded from high-impact polystyrene and polypropylene. It features a one-piece floating weir, has a removable leaf-strainer and adjustable anodized aluminum supporter brackets. It has been nationally advertised in Popular Mechanics and Work Bench magazines.

The pool skimmer is selling for only $9.88 now at all Rickel Supermarkets, also featured in the Parkway line is a new hose holder, a drastically needed accessory to hold the hose firmly on the pool. Parkway's new limit is of heavy steel wire and corrosion-proof vinyl.

Among the other Parkway accessories at Rickel Supermarkets is a superflex hose, adjustable pool vacuum and new aluminum pump.

Over 100 Cities Set In Competition For All-America Title

Over 100 cities have already indicated they will vie for the All-America City title next fall, the sponsors of the competition said today in announcing the opening of the 1963 contest for the nation's cities. This is the largest number of cities ever to request entry forms prior to the opening date.

The celebrated All-America Cities Awards, co-sponsored by the National Municipal League and Look Magazine, are conferred each year on 11 U.S. communities for major civic improvements achieved through the initiative of the citizens themselves. Known as the "awards for citizen action," they honor the entire citizenry of a winning community. Each year, some 200 cities request entries for the coveted honor, judging from the early response the sponsors foresee an even larger field of contestants this year. The competition, established in 1949, is now entering its 15th year.

Jury hearings to select the winners will take place at the National Conference on Government, to be held this year in Detroit, Mich., November 17th through 20th. Dr. George H. Gallup, director of the American Institute of Public Opinion and chairman of the Council of the National Municipal League, will head the awards jury. The winners will be announced early in 1964.

The awards are given for citizen leadership and action in solving major community problems. Any size city or town may enter, as population and resources are taken into account in the judging.

The closing date for filing entries is September 30, 1963. Rules and entry blanks are obtainable from the National Municipal League, All-America Cities Program, 47 East 68th Street, New York 21, New York.

Hans Siepermann
Named As Chief
At Amusement Pk.

Appointment of Hans O. Siepermann of 24 Dengler Court, Union, as chief of Olympic Park's 22-man police department was announced today by Robert A. Cuenther, president of the Irvington-Maplewood amusement park.

Chief Siepermann, 61, retired

HANS SIEPERMANN

May 1 as captain of Lehigh Valley Railroad police, in charge of the New York division extending from New York Harbor to Wilkes-Barre.

The Olympic Park force comprises regular policemen of Irvington and Maplewood, working at the park in hours off duty. All have developed the specialized skills of handling crowds and permitting full enjoyment of entertainment facilities within the bounds of decorum and law observance.

A native of Jersey City and graduate of Bloomfield High School, Chief Siepermann entered police work with the Lackawanna railroad in 1923. He switched to the Lehigh Valley in 1931 and took advantage of the opportunity for early retirement after the Pennsylvania took over that road. Railroad men usually retire at 65. He had been a captain three years, in charge of 50 men.

Cooperation among law enforcement men, such as he experienced with the FBI and municipal police, is one of the foundations of police efficiency, in his opinion. He said he will welcome any chance to assist the Irvington and Maplewood departments, which he considers among New Jersey's most efficient.

The new park chief is a member of the Pennsylvania and New York State Chiefs' Associations, National Law Enforcement Associates Inc., N.J. State Rural Police Officials of New York Harbor, the Lehigh Valley Railroad Veterans Association and the Railway Patrolmen's International Union.

Chief Siepermann and his wife, the former Miss Catherine Hynes of Newark, have five children: Raymond of Mt. Freedom and Leonard of Union; Richard, Helen and John at home.

The chief's major hobby is surf fishing.

International Show
Is Top Feature
At Olympic Park

Olympic Park's free circus for the week of July 4 will have an international flavor, featuring two couples from Australia, a trapeze act and a chimpanzee troupe.

The Irvington-Maplewood amusement park also will have its traditional fireworks for the holiday. Most will be elaborate ground pieces to minimize fire peril to neighboring homes. There will be seats accommodated for thousands.

Eric and Ronnie Kelly and their wives, Joan and Ivy, are the Australians, who now live in North Bergen. They have added a high bar and trapeze to the usual trampoline tricks.

Ivy got into this strenuous business by the accident of a weak liver and a recommendation of fresh air and sunshine. A member of a circus family
